State Board Name Change Gets Approval

The change of the name of the state board Monday to the Michigan State University Board of Trustees marks the third time the title has been changed in the 104 year history of the university.

The original name was the Board of Education. The second title was the Board of Agriculture, and with Monday's election the present title was obtained.

The vote for approval of the name change proposal was 560-163 and 267,720 against, with 4,907 precincts reporting.

The Michigan State Board of Trustees is composed of 10 members, two of whom were elected Monday night.

The two elected members were Democrat Warren Huff and Republican Frank Merriman. They defeated Democrat Earl Bjornseth and Republican Arthur Rouse for the two positions.

Rouse was an incumbent candidate for the board. The other position was left vacant when Clark Brody retired.

The voting for the two posts with 5,019 precincts reporting was Merriman 593,394, Huff 586,011, Bjornseth, 557,275, and Rouse 552,189.

Democrats control five of the 10 elective seats on the board. Other members beside the two elected Monday are C. Allen Harlan, Conner Smith, Don Stevens and Jan Vanderploeg.

The four non-elective offices are Lynn Bartlett, John A. Hannah, Karl McDonel and Philip May.

Dudley II Up to Monkey Business

Banana-Eating Mascot 'Initiated' Into Phi Psi House

There's always a lot of monkey business in Greek life on the MSU campus, especially at the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity house.

Departing from the usual traditions of having such animals as dogs for fraternity mascots, the Phi Psi's have adopted a rare species of monkey for a house pet.

Known as Dudley II to the brothers, the monkey has been a resident of the Phi Psi house since the final three weeks of winter term. Dudley II named after the fraternity's national secretary, is a Red-Faced Ukarl, one of the few species in captivity in the United States today.

He is housed in a special pen built in the basement, near the furnace because he must live in 60 degree weather or warmer in order to survive.

The idea of a monkey for a house mascot was initiated when one of the brothers received from an animal farm in Florida.

Dudley II, however, isn't the first monkey to be adopted by the Phi Psi's. Early winter ham, trumpeter; and leader of the group, Chuck Lewis, bass.

Thursday's meeting of the Jazz Society will include this group presenting the program that they will do at Notre Dame.

Saturday, competition will run from 1-6 p.m. at Notre Dame, followed by the top six groups competing at 8 p.m. Cash prizes will be awarded, with the winning group receiving an engagement at Chicago's Blue Note.

The judges are Art Van Damme, jazz personality; Frank Holzfeld, owner of the Blue Note; Robert Trendler, music director of radio station WGN in Chicago; and Charles Suber, publisher of Downbeat, underwriters for the festival.

President of Jazz Society, Arnie Roberts, had this to say: "Since Student Congress didn't feel that sending a group to Notre Dame to represent MSU among the other Midwest schools was worthy of $50 traveling expenses, the boys are digging in to their own pockets to finance their appearance."

"Since the group itself is showing tremendous interest in the festival, and they have an excellent chance of winning, I am encouraging students to go down to Notre Dame and back then up."

For further information on accommodations, route directions, getting tickets ($1.50), or on rides, contact Arnie Roberts at IV 9-5336.

Say Hoffa Got Paid For Help

In Controversy Over Jukeboxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate investigator said Tuesday Teamsters Union President James Hoffa shared a $6,000 payoff for helping one side in a tug-of-war between rival jukebox operators in Detroit.

This charge was made by counsel Robert Kennedy of the Senate Rackets Committee at the opening session of hearings on alleged mobster infiltration of the jukebox industry in Detroit, Hoffa's home town.

One witness testified that Hoffa was believed to be backed by the underworld had taken over about one-fourth of Detroit's 4,000 jukebox locations—generally the more profitable ones.

There also was testimony by a former jukebox union member that Hoffa once tried without success to have him pay $5,000 to a prosecutor to fix a false extortion charge.

Kennedy said the $6,000 was paid in the late 1940's as salaries to the wives of Hoffa and Bert Brennan, one of Hoffa's top aides in Detroit.

The counsel described this as a payoff from one union, allegedly backed by an association of Detroit jukebox operators for Hoffa's rejection of applications for a Teamster charter sought by a rival group of jukebox men.

When Hoffa was questioned by the committee two years ago, Kennedy said, he described the $6,000 as overpayment of a loan of either $2,000 or $2,500 to Eugene (Jimmy) James, James then was head of Local 23814 of the Music Maintenance Workers Union (AMU), a unit no longer in existence.

Kennedy made his charge after victory by Schuyler, a former Detroit jukebox operator, affirmed testimony he gave a Detroit grand jury in 1948. That testimony was to the effect that James had described the payments to Mrs. Hoffa and Mrs. Brennan as needed to meet obligations James owed their husbands.

As the story unfolded in testimony, the Michigan Automobile Phonograph Owners Assn. had created and financed Local 23814 in a non-toe successful effort to fend off raids on members' business by allegedly gangster rival operators.

The rivals wanted a union of their own. Witnesses had testified that unions were used as a sort of enforcement arm to discourage raids on the business of members.

'Death From the Bomb Or Boredom'—Fromm

By NELDA TROUT State News Night Editor

"Either we will die from the bomb or decay from boredom," stated social scientist Erich Fromm Tuesday night as he painted the future for "The Individual in Modern Industrial Society."

Fromm spoke at a Labor and Industrial Relations Center program, an overflow crowd in Kelllogg Center Auditorium.

ERICH FROMM ... "Man is a thing" ...

If we escape death from the bomb, continued Fromm, then our end will come about through vitality going out of our lives.

"Man has become a thing," he said. He quoted Emerson as saying, "Things ride mankind" and warned, "We must put the total, real man in the saddle. Unless we change we will be as the society Huxley describes in his 'Brave New World'."

Equality today has come to mean "sameness," he said. People are allowed to privately disagree because they do not have their opinions to be alone, he said, labeling this concept "social logophobia."

The fact is that we have no aim in industry today," Fromm stated. "The result of producing machines to act like men is that more and more men are acting like machines," he said. "We feel very little."

People feel that obtaining an education means to "get information intellectually" whereas the real meaning of education is to be open to ideas and new experiences," he said.

Essentially people are restless and cover up their publicly depressive moods with today's entertainments, according to Fromm. "If people were left alone for three days with no TV, we would have 100,000 breakdowns," he concluded.

Society is suffering from idolatry, Fromm said. He defined this as "man worshipping the product of his own hand. He can keep in touch with the self only by bowing to this idol. Our own product, the bomb, is this idol hanging over us which controls us," he said.

"Our opinions could not be more standardized than they are," he said. The reason "Westerners are so popular now is that people are nostalgic for that lost era typified by freedom and non-conformity," he added.

Man can save himself. The first condition is that he become aware of himself by stepping out of the illusion he is in and face and react to reality."

Fromm warned that the individual must stop using "double talk" or speaking knowingly about concepts in which he has no real belief. He suggested that man use imagination and faith (conviction in personal experience) to save himself in industrial society.

For 'Easy' Position of Presidency

Erhard Seen As Successor

BOON (AP)—Under the weight of his 83 years Konrad Adenauer decided Tuesday to give up the chancellorship of West Germany and accept an easier job, the presidency.

Ludwig Erhard, economics minister who has directed Germany's spectacular postwar recovery, is the likely choice of the Christian Democratic Party for Adenauer's successor. He is 62.

The chancellor is the main executive in Germany. Under the Bonn Constitution he determines the policy and bears the responsibility for it. The presidency is largely ceremonial, having powers about equivalent to those of Queen Elizabeth in Britain.

The decision of Adenauer, crafty and uncompromising leader of West Germany, through its entire 10-year history, means he will be giving up active politics.

But Adenauer will still be at the helm when crucial East-West meetings take place this spring and summer.

It seems a foregone conclusion that Adenauer will be chosen president in the July 1 election by Parliament. The incumbent president, Theodor Heuss, is retiring under a two-term rule.

In Washington, it was believed that Adenauer's less active role might have profound effects on policies of the Western powers, facing critical decisions in their relations with the Soviet Union.

Adenauer stood like a rock on the policies of alliance with the West, non-recognition of East Germany, no compromise with Russia unless Russia compromised.

British officials greeted the prospective change with satisfaction though with no public comment. In recent weeks there has been a rift in the personal relationship between Adenauer and British Prime Minister Macmillan, who believes the West must take a more flexible attitude in negotiations with Russia.

Adenauer kept strict silence on his step. He is to go to Italy today for a long vacation.

Republicans Score Three Times After 3 Shutouts, Drop 9 Posts

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan Republicans, shutout victims in three elections since 1955, scored three victories in Monday's spring election but dropped nine statewide races for education offices to Democrats. The Republicans took a trouncing in a statewide special election contest to fill a State House of Representatives vacancy in Detroit. Their two Supreme Court nominees were beaten in non-partisan voting. Both Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Lawrence Lindome, GOP state chairman, hailed the outcome as successful. Lindome said he received a congratulatory telegram from Vice President Nixon.

The other 11 statewide education posts, all part-time, unsalaried offices, involve service on four state boards which set policies for colleges and universities. Democrats took eight, Republicans three.

The House will be divided, 55 to 55, as the result of a Republican victory in a normally Democratic Detroit district and a Republican triumph in a second House special election contest outside.

Leading Baritone

Warren Presents Varied Program

Leonard Warren, baritone star of the Metropolitan Opera will sing in the Aud Thursday evening at 8:15. Warren is one of the most famous of the contemporary singers and probably the world's greatest baritone.

His renditions this Thursday evening will range from "Othello" by Verdi, to such light numbers as "Colorado Trail" and "Flow the Man Down." Warren is appearing under the sponsorship of the Lecture-Concert Series.

Warren was born in New York City. He arrived at the Metropolitan Opera through the Metropolitan Auditions of the A.T. Following the auditions, he went to Italy for six months of intensive study in Milan.

He made his debut in 1939 and within four seasons he became the Metropolitan's ranking baritone. His performance as "Rigoletto" was acknowledged as the world's finest.

He sang "Rigoletto" for the 100th time in his debut at Italy's La Scala opera house in Milan, and was the first non-Italian who sang the role there. He received an ovation from the public and critics.

He has also starred in Buenos Aires Teatro Colon and in Rio de Janeiro's Teatro Municipal. In addition he has appeared with the Mexico City Opera and the San Francisco Opera.

Last spring he received unprecedented acclaim from the Soviet Union during a cultural exchange tour there. This year he starred at the Met in the revival of Verdi's "Macbeth." He is scheduled to appear in "Parsifal," as Scarpia in "Tosca," and as "Rigoletto."

Presently, Mr. Warren is on a coast-to-coast tour which is being managed by Hurok Attractions, Inc.

Music lovers throughout America will remember him from his appearances in films, radio, television, and RCA Victor recordings.

THE TRUE AND TYPICAL CASE OF CHATSWORTH OSCEOLA
You all know, of course, that every engineering senior is receiving fabulous offers from dozens of corporations, but do you know just how fabulous those offers are? Do you have any idea how widely the corporations are competing? Let me offer you the true and typical case of Chatsworth Osceola, a true and typical senior.
Chatsworth, walking across the M.I.T. campus one day last week, was hailed by a man sitting in a yellow convertible studded with precious gem stones. "Hello," said the man. "I am Norwalk T. Sigalose of the Sigalose Bearing and Bushing Company. Do you like this car?"
"Yeah, hey," said Chatsworth.
"It's yours," said Sigalose.
"Thanks, hey," said Chatsworth.
"Do you like Philip Morris?" said Sigalose.
"Of course," said Chatsworth.
"Here is a pack," said Sigalose. "And a new pack will be delivered to you at twelve-minute intervals every day as long as you shall live."
"Thanks, hey," said Chatsworth.
"Does your wife like Philip Morris?" said Sigalose.
"She would," said Chatsworth, "but I'm not married."
"Do you want to be?" said Sigalose.
"What American boy doesn't?" said Chatsworth.
Sigalose pressed a button on the dashboard of his convertible and the trunk opened up and out came a noble maiden with golden hair, flawless features, a perfect disposition, and the appendix already removed. "This is Laurel Gedding, and Sigalose, I would you like to marry her?"
"Is her appendix out?" said Chatsworth.
"Yes," said Sigalose.
"Okay, hey," said Chatsworth.
"Congratulations," said Sigalose. "And for the happy bride, a pack of Philip Morris every twelve minutes for the rest of her life."
"Thanks, hey," said Laurel.
"Now then," said Sigalose to Chatsworth, "let's get down to business. My company will start you at $45,000 a year. You will retire at full salary upon reaching the age of 26. When you start work, we will give you a three-story house made of burlin, complete with a French Provincial swimming pool. We will provide after service for all your children until they are safely through puberty. We will keep your teeth in good repair, and also the teeth of your wife and children into the third generation. We will send your dentist a pack of Philip Morris every twelve minutes as long as he shall live. Now, son, I want you to think carefully about this offer. Meanwhile, here is ten thousand dollars in small, unmarked bills, which places you under no obligation whatsoever."
"It certainly seems like a fair offer," said Chatsworth. "But there is something you should know. I am not an engineer. In fact, I don't go to M.I.T. at all. I am a poetry major at Harvard. I just came over here on a hard walk."
"Oh," said Sigalose.
"I guess I don't get to keep the money and the convertible and Laurel now, do I?" said Chatsworth.
"Of course you do," said Sigalose. "And if you'd like the job, my offer still stands."

Japanese Matmen to Tackle State in Match Here Tonight

Spartan matmen have an opportunity tonight to meet Olympic caliber wrestlers when the Japanese national wrestling squad visits the IM Sports Arena at 8 for an exhibition match.

Carrying 10 national champions of Japan, the visitors have been on a goodwill tour of the U.S., ending at the NAAU championships at Oklahoma State next week. State is expected to send eight grapplers to the same tournament.

Japanese coach Ichiro Hatta boasts three wrestlers that are expected to win gold medals in the 1960 Olympics.

Jerry Jackard and Jim Ferguson, State seniors, are set to meet two of the visiting stars. Jackard goes against 147-pound Harumasa Shibata and Ferguson battles 160-pounder Kenji Kosure.

The other Olympic prospect, 114½-pound Jyo Umzawa, who is just 18 and still in high school, hasn't found an opponent here yet.

former team members to the team for the Japanese match. Two of the past members, Ken Mallow and Jim Simadino, are one-time NCAA champions. Also added were John Baum and Robert Gunner.

Not all members from the 1959 squad will take part in the exhibition, including Big 10 champions Tim Woodin and Norm Young.

Russian Rowers Decline Invitation

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Russia had declined an invitation to send its rowing crews to a regatta at Seattle, Wash., on Aug. 1, the vice president of the International Rowing Federation said Tuesday.

John Carlin said he had received word from the Russian government that its crews would not be able to participate because of a conflicting Soviet sports competition.

Wrestling has pushed judo into the background as the top sport in Japan. But the popularity has mushroomed since 1951 after a team from the United States toured Japan. It took an Olympic victory to boost the sport, though.

At the time of the Olympic win, just 500 students participated in the sport. By the end of the year over 5,000 were counted wrestling.

Admission price to see Japan's best is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Boston Celts Win To Lead in NBA

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Boston's hurricane offense blew down the Minneapolis Lakers Tuesday night, 123-110, and swept into a 3-0 lead in professional basketball's world series.

It left the high-velocity Celts needing only one more victory to regain the National Basketball Assn. title they surrendered a year ago to St. Louis. If they whip the Lakers in Minneapolis Thursday night, they become the first team in the NBA to score a four-game sweep of the title series.

Indianapolis Still Fight Site

NEW YORK (AP)—Despite rumors that another switch was under way, promoter Cheel Rhodes Jr. Tuesday night declared that Indianapolis will be the site of Floyd Patterson's May 1 defense of his world heavyweight boxing title against Brian London.

Rhodes said there are some differences over costs to the television network (NBC) which will beam the bout, but "that will be straightened out."

Rhodes said the network had asked him to take a $25,000 cut in the TV fee because of increased expenses involved in Monday's shift from Las Vegas to Indianapolis. The network is paying $225,000 for the TV rights.

In Major Leagues You Need a Program To Tell '59 Players

NEW YORK (AP)—The big leagues are switching the script for this year's openers. The clubs will be in the same cities but the players will be in new towns.

Only about two-thirds of last year's starters will be manning the same battle stations when the baseball season gets under way with two special openers Thursday and a seven-game schedule on Friday.

That doesn't mean that a third of the players are expected to stay home and watch the market. Most of them merely shifted uniforms during the off season trading spree.

The closest thing to stand pat in lineup will be offered by the New York Yankees and the Chicago White Sox who did no swapping. Considering Casey Stengel's fair two-way men and nine-way batting orders there is no guarantee the same Yankee faces will be on display.

The main change in the White Sox will be a new left fielder, rookie Johnny Gillman.

Speedway Race Canceled On Modern Daytona Track

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Daytona International Speedway is just too fast for today's race cars and drivers, officials of the track said Tuesday.

They canceled a 300-mile race for speedway-type cars scheduled for July 4 and replaced it with a stock car racing program.

Speedway officials said they made the decision after a careful evaluation of Saturday's race in which Jim Rathmann of Miami drove 100 miles at an average of 170.262 miles an hour—a world record for a closed course speedway.

George Amick of Rhineland, Wis., fastest qualifier for the race, was killed when his car somersaulted on the last lap around the 2 1/2-mile high banked asphalt track.

Speedway officials said the extremely high speed prompted them to conclude that the engineering and driver know-how is not ready for this modern racing plant.

ATO Gives House a Face-Lifting

By DON WIEGANDT

Alpha Tau Omega fraternity is currently engaged in a complete house remodeling. The building program should be completed by fall of 1939.

The house on the hill was built in 1906 by the Eclectic Literary Society. It belonged to this society until 1940 when the ATO's went national. No major additions have taken place until recently.

Due to construction underway, rush for ATO is taking place in Parlors A and C on the second floor of the Union. The rush schedule varies concerning the two rooms.

Proposed additions will include colonial pillars in the front of the house, a terraced front porch at grade level, and a new circular front walk.

The general style of architecture will be Georgian Colonial.

selected for its fine appearance and its suitability to the present framework.

The new house, located at 451 Evergreen will hold 55 members comfortably as compared with the 35 person limit of the old house. The depth in design created by the two story porch roof overhang adds interest to the new frontal design.

A drive along the west side of the property will provide a convenient entry. Also, the parking area will be increased to provide the necessary parking area.

Alterations to the basement

The first academic building at Michigan State University—Oakland will contain 39 classrooms, 4 elementary and advanced physics and chemistry laboratories, 2 large lecture rooms, a library and faculty offices.
