Dr. Carl Hoppert, MSC chemistry professor, was appointed by Gov. G. Mennen Williams Thursday to the Basic Science Board of Michigan.

He succeeds Dr. Orin Madison, chemistry professor at Wayne University and former chairman of the Science Board.

Hoppert's appointment and the reappointment of another board member, Prof. F. Gaynor Evans, Grosse Pointe, require senate confirmations and will last for the term ending Oct. 29, 1965.

Dr. Evans is an associate professor of anatomy at the Wayne University College of Medicine.

Dr. Madison was ineligible for reappointment, according to Gov.
Williams, because of a legislative act passed in 1952 that limits membership on the board to two consecutive terms.

Dr. Madison had served two consecutive terms under an old law that did not include such limitations.

The governor said Dr. Hoppert

"Some time ago I announced
my intention of establishing a rotating trophy emblematic of the football rivalry between the University of Michigan and Michigan State College.

"At that time I also indicated that suggestions from both schools would be solicited and I very much appreciate the attention that representatives of the two schools have given this matter.

"Because of the time element
we found it necessary to commence preparation of the trophy nearly a week ago and, unfortunately, unable to take full advantage of any further suggestions offered.

"It is requested that suitable arrangements be made for presentation to the winner of this year's game."

The governor's administrative assistant, Frank Blackford, indicated the trophy would be based on Paul Bunyan, a legendary figure of Michigan's early lumbering days.

The trophy will be made out of Michigan native pine and copper.

It will probably be unveiled during halftime ceremonies and is currently being made in Chicago.
The trophy will be flown here
Nov. 12.

Meanwhile, reports from the University of Michigan's Board of Intercollegiate Athletics indicated that the Board would rather maintain only one trophy, the "Little Brown Jug," which is shared with Minnesota.

And in a poll of 150 students at U of M, taken by the Michigan Daily, 93 said they favored plans for the trophy, while 57 indicated they opposed them.

Backers of the idea on the Ann Arbor campus said the trophy would express the natural rivalry between the two schools and aid understanding of the student bodies.

Opponents of the trophy plan either didn't want it at all or felt that the original suggestion should have come from students and not the governor.

Winter Hits Port Huron Snowfall Lasts Eight Hours

A 12-inch snowfall struck Port Huron Thursday, the biggest deluge of snow in Michigan this season.

Snow flurries hit other state areas in a sudden blast of frigid temperatures.

A slightly warmer Friday was forecast by the U.S. Weather Bureau. Freezing temperatures were expected throughout the state Thursday night.

An eight-hour snowfall at Port Huron ended shortly before noon Thursday.

It temporarily paralyzed traffic.
Buses were off schedule, and commuters were late to work.

Street crews in the city, unprepared for the deluge of snow, met the emergency with scrapers and sanding trucks.

Up to seven inches of snow fell in Berlin, Ont., across the St. Clair River from Port Huron.

Five inches of snow was reported in St. Clair, eight miles south of Port Huron.

On-the-Spot Coverage Second Football Edition Slated

Another State News football edition will be distributed early Sunday morning.

Encouraged by a generally enthusiastic student response to the first tabloid-size edition this week, State News executives have arranged special wire and sports photo coverage of the Ohio State game at Columbus.

Pictures taken at the game by State News photographers will be flown, with State Journal photos to Lansing, in time for processing and publication early Sunday. Sports editor Jack Kels and his staff will telegraph directly the game story and highlights of the afternoon.

Linotype operators, printers and pressmen will work Saturday evening to prepare the five-column tabloid for its press run,
as they did for the first edition.

The 5,000 copies will be distributed to dormitories, co-op seminaries, fraternities, and to the Union by volunteers from the staff.

Pep Rally Crowd

The cold confines of MacMillan Stadium housed 323 fans who attended the pep rally Thursday afternoon to send the football team to Columbus for the 1964 Ohio State game Saturday.

Police Kill Two Participants In Recurrence of Trieste Riots

TRIESTE (AP)—Pro-Italian demonstrations got out of hand in this disputed city Thursday and rioting, touched off by a celebration of the 35th anniversary Wednesday of Italy's victory in World War I.

Meanwhile, indications appeared that United States and British troops may remain here longer than originally planned when the two countries announced Oct. 8 that they would withdraw their troops and turn Trieste over to Italy.

About three dozen were hospitalized.

The shooting came in late afternoon near the Roman Catholic church of St. Anthony in downtown Trieste.

A priest was reconsecrating the church because of blood spilled in it during a melee between students and police earlier in the day.

As hundreds of students crowded around the church for the ceremony, a riot police jeep moved into the throng. Students began hurling paving blocks and sticks
at the occupants.

Whomsoever the police tried to fight free of the crowd, but failed.

Before the fight ended it was estimated 1,000 demonstrators, all apparently students, and 200 police were involved.

The crowd smashed several police jeeps and trucks. The police used fire hoses in a vain attempt to break up the riot, then opened fire.

A youth of 17 and an elderly man were killed. Trucks bearing armed United States and British troops moved toward the center of the city.

Light Vote Recorded In Finals

Run-off Slated
For Council Tie

By BETTY ZURGE

Only 1,023 voters, one-fourth of the freshman class, turned out Thursday to elect Howard James, from Elkhart,
Ind. president of their class.

James with 513 votes won out over William Rees, 490.

Vice-president for the year
is Andy Foster of Green Bay, Wis. with 557 votes to his opponent's Rita Walker's, 465.

Class secretary is Jeannie Warrington, Bethesda, Md., with 624 votes and treasurer is Sue Taylor of Brooklyn, 548.

Removers-up in the secretary and treasurer races were Constance Watkins with 360 and Barb Carlson, 327.

Low votes in almost every district put Fresh-Soph Council and Student Congress representatives in office.

Winners for Fresh-Soph Council
from North Williams are Henry McCallum with 13 and Norrie
Todd, 34. West Lansing, Carolyn
Sylvan, 73, and Peggy Lowenthal,
67. Fraternities, Wally Walker, 31;
sororities, Nancy Jo Shafer, 64,
and Lansing, Del Cargill, 27.

Others are East Lansing, Janna Sandberg, 11; East Mayo, Berry Gibson, 13; East Lansing, Ben Greenwald, 20, and West Shaw,
Roger Langley, 155.

A tie for Fresh-Soph Council in Gibraltar will be run off in an election next week, according to Joanne Dempsey, election commissioner. Candidates were Jeannette Craig and Henry Lee Matthews, each with nine votes.

New Student Congress representatives from East Shaw are Richard Smith, 64; West Shaw,
Leonard Kleiman, 100; North
Williams, Diane Broersma, 40;
Abbott, Sue Rafferty, 82; Marjorie
Sylvan, 73, and Peggy Lowenthal,
67. Fraternities, Wally Walker, 31;
sororities, Nancy Jo Shafer, 64,
and Lansing, Del Cargill, 27.

All campaign posters must be down by noon today, according to Miss Dempsey.

Removers-up in the Fresh-Soph Council race from North
Williams are Henry Woodland,
13 and Jane Blahut, 34; West
Lansing, Henry Blahut, 34; East Yakley, Jane Turner, 34; and Marjorie Shapp, 6.

More are North Campbell, Gloria Ott, 10; East Lansing, Verna Pankas, 5; East Mayo, Molly Manner, 4; East Lansing, Marilyn Absher, 9; and West Shaw, Gerald Manley, 47.

Only 200 voted in the ten districts.

Congress runners-up include:
East Shaw, Larry Harding, 30;
West Shaw, Tom Patchen, 134;
North Williams, Mary Roberts, 25;
Abbott, Lynda Sullivan, 51; Blahut
Freeman, 62, and Joanne Tunk,
20; fraternities, Charles Richman,
28; sororities, Jane Walker, 40;
and Lansing, Joyce Anderson, 10.

Votes in the seven districts
total 672.

TV Director Wins Executive Position

Arthur L. Hinkle, director of WEAR-TV, has been elected president of the National Association of Broadcasters, a position of national importance in the radio and television industry.

Hinkle has served as president of the Michigan Association of Broadcasters since 1961. He is also a member of the National Association of Broadcasters.

The train, largest to ever leave Lansing bound for a football game, is being sponsored by the Central Michigan and the Varsity Athletic clubs.

Another train, consisting of five cars, is scheduled to take the marching band to Ohio. The band will leave tonight in its annual out-of-state trip this year. In addition to the band and a procession Saturday morning, 1,000 fans will accompany them to the game.

Not content with having goodbye to the team, about 1,500 fans will ride a special 10-car train to Columbus Saturday.

Just About Anything Retrospection

By PHIL GUNBY
State News Manager

Mid-terms pretty much behind, we wander on with an eye fixed on Thanksgiving vacation, less than three weeks hence.

In that event: People have been telling us all week they saw the six of us delivering the football edition early last Sunday morning. Maybe, but all the people we saw could fit comfortably in one phone booth.

Street lights went out for a couple of hours late Monday evening, but signs along Grand River kept things bright in that area, and apparently nobody much cared elsewhere. There seem to be fewer ambulances racing up and down the main drag these days.

Fashion Notes: Delta Chis are re-introducing the snap brim to the campus, watch for 'em at football games. Was the guy wearing red plaid slacks in the Grill a prophet of things to come? I'll always regret not shaking hands with the fellow leaving Macklin in bucks, grey flannels, straw skimmer, and a racoon coat—a sight I've longed to see these three years, two months.

Just Wondering: Who cut out the paper dolls I found lying on the desk next to mine in Berkeley this week. Who couldn't spell Spelman (Jim, Justine Ray, Joan Streadwick and Ken Berman are this week's "seniors"). How many non-seniors cash in on the Wednesday coffee hour in Old College Hall.

Did you see the "V" formation of geese over the stadium just about the time the game ended? They attracted more attention than the airplanes with banners.

BO Review: Voting continues on the candidates for corps sponsors. Barely have photos of so many cute cuds been gathered on one or two bulletin boards. One cadet officer was overheard telling his boys: "Look them all over carefully, men, then vote for my girl. She's number one."

Seniors will march Wednesday night in a Lansing Armistice Day parade. Army and Air Force cadets drilling Wednesday got a close-up view of the season's first snow.

Just in case you were wondering, Cornell is 627,226 feet above Cayuga's waters.

Exhilarating sounds: Beaumont's bells at 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. The echo of whistles from the old college field as intramural football continues far into the evening. An alarm clock at 7:30 (not pleasant, but exhilarating).

The new hand jacks are drawing as much favorable comment as did the football team jacks a year ago.

Speaking of hands and feet, Jim Spelman is conserved, lost his black 5 members fall to show up in plenty of time for televised pre-Michigan game formations. It's vital that everyone be on time, he stresses.

Across the Hall: Besides going on "lion hunts," student government members are (the males, anyhow) going to try a beard-growing contest. Wonder how the womenfolk will react. Tentative planning for a student traffic court goes on.

Watch Post: State News wire stories and clippings daily on the bulletin board near the stairway entrance to the Union cafeteria. If arrangements work out. Bigger and better stories and pictures in Sunday's football edition. We'll be up early (yawn) to deliver it. More snow (says the weather bureau).

Letter To The Editor:

Sponsorship Of UMOG Clarified

Dear Editor:

Thought that a clarification of yesterday's editorial on Campus Chest was in order.

Campus Chest does not sponsor the UMOG Man on Campus contest. This is sponsored independently by members of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity.

The donations are to be turned over to a worthwhile charitable organization. Since there is an organization on campus which distributes monies to these agencies, the fraternity agreed to donate the money to the Campus Chest.

Attend Your Chapel

For the first time since the College Memorial Chapel was dedicated in June, 1952, an all-college vesper service will be held Sunday at 4 p.m.

This week the program will be handled by the music department. Any organized group on campus, including housing units, may sponsor one of these services by contacting William L. Davidson, second floor of the Union.

The services will be short, none lasting more than an hour, with talks—not sermons—lasting about 15 minutes. They will reflect the stained-glass windows above the altar, "religion, brotherhood and patriotism."

One theme suggested by Davidson is a series of talks on religious leaders of all nations, although students or any speaker they choose may pick any topic.

A beautiful and symbolic chapel is there by the Auditorium for us students. Now it is up to us to make the best use of it. These vesper services will continue only as long as we students support them.

No Close Shaves

Put those razors down. Today marks the start of a student government-sponsored beard growing contest in connection with next week's MSC-Michigan game.

Each women's living unit will sponsor a team of two, along with alternates. Registration is to begin today and end with judging at the pre-game rally.

Facial adornments will be judged on just about every possible attribute—quantity, quality, color, shape and texture. A move is now on to instigate a similar contest at the University.

If the proposed MSC-U of M whisker derby reaches fruition, will a new tradition for rivalry between the two schools be established? In future years, the superiority of each school may not be decided solely on academic or athletic prowess. Rather, how many yards of wool can you produce?

Your masculinity is at stake, men.

Groups to Begin Sessions Today

The Homemaking Teachers' Michigan's sixth annual conference, a refresher course in the basic sciences, Industrial Management conference, and Cattle Breeders' conference will begin today at the fall Post Graduate clinic.

The Michigan Department of Public Instruction, this morning's session is in the Music Building.

A professional workers' refresher course and survey of developments in the basic sciences began Thursday with Dr. D. Collins, associate professor of physiology and pharmacology, and Dr. W. L. Hoffman, professor of bacteriology and public health, as speakers.

This course will be continued on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 12 and 13. It will be offered by the departments of bacteriology and public health, physiology and pharmacology, foods and nutrition, and management and child development and guidance, and animal training.

Class meetings will be in 33 Union Dining, and evening discussions will be in Kellogg Center.

"The Future We Create," keynote address for the Industrial Management conference Sunday, will be given by Thomas E. Reid in Ford Hall. Reid is assistant director of defense mobilization.

The Dairy Cattle Breeders' conference Monday and Tuesday in the Auditorium will be sponsored by the MSC dairy department and Cooperative Extension Service.

Post Graduate clinic will be in 11-12 in the Auditorium. Sessions will be the Wayne County Academy of General Practice in cooperation with the Continuing Education Service.

Tau Beta Pi, national engineering honor society, initiated 15 members Wednesday night at a banquet in 23 Union.

Clayton Callahan, East Lansing senior, emceed the banquet. Honorary is open to all engineers.

A group, the honorary helps sponsoring the Engineering Education, works on projects for the School of Engineering and the tutor sophomore and freshman engineering students.

Eligibility for the organization based on scholarship, leadership, and character. A candidate must be a junior or senior in upper fifth of his class with all-college average of 3.0 point letter.

Headway in Cancer, Polio Studies Noted

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Drugs to conquer cancer are sure to come, Dr. Michael B. Shimkin of San Francisco said Thursday.

He and associates have fired 42 chemical bullets at cancers in hopelessly ill children, men and women in the last five years.

Some drugs did a little good, but about comparable to snipers trying to halt an advancing army.

Yet the promise in the few temporary successes gives the basis for hope. Dr. Shimkin told the American Cancer Society's annual meeting.

We have a tremendous stirring and development in chemicals against cancer, which must be coupled with success, whether in 10 or 20 years or when, I do not know, not being born a seahorse, etc.

Dr. Shimkin is chief of the Laboratory of Experimental Oncology, study of tumors, Laguna Honda Home of the National Institutes of Health.

Of 492 patients treated there, 167 had advanced cancers, apparently hopeless. In last-ditch attempts to save them, they received one or more of 42 different chemical agents that have come from various research laboratories.

By last September, 90 per cent had died.

But 7 per cent lived for more than five years from the time their cancers were detected, including 20 persons with acute leukemia or blood cancer, usually quickly fatal.

It cost almost $1,800 to test a single chemical agent, he said.

On another medical front, the polio virus has been captured in photographs taken by powerful microscope. It was announced Thursday night.

The pictures show the virus as a tiny round ball, so small that a million side by side would form a row only an inch long.

Some of the viruses appear singly, others in clusters resembling fish eggs.

Dr. A. R. Taylor, research virologist of Parks, Davis & Co. Detroit, showed the pictures to the Electron Microscope Society of America. They were taken with an electron microscope of magnifications up to 200,000 to 300,000 times.

Weather

Snow flurries hit Bay City, Pontiac and Detroit. They were mainly concentrated in the southeastern Michigan area.

Meanwhile, winter blow into the eastern half of the nation Thursday, plummeting temperatures to near zero in Wisconsin.

Snow was reported in many sections of the winter belt.

In the Southeast, a heavy rain-fall was reported over Florida, Georgia and the Carolinas. Pensacola, Fla., received 2.81 inches of rain.

In the West, temperatures were generally seasonal, with light precipitation in mountain areas.

Up to four inches of snow fall over parts of Chicago, sections of Northern Indiana reported up to two inches.

Most of upstate New York reported snow flurries. In Cattaraugus County the fall measured five inches in places.

The lowest temperature reading of the season was registered at Grantsburg, Wis., which had 1 above zero. Many other cities in northern Wisconsin had near zero readings.

Democrats Hopeful After Election Wins

Republicans Jolted by GOP Loss; Chairman Sees Party in Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic victories in Tuesday's elections gave Republicans a jolt Wednesday and spurred Democratic hopes of recapturing Congress next year and the White House in 1960.

President Eisenhower told his news conference that naturally he is not entirely pleased with the results, but he commented:

"I've lost skirmishes before." Speaking on the first anniversary of his election to the presidency, Eisenhower said he would venture no opinion whether the election returns mean the Republicans are in hot water.

He said he has confidence in the dynamic program his administration is trying to carry out.

Chairman Leonard W. Hall of the Republican National Committee frankly acknowledged the double-barreled Democratic triumph in New Jersey—coupled with Democratic victories in New York City and Virginia—summed up as a blow to the Grand Old Party.

"There is no question about it," Hall said. "As of today, we are in trouble politically."

Some Democratic leaders declared the results constituted a slap if not an outright repudiation of the Eisenhower administration. Republicans hotly disputed that interpretation. They contended that local issues were paramount in deciding the outcome in most cases and that little national significance was involved.

Arthur E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee commented:

"It looks as though the fruit of Republican promises and performance is dissatisfaction, disillusion and defeat."

Former President Truman said in Kansas City, Mo., he was "very, very happy" over the New York-New Jersey results.

Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell of the Democratic National Committee said the election returns show there has been "a clear change of sentiment since last November."

Spokesmen for the New Deal-Fair Deal wing of the Democratic Party professed to see the outcome of the New York mayoral contest, where Democrat Robert F. Wagner Jr. won a landslide victory, as a big boost for their cause in the 1954 congressional elections and the 1956 presidential race.

The biggest surprise came in New Jersey where the Democrats won the governorship for the first time in 10 years and added "an extra filip" to their jubilation by sending a Democrat to Congress from a normally heavy Republican district.

Democrat Robert B. Meyner, a country lawyer, defeated Republican Paul L. Truitt in the gubernatorial contest by a vote of 559,000 to 469,750 just a year after Eisenhower swept the state by a 350,000-vote plurality.

New Jersey Republicans sought votes for Truitt with the plea that the prestige of the Eisenhower administration was at stake.

Political strategists saw possibly even greater significance in the upset victory scored by Democrat Harrison A. Williams Jr., who defeated Republican George F. Heldfield by about 2,000 votes in the state's Sixth Congressional District where a Republican won by 24,000 votes in 1952.

College to Host Annual Junior Academy Meet

About 150 Michigan high school students will convene here Saturday for the annual fall meeting of the Michigan Junior Academy of Science, Arts and Letters.

The organization, sponsored by the senior Academy of Science, Arts and Letters, is made up of local clubs in many Michigan towns.

After registering in the Natural Science Building, the visitors will be welcomed by Dr. Wm. B. Drew, head of the botany department. Dewey Barish, educational director of the Ford Motor Co., will speak on "Science Education in Industry" and a tour of the botany, geology, zoology, and entomology departments will follow.

In the afternoon, "Marvels in Miniature," a movie featuring the great barrier coral reef near Australia, will be shown. Concluding the meeting will be a lecture on "Human Heredity" by Dr. Karl A. Stiles, head of the zoology department.

With the aid of an Academy of Science, Arts and Letters, the zoology department is studying facts of heredity as basis for development.

Spartans Face Buckeyes With Title in Mind

Winner to Cop First of Illinois Succumbs Sellout Crowd of 82,000 Expected at Ohio Stadium

By KEITH MILLER
Michigan State and Ohio State, both cherishing a Big 10 and the subsequent Rose Bowl berth, meet Saturday in a game that could vault the winner into the conference leadership.

Approximately 82,000 fans pour into the Ohio stadium to witness the clash between the two teams, which are rated almost even entering the game.

As a matter of speculation, if the Spartans win, they will be the conference lead with a record.

Michigan State's loss will drop out of the contention especially if the Spartans are successful in its homecoming game with the Wolverines.

Michigan State and Ohio State will be fortified by the return of essential quarterbacks. The Spartans will once again have the services of Earl Morrall and Buckeye will have Johnny Morris available for duty.

Morrall has been on the shelf because of a sprain of the right shoulder. After missing the Purdue game, Morrall is expected to return to the line.

Ohio State's ace passer, Dave Leggett, is expected to return to the line. Leggett has completed 24 of 33 passes for 246 yards and one touchdown.

However, Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes has indicated that Leggett might start Dave Leggett in place of Morrall. Hayes is taking a chance on the quarterback position.

Spartan All-American

'Hard Luck' Ellis Hit by New Rule

By CHUCK MILLER
If a vote were to be taken to select the "hard luck" football player of the Michigan State team, a unanimous choice would probably be halfback-safetyman, Jimmy Ellis.

For one thing, he has had a total of nine touchdowns called back on kickoff and punt returns. To make it even more frustrating is the fact that most of them have been long, spectacular runs.

Ellis is the first and only Spartan to be named to an All-American team two years in a row. Now the "one-platoon" rule has come along to give him a great disadvantage in his quest for a third.

Thus, the basis for such a title. However, "Diamond Jim," as he is called by his teammates, is the last to complain. As for the nullified scores he says, "I've gotten used to it."

He admits that he will have a hard time making All-American again this year but added, "I wish I had another year."

His great defensive work over the past two years won him a spot on the real All-American team—that picked by the ones who are the best judges, the players.

The switch to offense has been harder on Ellis than any other player for the fact that he has been a "specialist" longer than anyone on the team.

This is his first year of offense since he last played for Saginaw High School in the fall of '48.

While in high school he was a rival of teammate LeRoy Bolden and Ellis Duckett who starred for Flint Northern.

In the only meeting between Ellis and his Saginaw Valley opponent, the game ended in a scoreless tie. He also has played against Don Coleman, who was at Flint Central.

Jim started at MSC in 1949 and sat out a year in 1950 due to an injury. As a result he was eligible to be

Block Championship to Boot

Phi Taus Trip Sigma Chi, 28-6

By DON CROWN, DES. KOSCIAN AND BOB FREY
Undeclared Phi Kappa Tau was better than the weather was cold Thursday night in Intramural League action.

They met Sigma Chi, also undeclared, for the Block One championship. With Jim Blackmore leading the way, Phi Kappa Tau smothered Sigma Chi, 28-6.

Blackmore combined with Dale Simmons in the opening quarter to put the Phi Taus ahead 6-0. A gain in the second quarter, Blackmore's passing arm put his team closer to the Block title, this time Neuhaus was on the receiving end of his aerials. The extra point was good.

Sigma Chi scored their only touchdown in the game in the second quarter on a pass from McIntosh to Clark Moore.

The Kappa defense held firm in the last half holding Sigma Chi scoreless, while the offense came up with two more TD's to salt the game away.

AGE 6, Delta 33
Phi Delta Theta went on a rampage against Alpha Gamma Rho scoring touchdowns in every quarter to win going away, 33-6.

Dick Shaw led the Phi Deltas by throwing for three touchdowns and scoring one himself.

Theta Xi 31, Delta Upsilon 6
Theta Xi rolled over Delta Upsilon 31-6 in a hard fought game as tempers flared. Anderson and Gribble led Theta Xi to the victory.

ARPE 12, Farmhouse 6
With Arnie Hoffman passing to Karl Schaefer and Mike Graf for touchdowns, Alpha Epsilon Pi won its second game by downing Farmhouse 12-6. Hoffman also tossed to Graf for one extra point.

The lone Farmhouse tally came in the second quarter on a 50-yard sleeper play from Jim Fox to Lyle Wadell.

SAE 18, Beta Theta Pi 6
Sigma Alpha Epsilon got off to an early 12-0 lead and went on to defeat Beta Theta Pi 18-6. Pete Glutz and Jack Werner tallied for SAE in the first period and Dean Stempel scored for the winners in the fourth stanza.

Theta Chi 12, Delta Sigma Phi 7
Al Dorris led Theta Chi to a 12-7 victory over Delta Sigma Phi by tossing one touchdown aerial, tallying once himself, and passing for the extra point.

Dorris passed to Dale Post to give Chi a 6-0 first period lead. Early in the third stanza Dorris ripped off a touchdown run and then passed to Bill Foust for the extra point.

Bill Hohean passed to Tom Steel as the Phi Sigs fought back in the third period to score. Tom Townsend scored the extra point but they couldn't catch Theta Chi in a scoreless fourth period.

West Shaw 3 countered almost immediately with a touchdown scored by Arnie Ruttman via a pass from Tom Flynn. This same combination accounted for the game winning extra point. Jerry Garrett scored for West Shaw 1 on a pass from Sam Deleew putting them ahead 12-7. The winning touchdown was scored midway in the fourth quarter on a pass from Flynn to Ruttman for West Shaw 3.

Delta Tau Delta 24, Lambda Chi 6

Scoring almost at will, Delta Tau Delta romped to an overwhelming 24-6 win over Lambda Chi. Flashy Al Budner was the mainstay in the wild fray as he passed for two of the touchdowns, and sprinted 1 and 11 yards respectively for scores.

Eager Beavers 6, Fall Beavers 2

A three yard sprint by Keith Davey for a touchdown, was all that was needed for the Eager Beavers 6-2 victory over the Fall Beavers. Bill Raynard caught Keith Davey in the end zone for the only other Fall Beavers score.

ZBT 0, Delta Sigma Pi 0

Not even a sudden death overtime could break the scoreless tie between ZBT and Delta Sigma Pi. The contest was solely a defensive fray with neither team posing much of a scoring threat. The tenseness was at a high peak as a player from each squad was ejected from the game for unnecessary roughness.

High of 45 Cold Weather Predicted for Weekend

Clear, crisp weather, in addition light variable winds and high today of 65 degrees will provide pleasant, if slightly cold company for Nigerians traveling to the Buckeye state for the game.

Tomorrow night, the rest of the student body will be shivering when the mercury registers 22 degrees. During the day, it will be fair and warmer, with a high of 56 degrees.

Flags at Half Staff To Cite Unknown Political Captives

In commemoration of all unknown political prisoners behind the Iron Curtain, flags on campus will be flown at half staff Saturday.

A resolution from Student Congress, sparked by an address to the organization by Jan Vondraček, a student who said he spent three months behind the Iron Curtain as a political prisoner, inspired the plan.
