CHIGAN STATE BASEBALL NINE LOSES TO NOTRE DAME AT SOUTH BEND THURSDAY

State Defense Crumbles and Strong Irish Baseball Combination Takes Advantage of Errors to Win, 12-5; Spartans Meet Coe College Today.

South Bend, Ind., May 16.—Playing good baseball for the first innings, Michigan State's nine blew up in the sixth and was severely beaten by the Notre Dame team here Thursday afternoon, 12-5. Behind ten runs, the Spartans rallied in the final frame and put three tallies across the place.

Rather demoralized baseball returned to the State camp late tonight from Notre Dame to prepare for the Coe college game to be played Friday. With the errors again playing a big part in their defeat, the Spartan coach will have to shift his team again in order to find a better fielding combination for the Coe game.

Notre Dame drew the first blood in the latter part of the first frame when Byrne placed himself in a hole by walking two and batting one batter with the aid of a hit that sent him across home plate. Retaining their time at bat, the Spartans trotted onto Lasicki, Irish southpaw, for five hits and two runs. Barnard closed the inning with a clean single to left and a hard double to center, sending him a moment later. Byrne to Knisel went out on pop-ups to Gibbon and then Sachs singled to center. Pesic popped to the first baseman to end the inning.

Error and a triple by Lasicki gave the Irish another tally in the second on a fast double play, Byrne to Crail to Barnard, cut away further scoring chances. Neither team was able to score until the first of the sixth when the pitchers decided to settle down. A hit batter, a hard single counted another run for the South Bend nine in the fifth, giving them a 4-2 lead.

Sixth Unlucky

Everything seemed to go wrong in the sixth. Hart, first man up, connected for a triple to begin proceedings. He scrambled hurriedly to third and tried to throw to the plate by Knisel but got away from Barnard. This gave Hart to score. Then a deluge of errors were committed by State players and by the time the Irish were through batting five runs had crossed the plate.

IT'S LEFT TO US

There will be no school on Friday following Memorial day. Neither will there be a Bolshevik day next Wednesday, providing we beat Michigan, if every student studies the situation carefully.

This one-day holiday offered us is in reality a four-day holiday and is a generous movement on the part of the administration. The day was given us without any strings attached, but it seems no more than fair that we should cooperate to the fullest extent possible in making the administration feel that its efforts have not been wasted in giving us a "break."

Beating Michigan nowadays hardly calls for any outward demonstration from the students. For the last three years the Wolverine has fallen to the prowess of the Spartan nine and a basketball victory was placed in the bag last winter. Then why should we celebrate anyway?

A SENIOR SPEAKS

"I wish I knew what I am going to do after June 24."

This is a common remark from a great number of the graduating class this time of year. They have nearly completed four years of college with a more or less vague idea of what they want to do but don't know what they are going to do.

Practically the only class of students who know exactly what they are going to do are the education graduates. They have secured schools and are ready for work. There still remain the engineers, the science students, the arts, vets, home ecs, and literary students, who soon will have in safe keeping a diploma, a more or less large debt accrued from securing an education, and a desire to do something. We hope they will be able to do it and know what it is going to be before commencement day.

CAMPUS CASTES

If colleges and universities are supposed to be the cradles of the country's future leaders, and if customs in the higher institutions of learning are the precursors of national habits, then America is headed toward autocracy.

In the colleges of today it is the same as the feudal systems of old—a well regulated caste system with as careful and exacting divisions as the most rigid of ancient ones.

We have royalty—the athletes. They are untouchable in their aloofness from the common herd. They are not to be condemned; it is an inheritance, the same as the young princes in ancient times who stood in line to take their father's crowns when vacated. They are accepted, envied and almost worshiped. The king can do no wrong and we have our first division of our modern feudalism.

We have nobility—the activity men. They are not of royal blood but they are the controlling element. They run campus activities and are as the lords of old, the ruling class. Then is the power and the glory which is almost as untouchable as the athletes except that the activity men are not born to it.

We have the fashionable gentry—the well dressed, wealthy student who has leg to loll and back in the reflected light of his father's gold. He is the part of the court retainer, a "yes" man in a sense, but still secure enough in his wealth to be haughty and arrogant, but yet subservient to his lord and master, the activity man.

After this upper strata of a campus society is named, we have but to add the long line of students, grinds, men and women working their way through, and those who do little of nothing. It is sad, but true, that in our present college feudalism, this last class named is easily likened to the serfs in medieval times, a necessary part of society but ... unbridled, their work missing, and their individual existence as unimportant to the whole system as the life of an ancient slave, but their existence as a body a vital part in our accepted ... collegiate feudalism.

These classes pictured are true to campus life. It is regrettable that ... should be the truth. It is as hard to vault from one strata to ... degree as it was in ancient times. The honest, hard-working, unassuming man is pushed down, stamped out. He has few friends, but ... a set of his own "class." His four years of college is soon over and he passes on, never tasting the fruits of the "lord" or sharing the "king's" glories.

VICTORS FOR A DAY

When all the smoke and powder of warfare had cleared away Wednesday, it was conceded by popular that the gantry is the "Queen of the Nation" the demonstration contest between artillery, the cavalry, and the infantry. Things went over with a bang the big sham battle of the year. The capital, being the objective, was taken in the struggle without much trouble.

Machine guns, planted at strategic positions, a trench mortar, and advance guards, along with flanking troops made the Argonne drive look sick.

A machine gun located on the bank of the Red Cedar near the hospital drove Kobs' baseball team into retreat once again. Kobs called practice off until the battle was over because of stray bullets which found their way over to the diamond.

Some of the infantry officers found it hard going in the parade when they were put on horses in the big review for the first time this year. Even one of the cavalry seniors was thrown for a loss after the parade by one of the temperamental cavalry horses. However, Governor Green looked well in the saddle.

HUGE PEP MEETING

To show that the student body has not fallen by the wayside in its support of the ball team, a huge and colorful pep meeting is being planned for Monday night at 8 o'clock, on the eve of the Michigan game. The meeting will feature the absence of a long list of the usual speakers, who are usually prominent at these occasions, and will include a number of snappy entertainments and organized cheering.

Everybody will be there for the biggest pep meeting of the year.

INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

Now is the time of the year when intramural athletics are at their best enthusiasm running at its highest.

We have taken particular notice of intramural athletics in the past year and have observed that two or three elements of the competition could be improved upon somewhat.

The athletic department has taken great steps in the development of the intramural athletics. Giving all due credit to the athletic department for sponsoring them, we might suggest a department set aside and appointed for doing nothing but controlling the intramural athletics. Not enough stress is laid on these sports at the present time to permit any great benefits to either the organization involved or the individual. The athletic department proper has no time to in other branches to take care of the intramural athletics properly.

The school is getting large enough now to really begin developing its program on a large scale. There are schools which stress nothing more in the athletic division than intramural athletics. Whole college newspaper pages are devoted to the college intramural activities, including results and dope stories on coming games.

There are too many good potential athletes in Michigan State to let go undeveloped and without any means for their natural outlet of activity. Many intramural athletes are drafted from the ranks and taken into the varsity service. With the present system of inter-group athletics there are retained too many athletes to perform for the society group alone and are therefore hurting the varsity competition.

An entire school participating in athletics in all forms is an ideal to work for.

YE LEARNED SENIORS

The senior class has learned everything there is to learn now and are preparing to leave the institution with lofted heads. But we believe that the male members of the class could learn the art of carrying their canes. It is indeed an amusing sight to see the various seniors in their cane-swagger strut. We regret, however, to see the vanishing senior moustaches which are usually so prominent about this time of year.

STATE FRESH VICTORIOUS OVER W. S. N. C. YEARLINGS YESTERDAY

3-1 Score Ends Tough attle All the Way; First Five Innings Featured by No Hits.

BROSE, GREEN STAR

The Michigan State fresh baseball aggregation won a hard fought game here Thursday against the Western State Normal first year men by defeating the visitors 3-1.

Both teams played a scoreless game the first five innings, and it was only in the first of the sixth that the Western State fresh broke the ice when Pellegrom who had walked tallied on a passed ball. The Spartan yearlings tied the count when Madonna walked and scored on Sluka's single. Again in the seventh, States first year men smashed out another run and cinched their victory with their last run in the eighth.

The fresh batters were led in hitting by Green, who connected safely in four trips to the plate. The remaining seven hits were scattered over the rest of the hitters, no one man hitting more than once.

Brose pitched a good game of ball for State, and had air tight support in both the infield and the outfield. Brose allowed only one hit and struck out five batters, being backed up by Wilkes behind the plate. The visitors' hurler performed very creditably, striking out six men, but allowing eight men to hit safely.

The fast infield combination of Green 1b, Sluka 2b, Cuthbertson 3b, and Madonna ss, played a clever game to back Brose, and made only two misplays, neither of which counted for a run. In the outfield Green, Dole and DeHaan muffed none of the few flies that came their way, also making several beautiful catches during the game.

MICHIGAN STATE BASEBALL NINE LOSES TO NOTRE DAME

This inning seemed to demoralize the boys and the seventh frame was a repetition of the sixth except that but three runs were scored by the hard hitting Irish.

Coming up to bat in the ninth session behind the Michigan State nine staged a rally. Barnard started things off by his second single of the day. Gibbs duplicated Jabbo's feat and R. Byrne batting for Bullock walked. Kriesel came up and pounded out a clean single to score Barnard and Gibbs. Byrne looking up at third. Pop Warner hit a long sacrifice fly to center to score Byrne. Maciel punch-hitting for Peetz, struck out, while McCauley grounded out to second to end the game.

State's defense was going fairly well until the sixth when it crumbled. Early errors were committed by the Spartans with Captain Eggert and Sachs leading with three apiece. Also McCauley showed lack of nerve away from fielding his position when he tumbled in a perfect dive in the field. Several times the State shortstop grabbed off sure hits by his great fielding, to stop of a drive from Feeney but in the eighth being little less than sensational.

Again State's hitters were silent for the most part. Only two innings were the Spartans able to get next to the Irish hurler, the second and ninth. Gibbs and Barnard led the State hitters with two each apiece.

Jerry Byrne lasted the first seven innings of the game in his last form. Although his backing was weak at times, the Spartan pitcher got himself into several hot holes. Pete Bullock was on the mound during the final two frames and held the Irish to three hits.

Mr. McMurray Waxes Poetic over Tobacco

Carrollton, Texas
May 15, 1928

Larus & Bro. Co.,
Richmond, Va.
Gentlemen:

Having been a user of Edgeworth for over eight years, I can truthfully say that it is the best one-cent smoke. I am enclosing a little ditty that I believe expresses my sentiments entirely.

Old Man Joy and Old Man Trouble
Went out for a walk one day,
And Lovebrand them saw,
Said Old Man Trouble, "She's so
sweet she can hug
There ain't no fun in anything to play,
I was just talking' to Old Man
Sorrow,
And he says the world will end
tomorrow."
Then Old Man Joy he started to
grin,
And I saw him leing out that
OLD BLUE TIN,
Then OLD JOHNNY BEAR was
next on the scene,
And he packed him full from the
OLD BLUE TIN,
And I heard him say as he walked
away,
"You have to have a smoke each
every day,
When a man gets the blues, in the
smoke is dead,
He can find consolation in the OLD
BLUE TIN,
And I just don't believe on all this earth
There's a thing that'll match good old EDGEWORTH."

Yours very truly,
E. H. McMurray
