Roundtable Debates Compulsory ROTC

Pres. Hannah States Matter Up to Military Authorities

By BILL CALLAHAN State News Editor in Chief

Spartan Roundtable erupted into a virtual debate on compulsory ROTC Wednesday night with student members voicing opinions on both sides of the issue.

32 Enter Petitions in AUSG Race

Petitions for all university offices were filed by 32 candidates Wednesday, bringing to 32 the number now in the running for the 60 available positions.

The deadline for returning petitions is 5 p.m. today. Candidates may obtain or return petitions from the elections office, 336 Student Services.

Candidates who returned petitions Wednesday are: David Ober, for junior class president; Susanne Beckman, junior class secretary; Edward Linton, sophomore class treasurer; Katherine Berdon, sophomore class secretary; for Congress seats: Kenneth Applegate, Bryan Dunham, Bone, East Shaw, Myra McCalland, Abbott, Nancy Merrill, Phillip, Judy Price, North Williams, Carol Drummer, Edith Williams, and Ellen Davis.

No petitions have yet been returned for senior class secretary or treasurer; sophomore class secretary and vice-president; and congress seats in Emmos, Bailey, West Shaw, Van Hoosen, Myer, Mason, West Mason, East Landon, West Yaker, Christ, fraternities, sororities, and married housing.

Only one petition each has been received from East Lansing and Lansing districts. Both of these, along with married housing, have six seats available.

Primary elections are set for April 23. Finals will be held April 30.

Members of the elections commission will be in the office today 11 a.m.-5 p.m.

MSU to Host Big 10 Greek Conference

Plans for the Big 10 Intercollegiate Conference to be held at Kellogg starting April 23 were revealed at the IFC President's Assembly meeting held at the Delta Sigma Phi house last night.

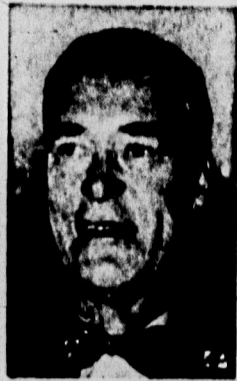

Present MSU IFC officers will represent MSU at the three-day conference held on this campus for the first time since 1952, according to Don Becker, chairman of the conference.

Plans for the joint purchase of canned goods for the fraternities were described by the IFC Foods Purchasing Committee. A 10 per cent discount has been granted the organization by the & Cady, a national wholesaler.

Gamma Delta will be given a special dinner on May 9, 1959 in honor of the 20th anniversary of the campus, according to Bill E. Serman, chairman of the campus committee.

A sign at an for a special dinner for fraternity treasurers was submitted by Walt Wynn, treasurer of Lambda Chi Alpha. Presidents were asked to discuss the plan, which is designed to improve the financial structure of the individual fraternities, with their treasurers.

International Festival All groups representing various nationalities which are taking part in the 15th annual International Festival to be held May 9 in the Aud, have been asked to contact Sanaullah Kirmani, ED 7-1581 or extension 4-224.

Six Solons Nix Tapping Vets Fund

Hutchinson Asks Cash Crisis Proof

Six senators Wednesday again refused to vote Gov. Williams' plan for mortgaging the $50 million Veterans' Trust Fund in the Senate appropriations committee.

Senator Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) said he would not stand in the way of the bill if he could be shown that Michigan is actually insolvent. He challenged Williams and State Treasurer Sanford Brown to prove the seriousness of the cash crisis.

The two Democrats against the bill, Senators Garland Lane, Flint, and William Miron, Escanaba, said they have received letters from their constituents reminding them of promises made last fall to protect the fund.

Lane said he did not think the bill would have a chance on the floor because there are too many Republicans and Democrats who campaigned against it.

A private poll of the committee showed the vote now stands 7-3 against the bill, including Porter who voted against mortgaging last week.

Despite a plea from Gov. Williams, six senators refused Wednesday to vote a bill out of committee to mortgage the Veterans Trust Fund.

Sen. Elmer Porter (R-Blissfield) called his nine-man Appropriations Committee into session after a warning from Williams that failure to vote the bill out would bankrupt the state within 30 days.

Four Republicans and two Democrats were solidly against the bill despite pleas from their own party leaders.

After a closed meeting with Porter, Williams said April 24 would be the last possible date to use the fund to meet pressing obligations.

Porter promised the governor he would put the bill to another vote later in the week.

Nye Airs Problems Of Today

Present Society Easily Deceived

"We're cruising in an era of low visibility," Prof. Russell Nye said of society Wednesday night in his "Last Lecture" sponsored by Mortar Board.

In addition, the channel markers are taking part in the cruise, Dr. Nye said.

Pulitzer prize winner Nye recalled his senior year in college 25 years ago. "At that time we had a senior lecture," he said. "We had just come through a depression and yet the speaker was outlaws, robbers and war, saying prosperity is just around the corner."

"I can't promise you this," Nye said. He quoted Albert Camus who said, "Every generation feels it must remake the world. We, however, must keep the world from falling apart."

There are problems in a university, he said. "The administration has money problems, the faculty has parking problems, while the students' problems arise from difference in generation."

"These will never be settled so I'll turn to other topics of a high nature," Nye said.

He drew from works of James Thurber, Hemingway, Fitzgerald, T. S. Eliot and Oliver Wendell Holmes for illustration.

Thurber and Ann Landis are the shrewdest of contemporary commentators, he said. He recalled the Thurber fable of the owl who thought he was God.

All the animals felt the owl was God because he could see in the dark and answer questions. They "pooch-pooched" the owl when he asked if the owl could see in bright daylight.

They still were calling the owl God when, blinded by the noon sun, the owl fell from down the road and a truck ran them down.

"This fable can be applied to numerous circumstances today," Nye said.

He spoke of the decline of progress and political and social ideas.

Greeks to Meet

All representatives to the IFC - Pan Hellenic Conference Housing Committee are asked to attend a very important meeting in 34 Union, Thursday night at 7:30.

AT FIRST SIGHT it would seem that assembled here are a group of individuals enjoying an old-fashioned community sing. In reality those in the picture are a group of aspiring students in the music department who are preparing for their roles in an opera.

AUSG Won't Make Exception

Candidate Declared Ineligible

By MARY HUFF State News Editorial Page Editor

After extended debate filled with confusion and technicalities, Student Congress Wednesday night defeated a resolution to allow Herb Ashley, candidate for the Junior College positions, to run for the Alpha presidency.

Ashley had requested permission of Congress because his grade average did not quite follow the required 2.33, Ashley said.

Members of the National Student Assn. Congress decided to postpone action until next week, giving constituents an opportunity to voice their opinions about the controversial organization.

Rep. Bill Errett (Married Housing) favored affiliation with NSA, describing it as "our window to the student world."

Rep. Bev Parker (Sororities) felt however that NSA is beneficial only to those who attend the conferences.

Rep. Marilyn Becker (S Campbell) brought out the view of a member of her dorm council that one year isn't a long enough trial basis for any organization.

Speaker Lowell Brigham said NSA is a "vehicle to many opportunities," but to be successful on any campus needs "responsible, motivated individuals."

Congress introduced a proposal to add a $3 library fee to student fees each term for purchasing new books. The proposal, if passed by student majority vote, would be contingent on the State Legislature appropriating normal funds for that purpose.

The proposal was referred to committee and a deal for action next week.

Ashley reported that the Michigan Junior Community College Students Assn. will tentatively meet at MSU April 21. His bureau has worked for the past two terms with Michigan's 16 junior and community colleges.

Several MSU staff members and graduate students will take part in the seventh annual meeting of the Midwest Benthological society today and Friday at Gull Lake Biological Station, near Battle Creek.

Dr. Paul Fromm, assistant professor in physiology and pharmacology, is president of the organization.

Vet Car Wash To Help Out Little League

Members of the Veterans Assn. will spend their fall Saturdays to work for the youngsters of East Lansing.

They'll spend the day scrubbing cars at Cory's Sinclair Station, corner of Delta and Grand Avenues, to earn some money for the Little Leaguers of the community.

All proceeds of the car wash will go to the kids so that they can be equipped with uniforms and other equipment for the coming baseball season.

All students and residents of the area can receive a dry wash for $1 and a hot wash for 75 cents from 8 a.m. throughout the year, said Tom Kolesiak, president of the Vets.

According to Kolesiak, the service will be held on April 25 and 26, both Saturdays.

Special Workshop Opens in Science

A two-week workshop in microbiology for high school science teachers will be held April 24-25.

Sponsored by a $1,800 grant from the National Science Foundation, the course is designed to aid in the teachers' basic knowledge of microbiology and work out experiments and projects for high school pupils.

Stipends of $100 will be awarded to 30 teachers and allowances for travel will also be available.

Applications are to be made with Dr. Frank Possody, associate professor of microbiology and workshop director, by Wednesday.

They receive no pay for this work. Each print requires a great deal of research, because each uniform is correctly portrayed in every detail. For example, in a print showing uniforms worn by the Vikings, the boots are known to be like those actually worn by these soldiers because such a boot was found in a peat bog with other remains of Vikings.

In looking at these prints, it is interesting to watch the changing fashions in army uniforms through the years. The uniforms shown range from the early American wars through World War II.

This special exhibit will be in the museum for only two months. It is being shown on the main floor of the museum in the special exhibits room. The museum is open from 9-5 Monday through Saturday, 1-5 Sunday.

Hobbyist Reveals Talent

Museum Displays Toy Soldiers

By LINDA HOOVER

You never know just what you'll find in the M.U. museum. At the moment toy soldiers are being shown as part of a special exhibit. These perfectly scaled soldiers are part of a collection of military prints and miniatures owned by Theodore Haskell of Lansing.

As a hobby, Haskell buys and makes these tiny figures. Miniatures are usually of lead or plastic. The three-dimensional figures are made by using a metal mold. Very thin lead figures, called lead "flats," are made by slicing "fresh" slate into thin pieces, carving the desired shape into the slate, then pouring lead into this mold by hand.

Often Haskell buys commercial figures, strips them of paint, and remolds the heads, arms, or legs. This process creates a more active looking, lifelike figure. One part of the exhibit shows some of his equipment and how the figures are made. Haskell also designs his own figures. These are actually more interesting than commercial figures because they are more individualistic.

The uniform of each miniature is accurately painted in all details. Haskell does a great deal of research to assure this accuracy. As a result, he has become a real expert in the field of military uniforms.

The second part of this exhibit consists of 30 military prints. These particular prints have been selected for showing here because they are all concerned with armies that have been in North America at some time in history.

The prints are put out only in limited editions. Each is handcolored in vivid but completely accurate colors by artists who work on a voluntary basis.

Candidates to Meet

All candidates for the all-university elections must meet tonight in 328 Student Services, or if they cannot attend, send a representative.

Students have on the Board of Trustees other than having two board members present at Spartan Roundtable.

"Students are perfectly free to contact members of the board, to talk to them or write to them. The board is a policy-making group and leaves administration to the president and staff of the university."

Hannah predicted the board would probably not act on ROTC or any matter unless it is brought up through regular faculty channels and organization. He later suggested inviting the board to one of the Roundtable meetings.

When asked about possible changes in housing regulations, Dean Tom King said the proposal is still in the discussion stage.

Heavy Security Action Taken To Guard Castro on U.S. Visit

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Heavy security details were alerted Wednesday to protect Fidel Castro, the bearded Cuban prime minister, who arrived here by plane Wednesday night for an unofficial U.S. visit.

Officials have heard of a number of threats that Castro, the revolutionary who led the overthrow of Fulgencio Batista's Cuban government, never will leave this country alive.

State Department security agents and Washington police were ordered to take every precaution lest harm befall Castro, whose party of about 35 includes a heavy bodyguard of bearded Cubans.

Castro was invited to Washington by the American Society of Newspaper Editors, whose members he will address Friday. A capacity crowd was in prospect.

Castro will make at least one radio-television broadcast over the weekend, and Monday will speak at a luncheon of the National Press Club. That luncheon, like the ASNE speech today, is a sellout. The Press Club sold its 905 tickets for the luncheon were sold within an hour.

The ASNE found itself in a cross-fire of controversy over its Friday luncheon speaker, Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba. The society's directors, composed of ASNE's trustees, met Wednesday and Wednesday night to discuss the invitation and a charge by radio-television interviewers that they were being discriminated against, as compared with newspaper reporters, in governing Castro's speech.

The ASNE president, George Healy Jr., editor of the New Orleans Times-Picayune, was unshaken by criticisms that the editors were providing a propaganda platform for a dictator. "No apologies are needed for

Political Scientist Goes to Pakistan

An MSU staff member has been assigned to an MSU project in Pakistan for a two-year period.

He is Dr. Harry Friedman, man, political science instructor, who has already left the campus for Peshawar, West Pakistan. He will be an adviser in the field of public administration and related areas.

MSU specialists are currently advising in the setting up of a academy in East and West Pakistan.

inviting Castro to address us," Henry told a reporter.

At least two anti-Castro groups were understood to be planning demonstrations against the 32-year-old Cuban prime minister. Security officials have heard reports that efforts will be made to have Castro bombed, stoned and shot.

For his part, Castro obviously hopes to recapture the friendly feeling toward him which generally prevailed in this country during his long fight against Batista. He has volunteered to answer questions about points on which his regime has been criticized—his war crimes executions, for example.

He hopes also to win support in this country for his program, including a project to put landless peasants on individual and cooperative farms.

He will leave here Monday by train for visits to Princeton, N.J., New York City and Cambridge, Mass. He plans to fly to Canada April 26 for visits to several cities, and then will return to Cuba with a stopover April 30 at Houston, Tex.

THE MAP ILLUSTRATES the polar orbit of the latest U.S. space probe—the Discoverer II—launched from California's Vandenberg Air Force Base April 13. Officials say the satellite, expected to remain aloft 30 days, is whirling around the earth north-to-south every 90.84 minutes. Its path from pole to pole takes it as far out from earth as 242 miles and brings it as close as 156 miles.

Forensics Union Plans Activities For Spring Term

The MSU Forensics Union recently closed its winter schedule and is now formulating plans for spring term activities according to Ralph Wilbur, vice-president.

Wilbur stated that the spring schedule will allow time to discuss and debate humorous and lighter topics as well as campus and local problems.

Anyone having suggestions for topics can contact Barry Boughton, Forensics Union president, secretary Deanna Black or Wilbur.

Educators To Participate In Show Today

Lynn Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, and heads of five public school systems will participate in the program "Education in Michigan" 7 p.m. today over WMSB, Channel 10.

Major problems facing education and school systems today and in the future will be discussed in interviews with the school administrators. The program is another in the Special Report series originated by Michigan State University television.

Live interviews with Supt. Bartlett, Supt. Ralph McLeary of Jackson and a representative of the Lansing superintendent's office will be featured.

Also included will be taped telephone interviews with Supt. J. C. Covert of Royal Oak, president-elect of the Michigan Association of School Administrators, Supt. Harry Davidson of Battle Creek and Supt. John Vermilya of Spring Lake.

Art Show To Display New Works

Krewe Art Center reports many new exhibitions ranging from California artist Rico Lebrun and MSU graduate assistant James Lebrun to work by two regular members, Leonard Kitts and Grant Swartz.

Lebrun is best known for his series of paintings on the Crucifixion. He is offering a one-man show in conjunction with his exhibition for the MIA degree.

Kitts and Swartz's works are shown along with paintings by six artists from Paris.

The gallery is open weekdays 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Tuesday evenings 6-9 p.m. and Saturdays 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. There is no charge and the public is cordially invited.

Record-Setting Bowlers See Big 10 Victory

Looking ahead to the annual Big 10 tournament at Columbus, Ill., April 23, the Michigan State bowling team, making a record high average and a string of impressive showings for the year. Led by Matt Marchel, who averaged 196 in the Union Bowlers' bowling tournament to earn No. 1 position on the squad, the Spartans won five of six warm-up matches and showed their scoring power by setting a school record against Wayne State University. They totaled 3,029 pins in that meet.

They won the regional intercollegiate bowling tournament, sponsored by an automatic pinsetter manufacturer.

The five-man team consists of the Spartans from a field of 10 which competed in this year's Big 10 meet. Other team members and their averages are Wayne Wiswedel (193), Dick Peters (199) and Joe Zambano and Ken Dennis (196).

Marchel averaged 208 in the Big 10 games of the bowlers' meet to earn his berth on the national squad, according to head and Union Bowling Alley manager Del Kowalk.

Golfers See Bright Year After Fall's Improvement

Balance Keys Youthful Spartan Team; Home Triangular Meet Set for Opener

If the Michigan State golf team lives up to its fall tournament play, the Spartans could have their best year ever this year.

Coach Ben Van Alstyne, beginning his 25th season at the helm of the Spartan links team, has high hopes of his squad improving on last season's record of six wins, two losses and a tie and a sixth place finish in the Big 10 meet.

State opens its season schedule April 23 with a triangular match against Central Michigan and Western Michigan at Forest Akers golf course.

Despite the lack of a really topflight No. 1 man this year, Van Alstyne believes his team has much greater depth than last season's squad. The top five men in the fall term intra-squad tournament had an aggregate score six strokes better than Purdue's winning score in the Big 10 meet.

Competition for the top position on the squad should be close, with juniors John Reynolds and Tom Babin and sophomores C. A. Smith and Tyler Caplin all capable of shooting 75. Juniors Steve Miller and Bob Walsh and another sophomore, Ted Schmidt, are right behind the leaders and also are capable of earning the top position.

Tigers Rolling; Drop 5th in East To Indians, 2-1

CLEVELAND (AP) — A home run by third baseman Woody Held broke a 10-inning tie Wednesday and Cleveland's Indians a 2-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers was the Tribe's fourth straight victory and the Tigers' fifth straight loss.

Cal McLish, the Indians' midget pitcher last season, earned the victory in his first start. He gave up two hits and had a shutout until the eighth inning when Eddie Stungl singled and came home on a fly ball by Doby's triple.

Paul Foytack held the Tigers to five hits until he was hit for a pinchhitter in the eighth inning. Ray Narleski took over at this point and had eight batters in a row who held uncorred his game-winning round-tripper on a 2-1 count pitch.

The Tigers made a new threat in the ninth, but a double play killed the rally.

State 9 Nets Record Win

Wayne State 9
2-1

DEAN LOOK (7) makes the familiar trip into third base Wednesday on his third triple of the afternoon. The peg from the outfield eluded the Tartar catcher and Look came on in to score.

Wayne State's record of 2-1 in the first three games of the season was shattered Wednesday when they posted the victory over Wayne State.

Dean Look, who hit the first three homers, faced only one batter in the first three innings. He started on the hill the night he reached first against the Tartars. Look was thrown out on an at-bat in the two hour game. In the 10th inning, Look and Pat Sartorius, who played second base in his usual position in the field, blasted three straight homers.

EVER THINK ABOUT SELLING LIFE INSURANCE?

COY G. EKLUND

Most of the 105 members of our Agency never had considered it prior to visiting me. Yet the number has risen to more than 7,000 a year. This is because I have shown them how to sell life insurance. I have shown them how to sell life insurance. I have shown them how to sell life insurance. I have shown them how to sell life insurance.

MSU Faculty Talks In Many Languages

If a visitor from Azerbaijan comes on the MSU campus, it is not likely that he will be able to understand the language.

Approximately 14 languages in which MSU faculty members have some fluency, a recent survey revealed.

French, German and Spanish are the most common languages in which MSU scholars are versed, being the languages most often required for advanced study and research.

A total of 14 MSU staff members have speaking and reading ability in French, 10 speak and understand German and 230 Spanish. A total of 12 understand Russian. The most widely known languages are represented on the MSU campus.

The survey found faculty members with some fluency in some relative rarities as well. These include Chinese, Japanese, Italian, Hindi, Urdu, Persian, Arabic, and Indonesian.

There are 272 faculty members who read professional books and journals in languages other than English, and a total of 110 who reported writing for publications abroad.

Many languages are represented also in the student body which includes scholars from 68 countries.

Ten languages are offered to the student body by the department of foreign languages, with French by far the most popular.

The popularity of languages among students is influenced somewhat by the cause of international events, according to Dr. Stanley Howell, acting head of the department.

There has been a swing to Russian this year, a course we are teaching partially over closed-circuit television. Dr. Howell pointed out, and German is still strong.

Other languages offered at MSU are Chinese, Greek, Italian, Japanese, Latin and Portuguese.

Spartan Wives Set Rummage Sale Date

Spartan Wives will hold a rummage sale April 23 at the South Lansing Community Center. The group has announced that barrels for collection of clothes have been placed in the laundries of University and Spartan Villages and the barracks.

Gets National Award

Agricultural chemist, Dr. Robert Evans, will receive the Poultry and Egg National Board's 1959 research award today.

Dr. Evans has conducted basic studies on the nutritive value of eggs and how nutrition and storage practices change the composition of eggs.
