Staff Fetes Retiring Librarian

Towne Served MSU 27 Years
Eighty library staff members attended a dinner Tuesday night at Tice House, honoring Jackson Towne who retires July 1 after 27 years as librarian. Dr. William Combs, dean of university services, gave the principal address of the evening.

A native of Milwaukee, Towne received a bachelor's degree with honors from Harvard university in 1917, which institution granted him in the same year a master's degree in English. In 1922 after a two-year course, the University of Illinois Library School conferred on him another graduate degree. Towne was Yale university librarian's superintendent of evening service, then departmental libraries supervisor at the State university of Iowa, later, chief of the readers department at New York university library, and finally, George Peabody College made him librarian. Towne was also founder and first director of Peabody college library school.

Since 1922 when he was appointed MSU librarian, the collection has increased tenfold to over 250,000 volumes. He also has the honor of having planned the new library building on the campus.

Towne will be succeeded as librarian by Dr. Richard Chapin who was appointed associate librarian in 1955.

The veteran librarian will enjoy a retirement furlough of one year, beginning July 1, but he expects to come back to the campus as professor of bibliography for two years before his official retirement from the faculty in 1962. There are several projects which he would like to accomplish in this bibliographical service.

The MSU Corn Foundation and the F. G. Holden Collection will both have his attention as he documents more carefully the extension of agriculture in Michigan, Iowa, and Illinois.

Towne also plans to act as editor of the correspondence in the Douglas McMurtrie Manuscript Collection, concerned with the history of printing in America. During part of his retirement furlough he will be occupied at the capitals of many southwestern states, consulting sources on printing history that have not yet been published.

Additionally honoring the retiring librarian was the announcement Tuesday night that the McMurtrie Collection will be called the Jackson E. Towne Collection. It will grow with further additions of material on the history of American printing.

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan will confer six honorary degrees at its 119th commencement June 13, one of them going to its first woman commencement speaker, Marian Anderson, noted American Negro contralto.

Hannah Speaks on Editorial Responsibility Publications' Staff Feted at Annual Banquet

Student publications were feted Tuesday night at the annual Publications Board Banquet, in the Union Ballroom.

In the opening address President John A. Hannah commended student publications for their work in the past year on the grounds that "publications play a big role in the future of the university."

"We will go on with a university everyone will be proud of," Hannah said, "with the help of publications."

Nigma Delta Chi, national journalism honorary, presented awards to Pat Meloy, Libertyville, Ill. senior, and Nelda Trout, East Lansing senior, for scholarship in the top five percent of their class.

A third award to the outstanding male graduate went to Don Meyers, Lansing senior. The award was based on character, achievement in journalism, and scholarship.

A new Joe Hoffman $25 bond award was presented by publications director William McIlrath to Gene Ritzinger, Wixom senior. The award is given to the student who indicates the most successful future in journalism.

In skit competition, the coveted Hoffman "oilcan" trophy went to the Veterinarian magazine for the third straight year.

Their skit, "Weekend Radio Control," featured interviews with outstanding people on the MSU campus, including President Hannah on his visit to the campus, chief of police Art Brandstater on the Red Cedar patrol, and Olin doctors on the newest way to create football players.

Other skits included a State News version of getting a paper out complete with a squirt gun fight and a Spartan skit "Sweet Bird of Censorship."

The Wolverine featured the selection of "Wolvy Pix of 1959" from among the gentlemen of the Wolverine staff. Winner and recipient of the 1960 Wolverine editorship award was Jennings Bird, Wolverine associate editor.

Wolverine awards went to Robert Slade, Jennings Bird, Bob McIlrath, Daniel Clark, Don Stever, Maxine Harris, Ann Hansen, Sandra Hertz, and Beverly Rosow.

Others include: Joyce Robb, Jim Johnson, Thomas Allen, John Barton, Larry Gusti, and Sara Furr.

Wolverine appointments will be announced later.

Spartan awards included a Gold Key award to James Douglas and Silver Key awards to Mike Cimino, Palo Seanga, Hank Bernstein, Jim Gayne, Wallace Burdett, Lorie Osiack, Edwyna Rose, Betty Kaltenbach, and Amy Foley Bennett.

Appointments will be made after the Publications Board has deliberated on the future of the Spartan.

Spartan Engineer Gold Key awards went to Herbert Harmon and Lawrence Paulel. Silver Keys went to Keith Harris, Donald Oglesby, Hilary Moore, Dexter Ray, LaVerne Root, and Frances Wehl.

State News plaques went to Bill Callahan, Hardy Christ, Joyce Robb, Mary Huff, Pete Walters, Tom Ross, Larry Gusti, Jim Hyppa, Pat Meloy, Nelda Trout, and Ed Scott.

Others include: Dale Franz, John Murphy, Wayne Patrick, Dick Shapiro, Mary Sue Schriber, Joannie Myers, Paul Lester, and Mr. McIlrath.

New State News appointments for fall term are:

Night Editors: Kit Erickson, Sandra Dohlan, Annette

Krause, Sue Ramsey, Jane Wackerbarth.

Asst. Night Editors: Marty Flueck, Bill Kielman, Linda Lotridge, Joan Miller, Larry Miller.

Wire Editors: Sharon Coady, Mary Cojanis, Mary Fox, Howard Holmes, Judy Lavicka.

Circulation Director: Paul Lester.

Office Manager: Helen McGregor.

BULLETIN

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's firebrand younger brother Raul was missing Tuesday night on a flight in a light plane over South Central Cuba.

Raul Castro, who succeeded his brother as commander in chief of the revolutionary armed forces, had taken off at 12:30 p.m. with a pilot and three aides in search of a helicopter in which Maj. Luis Diaz Lora, commander of the revolutionary air force, had crashed.

The presidential police announced at 10:45 p.m. (EST) that Raul's plane was missing. The plane had had fuel for only one hour of flight.

Diaz and two aides with him had been found meanwhile by Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Khrushchev Threatens New Missile Bases

3 Faculty Help Write 'Top' Book

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan will confer six honorary degrees at its 119th commencement June 13, one of them going to its first woman commencement speaker, Marian Anderson, noted American Negro contralto.

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev Tuesday threatened to set up missile bases in Communist Albania if the United States puts rocket bases in Greece and Italy.

Three faculty members contributed chapters to "The Integration of Educational Experience," a yearbook of the National Society for the Study of Education voted one of the top 31 books on education in 1958.

Dr. Paul Dressel, director of Evaluation Services, wrote the introductory and final chapters. Dr. David Krathwohl, Bureau of Educational Research, and Dr. Lewis Mayhew, Evaluation Services professor, each contributed a chapter in the yearbook.

State Given $5.3 Million

MSU Gets $2.6 Million For Friday Pay Checks

Month-end payrolls will be met by MSU and U of M this Friday, but the Fridays to come are still precariously hanging in balance.

Michigan received a $5,300,000 check from the federal government Tuesday and the state administrative board immediately agreed to release enough cash to permit U of M and MSU to meet month-end payrolls, according to Associated Press.

"This payment changes nothing," said Sanford Brown, state treasurer.

"In our tabulation of yesterday morning this was part of what we expected by June 30," said Brown.

This $5 million is part of the $32 million expected by June 30, it doesn't change anything.

Monday there was a question whether university needs could be met on time. However, receipt of the check for federal welfare matching funds removed all doubt and the administrative board agreed to release.

1. $2,600,000 to MSU for a faculty and labor payroll due Friday.

2. $1,300,000 to the U of M for a service payroll due Friday and $1,400,000 for a faculty payroll due Monday.

The board made no allocation to Wayne State University, deciding that school was in no immediate payroll difficulty.

Gov. G. William Williams said the federal money had not been expected so soon. He added that its arrival only eased the pressure on the state treasury for the moment.

"In spite of the late date and the adverse reports, we have never entirely given up hope of meeting the month-end payroll," said Merrill Pierson, assistant MSU treasurer.

Brooks reported the general fund would contain $5,600,000 on Thursday—more than enough to ensure the payroll to the two major universities.

"No certain plans can be made for MSU's next payroll, however," said Brown.

Shots Prevent Polio; Be Safe, Not Sorry

ANOTHER POLIO season will come with a vengeance for the millions of Americans who have not had their children immunized.

The time of destruction is upon us. The summer of 1954, which has been the most successful in the history of polio immunization, is over. There is a prediction that another epidemic will be inevitable.

It takes but a few minutes to have your child immunized against polio. The university offers a special service for parents who cannot bring their children to the university for immunization.

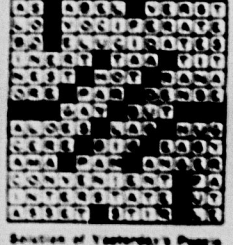

TICKETS FOR THESE immunizations are available at a special rate. To students who have already had their children immunized, it would be only a matter of minutes to have their children immunized again.

A person who has gone through the immunization process should be able to understand the importance of immunization. At this time, the immunization process is being carried out by the university in a special building.

For those who have not had their children immunized, it is a matter of minutes to have their children immunized. The immunization process is being carried out by the university in a special building.

SWL Travel Talk Tonight

Travelers to all foreign ports, and especially Europe, may attend a program designed for them tonight at 7 in room 32, Union.

Spartan Women's League is sponsoring the Travel Tip program to inform the audience of prospective tourists about foreign manners, customs, accommodations, and general travel news.

This year an adept panel of experienced travelers will discuss "The Role of a Good-Will Ambassador Abroad." Moderating the panel will be Dr. Stanley Andrews, executive director of the MSU National Project in Agricultural Communication.

The panel members include Dr. D. H. Brunschweiler, asst. prof. of geography, and director of a student tour of Europe this summer; Debby Schimmel, Springfield, Mass. senior; Chuck Butterworth, Royal Oak senior; and Marilyn Taubee, Detroit junior.

IT'S SPRING and a lady's heart turns toward love as Suzy Trahan, 3, grabs Mike Hoey, also 3, for a sudden kiss. Dumbfounded—or looking that way—is Dicky Trahan, right, holding hammer. He was playing with Mike when Suzy busted things up in Lynn, Mass. Older generation, left, clucks in surprise as Suzy's ardor causes Mike to lose cap. ## Hall of North America Twenty-Year Project Underway in Museum

A 20-year project has begun in the Hall of North American life in the Museum.

The first of seven cases depicts a tropical habitat from the Islands of Tahiti, in Central America. It will be finished in four to six months, according to Henry Klippel, artist and exhibit designer for the Museum. Information for this display was collected during an expedition during the summer of 1958. Dr. Baker, director of the Museum, Victor Hogg, Leslie Drew, and Kever Gieser of the museum staff and Dr. Max Hensley of the zoology department went on the trip.

Animals, insects, leaf samples, flowers and bark were collected in order that an authentic habitat could be reproduced.

The object of having the display, said Baker, is to build a life-like habitat group, a typical community of plants and animals in the tropics.

Klippel said the background will take at least six months to be painted in minute detail and the foreground will take much planning.

The hall, when completed, will include seven cases. These habitats will range from Eastern deciduous woods, tropics, North wood, Sonoran Desert, Great plains, and Rocky mountains to the Arctic Tundra.

A case showing the work that goes into the designing of these cases is now being displayed in the hall. Beginning with the painting of the actual scenery where the animals were found, it shows how animals are stuffed and leaves are made.

Senior Swingout Tradition Of Swings Old Symbol

The swings in front of the Union building Senior Swingout are now just a swing-out of the beginning of the Senior Swingout tradition.

It started in 1910 when senior men pushed poles on real swings in front of their dormitories, Morrill hall and the old Abbott hall.

In 1911 seniors first began marching around the circle in their caps and gowns. Graduates entered the procession through wooden arches of varying colors set up in front of each school.

Five homecoming sponsors the Swingout parade in 1921. They marched to the forest of Arden, now the lawn between the Union, Museum and Music building, to swings except those decorated with flowers.

The swings were still very much in evidence in 1928 when campus fraternities erected their own, complete with fraternity label and list of graduates, in front of the old library.

During the week before Swingout the fraternities swings were soaring high with students, children from the town and an occasional professor.

Following the march around the circle Swingout night graduates entered the parade grounds through a green and white arch and, accompanied by the band, sang college songs in a farewell.

At the close of the Alma Mater, the group broke up and raced back to the swings where graduating seniors took a last swing with the aid of underclassmen.

In 1946 senior caps and gowns were stolen the night before Swingout by junior women. To get revenge seniors poured water on 70 junior men and their basket lunches as they went to the women's dorms to get their dates for a picnic.

For several years Swingout was held along with Can Night when members of all four classes gathered at Sleepy Hollow, near the parade grounds.

After World War II the swings disappeared and for the last few years a single swing has been erected in front of the Union to symbolize the Swingout tradition.

Arab Club Awarded Trophy

First place exhibitors trophy has been awarded to MSU's Arab club by the 1958 International festival committee.

Judges were Dr. Gordon Thomas, Michael Dmochowski and William D'Antonio. The Arab club's exhibit was chosen from 23 other displays at the festival. Second place trophy went to African Association and third place to China Club.

After World War II the swings disappeared and for the last few years a single swing has been erected in front of the Union to symbolize the Swingout tradition.

Eight Yank Golfers Advance

Patton Loses in British Amateur

SANDWICH, England (AP)—The United States sent four of its Walker Cup stars and a quartet of golfing military men into the third round of the British Amateur championship today but lost one of its brightest hopes by the margin of a flubbed three-foot putt.

Miniature Golf Tourney Opens

Miniature golf is turning into a big time sport, if the amount of prize money is any indication. A total of $3,000 in prizes, with a Fiat automobile for the winner, is being offered in the International Miniature Golf tournament at Asbury Park, N.J.

The local qualifying rounds are being held now at the Fairway Golf Range, east of the campus on U.S. 16. Owner Lee Rosengate and pro Ron LaFrange are running the tournament, which will last until Aug. 15 before a winner is sent to New Jersey for the finals on an all-expense paid trip.

Patton, who was the runner-up in the 1957 Walker Cup, lost to William S. Billy, a lights regarded British amateur on the 71st hole of an evening match when his short putt lipped the cup and stayed out.

Patton joined a Walker Cup teammate, Tommie Aaron of Gainesville, Fla., on the 11th hole of a match against Aaron out in the first round Monday over the Royal St. George's course, which again was whipsawed by still gusty winds off the English Channel.

Sigma Nu Wins Tennis Playoff

Sigma Nu topped Delta Tau Delta 4-5 Tuesday in the final of the tennis playoff to gain a berth in the all-conference final. Along with Coral Gables Vets and East Shore, Championship play begins tonight.

The "final" combination of Western Michigan and the Spartans topped Sigma Nu's Jim Green and Brian Bennett in the double match.

IM tennis is scored on the basis of two points for a singles win and three for a doubles victory.

of Britain's finest golf talent, an even dozen Americans were being shoved to the sidelines. Other than Patton, none was rated a threat.

Charlie Cox of Oklahoma City, Walker Cup captain and U.S. amateur champion, again led the advance which included easy victories by his teammates—Bill Hensman III of Abington, Pa., and the two South Youngsters, Jackie Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, and Deane Beman of Silver Spring, Md.

Harold Rogers, the 44-year-old master sergeant who was runner-up to Scotland's Reid Jack two years ago, remained in the running with one of the most convincing triumphs of the day—a 7 and 6 margin over Ben Loring of England. Many British observers felt the slighter-built Scot would be the man to beat for the title.

Yankee Coach Hook Fractures Cheekbone

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Yankee Coach Ralph Houk suffered a double fracture of the right cheek Tuesday night when he was struck by a line drive off the bat of pitcher Don Larsen.

The accident occurred while Houk was pitching batting practice before the regular game between the Yankees and the Boston Red Sox.

Houk will remain under observation for two or three days and may be hospitalized for two or three weeks. He has a severe concussion as well.

Senators Trade '58 AL Rookie of Year

BALTIMORE (AP)—Albie Pearson, the American League Rookie of the Year in 1958, was traded to the Baltimore Orioles Tuesday night by the Washington Senators in exchange for another outfielder, Lonny Green.

Pearson has played in only 24 games in which he batted 198. Last season, the five-foot-six lefty batted 273.

Green has appeared in 26 Orioles games and batted 292. He had been up with the Orioles twice before and finished out last season at Rochester.

Tokyo Gets Summer Olympics For 1964; Detroit's Bid Lose

Japan Has Big Plans For Games

$16 Million Plant Planned for Tokyo

TOKYO (AP)—Japan plans athletic facilities rivaling any in the world for the 1964 Olympics.

Selection of Tokyo Tuesday as the 1964 site touched off an already planned $16,700,000 construction program. When completed it will include:

A tree-shaded Olympic park near central Tokyo housing a 100,000 seat stadium; a giant 50,000 seat outdoor but roofed swimming stadium; a completely refurbished Olympic village to house 10,000 competitors; broad new high speed highways; extensive practice fields and at least 27 modern, western-style hotels.

Financing has been arranged. Many of the basic facilities are already in place.

Heart of the program is the Olympic park, site of the highly successful 1958 Asian games. The 100,000 seat stadium will be an expanded version of an existing stadium seating 60,000. The swimming stadium will be nearby, so too are facilities for fencing, rugby, weightlifting, and baseball if desired.

A new 18,800 acre parking lot is planned.

Nomazawa sports center in southwestern Tokyo will provide hockey fields, volleyball, handball and other playing courts and fields.

Also to be built or rebuilt at scattered locations are a new Yokohama yacht harbor, Koushikawa metropolitan football stadium, a rowing course, two shooting ranges, an equestrian park and an Olympic hall.

Camp Drake, a northwest Tokyo U. S. Army housing area built in 1945, will be rebuilt to house all competitors. It will be equipped with practice areas for all major sports.

New highways will link the village with Olympic park and Komazawa by 30 to 40 minute bus ride, Japan's Olympic committee says.

Cancer Kills Spittballer Big Ed Walsh Dies; Ex-White Sox Ace

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Big Ed Walsh, one of baseball's greatest pitchers, died Tuesday of cancer, a shadow of the man who once won 40 games for the Chicago White Sox.

Since he came to Florida in retirement three years ago, Walsh has been in and out of hospitals. Always he retained his keen interest in modern day baseball.

For years, Walsh was a regular summer visitor at Cooperstown, N.Y., where in 1948 he was inducted into baseball's Hall of Fame. Only failing health could keep him away when new members were being honored.

Less than two weeks ago when he was celebrating his 78th birthday, a bedridden figure, Walsh said he figured "I've got a few innings of living left."

As long as he lived he opposed the ban on spitball pitching that was enacted after he left

'64 Winter Games Go To Austria

Committee Names 'Favorite' Sites

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Tokyo Tuesday was named the 1964 Olympic site and promptly placed "spare no effort" in the games a great effort.

When the Olympic flame in Tokyo's 110,000-seat stadium in July, 1964, it will mark first time that the Olympic sports festival is held in the Far East. The dates will be July 25-Aug. 11.

The winter games were awarded to Innsbruck, Austria, which promised the far-reaching program of the games ever.

Shouts of "Barracuda" throughout Tokyo and leading went up in the valleys as the news of awards reached Tokyo and back.

The selection of Tokyo Innsbruck did not come as a surprise. But Avery Brundage, president of the Olympic committee, was one of the best sports men of the year when he said: "We apparently had no uniformity of views that usually have."

Tokyo won on the first in competition with Vienna and Brussels. The final vote of the 80-member Olympic committee was 40-10-10. Tokyo got 34 votes, Vienna 9 and Brussels 5.

Fred Matthei, who has been seeking the games for the past 20 years, said he was not surprised.

"We got the biggest committee wanted to bid games on another continent," said.

First came the vote for winter games and that was contested. Innsbruck, Canada, and Calgary, Canada, were in the running.

The Canadians were one only for the time being to land the '68 winter games part of Canada's 100th anniversary celebrations.

Detroit, Vienna and Innsbruck all planned to be back for the winter games and bid for the 1964 games with Vienna registered for the 1968 games.

Haddix' 12-Inning Perfect Game Goes for Naught as Braves Win

Adeock's Home Run Finishes It

Hurling Mark Set; 4-Bagger Nullified

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Pittsburgh left-hander Harvey Haddix pitched 12 perfect innings Tuesday night, then lost 2-0 in the 13th to Milwaukee on an error, an intentional walk and a rule-book double by Joe Adeock. The Braves' only hit.

Haddix, credited with a 12-inning no-hitter, retired the first 10 men in order, before Don Williams' throwing error permitted Dick Vanilla to reach base during the 13th inning.

After Ed Mathews sacrificed, Haddix issued the intentional walk to Hank Aaron, but the play batted when Adeock hit a long drive into the stands.

Adeock at first was credited with a home run. But he was declared out and given only a double when he passed Aaron between second and third.

A jubilant Aaron had cut across the diamond without touching third. His run was nullified, however, as Adeock was sent back by his error to touch third and then home. Adeock's run was nullified.

It was a heart-breaking climax for Haddix, who became the first pitcher in history to pitch a perfect game.

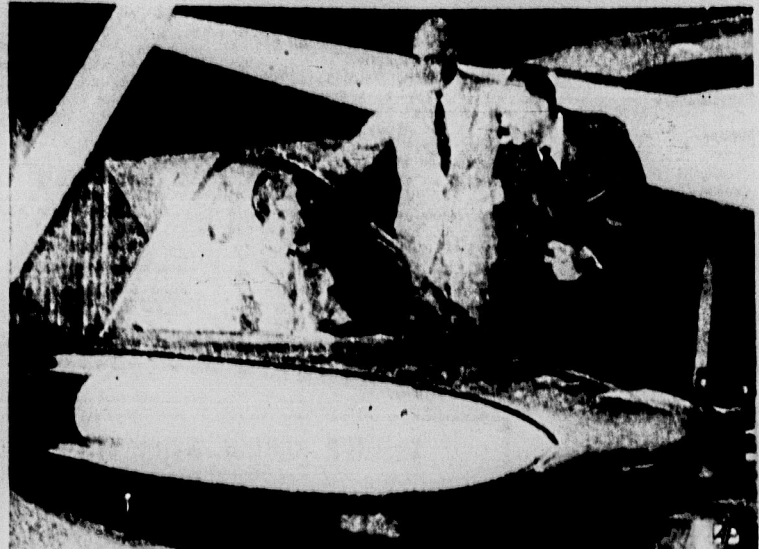

Seven other pitchers, including New York Yankees' Don Larsen in the 1956 World Series, have registered perfect games. Two were National League pitchers before the turn of the century.

The last pitcher to do it in a regular-season game was Charles Robertson of the Chicago White Sox against Detroit on April 30, 1922. He won 2-0.

Steve Barabar was the winning pitcher, pitching brilliantly in a going up a dozen hits. It was his eighth victory—tops in the league—against two defeats.

A crowd of 19,944 sat in on the historic game as Haddix pitched again, going in to the Braves. It was his first complete game since Sept. 14, 1956. And it was his fifth consecutive setback by the Braves since June 24, 1957.

The only perfect games pitched in the National League came within five days of each other in 1880.

Tigers Top Athletics in 9-5 Romp

Foytack Wins 2nd Morgan Homers

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Detroit hitters knocked Ned Garver out in less than three innings Tuesday night and coasted to a 9-5 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

The Tigers continued their 17-hit attack against reliever Murray Dickenson. Dick Tomank and Charlie Maxwell and Tom Morgan, Dick Williams hit a round-tripper to the Athletics.

Morgan came into the game in the seventh in relief of Paul Foytack, who stayed around long enough to get credit for his second pitching decision of the year. He has had six. The best evened Garver, retired at 1-1.

The Tigers jumped on Garver for three runs in the first inning. He hit Eddie Yost with a pitch, walked another batter, tossed a wild pitch and watched Preston Ward make a wild throw to allow a run to score. Al Kaline got the only hit of the inning.

The Tigers also threw out the shortstop, who was out on a ground ball. Kaline strayed into the double play, struck out by the pitcher.

When staunch supporters of the Bowl wanted the representatives to ballot disregarding their school's orders, Tukey stepped in.

Even though he is in favor of the New Year's contest, along with the general Tukey still felt it not proper that the five representatives be asked to go against their school's desires. The vote was not officially taken. If it had been, the result would probably have been 12-1 in favor of the Bowl, he said.

Thus, the Spartans could possibly be Rose Bowl bound in 1961. That is, if they have an outstanding team in 1960 and if the Rose Bowl committee invites a Big 10 member.

Lopez, Terry Join Ailing Yankee Club

Trade With A's 'Demotes' Lumpe, Kucks, Sturdivant

NEW YORK (AP)—The slumping New York Yankees again turned to Kansas City for help Tuesday, completing the 11th deal between the two clubs. The Yanks got infielder Hector Lopez and pitcher Ralph Terry for pitchers Tom Sturdivant and Johnny Kucks, infielder Jerry Lumpe and a fourth player to be named before the start of next season.

The Kansas City-New York shuffle starting Tuesday also moved Al Rosen, base by the A's former Yankee farm territory. He will have received 22 players. Rosen, who shifted back to third base, will have made the trip before the start of the season.

Lopez, 25, is a hardy infielder who has been with the Yankees since 1957. He has been big winners in the conference in the past. North of the border, he will play this season.

Terry, a 6-7 right hander from Chelsea, Ohio, failed to win the Yankee chain until 1957. Then he was tossed into the deal that also sent Billy Martin and Woody Held to the A's for Harry Simpson, Ryan Duren and two minor leaguers. Terry certainly will get into the starting rotation on the New York staff. In seven starts for the A's, the 24-year-old pitcher has managed a 2-1 won-loss record.

Lopez, in the midst of a hitting slump, has hit .187 in 12 at-bats, including 29. He has six homers and 24 runs.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Calvin Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, said it again Tuesday. He has no plans to move the ball club to another city.

Griffith made the comment after the U.S. Court of Appeals here ruled that District of Columbia law does not come a legal block to switching the Senators to the American League franchise.

If Gabriel Murphy, who owns more than 40 percent of the club's stock, had sought an order to bar any move, the appeals court rejected his argument that District of Columbia incorporation laws required the team to locate here and only here.

Murphy and Griffith, whose family holds controlling interest, have discussed repeatedly since their operations. Murphy filed his suit last year when the Senators were considering a transfer to Minneapolis.

Says MSU Faculty Representative Rose Bowl Mixup Is Needless

By JIM WALLINGTON

Concern was expressed Tuesday by Dr. Harold B. Tukey, MSU's faculty representative to the Big 10, over what he called needless misunderstanding and excitement about the conference's present stand on the Rose Bowl.

According to Tukey, here is what happened:

Last weekend the faculty representatives of the Big 10 met in Ann Arbor and turned down the extension of the Rose Bowl contract after the 1960 game. There was a 5-3 split.

Then it was brought out that a clause in the rules permitted Big 10 participation in the Rose Bowl with or without a contract.

A motion to strike out the Bowl participation clause failed to carry as the same 5-3 vote split.

This is the situation now. Any school can participate in the Rose Bowl at the invitation of the Rose Bowl committee. A school can be invited to play regardless of its finish in the conference standings. The school can also keep the $400,000 visitor's share which has been split 12 ways in the past.

Tukey pointed out that the Rose Bowl committee doesn't have to invite a Big 10 team to play in the Bowl.

The Big 10 took action to remedy the situation by appointing two committees.

For Male Students

Summer Dormitory Reservations Due

Abbot Hall will be the only on-campus housing facility for undergraduate men attending school this summer.

Men wanting to live in university housing during any part of the summer school year must make a room reservation today or Thursday. Applications for on-campus housing may be picked up in the General Offices of all men's dormitories.

Any student wanting to reserve a special room must bring his completed housing application to the Abbot Hall general office between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. May 27 and 28. Rooms will be reserved on a first come basis. Men wanting to room together must make their reservation together; no student will be allowed to reserve a room for another.

Students not reserving a special room can return their completed housing application to the Manager's Office of all resident halls. A room will be assigned to them before the start of the summer session.

The housing blank must state for how long the room will be used: first five weeks, second five weeks, or for a ten week period. Mrs. Lewis, of the Housing Office, said that this deadline applies only to men living in university housing; off-campus residents can put in an application any time previous to the start of summer school.

Presents Film

Howell Lumberman Arthur Thurston will present a film on hunting the Alaskan brown bear at the Fisheries and Wildlife Clubs' meeting tonight at 7:30.

Jr. 500 Course Ready for Use

The new Junior 500 course has been temporarily slaked out along West Clinic Drive for the benefit of those wishing to practice, according to Bob Peck, chairman of the track.

White stakes mark the relay points and the start and finish line by the Women's Gym. The line has been moved back to its traditional position since Women's Gym construction is complete.
