By LINDA LOTRIDGE

The delicate hands of Madame Gujumar Noyes posed selections varying from Villa-Lobos to Liszt as the audience sat motionless at the second concert of the season in the Aud Wednesday night.

The most outstanding piece Noyes presented was "Solea in B Flat Minor" by Chopin. The rather grave, haunting movement was played by a scherzo, with the famous Funeral March composed by a presto depicting a young man's grave.

The program opened with an "Air de Ballet" by Gluck followed by a series of "Sonatas in G Major and G Major" by Scarlatti.

The delicate religious of "Cherise in F Minor" by Liszt, "Andante in F Major" by Beethoven. Definitely a major composition by the composer, the "Andante" was played with a sensitivity and great expression.

Madame Noyes' emotional technique for instrument was less than expected, her tender feeling prevailed throughout the program, being especially so in playing Debussy's "Reflets dans l'eau" which sounded like water, singing over a waterfall.

The artist's versatility was further shown in her interpretation of Schumann's "Papillons" which contained andante and allegro passages, forte to pianissimo, and short excerpts from other pieces.

Madame Noyes' performance was an excerpt from the "Ornello" by Verdi, a modern piece by Villa-Lobos, and a snappy march, over, as the audience reacted enthusiastically to the "Sonata," she continued to move with an andante tempo and a wait by Chopin which concluded an evening of refreshing yet quite musical.

STAN KENTON and his orchestra will headline a concert to be held at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Civic Center. The program will be shared by June Christy and the Four Freshmen.

Nik May Visit De Gaulle

PARIS (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is expected to visit President Charles de Gaulle, possibly in January, some informed sources said Wednesday.

There was no confirmation from official French or Soviet sources but neither would they deny the reports.

Informed quarters said a visit by Khrushchev to France has been under consideration for some time. It was said to hinge on an invitation from De Gaulle who Khrushchev is expected to accept in late October.

These sources said that De Gaulle's visit to Khrushchev may not be in Soviet hands. The French Embassy in Moscow, however, denied knowledge of any invitation.

The best information was that no specific date had yet been agreed but the first of next year was considered likely.

Flynn Leaves Contestable Will

NEW YORK (AP)—Senator Joseph P. Flynn left the state of his estate to his 11-year-old daughter, Patricia Flynn, his will disclosed Wednesday.

A former wife, Nora Edgington, and Flynn's 11-year-old girl friend, Beverly Aaland, immediately indicated they planned to challenge the will.

The value of the estate was not shown in the document filed for probate in surrogate court. It was listed, as simply being "more than $20,000."

Homecoming Hits Campus

20,000 Alumni Expected For Weekend Festivities

By KIT ERICKSON
State News Night Editor

A full reservation book at Kellogg, the echoing of hammers as living units prepare displays, and the vigorous practice of the football team are signs that herald MSU's 50th annual Homecoming weekend which begins Friday.

AUSC Says No to Spartan Revue Idea

Student government rejected the idea of Spartan Revue Wednesday night because it was impossible to get any top name entertainers.

President Bill Livingston announced that they had signed a temporary contract with the Weaver's musical and vocal group. He cancelled the contract before the weekend ended.

As an alternate Livingston suggested a dance with the men's floor club to sing at intermission. The suggestion is being investigated.

It was decided to look into getting some big entertainment for fall or spring term to replace the defunct Spartans.

Once again the important issue of compulsory ROTC for basic college students was put on the shelf. This time it was to allow the congress members to read a lengthy report prepared by John Martin, (Butterfield) and the Academic Affairs committee.

It was brought up that an 80 university ruling required that no posters be allowed put up in Baker Hall. This issue was given to the Student's Rights and Welfare Committee to investigate.

Donors Give 171 Pints Wednesday

On Wednesday 171 pints of blood were donated by students and faculty to the APU blood drive held in the fourth floor Union. These donations brought the three day total to 662 pints.

The donors contributed a total of 24 pints per hour Wednesday as compared to 11 on Tuesday and 30 on Monday. Blood can be donated today 7-8 a.m. and on Friday 11 a.m.-3 p.m.

The goal of this year's blood drive is 1,000 pints. Students and faculty are urged to donate blood so that this goal can be accomplished.

The names of all the living donors are listed below and their pictures will appear in the Homecoming yearbook.

Battle Against Swindlers

Investigate Then Invest. Theme of TV Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government's battle against stock market swindlers is about to move into your living room.

Beginning next month, hundreds of television stations will broadcast animated cartoons from the Federal Reserve Bank. The cartoons will warn investors to ignore stock tipsters.

The campaign was planned by the securities and exchange commission, which hopes its "wise owl" won't be as familiar as "smokey the bear," the symbol of the U.S. Forest Service.

The SEC, which polices the stock market, enlisted the cooperation of the advertising industry for the campaign. The broadcasting industry will donate air time.

The cost to the government will be $2,990 for the cartoon films plus the expense of printing and mailing leaflets which will be offered to viewers and listeners.

Many American investors have been lured to Wall Street by promises of quick profits by swindlers. The SEC has been busy trying to warn investors that are "wise owl" cartoon.

Civilian Agency To Plan Rockets

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower decided Wednesday to strip the army of its rocket development team and turn it over to the Civilian Space Agency. He said this would strengthen the national space effort.

It was concluded that the Army Ballistic Missile Agency can best serve the national interest as an integral part of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Eisenhower announced from his vacation headquarters in Augusta, Ga.

Home Ec Celebrates Its Golden Year

Home economists today have the experience and knowledge of a progressive 50 years to which to advance.

The period since 1909 when the American Home Economics Association began, was highlighted by Mary Sweeney, past president and dean of the College of Home Ec.

She spoke Wednesday night at the fiftieth anniversary celebration in the Union ballroom.

Miss Sweeney, looking back over the years, said she has carried MSU in her heart. When she came, the Home Ec department was in the basement of the Women's building.

She said she saw it grow from a bare beginning to a powerful force, not only here but at other colleges and as an interest throughout the nation.

"We now have tools, experience, and prestige. We are on the threshold of a more exciting world than my group ever had," said Miss Sweeney.

France Seeks Postponement Of Summit

PARIS (AP)—France put the brakes today on U.S. and British talk of a Summit Meeting in December. President Charles De Gaulle had said for a springtime meeting of the four great world leaders.

Annual reports that Nikita Khrushchev may visit Paris for two-week talks with President Charles De Gaulle, the French Government announced this as its stand on the summit.

If the world climate is changing in the coming months, then the big four could hold a general discussion next spring of the problems which divide the world.

The statement of the cabinet, which included De Gaulle, was made after a meeting with the French Government, which said it would not accept a summit meeting until the world climate is more favorable.

In Washington, President Eisenhower met with Secretary of State Christian Herter apparently to discuss ways of settling the dispute with France over a timing of a meeting.

In London, the foreign office commented: "We have always felt that in the current meeting would take place rather earlier than the spring." It added that there would have to be a decision on a date to propose to Moscow.

The House of Representatives considered the project Wednesday. According to President John A. Hannah, House approval is necessary before the Board of Trustees can discuss any self-insulating project.

ROTC Plan Merits Deep Consideration

STUDENTS AT MSU have yet to show determination to end compulsory military training such as demonstrated by Frederick Moore, freshman at the University of California at Berkeley.

Yet ROTC is still a matter of concern on the MSU campus. Much in the news last spring quarter, the question of compulsory vs. voluntary ROTC is still in the air this fall, and resulting concern for the entire program has been evident.

Several committees have studied the ROTC program, namely the Committee on the Future of the University, which recommended a more academic program with elimination of the compulsory aspect; the faculty committee appointed by the Academic Senate, scheduled to report Nov. 4; and AUSG's Academic Affairs Committee, which offered its report and recommendations to Congress Wednesday.

ACTION ON THE STUDENT committee's recommendations was delayed by Congress until next week. This one-week interim provides time for representatives to discuss the proposals with their constituents.

The AUSG committee's report, a careful, thorough study, deserves thoughtful consideration on the part of each student. The Committee, under Rep. John Martinen, merits credit for its detailed and responsible treatment of an extremely important topic.

Here the responsibility of every student and of each AUSG representative comes into play. The privilege students ask—to be able to have some say about affairs which concern them—brings with it this responsibility.

BEYOND READING the information, serious thought and discussion should be given to the proposed changes. Upon this, student representatives will be better able to base their own decisions and votes on the matter next Wednesday.

Considering the content of the Committee's recommendations, we see the total plan proposed for eventual change to a voluntary program as one of the best thus far presented.

The gradual change which the Committee proposes, involving, before making the program voluntary, a genuine strengthening of its academic content and a probable increase in its desirability, as we feel, an extremely wise approach to the situation.

BETTER ORIENTATION and introduction, proposed as a one-term required course, would also add strength to the military program. The recommendation that this be compulsory for all male students, serving to introduce them to Army and Air Force ROTC, is also a good one. Viewing the role of the military in the life of all male citizens, such an introduction at the college level would have value. An alternative to such introduction might be a more active program of orientation, sponsored by the military, for high school seniors.

Requiring the course for women students, however, is more questionable. This would necessitate a course of comparable educational value to Basic College courses. Such a program, however, if effectively handled and consisting of significant subject matter, might be an ideal situation. The committee suggests that, for women, the orientation course would be education for citizenship. The committee on the Future's concepts regarding liberal education for women might be viewed in regarding the advisability of such a course for female students.

The AUSG plan should stir thoughtful consideration by the student body during the coming week, and by top policy-making bodies during the coming months.

Required One Term

All-Student ROTC Introduction AUSG's Counter-Proposal

By SANDRA LEGATZ, State News Staff Editor

A year's worth of investigation and research by the Committee on Academic Affairs of A.U. University, State Government, Wednesday presented to Congress a summary of its findings on the ROTC program at MSU. A rather startling proposal that a course of instruction, perhaps entitled "Current Aspects of Military Affairs," be required of all students, men and women, and that the Department of Military and Air Science should require, as a condition of graduation, that all students complete a course in military instruction, was presented.

Proposed as an educational program for peace and war, the required term would serve as an introduction into ROTC for men. For women it would be comparable to teaching of the "citizenship" concept which the Air Force is advancing today, according to the committee. Credit would be granted.

Excerpt from the program would be required of students and those who have completed their military obligations.

Such a small, arms instruction course would not be taught on a par with the ROTC program. Incomplete orientation for incoming students was also criticized. Students attending counseling clinics during the summer have a total of 30 minutes for introduction to each of the services, represented on campus. During Welcome Week, the time is shortened to 15 minutes, time enough for new students to say "I'll take Army" or "I'll take Air Force."

The title weakness cited was that little attention is being given to the orientation of the ROTC facilities and that educators come in contact with the proposed changes only at the Pentagon, which planning stage in most instances.

The committee points out that compulsory ROTC is not without its strong points. A school with such a program commends some more male graduates than does a non-compulsory school, provides a broad base for selecting future officers and initial contact with the military for a greater number of students than would the voluntary program.

Percentages derived from statistics in Education and Military Leadership: A Study of ROTC by two Dartmouth professors, Lyons and Masland, show that there is a higher number of graduates who receive Army and Air Force commissions from compulsory schools than non-compulsory schools.

Statistics indicate that 12.93 percent of graduates in compulsory ROTC schools received Army commissions, compared to 8.57 percent in non-compulsory schools. Air Force commissions were granted to 4.36 percent of graduates in compulsory schools and 4.972 percent in non-compulsory schools.

Members of the Committee on Academic Affairs, headed by John Martinen of Butterfield, who prepared the 13 page report were representatives Jack Bingham, (East Lansing), Shagun Hansen, (E. Yankesey), Jean Hume, (Abbot), Jack Miller, (Lansing), and Larry Vail (Gilchrist).

Objection is also raised as to the amount of subject matter covered in one term. A second criticism is that in some majors it is extremely difficult to complete the ROTC requirement and graduate at the end of four years.

The committee feels that some courses offered in ROTC are not at college level, but only "Mickey Mouse." The quick skimming of the history text and the general comments which result from some areas of discussion do not provide the necessary intellectual stimulation. The nuts and bolts courses

Chessman Wins Stay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Caryl Chessman, lover of lane ban and prison author, won a new stay of execution from the Supreme Court Wednesday, two days before he was scheduled to die in California.

It was the seventh time in the 17 1/2 years Chessman has spent in San Quentin Prison's death row that the courts have canceled his appointments with death. It was the second time in 19 appeals to the Supreme Court that the high tribunal has stepped in.

The court gave his attorney, George Davis of San Francisco, until Nov. 3 to file a new appeal. But the justices refused to give him until Nov. 18, as Davis had asked.

After the appeal is filed, the state of California may within 30 days file a reply in opposition to further Supreme Court consideration of the case.

The eight justices who took part in Wednesday's decision will decide behind closed doors whether they will grant a hearing on the new appeal.

If they turn him down Chessman's conviction with the death penalty would stand. A new hearing could delay the decision on his fate for weeks, possibly months.

Davis had asked Justice Douglas, who supervises the federal courts in California, to grant a stay. Douglas referred the appeal to the full court, Chief Justice Warren, a former governor of California, disqual-

Reserve Moves Up
 Offensive Backfield
 Not Decided

Still undecided on some starters, State football coach Duff Daugherty put his reserves through a spirited practice session Wednesday.
 The question marks are at fullback and right half. Rance Martin, the usual fullback starter, was still hobbling from charley horses, Gary Hallman, who missed the Notre Dame game last Saturday, is running at full speed. He is battling Don Stewart, his replacement last week, for the starter's spot.
 Sophomore Carl Charon was running with the offensive team Wednesday for Martin, who was with the defense. Park Baker, the usual defensive fullback, was slowed down by a recurrence of a hip injury, but is expected to see action Saturday.

Booters Back on Beam

GRAND RAPIDS—Erich Streder and Bruce Okline scored a pair of goals here today to get the Spartan team back in their winning ways with a 5-0 win over the College.

Following several lineup changes following State's first victory loss, 4-2, to St. Ignace last week, Coach Gene was impressed with the way the new players as well as the old ones.

Streder gave State a lead in the first quarter with a goal at 8:30 of the same quarter. Okline's goals, also two and a half minutes apart, came midway through the fourth and final period. He humped one in from directly in front of the net after DeHaan bobbed a shot then netted the longest marker of the day when his corner kick arced past the reserve goalkeeper.

ATO Downs ZBT for Table Tennis Crown

ATO defeated Zeta Beta Tau in IM table tennis Wednesday to take the fraternity doubles championship.

The winning combination of Dave Scott and Ron Lanier lost the first set, 13-21, but came back 21-15 and 21-14 to take the title. Representing ZBT were Dick Rasser and Gary Adelman.

Both Scott and Lanier usually follow into the duties. Lanier, a sophomore, was an All-American forward in 1958 and 1959. He is a halfback, switch hitter, and a good performer. He is pleased by the performance of both in their new roles. He has stated the work of Paul Winters, Gustav Strautinskas and Art Holman in relief roles.

Shovel Bowl To Feature Hero Ardfarb

ARTHUR D. ARDFARB, JR., EAST ARES (ULP) — This afternoon weekend, my father, D. Ardfarb, Sr., is returning to East Ares to play a game that made him an All-American. Lushwell

Daddy was the biggest of them all. Lusher in his athletic functions, he was renowned as the "Biggest" hero of the annual Shovel Bowl Classic against a group of professional players called the "Government."

Daddy has brought me up on well at tradition. I follow the slogan, "Safety First." My sub-slogan, "Close Cover and striking" reverse the four roses, and even the unofficial colors, black and blue.

Castro Arrests Matos, Former Rebel Comrade

CAMAGUEY, Cuba (AP) — Amid tumult in the streets around his provincial military headquarters, Maj. Hubert Matos surrendered quietly Wednesday for investigation on a charge of plotting against Fidel Castro's government.

Prime Minister Castro himself was in this city 300 miles east of Havana for the arrest. Between 4,000 and 5,000 workers and peasants were mobilized by radio for an assault which never came.

Army Commander Maj. Camilo Cienfuegos, who flew with Castro from Havana, walked in to the headquarters and came out-unopposed with Matos, a bearded associate of both in the revolution that felled Fulgencio Batista's dictatorship.

Castro took to a radio-TV network to accuse Matos of being vain and ungrateful. His denunciation resembled that which he used in attacking and ousting Manuel Urrutia from the presidency last July.
