Senate Discusses Income Tax Levy

Legislature Gropes Vainly For Alternative Solutions

LANSING (AP)—Income tax talk broke out Tuesday in Senate as fruitless groping continued for an answer to the state's money woes.

The majority Republican caucus, on report dealing with a levy, moved quickly to quiet discussion, but it appeared fear was taking hold and there may be no other place to turn.

The caucus specifically rejected, as it did in July 22, the so-called Conlin Plan calling for a 10 percent income levy on individuals, five percent on corporations and seven percent on financial institutions.

Questioned by newsmen, Sen. Frank Beale of St. Clair, GOP majority leader, said "personally I wouldn't want to see the income tax idea is completely dead."

Beale said answers submitted by the minority generally in a series of questions on tax possibilities, asked last week, may have to be other than in which of several.

One of the questions put to the Senate by Sen. Paul Adams of St. Clair, Democratic (R-Michigan), Taxation Committee chairman, was whether the legislature could repeal the existing three percent sales tax and replace it with a four percent use tax.

Many members in the Capitol believe such a maneuver was ruled out by the Oct. 22 Supreme Court decision holding the use tax increase rejected two months ago.

However, hearings, Sen. Lynn Francis of Midland, GOP Floor Leader, and other Republicans are holding the hope Adams would hold otherwise. His opinion is expected within a day or two.

Open consideration of the income tax was forced upon the senators, some of them adamant.

AUSG Set To Install Members

The swearing in of new congressmen and freshmen class officers will take up the largest share of attention at tonight's Student Congress meeting.

Since the complete slate of freshmen officers was not known until late Tuesday night, this will be the first time that all four will be introduced to Congress members.

New freshmen officers are Bill Gerrard, president; John Howell, vice president; Robin Wallen, secretary; and Phoebe Matsuura, treasurer.

In addition, new congressmen, just recently elected, will be sworn into Congress. These members are: Kitty Katz and Dick Anderson, East Lansing; Lynn Chapman, socialist; Sandra Marsh and Clee Luce, St. Louis; and Judy Speckman, South Campus.

Other new congressmen are William Ryan and Dave Schell, Emmett; Ray Jenkins, Butler; and Peter Golias, Ransom. Shirley McIntyre, Mason, was the only one to petition in his dorm and was automatically seated.

In the realm of resolutions, Congress will consider a measure to set up a special committee to work on the proposed bill of AUSG.

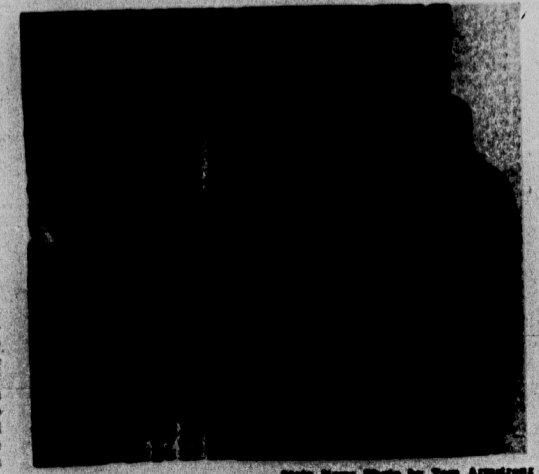

Also, a resolution will be introduced to revise the committee system of Congress.

Winding up pending action, a bill will be introduced to finally grant permanent charters to all organizations who have in the past requested them, but been turned down because of various administrative oversights.

IFC Presidents Meet

The IFC presidents' assembly meeting will be held tonight at 7:30 at the Pi Kappa Phi house. All members should attend, according to IFC President Ed Reuling. The Wolverine picture will be taken at this meeting at 8:40 p.m.

Duffey Gives Views on Beat Generation

Bernard Duffey, East Lansing, speaking at the Union Parlor when a capacity crowd attended Prof. Duffey's center lecture, speech on the Beat generation.

"The Beat Generation is restless, rebellious, clannish and cool. Men wear beards and blue jeans. Women wear black pull-overs and a haggard expression," said Prof. Bernard Duffey Tuesday night in the Union.

Duffey presented his views on the "Beats" and the writing of Jack Kerouac to an overflow crowd in Parlors A, B and C of the Union. The program was part of Fine Arts Week.

He described the Beats as highly egotistical; they take the "I am" view as their starting place.

Most Beats are highly religious. Kerouac wears a crucifix around his neck and when photographed for publications, all except the N.Y. Times had this erased from the picture, he said.

Duffey said Kerouac's novels find a place for themselves in recent American action in search of the Beat idea of "real." His novels are not about the Generation, but of it, he added.

The Beats grasp life only by living it, and they find life by escaping from the world. They also try to save themselves from a world which they feel they never would have made, Duffey said.

Kerouac has written six novels, which may be divided into two groups. One deals with groups of people and their way of life forming a center of interest, although each has a single protagonist.

Violinist Impressive Menuhin Performs To Capacity Crowd

Selections from Beethoven, Bach, and Paganini highlighted the performance given by Yehudi Menuhin, concert violinist, last night at the Aud.

Beethoven's "Sonata in F Major" and "Concerto in D Major" by Paganini were presented with piano accompaniment by Leon Danmeyer. Menuhin played a solo, "Sonata in G Minor," by Bach. Other selections were "Habanera" by Sarasate and the lively Rumanian Dances by Bartok.

Appearing as a concert violinist since he was eight, Menuhin has appeared in theaters and concert halls all over the world. In a recent tour he played before audiences in Europe, Africa and Asia, interrupting his world tour to play one concert at Carnegie Hall in New York City and to appear on the Steve Allen television show.

During the 1957-58 season he played with the New York Philharmonic-Symphonic, the orchestras of Chicago, Los Angeles, St. Louis, Dallas, Buffalo, Minneapolis, Portland, Vancouver, Houston, Miami, Atlanta, Baltimore, Corpus Christi and Toronto and performed in recital in major cities across the country.

Menuhin's performance at MSU brought a near capacity audience to the Aud. The lively and difficult vibrato, the sign of the master virtuoso, were enjoyed and applauded by the audience. Especially well taken was his excellent expression of skill and talent in the Rumanian Dances by Bartok.

Other new congressmen are William Ryan and Dave Schell, Emmett; Ray Jenkins, Butler; and Peter Golias, Ransom. Shirley McIntyre, Mason, was the only one to petition in his dorm and was automatically seated.

CHARLES VAN DOREN sits in the witness chair of the House Subcommittee on Legislative Oversight at Washington, D.C., Monday. Van Doren told congressmen he was given answers and even given a regular script to memorize when he appeared on the supposedly unheard "Twenty-One" television quiz program three years ago.

Stassen conceded defeat shortly after 10 p.m. when Dilworth's lead passed 180,000.

The result, not unexpected, just about brought Stassen to the end of the political trail, although he is expected to try for a place on the Pennsylvania delegation to the 1960 GOP national convention.

In another key election Tuesday, Democrat Bert Conbe had a comfortable lead over Republican John Robinson in the race for governor of Kentucky in returns from about a third of the state's precincts. The seat is now held by Democrat A. B. Chandler, who was ineligible to run again.

Republicans registered their first gains in the scattered elections in update New York mayoralty races. Republicans won seats from Democrats in Upton, Amsterdam, Canandaigua, Auburn, Ithaca, Rome, Peekskill, Troy and Cortland.

In the same update area, Democrats ousted Republicans in Dutchess, Cortland, Otsego, and Oneida and unseated a liberal mayor in Oswego.

Freeman Improves: Others Remain Same

The condition of Filmore Freeman, Chicago graduate student injured in the Kedzie explosion, was slightly improved Tuesday. Freeman and Philip Sreiner of Lansdale, Pa., were both in "fairly good" condition.

Harlo Mork of Trenton remained in critical condition with third degree burns over 80 percent of his body.

When I Am Immoral" will be the topic of the debate by the Forensics Union tonight at 7:30 in 21 Union. This will be the third of the special programs scheduled for Fine Arts festival week.

Speakers for the debate will be Associate Professor Huber Ellingsworth of Communication Arts and director of the MSU Forensics, John Ball, instructor of Communication Arts; and Harry Mancken, graduate student in theatrical work.

Orchestra - dance honorary, Thursday night, and Theta Alpha Phi, Friday night, will conclude the program for the week. Both will be in the Ballroom at 7:30 p.m.

Duffey discussed several of Kerouac's books, including "Doctor Sax," "Subterraneans" and "On the Road." He felt "Subterraneans" and "Doctor Sax" were Kerouac's most successful novels because the characters are individuals rather than types.

Duffey described "Doctor Sax" as the "most ambitious bid by Kerouac for literary identity and the hardest of all to deal with."

The program was the first of six lectures sponsored by the English department for this academic year.

'$64,000' Series Both Controlled

Xavier Cugat Tells Of 'Challenge' Rig

WASHINGTON (AP)—The man who screened contestants testified Tuesday the original big money quiz show on TV, the $64,000 Question, was rigged and that the sponsoring Revlon Co. knew it was.

The "$64,000 Question," the "$64,000 Challenge," both on CBS, and "The Big Surprise" on NBC, all were described by Associate Producer Mort Koplin of New York as controlled quiz shows.

He said he screened contestants or gave answers to them in advance. Koplin had been named by rhumba king Xavier Cugat as having coached him to $16,000 in winnings on the "Challenge" last year.

Both appeared before a House Commerce Subcommittee which is digging into the fixing scandal that exploded around TV quiz shows and blew many of them out of existence.

The executive producer of the two $64,000 shows, Steven Carlton of New York, supported Koplin's testimony. He testified that he agreed with what Koplin said about the techniques and degree of control over quiz shows.

Cugat was the big name Tuesday. He said he didn't give all the facts about his appearance on the program to the New York district attorney's office. But he said he did tell the truth about it later to a grand jury.

The nattily dressed, 44-year-old orchestra leader who said he is in the 76 percent income bracket was merely one of numerous former contestants who have testified to program frauds.

Koplin was the first from the production end to bring the rigging story into the open—although he preferred to call it controlling. And he was the first to put a finger on a sponsor as knowing what was going on.

With reference to the $64,000 Question and Revlon, a cosmetics firm, Richard Goodwin of the Subcommittee Staff asked Koplin:

"The sponsor was fully aware the program was being controlled by the producer."

"It is my opinion that is a fair statement," Koplin replied. "As far as I know, that is a true statement, sir."

NBC Drops Van Doren From Payroll

NEW YORK (AP)—Charles Van Doren was fired Tuesday from his $50,000-a-year job with the National Broadcasting Co. in the wake of his admissions that his TV quiz show performances were rigged.

NBC said "those who have knowingly engaged in the fraud of quiz show rigging must be removed from the broadcasting scene."

The network's action came a day after Columbia University announced it had dropped Van Doren as a $5,500-a-year assistant English professor.

In both cases, Van Doren's testimony before a House Subcommittee Monday, admitting he got advance coaching on TV quiz questions and answers, was cited as the basis for his removal.

NBC said "In the light of the facts that have now emerged, it is clear that Mr. Van Doren abused the confidence of the viewing public as a performer as well as a 'Twenty-One' contestant."

Earlier, at his Greenwich Village apartment, Van Doren, who in a worn and shaken mood, he told newsmen he hoped "very much" to get another teaching job, but has had no offers.

Faculty Sets ROTC Vote For Today

Final Decision Still Impossible

The MSU's ROTC program of a voluntary instead of compulsory basis came up for a vote of the faculty today at the regular Senate meeting.

The immediate final decision on the issue is possible.

A Senate-appointed committee, headed by Dr. Joseph LaPalombara, head of the political science department, has recommended by unanimous vote that the ROTC be made voluntary as far as possible.

Members of the committee favor a motion to investigate a compulsory-voluntary aspect of ROTC at the senate's spring meeting in May.

The committee did its report during summer session of the early part of this quarter, starting faculty, students, administrators and members of the military departments on campus. It also met with members of AUSG's Academic Affairs Committee, simultaneously handling the same topic.

The report, summarized and widely distributed to senate members, references procedure of a referendum pertaining to the ROTC.

Academic senate includes all full members with the rank of assistant professor or assistant professors with tenure.

The 80-member body regulates academic, instructional and research matters. The Academic Council, composed of some members, screens material for the senate, and receives the senate's action for consideration of approval.

The ROTC recommendation, approved by the senate, would be to go to council, with a referendum at winter term's new meeting in February.

Compulsory ROTC is a Board of Trustees ruling. The final faculty decision would be to go before the board for final approval. Only the senate can amend or reverse the board's regulations.

The Senate will also consider action on specific aspects of the Committee on the Future of the University's report, which will be approved before they are implemented.

Other items up for approval include addition of courses to the curriculum, teaching of statistics in other than the statistics department and addition of a student member at large to the Board of Student Publications.

Reds Okay West's Demand For Explosion Examinations

GENEVA (AP)—The Russians reportedly agreed to a Western demand for re-examination of methods to police underground nuclear explosions.

This was a complete turnaround from the previous Soviet position in negotiations for a nuclear test ban being carried here by the three nuclear nations—the United States, Britain and Russia.

Since early this year the U.S. has insisted that no trustworthy system for control of a nuclear test ban could be devised unless information in the U.S. report—including the data on underground blasts—was taken into consideration along with possible new Soviet data.

TO THE MEMBERS OF BLOCK 'S' who didn't know it, here is what you look like to spectators from the other side of these crowds. Block 'S' has been performing at half-times of Spartan football games for the past five years. This season the Block is composed entirely of freshmen. Let's have a big 'Yes State'.

Block 'S' Leads Rooters

Spartan football fans are getting used to following the line of spectators on the field. At all home football games, the cheering section does its best to lead the faithful in cheers and still make into the hearts of the less ardent fans who may have been disappointed by unfortunate setbacks of the football team.

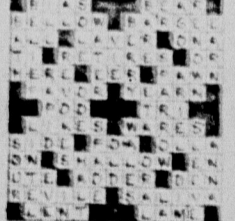

The Block section of the stadium scene just for show, says the members of the Block. They are not just there to cheer, but to participate in the game. A total of 450 seats in the junior section of the bleachers were occupied by participants.

MSU Political Organizations Offer Theory and Practice

Students are offered an opportunity to take active part in their own political education through the Young Republican, Young Democrat, Young Socialist, and Young Communist clubs. These organizations offer theory and practice in politics and public affairs. Their meetings are "theory" nights.

English Department Adds Two Members to Faculty

Two new members of the department of English this fall are Prof. Harold Adams and Clinton Burhans. Professor Adams, a graduate of Princeton University in 1943, received his MA from the University of Washington in 1944 and his PhD in 1953. He was an instructor in English at Cornell University in 1952-53 and an assistant professor at the University of Texas, 1953-54. During the second semester of the 1954-55 school year, Adams was a visiting assistant professor at Washington University in St. Louis, Mo. Adams served in the Marine Corps 1943-45, rising from private to lieutenant. He is the author of "Bake and Yeast: The Cornish Vision," published by the Cornell University Press in 1953, and many articles and reviews in professional journals.

JD's Greater Menace? More Detailed Reports Of Crimes Blamed

With today's elaborate reporting of the smallest of crimes, the problem of juvenile delinquency appears more menacing than five years ago. The Youth Foundation, a national organization, is sponsoring a study of the problem. The study will be conducted in five major cities: New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, and San Francisco. The study will be completed by the end of the year.

By DON BRAUNAGEL

An academic endeavor of which Spartans can be proud is the Honors College. Approved by the university faculty in November, 1954, it was an attempt to provide for the individualistic needs of the very able student. Headed by Dr. Stanley Izzerda, the college has proven very popular with the qualified students. Over 97 percent of those eligible have chosen to enter it. Current membership is about 420.

DR. IZZERDA
Honors College head

Honors College students term classes between 8:55 and 10:15. All requirements for the Honors College are rigorous. The student must maintain a 3.5 cumulative average. The Honors College is a great opportunity for the student who wishes to challenge himself. It is a place where the student can find a community of like-minded individuals who are committed to academic excellence.

Panama Mob Attacks Embassy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Panamanian mobsters attacked the U.S. Embassy in Panama City today, looting and burning the building. The mob, which included about 100 men, some armed with shotguns and rifles, broke through the embassy's outer wall and entered the main building. They set fire to the building and looted it for hours. The mob then moved on to the U.S. military air base in Panama City, where they also looted and burned buildings. The attack on the embassy was the first of a series of violent incidents in Panama since the U.S. took control of the Canal Zone in 1903.

Roll Shows Second Best Games U. S.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—American teams showed and displayed a second best roll in the 1954-55 season, according to a poll conducted by the Associated Press. The poll showed that American teams were the second best in the world, behind the British. The poll was based on the performance of 100 teams from 15 different countries. American teams were ranked second in the poll, with a score of 85. The British were ranked first with a score of 90. The poll was conducted by the Associated Press and published in its newspaper poll book.

Ike Plans 3-Week Trip To Eurasian Countries

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is reported to be planning a tour to several countries in Europe and Asia starting early next month.

The tour, which is expected to last about three weeks, will include stops in Italy, India, Pakistan, Turkey and Greece. Other countries also are said to be under consideration. An official in a position to know said the tour will be the most extensive that President Eisenhower has undertaken. The longest time he has been out of the country since he was elected was when he visited West Germany, England, France and Scotland for 12 days last August and September. He was accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Eisenhower, and their children.

The President is understood to be planning to disclose his travel plans at least in part at his news conference today. The White House already has announced that Eisenhower will attend a Western Summit conference in Paris starting Dec. 10. He is expected to be back home in time for Christmas with his family.

As plans are now developing, Eisenhower actually will have been away from Washington for about 20 days when he returns from Paris a day or so before Christmas.

The goodwill tour he is arranging reportedly will take him first to Italy for conferences in Rome, probably Dec. 1-3.

On such a visit, the President usually confer with Italy's President, Alcide De Gasperi, and other Italian officials.

The Italian government reportedly is expected to meet at long last out of the Paris Western Summit Conference. That session will bring together Eisenhower, French President Charles de Gaulle, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. An Eisenhower visit to Italy in advance of that session could have the effect of soothing the Italian.

Buffalo Gets AFL Squad

NEW YORK (AP)—Henry Wiseman, president of the new American Football League's expansion committee, said Thursday that Ralph C. Wilson, Jr. of Detroit had definitely decided to locate a franchise in Buffalo, N.Y.

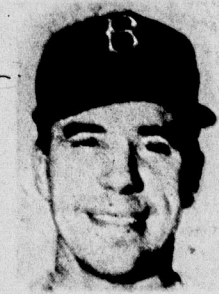

Buffalo is the seventh city in new professional league which plans to start operation in 1960 with eight teams.

Officials of the league met here last Wednesday and awarded a franchise to Wilson. Wilson said at that time Buffalo was his probable choice for location of the franchise.

Wilson had been interested in Miami, but couldn't get permission to play in the Orange Bowl," Wiseman said. "He then asked about some other cities, and I suggested he try Buffalo, since I knew they wanted to get into the league."

In addition to Buffalo, cities in the league are New York, Los Angeles, Dallas, Houston, Minneapolis-St. Paul, and Denver.

After 20 Years Reese Turns To Telecasting

NEW YORK (AP)—After 20 years as player and coach with the Dodgers, Pee Wee Reese is cutting the club to become a baseball telecaster. It was announced Thursday. Official announcement will be made Thursday.

The 39-year-old veteran from Louisville has signed a two-year contract to join Dick Durr in handling the commentary of the CBS games & the work on Saturdays and Sundays for a midwestern, heavy-duty. Reese replaces Buddy Rabinowitz, a former major league infielder.

Northwestern Finds Way From Cellar

Holcomb, Parseghian Put Snarl Into Wildcats' Game

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the first of a series on Northwestern's rebirth as a collegiate football power.

By CHARLES CRAMERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Four years ago a Northwestern campus publication suggested that the University drop out of the Big 10 because it could not field a representative football team.

Today, the Wildcats have gone from humiliation to honor. They have won six straight games for the first time since 1936, lead the Big 10 and hold the nation's No. 2 ranking.

The rejuvenation was brought off by a complete reshuffling of the athletic department and a recruiting program stepped up to the allowable limit of Big 10 regulations.

Moving in as athletic director was Stu Holcomb, one-time Ohio State football captain who served as head coach at six schools, the last for nine years at Purdue.

Holcomb, who had four years to go on a Purdue contract, said he accepted the Northwestern job "because I like the challenge it offers."

The Wildcats had won only one conference game in three years.

Holcomb's first move was to hire Ara Parseghian as coach. At 52, this intense, dynamic man became the youngest head football coach in the Big 10.

Parseghian's Miami of Ohio team had just ended an undefeated season. In five years at the bustling little football factory in Oxford, Ohio, his teams had a 59-6-1 record, including victories over Northwestern in 1955 and Indiana in 1954.

Parseghian brought to Northwestern a tonic of aggressiveness in spirit and determination that promptly overcame defeatism.

His background was a solid as they come: He played Navy football under Paul Brown at Great Lakes then went to Miami to start in football, basketball and baseball; he joined the Cleveland Browns in 1948 and two years later returned to Miami as an assistant to Woody Hayes; he succeeded Hayes as head coach when Woody went to Ohio State.

(Next—Painstaking recruiting pays off.)

ROUGH RECEPTION—The Spartans will see increased tackling Saturday as shown here by Purdue's tough fullback Jack Laraway (55) who is bringing down Iowa halfback Jerry Wooten (16) as he received a pass in the second quarter of Purdue-Iowa game Oct. 24. Purdue was 14-10 in its game Oct. 24. Purdue was 14-10 in its game Oct. 24. Purdue was 14-10 in its game Oct. 24.

Duffy Looks Back Mickey Walker Suffers Neck Injury at Practice

By JIM WALLINGTON
Associate Sports Editor

Clouds hang over the Spartans' football picture today.

Mickey Walker, first string offensive guard, suffered a strained neck and a bruised left shoulder during a short scrimmage at Purdue's practice today.

The James Fearing team physician says Walker may be out for two days.

"There will be no back line work from the offense," the doctor warned. "When we'll see if he'll play or not in Saturday's Purdue game."

Coach Hahn filled in for the East Detroit junior during the remainder of the workout and probably will start if Walker does not recover thoroughly.

The complexion of this week's practice was completely different from last week when the Spartans "tried" for Ohio State. This week coach Duffy Deanehart is working to prepare for a tough Boilermaker reception.

Not that MSU sports publicist, showed Tuesday's practice the toughest since the first game.

At a football writers luncheon in Kellogg Center Tuesday, Duffy said something most coaches shy away from looking at last week's game instead of looking ahead.

Most of Deanehart's talk at the meeting concerned Ohio State.

The only comments offered by the freshman on the Purdue club were: "We'll have a lot of incentive against Purdue. You remember they knocked us out of the national scene two years ago and gave us an all-season record with an upset. We will have to improve defensively 50 percent to beat them. It will be a good game. I believe we are capable of defeating any team at any time if everyone is right."

The Purdue representative at the meeting didn't have much more to say. After mentioning about his injury list he told Duffy that State "would have to score through the air. Purdue would allow a score on ground.

But an examination of Deanehart's season record it should be hard to score through the air. In six games Deanehart allowed four touchdowns through the air.

The Boilermaker's line pointed out that Deanehart is a feeble passing team. In one game, when the Boilermaker completed three passes for a total of five yards.

Purdue is looking for a victory over the Spartans and the Boilermaker's end. Dick Deanehart, who is a former MSU player, said he is the only one who has ground game with all the ground.

But the Boilermaker's defense is not as good as it was last year. Jack Laraway, who is a former MSU player, said he is the only one who has ground game with all the ground.

of Cal. Makes Charges against USC's McKeever

The Western Athletic Association (W.A.A.) today announced that it will investigate charges that University of California coach Bill McKeever has made improper payments to USC players.

The W.A.A. board of directors met in Los Angeles today to discuss the charges. McKeever, who coached USC from 1954 to 1961, is accused of paying players to play for USC.

The charges were first reported in a Los Angeles Times article last week. The article stated that McKeever had paid players as much as $10,000 to play for USC.

The W.A.A. board of directors is expected to make a decision on the charges by the end of the month.

It has been said that McKeever's vision was obscured. The picture does not bear this out. It has been said that the damage was done by the weight of McKeever's body and that the broken helmet would prove this. We have examined the helmet and found it to be in good condition. The picture also shows that McKeever was not wearing a helmet at the time of the incident.

We regret very greatly the severe injury to Steve Bates. We can only hope that his recovery will be complete and that he will be able to play again. We are sure that all sports fans will see the picture and will be shocked and saddened by this case of brutality.

We united in reaffirming our unconditional stand for clean play on the field. We intend to take whatever steps are necessary to maintain this policy.

In this and we plan to request a meeting of the presidents of the Western Athletic Association of Western Universities to discuss the case of this incident and its related incidents involving McKeever. And we also intend to make the case and will planning to make this publicly available.

Kemney Says St. Louis May Win Nationals

St. Louis is a good bet to win the 1958 National Amateur Championship and has a good chance of winning the National Open.

This was the opinion of Ken Kemney, St. Louis manager, after he heard reports of the N.A.A.U. participants in the six regional play-offs.

N.A.A.U. tournament chairman John Squires of the University of Connecticut listed 24 schools as title prospects, including St. Louis, Wheaton (Ill.), Chicago State, and Penn. (Abington). Midwestern candidate St. Louis is only a few days away from its only varsity defeat in nearly four years this season.

St. Louis has the best talent and best coaching, Kemney said, and is certain to be the committee's choice of the four teams.

Stanford Tops Nation Both Scoring, Offense

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—Stanford topped the nation in scoring and offense in the 1958 college football season.

The Cardinal team scored 405 points in 11 games, averaging 36.8 points per game. This was the highest scoring average in the nation.

Stanford's offense was led by quarterback Jim Plunkett, who threw for 1,000 yards and 10 touchdowns. Running back Jim Taylor also had a strong season, rushing for 1,000 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Stanford's defense was also strong, allowing only 100 points in 11 games. The team's defense was led by linebacker Tom Richey, who had 10 interceptions.

International Club Seeks Students For Talent Show

The International Club will hold an all-university talent show Nov. 20 in the Union Ballroom.

International Club, International Club president, said participating in the show is not only a chance to be a member of the International Club but also a chance to show to participants what they can do. He said that all students who had talent and wished to participate should contact the club at 111 Mason Hall, Room 111, as soon as possible so that an audition may be scheduled.

All talent will be considered for the show. If you can sing, dance, play a musical instrument or have any type of an act, he said, it urges you to try out for the show.

Last year students from 25 different countries participated in a similar show.

Dead to Aid Living Prof Supports Plans To Transplant Heart

"If you had a good surgical job and it 'took,' there is no reason why a second human heart shouldn't operate."

Dr. Clyde Carey, professor of physiology and pharmacology, made this statement in the wake of an announcement by Russian surgeon Vladimir Demikhov that he would attempt to attach a second human heart from a recently deceased person to the body of a heart disease patient. When asked if such an operation would be physically possible, Carey said, "I don't think that's ready to say that anything is impossible. I cannot see any reason why a second human heart could not be grafted into an individual."

Admitting that the operation would be difficult because of the great deal of blood vessel surgery involved, Carey said, "This particular thing would be much easier than putting a new leg on successfully because bones and nerves would be involved in that case. You do not have those problems in the case of the heart."

"It might be difficult for grafts from one individual to take in the body of another individual because of the difference in tissue. We can't explain this too well. The tissues sometimes will just not grow together."

When asked what effect adding a second heart would have on the circulatory system as a whole, Carey replied, "It would help considerably if it functioned. A second heart would be like a second pump and our hearts are better than one."

Carey also noted that there would be no conflict between the flow of the individual and the second heart.

Safety Director Attends Meeting

Gordon Ahobba, director of the traffic safety center, and seven other members of the center represented MSU at the 4th annual National Safety Congress meeting in Chicago.

The theme, "Safety in the Sixties," was discussed in the speeches and discussions aimed to look ahead regarding what must be done if the future is to decrease the present national losses due to accidents.

Plans have been suggested for a national clearing house of information for the exchange of new ideas and information between the various centers and institutes of safety located throughout the United States.
