Big Three Counters Gromyko's Charge Of Harboring Spies

GENEVA (AP)—The Big Three western powers staged a dramatic counterattack Monday. They accused the Soviet Union of using Communist East Berlin and East Germany as staging areas for widespread subversive activities against West Germany.

Speculate Lloyd's Fate At Geneva

GENEVA (AP)—A wild buzz of speculation about the political fate of British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd swirled around the Big Four.

Speculation was sparked by reports in the usually authoritative London Times, which stated that Prime Minister Harold Macmillan expects to put another foreign secretary in his place after elections expected in July.

Once the possible machinations and meanings behind the main talking point of hundreds of diplomats and newsmen attending this conference, the role of Lloyd has been playing on behalf of the British government—a role which would be conciliatory between East and West—was called into question.

Authorized members of the British delegation swiftly to report that no change of British foreign secretary is contemplated, that no one exists of Lloyd leaving the post of the foreign office before the next general election in October, that no word has reached the official of Lloyd's impending transfer to another cabinet post.

Lloyd himself was understood to have read the London Times report with as much astonishment and resentment as the 90 members of the British delegation.

Lloyd and his fellow-Britishers were astonished, American, French, Soviet and German officials seemed stunned by what the Times said to say at this critical point in the East-West negotiations.

A prime minister must not be too much from his ministerial galleys, the report said. "In the foreign secretary's interests, and for the sake of the country and his party, a reasonable term must be set to carrying of the burden."

The Veterans' Wives Banquet Set

The Veterans' Wives will hold their fourth annual banquet Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the Carter Hotel.

Anyone interested in attending should contact Shirley Thornton at ED 7-0189 or Shirley Davis at ED 2-5494.

Election of officers for next year will be held, and nine women will receive their FHT degrees (putting hubby through).

The nine women include Norma Anderson, Valerie Easton, Martha Jorgenson, Yvonne Katz, Ruth LePerriere, Donna Maister, Bobra Mulliner, Marjorie Van Patten and Barbara Summerlin.

Diploma Distribution Change Announced

Diplomas will not be ready for distribution June 17 as previously stated in the State News. Bachelor candidate degrees will be ready June 23. Diplomas for masters and doctoral candidates will not be ready until July 1.

Lansing and East Lansing graduates are asked to call for their diplomas at the Senior Office, 106 Ad. All other diplomas will be mailed to the students' home address.

Can't Give It Away!

WILLIAM WALTZ, above, wants no part of nearly $40,000 left him at Akron, Ohio, by relatives, plus a court verdict award—but at Los Angeles, Calif., he says "Let 'em give it to a hospital or to the Red Cross. I keep trying to tell them that, but the internal revenue people won't let me give it away."

'Route 76' Blueprints Shaping Up

By JOYCE ROBB

Final blueprints for "Route U. S. 76," the 1959 Water Carnival, were moved to the Red Cedar river at midnight Monday as float construction nears completion.

Construction deadline has been set at 5 p.m. Thursday with points being deducted for living units continuing to work after the designated time.

The 1959 extravaganza will run three nights, Thursday, Friday and Saturday including the nightly parade of floats, water sports and side-lights and intermission entertainment.

Thirty-five floats, including 70 living units working jointly, are slated to participate in the practice run Thursday at 2 p.m.

Police and Securities committee for "Route U. S. 76" is responsible for protecting all Water Carnival property and individual floats from damage. This group will be working in conjunction with the department of public safety.

No traffic will be allowed across the Farm Lane bridge or within the area of Farm Lane from the Aud to Shaw Lane from 6 p.m. the nights of the performances until the event is over. A fence will be erected across the bridge with only a small lane open for emergency purposes.

A night watch force has been planned over the construction area by the campus police force, the police and securities committee, Pershing Rifles and student guides.

Floats can not be moved from the position they are assigned during construction without a heavy penalty of deducted points, according to Bill Livingston, committee chairman.

There will be an emergency car with first aid equipment available at all times during the show. If an emergency arises, students are asked to contact the nearest guard or police officer.

Water Carnival tickets are on sale in the Union, Berkeley Hall and on South Campus.

Junior Council Members Chosen

Ten sophomores have been elected by the junior class officers to compose next year's Junior Council. Members were chosen from over 80 petitions.

New Junior Council members include: J-Hop, Arnie Roberts, East Lansing; and Bonnie Lestello, Detroit; State News, Annette Krause, Grosse Pointe; publicity, Linda Templeman, Findlay, Ohio; special events, Marcia Petrie, Pontiac.

Tax Exempt Benefits In Review

Court Will Examine Income Tax Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court Monday agreed to review a decision that benefits paid by unions to striking workers are exempt from federal income taxes.

The decision by the U.S. Circuit Court in Chicago was appealed to the high tribunal by the government.

The appeal said many thousands of taxpayers receive millions of dollars in strike benefits each year. It said the Circuit Court decision, announced Dec. 22, 1958, ran counter to policy of the Internal Revenue Service that such benefits constitute taxable income.

The Circuit Court observed that strike benefits are intended to prevent want, as are public assistance benefits. It reasoned, therefore, that the benefits were gifts and not taxable.

In urging the Supreme Court to review and overturn the Circuit Court decision, the Justice Department said "the issue is a continuing and growing one affecting a very large number of taxpayers, who are generally in the lowest tax brackets and can ill afford the costs of litigation."

Wolverine Distribution

The distribution schedule for the 1959 Wolverine has been advanced one day for off-campus living units.

Off-campus students and members of fraternities and sororities who do not live in their homes may pick up their Wolverines in the old STUN office, 24 Student Services, beginning at 1 p.m. today.

Wolverine Applications

All applications for editorial and business positions on the 1960 Wolverine must be turned in to the office, 24 Student Services, by Wednesday at 5 p.m. Applications may be obtained in the office.

ROBERT NATHAN, center, talks with Clifford Hildreth, head of the economics department, and Einar Hardin, economics and industrial relations. Relive Old Tradition Seniors Don Gowns For 49th Swingout

By KIL ERICKSON

Graduating seniors will don their caps and gowns for a last swing around the campus at 7:30 tonight as they observe the 49-year-old Senior Swingout tradition.

The band under the direction of Prof. Leonard Faloutsos will lead the procession with the senior officers and senior council members.

The parade will begin at Az Hall, the first school established at MSU, where the Agricultural graduates will fall in behind the band, and continue around Circle Drive picking up seniors in the approximate order that the schools were established.

Engineering graduates will meet at Olds Hall, Home Economics seniors at the Home Building, Education and Business and Public Services seniors at Morrill Hall, Communications Art seniors at the Journalism building, Science and Arts graduates will join the procession at the Natural Science building and Veterinary Medicine students will meet at Giltner Hall.

The graduates will march to Forehand theater. In case of rain there will be no procession and participants should go directly to Forehand, according to Marie Bonaker, S.A. student chairman.

President Hannan will give the major address. Others scheduled to speak are Jack Kintney, director of the placement bureau, and Stuart Keebler, director of alumni.

Dave Ball, president of the senior class will give the class history and announce '59 club officers.

Officers for the '59 club will be elected and announced at the ceremony.

Candidates include: president, David McCaffrey, East Lansing; and Dick Schaff, Grosse Pointe Farms; vice president, Dave Ball, Ferguson, Mo.; and Joe Flanagan, Chicago, Ill.; secretary, Sue Campbell, Asheville, N.C.; and Jean Judy, Dearborn; and treasurer, Lana Darr, Mason; and Rook Shank, Toledo, Ohio.

Spartan Petitioning Closes Thursday

Thursday is the deadline for all editor or business manager applications for the 1959-60 SPARTAN Magazine staff.

Williams' Legislators Meet for Consultation

Four Miners Killed, 16 Hurt In Searing 'Belch of Hell'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Governor Williams sat down with six upper Peninsula legislators Monday night in a concerted effort to set up a mining code for the state following the early morning mine blast at Iron River which claimed the lives of four persons while injuring 16 others.

Strauss Hit For Trying 'Deception'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lewis Strauss was accused Monday of trying to deceive the Senate Commerce Committee during its hearings on his nomination as Secretary of Commerce.

The accusation was made by Sen. Gale McGee (D-Wyo.) in a prepared Senate speech, foreshadowing an expected bitter fight over the nomination in the Senate later this week.

Senate Republican leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois, told newsmen he doesn't expect President Eisenhower to withdraw Strauss' nomination.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.), threatening a filibuster to prevent Strauss' confirmation, suggested last week that Eisenhower withdraw the nomination.

Dirksen said Monday he has no reason to believe Strauss won't win confirmation.

Strauss, now serving as Secretary of Commerce under a recess appointment, was approved by the Commerce Committee, but by a narrow margin, 9-8.

The Wyoming Democrat challenged Strauss' denial that Strauss ever had seen before a letter written in 1956 by the Attorney General. That letter, said the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, should be consulted before any agreements were made for exchanging nuclear information with allied nations.

McGee contended Strauss was aware of the letter in 1956. Strauss tried to deceive us by saying he had never seen such a letter until recently during the hearings, McGee said.

Cohort Rejects Job Opportunity

WASHINGTON (AP)—A railroad financier who became an issue in the Lewis Strauss controversy Monday withdrew from consideration to head a Commerce Department study of transportation problems.

Armand Erpf, in a radiogram from a Europe-bound liner, told Strauss he feels his usefulness in such a study "is being impaired and hence please withdraw my name from consideration," Erpf's message was made public by the Department.

Russian-Made Car Breaks Down on Duty

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—A Russian-made Zis from the government's car pool broke down twice recently on its assignment to carry a VIP, Yugoslav Vice President Edvard Kardelj, on a tour of the Danish countryside.

Emergency repairs restored the engine after the two breakdowns, but the Zis' speed was so reduced that Kardelj arrived at Elsinore an hour late for a luncheon given in his honor by Foreign Minister Jens Otto Krag.

University Provides Intellectual Benefits

EDITOR'S NOTE: When preparing requests to a dozen faculty members for an article on education, the State News suggested four questions as a guide to the authors which appear in the following piece by Dr. Russel Nye, Dr. Nye, head of the division of language and literature, will retire from the latter position in September. An accomplished author, Nye won the Pulitzer and Knopf prizes for biography in 1945 for his book, "George Bancroft: Brahmin Rebel." His article is the third in a series.

What is your concept of a true education?
 An education is primarily a personal thing, to be perceived, defined, and judged in terms of the individual. Its aim is to enable an individual to establish the proper relationships and control of them among himself, his fellow-men, the universe which surrounds him, and the framework of ideas in which he must always exist. The mind of an educated person must be a practiced instrument for comprehension and appreciation of these relationships, so that he may know how to think and act.

Education is, in effect, learning how to live and act, in the broadest and deepest sense of the words, in relation to one's self, one's society, and one's world. Woodrow Wilson, when he was president of Princeton, phrased it admirably by writing, "The final synthesis of learning is philosophy. You shall most clearly judge the spirit of a university by the philosophy it teaches, and the philosophy of conduct is what every wise man should wish to derive." This still holds true.

Secondarily, an education is also a function of the society in which it exists; it is the means by which the community maintains and transmits its physical and intellectual character, and by which it changes, deriving solely from the creation of educated individuals within that society.

Because he lives in a universe built of certain kinds of materials, the educated person must study the physical sciences. Because this world is populated with living things, of whom he is one, he must study the biological sciences. He lives within a complex and highly integrated society, which he must understand, mold to his personal needs, and to which he must eventually in some manner adapt—hence the study of the social sciences.

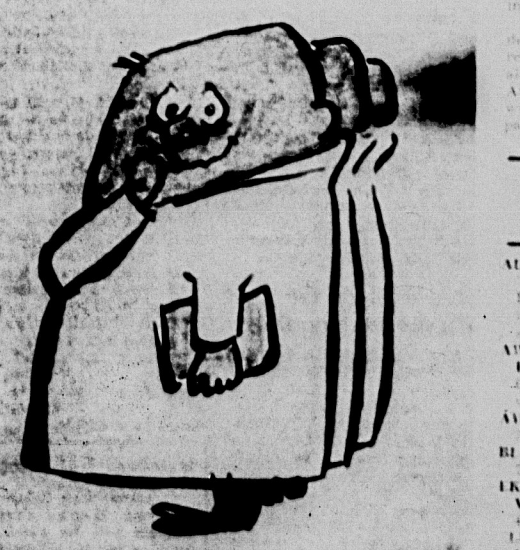

Men think and communicate; therefore they must learn how to employ language, logic, and mathematics. Since men by their nature are impelled to enjoy and to create the beautiful, they must know literature, the fine arts, and music. And as each man, in his fashion, hopes to understand the sum of existence and to evolve a singular life of his own in reference thereto—so he must have philosophy and religion. In these things lies an education.

Nothing more or less than what has always been wrong, that it does not realize the ideal—nor will it ever, probably, Aristotle wrote sadly in his day, "All people do not agree on those things they would have a child taught, both with respect to improvement in virtue and a nappy life," and we have reached no clear and lasting agreement since. Specifically, I think we still do too much training and not enough educating; we tolerate too much conformity and ask too little independence of mind; we encourage too much organization and foster too little self-reliance. (Henry David Thoreau, the world hath need of these.)

What can be done to fix it?
 One thing, I believe, is to make sure that educational institutions are places where students think, have something to think about, and become fully aware of the need to think to noble and useful ends.

If you could sit down with every student for fifteen minutes what advice would you give him?
 I should say first, remember that the university exists to provide you with intellectual discipline and enrichment. Make full use of its resources, for time and mortality grant no second chance. I should say second, never concede that knowledge is perfect. That society has reached its goals, or that you know all that you need to know. I should then ask the student to think about these two things for the next fourteen and a half minutes.

An essential part of the academic life is the way when it is devoted to the head throughout all intellectual exercises. At points it is uncertain how or when the consciousness becomes part of the understanding the cap of the head.

"We tolerate too much conformity and ask too little independence of mind."—Dr. Russel Nye

ROY DEBOER, EAST LANSING JUNIOR, shows the type of gown worn by candidates for the Doctor's Degree. The various degrees have different hoods and trimming on the gowns as well as colored tassels on mortar boards for various colleges.

Color, Pageantry Commencement Robes Have Many Traditions

Commencement exercises at MSU involve many interesting traditions and established practices. Behind the pageantry and color of commencement lies the tradition that was established in 1894 by a group of early American educators. This group met at Columbia University and drafted a code of regulations governing commencement garments.

Designs of the gowns representing different degrees and colors indicating various faculties were chosen. Since that time this code has been adopted by nearly all colleges and universities in America.

Wearing long gowns began in medieval society when most scholars were studying to be clerics in Holy Orders, monks or priests. Cold, damp buildings were the main reason for such a costume. Academic outfits as such originated at the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge in England over 600 years ago.

The Intercollegiate group chose three types of gowns. The bachelor's gown, made of black worsted material and having long pointed sleeves. The master's gown of either black silk or wool with long closed sleeves and the arc of a circle near the bottom. In the master's gown the arms slip through a slit thus giving the appearance of short sleeves.

Doctors' gowns are made of black silk and have velvet facings. The sleeves have three bars of velvet on them. They are full and open. The velvet may be the same color as the binding on the hood or the may be black.

Hoods, the most distinctive feature of the American Code, remain in the shape of a narrow neckband connecting the two sides and shape distinguishes the degree of the wearer. The bachelor's hood is 1 foot in length. The master's is 3 1/2 feet while the doctor's is 4 feet and has velvet.

As the graduates march down the aisle June 7, they will be wearing their uniforms, not just caps and gowns. On the historic side they serve to remind those of the continuity and dignity of learning. The entire commencement system is as meaningful as it is awesome, especially when its background and purposes are properly understood and recognized.

Louisiana Gov. Under Psychiatric Observation

Doctors Seek Cooperation

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — A medical spokesman Monday said physicians seek to determine "what specific psychiatric problem, if any" is troubling Louisiana Gov. Earl Long.

In obviously guarded statements, Dr. John Truslow said, "every attempt is being made to achieve his cooperation with continuing studies." The statement indicated without specifically saying so that the governor is receiving care.

"We know the eyes of the country are on us, so we are making every human effort to arrive at a diagnosis as soon as possible," Dr. Truslow said.

"This isn't just an ordinary case—we all know that," he added.

The governor flew here Saturday from Louisiana's capital of Baton Rouge and was placed in the hospital's psychiatric clinic under care of Dr. Titus Harrie, internationally known psychiatrist.

His trip followed tantrum-like outbursts before the Louisiana legislature.

In store for Long are detailed physical and mental checkups, Dr. Truslow said.

The doctor said, "The extra nurses were put on duty because of the importance of the man and as a precaution." He said the family requested the extra care.

The 63-year-old governor slipped out of the capitol Saturday for the hush-hush flight.

In the week before, he twice rocked the legislature with emotional outbursts against his political foes and with name calling and shouted boasts.

Political reaction in Louisiana was fast.

His nephew, Sen. Russell Long (D-La.) went before a stormy legislative session last night to explain that the governor's health had broken under the strain of office. He said his uncle may be away "for a considerable period of time."

Six representatives opposed hearing Sen. Long's report, and because of the friction, he three times started to walk out. Appeals from other members brought him back.

Opponents of Long point out that the Louisiana Constitution permits removal of a governor if he is incapacitated.

They view his flight as a maneuver to block his removal from office, since with Lt. Gov. Letnar Praxair acting as governor they might face trouble in trying to oust Long.

Iraq Nixes Military Assistance

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — The American Embassy said Monday Iraq has renounced American military aid on the ground it conflicts with the country's positive neutrality policy.

The Iraq Foreign Ministry sent a note to the embassy Saturday terminating the military assistance agreement of 1954, the supplement to the military agreement signed a year later, and the minor 1957 economic assistance agreement.

The politely phrased note emphasized the abrogation was not meant as an unfriendly act.

"We desire a growth of friendship between the two countries on the basis of mutual understanding and friendship," it said.

In Washington, the state department said the Iraq government has canceled not only the 1954 military aid agreement but also a July 23, 1957 agreement providing American assistance to help establish a communications network in the country.

The telecommunications project was part of a move by Baghdad Pact countries to link their defense forces more closely together as a pre-emptive measure against surprise attacks.

Department press officer Lincoln White said the note made no mention of Premier Kassem's reported intention of ending all American technical aid as well.

The state department declined to comment on the cancellation of the military aid agreement.

Offer 5-Week Sessions

Summer Sessions Set As Third Term Closes

Only 22 more days until MSU's summer session begins its five-week sessions.

Two 5-week sessions offer a student an opportunity to carry a full term load of credits, with a maximum of eight credits per session, according to Clair Taylor, director of summer school and evening college.

The first session, beginning June 24 will end July 30 with the second session beginning July 31 and ending Sept. 4. A student may enroll for the first session or remain for the complete term.

The program sets the university on a 4-term basis enabling the student to complete a 4-year program in three years. Courses will be offered in all the colleges.

MSU takes pride in offering to students during the summer term distinguished members of its own faculty but also many outside minds brought in from other institutions for this period of instruction.

Residence halls are available for both graduate and undergraduate men and women. An application may be obtained by

Director, 237 Student Services

All the services available during the regular school year will continue. Included will be the State News, published weekly under the direction of Hardy Christ.

The summer school enrollment has been continually increasing. In 1955 enrollment stood at 4,612; in 1956, at 5,400; in 1957, at 6,715; in 1958, at 8,025. Taylor expects the number to go up to over 9,000.

Last year approximately 45 percent of the total enrollment were grad students. This year there is an expected 50 percent.

Summer school catalogues are available at the Registrar's office in the Administration Bldg. To date, some 18,000 catalogues have been distributed.

Applications for admission may be obtained by writing the Registrar. It must be filed one week prior to registration, June 24.

Segregationist Seeks Ban

'Three Little Pigs' Saga Replaces Black Rabbit

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A Miami segregation leader leveled a blast at "The Three Little Pigs" Monday and said he was trying to get the Florida legislature to wipe it off the state's bookshelves.

David Hawthorn said clever integrationists had gotten hold of the old folk tale and were trying to brainwash American youngsters with a version that pictured a black pig as superior to a white pig.

Hawthorn said that in his opinion the pig story was "much worse than the rabbit story" which has come under attack in Alabama because it pictured the black pig as superior.

He displayed a copy of the book which showed on its cover a white pig, a black and a white and black pig dancing a jig.

As Hawthorn interpreted it, it's the white pig and the black and white who are eaten by the big bad wolf. That leaves the black pig who had fashioned his house out of brick.

But Hawthorn has gotten the brushoff from Florida legislators in his efforts to get a bill introduced to ban the book from schools and libraries.

"I wouldn't touch it with a 10 foot pole," said one legislator who had been contacted by Hawthorn.

Hawthorn is president of the Dade County Property Owners Assn., an ancient segregation organization which has been fighting efforts to integrate white neighborhoods in the Miami area.

The book follows the same old brainwashing routine," Hawthorn said. "It shows a white pig and a mulatto pig who are destroyed and the black pig survives."

He said that originally all the pigs were white but that about seven years ago the book began appearing with two of the pigs in color.

In Alabama, protests against the little black rabbit and the little white rabbit in "The Rabbit's Wedding" showed the book off the open shelves of Alabama public libraries and put it on a reserved list—available on request.

Eddie Machen Contests Fight Of Johansson and Patterson

NEW YORK (AP) — Eddie Machen's manager testified Monday a contract had been signed by Swedish promoter Edwin Ahlquist for a return bout between Machen and Ingemar Johansson the day before the two fought last September 14.

The manager, Sid Flaherty of San Francisco, said the contract was signed by Ahlquist at Göteborg, Sweden, the site of the fight.

Johansson knocked out Machen of Redding, Calif., in the first round to become the leading challenger and later signed for a title bout with world champion Floyd Patterson at Yankee Stadium, June 25.

Machen and Flaherty are seeking to enjoin Johansson from fighting Patterson until he first gives Machen a return fight. They claim under the contract Johansson must fight Machen before he fights anyone else.

The case is being heard by federal judge Irving Kaufman without a jury.

Machen was in court Monday but did not testify. Johansson's lawyer said the Swedish challenger will break training and appear Wednesday. Earlier, the lawyer, Ben Herzberg, had asked Judge Kaufman to excuse Johansson from appearing.

Johansson contends that Ahlquist is his adviser, and not his manager, and had no authority to agree to a rematch. He contends further that Ahlquist signed the contract under duress.

Flaherty said that shortly after he arrived in Sweden, prior to the fight, he contacted Ahlquist regarding an agreement for a return bout if Machen should lose.

Flaherty said he and Ahlquist discussed televising a possible return bout in the U.S. The manager said he telephoned from Sweden to Truman Gibson, president of the International Boxing Club (now defunct), who was in Chicago. Flaherty said Gibson authorized the TV for the fight and tentatively set San Francisco as the site.

Flaherty said the rematch agreement was signed the day before the fight and that he had no knowledge at that time of reports Johansson was being considered for a fight with Patterson.

He said it wasn't until several days after Machen's defeat that he heard rumors and read newspaper speculation that Johansson was not going to give Machen a rematch before fighting for the world championship.

After Flaherty testified for 90 minutes, the case was recessed until this morning.

Sugar Ray Robinson To Hear Final Ruling

NEW YORK (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson will learn today whether he still has a piece of the world middleweight boxing title.

The New York Athletic Commission has announced it will hand down its verdict Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. (EST) on whether it will strip the 39-year-old fighter of New York recognition as champion.

The National Boxing Assn. vacated the title last May 4 because Robinson had gone long beyond the six months period in which he was due to defend his crown.

Robinson had been ordered by the New York commission to sign for a defense against Basilio or face loss of the title. After holding hearings at which both Robinson and Basilio testified, the commission reserved decision.

12 Goblets = 12 Innings

Haddix Receives Award For Pitching Lost Game

CINCINNATI (AP)—The National League has decided to give pitcher Harvey Haddix a silver tray and a dozen sterling goblets for his almost perfect game.

Haddix rewrote the record books May 26 when he pitched 12 consecutive perfect innings for Pittsburgh's Pirates against Milwaukee.

The Braves finally got one hit and put across a run in the 13th inning to win, 1-0.

League president Warren Giles announced plans for the gift Monday and said it will probably go presented at Forbes Field sometime during the Pirates' home stand which ends June 14.

The goblets are to represent the 12 innings, and each will be engraved with a play-by-play account of the Braves going down in order in each inning. The tray will be inscribed as follows:

"To Harvey Haddix in recognition of his outstanding performance—unprecedented in baseball history—Pitching 12 Consecutive Perfect Innings"

Game of May 26, 1959

Pittsburgh 000 000 000 000 0-0 12 1 Milwaukee 000 000 000 000 1-1 1 0

Presented by National League of Professional Baseball Clubs

Giles conferred with Haddix here over the week-end and suggested the tray and goblet theme, but told Haddix he was welcome to any other memento he might prefer.

"That will be a perfect remembrance," Haddix told Giles. "I couldn't think of anything I'd rather have to recall the occasion."

Patterson Knocks Out Sparmate

CHATHAM, N.J. (AP)—Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson floored another sparring partner Monday in a brisk four round workout.

Howie Davis of Glen Cove, N.Y. was a victim in the third round of Floyd's boxing drill. The champ decked the 180-pound sparmate with a fast left and right to the jaw.

Patterson punched sharply in his other one-round sessions with Billy Tisdale, Lou Jones and Johnny Byrd.

It was the fifth straight day of boxing for Patterson who is preparing for his title defense against Sweden's Ingemar Johansson at Yankee Stadium, June 25. He will not box today.

Patterson's drills are in sharp contrast to Johansson's workouts. The undefeated European champion says he does not believe in flooring sparring partners.

"I don't like to use my right with all my strength in training," said Johansson at his Grossinger, N.Y., camp Sunday. "I will save it for Patterson when we fight."

Pirates Win 8 of 11 Pittsburgh Baseball Fans Look for Pennant Hopeful

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Everybody knows a magician can do tricks. But how long can Danny Murtaugh keep up the magic with his Pittsburgh Pirates?

The answer may come in the two-week home stand that has this rabid baseball town talking pennant once again. It wasn't a few weeks ago.

But the last 11 games have changed the complexion of things and the Pirate management is licking its chops in anticipation that team is finally on its way.

It all started Friday a week ago with Murtaugh benching first baseman Dick Stuart and shortstop Dick Groat for a few games. Rocky Nelson took over at first and Dick Schofield played shortstop.

The Pirates promptly won eight out of 11 — four straight from the Cincinnati Reds, one of three from Milwaukee and three of four more with the Reds.

One of the setbacks was a heart-breaking 1-0 loss to the Braves in 13 innings despite 12 perfect innings of pitching by southpaw Harvey Haddix.

Haddix was slated for his regular turn on the mound Sunday but Murtaugh kept the little guy deserved an extra couple days' rest after his masterful performance.

Haddix will pitch against the St. Louis Cardinals tonight as the all important home stand opens. He'll be opposed by either "Vinegar" Bend Mizell or Larry Jackson. To whet their appetites, Pirate fans will see the Cards and Pirates complete a suspended game before the regular contest. The suspended game finds the Bucs trailing the Cards 2-1 in the bottom of the seventh.

Pirate fans are buzzing, particularly because of the booming bats of Bob Skinner, Smokey Burgess and Don Hoak. They've hit a total of 11 homers in the last four games, with Skinner getting five and Burgess and Hoak three apiece.

Pitcher Bob Friend has won his first game after seven straight losses and Roy Face, the forkball specialist, continues to amaze with his fine relief pitching. He has seven victories without a loss this season and is strong of 12 going back to his last defeat in May of 1958.

While the Pirates have been coming with a rush, Murtaugh is hard up for outfielders. Roberto Clemente is on the disabled list and his replacement, Joe Christopher from Columbus, was hurt a few days ago.

Despite all this the Pirates are only 4½ games back of the place Milwaukee. If Murtaugh keeps up his magic, Pirate fans hope to see their first pennant winner since 1957.

Southern League Has Split Season

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Directors of the class A Southern Assn., struggling to bolster sagging attendance, voted Monday to split the 1959 season.

The standings slate will be wiped clean after games of June 14.

This will give each club a new chance to race into the upper reaches of the league and give fresh enthusiasm to fans.

So far the fans in the Southern Assn. have showed only too well how little they care. Attendance is down from last year at all points except New Orleans and Nashville.

Atlanta, Nashville, New Orleans, Chattanooga and Shreveport approved the split season. Birmingham, Mobile and Memphis opposed it.

Unless the same team wins both halves of the split season, the two victors will meet in a best-of-seven series for the pennant at the end of the regular 154-game season.

The post-season playoff between half-season champions automatically knocks out the traditional Shaughnessy Playoff among the top four finishers in the Southern.

The All-Star game will remain on schedule for July 4 at the home field of the team that is leading the league after games of July 12. The stars will play the leaders.

Charlie Hurth, president of the Southern Assn., called the special directors meeting and said only:

"The majority of the club felt that this was far more beneficial for the league as a whole for apparent reasons we listed about a lot of other things but this was the only action taken."

Earl Mann, general manager of the second-division Miami Crackers led the move for a special meeting and was the motion for a split season.

After the vote he said there is no cure-all but I think it will help us in Atlanta. We started the season with only four players that we had. It's a new club. A new year undoubtedly will help in interest and every other way.

The last time the Southern played a split season was in 1957.

Frank Robinson Leads In RBI's for National

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Robinson of Cincinnati and Bill Skowron of the New York Yankees did some powerful hitting while batting leaders Hank Aaron of Milwaukee and Harvey Kuenn of Detroit went into a tailspin during the final week of May.

Robinson drove in 10 runs to take over the National League RBI lead with 47. Skowron has batted in 14 runs in his last six games to move to within two of pace-setting Harmon Killebrew of Washington. Skowron has 37 and Killebrew, who also leads the American League in homers, has 39.

Robinson also cracked five homers and moved into a second place tie with Aaron in the National League's home run competition. Each has 14. Eddie Mathews of the Braves leads with 16.

Meanwhile, Aaron lost 4½ points with only seven hits in 24 efforts at bat. His average tumbled from .481 to .419. Smokey Burgess of Pittsburgh remained in second place with a .364 batting average and a .370 resulting from 24 safeties in 24 tries. Willie Mays of San Francisco moved up 1½ places to third on an eight-point pickup to .339. Mays collected nine hits in 23 at bats. Yogi Berra of Cincinnati also advanced two notches to fourth. The fleet Reds' outfielder climbed 10 points to .333 with another 24 hitting.

Kuenn, the American League leader, dropped 4½ points. He managed only three hits in 24 efforts and showed a .334 mark through Sunday's games. Nelson Fox of the Chicago White Sox, the runner-up, also lost ground. He tumbled off 19 points to .344 with five safe blows in 23 attempts. Al Kaline of Detroit remained in third place at .333.

Mickey Mantle of the Yankees and Gene Woodling of Baltimore made the most progress. Mantle zoomed 39 points, from .288 to .327, by collecting 12 hits in 23 trips (a .322 pace). Woodling moved up 29 points on a 12-for-28 performance. Mantle and Woodling are deadlocked with Roger Maris of Kansas City, who is recovering from an appendectomy.

Killebrew slammed three more homers last week for a season total of 18. He leads Rocky Colavito of Cleveland of five.

Tigers Win 7th in Row, Three-One

Bengals Close With Top Four

DETROIT (AP)—Paul Foytack, with a string of 10 straight incomplete games behind him, pitched a nifty five-hitter to the Cleveland Indians Monday and the Detroit Tigers captured a 3-1 victory at Briggs Stadium.

The reballing righthander, usually plagued by wildness, did not issue a walk and scattered the singles in posting his third shutout against six losses.

He bested young Gary Bell in a pitcher's duel, decided on a run-inning homer by Eddie Yost. The veteran third baseman, who has raised his average to .300 with a six game hitting streak, broke a 1-1 tie with his hit home run off the facing of the upper deck in left field.

The Tigers got an insurance run in the seventh when with one out, Frank Bolling sliced a triple to the rightfield corner and scored on a passed ball.

The Indians, slipping badly and in danger of losing their grip on first place, scored their only run in the second inning. Vic Power and Woody Held singled and Russ Nixon scored power with a fly to center.

Detroit led it in the fourth when Charlie Maxwell got an untold single and came around on a walk, a sacrifice bunt and a sacrifice fly by Lou Berberet.

By winning their seventh game in the last eight starts, the Tigers crept to within one game of the first division.

Today was Ladies Day at Briggs Stadium for the first time since World War II and 3,400 women showed up.

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Hanna Baumstein's Royal Orbit, heir of the Preakness, will carry top weight of 127 pounds in the $25,000-added Peter Pan Handicap at Belmont Park Saturday.

The mile and one-eighth race will be a stepping stone toward the $125,000 Belmont June 13.

Four of the last eight winners of the Peter Pan have gone on to win the Belmont stakes, final race of the triple crown. They were Countypoint, High Gun, Gallant Man and Cavan.

Royal Orbit will be asked to live nine pounds to Howard Becks Bagdad, next at 118. Then comes Emil Duker's Man-of-War, winner of the Woodward Memorial, at 117.

The West Virginian, a four-time runner-up but never a winner of the blue ribbon event, almost didn't make it. After a double bogey six on the unlucky 13th hole in the morning round, he faced the necessity of getting a birdie three on the 36th hole to make the grade at Washington, D.C.

He pitched in within five feet and sank for a 72-70-112, just enough. He joined young Deane Roman of Silver Spring, Md., the new British amateur cham-

New Indianapolis Rule

Flameproofed Clothes Saves Drivers' Lives

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Three accident victims from Saturday's 500-mile auto race may be under hospital treatment two to six weeks, but it might have been worse without flameproofed clothes.

Dr. C. E. Bohner, medical director at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, credited the flameproofing treatment for saving drivers Ray Crawford and Mike Magill from critical injuries in their fiery crashes.

Crawford, a Pasadena, Calif., oil-market small owner, was reported in fair condition in Methodist hospital Monday. Magill, an air-conditional veteran from Hamilton, N.J., was reported in good condition.

Also reported in good condition was Joe Alexander of Morris, Ill., mechanic burned on the hands in a pit fire in the car of Dick Rathmann, San Gabriel, Calif.

Dr. Bohner said the two drivers may be able to leave the hospital in two weeks, but the first and second degree burns on Alexander's hands may keep him laid up five or six weeks.

Dr. Bohner said Crawford suffered fractures of four back ribs, but it is now believed his spleen was not ruptured, as first feared.

Magill suffered a chipped neck vertebra and a deep neck wound when his car slid upside down across the track after hitting Chuck Wesant's sving car. Dr. Bohner said the neck wound may have come from the car's roll bar, which became red hot wrapping across the neck.

Since both drivers' cars caught fire in their crashes on the northeast turn, Dr. Bohner believes they escaped serious burns only because all drivers were required to have their driving clothes flameproofed this year.

Dr. Bohner said Rathmann apparently suffered no burns at all when his car caught fire in a pit fire.

Rodger Ward said Monday he won the toughest, richest auto race in the world Saturday with only 20 per cent of normal use of his right shoulder.

The new 500-mile race champion said he lost 80 per cent of the use of the shoulder in a single car race accident in California in 1949. He said he can't raise that hand above his head.

"It doesn't bother me," he added. "I've learned to live with it, and I play golf and work out with weights to keep the muscles strong."

The dapper, 38-year-old champion neither smokes nor drinks to keep in good physical condition. When in Indianapolis, he gaits on the Speedway course.

Los Angeles Coliseum Fence Seems Further

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Only a year ago, the Coliseum's left-field screen was the most controversial curiosity in the majors.

Today it's stirring up about as much furor in baseball circles as the current newsletter of the Mozart Society.

Apparently, like the village freak, the screen has achieved a measure of tolerant acceptance among the people who have to live with it.

At any rate, there has been a decline in the fear that National League hitters shopping for cheap home runs might find enough bargains here to break Babe Ruth's record of 60 in one season. Last year, a national sports magazine ran an editorial exhorting baseball to ignore the home run record which seemed certain to be set at the Coliseum. As it turned out, Ruth's record survived handily without such chivalrous protection.

Nevertheless, as expected, the screen was something less than a perfect interceptor of fly balls struck with authority. There were 193 homers hit here in 1958, more than in any other park in the league most of them flew over the screen—some easily, some barely.

This year, the broad wire barrier which runs along the outfield wall from the 25-foot left-field foul line is doing slightly better. Or the hitters are doing

Flourishing Vice, Games In Indiana

Investigators Eye Chicago Gangsters

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert Kennedy, counsel to the Senate Rackets Committee, said Monday that gambling and vice rackets have flourished in Lake County, Ind., in open violation of the law.

Kennedy said committee investigators have been looking into allegations of collusion between big shot Chicago gangsters, racketeers and six or eight officials in Lake County.

The counsel said spokesmen in the Indiana governor's office contend state law gives the county autonomy in law enforcement affairs and that the state government can't interfere.

"The situation in Lake County generally is as bad as any we (the investigators) have seen in the United States in our 2 1/2 years of work, as far as the breakdown of law enforcement is concerned," Kennedy told a news conference.

He said public hearings the committee will start here this afternoon will spell out the story.

Leadoff witness, he said, will be John Testo, former head of the Independent Coin Machine Operators and Repair Men's Union Local 1 in Gary.

He said Testo contends the union was driven out of business by racketeers who amassed a fortune from pinball gambling, prostitution and other rackets in the county.

Kennedy said the committee has subpoenaed Metro Holowachka, deputy county attorney (deputy prosecutor) of the county, and his records.

The committee will look into Holowachka's administration as county attorney in 1952-53, and his work since then as a deputy county attorney, Kennedy said.

Holowachka probably will not be called during the first few days of the hearings, but may testify later in the week.

Starkweather Gets Hearing By U. S. Court

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The eighth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals Monday set a hearing for 10 a.m. Thursday in Omaha on an appeal by Charles Starkweather, confessed killer of 11 persons who is under death sentence in Nebraska.

A three-judge division of the Appeals Court was named to hear the appeal. They immediately named three prominent attorneys to represent the 29-year-old Starkweather in his bid for a writ of habeas corpus.

The hearing originally set for Wednesday but was changed to Thursday at the request of the judges named to hear the case. That is the day on which Starkweather's stay of execution expires.

Appointed by the appellate court as Starkweather's counsel were Milton Abrahams, president of the Omaha Bar Assn.; Nick Caporale, president of the Omaha Barristers Club; and James Acherman, president of the Lancaster (Nebr.) County Bar Assn. Starkweather based his appeal on a claim he had not had adequate legal counsel.

The court directed Starkweather to show cause Thursday why an order granting him a stay of execution should not be set aside.

Presiding federal district Judge Richard Robinson of Nebraska granted the stay to permit Starkweather to file the appeal with the appellate court.

AOCS Talk Set at Sexton

Members of the Association of Off-Campus Students will speak Wednesday at 9 a.m. to graduating seniors of Lansing Sexton High School who plan to attend MSU.

AOCS accepted the invitation to talk with the students in order to acquaint them with the university's procedures and general campus life.

Each member will meet with a small discussion group in Sexton's auditorium after an introduction by Al Tubbs, the club's publicity chairman. Phil Ballbock is this term's AOCS president.

Seniors of the Week

PAT MELOY

Libertyville, Ill., senior, Pat Meloy, categorically refuses to change tractor tires. She will not drive a garbage truck, sweep chimneys, or gandy dance, but as far as we can determine those are about the only jobs she won't tackle.

Probably Pat's biggest job this year was the organization and direction of the annual Publications Banquet, a gathering of some 300 student editors, writers and publications managers, some of the top brass on campus and numerous other guests. In addition to this chore, she is completing her last term at MSU as Senior Council publications representative, Mortar Board editor, Water Carnival program, layout and art chairman, and Lantern Night co-chairman.

Prior to these jobs, she has been AUCS personnel director, Congress representative, a member of the Wolverine staff and both night editor and campus editor for the State News. She has also been J-Hop newspaper and advertising chairman and Spinner Spin publicity co-chairman.

In addition to Mortar Board, Pat's honoraries include Alpha Lambda Delta, Tower Guard, Phi Kappa Phi, Delta Phi Alpha (German honorary) and Theta Sigma Phi (women's journalism honorary). She has held office in most of these.

For her dorm, South Campbell, Pat has been secretary, chairman of the '57 term party and resident advisor.

A journalism major with an all-university 3.7 average, Pat is still undecided about future career plans. One thing, however, seems certain: Whatever her job is, it will be a busy one.

DAVE SHANNON

Niles senior, Dave Shannon, is one of the best arguments on campus against the engineer's reputation for being an academic recluse.

A civil engineering major with an all-university 3.3 average, Dave has successfully participated in enough activities to use up the spare time of his entire class, let alone his own.

Dave's major office this year has been the presidency of the ROTC Officers' Club. His other all-university activities have included J-Hop tickets committee chairman and IFC personnel committee. He was awarded the IFC outstanding worker award in 1957.

In the College of Engineering Dave has been a member of ASCE, Engineering Council and no less than four engineering honoraries. These are Tau Beta Pi, Phi Lambda Tau, Knights of St. Patrick and Chi Epsilon. He is this year's vice-president of Knights of St. Patrick.

Outside of engineering, Dave is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, Phi Kappa Phi and Blue Key.

For his fraternity, Sigma Nu, Dave has participated in 11 football, softball and track, and has been captain of both the house football and track teams. He has been treasurer and courtesy chairman, and received the Outstanding Junior award along with a $200 scholarship last year. As a resident of East Shaw, he was a member of the dorm council.

After graduation, Dave plans on an advanced degree in civil engineering.

Ford, State Deadlocked In Meeting

Benefits Held Back From Unemployed

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams and Ford Motor Co. spokesmen got nowhere Monday in an exploration for agreement on the much disputed temporary unemployment compensation bill issue.

For eight weeks, emergency extended benefits to about 28,000 unemployed persons eligible under a special federal act have been held up while lawmakers remain deadlocked over a provision relating to the so-called Ford-Canton decision of the State Supreme Court in January.

A three-man Ford delegation headed by John Bugas, vice president of industrial relations, met with the governor at Williams' invitation.

Afterward, Bugas told newsmen Ford supported the Smeekens amendment to the pending bill.

This would in effect overrule the Supreme Court and prevent any future applications of its controversial decision awarding jobless benefits to 11,000 Detroit area Ford employees idled by a strike in 1953 at a supplier plant in Canton, Ohio.

Bugas called the decision "totally unwarranted interference with the basic problem of labor-management relationships." He referred to it as the "Supreme Court strike subsidy decision."

"No company should be required by law or the Supreme Court to finance a strike against itself," he said. Ford currently has the case on appeal before the United States Supreme Court.

In a separate news conference, Williams told the same reporters he regards the Smeekens language as "wholly unacceptable" because no fault of its own.

Statistics Dept. Head Chosen Liaison Officer

Dr. Leo Katz, head of the MSU statistics department, has been granted a leave of absence to accept appointment as a European scientific liaison officer for the U.S. Office of Naval Research.

He will be based in London for a year starting in late August. His responsibilities for aiding the exchange of scientific information between Europe and America will take him to major universities and governmental research organizations throughout the continent.

In his absence, Dr. Kenneth Arnold will be acting head of the department. Dr. Ingram Olin, now on sabbatical leave at Stanford University, will be acting director of the statistical laboratory, presently in Dr. Katz's charge.

The MSU professor, whose particular responsibility will be

Professor Katz will be accompanied by his wife and two son. Mrs. Katz has been granted a leave of absence from her position as office manager in the Michigan attorney general's office.

7 Chem Students Get Scholarships

Undergraduate scholarships from the Universal Oil Products Co. have been awarded to the following students:

Donald Brandt, Liverpool, N. Y., junior and Morris Place, Detroit sophomore, tied for first and second place awards of $600 each.

Dean Reenders, Grand Haven Junior, was awarded the third scholarship of $400.

Honorable mentions went to Clifford Hart; Melville Bode, East Lansing senior, and William Williams, St. Clair Shores sophomore.

George Rusin, Auburn, N.Y., senior, was awarded the graduate award of $1,500 from the Dow Chemical Co.

Anne Frank Village

WUPPERTAL, Germany (AP)—They broke ground Sunday for a new European village for displaced persons and named it Anne Frank. Anne Frank was the young Jewish girl who wrote the diary that later was translated into shattering stage and screen plays.

DR. KATZ ... to go to Europe ...

mathematics and statistics, will be one of a staff of 15 scientists, most of whom are on leave from American universities.

He is the first statistician to be appointed to the staff in the 13 years of its existence. He is also the first scientist from MSU to be named to the staff. However, Dr. Donald Montgomery, professor of physics, held a similar appointment before he came to MSU.

Another MSU scientist, Dr. Thomas Osgood, on a two-year leave of absence from MSU, is science advisor for the U.S. embassy in London.

Hoppe Gets Grant For English Study

Dr. Harry Hoppe, professor of English at MSU, has been awarded a Fulbright grant to lecture on English literature at the University of Malta, England, during the 1959-60 academic year.

Hoppe, a member of the MSU faculty since 1942, was a Fulbright scholar in Belgium in 1950-51. In 1956-57 he took a year's leave to lecture at Syrian University, Damascus, under State Department auspices.

Prince Plays Tennis

TOKYO (AP)—Crown Prince Akihito and his wife played tennis in public Sunday for the first time since their wedding April 10. They teamed up to play mixed doubles against Mr. and Mrs. Yukichi Sekine at the exclusive Tokyo lawn tennis club. No score was kept.

LEWIS ZIMMERMAN (left), veteran big game hunter from Traverse City, exhibits materials from a recent expedition to Dr. Rollin Baker, director of the MSU Museum. An MSU alumnus (26), Zimmerman gave the museum dozens of animal specimens and cultural items, including the crows, ham-bone arrows, rattan basket and tiger spear used by mountain tribesmen of Viet-Nam. He visited Africa, India and Viet-Nam with his grandson.
