Prosecutor Refuses To Disclose Names

Former MSU Student Rakovan Exonerated in Purchasing Charge

By BILL McMASTER

Shiawassee County Prosecutor, Norman Van Epps, said that he does not contemplate continuing the investigation of the case which involved MSU students in a beer party Friday night.

Van Epps stated in a long distance telephone interview that he is terminating the investigation on campus. However, he will continue working on the case against the owner of the Golden Spud Saloon, scene of the party. He is suspected of furnishing beer to minors in his rented basement hall Friday night.

Van Epps said that he is "not of the mind" to release the evidence he has compiled to the Campus Police or the Dean of Men's office.

Names, license numbers, and pictures were taken during the raid on the Golden Spud Saloon, located in Bancroft, a town 30 miles north of East Lansing.

Prosecutor Van Epps and Shiawassee County Sheriff Glen VandeSande were on campus

most of Monday afternoon to gather evidence in their case against Saloon proprietor, Jack Freeman.

The pictures taken during the raid were investigated yesterday and are still a source of curiosity. It seems that all 38 students are in the picture all right, but all except one are facing a corner. All that is visible is the rear view of 35 students.

Of the names given the sheriff's deputy on the raid, only a couple have proven to be anything but fictitious. Sheriff VandeSande said his deputy "slipped" on that one. He failed to ask for identification.

VandeSande said he is primarily interested in gathering evidence against the proprietor of the saloon and not in pressing charges against students.

As for turning the license numbers over to the Campus Police, Prosecutor Van Epps said that he has not authorized such action and doesn't foresee any necessity for doing so.

Sheriff VandeSande said that G. G. Rakovan, the former MSU student believed to have rented the hall and to have bought the two kegs of beer, has been cleared of that charge.

In a closing statement Prosecutor Van Epps said, "In our interviews with MSU students, we found them not to be degenerate individuals, but moral, Christian-like, and co-operative people.

Campus Police have maintained throughout the investigation that "this is a Shiawassee County case, and we are only assisting them."

The usual policy is for the Dean of Men's office to request to be given a full written report in such situations. A report, according to last check, had not yet been received by the Dean's office.

IN THE NCAA cross country meet which was held at the MSU Forest Akers golf course Monday, Al Lawrence (l) of the University of Houston, finished first. John Macy (r), also of Houston, placed second.

F. Kennedy Loses Title To Houston

10 Schools Enter Championship Run

The Spartans retained possession for the eighth year of the team trophy, but handed the individual trophy to the University of Houston Monday in the 21st annual NCAA cross country meet at the Forest Akers Golf Course.

MSU's team score was a low 44 points, as compared to last year's winning score of 79 points by Coach Fran Dittrich's squad. Low score wins in cross country. Fordy Kennedy, MSU's defending individual champion, finished third after Houston's Al Lawrence and John Macy.

Houston's team score was 120 points, good for second place. Iowa with 134 points took third and Notre Dame with 141 took fourth. Western Michigan with 148 was fifth, Michigan State with 153 was sixth and Army with 160 was seventh.

Lawrence's time for the four-mile race was 20:33.7. Macy's 20:54, and Kennedy's 20:56. Kennedy's time last year, which set a course record, was 20:07.1. State's Bill Reynolds was right behind Kennedy in fourth place with a 20:57 time.

The race was run in 50-degree-plus weather on a wet, soggy course. Houston Coach John Morriss said the weather affected the performances somewhat. On a good day, he said, Lawrence and Macy could have run 19:30, but he figured that the weather caused a slower time by 15 seconds each mile.

Houston's races have been run mainly on flat courses, so the golf course's hilly field was a change. Morriss said his fourth and fifth men were hurt the most by the changes, but his first three were better runners and weren't that much affected.

Houston's third man, Pat Clohessy, was eighth in the race and sixth in team scoring, but the last two men came in 52nd and 59th. Morriss pointed out Clohessy, who has partial vision in one eye, fell down twice in the race, but continued to run until he moved from 20th to eighth place.

Morriss, incidentally, was an assistant athletic director at MSU from 1952-55. He then moved back to his hometown of Houston, Texas, to be head coach there.

Kennedy looked disappointed, but confined his statement of regret to "I let them get out too far." He said he started pulling in at the first mile and a half, but they were too far ahead by then.

Macy and Lawrence ran together for two miles, then Macy got a "stitch" (pain in the side) at "Cardiac Hill" before reaching the third mile and dropped back a ways. The two had tied for first place in each of Houston's six wins this season.

MSU's third man was sophomore Jerry Young, who came in 11th in 21:21. Senior Bob Lake was 20th, or 12th when eliminating runners from partial teams to figure out team scores, as he swept ahead of Colorado's Bernie Frakes in the last few feet. His time was 21:38.

Rhodesian Harrier Dies in Auto Crash

Yotham Muleya, three-mile champion runner from Northern Rhodesia, died late Monday afternoon after being involved in a two-car collision en route to the NCAA cross-country meet held on Forest Akers Golf Course.

Others injured in the accident, which occurred on highway US-27 near Mt. Pleasant, were Leroy Zimmer, a Central Michigan cross-country runner, and driver of one of the cars; and John Winter, quarter-mile champion of Southern Rhodesia. Two deer hunters in the other car were killed instantly.

Muleya and Winter were to train with the CMU team and give exhibitions at Michigan schools.

But Filmic Decline

Boris Godunov Shows Operatic Improvement

By BILL DOERNER

The Foreign Film Series' presentation of "Boris Godunov" gives evidence to the returning grandeur of Russian opera. At the same time, it does little to advertise any advancement in USSR film art.

The story of the opera is based on Alexander Pushkin's classic drama about the 16th-century czar. The ambitious Boris brings about the death of Dmitri, the heir to the throne, and ascends it himself after the ruling czar's death. Over-ridden by remorse, he dies a guilty death, as the peasants unite under an impostor Dmitri, to overthrow his son.

Both Boris and Dmitri possess rich, booming voices, although their full effect is somewhat hampered by inferior recording equipment.

The lavish costumes and settings appear to be extremely accurate historically. They, along with the thundering chorus and orchestra of the Royal Russian Opera, and the bright technical color, create a magnificence which only opera can claim.

Still, the production is far from perfect filmwise. The story is divided into several different scenes in the opera and play, no doubt to handle the set and costume changes. But film is supposed to eliminate this clumsy segmentation, to combine the parts into a more meaningful whole. "Boris Godunov" fails to accomplish this, and the show consequently remains exasperatingly disjointed.

The camera work also leaves much to be desired. There are a few examples, mostly during highly dramatic climaxes, where camera movement and placement achieve their proper significance. But for the most part, the photography is confusing and choppy.

"Boris Godunov" will be shown again this evening at 7 and 9 p.m. in Fairchild. Admission is 50 cents.

Watkins Speaks Tonight at Kellogg

Julian Watkins, author of "The 10 Greatest Advertisements" will speak tonight at 8 on "How to Get an Advertising Job and Keep It." The speech is in 101 Kellogg and is open to the public. Alpha Delta Sigma, men's advertising honorary, Gamma Alpha Chi, women's advertising honorary and the department of advertising are sponsoring the speech.

Watkins is a creative director and vice president with the Leo Burnett Co., Inc. and is considered one of the country's outstanding copywriters and advertising executives, according to John Crawford, head of the advertising department.

Destroy "Spirit of Camp David?"

General Assembly to Debate Red Hungarian Conditions

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The UN steering committee voted Monday Soviet motions and overwhelmingly approved a United States resolution for full General Assembly debate on conditions in Communist Hungary.

The Soviet Union contended another airing of the Hungarian question here would destroy the "spirit of Camp David" and that the United States should not attempt to prevent a relaxation of international relations as evidenced by the Eisenhower-Khrushchev talks.

Layne recalled that he was at the Camp David conference, and nothing happened there that requires us to condone evil. He said he was against a relaxation of international relations as evidenced by the Eisenhower-Khrushchev talks.

U.S. ambassador Henry Luce told the assembly that the UN requires us to pass by in one or the other side of the net when a brutality is committed. He added:

What is against the spirit of Camp David are acts which turn little Hungary into a living colonialist slum. The war in the powerful steering committee was 13 to 3 in favor of the U.S. proposal.

Opposed vote foreshadowed the action comes when the action comes to the 48-nation assembly.

Negative votes were cast by the Soviet Union, Romania and Czechoslovakia, Indonesia and Cuba abstained.

Department Head Picked

Dr. Douglas Dunham was named head of the MSU department of social science Thursday by the University's Board of Trustees.

The appointment is effective Jan. 1. Dr. Dunham succeeds Dr. Walter Fee, who will continue as head of the department of history.

Dunham, a full professor, joined the MSU staff as an instructor in 1947. He has served on the Basic College representative on the Committee on the Future of the University.

Born in 1916 in Wessington Springs, S.D., he received his BA degree in 1938 from Yankton College, S.D., and the MA and PhD degrees in 1941 and 1950 at the University of Michigan.

Dunham is the author of several publications including four chapters on government in the book, "Modern Society."

God Reveals Self Through Flowers

Flowers and floral arrangements are closely interwoven with the Christian faith, flower show judges and exhibitors were told at an MSU conference.

J. J. Tolle, of the MSU department of horticulture, declared that if God reveals Himself in any way at all through His creation, it is through flowers.

He spoke at a meeting of flower show judges at Kellogg Center Thursday and Friday.

As the seed sprouts and grows, he said, it speaks of the eternal hope of life and renewal. As it grows it tells of trust, he added, and in bloom, they are symbols of joy, praise and unfolding purpose—a reflection of the glory and beauty of God.

Audience Takes Part in 'Excursion'

A sympathetic understanding of the aspirations, the hopes and fears, the traditions and pride of other peoples and nations, is essential to the promotion of mutual prosperity and peace.

The words are President Eisenhower's but they express precisely the aims of a new television program "Excursion" on MSU's WMSB, Channel 10.

"Unique" comes closest to describing the new program which provides for audience participation on an extended scale.

Here's how it works. Every fourth Monday at 7 p.m., "Excursion" presents a program which deals with the culture, customs, history and traditions of some foreign country. MSU students from the country concerned appear on the program to provide first-hand information concerning their native land.

Informal talks by University experts provide additional information. Viewing these telecasts on the primary target audience are a number of teen-age clubs which have been formed in cooperation with the 6-H Club Program and other youth agencies. Most

Final Series Lists 3 Great Play Scenes

The third and final series of Great Scenes From Great Plays will be presented by student directors of the Dept. of Speech on Tuesday evening, Nov. 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the Studio Theater, Aud.

Featuring scenes from famous plays which are unconventional in theatrical style, the evening's program will include Capek's "R.U.R.," Cocteau's "The Infernal Machine," and E. E. Cummings' "Him." Admission is free.

Director of Karel Capek's "R.U.R." the play which introduced the word "robot" in modern vocabulary, is Tom Kegel.

The large cast of characters features Ed Fleury, Delphine Bagnick, Henry Hey, David Allee, Fred Cox, Ken Peck, John Alberts and Donald Paul. Assistant director is Errol Foss.

Alan Kennedy will stage Jean Cocteau's "The Infernal Machine," a shock treatment of the Oedipus myth. Jim Pepper will play Oedipus, and Judy Stark will be seen as the young Sphinx. Diane Henshaw will be stage manager.

E. E. Cummings, who has provoked readers of his poetry by his typographical oddities and incongruous treatment of traditional themes, will be represented by his surrealist play "Him."

ing in the homes of members, these teen-agers enjoy the culture of the country through music, food, games, and discussion. Furthermore, they have studied the customs, traditions, history and current affairs of the country and exchange this knowledge during their visit.

Questions by telephone prior to the telecast are encouraged and the "Excursion" experts do their best to provide answers. Calls are accepted at the WMSB studio between 6:30 p.m. and 7:03 p.m.

Father of the "Excursion" idea is Dr. Phillip Foster, assistant professor of agricultural economics at MSU.

"Our basic purpose is to get youngsters to understand the point of view of people of other cultures and nations," says Dr. Foster. "We've got 26 clubs now and we're shooting for a hundred."

Those interested in forming or joining a club should contact, "Excursion," WMSB, Channel 10, East Lansing, Michigan.

Cuban Labor Election Rejects Communist Bid

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba's organized labor rejected a Communist bid Monday and elected an all-Castro slate as its governing committee.

The 100,000 workers of other unions also rejected the Communist bid Monday and elected an all-Castro slate as its governing committee. The Communist bid was rejected by a vote of 99,000 to 1,000.

The Communist bid was rejected by a vote of 99,000 to 1,000. It included several former Communists and sympathizers, however.

Castro's lashing address appeared to have crushed the more strongly anti-Communist elements as well as the Communists.

Absent from the list of committee members was Conrado Becerra, head of the powerful Sugar Workers Union and the most active and outspoken anti-Communist in the Cuban labor movement. His union has 500,000 members and is the largest in Cuba.

On the other hand, the new secretary for foreign relations on the committee, a key post in contact with RAR abroad, is Odon Alvarez De La Campa, De La Campa, who led both factions in the Cuban revolution, is regarded as one of the closest collaborators with Communist labor elements in Cuba.

The delegates set the stage for a new Cuban-inspired Latin American labor organization by voting to withdraw from the Inter-American Regional Organization of Labor (ORIT), an affiliate of the anti-Communist International Confederation of Free Trade Unions (ICFTU). ORIT was assailed as a pawn of American imperialism which has consistently supported all dictators.

Classes Set For Michigan Farm People

Young Michigan farmers and their wives will soon begin going to weekly classes in a unique course at MSU.

Beginning December 3, these young farmers and homemakers will come to the campus every Thursday for 10 weeks to attend classes in the advanced farm and home training short course.

"This course is only four years old but has already grown into a popular program," said Harold Rensman, director of short courses. "Farmers have found it an excellent way to keep abreast of agricultural changes, current economic trends and to secure new ideas generally."

In the second year, a number of wives asked for special sessions to be included in the program. There will be sessions in farm management, advanced feed and management, beef cattle feeding and management and farm building layout and construction.

Cites 'Search-Seizures' Amendment

Supreme Court Rules, 7-2, Against Arrests Based Only on Suspicion

WASHINGTON (AP)—Suspicion is not enough for an officer to arrest a citizen, the Supreme Court ruled Monday.

Speaking for a 7-2 majority, Justice William Douglas said, "It is better, so the Fourth Amendment teaches, that the guilty sometimes go free than that citizens be subjected to easy arrest."

Douglas said the authority of FBI agents to make felony arrests without a warrant is restricted to offenses committed in their presence or to instances where they have reasonable grounds to believe the person to be arrested has committed or is committing a crime.

Douglas held that FBI agents who arrested John Patrick Henry in Chicago May 22, 1957, lacked "probable cause." The ruling voided Henry's conviction and one-year prison sentence on charges of unlawful possession of three cartons of radios that had been stolen from an interstate shipment.

Justice Tom Clark said in a dissenting opinion concurred in by Chief Justice Earl Warren that suspicious activities of Henry and Albert Rudolph Pierotti warranted the stopping of their car by the FBI agents.

"When an investigation proceeds to the point where an agent has reasonable grounds to believe that an offense is being committed in his presence, he is to proceed to make such searches, seizures and arrests as the circumstances require," Clark said.

After reciting some of the history of the Fourth Amendment which prohibits unreasonable searches and seizures, Douglas said:

"It is important that this requirement be strictly enforced, for the standards set by the constitution protect both the officer and the citizen." Douglas said the fact that contraband was discovered after the arrest was not enough. An arrest is not justified by what the subsequent search discloses, he said.

Bus Segregation Upheld in Court

BIRMINGHAM (AP)—U.S. District Court Monday upheld Birmingham Transit Co's right to require segregated seating on city buses.

But Judge Hobaert Grooms said the city's interference in the arrest of 13 Negroes, who broke the rule was a violation of the Negroes' civil rights.

He dismissed a portion of a suit brought by the Negroes against the transit company but withheld a decision in the part of the suit against the city.

The suit against the bus company and the Birmingham City Commission was brought by 13 Negroes after they were jailed Oct. 21, 1958, for sitting in the front of a city bus.

The incident occurred shortly after the city eliminated its law requiring segregated seating and gave the transit company the power to direct seating.

"So long as it (segregated seating) is accomplished by voluntary adherence, divorced from state action, no violation of civil rights is presented," he said.

But, he noted, if the city ordinance giving the bus company the authority to direct seating was "enacted as a sham to perpetuate discrimination in bus seating... the challenge to its constitutionality in application must be sustained."

Bobby Layne Considers Steelers' Chances Slim

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bobby Layne, the National Football League's leading spotter, considers the Pittsburgh Steelers' chances in the Eastern Division slim—but there's still a chance. "What we need now," said the blonde Texan in an interview Monday, "is some help from the other teams. We can't do it ourselves. Anything can happen in this league."

Layne, playing his role of spotter for the second week in a row, flipped a 17-yard touch-down pass in the final 40 seconds and then kicked the extra point Sunday to beat Cleveland 21-20.

The Giants lead the Eastern Division with a 7-2 chart. The Steelers show a 4-4-1 record. A week ago, Layne beat the Giants 14-9 on a 60-yard touch-down pass to Tom Tracy in the final one minute and 29 seconds.

Next Sunday the Steelers collide with their Pennsylvania rivals the Philadelphia Eagles at Forbes Field. A Steelers-Eagles game most always produces electrifying results.

Can Layne & Co. do it again? "This much I know," said Layne. "The victory over the Browns proves once again that the Steelers are a real good ball club."

"It's no easy work facing the Giants and the Browns on successive weekends and coming out with victories—and thrilling ones at that."

NY Ouster of D'Amato Jumbles Boxing World

NEW YORK (AP)—Cus D'Amato, manager of former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson Monday had his New York license as a manager and second revoked.

The decision has far-reaching implications in the boxing world.

The proposed rematch between Patterson and Ingemar Johansson, who dethroned him June 26 at Yankee Stadium, now becomes more complicated. Patterson now has no manager in New York and the National Boxing Association has said it will uphold the ruling—no more.

Johansson Wants to Give Patterson Another Show

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—Heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson said Monday he wants to give dethroned king Floyd Patterson a chance to regain the title.

"Maybe I don't have to fight Patterson any more now," said the champ from Sweden. "But I want to give him a chance."

First he said "I have to go home and talk it over with (Edwin) Ahlquist (his advisor). There will be no decision on anything until I've discussed it with him."

The handsome, smiling fighter made the comments after he was told the New York State Athletic Commission had revoked Cus D'Amato's licenses as manager and second. D'Amato manages Patterson, who lost his title on a third round knock-out to Johansson at New York's Yankee Stadium last June 26.

Commissioner Julius Helfand, after the three-man commission's decision on D'Amato was announced, said Johansson now could collect his $152,000 purse for the June 2 fight. It had been held in escrow to guarantee a return fight with Patterson. Helfand said the commission did not have on file a contract for a return fight.

Johansson flashed a wide grin when he was told his purse had been released.

"That's great news," he said. "That's really good."

Then—perhaps recalling his experiences of the past five months—he had second thoughts.

"Are you sure they said I could pick this money up anytime?" he asked.

"Absolutely," he was told.

 Syracuse vs. New York

The promotional firm, Rosensohn Enterprises, Inc., which holds the return bout contract previously had its New York license revoked. Tuesday Bill Rosensohn, who still owns one-third of the promoting firm, had his matchmaker's license suspended for three years.

Although Vincent Velozo, New York lawyer and politician, who heads Rosensohn Enterprises, Inc., talks of a rematch in March for the rematch, a New York group, headed by Joe Tepper, former boxing commission official is trying to take over the fight.

Johansson's purse of $152,000 from the first fight still is being held in escrow by the New York commission. However, commissioner Julius Helfand said Tuesday Johansson could collect at any time. "We have no contract on file for a return fight," said Helfand, former chairman.

Although Johansson has repeatedly he wanted to fight Patterson in his first show, there may be a possibility that he might be a free agent.

In the champ's home town of Goteborg, Sweden, Edwin Ahlquist, Johansson's advisor, called the decision "good news." He said he planned to meet with Tepper, who may be the promoter of the next fight.

Tepper arrived in Sweden Sunday and said he might talk "big news" within the next few days.

Meanwhile back in the U.S., neither D'Amato nor Patterson could be reached for immediate comment. D'Amato was at a commission meeting. Patterson was said to be training in Newtown, Conn.

QB Dean Look On Dream 11

CHICAGO (AP)—Dean Look, Michigan State quarterback, was named to the Associated Press 1959 all-Big 10 dream team today.

Two other Spartans, tackle Palmer Pyle and half-back Herb Adderley, wound up on the third team.

Four more State gridders found themselves among the honorable mentions. In this list are Fred Arbanas, Don Wright, Larry Cundiff and Gary Ballman.

Northwestern, despite a season ending fadeout, captured three berths to dominate the 1959 team.

Wisconsin's champion Badgers, Illinois and Iowa each placed two players, while one berth each went to Michigan State and Ohio State.

Unanimous choices in the voting by 12 Associated Press sports writers on the Big 10 front were two linemen—guard Bill Burrod of Illinois and tackle Dan Lanphear of Wisconsin.

Missing a sweep of first team votes by only one ballot was center Jim Andreotti of Northwestern. Two players were two votes shy of a sweep, guard Jerry Stalcup of Wisconsin and halfback Ron Burton of Northwestern.

The hard Northwestern player picked was fullback Mike Stock.

SECOND TEAM

THIRD TEAM

HONORABLE MENTIONS
Tackles—Schonover and Deffen, Wisconsin; Halstead and Johnson, Michigan; Langston, Iowa; Centers—Northwestern; ARBANAS, MSU; Bill, Minnesota.

Tackles—Reebout, Purdue; Mike Wright, Minnesota; Roberts, Illinois; Guards—Abbate, Northwestern; Callahan, Indiana; Northwestern; Mark Manders, Iowa; Ingram, Ohio State; Brunell and Sprick, Purdue; DON WRIGHT, MSU; Gene Larson, Minnesota; Nelson, Wisconsin.

Backs—James Laraway and Allen Purdie, Jackson and South; Indiana; Herbert, Ferguson and Steve, Ohio State; Hobbs, Bakken and Hart, Wisconsin; Norman and Norman, Michigan; BALLMAN, MSU; Norman, Iowa; Starks, Counts and Steven, Illinois; Talley, Mark, Johnston and Eckhoff, Northwestern; Dickson and Stephens, Minnesota.

Gridders Now Hit Banquet Rounds

Michigan State gridders head into the tough part of the football campaign—the banquet circuit.

First there is the team's private banquet set for tonight in the Union building at 6 p.m. It is a private affair.

Several honors from the 1959 season will be announced after the meal. But one has been postponed as football coach Duffy Daugherty has decided to hold the team banquet election after spring training.

Other banquets are set for Dec. 1, Lansing Downtown coaches club; and Dec. 2 in Detroit for the alumni bust.

WHO IS ANNA KASHFI?

She was Mrs. Marlon Brando, but she is no longer. She insists she was born Anna Kashfi. But this is not her real name. Her parents, she says, were Indian. But this is not the case. Who is the real Anna Kashfi—why does she assume an existence not her own?

In the current issue of Redbook, Anna Kashfi offers the first reliable answers to the riddle of her strange life and even stranger marriage reveals what attracted her to Marlon Brando and what finally tore them apart.

East Shaw 1 Tops Rather 4

By PAT STEPHENS

East Shaw 1 edged Rather 4-20-19 in an exciting IM football game Monday night.

Shaw began the scoring on a touchdown pass from Bob Durlin to Jim Youngness in the first period. The PAT saw an aerial from Max Hasse to Kurt Maizer, making the score 7-0 in favor of Shaw. But Rather 4 was a determined team as Art Garrett passed to Howard Shanks for their first tally.

After a scoreless second quarter, Youngness relayed the pick-up to Doug Danziger, who crossed the goal line for Shaw. For the conversion Hasse ran from the five. Rather retaliated with a scoring pass from Lee Queral to Shanks. Garrett tossed to Queral for the PAT.

In the fourth stanza Rather scored on a combination play from Garrett to Shanks. With less than one minute left in the game, Hasse again fired the ball for the winning TD.

Spartan Vet Seeks Position With Olympic Hockey Team

Fred DeVoune, veteran of three years of varsity hockey at MSU, is going to the United States Olympic hockey team trials in Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 10.

Given the opportunity, Fred has a good chance to make the team. He has good legs and a hard shot," said Amo Bossone, MSU hockey coach.

DeVoune, a native of Sault Ste. Marie, has been playing on organized hockey teams for 17 years. He started playing in the Sault Ste. Marie recreation leagues when he was eight years old.

The 1958-59 season was his best, he said. In addition to playing on State's Western Inter-collegiate Hockey League championship team, he was elected to two all star teams last year. DeVoune was selected as an all-star forward at both the Boston University and Rensselaer Polytechnical Institute invitational tournaments in which State played.

Olympic hockey team selections are made in two divisions. Twenty players are picked from the Eastern and Western divisions to go to West Point where the final selections for the Olympic team are made. DeVoune said.

Besides DeVoune, there are two other ex-State players trying out for the Olympic team. Weldon Olson and Gene Granz are also trying out for the team, according to Amo Bossone.

Pyle Drafted

FL Dips Into College Ranks to Battle Rivals

CHICAGO (AP)—The new American Football League is a bold bid for survival by drafting the top college players in the nation Monday in the face of behind-the-scenes maneuvering that turned Minneapolis-St. Paul into a battle between the AFL and the National League.

In a story in Monday's Sports Illustrated, Charles Johnson said the two cities have the choice of a franchise in either league. Johnson has been the league's negotiator with the NFL.

Owners of the Minneapolis-St. Paul entry in the new league said Monday they have no intention of switching to the National League and definitely plan to operate an AFL team here next year.

The NFL's 11 players drafted were:

Quarterback—Dean Look, Michigan State; Running back—Dale Hackbart, Wisconsin; Fullback—Mike Stock, Northwestern; Halfback—Herb Adderley, Michigan State; Tight end—Larry Cundiff, Michigan State; Linebacker—Bill Burrod, Illinois; Tackle—Dan Lanphear, Wisconsin; Guard—Jerry Stalcup, Wisconsin; End—Tommy Houston, Illinois; Defensive back—Johnnie Carson, Iowa; Punter—Tommy Davis, Iowa.

Demote Worsley Personnel Shifts Made By Rangers

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Rangers Monday called on veteran Gene Worsley as part of a four-player swap with the Springfield farm in the American Hockey League.

With Dallas, the Rangers replaced defenseman Jack Bouvas, Worsley and defenseman Noel Price were sent down to the Indians.

The Rangers' swap with the six-team National Hockey League and led the first place Chicago Black Hawks to just a point. New York has won only three of 18 games.

Pelle, 26, had one previous trial with the Rangers. He played 23 games with them in 1957-58 while Worsley was in the minors but Group was recalled.

Navy Fights Gooney Birds At Midway

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy tersely reported Monday that the outcome of its long, costly war with the Gooney birds remains in doubt, but that it still hopes for a just and lasting peace.

Both the Navy top brass and the Gooneys appear convinced that, after a long sea flight, Midway-Island in the Pacific is an ideal landing spot. Both have been attempting landings and takeoffs simultaneously, with fearsome results for both.

November is the critical month. The island is so crowded that during daylight hours 40 percent of all aircraft takeoffs and landings collide with Gooneys, or with Laysan Albatrosses as they are known by their scientific friends.

Results: terrible carnage to 528 Albatrosses, annual damage to aircraft amounting to $156,000, plus the possibility that airmen may be killed.

Naval reasoning went like this:

1. Build a new home for the Gooneys. It's been done. Green Island, 50 miles away, has been fixed up for the birds.
2. Make Midway Island less attractive. The navy, has done that too.

Dr. Melby to Discuss 'Why Are We Here'

Foul Weather Training

U. S. Federal Aviation Agency Says New Rules Will Hit Student Pilots

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Aviation Agency said Monday its new requirements that private pilots take special training in how to fly safely in bad weather will apply initially only to those licensed after next March 16.

The main impact, therefore, will be on student pilots.

FAA said it has not decided how the regulations will be applied ultimately to all private pilots. However, the agency said it is strongly urging all pilots to acquire the emergency capability as a safety measure.

The goal, FAA said, is to get the other pilots to take the training as they learn its value.

The FAA emphasized that the new rules do not require that pilots learn to fly by instruments. The special training will qualify the pilots only for emergency use of some instruments, by familiarizing them with the instruments.

The pilots will be required to accomplish certain maneuvers and meet certain standards under the new rules.

The FAA made the statements in clarifying an earlier impression that the new rules applied to all private pilots. Although many pilots already were reported taking the instruction, indications were that a blanket order would halt the flying of others, especially the small plane operators.

The regulations, effective next spring, require private pilots to become sufficiently familiar with the basic instruments so they will be able to keep the plane under control if they lose visual contact with the ground.

FAA said it also will impose, on March 16, stricter rules for the training of commercial pilots — non-airline pilots who have certificates to fly for hire. The new commercial pilots will be required to take 10 hours of instruction in instrument flight. This regulation likewise does not apply to such pilots now licensed.

There are about 350,000 pilots in the two categories.

All airline pilots are required to take elaborate training courses in instruments and to pass stringent flight tests that qualify them to fly by instruments.

The Aircraft Owners and Pilots Assn. issued a statement saying the new FAA rule is "nothing more than the life-saving technique voluntarily developed by A.O.P.A. and already learned voluntarily, at their own expense, by many private pilots."

While the State Department was vague about when Monat defected, Rosenthal's story said it happened last summer "at a time when a crisis was brewing in Poland."

Only recently Rosenthal was expelled as Times correspondent in Poland on grounds, in the words of a Polish official, "he had probed too deeply into the internal affairs of the country."

Monat is believed to be under protective custody of U.S. authorities. The usual practice in such cases is to question a defector closely, to make certain he is not a double agent as well as to glean any useful information.

In acknowledging that Monat and his family had arrived in this country, State Department Press Officer Lincoln White confirmed a report carried by the New York Times Monday.

Writing from Vienna, Times

Chest Drive Extended

Campus Chest's annual fall fund drive has been extended to include men's dorms and other living units that have not yet contributed.

The quota has not been reached and co-operation is needed by those units which have not participated in order to reach it.

Outstanding contributions in the women's dorms were made by West Landon and Phillips. In the sororities they were made by Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Phi and Kappa Kappa Gamma. Fraternities made the poorest showing of all, contributing only 20 percent of the total.

Among the outstanding were Delta Tau Delta, Theta, and Sigma Alpha. Other groups making the drive this year were Rick and Upsilon.

Miss Sarow also said it will be someone in the Chest office, 330 State St., between 4 and 6 p.m. day, Nov. 30 to accept from the men's dorms units who have not yet contributed.
