Bitter Blow New Low Set: Spartans Shiver As Term Begins

Continued cold weather is in store for the first day of classes today.

The thermometer plunged to a bitter three degrees above zero yesterday for a less seasonal low. A high of 22 degrees was predicted by the East Lansing weather bureau for today with another record-breaking low in sight.

Early cloudy skies are predicted, but no snow will be added to the 1.8 inches already fallen this week. The wind is expected to blow from the east to south-west at 15 to 25 miles an hour.

Five Admit To Parts in Robberies

Leader Expelled: Four On Probation

One student has been expelled for master-minding the biggest series of thefts in MSC history and four others who were involved "in a minor way" have been placed on disciplinary probation by college officials.

In the past 12 months, they looted the college of approximately $5,800 worth of articles including more than $4,000 of photographic equipment stolen from the photo lab in Ag Hall last November.

The remainder was taken from the Radio Department in Fairchild Theater and the Music-Natural Science and Chemistry Buildings.

Campus police traced the leader of the group who in turn implicated the others three weeks ago.

The main lead came from supply houses in Chicago where two of the students traded cameras in," explained Lowell Treaster, director of Information Services.

The college was notified by Chicago's police when they matched the serial numbers of the cameras with those on list of stolen equipment. Fortunately,

President to Take Leave of Absence For New Position

President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower yesterday affirmed wide-spread reports that MSC President John A. Hannah will replace Mrs. Anna Rosenberg as assistant secretary of defense in charge of manpower and personnel.

The announcement came from Eisenhower's New York headquarters and added that Hannah would take a leave of absence from the college to accept the appointment. Mr. Rosenberg announced her resignation last November.

His appointment to the $13,000-a-year post was announced after Eisenhower conferred with Charles E. Wilson, who will be secretary of defense in the new administration, according to James C. Hagerly, press secretary to the President-elect.

A statement on what arrangements will be made to fill Dr. Hannah's post while he is on a leave of absence is expected to be issued at a staff meeting this afternoon.

The first official statement on Hannah's appointment was released Tuesday when Clark L. Blosky, president of the State Board of Agriculture, told reporters that the college faculty would be told at today's meeting that they would have to share their president with the Eisenhower administration.

Hannah had conferred with Eisenhower at the President-elect's headquarters last week touching off speculation of a presidential appointment.

Dr. Hannah's appointment was announced last month by MSC President John A. Hannah.

Dr. Hannah, who has had a long and distinguished career in the field of education administration, has served MSC as a consultant for several years. He played an important part in the organization of Michigan State's Basic College eight years ago.

The Chicago educator will devote half of his time at MSC to teaching duties in the School of Education and School of Business and Public Service and the other half in consultation work with the president.

A graduate of Huron College, S.D. Dr. Hannah received his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Chicago. After teaching several years in the public schools, he became professor of education and administrative dean at the University of Kentucky in 1925. In 1929 he joined the University of Chicago as professor of education.

From about 1933 on, Dr. Hannah has served in an advisory capacity to the federal government on many occasions in the areas of education, administration and personnel. From 1933 to 1935 he was director of personnel and social and economic planning for the Tennessee Valley Authority. He has also served as a member of the President's committees on administration, education and civil service improvement.

According to sources close to Dr. Hannah, he was disturbed by speculation that he would resign or take an extended leave of absence from the college presidency.

The present administrative organization places five men under President Hannah, each charged with his own field of responsibility. Of the five men, two are state board officers serving the State Board of Agriculture. They are Karl H. McDowell, secretary of the college and of the State Board of Agriculture, and Philip J. May, comptroller and treasurer of the college.

Others are men with the title of administrative assistant to the president. They are W. J. Combs, in charge of academic affairs, and Dean of the Agricultural Division, James Dettig, in charge of public relations, and Tom King, dean of students.

Ag Board Accepts Bid For Dorm

Cost of New Units To Near $8 Million

Construction of new dormitory units for men at MSC was begun last week following the acceptance of a bid submitted by the Christian Co. of Lansing.

Karl H. McDowell, State Board of Agriculture secretary, said that the bid of $7,750,000 was accepted at a special meeting held last week.

A part of the dormitory facilities may be in use during the winter term of 1954.

The new structures represent the first step in preparations by Michigan State College officials for the increased enrollments that will come from initial impact of the new year.

The new dormitories to be constructed will include a four-story building with a central dining hall, a two-story building with a central dining hall, and a two-story building with a central dining hall.

BULLETIN

Michigan State's enrollment for winter term is expected to show a 4 per cent increase over last winter with 12,918 students already registered and an estimated 700 more expected to enroll during late registration.

As expected, the total enrollment took a drop from last term when 14,085 students registered.

The two-to-one men-to-women ratio was maintained with 6,055 men and 3,113 women enrolled according to figures released by Registrar Robert S. Linton. The total included 944 veterans.

Employees of the supply houses were able to give good descriptions of the students as well as other evidence.

Campus police found part of the equipment locked up in the home of the leader. They did not link the lab robbery with the previous thefts until questioning him.

Criminal charges were not pressed against him on the theory that he needs treatment instead of punishment.

He told officials "I guess I just had a misguided notion of fun."

In addition to using a knowledge of lock-picking to gain entrance into several college buildings, he made bombs for a series of explosions which he set off on campus recently.

He undoubtedly has a high technical mind and could be an outstanding student. He has ability plus great curiosity about chemicals and explosives," commented Tom Kint, dean of students.

They will be confined to their dormitories until 8 p.m. for an indefinite period. One student who was driving a car on campus last term will not be able to drive in the East Lansing area after the an indefinite period.

Letter Opens Way

PanHel Helps Bring Indian Coed to MSC

BY MARY ROUSE

A letter in answer to a magazine article started Sarojini Cadre, Wardha, India sophomore, on her way to Michigan State College.

The article explained the Adventures in World Understanding project which takes exchange students of trips around Michigan. Many letters concerning the articles were sent to Louise Carpenter, assistant professor of Continuing Education, who had been mentioned in the article in connection with the project.

Sarojini's letter was interesting enough to be picked out of all the rest of the letters. In it she said that she was interested in studying child development, but that there was no place in India for her to study the field. She was studying in junior college when the letter was written.

Scholarships from PanHelene Central for room and board and from the Wesleyan Service Guild for tuition were awarded to Miss Cadre.

Sarojini's home town is Wardha, situated in Central India. She has three brothers and two sisters living in India.

Sarojini explained that in the Indian language her name means "water lily." Her sisters' names, although different, have the same meaning.

Although Sarojini has been in the United States only a few months she has no difficulty understanding English. She has a good command of English and is a native speaker of Hindi.

The ship she crossed on her way to the West Coast was stopped over for a week at Hull. Sarojini and six other Indians who had been on board the ship did much sight-seeing in the time they had. What impressed them most was the kindness of the Americans, many of whom had never seen an Indian before.

Sarojini said that a crowd always followed them on the street and waited outside for them when they stopped in a store.

TRENTON, Neb. (AP)—There's a blonde on the bench here. She's Mrs. Devonnabelle Reynolds, judge of the Hitchcock County Court and Nebraska's only woman judge. Although she has no law degree and never took the state bar examination, she was appointed to the post after Judge W. L. Mote retired. Law degrees are not required of county judges in Nebraska.

Mrs. Reynolds is known hereabouts as "Mrs. Courthouse" for her knowledge of doings at the seat of county government.

Patty's Patter

By PAT YAROCK
State News Society Editor

Hi, surprised to see me back here? Well, to tell you the truth so am I. The State News personnel has been juggled around so much that none of us really know what's going on right now.

At the present time we don't have an editor but I'm sure the situation will be corrected by press time. Let's hope so anyway.

I presume you all are overjoyed to leave the life of leisure and return to the humdrum and hectic life of classes, studies, parties, parties and parties. Which brings up a pet peeve of mine.

As you walk across campus and through the Grill these first few days of every term you hear over and over, "Hi, did you have a nice vacation?" or "How was your Christmas?" This, of course, is considered a mark of courtesy, but don't you often feel that the people who ask don't really give the proverbial d--- what you did or most of the time don't even remember your name?

If you don't believe it just start answering "I had a rotten time," or "Erads, I couldn't wait to get back." Nine out of ten times the questioner won't even notice.

I wonder does it pay to be polite?

Ice Team Blanked, 6-0

By JACK KOLE
Michigan State's hockey team, generally to get into the top column, was thwarted last night as the Michigan Wolverines skated to a 6-0 shutout in their home game at the J. Ross Macdonald Arena. The Wolverines, who have won 10 of their last 11 games, were led by defenseman Rex Shave, who scored three goals, and forward Bob Revon, who scored two. The Spartans, who are 1-4 in their last five games, were outplayed from the start. Michigan's attack was relentless, with Shave and Revon combining for five goals. The Spartans' defense was completely overwhelmed, with goalie Jerry Lord being unable to make any saves. The game was a decisive victory for Michigan, who now lead the Big Ten conference in points.

Davey-Gavilan Go Set for February 11

The 15-round championship bout, which will be televised nationally, was announced Wednesday by James D. Norris, president of the International Boxing Club.

Davey, former national collegiate champion from Michigan State College, set the stage for his meeting with Gavilan mainly with a 10-round decision last fall over former middleweight champion Rocky Graziano. Although ranked third as a contender by the National Boxing Association, the fancy Davey is regarded as TV's best ring showman and his meeting with bolognizing Gavilan may give the IDC a $225,000 net gate.

Gavilan, making his fifth 147-pound title defense, will get 40 per cent of the net gate with 20 per cent going to Davey. The top ticket price will be $25 for ringside, while other tickets will cost $15, $10 and $5. This is the first big money shot for Davey, who has been carefully brought along the professional trail without defeat in 38 bouts.

NCAA Favors Bowls

WASHINGTON (AP)—The extra events committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association yesterday issued a report strongly favoring the continuation of football bowl games and other post-season blue ribbon contests.
At the same time, the NCAA television committee was expected to recommend that even stricter controls should be clamped down on TV broadcasts of football games than prevailed during 1951.
A sampling of opinion among the NCAA's 400 college members showed a big majority in favor of tighter TV restrictions.
Last year, amid some outcries by stay-at-home grid fans, the NCAA permitted only one nationally televised game a week, but permitted a few regional telecasts when games were a sellout.
Notre Dame and the University of Pennsylvania, both fought, are continuing to fight, against the restrictions. Apparently they faced a losing battle, at least for the time being.
The TV committee will report today.
