S. Approves French Test Of Bomb in Sahara Desert

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States indicated it believes the French government may be testing an atomic bomb in the Sahara desert without danger to the surrounding area.

"The U.S. has no technical details on the device which the French government may be testing, or the details of the precautions which it is taking at the test site to eliminate health and safety hazards.

"The French government, however, has stated that it will be testing a small nuclear device, that they are taking full safety precautions, and that testing will take several hundred kilometers from the nearest population center.

"The experience which the U.S. government has had in testing of nuclear devices and which I have just described, is germane in evaluating the questions of health hazards which have been raised in the case of anticipated French tests."

Lodge said the U.S. had conducted nuclear weapons tests in relative proximity to large population centers, including some only 85 miles from Las Vegas, Nevada. He added that every safety measure was taken and the tests did not constitute a threat to persons living nearby.

The debate put the U.S. in a tough spot.

Morocco, which is negotiating with the U.S. on the future of U.S. strategic air bases in that north African country, is pushing for a resolution urging France not to conduct the test.

A French delegation spokesman said he believed Lodge's speech would help the French case "since it came from an atomic power with the experience of the United States."

The committee debate was marked by a sharp clash between French delegate Jules

India Calls China Plan Repugnant

Nehru Not Clear
On His Opinion

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Red China's Chou En-Lai proposed Monday to settle the angry border dispute with India at a personal meeting with Prime Minister Nehru. Indian sources said Chou's dramatic new approach is unacceptable.

Refusing to give ground on claims to 40,000 square miles of Himalayan soil India regards as its own, the Chinese premier suggested both sides pull back their forces 12½ miles in the dispute zone.

"The entire approach is repugnant to India's stand on its internationally recognized border," said an authoritative Indian source.

Nehru himself mentioned Chou's note in a report to the working committee on his congress party but expressed no opinion, a committee member reported. Nehru has declared he is willing to negotiate but has never said anything about sitting down with Chou to talk things over.

Chou's note was handed to Nehru Sunday, then broadcast Monday by Peiping radio before its contents were made known here. If he suggested a site for the meeting there was no public mention of it.

The Red Chinese premier, in urging prompt action on his plan, said "Clashes which both sides do not want to see may occur in the future."

"The Chinese government proposes that, in order to discuss further the boundary question and other questions in the relations between the two countries, the prime ministers of the two countries hold talks in the immediate future," Chou's note said.

"The peoples of our two countries desire that we act promptly. I think we should meet their desire and not let those who seek every chance to dispute by all means the great friendship between China and India attain their sinister objective."

Chou suggested that "The armed forces of China and India each withdraw 20 kilometers (12½ miles) at once from the so-called MacMahon Line in the East and from the line up to which each side exercises actual control in the West."

The MacMahon Line was drawn in 1914 by Sir Henry McMahon, a British Indian official, to show the border between India and Tibet. No Chinese government ever has recognized the line. Red China claims territory as far as 80 miles south of the line in India's northeast frontier agency, where some border clashes have occurred.

Japanese Expedition and Safe

Group's Success
Determined

THANDEU, Nepal (AP)—A Japanese expedition feared in an attempt to scale the unconquered peak of the Himalayas is safe, foreign office reported.

The 12-member party was the first to put a man (40-ft. Mt. Gauri Sankar) of the Hindu God of God—remained unannounced.

Members had not been seen since they were to begin the final assault five weeks ago. The expedition was in the Himalayas and it was the climbers had to get to their deaths.

A foreign office said a portable look for the Japanese expedition had found a mountain slope. The expedition was preparing to set out on Saturday, another village in a two-week trek to the summit.

The report that the party had been out the faith of the expedition. She is believed to have been lost. Her husband has climbed the peak for 20 years, she said. "He would not lose his expedition were Kato and Japanese companions, Ake and Mitsuharu and guide Ang Tombo, a veteran of 16 Himalayan expeditions, another Sherpa, Nepalese liaison officer.

They set out in mid-September but had ever done, reach the peak of this peak near the clouds 35 miles west of Mt. Everest, the highest of mountains.

Jamaicans Aided By MSU Experts

Two MSU specialists are helping the government of a British crown colony resolve its agricultural communications problems.

They are Dr. Hildeya Kumata, associate professor of general communication arts in the communication research center, and Frank Byrnes, associate director of the National Project in Agricultural Communications, who recently returned from a two-weeks conference in Jamaica.

The specialists held this conference at the request of the International Co-operation Administration, the Jamaican Ministry of Agriculture and Lands, the Jamaican Agricultural Society and the University College of the West Indies.

The purpose of the conference for agricultural extension workers was to discuss and analyze problems in introducing new agricultural techniques.

Social highlights of the conference included two luncheons given in their honor, one by the Governor of Jamaica, and another held at the Myrtle Beach Hotel at which the acting consul general of the United States was a guest.

MSU Given $274,100 For Science

The Science and Mathematics Teaching Center is happy to announce that the National Science Foundation has awarded a grant of $274,100 to Michigan State University to operate an Academic Year Institute during the 60-61 school year.

The grant provides for stipends of $3,000 each for 48 secondary school teachers of general science. An additional allowance of $450 will be made for each dependent up to a maximum of four and an allowance is included for travel and books.

The program will be directed by Dr. John Mason, Associate Professor of Teacher Education.

The institute is designed to give the teacher a more thorough understanding of scientific principles and indicate to him ways and means of applying these to practical teaching situations. It is also designed to inform participants concerning the recent developments in the fields of Science and Mathematics.

A series of national authorities will be invited to come to the campus and address the institute from time to time.

Prof. Making Ireland Study

A mode of life which may be passing out of existence and which embraces Celtic, medieval and early modern elements is being studied in Ireland by a researcher from Michigan State University.

He is Dr. John Messenger Jr., assistant professor of social science, sociology and anthropology, and foreign studies. He and his wife, Betty, are spending a year in Ireland conducting ethnographic research in the Aran Islands.

According to Dr. Messenger, considerable archaeological, linguistic, folklore and anthropometric research has been done in the islands during the past century. The customs of the people, however, have never been extensively and systematically recorded by an ethnographer.

There is a steady emigration from the islands to the mainland and to Britain and America, and it is possible that in time the islands will become depopulated, Messenger observes. He believes that if this happens a mode of life will have disappeared forever, for the Aran is one of the last outposts of archaic Irish culture.

Coal Mines and Ore Boats Active Steelworkers Glad to Join The Back-to-Work Move

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Steel mills, coal mines and ore boats stepped up activity by the hour Monday, inching back into operation after the record 116-day steel strike.

Nearly 30 percent of the 500,000 steelworkers were back on the job moving again on the Great Lakes. And many coal mines reopened.

Most steelworkers appeared happy to be back at work after four months of idleness. Some expressed concern, however, that they may be on strike again with expiration of the 80-day cooling off period under a Taft-Hartley injunction.

For the first time in months some steel—that left behind at the start of the strike—rolled from the plants. New steel already was being produced in plants at Cleveland and Lorain, Ohio.

But it will be weeks before new steel moves in any significant amounts. U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's No. 1 producer, hopes to reach 25 percent of capacity this week.

Meanwhile in Washington, Federal mediation director Joseph Finnegan said he does not plan to call further formal mediation conferences in the steel dispute for about two weeks.

However, Finnegan said he would keep trying for a break in the deadlock through informal talks with both sides.

And in Pittsburgh, President David McDonald of the United Steelworkers called a meeting of the union's executive board and wage policy committee in New York on Thursday. He said he wanted to give the USW's top policy-makers a "situation report."

In Western Pennsylvania coal mines employing more than 5,000 resumed operation. An bound by tape. Their eyes and mouths were not covered. Activities planned, according to a later report, to pick the pledges up 30 minutes after leaving them.

The incident was not premeditated or planned in any way, a ZBT man stated. Instead it was pretty spontaneous—a spur of the moment prank.

Although Frank Skinner of Information Services reported that the incident of the pledges was apparently concerned with a Friday incident in which an act was taken in a spot north of the John, fraternity members continue to deny any retaliation was involved.

Walter Green, president of University of Michigan's ZBT chapter, called the incident "disgraceful."

Jim Martens, IFC president at U of M, said such undesirable practices are eliminated at Ann Arbor by limiting pledge activities to the houses and house grounds, except for community projects.

Only Charity Group Chest Asks Support From Student Body

Campus Chest, MSU's only charity organization, will shortly be a familiar word on campus and will soon need the support of its approximately 20,000 members, the MSU student body.

Campus Chest was formed to combine drives for various charities thus making the deed of contribution lighter on the students. Campus Chest appeals not only to the good will but also to the intelligence of the student body.

The charities that ask support from Campus Chest are carefully screened and interviewed by the Executive Board to determine their need and worthiness. The members of Campus Chest realize that in college students are not expected to empty their pockets for charity—later they will be asked to give more substantial amounts. Instead of soliciting throughout the year, Campus Chest attempts to make giving easier for the students by combining several charity drives into one Fall Fund Drive, which will get under way shortly.

Besides sponsoring the Fall Fund Drive, the activities of the

ALD Offers Two Graduate Awards

The National Council of Alpha Lambda Delta has two awards available for graduate study. The Alice Crocker Lloyd and Adele Hagner Stump Fellowships are for $1,000 each. They may be used in any college or university where there is a chapter of Alpha Lambda Delta for the 1960-61 academic year.

Any member who graduated in 1957, 1958 and 1959 and has maintained the scholastic average throughout her college career is eligible. Graduating seniors may apply if they have maintained this average to the end of the second quarter of this year.

Application blanks and information may be obtained from Miss Jeann Brady, Women's Division of Student Affairs and must be submitted by Jan. 1, 1960.

From Operatic to Folk Songs George London to Star in Performance

By JANE DENISON
Tall and dashing Metropolitan Opera company star George London will perform at the Auditorium Wednesday.

The 30-year-old baritone will offer a program which ranges from classic arias to folk songs of the British Isles.

London, described as a singing actor, has received rave reviews about both his operatic roles and his solo appearances. His concert here is the fourth in the 1959-1960 Lecture-Concert series.

London has performed widely in both America and Europe. He starred in the opening night

Bob Crosby Strangled By Rattened Spine

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Mrs. Bob Crosby said Monday she strangled her lumbago husband in the shower with a letter opener Saturday night after he broke her ribs.

"This is final," she told a coroner. "I'm seeing my lawyer this afternoon. I've gone through this for 21 years for the sake of the children. I no longer can take it."

Campus Chest Rush For Fall Fund Drive

Campus Chest rush will be tonight from 7-8:30 in 35 Union. All those interested in working on the fall fund drive are urged to attend.

Some chairmanships are open and assistant chairmen and committee members are needed, according to Campus Chest director, Ed Flournoy, Detroit senior.

Flournoy also reported that he hopes to have the annual charity drive before Thanksgiving.

Same Questions; Different Answers Future Group Dean King

THE FACULTY COMMITTEE on Student Affairs feels that it is not allowed to take active enough part in formulating the policy of the Dean of Student's office...

DEAN TOM KING said that he feels that the Academic Senate's Committee on Student Affairs is one of the most enthusiastic he has ever worked with...

The Committee on Student Affairs and its subcommittees would like to be able to elect their own chairmen instead of having the Dean of Students or his representatives act as such.

Dean King said that he did not feel it was necessary for himself to be chairman of all the committees and that he could not attend many of their meetings anyway.

ALL THE RULES and regulations governing student conduct should be studied and evaluated by a student-faculty committee on student affairs. They could then make recommendations to the sources of the rules.

MOST OF THESE recommendations have already been taken care of, King said. Action has been initiated in many areas.

The Committee feels that although it is necessary to have certain policing rules to insure the safety of the students, the policing should not extend to determining where a girl can kiss her boyfriend good night.

Most of the rules are in the hands of the students, King said. AWS determines the hours and most of the rules for women, for example.

THE COMMITTEE on Student Affairs should examine the University policy of serving "in loco parentis." They should determine the advisability of continuing or changing this policy...

THE COMMITTEE on Student Affairs has already taken action to investigate the "in loco parentis" policy, King said.

The faculty would like to feel that they can do something on a student's behalf in disciplinary cases. They feel that the Dean's office considers the faculty member unimportant in these cases.

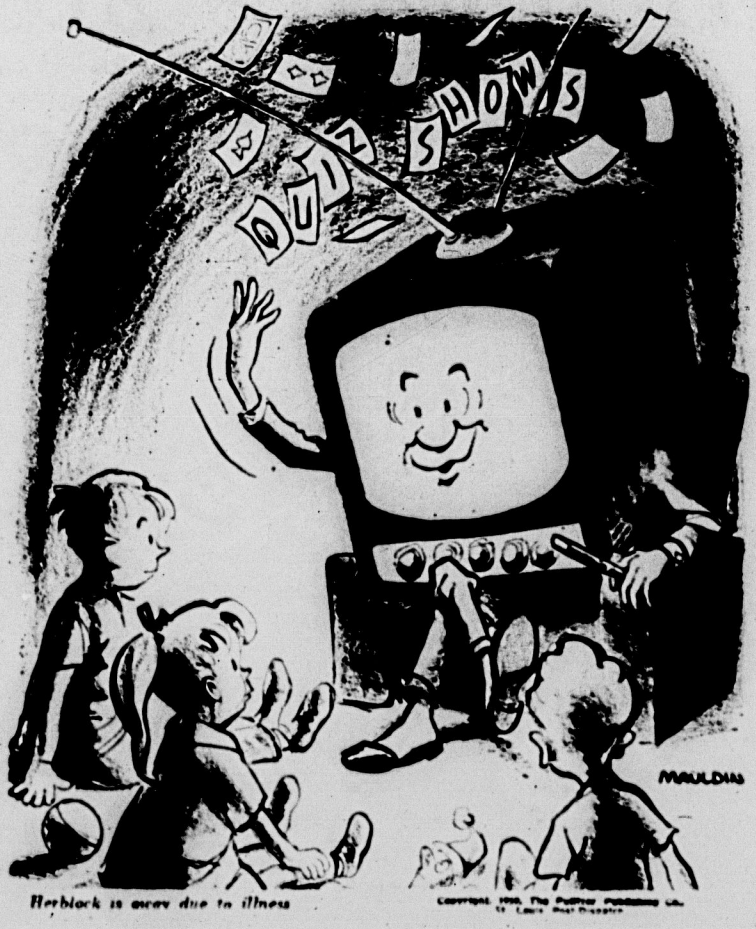

King said that there should be no reason why the faculty should be considered unimportant in disciplinary cases.

THE COMMITTEE FEELS that extra curricular activities are stressed too much. It is not the function of the university to encourage participation in these activities.

Along with the diversity of high school backgrounds, small, closely knit groups to degrees of larger, more loosely organized student bodies...

The system of records as it is now should be changed, the committee feels. Some students perceive these records as pressure instruments to encourage participation in extracurricular activities.

The only purpose of the records is to make sure that the student is not doing too much, King said.

Cranberries Spoil Thanksgiving Feast

Chemical Blamed for Loss, Indures Type of Cancer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A shadow fell across the traditional Thanksgiving dinner table Monday when the government disclosed part of the 1958 and 1959 cranberry crop from Washington and Oregon was contaminated by a chemical which induces cancer growth.

Arthur Flemming, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, released the information at a news conference. The secretary provided a tentative answer to a query when asked what the consumer should do about buying cranberries or cranberry products in case it develops here already has been wide distribution of contaminated output to retail outlets.

He said that if she is unable to determine the point of origin and year of the berries "to be on the safe side she doesn't eat."

Other questions and answers, in part as available: Q: What is the dangerous chemical and where did it come from?

A: Aminotriazole, a weed killer used by some growers and taken into berry plants. The federal food and drug administration found it to rats over a two-year period in a proportion of 1 part to a million and found induced thyroid cancer. Consumption so far found in cranberries is on the order of one part per million.

Meany Tells Railroaders of Future Fight

CHICAGO (AP)—President George Meany of the AFL-CIO Monday pledged his organization's full support in the Railroad Workers' dispute with the carriers over featherbedding charges.

Meany told a labor rally that the railroad unions face "a fight for your existence and the existence of the trade union movement."

He charged that railroad management has started a well-financed publicity campaign against railroad labor in an effort to "mass brainwash" public opinion.

Meany referred to a series of newspaper advertisements in which railroad management charged that union rules require workers for jobs not needed and that the practice is costing the carriers a half billion dollars a year.

The carriers have served notice on the unions that they want to eliminate from new contracts certain jobs they consider unessential.

The unions contend the jobs are necessary for public safety.

Formal negotiations have not yet begun on the issue.

Meany told 3,000 rail union leaders at a rally in a west side auditorium that he sees a parallel between the dispute in the railroad industry and in the strikebound steel industry.

A SPARTAN FUTURE

The new Spartan BOOK Store, the super-market for education was organized with a system of principles believed-born with the following creed:

1. To be an important adjunct to the educational program of Michigan State University.
2. To aid Spartans and their Spartan friends in order that we may better compete in the international education race.
3. To provide balanced book stocks that reflect recognition of the quality difference in Spartan Teachers and in Spartan Students.
4. To constantly heighten the degree of maturity of environment so that Spartan Students can mature in school with greater assurance.
5. The Spartan Book Store's overriding aim in education is to better equip our Spartan students for continuous learning.
6. To have a stock of books that will enable the rare and unusual Spartan Teacher to exploit his or her greatness . . . to offer in the way of book stocks, an opportunity for Spartan professors to extend their reach in teaching efforts.
7. To handle printed materials that will enable Spartan students, Spartan Professors and Spartan Friends to stand on their solid curriculum and read into the future in a flexible way.
8. To aid Spartan students who seek a high ceiling of security and to help those who regard education as a number one liability.
9. To constantly make feature of the utilitarian value of books.
10. The Target: The peoples of Spartan Town.
The Weapon: Spartan BOOK Store.
The Ammunition: BOOKS for Spartans.

Elgin Baylor's 64 Points Sets NBA Record

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Hard-driving Elgin Baylor, who dumped in 64 points for a new National Basketball Assn. scoring record Sunday night, hopes he has "arrived" as a professional player. The screaming crowd in the Minneapolis Auditorium knew he was already there as he led the Minneapolis Lakers to a 136-115 victory over the NBA champion Celtics of Boston.

Baylor hit a side shot from 10 feet out with 31 seconds left in the game to set the new mark, shattering the 63-point record held by Joe Fulks of Philadelphia since 1949.

To Bowling Green Coed Hockey Team Falls

The women's field hockey team met defeat for the first time in three years when Bowling Green University shut them out, 2-0, Saturday morning on Old College Field.

The defensive players of both teams controlled the first half of the game with a scoreless tie at halftime.

Bowling Green's offense scored ten minutes after the half-time and two minutes before the end of the game.

Captain Mrs. Jean Horwood said the forward line with only one veteran was unable to get through Bowling Green's defense.

State's backfield composed mostly of veterans played very well except the forwards were not able to score three goals.

The second team tied Bowling Green, 1-1, in a second game, with Carol Rapson, Lansing freshman, scoring State's goal.

The field hockey team's last defeat was in the final game of the '56 season. Mrs. Horwood has coached the team since '55.

The next scheduled game is with Central Michigan, Nov. 21, at 10 a.m. on Old College Field.

Basketball Coaches Clinic Features Exhibition Game

The student body, along with approximately 400 coaches, will get a peek at the Spartan varsity basketball teams of the present and future Friday night at 8 in Jenison Field house.

The seventh annual basketball coaches clinic will feature a regulation game between the varsity and freshmen teams. Other items in the conference are talks and demonstrations by Fordy Anderson, Spartan coach, and Jack Gardner, University of Utah coach.

The battle will center around the different advantages which the teams hold, Anderson indicated. While the varsity has the greater experience, the freshmen have a height advantage. The freshmen have heights between 6'3"-6'7", and the tallest varsity member is 6'5".

Judo Club Organizes On Campus

Probably the biggest group ever received for an initial meeting of a new organization is the group of 85 people the forming judo club had last Thursday, according to its organizer, Martin Bonde.

Many were turned away because of lack of space, but about 140 are expected Thursday when the group has its second meeting in the wrestling room of Jenison from 7-9 p.m.

The group is not officially a club, but arrangements are presently being made to formalize it and elect officers. A coming staff meeting will try to secure larger space and even bring up the subject of buying new mats for demonstrations.

Bonde said that one day he was sitting over coffee showing some judo holds to coeds. The women were interested in learning more, and proceeded to arrange a room for demonstrations. Athletic Director Biggs Mann helped to make the organization possible.

Though the group was formed primarily for MSU women with the intent of teaching them ways of warding off attacks, only 10 women showed up at the first meeting. Bonde says that more attend, though he encourages men and women both to join.

Lions Restore John Johnson

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions Monday lifted John Henry Johnson's suspension and restored the fullback to their lineup for Sunday's game with the Los Angeles Rams.

Coach George Wilson suspended Johnson last week for missing the team plane to Detroit from San Francisco. Wilson said later indifferent play by Johnson also figured in the suspension.

The veteran fullback returned to Detroit at his own expense. He did not play in the Lions' 10-10 tie game last Sunday with Pittsburgh.

Green-White Tilt Frosh Show Off In Annual Clash

By MIKE SKINNER

"Teamwork." That's what's being stressed in the Spartan freshman grid camp this week, according to head mentor, Gordie Serr.

"We've spent most of the season on teaching fundamentals and techniques," continued Serr. "This is actually the first time that we've stressed teamwork."

Serr, and his new assistant coach, Henry Bullough, are preparing their squad for two heavy scrimmages scheduled for this week, the first on Wednesday and then again on Friday.

The results of these scrimmages are important to the players as well as the coaches, because they will help decide who is to start in the annual Green and White game which is fast approaching.

The exact date isn't set yet, but according to Serr, it is expected to be held either Nov. 20 when State's varsity plays at Miami, Fla. or else the following Monday.

The Green and White game is an annual "tussel" between the freshman squads. The team is broken down into two separate units, one handled by head coach Serr and the other managed by line coach Bullough.

The purpose of the game is to give the freshmen a chance to operate under game conditions and to gain experience, since this is the only formal competition they are allowed to have. Big 10 rules forbid all freshman teams from competing against one another.

Bryan 2 Upsets 'Six-Pak', 8-0

Bryan 2 shut out Bryan "Six-Pak" in an IM upset, 8-0, Monday night on Jenison Field.

Two kicked off to Six-Pak, all-university champs two years ago and holder of the dorm championship for the past five years, who took it on the five-yard line.

On the next play, tackle Bill Marzonia scored two points by nailing Jerry Lane for a touchback. Then for three-and-a-half quarters, the ball changed hands every four downs.

With four minutes to go in the fourth period, the Deuces traveled three-quarters of the field on a double pass play dash of John Ryan to Dick Gardner to Helman Linderoth, with Ryan connecting with a 29-yard touchdown play around right end.

Both teams went into the game unbeaten. Six-Pak, which hasn't lost a dorm game in three years, has an offensive average of three points a game, while they haven't been scored on this year. The Deuces are the defensive team, averaging 16 points a game.

In another game, Martin Greete led West Shaw 4 to a 19-0 victory over West Shaw 2.

You're looking for a job. Not just any job, but one where you know for sure you'll be doing exactly the kind of work you are most interested in. One that will give you every chance to grow with the company.

Sure, fringe benefits are fine. Link Aviation offers as good or better than the rest. But how about the day-to-day operation? What kind of assignments will you get? Check these opportunities available right now at Link:

- servo-mechanism design work
- analog computer design, solving linear and non-linear differential equations.
- function generator problems using 1, 2 or 3 variables, utilizing both digital and analog techniques
- rendezvous solutions relating to fire control equations for rockets, missiles and bombs
- navigational equation solutions: simulation of fire control and navigational radar systems
- simulation of complex missile systems
- transistorized circuitry, pulse generation, amplifiers and digital computer components
- optical and visual display systems

Many of the above techniques are used in current Link projects, such as building jet simulators for the Boeing 707, Douglas DC-8, Convair 440, Lockheed Electra, the Navy's A-1J jetfighter, or the fire control on the B-58. And there are others that we can't talk about just yet.

There they are... some of the current opportunities at Link, both in Binghamton, New York, and in Palo Alto, California. If these or similar positions interest you, contact your Placement Office for an interview in advance. Link Aviation will be on the Michigan State campus on Wednesday, November 11, or, if you prefer, forward a brief resume of your qualifications to:

Directing Students Give Great Plays

A series of unusual scenes from great plays will be presented by directing students in the Department of Speech on Tuesday, and Thursday, at 7:30 p.m. in the Studio Theatre. The scenes selected represent types of drama which have departed in style from realism.

Two plays comprise the program on Tuesday, Nov. 10. Maeterlinck's PELLEAS AND MELISANDE, a symbolistic play, has been directed by Rita Burney, Joyce Bischoff, Richard Whitney, Linda Smith, and Kenneth Peck are in the cast. Jay Blissick is stage manager.

The second play, which is directed by Sue Mills, is Toller's MAN AND THE MASSES, an angry expressionistic play. The cast is composed of Judith Mason, Grant Keefer, Ed Fleury, Tom Dandaneau, Gerald McBride, Betty Vogel, and Cecelia Watson. Asst. Director is Annette Genster.

Scenes from three plays will be presented on Thursday, Nov. 12. E. Ray Scott directs Brecht's MOTHER COURAGE with a cast composed of Marty Kalb, Jack Fyle, Claudia Smith, Roy F. Gilbert, James Egert, and Melissa Herman. Technical director is Dennis Lynch.

Lorca's BLOOD WEDDING, a Spanish lyric drama directed by Joann Patrick, includes in the cast Eddie Hones, Jim Bloom, John Thurov, Richard Whitney, Fran DeLong, Bill Hartramf, Marilyn Minford, and Ken Andrews.

Third play of the evening is Rice's THE ADDING MACHINE. John Herr directs a large cast which includes: Lynda Myles, Chuck Clouff, Ed Flournoy, Linda Kohlhof, Allen Friedman, Linda Manos, Linne Franzen, Pat Oberlink, Lee Kahler, Liz Trowbridge, Tom Hood, Jo Nebeker, Gil Ziff, Pat Lindberg, Jim Beaudoin, Amy McMillen, and Ken Andrews.

Art Collection Returned To Irish by Britain

LONDON (AP)—The priceless Lane collection of paintings, disputed between Ireland and Britain for more than four decades, will be returned to Ireland soon, qualified sources said Monday.

The 39 paintings, mostly by French impressionists, have been housed in London since 1915 and are at present in the National Gallery here.

The British government is expected to announce officially within a short time its decision to send the collection to Dublin.

The pictures belonged to Sir Hugh Lane, a wealthy Irishman who died in the sinking of the

State Teachers Get Fair Wages

Michigan's 1958-59 classroom teacher earned an average salary of $5,150, 11th highest in the United States, according to Thomas Northey, special assistant in research for the Michigan Education Association.

Northey based his findings from "Estimates of School Statistics, 1958-59," a publication of the National Education Association.

Alaska led all states in teacher's salaries with an average of $6,400, followed closely by New York, $6,200 and California, $6,050.

Posse Seeks Gunman In Southern Swamp

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—A 200-man posse searched a jungle-like swamp Monday for a gunman who exchanged shots with officers and used a caretaker as a shield to pass through a police cordon.

A National Guard tank and a coast guard helicopter aided officers in efforts to find the gunman in a section near the Lakewood Country Club.

Police said the gunman surprised Thomas McDonald, 58, an employee at the club, at 2:45 a.m. McDonald's wife, Mattie, 52, unnoticed by the intruder, crawled into a small office and telephoned police.

She told desk officer Ernie Nicks "several men in Halloween masks" were trying to hold up her husband.

Three patrol cars arrived at the scene. The gunman exchanged fire with patrolman Bill Harris when the officer and Lt. Bob Smart attempted to enter the club.

Smart suffered a cut on the hand when a bullet shattered glass in a door. The officers couldn't say whether any of three shots fired by Harris struck the man.

A jacket found near the club was smeared with blood and had a bullet hole near one shoulder. Several bloodstained napkins were found near the jacket.

McDonald told police he saw only one man, "the one with the gun, the one who made me go with him."

Police chief Wilson Purdy ordered his men to hold their fire when the intruder held a pistol on McDonald and crept from the building. The man released McDonald unharmed a few blocks away.

"Food you always remember"

CONVAIR/SAN DIEGO
ENGINEERING-CORPORATION
GENERAL DYNAMICS

TOMORROW BEGINS TODAY AT CONVAIR / SAN DIEGO

As an engineering, mathematics or physics major, you will soon be called upon to make one of the most important decisions of your life: Choice of Association.

In making that decision, we hope you will choose the aerospace industry and Convaire/San Diego. But whatever your choice, the selection of association must be made with meticulous care and keen awareness of what that decision will mean, not only immediately, but in years to come.

To arrive at such an important decision, you will need all the information available to you. That is why Convaire/San Diego is suggesting that you carefully read a new booklet prepared for the express purpose of helping you make this vital decision.

Within the twenty-four pages of this brochure, you will find detailed information about Convaire, the General Dynamics Corporation, and the work of each group within the Convaire/San Diego engineering Department.

Whether or not you decide to discuss your career with us in more detail, we sincerely believe you will be better equipped to make your decision after reading this brochure.

If your placement office does not have a copy, we will be pleased to mail you one. Simply write to Mr. M. C. Conin, Industrial Relations Administrator, Engineering.
