MORE HEROES

There is to be all the gods that be, that had in the history of this our country men with the courage to stand and say, "Father I cannot tell a lie." Would that there were more of them. We would like to sleep every day morning.

WILL HISTORY REPEAT?

It is said quite generally that history repeats itself. A year ago a South aggregation invaded our fair campus and was handed a delightful 26 to 16 trouncing. Tonight an equally expectant Spartan team is to meet the Notre Dame team.

CAPACITY

Reports early in the week stated that the reserved seat for tonight's game taken. A capacity crowd from Lansing and East Lansing is expected to come over and fill every available space. This is just another indication of our need for larger quarters. We would be unable to meet the demand if it were not that several of the boys and girls are spending the day week-end with the folks.

OUTWARD BOUND

Alpha Phi is to be congratulated on its Tuesday night performance as well done, and if we can be so well executed presented in the future, we answer any question of the society as to whether we care to see more of their little "Yes, thanks, I will."

PROF.

Things are happening in the hall world. For the first time have a newspaper man on the Board, and which is more, we have on the list of our faculty a B. Hasselman, Professor of Journalism.

22 BELOW

There was no problem of traffic congestion at Michigan State on Wednesday. There was plenty of parking and incidentally a lot of cars that parked seemed to insist on rearing in that condition.

FIRE

Tomorrow night the State track opens its home season. They continue their meets on the campus now on until the end of the year. During the winter season they will burn up the track in the snow and then they will run on the grass.

GOOD IDEA

Notice that a bill has been prepared before the state legislature to fraternize houses of the burden of. We await the outcome of measure, and incidentally we know of fraternities that would like to be housed in the ten year building.

CAMPANILE

Scaffolding and hoist has been placed on the top of the Campanile tower now stands out clear in the sky, taking its place with the other smokestack and water tower. It seems almost out of place those three together and they rise up above the campus as almost symbolic of those which President Shaw spoke of in his last address to the student. The spiritual and ennobling side of college life as well as the physical.

PARTICIPANTS IN ACTIVITIES MUST QUALIFY - SHAW

Ruling On Scholastic Eligibility To Be Rigidly Enforced At Once.

SAME AS ATHLETICS

After revising and drawing up the rules of eligibility for participation in college activities, the special faculty committee appointed by President R. S. Shaw announced that they will be rigidly enforced. Although no definite time was set at the faculty meeting Feb. 4, President Shaw states that the rules are understood to be in effect at the present time.

In the past some of the rules have been in practice but not written. These are now included in the revised regulations. Rule twelve is the only addition to what has been in effect for those taking part in athletics. This rule deals with activities and the holding of office in the various student organizations.

Similar regulations were passed by a large majority at the all-college election in the spring of 1927 but no effort was made to enforce them.

Ralph H. Young, director of athletics states that these rules also apply to the head managers of the various sports and to the head cheer leaders.

The committee which will undoubtedly enforce these regulations is composed of Dean E. H. Ryder, chairman, Prof. J. F. Cox and Prof. A. J. Clark.

The rules are as follows:

1. No student who has conditions or failures in more than eight credits is eligible to participate in intercollegiate athletics.

Note: Eligibility is based on the record of the student in the Registrar's office.

2. No student who is deficient more than 16 points is eligible to participate in intercollegiate athletics.

3. No student who is classified in less than 12 credits shall be eligible to participate in intercollegiate athletics.

4. No student who is on probation is eligible to participate in intercollegiate athletics.

5. The eligibility of a student transferring from one division to another shall be based upon his record in the first division at the time of transfer and the complete record shall go with him until the end of the first term when all failures, conditions and points in arrears due to work not required or acceptable by the new division shall be stricken from his record.

6. No student who participates in intercollegiate athletics and does not complete the work of that term shall be permitted to compete in the same sport thereafter until he shall have been in attendance one full term subsequent to his last participation.

7. No student shall participate in intercollegiate athletics until he shall have been in attendance in the college for one full collegiate year, exclusive of summer school.

8. No student shall participate in intercollegiate athletics for more than three full years in the aggregate.

9. No student shall play in any game under an assumed name.

10. No student shall be permitted to play in any intercollegiate contest who receives any remuneration or pay, either directly or indirectly, for his services on college team. No student shall participate in any intercollegiate contest who is not an amateur. No person who receives any compensation shall be eligible to participate.

SENIORS TO HOLD CLASS MEETING

Will Determine Activities and Dates for Affairs During Spring Term and Commencement Week.

The senior class will hold a class meeting in room 111 Old hall Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock, according to William Muller, class president. Announcements concerning activities of the class for spring term will be made. Several things will be placed before the group for decision. Dates for such traditional occasions as the swingout and water carnival have been tentatively set and recommendations for dates for Cap night and Lantern night have been given to the student council and Sphinx. This meeting will be the first of the year for the class, the business of the group having been done by the executive committee composed of class officers and chairmen of the class committees. This committee was adopted due to the difficulty of getting a sufficient number of representatives of the class to class meetings. Since there are but few class meetings, the officers express the hope that a large number will turn out.

XI SIGMA PI OMTS GRAD STUDENT IN INITIATE LIST

The name of L. M. Wood, graduate student, was omitted from the list of initiates into the Xi Sigma Pi. Formal initiation was held last Monday night. At the banquet Prof. A. K. Chittenden and Prof. J. C. DuCamp spoke for the faculty.

FACULTY MAY HAVE CLUB ROOMS IN UNION BUILDING

State Board Committee to Consider Possibility of Completing Rooms for Staff.

Clubrooms for the faculty in the Union building may become a reality should the committee of the state board to whom the matter was referred, report favorably on the project.

The board voted in its meeting last Tuesday to turn the matter over to the finance and building committees for investigation.

The Union has offered the quarters providing the board appropriates money for the furnishings. Plans and specifications have been made by the college architects, Board and Munson, and estimated costs are reported as between $7,000 and $9,000. The faculty agrees to furnish all of the equipment necessary to furnish the rooms.

HASSELMAN IS MADE PROFESSOR

State Board Approves Plans for Department of Journalism and Publications.

Approval of plans for a department of journalism and journalism was voted by the State Board of Agriculture Tuesday and James H. Hasselman was appointed professor of journalism and head of the department.

Although all the journalism courses will be transferred from the jurisdiction of the English department to the new department next fall there will be little change otherwise. It is understood that Prof. Albert H. Nelson will be included in the new department and will teach those courses of which he now has charge.

This department of journalism was formed to act as the foundation of a larger and more complete curriculum in this subject when the demand justifies it, according to Prof. Hasselman.

"Student Reading Governed by Emotionalism, Not Experience"

Students are at that unbalanced point where they have more emotion than experience and they therefore have a great tendency to read stories that are similarly lacking in experience. W. J. Mullerburg, professor of English at Michigan State college, said.

Mr. Mullerburg was one of three people whose opinions were sought in a letter to the recent investigation committee and determined that the magazines enjoying the greatest popularity with the student body are the Saturday Evening Post, Collier's and Liberty.

The majority of student readers of these magazines are not interested in the story as such, but are interested in the characters and the plot.

However, although this may be so, the taste of the student of today is more careful than ever before. A greater proportion of student readers now appreciate the more sophisticated periodicals, such as the Atlantic, the American Mercury, and Scribner's.

The terrific pace at which the student world travels today is reflected in its choice of reading matter for twenty years ago the college student enjoyed a story with an atmosphere of a relaxed reading. Today they require narratives of a more dramatic quality, containing a great deal of action.

It is the belief of Prof. W. J. Mullerburg, head of the department of English, that the students read the inexpensive weeklies chiefly as a source of recreation. This view is shared by Prof. L. P. Waldo, who said it showed no lack of taste on the part of the student. Most of the higher class magazines are used as required reading in the majority of courses, so their selection is not entirely lacking in the student's reading curriculum.

STATE DEBATORS LOSE FIRST DEBATE OF SEASON

The Michigan State varsity debaters fell to an experienced University of Cincinnati debate team Wednesday night in the first encounter of the season. State debated the affirmative of the proposition: Resolved, that the policy of public ownership and development of hydro-electric power resources is more beneficial to the people of the United States than through regulated private corporations.

State was handicapped by lack of experience. Captain Arthur Knoblauch being the only veteran on the team. The fact that the visitors have already participated in several debates, while this was the first debate of the season for the State debaters, also lessened their chances.

The Michigan State team was composed of Capt. Arthur Knoblauch of Blissfield, G. L. Walker, Traverse City, and E. C. Schneider, Lansing. H. E. Green was the alternate on the team. The visiting speakers were Cedric Vogel, Nathan Spillinger, and William Hammond.

Prof. C. G. Fulkerson, of the college English department, was chairman of the debate, and the judges were Prof. Harry Wood, Michigan State Normal; Prof. K. O. Hanco, Olivet; and Prof. O. E. Shufeldt, Olivet.

STRING QUARTET NEXT NUMBER OF CONCERT SERIES

Pro Arte String Quartet, Belgian Musicians, to Play at Peoples Church.

APPEAR FEB. 28

The Pro Arte String Quartet, third number of the concert series, will appear here on Thursday evening, February 28, at the Peoples church. Composed of four Belgians, Messrs. Omon, Halleux, Prevost, and Maas, the quartet first came to America in 1926 on the invitation of Mrs. F. S. Coolidge to play at the Library of Congress in Washington and afterwards in the Town Hall, New York City and in Boston.

The Pro Arte Quartet won its fame in Europe. In Paris it played in the Concerts de la Revue Musicale and in the Concerts Wiener. In Salzburg the Quartet took part in the International Festival. The Pro Arte Concerts were founded in Brussels where the works of modern composers and unfamiliar classics are presented.

One of the early engagements of the quartet was at a festival given by the Pro Arte Society at the American Academy of Rome. Two years ago they toured Italy with Alfredo Casella playing Schoenberg's "Pierrot Lunaire" and Stravinsky's "Les Noces" and Maas the cello have been together. All were pupils at the Conservatory of the Vicentini.

The quartet was organized as a quartet before the war, disbanded and were re-united the day the war ended. The first public performance took place five years ago in Brussels at a concert given by the famous Group of Six of Paris. They began their career in France and have since played in Spain, Portugal, Italy, Sicily, Holland, Austria, Germany, and this year the United States.

COL. SHERBURNE TO LEAVE M. S. C.

Commandant of College R. O. T. C. Unit Is Transferred to War College.

Lieut. Col. T. L. Sherburne, commandant of the Michigan State college R. O. T. C. unit since 1922, will leave his post as commandant of the unit by the federal war department and granted to only 12 or 14 schools in the United States. This practice was discontinued in 1928 by the war department.

Colonel Sherburne, who is in the cavalry division, was responsible for organizing the annual R. O. T. C. horse show held at the college each year in May. The event is always held as a brilliant one. The construction of the new armory was made possible through the colonel's efforts.

One of Colonel Sherburne's most recent accomplishments is the development of the college polo team which is now in its second season. It is hoped that this will be a permanent part of the college sports program.

Colonel Sherburne, in a talk with a reporter, expressed his regrets at having to leave his post here.

FOREST SUPERVISOR TO ADDRESS CLASSES, CLUB

Supervisor P. M. Roberts of the Sitgreaves National forest in Arizona will be the main speaker at the Forestry club meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 26. Roberts is expected to be here the first half of next week at which time he will take over some of the forestry classes and discuss the work and administration of the national forests.

SCABBARD AND BLADE PLEDGES SEVENTEEN

Seventeen advanced military students were officially pledged to Scabbard and Blade, national honorary military fraternity, last evening at the Scabbard and Blade party in the Union ballroom.

Initiation of these men which started this week will continue for another week.

Those pledged were: V. Donaldson, W. M. Baxter, D. Grove, J. VanZylen, E. Totten, A. Sachs, L. Smith, L. Goulet, J. Porter, E. Ellsworth, L. Cribbs, R. Lowry, G. Northcott, J. Hayden, G. Burns, F. Oswald, K. Lafayette.

CHANGE DATE OF LECTURE COURSE FOR NEXT WEEK

Edward Sothern, Secured in Place of St. Gaudens to Appear March 7.

NO LECTURE TUESDAY

Edward H. Sothern, the world-famous Shakespearean dramatist and playwright, will present the third number of the Artists Course in the Peoples church on March 7, in place of Homer St. Gaudens, who was previously scheduled for next Tuesday night. The announcement was made this week by Prof. Johnston, head of the English department, who is conducting the series of lectures.

The change in schedule occurred when it was learned that Mr. St. Gaudens would be unable to appear in East Lansing that night. It is considered a stroke of good fortune that enabled Prof. Johnston to obtain the appearance of the well-known dean of American actors. E. H. Sothern, the nation's universal popularity is expected to compensate for the last minute substitution. Mr. Johnston said.

Sothern, who left the stage in 1916, is considered to be the leading exponent of "dramatic legitimacy" and Shakespearean productions in the United States. He is probably best remembered to the general public in the incomparable performances of "Romeo and Juliet" in company with Julia Marlowe, his wife.

His lecture, although as yet unannounced, will probably deal with his colorful stage reminiscences, that will trace his rise from a comedian in a New Orleans burlesque to the foreground of the American stage.

TONIGHT'S GAME WITH IRISHMEN CLIMAXES SEASON

Teams Primed for Big Court Tilt Tonight; Seats at a Premium as Game Time Nears.

LEAVES BRILLIANT RECORD

Two of the most powerful court teams of the mid-west, the Notre Dame university and the Michigan State college, have been facing each other in the Spartans' gymnasium. The game will be called at 7:30 p. m.

With the reserve seats all sold out ten days ago, it is clearly evident that every available seat will be occupied long before game time. At 6:30 the remaining few hundred general admission tickets will be put on sale. Pre-game reports from around the state has it that a large number of out-of-town fans will be on hand to see the court classic of Michigan. The time-famous "Swartz Creek Band," led by "Peachy" Rinehart, will again furnish the music for the tilt.

Primed to the last degree the Irish of Notre Dame and the Flying Dutchmen of Michigan State are due to put up a battle royal in order to decide the supremacy of the two teams. Both have exceptional records thus far for the season although they have met some of the nation's hardest teams and a victory in tonight's game would be highly acceptable to either. Also the Irish nipped the Spartans at South Bend several weeks ago, 29-24, and the Van Alstyne coached quintet are anxious to avenge their defeat.

Notre Dame comes to East Lansing with a record which includes victories over several of the strongest eastern and mid-western teams. For several years the team coached by George Krogan has made a name for the South Bend institution and this year is no exception. In the past three years the Irish have won 56 games out of 62 played, which is a remarkable record. The Krogan-coached five has a team of veterans, several of which were on the honor mid-west team of 1928.

Michigan State on the other hand has also made a fine record during the past two years. Last year after losing to the Irish by a narrow margin in a three overtime period game at South Bend, the Spartans administered to Notre Dame one of the worst beatings that team has suffered in several seasons when the Irish fell 26-16 on the East Lansing court. It was the first green and white victory in eleven starts against the South Bend team.

This year Michigan State started off with a bang by defeating the University of Michigan five at Ann Arbor in an early season game. Wins came next over Adrian, Cornell Wesleyan, and Penn State but Ohio Wesleyan, with a team of six footers, posed out the Spartans' midwest in a game here. The University of Detroit, tell easily but Notre Dame, Colgate and Syracuse were too fast for the weakening Spartans and three games were dropped. Since that time Hope college and Detroit have been overwhelmed by huge scores and the newly formed combinations look strong.

Thus it is that Michigan State comes to its most important game with a record of nine wins out of fourteen starts. By winning the game tonight and clinching the season with wins over Lake Forest and Marquette university the Van Alstyne men would have a fine record to pass down. To win or lose tonight will make or break the season's record.

NELSON TO DIRECT SUMMER SESSION

Among business taken up by the state board at its Tuesday meeting was the appointment of Professor Nelson as supervisor or director of the summer school session. For a number of years this position has been held by Dean Ryder. Last year Professor Simmons was the director.

The request of Dean Ryder for leave of absence for one month or more was officially approved with the recommendation that B. R. Probst be left in charge of the office of the liberal arts division and that matters pertaining to the department of history be left to Prof. Mary Hendricks and matters concerning the education department to Professor Walpole.

THE GOVERNOR SPEAKS NOT OF US

The Republican State Convention in Lansing touched upon matters affecting Michigan State College several times.

Perhaps the most noticeable and important instance of this was the utter lack of any words suggesting Michigan State College when Governor Green said, "The office of regents of the University of Michigan have never been made a political football by the Republican party and never will be." The chief executive of the state followed this with a promise of absolute freedom from politics for the affairs of the University.

By deduction, we reach a rather unsatisfactory conclusion regarding the situation of Michigan State.

PANTHEISTS

"He who in the love of nature holds communion with her visible forms" is a good candidate for the State Board of Agriculture, if we are to believe the nominating speeches for the new men selected by the Republicans of the state assembled. Surely the ways of delegates at political conventions are devious.

Clark L. Brody, a veteran business man, and William H. Berkey, newspaper publisher of thirty-five years' experience, were placed before the convention as candidates.

Perhaps it was for a good reason, although a great surprise to us, that we heard little but their sturdy agricultural virtues extolled at great length in the speeches nominating them to the governing board of this educational institution of varied interests.

A START

Tuesday the State Board approved the plan to establish a separate department of publications and journalism here.

This is an important step for the future of journalism and the campus publications. Little will be done for a time as far as expansion in this field is concerned, but a foundation can be built for a greater journalism department than would be possible under present conditions.

And a greater journalism department, from the standpoint of enrollment and courses, will be necessary before this campus can manage a daily newspaper. This is rather far in the future of course. However the action of the State Board forms a basis out of which future enlargement of publications will surely grow.

A SENSIBLE STEP

Oberlin college has made a forward step in the administration of the marking system. Decision has been made in this Ohio school to abandon the difficult method of distinguishing scholastic achievement through marks of A, B, C, D, and F.

Under the new system which they are to adopt, the student will either pass or fail.

This is by far the better way of judging a student's accomplishment inasmuch as it is more just to him and easier for the instructor.

The system now in vogue at Michigan State, and in practically all colleges of the country is fundamentally an indication of comparative work in a term's study determined by the instructor who uses his own basis of comparison. Under it he must divide his students into five groups, and in so doing there are inevitably a number who fall on the border line marking the division between the groups.

It is humanly impossible to assign a certain number of points consistently to answers in a history exam, an economics blue book, an English quiz, or similar examinations requiring a discussion answer. And a variation in a few points may ultimately mean that some student must spend an additional term in school to get a degree.

Dr. Clarence Cook Little, recently resigned as president of the University of Michigan, several months ago characterized the present marking system in colleges as "absurd." The faculty, he said, "bow down and worship their methods of grading students." Dr. Little recommended a system somewhat similar to that adopted by Oberlin.

Merely passing or failing students necessitates the instructor dividing the class into but two groups, reducing the number of distinctions to be made from five. This means that there is less chance of doing the student an injustice, and the task is easier for the instructor.

CHURCH TEAMS LEAD SERVICES

Conduct Rural Services In Nearby Towns Each Week-end.

An important part of the religious work carried on by the students of Michigan State college is the organization of deputation teams under the direction of Miss Neva Lovewell. These teams go out to neighboring towns nearly every week-end and conduct Sunday services in addition to sponsoring social gatherings both for adults and children. The program of the Sunday services generally consists of a talk on some Christian subject, music by a soloist or a quartette, the teaching of Sunday school classes, the leading of young people's meetings, and as a conclusion, an evening service of group singing and talks.

Two teams went out last Sunday. A service at a rural Methodist church near Grand Ledge was conducted by Mabel Horning and Ben Peterson, assisted by Luella Howard at the piano. Lyle Lovewell, Chester Clark, and Marie Hoover accompanied by Miss Neva Lovewell also conducted a young people's meeting at Pottersville.

Next Saturday a team composed of Mel Avery and Fleming Barbour will go to Chilo. The male quartette, Lake Sun on, John Carroll, John Noteware, and Tom Garland with Roy Strong as accompanist will furnish the music. That night they will put on a recreation program in the church gymnasium and Sunday will assist in the anniversary service of the dedication of the First Methodist church of that place.

In addition to the regular deputation work Miss Lovewell starting with next Sunday night is giving a series of stereopticon lectures at rural churches in and around Charlotte. These talks are entitled "Spiritual Helps from the Great Masters of Art." The first lecture will be at Pottersville, and there are numerous other engagements for the term.

HOME EC DEPT. PLANS ACHIEVEMENT PROGRAM

The home economics extension department is planning for the week of May 7, a big series of meetings culminating in an all-state Achievement day. Forty-eight counties will hold these meetings. There are from 12 to 20 groups of workers in each county and each group has from 16 to 20 members. By these different groups each county reaches from 300 to 500 women.

Achievement day will consist of an account in the morning by each group of the success of their particular project and of their accomplishments in the homes of their district, a luncheon at noon and an afternoon meeting with special speakers, either from the department or from outside.

Dr. Carolyn Hedger, of the Elizabeth McCormick Memorial fund of Chicago, will spend that week in Ontario, Genesee, Monroe, Tuscola, and Ottawa counties. She will be the speaker for the afternoon meeting of Ottawa county Achievement day.

Drama

"OUTWARD BOUND"

A Review
by Robert Graham

Despite the recognized difficulty of presenting to a collegiate audience anything heavier than farce or comedy, the intrepid Mr. King has successfully piloted his players through an evening of symbolic drama. That the well-filled house swallowed this intellectual medicine and found it to their liking is a high compliment to the industry of the director and his cast.

In the production of such a play as "Outward Bound" there are unusual problems to be met. The atmosphere of the whole story is almost too profound to be advantageous for public entertainment. Too, Vance's conception of a cruise to purgatory, while appealing to the human desire for a just and logical hereafter, proves awkward to present. It is too nearly life-like to be easily invested with the requisite touch of the supernatural. And the youthful voices of some of the players were of too not deep enough to convincingly carry the epic quality of the story. But in spite of occasional mainpraisers laughter from the audience because of this natural handicap the mood maintained through the whole play was sincere, effective, and once rose even to impressiveness in William Muller's delivery of the simple prayer. That one hushed moment was an historic accomplishment.

Worthy also of note were the portrayals of Miss Stewart, Mr. Ramsdell, Mr. Snider and Mr. Montgomery. The stage manager also deserves praise for his lighting and the matterings of the muffled drum were telling psychological effects.

A group which can do "Outward Bound" is of no mean calibre. That they handled it unusually well should be a cause of considerable artistic satisfaction to them. And the reception accorded by the audience will encourage them, we hope to give us additional plays of the more serious sort.

ACCEPTANCE OF SCHOLARSHIP FOR HORT APPROVED

Acceptance of a gift of $100, which has been made available to the horticultural department by Mrs. Charles Keller of Detroit, was approved by the State Board of Agriculture Tuesday. This gift is to be paid annually to the student selected by the horticultural department and the registrar as having the best scholarship record during his or her junior year.

Instead of making a fool of a man, a woman furnishes the opportunity—and lets him do the rest.

Assorted Studies Feature Tricky Curriculum at Michigan State

Hotel management, co-ed auto-mechanics, and pickle-packing—it seems an oddly-assorted group of studies, doesn't it? But those are the three recently inaugurated studies that you can get at Michigan State and nowhere else with the possible exception of one or two other American colleges, which do have a course in hotel management somewhat similar to ours.

Every day it seems to us, and alone practically every line, the curriculum of this college is getting trickier and trickier. And for originality, there's nothing like the people who think up our new courses.

Last year here, for the first time in an American college, co-eds donned overalls and took a course in auto-mechanics under the auspices of the engineering department, mastering their lessons well enough to make possible a subsequent summer's tour of part of the class in a Ford of ancient vintage which was only kept together by the tenderest of care. And together they spent on garage bills, the girls, welded their own wrenches, or whatever it is one does with a refractory flapper.

This, likewise, is one of the few colleges in this country where a man student may appear in corridors wearing a long apron and proffering a verdict of his own making. Also, being thought of as a few-eds in the country who can look with a critical eye at taffeta and tell whether it's loaded or not. For you have to have the domestic virtues if you're going to manage a hotel, and this is one of the few American colleges offering hotel management courses.

Both of these innovations have gained wide publicity and have been successful, and now another department follows the lead of the liberal arts and engineering departments in offering a unique course. Though not so spectacularly novel as the other two, it is the first of its kind to be offered in an American college. Last Tuesday men started under the auspices of the horticultural department the study of proper methods of packing pickles for the first time on record in any college.

Despite the novelty of collegiate offerings of such a course, response and registration have been large. As ready a demand for it is indicated as for the previous new and to the casual observer, rather freakish courses. It differs from them, however, in that it is a short course, whereas auto-mechanics was a term subject and hotel management takes a full four years.

But for all that, a lot of men seem to want to learn to pack pickles in six weeks, and Michigan State's third unique course seems well on its way to becoming an established annual offering.

SERIES OF LECTURES ON HONEY RAISING PLANNED

A series of lectures on the production of honey and the handling of bees, comprising the opening of the Beekeepers' short course, is being given this week by R. H. Kelly of the agricultural department. Thirteen people from representative sections of the state entered the course this week.

Collaborating with Mr. Kelly are Oscar Graman of Grand Rapids; J. C. Kremer, extension specialist in agriculture; and H. D. Hootman, of the horticulture extension department.

The theory, according to Mr. Kelly, is to rent colonies of bees for pollination purposes because the flora of the fruit-growing sections does not support the present quantity of bees during the entire year.

NEW JERSEY STATE COLLEGE WOMEN CLASSIFY JOBS

New Brunswick, N. J.—(IP)—An occupational survey is being conducted at the New Jersey State college for Women by the sophomore class.

At a recent class meeting the ten most popular occupations of its members were separated, and those supporting them were placed under separate chairmen.

The groups at separate meetings, are discussing the advantages, opportunities and demands which these particular positions offer women.

The ten occupations voted most interesting were department store field; dramatic work; interior decorating; journalism; library work; mathematics; music; personnel work; social work; and stenographic, secretarial and executive positions.

Many a man who declares his opinion has none.

The Hindu Fakir tosses a rope into the air, swarms up said rope hand over hand, and pulls it in after him. Marvelous! One skeptical tourist took a snapshot of the miracle. Result: no miracle, no climb, nothing.

You can't photograph a cigarette's flavor, of course. Can't taste it, either, if it isn't there. Mildness can be overdone, you know — to the point where there's no taste at all. But never in Chesterfields. They've got flavor and body, and it doesn't take a hypnotist to prove it.

Not that there's even a hint of harshness in Chesterfield. There's none smoother. But all the full, rich, subtly blended tobacco flavors are kept intact to do their pleasant duty—to satisfy. Isn't that what a cigarette is for?

STATE-WIDE FENCING TOURNAMENT TO BE HELD HERE NEXT MONTH

Internationally Known Fencers to Compete for Medals on March 23.

Michigan's first statewide fencing tournament will be held in the college gymnasium at East Lansing, Saturday, March 23, beginning at 10 a. m. The Spartan Fencers' club sent out more than 100 letters to fencers, fencing coaches, fencing clubs, and newspapers throughout the state Monday, Feb. 18. This publicity campaign is planned to reach all fencers in Michigan. Competition is not restricted to members of clubs or school teams.

Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded for first, second, and third places in each of the four classes to participate: senior, junior, novice and ladies.

The senior class will include fencing coaches from points throughout the state. A number of internationally known fencers will compete in the senior class. Among the noted fencers who will be present are: Alfred Sauer, three-weapon champion at the Stockholm Olympics; Heinrich Duerholt, Kalamazoo Fencing club coach, with the degree of Master of Fencing in Holland; William Caswell, president of the Detroit Fencing club and president of the Michigan chapter of the Amateur Fencers' League of America; Bella De Tuscan, sabre champion of the Hungarian army for six years; William Bantrell, fencing champion of Yale at the time he graduated; Johnston, fencing coach at University of Michigan; Joseph Kuenz, Jr., the University of Detroit coach and Joseph Waffa, Spartan fencing coach.

The junior class will include the varsity fencers and will bring the best talent in Michigan to the home gymnasium. Lazar, captain of the U. of M. fencing team, Wigger is another Michigan fencer. Ashby and Bradford, who competed in the recent contest between Michigan State and the Kalamazoo Fencing club, will compete in the junior class. State's outstanding fencers, Bauer, Gruettner, and Kershaw, will uphold Michigan State in the junior class.

The ladies class includes all women fencers. One of the most outstanding female fencers is Audrey Glenn of Michigan State. Foil champion of Michigan, Mrs. Ashby of the Kalamazoo Fencing club is a prominent fencer who attracted much attention in the recent meet between the Kalamazoo club and the independent co-ed team. Effie Ericson, another co-ed fencer, is expected to be prominent in the coming tournament.

The novice class includes the freshmen fencers. Independent fencers will be classified according to the rules of the Amateur Fencers' League of America. Their classification will depend upon the extent of their experience.

Organization of a statewide fencing tournament is a pioneer project and speaks well of the initiative of the Spartan Fencers' club. The club was organized in 1927 by Joseph Waffa and has a membership of about 25. The purpose of the organization is to promote fencing both on the campus and throughout the state.

Following the tournament will be a formal party for the participants, at which time the winners will receive their medals.

Invitation to participate has been extended to all men and women fencers in the state, according to a letter which is being sent out as part of the publicity campaign.

The committees, under the leadership of Coach Waffa, are as follows: Publicity, Willis Alvord, Gordon Evans, correspondence, E. E. Ericson, Louise Foote, arrangements, Wm. Kershaw, Carl VonVoghtlander.

All fencers who are not actively participating at the present time should get in touch with Coach Waffa or a committee member. Further information can be obtained by writing to the Spartan Fencers' Club, Box 832, East Lansing.

U. OF M. FENCING TEAM TO CLASH WITH SPARTANS

State Fencers Expect Hardest
Meet of Season; Michigan
Boasts Experience.

University of Michigan fencing team will invade the Spartan camp Saturday, Feb. 23. Coach Waffa is putting the finishing touches on his team this week in preparation for the hardest meet on the State schedule. Though Michigan boasts of an experienced team, she met an easy defeat at the hands of the University of Illinois Saturday. The State team has a clean slate so far this season, having won the meet with Kalamazoo Fencing club, the only formal contest so far this season.

George Bauer, Edwin Gruettner and William Kershaw all showed up well in the meet with the Kalamazoo club and are expected to give the Michigan squad some stiff competition. Gruettner is the only veteran on the Spartan team. The University of Michigan contest is all that stands in the way of the state championship for the Spartan fencers.

Michigan State lineup: Foil, Bauer, Gruettner, Kershaw; Sabre, Voightlander, Bauer; Substitutes, Gruettner, Haich, Epee, Evans, Bauer; Substitute Voightlander.

University of Michigan lineup: Foil, Stoppelman, Shultz; Sabre, Hammer, Gordon; Epee, Wigger, Winer.

CO-ED GAMES TO BEGIN MARCH 4

Co-ed interclass volleyball and basketball will begin on Monday, March 4, according to an announcement by Miss Parker, head of the Women's Physical Education department.

Teams have been chosen and captains are now being elected by the different teams.

STATE'S RIFLE TEAM IS MAKING GOOD RECORD

Rockafellow-Coached Men Have Won 12 Shoots Thus Far
This Season.

Lieut. Rockafellow's proteges, the men's rifle team, won over three of their seven scheduled opponents last week. Scores have not been received from the other four.

The local aggregation scored 3610 to the U. of Delaware's mark of 3284, the U. of North Dakota's score of 3500, and the Kansas State Aggies tally of 3544. To date they have won 12 shoots and have lost eight, giving them a percentage of 371.

This week they compete with the U. of Montana A. & M. college and Lafayette college of Easton, Pa. On March 2 the 6th corps area championship match takes place.

HILL TOPPERS IN STATE CAMP FOR DUAL TRACK TILT

Marquette Edged Out Spartans in Similar Contest Last Year.

VETERAN STARS COMPETE

Undaunted by a defeat at the hands of the strong Ohio Wesleyan indoor track team, the Michigan State college trackmen are looking forward to their second dual meet of the year scheduled for Saturday evening in the Spartan gymnasium with Marquette university as their foes.

Last season the Hilltoppers invaded East Lansing and were edged by winning from the Spartans by a narrow margin, 56-52, in a meet featured by four records being set. In order to obtain the victory, the Marquette university aggregation had to overcome the early lead of the Green and White team.

Again this year the Marquette team will come to Michigan State with a good record and athletes with unknown quality. However, reports have it that the Milwaukee trackmen will extend the Young-coached men.

After a mediocre showing against Ohio Wesleyan on the part of the Spartans, the Michigan State college trackmen will have no doubt depend upon the showing made by the veterans as the layabouts members of the squad performed in good form last week.

McAtee, veteran state pole vaulter, is depended upon for points in this event. Last week the Spartan vaulter cleared 12 ft. 4 in. and it is hoped that he will repeat. Tegen, Brown, who turned in the fastest time for the two-mile that has been run in the mid-west this year, is expected to turn in a victory in the two-mile.

While Clark, a veteran water polo player, last week in his first appearance States best in the district. Russell, a newcomer to the varsity this year, ran a fast 40 yard high hurdles race, week and is the best State has in the class. Bill Kroll stepped a fast quarter-mile in last week's competition in winning his event, and should repeat.

Lane, because of an injury suffered in the Western meet, will not compete for State this week and it is probable that he will be out for the rest of the winter season. Captain Benson, who is suffering from a recent operation, will compete for State in the dashes but it will not be possible for him to turn in his best time.

Again State will be strong in the distances for besides Brown and Clark, there is Rossen, Wingerth, in the longer distances, while Harkney, a veteran, will be running in the half-mile event.

Each a sophomore will lead State entries in the high jump. Dahl, a sophomore and Wilson in the shot put. Russell, Russell, Voecker in the hurdles.

SPARTANS READY TO MEET IRISH QUINTET ON HOME FLOOR TONITE

Close Battle Is Expected in Attempt to Avenge Early Spartan Defeat.

The Notre Dame cage squad will invade East Lansing tonight, with the intention of adding its eleventh victory to the string of ten that they have hung up against the Spartans in eleven encounters. They will meet a State outfit that will give the Irish a real battle. The Irish coach has developed an effective man to man and zone defense that may cause the State cagers a great deal of trouble.

Last year the Spartan cagers handed Notre Dame one of the worst defeats that the Ramblers suffered when they trounced them 26 to 16 on the State court. The game earlier in the season went into three overtime periods before a decision could be rendered. The Irish finally pulled through to win 29 to 25.

Two scorers and Van Zelen, forwards, and Carl Felt, center, were on the squad last year. Notre Dame tactics probably will not be unknown to these men. Those three scorers and Haga and Homer Grove, guards, will undoubtedly make up the combination that will bear the brunt of the Rambler attack. With his men in excellent physical condition, Coach Van Alstyne believes that they will give the Irish a real battle. State's increase in weight since their last encounter with Notre Dame will greatly aid it in downing the invaders.

Other State cagers may see action in tonight's contest. Don Grove and Dickson, forwards, and Russo, guard, had a taste of Irish methods last year. They, Scott and Prendergast, guards, and Totten, center, may be used if Coach VanAlstyne is not satisfied with the showing of his regulars. These men can be depended upon to give the Ramblers no small amount of trouble.

The Spartan mentor has been drilling his proteges the last few days in

LOP SIDED SCORES IN INTRAMURAL GAMES

Lop-sided scores resulted from most of the intramural basketball games played during the last two weeks. Lambda Chi Alpha hung up another big score for a prominent place in interfraternity competition. All four Liberal Arts classes defeated the opposing science classes by good margins.

The results of the recent games are as follows:

INTER-FRATERNITY LEAGUE
Feb. 12, Omicron defeated U. L. 19 to 9. Phi Kappa Phi defeated Epsilon 7 to 6. S. A. E. defeated Tri Gamma 6 to 4. Lambda Chi Alpha defeated Phi Gamma 22 to 4.

Feb. 14, Phi Delta defeated Phi Chi Alpha 16 to 9. Phi Kappa Tau defeated Sigma 20 to 10. Delta Sigma defeated Upsilon 9 to 8. Delta Sigma defeated Omicron 12 to 11.

Feb. 16, U. L. defeated Hesperians 12 to 5. Phi Kappa Phi defeated Hermans 12 to 5. Alpha Gamma Rho defeated Tri Gamma 20 to 8.

INTER-CLASS LEAGUE
Feb. 13, March 6 defeated U. L. 13 to 9. Ward F. defeated B. 1 to 0. Forfeit.

Ward F. defeated A. 9 to 4.

WOMEN'S SWIMMING MEET SCHEDULED FOR TUESDAY

Large Number of Entries Expected in Contest Sponsored by W. A. A.

Attention is called to the intramural swimming meet which the women's department at the gym is sponsoring Tuesday evening, Feb. 26, at 7 o'clock, in the gym.

Teams are being made up of girls in groups of five who get together and enter under a given name. The lineups may not be changed after noon on Tuesday. The girls on each team are asked to wear an insignia on the front of their suits to designate one team from another.

The events are to be mostly in the form of stunts. Each entry must make three stunts and these are to be judged on the basis of originality, difficulty and skill in execution. There are to be speed events in the form of "book worm" and obstacle races.

Miss Anderson will be the referee and starter. Miss Grimes, the clerk, and Miss Parker and Miss Darland will judge the events. The winners of the meet will have their names inscribed on the large intramural swimming cup.

SWIMMING POOL IS OPENED TO STUDENTS

The Michigan State swimming pool will be opened to the faculty and student body every Saturday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock beginning Feb. 23.

The collector of the waves of sin is never turned away empty handed.

RARE BASKETBALL SHOT WITNESSED AT TOPEKA

Topeka, Kans. (IP).—Basketball fans who witnessed a game between Wichita and Topeka high schools at Washburn college field house recently were treated to a shot never before seen.

Rogers, scrappy Wichita center, made a long shot from near the center of the court, which went high and straight for the basket. Sweeping downward it seemed a certain counter. The shot was a little too long, however, and the ball hit the back side of the hoop, whereupon it bounced straight up higher than the backstop, and after several small bounces, settled squarely atop the basket.

After it was dislodged it was declared a tie ball, and taken back to the center.
