Harlo Mork Dies From Injuries

Chem Lab Burns Fatal To Student

Explosion Victim Honor Graduate

By SUE PRICE
State News City Editor

Harlo Mork, 24, Trenton graduate student, died Wednesday from injuries suffered Oct. 29 in the Kedzie chemistry laboratory explosion.

Death came at 1:55 p.m. in University Hospital, Ann Arbor. Mork suffered second and third degree burns over 80 percent of his body. His face was severely burned, particularly around his eyes. He also suffered lacerations.

Mork remained in critical condition the 21 days he was hospitalized.

Hospital authorities reported Mork underwent minor surgery Nov. 12 to remove some badly burned flesh. Doctors had planned to begin skin grafts early next week. They declined to say if complications had hastened Mork's death.

Mork was reported slightly improved Tuesday, but authorities said a case involving such severe burns can change for better or worse at any time.

Medical records at University Hospital showed no patient with burns covering more than 45 percent of his body had been treated and survived at the hospital. Tom Smith of Trenton, a close friend of Mork, reported.

Smith, a life-long friend of

HARLO MORK

Mork, graduated from Slocum high school with him in 1953. He was one of his closest friends at MSU.

His family and friends knew how seriously burned he was and we all realized it was a matter of time. As far as we know, if he survived, his eyesight would be nearly normal," Smith said.

Mork was described as an outstanding and very active high school student. He was president of national honor society and Theatians, drama group. He was also a member of the varsity tennis team.

"He was the kind of person you would find once in a million," Smith said.

Mork graduated from MSU with a B.S. in chemistry in 1957, and was an honor student. He expected to receive his master's degree in December.

His death dealt the third tragic blow in his family within two years.

In 1957 Mork's sister, brother-in-law and nephew were killed in an automobile accident in Lorain, Ohio. His grandmother died Oct. 30, the day after the Kedzie fire, Smith said.

Mork was born July 19, 1935. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Mork, of Trenton.

Funeral arrangements have not been made, but the funeral will be held next week in Ridge Funeral Home, Trenton.

Macmillan Abandons Arms Plan

Prime Minister To Compromise

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan Wednesday bowed to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer by finally abandoning his pet plan for an experimental disarmament zone in central Europe.

The Macmillan plan, endorsed by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev but assailed by the West Germans, envisaged a zone on both sides of the Iron Curtain in mid-Europe where armaments and armies would be limited.

Instead the British and West German leaders agreed to stick to this compromise formula, diplomatic sources said.

Any such zone covering German territory should not be a separate arrangement—as Macmillan urged—but part of a wider East-West disarmament program.

In a domestic political sense the British concession appeared to be a considerable one. Last month in their electoral manifesto, Macmillan's conservatives pledged cautiously to work for the inspection and reduction of armaments in areas to be agreed.

Macmillan's ideas of disengagement in central Europe was one of the main sources of West German distrust of his policy of conciliation with the Russians. Adenauer feared a process of western withdrawal that would leave West Germany exposed to Soviet pressure.

Evidently appreciating Macmillan's action, Adenauer gave a generalized assurance of his own, informants said.

Through his foreign minister, Heinrich Von Brentano, he promised that the six "Little Europe" nations of the common market will not set themselves up as a political alliance without the wider Atlantic Alliance.

He also undertook to insure that the "Little Europe" bloc would follow liberal trading policies with Britain and its partners to win the rival economic group dubbed the "Outer Seven."

These promises seemed vague. But they were enough to let British hopes rise that a trade war can be averted.

Freshmen to Talk To High School Representatives

Principals and counselors from 150 Michigan high schools will meet with their former students this morning in the Aud. The 196 high school faculty members met Wednesday night in Kellogg Center with Dr. Stanley Iderdra of the Honors College. A discussion between Iderdra and six honors college members criticized the honors college benefits objectively. Honors college curricula were explained and discussed.

Part of this responsibility was to establish the National Institute of Administration, a school for educating young men and women for positions in public service, said Gabis.

The casebook, developed from local scenes in Viet Nam, is a teaching aid of modern methods of administration as applied to that country.

A case development seminar was held each week at the university in Saigon under the supervision of John Dorsey, chief of public administration division in Viet Nam and now co-ordinator of public administration in the political science department.

John Montgomery, former academic advisor for the advisory group, compiled the information discussed at the student-faculty seminars and information taken from interviews with civil servants and the public.

Within its alternating pages of English and Vietnamese, various administrative concepts are actually applied in this underdeveloped country.

The casebook portrays public life from a Vietnamese point of view, but not by ideals set up by the United States, Gabis emphasized.

"It throws light on the problems of these people who are encountered with more unusual types of administrative situations than those found in the United States," he said.

A few problems covered in this book include reorganizing co-operatives, planning municipal markets, reorganizing the

Cranberry Industry Asks Official 'Safe-to-Eat' Word

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Arthur Flemming Wednesday promised to quickly back up the cranberry industry's insistence that its products now on sale are safe to eat on Thanksgiving.

His claim was the basis of a point program the industry offered for checking berries not offered for market for any traces of the weed killer aminotriazole, which produces cancer in man.

Flemming received the plan without committing himself, at an open conference attended by grower and distributor representatives and members of Congress from cranberry states.

He had called the session specifically to hear the industry's views on how to cull out the contaminated berries more speedily. The federal government's testing program has turned up tainted berries from Oregon, Washington and Wisconsin, some from Massachusetts or New Jersey.

The plan the industry offered was basically what is now being done with some expansion—including barring use of the chemical until more is learned about its effects.

High government sources said after the meeting they regarded the plan as a starting point for a method of speeding clearance of the berries.

After hearing the industry spokesmen and members of Congress, Flemming promised to go into the plan carefully with his department experts. He said he would announce his decision as soon as possible—but he refused to indicate when that might be.

Flemming heard more criticism of his Nov. 9 advice to housewives not to buy cranberries until the situation was cleared up, unless they could identify the berries as safe.

Ambrose Stevens, general manager of a farmers co-operative which represents 75 percent of the cranberry crop, said Flemming's action was ill advised. He said the industry now refers to Nov. 9 as "Black Monday."

President George Olsson of the same co-operative, Ocean Spray, said if Flemming had agreed to his request for a 48-hour delay in his original announcement, the situation which he said confronts the industry with a catastrophe probably would not have developed.

Report More Jobs in September

There were 75,000 more Michigan people employed in September 1959 than during the preceding month.

Furthermore, unemployment dropped by a whopping 217,000 during the one-year period ending September 1959.

Part of the 217,000 decrease is accounted for by a shrinkage in the total Michigan labor force of 91,000 during the one-year period. Percentage-wise, 7.1 percent of the state's total labor force was unemployed in September 1959 whereas a year ago it was 14.1 percent.

Detroit with 8.4 percent of its total labor force unemployed tops all other Michigan cities in this category. Flint, the undisputed leader in August 1959 with 17.5 percent of its total force unemployed, has cut its unemployment to 6.5 percent a month later.

Kalamazoo has the lowest percentage of unemployment with a figure of 1.8. This compares with the over-all Michigan unemployment figure of 7.1 percent, down 2.5 percent from the August 1959 figure.

Architect to Display Designs at MSU

One of the most influential architects of our time, Ludwig Mies van der Rohe, has left his stamp on the architectural design and urban planning studies in an exhibit on display here until Dec. 8.

Under the auspices of the department of urban planning and landscape architecture, the exhibit came from the Illinois Institute of Technology, where van der Rohe headed the department of architecture until his recent retirement.

It may be seen in Building A-1, South Campus, from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday and until noon on Saturdays. The public is invited.

Latins Say Keep U. S. Neutral

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower Administration has shown more open support for military strong man regimes in Latin America than the Truman Administration did, a report prepared for Senate study said Wednesday night.

The report, drafted by the University of New Mexico school of inter-American affairs, said the United States should follow a policy of correct neutrality toward Latin American dictators and refuse aid to outworn regimes.

The report was prepared for a foreign relations subcommittee on American republics affairs, and published by the subcommittee without endorsement. The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.), began a reappraisal of U.S. policy toward Latin America following Vice President Richard Nixon's post-married tour in May 1958.

Besides recommending "something more than lip service to democratic principles," the report said the United States should promote disarmament in Latin America and gradually reduce military aid there.

Long-range economic assistance policies also are needed, it said, replacing "year-to-year bare minimum economic programs."

The United States, it said, will have to intensify its efforts to resist a Communist challenge in Latin America arising from the social revolution now in progress there.

Price of Eggs To Rise Again Next Year

Farm egg prices in the first half of 1960 should run one or two cents a dozen above the same period of 1959, said Henry Lorzeler, MSU poultry economist.

"In the first quarter of 1960, egg prices should run a cent or two below January-March 1959, the economist estimates. He looks for second-quarter prices to be two to four cents above the very low levels of April-June 1959.

"Somewhat better returns in the first half of 1960 will likely encourage hatching of more egg-type chicks next year than this," he says. "We expect 4 to 8 percent more egg-type chicks in the first half of 1960 than we had in the same period this year."

Lorzeler looks for slightly lower broiler prices next year because lower prices for feed meat may weaken demand for broilers and fryers, and there may be a 5 percent increase in the volume of broiler production next year.

Russian Subs A Threat to West Allies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. admiral who commands NATO forces in the Atlantic said Wednesday Soviet missile-firing submarines will be a significant threat to nations of the Western Alliance within a year.

Adm. Jerauld Wright predicted that by 1963 the threat will become serious as Russia's fleet of ballistic missile submarines grows.

Wright, Supreme Allied Commander for the Atlantic, told representatives of NATO Parliament.

"We have conclusive evidence that they (the Russians) are showing an increased interest in the east coast of North America, a key area and an industrial complex of the first importance, not only to America, but to our NATO Alliance."

In this connection, Wright said Russian fishing craft operating in the North Atlantic probably are doing other things than fishing—surveying the ocean bottom and other tasks of naval importance, for example.

"These Soviet fishing boat operations are a matter of great concern to us," Wright said.

Howell, Shue Lead Pistons; Red Wings Bow to Toronto

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rookie Bailey Howell and Gene Shue scored 27 and 25 points, respectively, Wednesday night and led the Detroit Pistons to a 110-93 National Basketball Assn. victory over Cincinnati before 3,492 fans in the Indiana State Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Cincinnati, which lost its seventh straight game, looked as though it was headed for victory in the opening quarter, but Howell and Shue cut loose and the Pistons held a 52-45 halftime lead.

In Toronto the Toronto Maple Leafs built up a 3-1 lead and then fought off a desperate rally by the Detroit Red Wings in the final three minutes to preserve a 3-2 victory and move within two points of the second-place Wings in the National Hockey League.

Alex Delvecchio and Jack McIntyre were the Detroit scorers. McIntyre's tally came at the 7:29 mark of the third period as the Wings battled to make up the 2-goal deficit.

Frosh Grid Game Annual Green-White Battle Set for Friday

By MIKE SKINNER

Duffy Daugherty's varsity may be out of town, but there's still plenty of good football action left for local Spartan fans to enjoy.

Friday at 3 p.m., Spartan Stadium will be the scene of the annual Green and White football tangle, which pits one half of the freshman grid team against the other.

Head coach Gordie Serr will be in charge of the White outfit, and his assistant line coach, Henry Bullough, will be in command of the Green team.

The game brings to an end seven weeks of grueling practice by the freshman. It is the highlight of their season, since it is the only contest they are allowed to compete in under regular game-like conditions. Big 10 rules forbid freshman team participation in competitive sports.

The contest also has much meaning for the coaches. It will enable them to judge just how well the new frosh have adapted themselves to the MSU brand of football.

The head coach pointed out that the weather would play a determining role in the style of ball to be displayed.

"If the weather remains cold, then mostly power plays through the line will be used to cut down on ball handling. However, if we do get a break in the weather, then we will also use counter plays and passes."

The entire rosters for both teams follow. Record-Breaking Harrier Kennedy Surprises Himself

By SUZETTE RAMSEY
 State News Sports Editor

Before the IC4A cross country meet in New York, MSU sophomore Jerry Young and Ed Graydon found a shop on Broadway that printed made-to-order headlines. The two showed team captain Forddy Kennedy a "newspaper" announcing the victory of Young and Graydon over Kennedy.

Forddy jokingly said that they'd have to run 23:50 on the five-mile course that had a standing record of 24:01, because he was planning on running 23:52. He even surprised himself that afternoon when he fulfilled his prediction by running a record-breaking 23:51.8.

Before that performance on Monday Kennedy won the Big 10 individual crown on Friday. He goes into next Monday's NCAA meet as defending champion, the first NCAA winner the Spartans have had.

Kennedy's coach Fran Dittrich calls him a "steady, thinking runner who has helped himself. The coach said he has enjoyed working with Kennedy.

The 5'8", 137-pound senior was team captain last year, too. He moved from Glasgow, Scotland, to Toronto, Ont., four years ago and is now in the process of getting residence papers in the U.S., which in five years will make him eligible for American citizenship, but now makes him ineligible for the Olympics.

Twenty-four years old, Kennedy left high school at 15, as is common in Scotland, and worked for three years in the post office before he was drafted. After two years in the air force, he came to Canada.

Kennedy started school at MSU in January, 1956, and will graduate this term. He will go on to graduate school at State, while working under Dittrich. He's majoring in physical education and hopes to go into college coaching, eventually. Kennedy will also be qualified to teach history and social studies as well as phys. ed.

Forddy's 27-year-old brother, Henry, who is now in the insurance business in Detroit, was also a cross country and track star for MSU. Dittrich says that many have compared Forddy to Henry, but that comparison of speed, capacity can only be unfair, without taking conditions into consideration.

However, Dittrich says, Forddy has beaten all of Henry's records, and at this, it can be assumed that Forddy's a better runner and competitor. One thing that they match each other equally in—Henry won the "Ugliest Man on Campus" contest in 1957, and Forddy won it in 1958.

Both Kennedys are members of Phi Kappa Sigma. It was Henry that first interested Forddy, then 17, in running, after Henry had taken up the sport.

The youngest Kennedy, his sister, is getting married Thanksgiving, and Forddy is foregoing the AAU meet to attend her wedding.

Kennedy, whose slight build has earned him the name of "Zero Percentile" by his fraternity brothers, says he will try to win again in the NCAA. "I'm someone who insists on doing things 'either all the way or nothing at all,' he appears to be capable of the job.

Grand Finale Phi Sigs Get IM Grid Win

By JOHN SCHNEIDER

Phi Kappa Sigma came from behind in the closing moments to tie Delta Chi and then went on to upset them in overtime, 20-14, in a battle for their IM football block championship.

The Phi Sigs scored first, late in the initial quarter, on a 40 yard pass play from Al Sider to Ralph Przybyla. Siefert passed to Warren Tenhouten for the PAT.

Delta Chi retaliated with a TD just before the half and scored early in the third period to build up a 14-7 lead. Chuck Barnes pitched two scoring passes.

As Delta Chi attempted to increase their lead in the final period, Siefert intercepted one of their passes and tossed to Tenhouten for the tying score. The play turned the tide as the Phi Sigs managed to push over the winning tally on a pass from Siefert to Ed Mann in overtime.

Another IM game saw Wes Shaw 6, on the running of Chuck Pisano, build up a 13-0 lead and hold on to win, 13-7.

In the first period, Pisano, behind excellent blocking, raced 40 yards to score. Later, he returned a punt 60 yards for six points. In the second half, three sons their only TD on a 20 yard pass from Doug Cooper to Fred Hamilton.

Succeeds Former Teammate Senators' Bob Allison Nets AL Rookie Honors

BOSTON (AP)—Bob Allison, the Washington Senators' big, muscular center fielder, Wednesday was named the American League Rookie of the Year for 1959.

It was the second year in a row that Washington's center fielder had been chosen for the honor by the Baseball Writers Association of America, and Allison topped the previous winner, 1958, Albie Pearson, out of his position.

Allison, a former fullback for the University of Kansas, easily outdistanced Cleveland's Jim Derry and Russ Snyder of Kansas City in the balloting by a 24 man committee of the baseball writers. He polled 18 votes.

Allison, who is currently playing in the Cuban Winter League, had a .261 batting average in 150 games this season, and blasted 29 home runs, within one of Ted Williams' record for the most homers by a first year man. He drove in 85 runs, had 18 doubles and led the American League in triples with nine.

Allison, acclaimed by Washington trainer George Lentz as the most perfect physical specimen he has seen in 30 years of training athletes, was signed off the University of Kansas campus in 1934 for $4,000.

Allison, 25, started his professional career with Hagerstown, Md., in 1955. In 1958, his best year in the minors, he hit .307 for Chattanooga and had 98 runs batted in.

Rookie Sherry Gets Rae Hickok Award

NEW YORK (AP)—Larry Sherry, rookie relief ace of the Los Angeles Dodgers Wednesday was named the October winner in the S-Rae Hickok Professional Athlete of the Year balloting. Sherry, who won two games and saved two others as the Dodgers beat the White Sox in the World Series, won by a wide margin over Cleveland Browns' fullback Jimmy-Brown.

Moore-Johansson Bout Possible Action Plentiful on Fight Front

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The boxing world was in the news Wednesday. A proposed fight between Archie Moore and heavyweights king Ingemar Johansson, possible cancellation of the Friday night fight, and the arrest of Cus D'Amato, manager of ex-heavyweight champ Floyd Patterson, were the high points.

In Los Angeles, fight manager Jack Kearns said he hopes to set up a title match between Johansson and his light heavy champion, Archie Moore, in Los Angeles next summer.

And sooner or later, the veteran ring figure said he favors a fight between Moore and Sugar Ray Robinson in New York.

"But," Kearns added emphatically, "either Johansson or Robinson better get off the dime."

"I have news for them, Archie Moore is on the verge of a new career. Movies, I ain't joking, and there's a lot of money involved."

Moore is presently enacting an important feature role in a Samuel Goldwyn Jr. production of Mark Twain's "Huckleberry Finn."

What about Johansson's return match contract with ex-champion Floyd Patterson?

That contract is so fouled up now it could be voided tomorrow," Kearns retorted. "Cus (Cus D'Amato, D'Amato) can't fight in New York or Los Angeles."

And if Johansson can't fight Patterson, who else is there? Eddie Maenien? Zora Folley? Wouldn't draw two dollars.

Only with Moore, the most popular fighter in the United States, can Johansson make big money.

"We could put it on here in the Coliseum. It's big enough. Might stage it during the Democratic convention in July."

In New York, Sports Columnist Jimmy Cannon of the New York Journal-American said the National Broadcasting Co. will try to cancel its contract to televise the Friday night fight.

Cannon said he had learned that NBC will make the attempt at a meeting next Monday. The contract is with the Gillette Razor Co., sponsors of the fight program.

NBC sports director Tom Gallery was unavailable for comment, but another spokesman said he knew nothing of any plans to cancel the contract.

which was renewed less than a year ago for three years.

"The diminishing audience, disgusted by revelations of gangster-controlled fights promoted by the defunct International Boxing Club is responsible for the network's concern," Cannon wrote.

A spokesman for Gillette said the firm did not know anything about a proposed cancellation and has every intention of continuing the Friday night fight.

Also in New York, D'Amato was ordered arrested after he failed to appear for questioning by state attorney general.

D'Amato was subpoenaed Thursday in the attorney general's investigation of the promotion of the June 26 bout in which Patterson lost his title to Ingemar Johansson.

A warrant for his arrest was obtained when he failed to keep a court date with the investigation.

At St. Louis, Louis Lefkowitz has been investigating the promotion for possible violation of state-municipal law. His probe has centered on the distribution of radio, television and motion picture rights.

Admiral Praises Polaris

U.S. to Construct About 45 Vessels

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Adm. Arleigh Burke said Wednesday that about 45 Polaris missile submarines, the kind the Navy is building, "will be able to clobber any aggressor who would dare attack us."

The chief of naval operations, in a speech prepared for a meeting of the National Security Industrial Assn., declared that.

With the Polaris in the nation's arsenal of retaliatory weapons "We do not have to keep piling missile on missile just to make sure that some missiles would survive an armed attack."

Polaris missile submarines will be highly invulnerable because they can hide in the sea, Burke argued, so "We can depend on almost all of them surviving a surprise attack." For that reason, he said, "We won't need many."

The Navy has disclosed plans to build a few more than 40 of the nuclear powered submarines equipped to fire hydrogen-headed missiles with a range, initially, of about 1,200 miles.

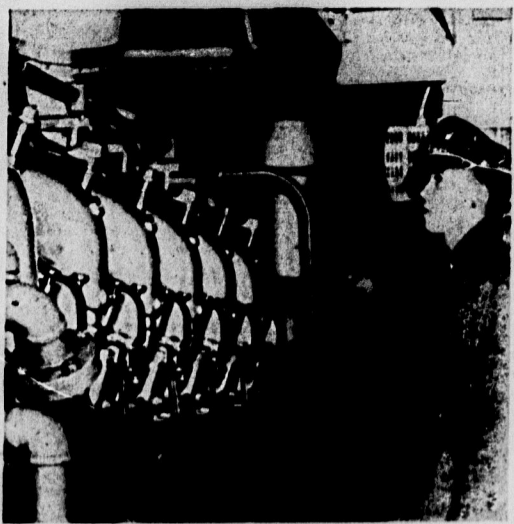

Burke's remarks were prepared several days ago but they seemed to serve as a reply to a new missile-rattling speech by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Moscow Tuesday night released an account of Friday's speech by Khrushchev in which the Communist chief said hydrogen rockets are coming off the assembly line at one Soviet plant at a rate of 250 a year.

Khrushchev followed up this claim by saying the Russian stockpile of nuclear weapons was so large that, if attacked, Russia "could raise all our potential enemies off the face of the earth."

Gridders Reach Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—There was a moon over Miami when the MSU football team arrived for its first Florida workout Wednesday night.

The bitter cold in Michigan delayed the Spartan charter flight more than three hours. Engines on the four-engine plane wouldn't turn over. Oil congealed from the cold at the 10 a.m. scheduled takeoff. It was after one o'clock before the engines were warmed up and the plane left the ground.

The team plane landed at Miami at 6:05 p.m. After a smooth flight, the squad bussed to the ocean front Monte Carlo Hotel to change into practice gear.

Gaza Fire Exchanged

TEL AVIV (AP)—Israel claimed two Arab infiltrators were killed and an Israeli soldier was wounded Wednesday in an exchange of fire near the Gaza Strip border.

An Israeli army spokesman said a patrol encountered four infiltrators east of the armistice demarcation line.

400 Students Use Loan MSU Students Show No Reaction to Oath

No adverse reaction to the federal student loan program, which requires borrowers to sign a loyalty oath has been reported on campus, a university official said Wednesday.

Yale and Harvard universities withdrew from the loan program Tuesday because of its loyalty affidavit provision.

"I haven't heard of any adverse reaction at MSU from administrators, faculty or students," said Philip May, vice president for business and finance.

MSU has received $250,000 in federal funds for the program this year which was matched with about $27,000 in university money, May said.

He estimated about 400 students are currently benefiting from the loans.

Some Protest at 'M'

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan, a recipient of $250,000 in student loan funds under the National Defense Education Act, has offered no recent criticism of the provision which requires borrowers to sign loyalty oaths, a university spokesman said Wednesday.

The only official adverse university reaction to the oath requirement was a protest filed in January, 1959, with the Association of American Universities.

There has been some criticism of the provision from the university's government from time to time.

Coach Duffy Daugherty said he probably would use the high school field for all the workouts and wouldn't take the team into the Orange Bowl until Friday night's game with the University of Miami.

The temperature was a muggy 75 degrees when the team arrived and it had been misting—the local phrase for rain.

The Spartans were allowed a chaperoned look at the Miami night lights after a late supper at the hotel. Coaches took the entire squad on a sightseeing bus tour of the beach area.

Off-Campus Students Plan Stag Hayride

The Association of Off-Campus Students has scheduled a hayride for Saturday at 8 p.m.

The hayride is a stag affair and all students living off campus are invited.

The charge is 60 cents to AOCSS members and 75 cents to non-members. Students planning to attend must make reservations in 313 Student Services between 2-4 p.m. today and Friday.

CAA Unable To Determine Crash Cause

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP)—A Civil Aeronautics Board investigator said Wednesday he has been unable to determine if there had been a "surface fire, a dash fire or an explosion" aboard the commercial airliner that crashed in the Gulf of Mexico with 42 persons aboard.

Charles Collar of Miami, heading the probe into the cause of the Monday loss of the National Airlines DC-7B carrying 36 passengers and six crewmen, added: "It will be some time before we are in a position to evaluate it."

"It would be impossible for anyone to determine anything with the evidence we have."

Investigators checked through each small bit of wreckage recovered by Coast Guard cutters at the crash site of the huge four-engine plane. In all, the debris made a pile only about three-feet high and five-feet wide. It included pieces of metal, two life rafts, clothing, handbags and sections of foam rubber cushions.

Coast Guard cutters recovered nine bodies the day of the crash, about 25 miles east of the southeastern coast of Louisiana.

Medical authorities who examined the bodies reported that cause of death of all except one included ruptured hearts.
