Three MSU Professors Given Teacher Awards

Professors Arthur Adams in history department, John Hanson in education and Austin Moore in humanities received the annual Distinguished Teacher Awards Tuesday.

made by a special faculty committee which includes former award winners in its membership.

Dr. Adams, 42, an associate professor of history, joined the faculty in 1951, the year he received the Ph.D. degree at Cornell University.

Dr. Hanson, 38, an associate professor in the foundations of education department, teaches in curriculum and the social background of education. He holds three degrees from the University of Illinois where he taught before moving to Michigan State in 1954.

Dr. Moore, 58, an associate professor of humanities, joined the faculty in 1946, upon discharge as an Army Air Force historical officer. A graduate of Oberlin and Columbia University, he had taught history at Princeton and the University of Akron.

A single Distinguished Teacher Award has been given most years since the presentation was originated in 1952, but as Vice President Thomas Hamilton, the committee chairman, explained to the Senate: "the committee this year was confronted with the pleasant dilemma of having so many excellent recommendations that it was found impossible to settle on a single award winner."

The winners, he added, "are being honored not only as individuals, but also as representatives of the many, many fine teachers who grace our faculty."

Other award winners since 1952: Dr. David W. D. Dickson, English department, 1952; Oscar Fairbanks, engineering drawing, 1953; Dr. King McCristal, physical education, 1954; Boyd Churchill, farm crops, 1955; Faye Kinder, foods and nutrition, 1956; James Anderson of mechanical engineering and Donald Buell of Speech, 1958.

Directors and committee members for Campus Chest, Public Relations, Personnel, Elections, Academic Benefits, Student Organizations and Pep Rallies will be chosen.

Petitions are to be turned in at the Union Concourse.

Concours will be held tonight for the positions of congress officers.

Bryce Piapp, representing East Lansing, and Dave Gronauer, representing East Shaw, are nominees for vice-president and speaker.

For Speaker pro-tem, Diane DeMuro, representing sororities and Charles Herbert, representing Lansing were nominated.

Nancy MacLaurin, South Campbell, and Jane Dingham, sororities, are running for secretary.

The Committee on Committee, (which chooses committee) will also be elected.

Rules of procedure are in order to be adapted by the new Congress.

Programs, Reports At AAUP Meeting

The AAUP will hold a business and program meeting Thursday in 31 Union at 7:30 p.m.

The business will include the annual chapter reports and a report of the faculty reorganization proposals. The program will be a discussion with several members of MSU's Board of Trustees in matters of faculty-administration relationships.

Accident Fatal to Professor

Retired Scientist Hit by Automobile

Paul Harmer, retired MSU soil scientist, died of injuries Tuesday morning after being hit by a car at Michigan and Harrison avenues. He was 71.

Harmer suffered multiple internal injuries, a possible skull fracture and multiple fractures. According to Coroner Dorain Hillman, he was dead on arrival at Edward Sparrow Hospital at 8 p.m.

East Lansing police said he stepped into the path of a car driven by Paul Burbage III at the intersection Burbage, 12 Westfield, N.J. freshman was driving to class from Bryan Hall. He was not held by police.

University spokesmen said Prof. Harmer, who moved to Jefferson, Wis., after retiring from the extension faculty five years ago, was attending a soil science conference on the campus. He and Mrs. Harmer were staying at Kelllogg Center.

According to police, Harmer was going to a service station on Michigan Ave. to get a new truck for his car, which was stalled in the Kelllogg parking lot.

Prof. Harmer joined the MSU faculty in 1921, and later became an authority on swampland farming. He was superintendent of the MSU truck farm near Langenburg from 1942 to 1948.

He served as secretary of the Michigan Truck Farmers' Assn. for 31 consecutive years, and was also secretary of the Union Growers' Assn. since 1938. He served as secretary of the Essential Oil Growers of Michigan since 1943.

Harmer was born at Lodge Center, Minn., and did undergraduate work at Carleton College. He earned his masters and doctors degrees at the University of Minnesota.

Surviving Harmer in addition to the widow, Gladys, are a daughter, Mrs. John Harris, a brother, Clifford, and two sisters, Mrs. Charles Cowell and Mrs. John Noren.

The body is at Gorsline-Burman funeral home.

Telecast Planned On Expressionism

Dr. Anthony Hoeft, instructor of psychology, speech and English and former pastor, will lecture on "The Sovereignty of God Principle of Calvinism." The lecture is slated for 7:45 p.m. May 26 at College House.

Paychecks Written Up For State

Bill Adds Nothing To State Treasury

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS A Senate-approved bill which would enable the state to pay some 26,000 state employees who went without paychecks last week cleared the House of Representatives Tuesday. It likely will be ready for Gov. Williams' signature sometime today.

Aud. Gen. Frank Dymally said paychecks covering the $3-100,000 payroll were made out and ready for swift distribution once the Senate adopts some House amendments to the bill.

The amendments, passed 75-15, would authorize the state treasurer to pay out some $10,000,000 now authorized by law for specific purposes. About half of this is practically usable, the Governor said.

The Democratic Governor emphasized the fund juggling plan "doesn't add a nickel to the state treasury."

"It will be unfortunate if the public gets the false impression that this bill solves Michigan's cash crisis," he said. It would not enable the state to meet its May 21 payroll, he said.

Williams' endorsement of the proposal, authorized by Senate Republicans, came as a turnabout from his earlier insistence that the State's $9 million dollar Veterans Trust fund offered the only means of ending a money emergency that has brought the state close to bankruptcy.

Payroll paydays for state employees last week and the week before were the first in state history.

The first covering legislators, judges and legislative employees, amounted to a mere $100,000.

House amendments to the fund transfer bill would forbid the state treasurer to liquidate Veterans Trust fund securities without specific approval of the legislature. It also sets a March 1, 1960 expiration date for the plan.

Dems Submit 2 Tax Bills

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Two new income tax bills, both sponsored by Democrats, joined the growing pile of tax measures in the Legislature Tuesday.

Five House Democrats also introduced a tax package they said would not cost the state about $40 million in new revenue. It is a variant of other income tax measures proposed by Rep. George Salade (R-Ain Arbor) and Rollo Collins (R-Tipton), chairman of the House taxation committee.

Rep. Arthur Law (R-Peoria) introduced an income tax bill similar to one already in the Senate for a five percent levy based on federal income liability. Corporations would be taxed at 10 percent.

The new tax package calls for a graduated personal income tax ranging from one to four percent on all income over $1,000. It also would allow a $7,000 exemption for the taxpayer and each dependent.

Rep. Walter Hill (D-Muskegon), E. D. O'Brien (D-Detroit) and Frederick Yates (D-Detroit), the top sponsors, estimated the income levy would now save $120 million.

A four million dollar increase in cigarette and tobacco taxes and a seven percent levy on financial institutions calculated to bring in seven millions also were proposed.

RENGE ART CENTER is presenting its first major exhibition through May 26. The department of art is featuring works of old and modern masters. Exhibition hours: Saturdays and Sundays, 1-6 p.m.; daily 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Tuesday evenings, 6-9 p.m.

Attack Foreign Policy

Democratic Senators Hold Up Appointments

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic senators held up action on two diplomatic appointments Tuesday in a caustic attack on the Eisenhower administration's foreign policy and alleged suppression of information.

Several Democrats on the state foreign relations committee also got to squabbling among themselves at a hearing on the nomination of C. Douglas Dillon to be chief assistant to the secretary of State and Ogden Reid to be ambassador to Israel.

The committee put off action on the nominations at least until Tuesday.

Dillon and Reid thus became latest Eisenhower appointees who lost water with Senate Democrats, although it appeared Dillon at least was in no danger of falling confirmation.

The battle ended recently with the resignation of Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce just after she was named as ambassador to Italy.

Lewis Strauss has been on the committee where several Democrats are fighting his nomination.

There has been advance indication that the foreign relations committee planned to take some look at the diplomatic nominations of Reid, a former editor and editor of the New York Herald Tribune.

Sen. Frank Church (D-Idaho) led in saying the state department has no justification for going secret the country-by-country breakdown of military aid to Latin American and other nations.

Chairman William Fulbright (Ark.) suggested that Church postpone some of his questioning until a closed-door hearing on foreign aid funds.

Increase Editors on S&A Review

Fifteen staff members have been appointed to the board of editors of The Centennial Review of Arts and Science, MSU's quarterly magazine. Eight other members were reconfirmed. The new appointments nearly double the size of the editorial board and include representatives of a number of fields not previously included in the coverage of the magazine, explained Prof. Herbert Weisinger, editor.

Mrs. Inez Hays, a member of the Centennial Review staff, was named managing editor, and Herman Struck, assistant professor of English, was appointed editorial assistant.

Professors named to the board: Ralph Lewis, natural science; Leo Ishino, sociology and anthropology; John Henderson, Economics Research; Milosh Muntjan, Assistant Dean, College of Education; Bernard Duffey, English; Clarence Vingo, geography; Charles Hirschfeld, humanities; Leo Katz, statistics; Hans Nathanson, music; Alfred Meyer, political science; Milton Roheach, psychology; Peter Fischer, religion; Arthur J. M. Smith, English.

MSU Honors Retiring Prof

Students and friends of Professor Lee are honoring him next week at a banquet to celebrate the conclusion of his teaching career at MSU.

His teachings have brought closer relationship between the American and foreign students on campus. All who have known Prof. Lee are aware of his contributions to close the gap between the East and West.

Lee received his education from Lingnam College, Canton, China and Ching Hsu College, Peking, China. He was also a recipient of degrees from Yale and Columbia University.

Several of the magazine's business executives gift coupons entitling the winner to receive a summer jersey from Robbins, His and Her Shop, two tickets to the MSU Players production of "The Grasshopper," or two tickets to the opera, "Gianni Schicchi." Dr. George W. Lee, professor of marketing, will visit the Ferris State University campus next week. He will be in charge of the new Marketing Club, a feature of the new school building. Marketing and business students will be invited to meet with him.

The club will consist of Harrison Van Dyke, William Hart, and David Overton. Other selections are "Prelude and Chorus" from "McIntosh" by Arthur Hodge, "March for Band" by Frank Erickson, "Kappa Kappa" by Pascal Marquette, "Fandango" by Frank Frederick Lewis, and "Zampa

Study Electric Charges Scientists Seek Answer To Radiation Occurances

A new approach to studies of how radiation affects life was described Tuesday in St. Louis by two MSU scientists to the Society of American Bacteriologists.

Bacteria which are resistant to radiation are attracted by a magnetic field, according to Dr. Harold S. Gentry, assistant professor of microbiology, and Dr. James H. DeWitt, assistant professor of microbiology. They also found that bacteria are attracted to a positive electric charge.

Their findings, Gentry pointed out, may help scientists arrive at a better understanding of how radiation affects life. They also may help in the study of how radiation affects food by adding benefit and the understanding of the mechanism of radiation damage to living cells. The study was supported by the National Science Foundation.

When these bacteria are irradiated, they are attracted to a positive electric charge. This attraction is a result of the positive charge on the bacteria's surface.

Their report may also help to solve some problems of preserving food by sterilizing it with radiation, he added.

ADVENTURES IN SOCIAL SCIENCE: NO. 3

Tuesday, ranging again into the fascinating world of social science, let us take up the subject of anthropology—the study of man and his origins.
The origin of man was indeed a puzzle until the Frenchman, Jean-Louis Sigisfox, discovered the skull and shinbone of Pithecanthropus Erectus in Java in 1891. What Sigisfox was doing in Java is, incidentally, quite an odd little story. Sigisfox was a Parisian born and bred. By day one could always find him at a sidewalk cafe, sipping tartier water and ogling the girls; each night he went to a fashionable casino where he gambled heavily at roulette and go-fish; in between times he worked on his stamp collection, which was one of the largest in Paris.

Well sir, one summer Sigisfox lost his entire fortune gambling at the casinos. He was seriously contemplating suicide when, quite unexpectedly, a letter arrived from one Lotus Petal McGinnis, a Japanese girl and an avid stamp collector, with whom Sigisfox had been corresponding from time to time through the international stamp collectors journal. Until now the nature of their correspondence, though friendly, had been strictly philatelic, but in this new letter Lotus Petal declared that although she had never laid eyes on Sigisfox, she loved him and wanted to marry him. She said she was eighteen years old, beautiful and docile, and her father, the richest man in the tribe, had agreed to give half his fortune to the husband of her choice. Sigisfox, penniless and desperate, immediately looked passage for Java.

The first sight of his prospective bride failed to delight Sigisfox. She was, as she said, beautiful—but only by local standards. Sigisfox had serious doubts that her pointed scarlet teeth and the chicken bones hanging from her ears would be considered chic along the Champs Elysees.

But solving as was the sight of Lotus Petal, Sigisfox had an even greater disappointment coming when he met her father. The old gentleman was, as Lotus Petal claimed, the richest man in the tribe, but, unfortunately, the medium of exchange in his tribe was prune pits.

Sigisfox took one look at the mound of prune pits which was his dowry, gnashed his teeth, and stomped off into the jungle, swearing vilely and kicking at whatever lay in his path. Stomping thus, kicking thus, Sigisfox kicked over a heap of old bones which—what do you know?—turned out to be Pithecanthropus Erectus!

But I digress. From the brutish Pithecanthropus, man evolved slowly upward in intellect. By the Middle Paleolithic period man had invented the leash, which was a remarkable technical achievement, but frankly not particularly useful until the Mesolithic period when man invented the dog.

In the Neolithic period came the most important discovery in the history of man—the discovery of agriculture. Why is this so important? Because, good friends, without agriculture there would be no tobacco, and without tobacco there would be no Marlboro, and without Marlboro you would be without the finest filter cigarette that money can buy, and I would be without a job.
That's why.

Without tobacco you would ain't be without Marlboro's sister cigarette, Philip Morris, a non-filter smoke that can't be beat. Philip Morris or Marlboro—pick your pleasure.

Robinson Signs to Defend Boxing Title

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson Tuesday signed to defend in Philadelphia Sept. 21 against Carmen Basilio the middleweight championship the National Boxing Assn. took away from him May 4.

Basilio, however, has not been contacted.
Al Klein, a member of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission, said he anticipated the NBA would reconsider its action and give Robinson back his title so that the bout scheduled for the 10,000 seat Philadelphia stadium would be recognized as a title fight.

Samuel Rose, a Philadelphia city councilman, was identified as the promoter by Harold Salikind, city registration commissioner. Rose was not present at the press conference called by Klein to announce the Robinson signing. The councilman is sick in a hospital.

Robinson, nattily attired in a powder blue suit, said he expected the gate to bring in a million dollars with additional revenue from theater television rights. He said his contract with Rose calls for 45 percent of the gate with Basilio to get 20 percent. Negotiations for television are not included in the deal.

Salikind indicated he expected the gate to reach $750,000.
The NBA lifted Robinson's title after repeated warnings to the champion to sign for a defense against Basilio, the No. 1 contender. It recommended a fight for the title between Basilio and former champion Gene Fullmer with the winner to meet the leading challenger, presumably Spider Webb within 60 days.
Robinson, who has been offered est upwards of half a million dollars for a title defense by various promoters, including national boxing enterprises of Chicago and Madison Square Garden, New York, went into court when the New York commission set a date to strip him of his crown.

Justice Saul Streit of the New York Supreme Court heard the case and ordered Robinson to sign for a title defense within 15 days of the signed court directive. The 15 day period expires May 19. The New York commission has said it, too, would vacate the middleweight crown if Robinson did not carry out the court order.

In West Jordan, Utah, Fullmer's manager, Mary Jensen, said he would sit tight in the belief Basilio would not sign to fight Robinson—but "We might have to discuss the matter with a lawyer if Basilio signs."

Jensen said: "As far as I am concerned, we have a signed contract with promoter Norman Rothchild for our services in Syracuse, N. Y., in July." Jensen said Rothchild had told him Basilio also had signed for this fight.

"I don't think an honorable body like the NBA would stand by its decision," he said. "If they don't, I will bust the NBA wide open. I feel this is one of Robinson's tricks to get the NBA to relent."

In IM Softball Food Distribution Wins From Evans Scholars

Food Distribution overpowered a tardy Evans Scholars team, 9-3, Tuesday. Tex Bencke, Food Distribution pitcher, allowed only two hits.

The Evans team made an appearance at the stadium just as the game was about to be declared a forfeit.

Since they were late they did not get any infield practice and the first inning made that evident.

The Foods team pushed across seven runs on a combination of six errors, two walks and a triple by Dick Sanner.
The Evans team went down in order in the first and Bill Dugdale took the mound in place of Gary Jullien in the second. Food then in the game settled down into a fairly even battle until Bencke took control in the fourth and Evans pushed across three runs.

Bencke then settled down and finished the game with 10 strikeouts for the five innings. Tom Brisen, second baseman for the Foods, got three for three at the plate and Sanner got two for three.

Evans got one hit in the third and one in the fourth. Dugdale posed a long ball to left field in the third but failed to touch third Lamine Roy scratched a single in the fourth too.

State Netters Lose to U of M

Mescall Wins in Singles Despite 7-2 Whipping

A better-than-average University of Michigan team handed the Spartan netters their third loss of the regular season Tuesday on the local courts, 7-2.

The meet was the opener of a two-contest intra-state series that will be concluded this afternoon at 2:30 when MSU plays host to Western Michigan University.

Michigan swept five of the six singles matches, as well as two out of three doubles encounters to defeat State for the second time in two years. The Wolverines blanked MSU last year, 9-0.

Despite the loss, Ron Mescall continued his winning ways. He was the lone singles victor for State and, in addition, composed half of the Spartans' only winning doubles combination, Roger Plagenhoef was the other member.

Bill Hotchkiss continued his string of hard luck losses as he lost to John Erickson of Michigan in the No. 1 spot, 6-3, 6-2. Erickson was a finalist in the No. 1 spot in the Big 10 championships last year.

Gerry Dubie whipped Doug Smith in the No. 2 singles, 6-3, 6-2; Bob Sassone edged Capt. Foster Hoffman, 6-4, 6-4; Larry Zaitz beat Roger Plagenhoef, 6-0, 6-4; and Wayne Peacock put the meet out of reach by defeating Bob Sassone, 6-4, 7-5, in the No. 5 match.

Mescall's win came in the No. 6 spot over Mike Gordon, 7-5, 6-4.

The Wolves also had things their own way for the most part in the doubles, as they wrapped up their victory by taking two of three matches.

Phillies, Cubs Trade Morehead, Phillips

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia Phillies and Chicago Cubs Tuesday trade southpaw pitchers, Seth Morehead of the Phillies for Tom Phillips of the Cubs.

The 25-year-old Phillips has posted identical 0-2 records so far this season. Phillips was 10 last year, while Morehead won 1 and lost 6 for the Phillies in 1958.

MSU Places Third In Volleyball Event

Michigan State finished third in the recent National Collegiate volleyball championships at Des Moines, Iowa.

In the opening round the Spartans came up against a more experienced University of Kansas team and were beaten 15-13, 15-7. Since it was a double elimination type tourney, this dropped them down into the losers bracket.

They played Kansas State next and whipped them two straight, 15-5 and 14-7, to get back into contention. This win was attributed to spikers Dainis Martinson and Joe Armstrong, along with the setting of Rubens Filizola.

The win over Kansas State enabled them to again face the University of Kansas. This time the team, which appeared to be getting stronger, beat them the first game 15-7. The next two matches, however, were a different story as the Kansas team took them, 15-9 and 15-8.

The State team made its way to Des Moines at their own personal expense, due to local funds. The squad was composed of Armstrong, Martinson, Filizola, Bernie Mihara, John Wade, Ron Crowe and Dick Nease player-coach.
George Williams, Chicago won the collegiate championship by overpowering Kansas in the finals 15-13, 15-11 and 15-5.
Michigan State was the only Big 10 school to enter the national championships.
Three members of the team were selected to the 1959 All-American team. Nease made the first team as a setter, Martinson and Filizola made the second team.
Next year's nationals will be held in Dallas, Texas.

Killebrew Kills Tigers, 7-4

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American League's newest juggling sensation, Harmon Killebrew, blasted across five runs with a pair of homers as he led Washington to a come-from-behind 7-4 victory over Detroit Tuesday night before 4,234 fans.

Killebrew, 22-year-old husky from Payette, Idaho, brought his season-leading home run total to 10. He also leads in runs batted in with 28 and runs with 26. It was the fourth time in the 12 games that Killebrew has scored twice in one contest, one of those occasions being against Detroit.

Frank Lary took a 3-0 Detroit lead into the sixth inning when Killebrew began his cannonading. Albie Pearson led off with a single and came home as Bob Gibson doubled. One pitch after Gibson brushed him back with a fly inside fast ball, Killebrew cleared a 420-foot homer into left-center field bleachers to tie the score.

After a single by Harvey Penn and a double by Lou Whitford had nudged the Tigers into a 6-3 lead in the top of the seventh, Killebrew cleared a four-run Washington comeback in the bottom of the same inning.

Old Timers Begin Drills Today

Old Timers coach Dorne Doble will call his alumni gridders together today at 3 for the first of three practice sessions in preparation for Saturday's clash between the Old Timers and the present MSU varsity.

Beginning at 2 p.m. in Spartan Stadium Saturday, the third annual contest, which wraps up spring workouts for the varsity, offers an afternoon of football on a par with any fall classic.

Many others are on the roster from last fall's team of Old Timers past years.

Probably starting for State's varsity will be Fred Arbans

Morrall and Ninowski, halfbacks, Leroy Bolden, Lynn Chandross, Art Johnson, Walt Kowalezk, Gary Lowe, Don McAuliffe, Clarence Peaks and Vic Zucco, fullbacks, Evan Slovic and Don Arend.

The contest will be the first regulation game for Martin who injured his knee in last spring's clash which the Old Timers won 15-11. The injury forced the rumpusing fullback to sit out last fall.

But the play in the game should far overshadow half time activities as the present varsity is pitted against what could be termed the best aggregation of gridders assembled.

The all-star alumni squad is being coached by a staff of returning all-stars. Assisting 1950 all-American Doble will be Dan Currie, Jim Ninowski, Norm Masters and Bob Friedlund.

Among the players, the over 14,000 fans will see are: Ends, Bob Carey, Ellis Duckett, Dave Kaiser, Tony Koloziej, Bill Quinlan, Bob Jewett, and Bill Bagdon, Pat Burke, Larry Fowler, Ellison Kelly, Fran O'Brien, Emory Robinson and Tom Sadowski.

Others are: quarterbacks, Earl

Women's Net Team Blanks Western, 7-0

MSU Women's tennis team had one of its most successful days of the season Tuesday as it blanked Western Michigan University, 7-0, at Kalamazoo.

The Spartan team took all five matches, together with the doubles matches to defeat the Broncos.

In singles, Joyce Pines was her match in the No. 1 singles spot, 6-0, 6-0. Marilyn Grant was victorious, 7-5, 6-4. Lamb won in the No. 3 slot, 6-1, 6-1. Marian Graves came on top, 6-1, 1-6, 6-0, and Elaine Schindl triumphed in the No. 5 match, 6-4, 7-5.

The doubles teams of Pines-Sue Dhosge and Lamb-Lamb-Racki were both victorious.

WMU Beats 'M' In Baseball, 7-1

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Larry Belanger's homer with a man on sparked Western Michigan Tuesday to its third straight victory over Michigan, 7-1.

The Broncos opened the game with three runs on two hits, a hit batman, a walk and a sacrifice. Belanger's two-run circuit-clout came in the sixth inning. The Broncos added runs in the third and ninth innings.

Michigan's lone run came in the second.

Open House Set for Ag Saturday

The look of sheer amazement on the face of a seven-year-old girl who's just seen her first baby lamb.

Every year, since 1956, a particular Saturday in May has been set aside for the public of the Greater Lansing area to tour the grounds and see the new spring animals.

This year's gesture is done generally for the benefit of the city dweller of the area who seldom gets a chance to see farm animals.

On display will be 30 horses, 400 beef calves, 400 dairy calves, 600 swine, 700 sheep and 13,000 chickens and turkeys—plenty to keep the whole family busy for the three hours.

Petitions Ready For Hi Wagon

Petitions for Spartan Hi Wagon can be picked up in 338 Student Services. They should be turned in by 4 p.m. Friday.

Spartan Hi Wagon is sponsored by Spartan Women's League. Student representatives will be trained to call on new faculty members to acquaint them with MSU activities and projects.

To be eligible, a student should have participated in campus events and should have the ability to meet other people.

MILITARY FORCES turn out en masse Tuesday for their second full-dress parade of the term. Parades are scheduled for each week during spring term, weather permitting.

Awarded Tuesday 6 AFROTC Cadets Earn Silver Wings

Maj. Gen. Ronald Macdonald, newly appointed Adjutant General for Michigan awarded silver wings of cadet pilots and navigators to six AFROTC cadets at special ceremonies Tuesday.

Following the awards held on the practice field west of Jenison Field House, the general reviewed a combined Army and Air Force ROTC parade on the parade grounds of Old College Field.

The general's son, Ronald Jr., now a pilot on active duty with the Air Force, received his commission through the Air Force ROTC program at MSU in 1957.

Cadets honored were Monte Stuck, Lansing, senior navigator; David Jackson, Eaton Rapids, senior navigator; James Winger, Lansing, senior navigator; Terrence Prekham, Lake City, junior pilot; Millard Browning, Olivet, junior navigator; and Wesley Kilponen, Wakarusa, junior pilot.

All seniors at the university, the future pilots completed the AFROTC flying training program which provides 30 hours during the school year in the light aircraft flying out of Capital City airport.

The navigators received ground instruction in addition to actual cross-country navigation flights on regular Air Force planes.

Prof. Reineke Wins Award For Research

Dr. E. Paul Reineke, professor of physiology and pharmacology, was named the 1959 Senior Award Winner for Meritorious Research by the local chapter of Sigma Xi, scientific honorary society.

The award, a $150 check, a scroll and an engraved plaque, was presented to Reineke at the society's annual banquet held Tuesday night in the Union.

Dr. Richard Bystrum, professor of chemistry, received a $50 check to go along with the Sigma Xi junior research award he received in February.

Reineke's award feted him for work on the physiology of the thyroid hormone.
