Last Chance To Improve Comp Marks

Students who wish to repeat Basic College term end comprehensive examinations in an effort to raise their grades should apply at the office of the Dean of the Basic College before Friday, Feb. 22.

The Dean's office is located at 101 Basic College Building.

Students in school this quarter who wish to raise a final basic course grade attained under the former comprehensive examination system must avail themselves of that privilege this quarter.

As a general rule, students who completed basics prior to last spring quarter will not be permitted to retake examinations to raise grades, testing officials said. It is felt that they have had adequate opportunity to do so prior to this quarter.

Students who wish to utilize the examination procedure for changing first or second term basic grades obtained last spring, summer, or fall, must also avail themselves of that privilege this quarter.

Any student interested in the possibility of repeating a basic examination who has special problems or lack clear understanding of the procedures involved should contact the department head of the course concerned and seek clarification of the details involved.

Otherwise, the privilege of changing term grades by examination procedures is likely to be lost to the student, they explained.

Red Delegate May Announce Korean Plans

MUNSAN, Korea. (AP)—The Communist Party may reveal to the world today its plans for Korea.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, senior Red delegate at the Panmunjom armistice talks, announced he would lay before the full assembly of the United Nations a draft of Communist recommendations to the governments concerned for a Korean settlement.

The plan, said, is to be presented to the United Nations in a short time.

Other Communist officials, who have been in the area for some time, are also expected to make announcements.

The Communist Party, which was founded in 1945, is a secret organization.

Truman Plans Political Test In Primary

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman suddenly shifted tactics yesterday and agreed to a popularity test against Senator Estes Kefauver in the New Hampshire primary on March 11.

But the President still kept the nation's No. 1 political guessing game alive on the question: Is he or not being going to seek reelection?

The chief executive took pains to note that the New Hampshire primary is purely advisory and does not bind delegates to cast their votes for any particular candidate at the Democratic nominating convention in July.

One last week the President had called the present presidential primary system eye-wash, and announced that he would withdraw his name from the New Hampshire primary.

100 in Two Hours Students Ready to Sign Petitions

Editors note: State News staff writer Rosemary Corcoran was sent out to see how many signatures on the Student Government tax petition she could gather in two hours. Here is what she found.

By ROSEMARY CORCORAN

It took me less than two hours to obtain 104 signatures on the Student Tax proposal petition.

While on the assignment to see how difficult it is to get the petition signed, one could pose the question:

Now that the student are

Troops of the Third Paratroop Battalion of the French Foreign Legion stand guard over Arabs rounded up in a search for nationalist agitators in Kelibia, Tunisia. Tunisia has been the scene recently of rioting attributed to nationalists seeking independence from France.

Investigation Of McGrath Organized

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House investigation of Attorney General McGrath and the Justice Department was organized yesterday.

Under Rep. Frank Chelf (D-Ky.), while the Truman administration's own inquiry into Justice Department affairs suffered a setback.

Chelf, a 43-year-old World War II veteran who used to be a prosecuting attorney in Marion County, Ky., was named to head the House Judiciary Committee's probe, and three Democrats and three Republicans were appointed to serve with him.

Newbold Morris, the administration's new anti-corruption investigator, is also about to take a look at Justice Department operations as the first step in a government-wide survey.

Blood Drive Slated In East Lansing

East Lansing residents will have their chance to donate blood when the Red Cross bloodmobile pulls up at People's Church from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. next Monday.

The blood is urgently needed, emphasized Mrs. C. K. Witt, chairman of the recruitment committee.

Appointments must be scheduled before donations can be made. The number to call for an appointment is 8-4402.

Those under 21 years of age must have parental consent in order to give.

Mrs. Witt estimated that between 75 and 100 people have responded to the drive.

The bloodmobile can accommodate 175 people in the six-hour period.

Mayor on Council E. Lansing Appoints Two Civil Defense Officials

East Lansing's city council appointed two men to the new Ingham County Council of Civil Defense Monday night.

The appointees, former mayor of East Lansing Burt Twichell and present mayor Cornelius Wagenvoort, will represent the city under a revamped local Civil Defense setup.

Formerly each city in Ingham County worked individually with the state in solving defense problems. The new organization will shift the responsibility from each city to the newly-formed Ingham County Council.

It will include five members from the County Board of Supervisors, five from Lansing and two from East Lansing. They will control all financing and planning of county civil defense activities.

Governor G. Mennen Williams' approval of the appointments is the next step for the new program.

In Monday's meeting, the city council also registered an objection to three bills before the Michigan legislature.

Protests were made over one House bill which would make a 40-hour week for policemen mandatory, and another which would grant firemen one extra day off every eight days instead of the one every 16 days they are now allowed.

The council ruled against proposed Senate legislation to forbid cities to deny employment to members of the fraternal order of police.

City Manager John M. Patriarche was asked to report the estimated cost of fluoridation of water in Ingham County.

The councilmen also set March 3 as the date for a public hearing on a zoning issue. The next meeting will be Feb. 18.

An X-ray unit from the Lansing Sanatorium will be at the Union's west door today and tomorrow from 9:30 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m. for those who wish free chest X-rays.

Results of the tests will be sent out in approximately 90 to 100 days, according to John M. Patriarche, East Lansing city manager.

The unit has been at the East Lansing City Department for the last two days.

Winter Term Play Previewed for One Man Audience

Rose Without a Thorn, MSC's winter term play, had its American premiere last night... before a one-man audience.

That one man was Don Buehl, associate professor in the Speech Department.

Buehl has spent the past 12 weeks in a cast as the result of a fall last November. The cast was removed yesterday and replaced with a brace he will wear for the next three months.

Buehl and his wife are going to Florida for a rest before he resumes teaching spring term and he wanted to see the term play before leaving.

U. S. to Review Red Embassy Issue in Paris

Discussion Set on Relations With Iron Curtain Countries

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department said yesterday it will take a new look at the question whether to shut down American embassies and legations in Russian satellite countries.

June Grad Poll Slated By Council

Seniors intending to graduate in June will be given an opportunity to express a preference for Saturday or Sunday commencement, according to Gene McDermott, senior class president.

At the last meeting of the Senior Council, the council voted unanimously to take a poll of all graduating seniors. The poll will be conducted with business reply cards and will ask the following two questions: "Do you favor commencement on Saturday or Sunday?" and "Do you intend to participate in the commencement program?"

The administration has agreed to consider the results of the poll in making a final decision on when commencement will be held.

At the present, the Senior Council is compiling a list of the graduating seniors.

McDermott stressed the fact that "the poll will require a great deal of effort and expense to conduct and there should be no reason for seniors failing to reply."

But responsible State Department officials, who disclosed the development before McDermott talked about it, told a reporter an American embassy has proposed the shutdown.

Up to now the department has endured Communist restrictions largely on the theory that such information as the diplomatic missions would provide about developments behind the Iron Curtain was better than no official contact at all.

It was understood that the idea to be discussed first is a plan to close down American diplomatic missions out of a time, and not simultaneously as conditions demand.

The United States broke off diplomatic relations with Communist Russia, Bulgaria, Feb. 24, 1950, but this was done only after the government there virtually forced the decision by declaring the American minister unacceptable on the ground that he was an American spy.

IFC Refuses To Comment On Social Pro

Interfraternity Executive Council held a closed meeting last night to discuss pending social probation for Sigma Alpha Epsilon, one of its members. A decision was reached, but the council refused to make a statement for the State News.

The Student-Faculty Social Committee was unable to reach a decision in its meeting Monday and will discuss the matter further in its next meeting.

The fraternity is accused of holding an unregistered party last September. When asked to recommend punishment, IFC asked that one term of strict probation be given the fraternity.

Students will be admitted by their ID cards.

J-Hop Weekend Calls for Formal Fashions

1952 Dance Dress

Kari-Mari Kleinheksel, Holland sophomore, models a navy blue full-length formal with white bunny fur trim. Rhinestone shoes, earrings and a bracelet are used to offset the dress.

Dance Gowns To Feature New Fabrics

By KUE HENDERSON

Best foot forward will be the theme of MSC events as they prepare for the J-Hop this weekend. Everything from ballerina to full length formals are in vogue this season. Bouffant dresses of tulle, swirling net and lace are high on the fashion agenda, with crinoline underskirts worn to give the skirt an extra full effect. Stupendous fitted bodices also accentuate the fullness of the skirt. Emphasizing materials, more than ever this season, unusual fabrics are combined to create striking gowns designed to "stand out on the dance floor." Combinations of silk organza and tulle, metallic materials of gold and silver and net, brocade and satin are designed to create a distinctive dress which is more original and different than formal in previous years.

New materials of cotton lace, metallic fabrics and pleated nylon are very popular this year, not only for the small amount of room they take, but also for their resistance to wrinkle.

This season is an era of ruffles and pleats, designed to achieve a beautiful fully effect. Gone are the dresses with added flowers and ornaments, replacing it are formal of heavy tulle and tulle, with ruffles and bouffant drapes of material.

Tiers of lace and peplums are all very fashionable. If not in the same fabric, bodices of the formals often have embroidered or beaded tops. Metallic and sequin tops or bodices with a sprinkling of rhinestones are very popular.

In accord with the latter, flirty look, colors like dusty subdued pastels, pale yellow, soft pink and blues, light greens and asenders with a few dyes of white and silver, are featured. Floating tulle, all colors of the rainbow, a small per cent of the dresses are designed in darker shades of forest green, red, deep champagne and warm gray and champagne.

Most of the dresses this year, have extra jackets, stoles or capes so that they are suitable for other formal occasions.

Exchange dinners will be held on Wednesday and Thursday nights. The Alpha Chi Sigma, Phi Delta Theta and Delta Gamma have scheduled an exchange dinner. The Phi Delta Theta and Delta Gamma have scheduled an exchange dinner. The Phi Delta Theta and Delta Gamma have scheduled an exchange dinner.

AOPi's Plan Term Party To Initiate New House

After seven months of waiting, watching, and living where they were able to find accommodations, 30 members of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority will move into their newly remodeled house at 505 M.A.C. this weekend.

A new wing has been added to the frame and stucco house giving almost three times the original space. The architecture has been modernized completely, according to Gloria Wieland, president.

Among the new conveniences are sliding closet doors, three fireplaces, and an intercom system connecting four single-party telephones.

Interior decorating emphasis has been placed upon color contrasts with one wall dark and three in lighter shades of paint or paper.

Dark brown living room walls have been contrasted with a white ceiling and a beige rug. Coral and green furniture completes the scheme.

Dedication ceremonies have been scheduled for Feb. 23. The sorority's term party is slated for that day. A housewarming is slated for spring.

COED CORNER

WITH a 28-point lead going into the finals, Chi Omega will join second-place Alpha Chi Omega in the finals of the women's swimming championships to be held Friday, Feb. 13, at 7 p.m.

Chi O took the lead by virtue of a 55-point output in the Monday night meet. AXO finished second with 46 in the same meet. The sororities will meet the two leading women's teams in the finals.

Five first places and a win in the medley left the Chi-Os to their total, which in all-college competition has not reached 163 points. Esther Lucke paced the winners with firsts in both the 30 and 60-yard freestyle events, and also capped the crawl and backstroke-for-form contests.

Swim Mentor To Speak Tonight

Swimming Coach Charles McCaffrey will speak at the Varsity Club's meeting tonight at 7:15 in Room 34 of the Union. All pledges and actives are urged to attend.

'M' Ice Star Ineligible For Season

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Johnny Matchett's flunked Physiology but he learned all about irony in the process.

First of all, Matchett drew an "F" in a course defined as a study of the living human body and its functions when he earned local fame manipulating his own body with unusual skill and finesse as a center on Michigan's top-draw hockey team.

The flunk automatically makes Matchett ineligible for the rest of the season and points out the big irony of the situation.

Two months ago, the junior from Eveleth, Minn., received a signal honor among college athletes. He was invited to join the U.S. Olympic Hockey Team, now in Zurich, Switzerland.

He turned the bid down, (1) so he wouldn't lose time from his schooling and (2) so he could finish out the hockey season and not disrupt a team that might be regarded as national collegiate champions.

Now, he'll have to follow the progress of both the Olympic team and the Michigan team through the sports pages.

And Matchett might just be the difference for Michigan.

Coach Vic Heyliger figures on moving sophomore wing Doug Philpott into Matchett's center spot and put Eddie May, who missed the first half of the season due to illness, onto the wing with junior John McKennell.

Low and Inside

A Suggestion

By ALEX LAGGS

One of the least publicized and most visited attractions on State's campus is the array of pictures and trophies adorning Jenison Gym.

Although I have passed the place hundreds of times, seldom go by without pausing a few seconds to admire the football used in beating Notre Dame last season, Roberts pitching in a State uniform or many of the symbols of MSC's athletic history.

Most of State's athletic squads stand stiffly along both sides of the center showcases. However, one wanted to systematically follow the teams from year to year, they would get lost after 1915.

It would be nice if a place could be found to keep on placing all of the athletic teams by year. A room could be found by taking out the pictures of first physical education graduates and putting in varsity squads year after year. This is just a suggestion that would make a worthwhile project for an organization like the Varsity Club.

Stolen from other College papers—A "Texas vs. World" football game is in the planning stage. It is added to the growing list of post-season bowl extravaganzas. It is being pushed for next Jan. 1 in the Cotton Bowl and will pit Texas college seniors and professional footballers against an all-star team of seniors and other colleges and non-Texans playing pro football.

Another sign that spring is just around the corner. University of Texas opens spring football training. While other college sports pages are filled with news about winter athletics, The Daily Texasian carries articles about Coach Ed Price's search for a quarterback.

Faculty-Student Group Administers Social Rules

By PHIL GUNBY

The Faculty-Student Social Committee, in the news lately in connection with violations of the social function registration rules, is a 12-member organization appointed by President Hannah.

Student Congress determines what groups will be represented by students on the committee, and these groups send a list of suggested delegates from their membership to the President, who makes the appointments.

Faculty members are also appointed. Present student members include Bob Bolo, Student Congress; Nancy Teters, woman's dorms-AWS; John Ringle, men's dorms-Men's Council; Marilyn Ringle, PanHellenic Council; George Bradford, IFC; and George Monaghan, married housing.

Representing the faculty are Tom King, dean of students; King McCristal, professor of physical education; Mrs. Ladore Irland, assistant professor of history; Isabel Gomez, counselor for women; Lily Thorburn, counselor for men; and Mabel Petersen, assistant counselor for women.

The committee administers social rules and handles details in regard to social functions. It has authority to govern all affairs at which mixed groups are in attendance.

A printed folder defining registration procedure in regard to social affairs, and giving penalties, types of parties, miscellaneous regulations, and general rules for all kinds of functions is available in the Office of the Counselor for Women.

Most violations come from failure to register the affair, or failure to register a sufficient number of days ahead of time. Social probation is given for unregistered parties, unchaperoned parties, drinking, or disorderly conduct at social events.

At a meeting of the Educational Congress of the Michigan Optometric Association, held yesterday, Dr. E. J. Steffensen, M.D. of the Henry Ford Hospital told Michigan optometrists that the most spectacular developments to date in controlling diseases of the eye.

"The drugs represent a tremendous stride in progress toward saving eye sight," Dr. Steffensen said. "They have saved sight in numerous cases where its loss was deemed inevitable."

He cautioned, however, that the drugs would not cure all eye diseases, and in some cases could not be used at all without endangering the health of the patient.

Earlier yesterday, a panel of highway safety experts recommended that more thorough eye tests be required of prospective drivers before they are issued licenses.

They also urged the optometrists to support the inclusion of tests of "field of vision" in local drivers license examinations.

The panel was composed of Glen F. Smith, chairman of the Highway Vision Committee of the Optometric Association; L. C. F. VanBlanssens, head of the Safety and Traffic Bureau of the Michigan State Police; J. C. Monaghan, director of Planning and Traffic of the State Highway Department; and Leslie B. Silverdale, head of the driver education program at MSC.

UN Adjourns; Korean Issue Lengthened

PARIS (AP)—The UN assembly yesterday overrode Russian objections and shelved the Korean case until an armistice is reached or a rupture of the Panmunjom talks calls for stronger UN action.

It then adjourned its three-month Paris session, with most delegates expressing hope for an early truce. The next session is due in the autumn.

The assembly voted 51 to 5 (Soviet bloc) to delay discussion of the political settlement in Korea until the military talks are successfully completed. The delegates authorized Secretary-General Trygve Lie to call the assembly into an emergency special session in New York to consider more forceful action if the talks finally break down.

The United States fought for this decision through heated committee debate last Saturday and yesterday's vote went as expected.

A movie and discussion on overdependency in children and personality problems in adults will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Effective Living Building.

Sigmund Nowak, instructor in Effective Living, will lead a discussion following the showing of the film "Overdependency." All interested students may attend.

Males Note Precocious Tot Reveals Method

Local males who have trouble finding girl-dates about campus can take counsel from the younger generation.

When a third grade-type tyke, followed by a coed, pushed his way into a crowded Union elevator Monday afternoon, he announced boldly:

"Make way for the cute little girl."
