United Fund Kicks-Off In Jenison Tuesday at 7

1960 United Fund Campaign Greater Lansing will kick-off Tuesday night in the Field House from 7-10 p.m.

Resurrection and East Lansing high schools will also make appearances. Master of Ceremonies for the gala event will be "Bud" Gues from Detroit's WJR, also known as the "Goodwill" MC.

Free tickets have been made available to the men's and women's division of the Dean of Students office and to the Ignorance College.

MSU Shirers. Florida Bakes. And It's Oct.

If you saw your shivers and shivered when you look this morning, take heart. The weather bureau says that it will be warmer this afternoon and tomorrow.

In fact, the man who should know says that it'll get into the mid-50's today. To top things off, he's even throwing in some sunshine, too. And tomorrow should be even warmer!

In contrast to our Michigan weather, Florida is in the midst of a heat wave. It is expected to mark the hottest Oct. 11 on record.

Women's events transfer very easily to Florida. Southern...

United Fund Drive Starts On Campus

MSU's 1960 United Community Chest campaign opens today with a goal of $73,442, a 20 percent increase over last year.

Under the chairmanship of Dr. Clarence Schoemer, president of the natural science, social and physical education departments, representatives will work to reach their goal between today and October 29.

In commenting on the campaign, Dr. Schoemer said, "The faculty and staff of MSU have a well-deserved reputation with respect to its acceptance of community responsibilities."

This fact has no better evidence to support it than the voluntary financial assistance given to the United Community Chest by the Greater Lansing Area.

The challenge offered by this year's quota is great, but we have confidence that it will be accepted in stride by the members of the University, thus demonstrating once again the close relationship which exists between people who are an integral part.

United Community Chest officials report that last year 1,417 MSU students and 946 faculty and staff used the services.

The advance placement drive on the campus already has the campaign off to a flying start. Under the direction of Deans Gordon Saine, communication arts, and Alfred Seelye, business and public service, this advance campaign has raised $39,934, or 54 percent of its quota.

The University's contribution to the United Community Chest campaign is to assist in meeting the University quota. In 1958, the students contributed more than $400.

The University drive is part of the Greater Lansing Area United Chest campaign which has a goal of $1,300,010.

100 Restaurateurs Expected to Meet At Kellogg Center

One hundred restaurant owners and managers are expected to attend the Restaurant Operators Conference today through Wednesday at Kellogg Center.

The conference, sponsored by the MSU College of Business and Public Service, will include discussions of problems and procedures of restaurant management.

Prof. Paul Bagwell, director of scholarships, will be guest speaker this evening at a dinner in the Centennial room.

Block 'S' Members To Pick up Tickets

All freshmen Block "S" members are reminded to take their membership cards to Jenison any time after 12 noon today to pick up tickets for special seats.

Block "S" will rehearse Wednesday at 4 p. m. Anyone missing the rehearsal due to class conflict is requested to take his place in Block "S" Saturday by 12:45 p. m.

NEW YORK (AP)—A Presbyterian church official said Sunday of the television quiz scandal that the industry sacrificed "everything, including ethics, morality and honor," for ratings.

Delegates Predict UN Split

Poland, Turkey May Lack Votes

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—Delegates Sunday predicted a deadlock between Poland and Turkey for election to the UN Security Council. They said it would develop today when the General Assembly meets to elect three new nations to the Security Council.

They expressed belief that neither Poland nor Turkey would get the necessary two-thirds majority in the 82-nation assembly on the first ballot and that after five or six inclusive ballots, further voting would be put off a week or more. All balloting is secret.

UN ambassadors of Poland and Turkey expressed themselves hopeful of eventually winning the election to succeed Japan for a two-year term on the 11-nation security council starting next Jan. 1.

Poland has the announced support of the nine-nation Soviet bloc and Turkey the announced support of Britain and the United States.

Usually well-informed sources say that on the first ballot, the 20-nation Latin American group and the 29-nation Asian-African group will split about evenly between the two. They say that Canada, New Zealand, Ireland and all Scandinavian will vote for Poland, while most of Western Europe will go for Turkey.

NEWS IN BRIEF

7 Killed in Rail Mishap

NAGOYA, Japan (AP)—An electric train upset after ramming a truck at Inerawa near here Sunday and seven passengers aboard the train were killed. Seven other suffered serious injuries and about 100 were treated for cuts and bruises. The truck was bringing relief goods to Nagoya, hard hit by Typhoon Vera two weeks ago. The truck driver was seriously injured.

Ike Pushes Steel Settlement

Panel to Try Every Effort To Get Pact

Owe Agreement To Americans

LYNN GILL, Suttons Bay junior and Henry Dykema, Assistant Director of Student Affairs, examine the awards to be given the winning campus units in the fall term Blood Drive, which will start Monday, Oct. 19, Gill is chairman of the drive, held in conjunction with the American Red Cross, Spartan Women's League, Sno Caps and Alpha Phi Omega.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's steel strike inquiry board will try to effect a voluntary settlement of the walkout while assembling its fact report for the White House.

George W. Taylor, the panel's chairman and a skilled labor-management disputes arbitrator, told reporters as the three-man panel convened for the first time Sunday that the group will make every effort to get a voluntary peace pact to end the 89-day-old strike.

"I think it's our responsibility," Taylor said, "to do everything within the limits of our authority to settle this dispute." Taylor, with his two colleagues assenting, indicated that Eisenhower is compelled to obtain an 80-day court order under the Taft-Hartley Law to halt the strike, it would settle nothing and would only prolong the dispute in the end.

Eisenhower, in invoking the Taft-Hartley Law Friday and appointing the inquiry board, said both the steel industry and the striking Steel-Workers Union have a continuing responsibility to the American people to seek a voluntary agreement.

The inquiry board met in closed-door session Sunday to map out procedures for hearings due to start this afternoon. Its primary job is to sift the issues and ascertain the bargaining positions of both sides for a report to Eisenhower.

Taylor made it clear the inquiry board feels it has an implied responsibility to try to get the steel industry and the union to agree on a new contract if that is at all possible.

Will Arrive in Kimonos

Japanese Dancers to Perform

By JANE DENISON

The Japanese Takarazuka Dance Theatre that appeared in "The Seven Wonders of the World" and inspired the motion picture "Sayonara," will appear at the Aud Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

A showing of vigorous theater, it is how Dr. Wilson Paul, director of the Lecture-Concert series, described the all-girl group appearing here as part of an extensive six-week American and Canadian tour.

The 75-member troupe of musicians, singers and dancers will arrive at Kellogg Center Tuesday clad in traditional Japanese kimonos.

Dr. Paul described the production as having "beautiful lighting, striking scenery and gorgeous costumes—all that is most colorful in oriental theater." He said the troupe will bring "almost 17 tons of costumes and scenery."

Takarazuka was founded 45 years ago by Ichizo Kobayashi, a wealthy Japanese railroad industrialist, who desired to blend western stage techniques with the traditional Japanese theater.

Kobayashi guided the dance and music school until his death in 1937. In the years of his directorship the group rose to its present position of the most popular theater in the Land of the Rising Sun.

Branch theaters in Tokyo, Nagoya and Kyoto have been built to supplement the 4,000-seat Grand Theater in the little town of Takarazuka.

The 75 girls, all unmarried, are divided into four groups: Flower, Star, Moon and Snow. Three groups perform while one is in rehearsal for a completely new revue. Each year thousands of stage-struck Japanese teenagers audition for a troupe position.

The tradition that each member must remain unmarried is so strong that at the time the film "Sayonara" was being shot in Japan, Kobayashi refused to let his dancers appear in the famous group, one of the stars was married. However, after marriage, many of the girls go on to screen fame.

Tickets are still available at the Union ticket office.

Atomic Talk Given Tues. In 41 Union

Atomic energy—one of the most important topics today—will be discussed during a two-hour program Tuesday night.

The program, brought to MSU by Atomic International, will be in 41 Union.

The role of atomic energy and how it applies to peaceful means, as well as the general picture of nuclear power, will be discussed by Felix Owen, representative of Atomic International.

Owen will give a roundup of the power picture, and describe two major projects that Atomic International is undertaking.

The Sodium Reactor Experiment, a film produced for the 1958 Geneva Conference, will be shown. This film describes the reactor Atom les International has in Van Nuys, California.

General questions and answers will follow Owen's talk.

The purpose of the program, Owen says, "is to give college students an education in atomic power, especially as it can be used for peaceful means."

Petitioning Senior of the Week

Senior of the Week petitions will be available today through October 21 in the Union concourse.

All seniors graduating fall, winter or spring terms are eligible to petition.

A committee will select two seniors each week for the honor. Results will be announced in the State News and the Union.

Campus Chest

Petitions for chairmanships for Campus Chest, a part of AUSG's executive branch, are available in the Union concourse this week.

60 Wolverine Sales Being Held in Union

Sale of the 1960 Wolverine has begun at the Union Board desk and will continue through the end of the term from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. each week-day.

The new annual will have several new features, two of which are more extensive use of color and an increase in the number of pages.

The increase in color will be much more extensive than last year," said editor Jennings Bird. "In 1959 color was used just to divide the feature sections."

The "student centered" year-book has planned to devote more of its pages toward the student body and its activities this year, with the feature sections also expanded.

The Wolverine has consistently been on the receiving end of several awards from the National Scholastic Press Association.

Judged as a first class publication for the past seven years, the annual was presented with three All-American awards in the last four years. This award is the highest given to any college publication edited entirely by students.

According to business manager Don Stover, the Wolverine will be $7 this year, with an extra dollar charged for mailing if it is desired.

Veterans Invited To Public Meeting

Congressman Charles F. Chamberlain and State Commander Lewis M. Bricker of the American Legion will speak at a public meeting to be held at the William Riker Johnson Hall on Valley Court East Lansing, tonight at 8 p. m.

An open discussion of the problems of the disabled veteran will follow and the State Service Officer and a Veterans Administration representative will answer questions.

Polo Shots Being Sold To Students Tues.-Fri.

Polo shots will be sold Tuesday through Friday in 308 Student Services from 2-5 p. m.

All three shots are being sold at once for 50c a shot. This is being done to get an accurate estimate of how many shots to order for this year. Single shots will also be sold to students who have had one or more shots.

The first shot will be given at 6:00 from Oct. 19-23.

Woman's Role in Education Now Important

(Sixth of A Series) By LARRY MILLER

OUR INCREASINGLY complex society, the woman's role has changed from that of a simple helpmate in the home to that of one who has more time at her disposal to increase individual growth and to make greater contributions to society.

This great potential is to be developed, the Committee on the Future of the University feels that higher education must examine the concept of woman's role in the light of what society expects from her.

The committee is of the opinion that American society is holding on to the belief that college education for women is to be given second priority to college education for men.

RESEARCH HAS REVEALED that girl's high school achievement and ability is equal to that of boys. There is evidence that of the brightest high school graduates do not go on to college, two-thirds are women.

The recommendations of the Committee relating to college and general education are appropriate parts of a program for liberal and professional education of women. As presently offered, basic general education would cost approximately 25 percent of this program.

Individuality and individual identity can best be developed through a considerable emphasis upon a liberal program of liberal and professional education. The program should include two types of emphasis:

First, CITIZENS MUST be aware of cultures other than their own. This would be realized in such fields as literature, foreign studies, anthropology, and foreign languages.

Our society must also capitalize increasingly upon the creative and expressive qualities of the individual. It is recommended that the liberal education program include participation in an area such as theater, creative art, music, or dance.

It is further believed that such an emphasis upon liberal education is in keeping with the general philosophy of higher education. This "further liberal education" should comprise between one-third and one-half of the program and combined with the "basic general program, this provide in all cases over one-half of the program and in some cases almost three-quarters of the program.

Second PROGRAM, the Committee believes, should be developed and furthered by the appointment of a woman professor of Education for Women, responsible to the Dean of Education, to gain necessary resources and recognition for the program.

The program should not be characterized by a teaching of its own, but it should certainly include an advisory faculty from many fields within the University.

Higher education is not tapping the intellectual potential available among women. In addition to program development, the colleges and universities should find ways to break the economic barrier which currently prevents many high school girls from going to college.

Editorial

Foreign Languages Should Be Required

NEED FOR THE STUDY of foreign language is not a hard cause to plead. Bolstered by "Ugly American" criticisms of language ineptitudes abroad, plus the ever-increasing flow of American tourists to Europe and other countries, and besides these, the number of U.S. business commitments overseas, anyone who exclaims "More Americans should learn to speak a foreign language!" gets a row of approving nods.

MSU'S PROMINENCE in international programs makes it an obvious target for such recommendations. One might expect, considering its international role, that this area would not even need to be touched upon.

Increasing enrollments in foreign languages in the past two years—11 percent in 1958, and an almost amazing 23 percent this year—tend to support this belief.

The trend at MSU is, of course, just part of the national move which received a big boost when Americans learned last year that, while more than 10 million Russians were studying English, only about 8,000 Americans were studying the Russian language.

SINCE THEN Russian enrollment at all levels has skyrocketed. At MSU the situation was even somewhat alarming. Though the department had planned for increased enrollment and hired one new teacher last year, the increase was so large that a third had to be hired during registration week. Registration on figures showed 174 students enrolled in all Russian courses, as compared with 73 last fall and just 22 in fall 1957.

Still, many at MSU might be surprised to find out that this university is the only school in the Big 10 which does not require knowledge of at least one foreign language for graduation with a bachelor's degree from the College of Science and Arts.

Formerly foreign languages were required for a degree in liberal arts or applied science. The requirement was dropped, however, during the war. Then, with the establishment of the Basic College in 1941, many departments felt that already their students were too burdened with required courses without adding a foreign language requirement.

A FACULTY COMMITTEE of the College recommended in February, 1958 that the requirement be reinstated. No action resulted.

The State News, too, sought such a move last year. Except for one encouraging letter from a faculty member, there was little response.

Several factors may well renew the hopes of those favoring foreign language requirement. The enrollment jump gives ample evidence of student interest. Foreign Language head, Dr. Stanley Townsend, professor at German at the University of Southern California prior to his MSU appointment and certainly distinguished in his field, adds to the reputation of an improving foreign language department. Almost every student at MSU O, with its liberal arts emphasis, will be required to take a foreign language. And the recent trend has been away from "taking" a foreign language—towards achieving real proficiency in speaking and understanding, as well as reading and writing, in the foreign tongue.

Improvement of the methods of teaching, course offerings, and programs of the department of foreign language is a very healthy sign. Reinstating the foreign language requirement for Science and Arts graduates deserves more than a little consideration.

Spartan Village Residents Hit Post-Home Game Traffic Snarl

To the Editor:
As members of the Michigan State University student body, we feel the right to bring to your attention a drawback in the university's existing situation after some games.

Speaking for the male members of this letter, we had spent the entire day with the marching band spending four hours in the rain, rehearsing in the morning then performing in the afternoon. After such a day the following episode was practically the ruination of us.

Just getting into our cars at the stadium parking lot we started out via Kalamazoo Road. At the intersection of Hartman a policeman very courteously told us that Hartman was blocked off. As we were headed to our homes in Spartan Village we had to wait 45 minutes for Hartman to be opened.

Then at the intersection of Hartman and Shaw Lane we were stopped by another impatient policeman around the city block in confusion. Hartman then we had to wait another 45 minutes for Hartman to be opened.

Two hours later, tired and hungry, we finally reached our destination, a very long drive from campus.

The harshness of the police was bad enough, the inconvenience of waiting was worse. But most of all, it is a crime that members of the student body, performers for the football games, the people for whom the university was built, have to wait longer to reach their homes than disinterested parties from Grand Rapids.

We would like the traffic department to look for an alternate route in that the best road to campus can be used at the time that it is needed most and so that students of this university can return to their homes without being yelled at and without being routed via the Siberian railroad.

'Beat State' Not Hate It
To the Editor:
As a student at the University of Michigan, I deplore the behavior of certain Michigan students at the recent game with MSU in the Michigan Stadium. These students represent a minority segment at Michigan. The moderate majority here feels as I do and regrets the "Hate State" incidents of last weekend.

We are proud of our university's excellent standards and fine traditions. But we are also ashamed of such bad manners. We are all for "beating State"—but not "hating State." It is our hope that the ideals of good citizenship held here at Michigan will overcome the bigotry exhibited last Saturday (Oct. 11).

Regrets Loss Of Individuals

To the Editor:
MSU student body has the honor of Spartans, but it seems that the majority of people around here would make rather poor Spartans. The words "Spartans" left in positively a word which has been picked up by the Anglo-Saxon language, the word "survived." They applied the word to the frequent public gatherings at which women, women and song were more than a literary phrase. Even the Greek Spartans, with their eyes on the golden mean, understood that a healthy soul for the pleasures of life was quite necessary—of course in moderation for the Greeks.

But sound the death knell for modern man. Certainly something vital within him must have died. Today you have the Activities "Carnival" and Career "Carnival." Even the stern old Plato would gnash his teeth at such business after business hours.

There has been much controversy lately concerning the place of academics and extra-curricular activities at Michigan State. This point is well named, "Why do we bother?" This may seem like a foolish question, but more and more people who contribute to the arguments can explain why they are advocating or doing so. They are, in fact, without firmly saying that someone else, feel they it was good for them, everybody does it, or they had better do it if they know what was good for them?

Of course, anyone who is interested in the university wants to see not only a continuance of "academic" and "social" activities here, but also a definite improvement in the quality of both. The overwhelming lack of ability to discriminate as to the quality of any particular activity.

We have plenty of Spartans here who follow the routine of community life with a Spartan discipline. Where are the individuals, the critics, the Romans and Athenians? Their voices are sadly needed.

Soviet Scholar Says: Chris Whitewashed America

LONDON (AP)—On the eve of Columbus Day in the United States, a Russian scholar came up with a discovery Sunday that Columbus did not discover America. At least not by accident.

The famed explorer knew all about America from sailors who had visited it before him, the Soviet scholar said. What's more, Columbus, taken by his diaries and conspired with King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella of Spain to whitewash America as a place of fabulous wealth so that Spaniards would settle there.

Moscow radio broadcast an interview with the scholar, who identified only as "Tsyrenko, a lecturer at the Kazhkh Pedagogic Institute. Said the broadcast:

"The scholar says that he believes that on Columbus leaving for his first and famous voyage, he was already in possession of fairly accurate information concerning the position of some lands of the New World.

Moreover, he recently found a secret letter addressed to Columbus by the Spanish royal couple Ferdinand and Isabella.

The letter makes it clear that Columbus knew of the existence of the Antilles.

"The new land was a favorable investment for members of the expedition. Sailors had seen the life of the islands. They did not promise any money.

"Then the Spaniards decided that they had to have the riches of the Spaniards would settle there."

Life Can Be

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Residents of one block in suburban Brookline Heights got together for a front-yard picnic this week on the anniversary of a tragic, breaking night.

Exactly two years ago a fire had smothered every house on that block. The street killed 41 persons.

Sixty-eight residents at the picnic last night, looking at pictures of the storm damage and telling how things went at that time.

The great wall of a white-hot fire opened the party's sad memories. Someone had said "I turned about."

"I was late alone this time. The thunderstorm was a mild one."

"They resumed the picnic after the rain passed."

New Fraternity Installed

Phi Sig's Finally 'Go National'

MSU acquired another large national fraternity Saturday night at an installation banquet in the Lansing City Club of the Hotel Olds with the official chartering of Phi Sigma Kappa.

The banquet climaxed two years of concentrated effort on the part of the Phi Sig's to initiate a chapter on the campus.

It also culminated a weekend initiation period in which the local chapter (Xi Tetartion) was formally initiated by chapters from the U of M and the University of Detroit.

Now situated at 207 Bogue St., the fraternity becomes the 32nd on the MSU campus and the 67th of the Phi Sigma Kappa chapters across the United States.

Vice president of the Grand chapter, Herbert L. Brown of Drexel Hills, Pa., and secretary-treasurer of the Grand Chapter, Robert Schuelein of St. Paul, Minn., represented the national organization at the program.

Also in attendance were Rev. Norman Mueller, S. J., University of Detroit, Professor William Drew of the botany department, Jean Eldon Nonnemacher of the Men's Division, and William Loyd, faculty advisor for the group.

Lansing attorney Leslie Butler was the surprise recipient of the Phi Sigma Kappa Founders Day Award presented to him by the newly-formed MSU chapter in recognition of his efforts in helping them locate a suitable house.

The main address was given by Herbert Brown, national vice-president of the Phi Sig's, and concerned the role that the fraternity now plays at our nation's colleges and universities.

He emphasized that the fraternities are now feeling a great deal of the public's mistrust because of the adverse publicity that is accorded them. At the same time, he said, the worthwhile projects in which they participate are seldom given any notice.

The fraternity houses are now being looked upon as a place for good beer parties and socially smooth people, "he said. This is a concept that only you new activists can change in the public's eye.

Local chapter officers are: Bob Campbell, Rochester, N. Y., senior president, Dave Davis, Branchville, N. Y., senior vice president, George Gies, Branchville, N. Y., senior secretary, Al Hills, Benton Harbor, senior treasurer, and Larry Mink, Marquette senior, corresponding secretary.

Mixed Chorus Parts Offered

There's a place in the MSU Mixed Chorus for you! Openings in all parts, especially tenor section, must be filled within the next two weeks.

The chorus meets Wednesday night from 7-9 in the Choral room of the Music building. The group presents a concert at Christmas and Easter.

Dr. Gomer Jones, who directed the choir at the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II, directs the mixed chorus.

"Fantasy" by Vaughan, and the compositions the chorus will sing at the Christmas concert this year: Last Christmas, the chorus sang "The Divine Myster" composed by Dr. Jones.

The mixed chorus is the only group who regularly perform with the MSU orchestra. Their concerts are recorded on long playing records which are available for purchase.

Game Films Coming

Movies of the Iowa-MSU football game will be shown Wednesday night at 7:30 p. m. in the Union Ballroom. Coach Bullough will narrate.

Khrushchev's Remarks Cited 'Communism' Subject of Talk

By BOB TUCK

Will our children live under Communism? This was the question posed to members who attended Friday's International Club meeting.

A frightening thought, yet timely and most provocative, Premier Nikita Khrushchev's remark from which the theme was taken provided a lively, interesting time for those present.

Khrushchev's statement: "Your grand children will live under Socialism" came to the foreground during Vice-President Nixon's recent tour of the USSR.

Staff Art Works Shown at Kresge

A small but important exhibition of work by MSU staff members is the newest attraction in the gallery of Kresge Art Center on the MSU campus.

The show, consisting of paintings, prints and sculptures, is the first of several which will be interspersed with the regular calendar of important exhibitions during the coming year.

Gallery hours: Weekdays - 9 to 5, Tuesday evenings - 6 to 9 p.m., and Sundays from 2 to 6 p.m.

Artists represented are: Donald Davidson, Alan Gomer, Gomer, Alan Gomer, Paul Hendrickson, Martin Hinkle, Harry Jones, Leonard Johnson, Allen Lewis, James McConnell, and Katherine Wickham.

Myth Group Again Invites Weisinger

Dr. Fredrick Weisinger, professor of comparative mythology at the University of Chicago, will be invited to give a lecture on "Some Meanings of Myth" at the second Congress of the International Comparative Literature Association at the University of North Carolina.

This panel will be a wide ranging study of the scientific content of myths of a new approach in literary criticism and have added to Weisinger's reputation in the study of myth and ritual.

The series began in September, 1958 with a lecture called "Some Meanings of Myth" delivered to the second Congress of the International Comparative Literature Association at the University of North Carolina.

In Dec. 1958 the paper "An Examination of the Myth and Ritual Approach to Shakespeare" was read to the Shakespeare section of the Modern Language Association meeting in New York. In April, Weisinger spoke in Chicago to the Newberry Library Conference.

Meet a Young Executive on the Champs Elysees

(SHE COULD BE YOU!)

Not long ago this young lady was a college senior. Today, she handles the responsibilities and decisions of an executive in one of the world's largest organizations. Today, she's an Army officer in Paris... a Lieutenant in the Women's Army Corps.

Her professional and social life is busy... exciting... happily balanced.

On duty, this young executive occupies a position requiring education, initiative and intelligence. The high salary and traditional privileges of an officer are hers.

Off duty, she enjoys her leisure time. Free evenings and weekends plus 30 days annual paid vacation. Perhaps she'll attend evening classes at the Sorbonne. Or make a skiing trip to St. Moritz. Or spend a holiday on the French Riviera. Whatever she does, she'll find a world of fun!

Of course, her assignment didn't have to be Paris. It might have been Heidelberg, Hiroshima, Tokyo... even New York or Los Angeles.

But wherever this young lady goes, she enjoys a feeling of individual accomplishment. Because she began her career as an executive... an officer in the Women's Army Corps.

She could be you... this young executive on the Champs Elysees.

Special 1960 Summer Program for Juniors:

Want a special preview of Army life? Why not see it for yourself this summer? If you qualify for this limited program, you'll receive 4 weeks of orientation training during the summer of 1960—without any commitment—plus a stipend of $100.00 to help you defray your expenses. If you want to apply for a commission after you graduate—if you're interested, today is the day to mail the coupon. There's no obligation.

Colts Down Lions, 31-28

DETROIT (AP)—Johnny Unitas and Ray Berry teamed up on a 54-yard scoring pass when victory had been all but staked away and the Baltimore Colts revived for a 31-24 triumph over the Detroit Lions Sunday.

Berry, target for short passes all afternoon, snake-hopped through the Detroit secondary for the final 40 yards after making a belly catch of a stop-and-go pass.

The touchdown, coming midway through the final period, wiped out Detroit's 24-21 lead acquired by the passing combination of Tobin Rote and Hop-long Cassidy.

The defending world champions still had to turn back a spirited desperation drive by the Lions before adding three more points on Steve Myhra's 16-yard field goal with 61 seconds to play.

The defeat was the third in a row for the winless Lions, who nearly had victory tucked away in the home opener witnessed by 54,197.

After spotting the Colts a 14-3 lead in the early going, the Lions charged back and Rote hit Cassidy with three touchdown passes.

Rams Top Bears On Wade Aerials

CHICAGO (AP)—With Bill Wade heaving three touchdown passes and Ollie Matson running for a total of 199 yards, the Los Angeles Rams Sunday upset the Chicago Bears, 28-21.

The Rams, gaining their first National Football League victory in three starts, scored once every quarter. The Bears, absorbing their second loss in three games, provided cheers for the 47,036 fans in Wrigley Field only in the second quarter when they scored all their points.

It was Matson, a workhorse with 31 carries, who fired on the Rams' decisive drive at the outset of the fourth quarter.

NFL Commissioner Dies; Collapses During Game

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League died Sunday of a heart attack. He collapsed in the seats of the very stadium in which he started his rise from college player to czar of professional football.

The 65-year-old Bell succumbed while doing the thing he loved best—watching a pro game. He was carried from the University of Pennsylvania's Franklin field where the Pittsburgh Steelers and Philadelphia Eagles, teams he once owned and coached, were playing an NFL game.

He said that when they started for the game his father appeared in good health.

Bell suffered a mild heart attack last February. He had been under a doctor's care for the past few years. His travel had been limited and he had done a great deal of NFL work at his home in suburban Narberth.

Dr. Paul Schrode, of the university hospital, the physician who was assigned to the game for an emergency, said that he was the first to attend Bell when he collapsed.

Joe Donoghue, assistant treasurer of the NFL and vice president of the Eagles, who was sitting with Bell during the first half of the game, said that the Commissioner moved to the end zone to get out of the sun.

The short, energetic, outspoken little man from Philadelphia was the first commissioner of the National Football League since 1946.

When Bell took over as commissioner from Elmer Layden the average player salary was about $5,000. Most of the league's 12 teams were losing money. The NFL was a league of confusion and red ink.

Under his iron-fisted rule, however, the league prospered beyond the wildest dreams of the men who fired Layden to make Bell their boss. Player salaries doubled, attendance increased 100 percent. Professional football, through Bell's liberal television policy, was beamed into millions of living rooms across the nation each season.

Professional football under the explosive Bell became respected as a major sport, no longer ridiculed as a road show with three or four featured performers and a supporting cast of poor relations.

In addition to his children, Bell is survived by his widow, the former Frances Upton, a one-time musical comedy star, and a brother, Justice John C. Bell, of the Pennsylvania State Supreme Court.

He was pronounced dead about 10 minutes after reaching University hospital. The hospital is a stone's throw from where thousands once cheered him as Penn football captain.

Bell, under whose astute guidance professional football became a major sport instead of a road show, was sitting in end zone seats with some friends when he keeled over.

Packers Post Third Victory

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The resurgent Green Bay Packers posted their third straight victory by edging the previously-unbeaten San Francisco 49ers, 21-20, Sunday in a National Football League thriller.

The amazing Packers, undefeated under Coach Vince Lombardi after several seasons as a league doormat, blew a 14-point lead and then roared back in the fourth period for a game-winning touchdown on the sharp-shooting of Lamar M-Han.

Edge Spartans, 28-29

Western Michigan edged the Spartans, 28-29, in MSU's first cross country dual meet Saturday, by copping first and second place in the four-mile run.

Broncos Jerry Ashmore and Carl Reid both finished ahead of the Spartan Captain Forddy Kennedy. A close race for fourth place, with Western's Art Eversole going ahead of MSU's Jerry Young in the last few yards, helped decide the race for Western Michigan.

Fran Dittrich, Spartan coach, said that he was not disappointed but was pleased with the team's performance and times, adding that five Spartans finished before Western's fourth scoring run.

Dittrich asserted that the team is better than it looked in the defeat and will improve as the season continues. When a team takes both first and second place, it makes all the difference, he said.

Close Race Crucial As Harriers Lose

Since cross country is scored by the number of the place won, with the first five men on each team counting, the loss was wins.

Ashmore and Kennedy had a close race most of the way, but a fall widened the gap. At the mile, Kennedy and Reid were both behind Ashmore by one second. Kennedy was in the lead with Ashmore and Reid trailing in the second mile. Ashmore and Kennedy were tied with Reid for third place in the third mile. Ashmore tripped and Kennedy fell over him. As they were recovering, Reid started to catch up. Reid more won by 15 yards, and Reid was ahead of Kennedy by 15 yards.

Also figuring in the Spartan score were Bill Reynolds in sixth place, Bob Lank in seventh and Ed Gray in eighth.

Scorers on Western were Ashmore, Reid, Ernest Ron Hancock in 19th place. Ron Hopkins in 11th. Ashmore's winning time was 26:14 and runner-up time was 26:20. Kennedy's time was 29:21.

Because of the bad weather conditions, the race was run on the old course beginning at College Field. In the future, the site will be the best Akers golf course, which gives spectators a better view of most of the race.

Heron's Three-Bagger Helps Booters Slip Rocks 4-2 Loss

Michigan State's perennial scoring machine, patented strike the name of Cecil Heron, knocked in three goals Saturday to lead the Spartans to a 4-2 come-from-behind victory over Slippery Rock on the Pennsylvania school's home field.

Heron, who now has nine of State's 17 goals in three games this season, drew first blood for the Spartans late in the first quarter after center forward Jack Keourek had scored twice for the Rocks.

His 15-yard head-shot was set up by left wingman John Southan. Less than a minute later, Southan fed inside lineman Eric Streder, who converted the pass into the tying marker.

After a scoreless second period, it was Heron, again, using his head and feet to wrap up a personal hat trick and tie the game for MSU.

He kicked in a Streder pass Saturday through the third stake, then headed in a 125-yard pass with an assist to Dave Christie late in the same frame.

The game was a physically bruising one. Coach Gene Kenney said, but no serious Spartan injuries resulted. The booters played a cautious fourth quarter, hoping to keep all hands intact for this week's St. Louis game.

The Spartans are undefeated in their fourth year, sporting a 22-0-3 mark and a 17-game winning streak dating back almost two years.

The winner of the battle of the unbeaten is a likely choice to represent the Midwest in the NCAA playoffs late in November.

Wings Surge To Dump NY

DETROIT, Pa. — The Detroit Red Wings indicated an opening night crowd of 11,057 at Olympia stadium Sunday night by coming from behind for a 4-2 victory over the New York Rangers.

A 30-foot screen shot by defenseman Warren Godfrey clinched an equal climb for the Wings, who quickly dropped behind 2-0. Godfrey's go-ahead goal came at 16:00 of the final period.

Norm Ullman added an insurance goal in the last 15 seconds into an open net as the Rangers sought to pull out a 3-3 tie.

Andy Heberton and Larry Poppen got New York in front but the Wings tied it in the second period. Gary Alcorn slapped in a shot from the center of the net and Jerry Melnyk got his first National Hockey League goal late in the period on a 20-footer.

Intermittent game. Warsaw has a home night in the two 11:30-12:00 a.m. of them coming in a seven-minute stretch in the second period.

K's Terrorism Made Public

WASHINGTON (AP)—Man-made famine, purges and terrorism in the Ukraine are related in a congressional report published Sunday under the title: "The Crimes of Khrushchev."

It was the second of a series being released by the House Committee on Un-American Activities containing the testimony of witnesses heard in closed-door sessions.

Sunday's document presents the testimony of nine witnesses and includes 21 photographs of what the witnesses described as victims of mass murders and man-made famine in the 30's in the Ukraine, one of the Soviet Union Republics.

The consultations with the witnesses, as the committee calls them, were held Sept. 9, 10 and 11, prior to the arrival here of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, Sept. 15, for his visit to America.

Nicholas Pechodko, an engineer from Toronto, Canada, testified he lived in the Ukraine during the 1930-33 famine. He said the famine occurred when most of the Ukrainian food crop was exported, on orders from

Spartan Ringers Carry on With Old English Tradition

Unknown to most students and an old English tradition is practiced at Michigan State. It is that of bell-ringing.

Bell ringing was originally the practice of the science of the bell-changing in the English church towers. Around 1840 bell ringing came to this country. Since 1930 the knowledge of it has spread throughout the United States.

Today there are 500 sets of handbells in the country. Only a score of universities and colleges are known to have them.

The Spartan Bellringers, one of the many activities offered at State, are a performing organization in the art of bell-ringing.

They perform around Michigan and take the annual spring vacation concert tour with the band. A Christmas program is given in the Union lounge for college students.

The 41 bells which the Spartans use were cast by the White-chapel Foundry, makers of the American Liberty Bell and London's Big Ben. Until two years ago this company was the sole source of handbells.

The bells are laid out on a long table. Depending on the composition each player has charge of three to eight bells.

A few positions are open in this organization for those with a qualified ability to read music. Anyone interested may contact Wendell Westcott, director.

Moscow, because of discontent and various kinds of resistance to the Communists in the Ukraine.

At that time, he said, Khrushchev was in the Ukraine "as one of the esteemed executives of Stalin's genocide of the Ukrainian population."

Petro Pavlovych, former editor of a newspaper in the Vinnytsia community of the Ukraine, told of the 1943 discovery there of 93 mass graves with 9,439 bodies, victims of a 1937-38 purge when Khrushchev was first secretary of the Communist party in Ukraine.

The purges and mass murders were "by party order which he promulgated," Pavlovych said.

Pavlovych said his real name was Apollon Trembow and he lived now at Orrtanna, Pa.

Mykola Lebed testified that in 1944 Khrushchev and his subordinates started mass deportations of the Ukrainian population. He said persecutions against members of the Ukrainian insurgent army were begun to depress the Ukrainian will to resist the regime.

"I know that there are political concentration camps operating now in the Soviet Union," he said.

Other witnesses included Lev Dobriansky, Alexandria, Va., chairman of the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America; Dr. Ivan Malinin, Beckley, W. Va., pathologist who said he performed autopsies on the Vinnytsia victims; Constantin Kowonento, Boonton, N.J., who lived in the Ukraine during the 1930-33 famine; Dr. Gregory Kostuk, 25 East 78th St., New York City; and Jurij Ivan Woswuhuk, 230 East Fourth Lawrynsenko, 870 Columbus Ave., New York City.

The committee said the third part of the series on "the Crimes of Khrushchev" will be the testimony of eye witnesses of the Hungarian revolution. No publication date was announced.

HUMANITIES STUDENTS are probably as interested as Queen Fredricka of Greece in these bronze statues of the goddess Athena, foreground, and the god Artemis in Athens. The sculpture, from Greece's classic period, was found by a drain digger in the Piraeus, Athen's harbor area.

On Agricultural Visit

Colombian Deans Visiting MSU

By JANE WACKERBARTH

Two deans from the agricultural colleges of the National University of Colombia and one dean from the University of Manizales, South America, are currently visiting MSU.

The Colombian agricultural deans are Dr. Eizen Cabal of Palmiro and Dr. Charles Gares of Medellin. Dean Bumerko Gutierrez is from Manizales.

They arrived Oct. 4 and since then have conferred with President John A. Hannah, Dean Thomas Cowden of Agriculture, Dean Glen Taggart of International Programs and Dr. Lawrence Boger, head of Agricultural Economics, as well as College of Agriculture department heads, directors and professors.

The deans are visiting MSU in conjunction with a contract with the International Cooperation Administration by which MSU is assisting the Colombian Colleges of Agriculture to set up programs and train personnel to develop Colombia's natural resources in agriculture and forestry.

It is important that the agricultural and forestry resources be developed for Colombia's political and economic stability and it is important for the welfare of the United States to help the growth of a democratic neighbor in South America.

For eight years MSU's College of Agriculture has helped Colombia but last March the contract with ICA expired so Kellogg Foundation granted $154,000 to continue the program on a modified basis for three more years.

During this year professors in agricultural economics and engineering and forest utilization will go to the Colleges of Agriculture to train faculty members from three to six months. Last May Boger spent a month as a consultant in Colombia.

Plentitude of Job Openings For Graduates

The recruiting picture for 1959-60 promises more opportunities for more people in more varied fields than ever before, according to Jack Kinney, director of the Placement Bureau, in his article in the new edition of the "College Placement Annual," being released Monday.

The annual is an official, non-profit publication listing the job opportunities normally made available by the more than 1,700 participating companies. MSU is one of nearly 600 colleges and universities throughout the U. S. and Canada where it is being distributed.

In 1959-60, as in most years in recent history, engineers will find themselves most in demand by the recruiters, according to Kinney. Close to two-thirds of the companies listed in the annual are interested in hiring some type of engineer.

Mechanical engineers, for the third year in a row, will be the most popular with 800 companies list openings. Electrical and electronic engineering are close behind.

The chemist's openings went from 396 in 1959 to 672 this year, making him the most desirable following the engineers.

Kingston Trio Coming

The appearance of the Kingston Trio at the theater Wednesday night is the first of a series of presentations by the Budmor Agency.

The Ann Arbor agency, which has booked fraternity bands for local parties and dances and has taken orders for fraternity mugs and paddles, has been booking entertainment at the University of Michigan, Albion, Eastern Michigan and Western Michigan.

The agency is now trying this form of service in the Michigan State area. Tentative plans for the rest of the year include a possible Tom Lehrer show and an entertainment package with several stars for a spring concert, according to Ted Robinson, Okemos senior, manager of the Lansing branch of the agency.

The Civic Center is being used, since the theater does not permit the use of the stage for profit. The show shows are being arranged by the general manager and can be seated at the theater.

The Kingston Trio will be a good entertainment to present in a theater, Robinson said. The trio at the U of M had a show now making a tour of Michigan area.

A CAMPUS-TO-CAREER CASE HISTORY

Bob Allen and his Chief Operator, Mrs. Julia Chipman, discuss Long Distance records which will soon be converted to automatic processing.

Meet Bob Allen—he's growing fast with a fast-growing company

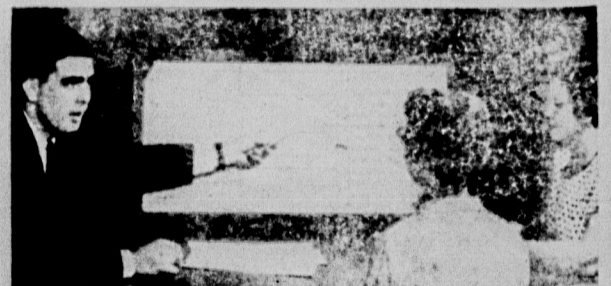

Robert E. Allen got his B.A. degree from Wabash College in June, 1957, and went to work with Indiana Bell Telephone Company at Indianapolis.

"It looked like a growing company where I could grow, too," he says. "It was, today he is an Assistant Traffic Supervisor there. He's in charge of six other supervisory people and about 100 telephone operators."

Bob attributes his rapid progress to two main factors: the thorough training he received and the steady growth of the telephone business.

"I was trained to be a telephone manager, not just a traffic specialist," he points out. "I've also had practical, on-the-job experience in the plant, commercial and engineering phases of the business. So I'm equipped to handle new responsibilities all the time. And in this fast-growing communications field, that means I have more chances to keep moving ahead."

What about a Bell Telephone Company career for you? Talk with the Bell interviewer when he visits your campus—and read the Bell Telephone booklet in your Placement Office.

With Mrs. Chipman and Miss Gee, Group Chief Operator, Bob reviews a blow-up of the automatic processing card which will mechanize Indiana Bell's Long Distance billing.
