USICAL GROUPS TO GIVE CONCERT THURSDAY NITE

Spartan Band and Both Glee Clubs
Co-operate in Presenting Program.

AN 2,000 DUCAT SALES to Establish Permanent Fund for Band in Making Out-of-Town Trips.

Michigan State College Musician, with both the Spartan Band and the men and women's clubs co-operating, will be in place Thursday evening in Prudden auditorium, performed by college authorities and friends of Lansing business approximately 2,000 tickets in Lansing and East Lansing houses, while students and groups on the campus are invited to the theater. It is noted that last 900 of the student body will go to support the move that is as both a worthwhile concert and payment of debt to Lansing musical leaders who sent the M. S. C. band to Washington, D. C., for Georgetown football game last fall. Approximately $2,000 was contributed last year to send the band on what turned out to be the largest cruise ever taken from this campus. A band student accompanied the band and football team to the Capitol City, the aggregation was received with audience and at the present time college band lacked the funds to make the trip. Action of the Lansing band, in particular by Louis and Bruce Anderson, to make possible what was highly acclaimed by campus. Thursday's concert is for purpose of repaying a part of this is also hoped that enough extra be realized to make possible the establishment of a permanent fund which will enable the band to make at one foreign trip every year. With famous Crowley planning an tour of West Point next fall to go with the Army gridiron, the band is already looking forward to accompanying them.

The department officials emphasize today the fact that the Michigan State band has never found it necessary to ask the student body for financial aid although that is a practice and tradition at many mid-western

ENGINEER SHOW DRAWS VISITORS

Features Attract Large Crowds to Exhibition in Olds Hall.

Engineer show, which was on all of last week in Olds Hall, is marked by a number of rather fine and interesting displays and well attended by crowds of farmers who were here on the campus for several days.

What the most unique feature of show was a machine called "The Jester's Wife." The apparatus was demonstrated by W. H. Bush of electrical engineering department, which varied whistling tones which transmitted to it by telephone. The status is able to turn electric light on or start and stop an electric car radio. Demonstrations are given every 15 minutes during the afternoon and the room was always well with spectators.

A talk of unusual interest was given last Monday before members of the East Lansing Women's Club in the women's parlor of the People's church when Prof. Lewis Richards of the Michigan State Institute of Music and Allied Arts spoke on "The Lace Manufacturing Industry of Belgium During the World War."

Mr. Richards, who happened to be in Belgium in 1914 at the outbreak of the war, was a member of one of the commissions formed to aid stranded Americans. In November of the same year he was appointed a member of Herbert Hoover's commission for relief work of the Belgians. The commission took over the lace making industry of Belgium. Mr. Richards' particular problem was to find employment for the thousands of people who were without work at that time. Some fifty thousand lace workers were idle after the war broke out.

Mr. Richards conceived the idea of getting the Belgians help themselves and in Germany allowed lines of lace to be brought into the country the lace which proved to be the solution of the great problem. Tons and tons of lace were made and were first stored in Holland and then placed in markets at The Hague in London, and Paris.

After America entered the war, Mr. Richards was sent to London where he was made the assistant director of Foreign Relief work. For every ton of

DRAMA CONTEST ATTRACTS 1,600

Weberville Takes First Place in Competition of Rural Thespians.

PAY TRIBUTE TO KINGS

Mildred O'Dell Awarded Prize as Best Individual Actor
by T. P. A.

Weberville won first place in a closely contested rural drama competition held here Friday afternoon, February 6, over Potterville and Waukauka who ranked in the order named to judge the closing moments of the Farmers' Week program. The best individual actor adjudged to be Mildred O'Dell, member of the winning cast, who was awarded a $5.00 prize. The contest was staged before a packed house of over 1,600 spectators and many more were turned away before the program started.

The three contestants were given silver loving cups of various sizes which will be permanent trophies of the community winning them. The $5.00 was offered by Theta Alpha Pi national dramatics honorary.

Judges were B. O. Hagermann, cultural agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad; John Cook, of the editorial staff of the Michigan Farmer, and Howard Sweet, manager of the State theater. The plays were staged under the direction of Prof. and Mrs. E. S. King, veterans in college dramatic circles for the last quarter century.

The program opened at 1:30 p. m. with an organ recital by Wilson Reiter and a dedication of the event by Mrs. Dora Stockman, member of the State Board of Agriculture. Rev. Carl Keeler Potterville gave a short speech after the students on the subject "Dramatics in Relation to the Community" in which he paid tribute to Mr. and Mrs. King for their assistance to these projects.

Butterfield Theaters, Inc. donated the use of the theater for the affair. The lobby, foyer and aisles were jammed throughout the performance.

Is Scheduled To Lecture Tonight

Maurice Hindus

MAURICE HINDUS, NOTED EXPERT ON RUSSIAN SITUATION, COMES TO LECTURE TONIGHT AT CHURCH

Author, Lecturer, and Publicist With World-wide Reputation Speaks at 8:30 on a "World That Never Was"; Has Had Actual Experience in Life of Peasant.

DELIVERING THE FOURTH LECTURE on the Liberal Arts course, Maurice Hindus, famed author, lecturer, and publicist, will speak at the Peoples church, at 8:30 this evening. Hindus, who is now on a lecture tour of the United States, will speak on this subject, for after years of travel and study he has become well acquainted with conditions in Russia and the Orient, and is now one of the greatest authorities on Russia in the country.

Hindus began life as a peasant boy on a small farm in Russia. For 14 years he lived the life of an average Russian peasant lad. At 14, Hindus emigrated to America and began life anew as a farm hand on a New York farm. After several years of schooling at primary schools in New York, he went to Colgate university, where he worked his way through school. After graduation he continued his education at Harvard graduate school and took his master's degree there.

Hindus began to travel about the world immediately after he received his degree. He was drawn to Russia where he investigated conditions with a great deal of interest and later wrote his first book, "Broken Earth," which vividly depicts the conditions in Russia and dwells especially on the state of the Russian peasant. Soon after the publication of his first book came another, "The Russian Peasant and the Revolution." This book even more than his first depicts the deplorable condition of the peasants.

Following these two books came a series of articles in American magazines. Hindus' articles were published in "Century," "Yale Review," "Current History," "Asia and Far East," "Review of Books," etc. He has now published his third book, "Humanity Unbound," which is reported to be the best of his works and one of the most detailed and complete studies of Russia ever to be printed.

Hindus' fame as a lecturer is widespread. He has been praised by great intellectuals throughout the world. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, and H. G. Wells, the famous English novelist, praised Hindus highly and called him one of the greatest minds of the present generation. As a lecturer, Frank stated that Hindus is not excelled by anyone on the platform at the present time.

Hindus' speeches are characterized by a fluency that makes them interesting and entertaining. They are witty and lucid and impassioned but above all they are fascinating.

PLANS FAIL FOR SWARTZ CREEK

Peaches' Rinehart, Former Leader, Declines Manager's Job
For Band.

Possibilities for the reorganization of Swartz Creek band received a severe setback yesterday through an announcement made last night by A. Rinehart, former manager of the popular campus town band.

Rinehart stated that he did not care to take the responsibility of managing the band. He would automatically lose his position in the military band and those who played with him could not hold their places on the larger band. The use of college instruments is limited to the military unit.

The former leader felt that the necessity for their own band was not sufficient to warrant the trouble that would be incurred in attempting to build up the band. Its greatest value was during the football and basket ball seasons and such events as Farming Week. These are all past for the rest of this school year.

Rinehart's statement came as a result of the action taken by the Student Council at their last regular meeting in which they suggested that Rinehart appear at the next meeting and discuss the possibility of reorganization. One member of the council stated today that he did not believe further action was contemplated by them and that the matter would be dropped for at least the balance of this year.

Michigan State college has had the distinction of acquiring the only professional bacteriological honorary fraternity. It was brought about recently when the faculty approved and officially recognized Sigma Alpha Beta at a meeting Friday Jan. 30.

Organized with a membership of 18 undergraduate, graduate, and faculty men, the fraternal organization held its second meeting yesterday, Feb. 9. Officers elected were Frazee Edwards, president; Jack Etchells, treasurer, and Herb Reed, secretary, who are all undergraduate students. Other undergraduate members are George Robinson, Hans Winfield-Hansen, and Fred Ladd. Graduate members are C. Bryan, F. A. Ogle, Richard Knudson, H. J. Newell, J. W. Becker, and J. C. Cochran. Faculty members are Dean Ward Guttenberg, Dr. F. W. Fabian, Prof. W. L. Mallmann, Dr. H. J. Stassen, Dr. E. D. Devereaux, and Dr. J. F. Huddleston.

Definite plans have already been formulated to extend the organization to academic circles in other colleges within the next year. The society will initiate next term, for which it will have a "rangout." This traditional custom used by other campus honoraries will be permanently adopted. Other plans announced in the meeting were the purchasing of a page for a photograph in the 1931 Wolverine, and the ordering of an official key, the pattern of which has been approved.

The placement test, as authorized by the American Medical Association for those expecting to apply for admission to medical schools next fall will be given February 13 at 3 p. m. in the Entomology lecture room by Prof. Ray Huston of the Entomology department. Those interested will please communicate with professor Huston before that time.

From one unit of 34,000 acres established 27 years ago, Michigan's system of state forests has grown until today it comprises 12 forests having from 23,000 to 255,000 acres each and having an aggregate acreage of 255,000 owned by the state.

The greatest growth in the state forest acreage has come within the past two years when 302,697 acres were added to the 372,304 acres that had formerly been administered. No new units were added but the additional more than a quarter million acres were made up of private lands purchased within forest boundaries, gifts of private land elsewhere for land within the forests and land in the forest.

The smallest unit of the forest is the Alpena State forest in Alpena county. It spreads over 23,762 acres of which 14,749 are owned by the state. Plantations to date total 3,780 in this forest.

The largest unit in the upper peninsula is the Lake Superior Forest in Chippewa and Luce counties and running 36 miles along the south shore of Lake Superior.

J-Hop guests who did not receive favors and programs before the formal last Friday night or who wish to buy extra ones are asked to leave their name, address, and ticket number at the Union desk immediately.

It was announced today by Frank Conover, J-Hop class president, that extra favors will cost $2.00 apiece. No extra programs can be obtained other than those already owned patrons who were deprived of them by a last minute shortage.

OUR FIFTH ESTATE

There often come times when college authorities and students leaders are, by force of circumstances, unable to put over projects that would be of great benefit to the school. Whether by reason of lack or proper authority or by administrative policy, these groups are often obliged to accord only passive aid to worth-while plans. In times like that, the presence of an unofficial group, who can evade red-tape, and who can disregard cautious policies, is a distinct advantage to all concerned.

This college has more than once found itself in that situation. And what is most encouraging, it has always found waiting a small group of friends ready to take up at the point beyond which the administration can not go.

We refer in particular to those Lansing business men who so loyally and earnestly fought State's battles for her, that they have almost become a part of the college personnel.

We have found them distinctly to our advantage in the past. With a prosperous future ahead of State, we will certainly find them more necessary in the days to come.

Thursday night, when the Spartan band and glee clubs present a concert of thanks to their Lansing friends in payment for their generosity in sending the band to Washington last fall, the students of Michigan State should feel it their duty to be present and lend undergraduate support to the gesture of reimbursement.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS

STATE THINCLADS WIN A. A. U. HONORS

Four Members of Michigan State Track Teams Place at Detroit.

By JOHN TATE, JR.

The swallow-tailed coat is according to Kenny Carlyle the last thing in formal dress. He and gavnor [Brucker] were the only ones at the J-Hop to wear them. If his taste in dress is anything like his taste in music, as evidenced by his orchestra, then both he and his accompanie were out of step.

It might have been a mere coincidence, but the Phi Delta delegation was very much in the front of things in the grand march at the hop. Well, a fraternity ought to excel at something.

They say it's not unusual for a man to go gaga in the late hours of the hop, although it would seem more logical at the Varsity party and hang his pin. To be colloquial. But to bethroth oneself over the phone seems more of modernism romance. While preparing for the gala event Friday afternoon in the style dictated by hazing tradition a senior at one of the locals felt fermenting within him other things the divine urge. Just to be polite.

To be the soul of wit was not him, he thereupon broke all bus records at Abbott Hall, discoursing for two hours with an impatience there, and upon hanging the receiver passed the cigar, which, for some reason or other, is the customary penalty in a fraternity house.

Short Story
A sophomore of the type that made Bernier famous, hoping that his fast departing brown hair might like the place a little better if it received some attention fell for the barber racket and let one sell him some alleged restorer. The same day he attended a swimming class, which was just one of his peculiarities. That night he most beloved hair like the offspring that goes to the dogs turned a fiery red. There have the elements of a good story beginning, middle, and the smashing climax. Anyway, it's smashing his social rating.

A police order of recent origin requires that the paint on street lights in front of sorority and fraternity houses be removed. They do not realize that although sun light is beneficial, artificial light is hard on the eyes. And that's all. The ships that pass in the night, etc., etc.

We hear that the sun-tan backs that appeared at the J-Hop would cause a sensation on a bathing beach.

The varsity party lived down to expectations. No one seems to remember much about it which after all is the average state the morning after. The one unfortunate thing about it is that it came too late to make the Wickersham report.

They sent a bonus telegram to one of the long-term men at the G. D. I. shack telling him that the wretched back home would arrive unexpectedly on the 14th. After a shave, shave shower and shampoo he rushed the station and waited two hours. Not even the train came in. And finally he departed for home in a captions masterpiece. We morale like the Wickersham report.

The faculty club has a dance every Monday night. Tuesday is a tough day for classes. The errors of the profs shall be visited on the students even until the third and fourth class.

Definition
A tie is a smoothie who likes his humor but goes with an Alpha Phi. (All other fraternities have the first weak ness in common.)

YEARLING CAGERS LOSE COURT TILT

State Freshmen Are Defeated In Western State Game Last Saturday.

Coach Ry Brodin's yearling cagers quintet suffered a reverse Saturday night when they bowed to the strong Western State freshman cagers at Kalamazoo in the Teachers gym. The Spartans were outclassed the entire route of the game, the score at the half being 20 to 7 against them while the final score read 40 to 25. States offense seemed slow in getting started as the Celery City team had piled up a substantial lead before Coach Brodin's men were under way.

Leiphine and Hanna, Western forwards, were the outstanding offensive stars of the game, collecting 16 and 13 points respectively.

Bishop was the Spartan yearling luminary collecting ten of his team's 26 points. Newberg and Keast also turned in creditable performances. VanderRoest, lanky State center, failed to garner a dener but showed good form by keeping Perigo Indiana all-state high school center of last year in check.

Coach Brodin's starting lineup consisted of Bishop and Patchett at the forwards. VanderRoest at the pivot post, and Keast and Riordan at the guard positions.

GRADUATE DIVISION SURPASSES RECORD

The enrollment of the graduate school for the winter term is 175. This mark is only three behind that of the fall term, which was the highest ever recorded in the history of the graduate school here. The record attendances this term bring the total number of individuals attending the graduate school this year to considerably over two hundred. In the enrollment of the last summer school is included in this tabulation, the total number of unregistered names come to approximately 300.

"Saturday's Children," second Civic Players Guild production of the season is scheduled to be produced March 11 and 12 in the Peoples church. Levan Horton, Michigan State News editor in 1927, is directing the production.

Miss Katherine Winkler of the Michigan State college art department will have charge of staging the presentation. An advance class in color and design will design the set under her direction.

Miss Elsa Richards will be in charge of properties and Miss Norma Schmidt will handle costuming. The play will be staged in the space above manner with screens after the fashion of the Gordon Craig design.

More than 30 agricultural organizations met during the week. Meetings by experts in the special fields represented by the societies and discussions lead by members of the groups featured the meetings.

The foreman's section attracted a record number of farm women. Morning meetings were devoted to technical discussions of the latest developments in household methods and equipment, while entertainment feature were provided for the afternoon.

Delta Alpha Phi gave a representation of "Archie We Are" in a packed house. Wednesday afternoon.

An unusual feature of this year's program was the appearance of several practical farmers on the speakers' platform at one of the general meetings and at many of the smaller meetings.

Elaborate J-Hop and Varsity Party Prove Sensational Successes in Most Brilliant Week-end of Year

Sesame Holds Formal Dinner Dance at Hotel Olds Saturday Evening; Alpha Gamma Delta Gives Formal Initiation; Many Fraternities Sponsor Special Dinners.

WITH SENSATIONAL SUCCESS the most brilliant week-end of the school social calendar took place Friday and Saturday evenings in the form of the J-Hop and the Varsity party. With greater attendance than ever before, immensely popular orchestras, and elaborate decorations and lighting, both affairs were signal events in the party program. Green satin and silver metallic cloth disguised the walls and orchestral stage while lighting features brought out shimmering silver tones in the decorations. Fred Dwyer's Vagabonds were especially well received at the J-Hop. His Cadets merited the generous appreciation accorded them.

The Grand March at the Hop was led by Frank Conoyer, president of the junior class, and his guest Miss Albertine Hayland. This feature took place shortly before the luncheon lunch, at about 11:30 o'clock. Mrs. Hayland wore a charming flesh robe de chine dress with shoes to match. Mrs. Wilber M. Brucker was gowned in a light blue satin.

The green eraser leather writing portfolios, embossed with J-Hop insignia, were very popular favors. Green paper programs conformed in tone and lettering.

Coach and Mrs. James H. Crowley, Captain and Mrs. S. G. Blanton, and Mr. and Mrs. James B. Hasselman were patrons of the Junior Hop. Among the guests invited were Gov. and Mrs. Elmer M. Brucker, Pres. and Mrs. Robert S. Shaw, Dean Elisabeth Conrad, Mrs. Zoa Fullér, Dr. Marie Dye, Mr. and Mrs. E. Prophet, Mr. Linda Landen and Miss Mildred Davis. Alumni returnees for the occasion were Irene Roth, Georgia Lightfoot, Katherine Hallcock and Mary Ford.

Toasts and decorations for the initiation banquet of Alpha Gamma Delta on Saturday evening followed the theme of the butterfly and its development. Toasts were given by Emily Butterfield, Elsie Billiard, Mary Floutert, Jean Gleason, and Normie Givens. Helma Strong acted as hostess.

New initiates present were Helen Paddock, Marian Paddock, Jane Benoit, Gertrude Findley, Margaret Foster, Virginia Holm, Alice Ulrich, Helen Marie Cooper, Muriel Bradway, Lois Woodland, Dorothy Schmitz, Nina Plaza, Ramona Gross, Normie Gleason, Marian Davison, and Elmer Ritter. Guests in attendance were Mrs. Robert S. Shaw, Katherine Merrinfield, Arthur Richardson, Ruby Newman, Evelyn Crampton, Bernice Haase, Ruth Edged, Lorraine Johnson, Dorothy Jansen, Cora Guster, Lois Panchell, Janet Barlow, Emily Butterfield, and Dorothy House.

Formal initiation took place Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. Helen C. Monroe was a guest at the luncheon. Coach and Mrs. James H. Crowley, Captain and Mrs. S. G. Blanton, and Mr. and Mrs. James B. Hasselman were patrons of the J-Hop. The Paul Whitehead protege unit proved to be popular. The number in attendance exceeded that of the Junior Hop. Patrons were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lee, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Young, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilber M. Brucker, and Mrs. P. S. Shaw. See and Mrs. H. H. Halladay, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Watkins, and Dean Elisabeth Conrad.

Carl Dienberger's orchestra replaced the scheduled Bengt's for the Varsity party on account of a Cleveland engagement of the latter. As usual decorations and lighting remained the same as the J-Hop. The Paul Whitehead protege unit proved to be popular. The number in attendance exceeded that of the Junior Hop. Patrons were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lee, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Young, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilber M. Brucker, and Mrs. P. S. Shaw. See and Mrs. H. H. Halladay, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Watkins, and Dean Elisabeth Conrad.

Many fraternities held special dinners for J-Hop attendees and their guests. Phi Delta Society, with Captain and Mrs. S. G. Blanton as faculty guests, Phleum and Phi Kappa Tau combined with Prof. and Mrs. J. M. Shantz, Elective Mr. and Mrs. George Julian, and Mr. and Mrs. James H. Crowley—Ac-Thon, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Foyeather, P. Kappa Phi at Hunt's Food shop, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Robinson and Fred Jewell, Mr. Helen Monroe, brother of Alpha Gamma Delta, and Delta Sigma Phi, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. Burke, Robert Haas, and Charles Pierce, and Hebertians composed the list of fraternities entertaining at dinner previous to the J-Hop.

Alumni who were guests of Phi Delta Theta fraternity for the weekend were Ed Beulios, Charles Hayes, Leo Sherman, George Adams, Chas. Pfleider, and Prof. M. H. Herk.

Kappa Alpha Theta society will entertain Leis Arnold on Tuesday evening.

On Saturday evening, Valentine's Day, the young women in Gwendolyn Lane, No. Alpha, said the young Frank Lane, So, ready to lead, Think now, Unless—such a filled Nose.

Unless you get me one of Those— Those which?—such like Well, one that Grows So pretty at the Ink Pot.

STATE MEETS DETROIT U. TONIGHT

BASKETEERS RUN OVER ALMA 42-20; VAN ALSTYNE GIVES SUBSTITUTES CHANCE TO PLAY

Titans Show Improvement in Recent Games and Chalk Up Six Consecutive Victories; Presbyterians Prove Easy for Regulars, But Outplay Reserves

ACH LLOYD BRAZIL'S UNIVERSITY OF DETROIT TITANS will furnish opposition for the Spartan cage team tonight in Demonstration hall in what will be the last court tilt before the curtain is rung down on the home schedule Friday night with Loyola University of Chicago. The Detroit eagles got off to a slow start this season but they have shown improvement after a few early reverses and may upset dole tonight when they meet Coach Ben F. Van Alstyne's quintet.

The Titans had extreme difficulty in downing Assumption star of the encounter collecting 13 points of his team's total. Spartans Win in Past

The Spartans had little trouble in downing Alma college Friday night by a score of 42 to 20 on State's floor. Brown, the Presbyterian, left forward, sunk the first deuce of the game to give his team a two point lead that was soon swallowed up by Spartan scoring. Alma was unable to garner another field goal during the entire first half but had to be content with three charity tosses while State rang up 25 tallies at will. Roger Grove accounted for 12 of his team's points by locating the basket for five deuces and two tosses from the foul line. Randy Boeskool showed about his best form of the season and collected a brace of three baskets in the initial period. Ed Wayne Scott crashed through with four baskets.

The Presbyterians seemed unable to fathom the attack of Coach Van Alstyne's men and frequently found themselves buffeted as the Spartans slipped in to cash in on easy dog shots. Some of the easiest ones the State eagles failed to garner. Their dog game in the first half was almost beyond reproach.

Reserves See Action

After the rest period the Spartan court mentor sent in his reserve team to carry on while the regulars reposed on the bench. Glatner, reserve forward, was the first to sink a basket in the second half and boosted the score to 27 to 5 in favor of State. McGaugh, Spartan reserve pivot man, then mystified or hypnotized the Alma quintet with much elaborate movement of the arms and dropped an easy dog shot through the hoop while the visitors formed his audience. Coach Van Alstyne's reserves were estimates by the Presbyterians; however, and the score stood 42 to 14 when he sent his regulars back in to stop Alma's second wind.

Scott raced through the Rest and White and team for a basket and the Spartans took up their work of scoring which they had left in the first half. At the final gun sounded the score board read 42 to 20 in State's favor.

The Spartan regular lineup will start tonight in the game with the Titans. Grove and Dee Pinner, at the pivot, Randy Boeskool at the center, Art Haga and Wayne Scott at the guards. This will be the last game before the co-captains of State's court quintet sing their swan song for the home season with Loyola next Friday night.

and Yale agrees

LOOK UP at the windows of Harkness to find out what the Yale man smokes. In the spring time you'll see him sitting in his window seat with a pipeful of Edgeworth between his teeth.

On Chapel Street... out at the Bowl... everywhere the Yale man goes, his pipe and Edgeworth go with him. And at 42 out of 54 of the leading colleges and universities Edgeworth is the favorite tobacco.

A tobacco must be good to win the vote of so many discriminating smokers. And Edgeworth is good. To convince yourself try Edgeworth. You can get it wherever tobacco is sold... 15¢ a tin. Or, for a generous free sample, write to Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 2nd St., Richmond, Virginia.

Pit Strength, Against Detroit Five

Coach Ben F. Van Alstyne and his five Spartan eagles pictured above will pit their ability and cunning against the University of Detroit quintet here Tuesday evening and against Loyola of Chicago Friday in their last two home games of the season. The three co-captains shown in the top row, appropriately termed the "three aces," will make their last appearance in basketball uniforms before a home crowd this week. Boeskool and Pinneo are valuable junior members of the State court team.

SPARTAN SPORT SHOTS

BY HARRIS COATES

ROGER GROVE slipped farther ahead of Art Haga in the race for the leadership in individual scoring by chalking up 12 more points than his nearest rival in the Alma game last week. The Sturgis forward has fastened his total to 112 while the blonde Muskegon giant had 93 points to his credit.

Ed Wayne Scott, co-captain with Grove and Haga, climbed into a tie for fourth place in the meet with Randy Boeskool. Although the elongated center has more field goals to his credit each player has accumulated 53 points to his credit.

There were three tales secured during the meet two of them by Michigan State men. The fastest fall of the afternoon was turned in for the last bout on the program Klein, Ohio heavyweight, caught Martinkewitz beneath, napped and pinned him before he realized what had happened.

Kruger, Spartan 126 pounder, brought his man to the mat with a lot of force in the second bout of the afternoon and Ohio opponent had his arm broken from the impact.

Marty Holcomb gained a notch on Alton Kuehner in the private scoring among substitutes and Jerry McGaugh, another reserve, increased his total.
