Start Winter Term Waiver Exams Set for Basics

A new waiver program has recently been approved allowing exceptional students to take exams to waive the Basic College courses: communication skills, natural science, social science and humanities.

The new waiver program will be in effect starting winter term. It will be open to incoming high school transfer and presently enrolled students.

The Basic College will send information about the waiver exams to incoming freshmen. The first qualification for applying to waive is to have a B or better high school average in academic subjects and an A average in the subject or subjects closest to the basic course in which the student desires to take a waiver exam.

Students orientation test papers will be given special treatment in that they will be graded immediately and a student, therefore, will know if he is eligible for the waiver exams.

Students with a satisfactory performance on the waiver exam will be permitted to waive the whole course. No credit for the course will be given. However, the student is eligible to take the final exam at the end of the term.

He will receive full credit if he makes a B or better. If his performance is not at a B level his waiver is still good and he will not be required to take the course but will receive an N grade.

Transfer students will be given the same treatment as incoming freshmen. Their high school and college record will be reviewed by the Basic College and if they are satisfactory their orientation tests will be given and graded immediately.

Transfer students who have already received full credit in similar courses in previous colleges will not have to take the waiver exam.

Presently enrolled students at MSU will be required to have a B or better average to take the waiver exam.

Dean Edward Carlin of Basic College explained that "This is building in our system an advanced placement program which provides for more flexibility for exceptional students enrolled at the university."

It should be of considerable interest to those prospective students with particularly strong academic backgrounds who feel they are prepared for certain programs in the Basic College.

It is a program in support of the general goals of the National Advanced Placement Program and it is specially tailored to the needs of the MSU students.

The waiver program was developed after 18 months of discussion and study by the faculty of Basic College and was adopted by that group at the winter term meeting of 1959.

Dr. Dunlop Slated To Address Group At Kellogg Tonight

John Dunlop, professor at Harvard and member of Kaiser Steel's labor relations committee, will speak tonight on new approaches to national emergency disputes at 8 in Kellogg Center Auditorium.

His appearance is sponsored by MSU's Labor and Industrial Relations Center.

Dunlop, who is a professor of economics at Harvard University, has served on the atomic energy labor relations panel from 1949 to 1953, and has served as a public member on the Wage Stabilization Board from 1950-1952.

Among other things, he has been recently named to the three-man committee which will draft long-range recommendations for resolving problems between Kaiser Steel and the union.

Staff Positions

Winter term staff appointments and awards for fall term will be made at a State News staff meeting at 9:45 a.m. Saturday in 34 Union. Sue Price, State News managing editor, will be in the newspaper office by 2 p.m. today.

$34 Million Tax Package Probable

Legislators Wait
For Bill Layover

By JOAN DEPPA

State News Capitol Reporter

Enactment of a $34 million tax package passed by Michigan's state senate Wednesday night seemed possible and even slightly probable Thursday.

Most legislators returned home to wait out the constitutional requirement that bills lay over five days after passage before they can be acted upon by the other house.

Meanwhile Gov. Williams indicated that his party might accept the measure although he has consistently contended that $110 million was needed.

"We're in a position that half a loaf is better than nothing, that even a crumb would have to be taken," he said.

STUN S

Checks from STUN will be mailed this week.

Spokesman of the House Don Pears (R-Buchanan) said that he expected the controversy to be settled by Dec. 18, just one week before Christmas.

He pointed out that Rep. Rolfe Cowlin (R-Tippecanoe), chairman of the house taxation committee, plans to hold the customary hearings Monday and possibly Tuesday before releasing the bills from further committee.

Pears believes that the House will add approximately $19 million to the senate package.

Suggestions for measures to raise this additional revenue range from a $5 tax on traffic violators proposed by Rep. Willard Bowerman (R-Lansing) to additional excise taxes to increase corporation franchise taxes and business activities tax.

S'News Chief, Managing Editor

Walters, Sue Price Are Chosen

D. Peter Walters and Sue Price were promoted to editor-in-chief and managing editor, respectively, of the winter term State News at Thursday's Board of Student Publications meeting.

John Murphy was reappointed business manager. Walters, Royal Oak, senior, will succeed Mary Huff, Midland senior, who plans to study in Vienna, Austria, next term. He previously served as State

Miss Price, Ramapo, N.J., junior, replaces Walters as managing editor. Her past State News jobs include city editor and society editor. Murphy, East Lansing junior, has been business manager three terms and also has had experience as national advertising and sales manager.

NOT ALL CONTACT LENS WEARERS go to the trouble of getting attention as Lance Olson did in Thursday's game with Bowling Green. As has happened in previous games Olson brought the game to a "stand still" while he and Gale Robinson, trainer, searched for it. He then gave a demonstration on how to put it back in.

USW Proposes Inquiry Board Settle Strike

Union Acts Soon After Ike Speaks

McDonald Agrees—
Strike Too Long

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Steelworkers Union Thursday night proposed that President Eisenhower instruct his inquiry board to recommend a solution of all issues in the steel dispute.

The union acted only minutes after Eisenhower in a nationwide TV-Radio speech, demanded a quick end to the dispute which threatens a renewed steel strike late next month.

David McDonald, union president, said he agreed entirely with Eisenhower's position that a settlement in steel is long overdue.

The union chief said he is willing to negotiate a settlement within the framework of any recommendation which Eisenhower's Steel Inquiry Panel might make.

McDonald said that he made the inquiry board proposal in a letter delivered to Eisenhower before the President's speech Thursday night.

The union chief expressed disappointment that Eisenhower had not mentioned the proposal in his address.

"It is my sincere belief," McDonald wrote Eisenhower, "that if this program is followed, there will be a prompt settlement of the steel dispute—a settlement fair to the public, to the workers and to the industry."

Eisenhower, before leaving on a three-week goodwill tour of 11 nations, announced he had ordered Chief Federal Mediator Joseph P. Finnegan to hold around-the-clock negotiations to settle the labor dispute.

The President said the success of his peace efforts require a strong economy. Of the steel situation, he declared: "America needs a settlement. It is needed now."

R. Conrad Cooper, chief negotiator for the steel companies, got out a statement saying the industry has "made every effort to reach a non-inflationary agreement through voluntary collective bargaining."

Cooper said that if the union had "shown the same flexibility, the same willingness to bargain, and the same sense of responsibility, an agreement would have long since been reached."

Inquiry boards, such as that serving under the Taft-Hartley law in the steel dispute, are prohibited by law from making settlement recommendations.

It was not immediately clear how McDonald proposed this legal question could be resolved.

But he told newsmen he is confident that if the industry agrees, the board could go ahead with settlement recommendations.

The three-man inquiry board, headed by Dr. George Taylor of Philadelphia, was set up by Eisenhower early in October when he moved to invoke emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley law to end the steel walkout.

Changes Announced In Class Schedules

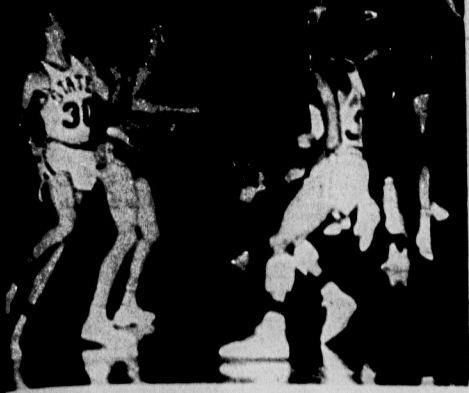

Class schedules for Monday and Tuesday have been changed according to the registrar's office.

Thursday classes will meet Monday. Friday classes will meet Tuesday. All classes will meet at their regular times.

The change was necessitated by Thanksgiving vacation when Thursday and Friday classes did not meet.

Dean of Students Hold Christmas Tea Today

The annual Christmas tea of the Dean of Students Office will be held this afternoon from 3 to 5 in the Student Services lounge. Invitations have been sent to student organizations representatives who have offices in the Student Services Building.

LANCE OLSON (50) and Art Gowens (55) prepare to assist Lane Walker as he competes for a rebound with two Bowling Green players in Thursday night's game.

Against Bowling Green

Spartans Victorious in Opener, 96-67

The Michigan State basketball team stomped Bowling Green Thursday night in the season's opener, 96-67.

Lance Olson led the Spartans in scoring by pouring in 33 points in the first half and 21 in the second.

The leading scorer for the Falcons was their All-American of 1959 Jim Darrow. The little 5-11 guard scored 20 points.

The Spartans led by a meager six point margin at half time, 41-33. However, they quickly broadened the gap between the two squads.

BOBBY ANDERSON, Spartan basketball coach, said, "I don't think we will see a better little man all year than this kid Darrow. He is noted for his fabulous jump shot and used it to good advantage Thursday night.

Bowling Green was hampered by the loss of their big man at Fenwick, Ron Parsons, 6-8, who was injured in Tuesday's game against Kalamazoo College.

Leach, a 6-4 forward, who fouled out of the game in the second half, was also injured in the tilt with Hillsdale.

Art GOWENS, the short Spartan center, at 6-2, was second high scoring for State with 24 points. He was closely followed by Olson, who scored 23 points.

Michigan State's lack of height didn't seem to stop them in the second half. Olson and Anderson were entirely satisfied with the performances of their substitute guards, Dave Richey and Art Schwarz.

SPARTANS INITIATED a new full shot rule in Jenison Thursday, that is being used tentatively by the Big 10 this season. Under the new ruling, when the offensive team fouls, the ball is turned over to the team on defense rather than travel the length of the court and award a free throw.

Coach Anderson thought the game was a very satisfactory performance for the first game of the year, and singled out Olson as being played an exceptionally good game. He stated that the only thing a smaller team can win is by that extra muscle and speed to compensate for the height.

ANDERSON ANTICIPATES a harder struggle with the Notre Dame squad Saturday night at 8 in Jenison Fieldhouse.

The Irish finished 1958-59 season with a 12-23 record. Gowens is spotted five inches at center as he matches up against John Darrow, the 6-7 inch center for the Irish.

Students will be admitted to the game free by showing their identification at the door.

The Spartans came within seven points of being their all time score of last year, 103 points against Michigan.

UNDER THE MISTLETOE—in the grand old Christmas holiday tradition, Bill Callahan get hussed by Lorrie Osbeck. This is just a sample of the goodies to be handed out this season. See he looks happy.

Caroling Sunday

Union Yule Features Old-fashioned Theme

An old-fashioned Christmas theme will be repeated in the Union with old-fashioned Christmas caroling amidst old-fashioned holiday decorations Sunday night from 7-8 in the Union lobby.

The informal get-together of students will include singing traditional carols around a 12-foot tree and listening to the Spartan Bellingers, the MSU Glee Club and to a Christmas story read by Ellen M. Peak, Chagrin Falls, Ohio sophomore.

The Union will be transformed by these novices into an old-fashioned Christmas theme, said Don St. John, program chairman, and Lovina Danforth, decorating chairman, both of the Union Board.

In addition to the Christmas tree, decorating of the Union will start this week.

The Union Grill will become an old-fashioned coffee house. The doors will be decorated to match those of the cafeteria, said Miss Danforth.

The Grill—pardon—old-fashioned coffee house will have on display two murals. One will be of "The Night Before Christmas" with Santa and his little prince gives gaily preparing for Christmas.

The Day After Christmas will be the second mural. It will be the big tree, the tree being taken down the tree and getting the tree and turkey on Christmas morning. The evening glow of the regular lights.

The Christmas tree will be the scene of the caroling in the old-fashioned theme.

The main lobby will be the scene of the "sing" and a gaily trimmed 12-foot tree. On the fireplace will be hung stockings awaiting Santa's midnight arrival.

The main lobby will be decorated as well as colored lights and a Christmas tree on the second floor.

Everything is there except the mistletoe. But who knows? Maybe they've added that, too.

COMMITTEE TRIES to see the name of the album of the band that will play for the J-Hop.

'Sophistication Will Prevail'

J-Hop to Feature High Society

Sophistication will prevail on campus Feb. 13, the night of the 1960 J-Hop, according to Bonnie Listello and Arnie Roberts, co-chairmen of the dance.

The aura of high society, exclusiveness and formality will permeate the entire 1960 J-Hop in every phase—favors, decorations, attire and publicity, the executive committee said.

Instead of the traditional two-night affair, J-Hop will be one big formal dance, Saturday night. This change is not for financial reasons as some people have been led to believe, the co-chairman said.

"We feel that through a large sample of students of the campus, it is apparent that the majority of students would rather see a one-night, completely formal affair," Roberts said.

A specific number of tickets will be sold, and by changing the J-Hop to one night, we will make the event less crowded and more conducive to dancing.

Proper attire for women will range from cocktail dresses to full-length formal. Dances will be worn by the men.

"Formal dances have been very successful on other college campuses," Miss Listello said. "We feel that the students on this campus deserve the opportunity to attend one formal function a year."

Arrangements are being made by the chairman, with local musicians for the rendition of taxicab music.

Ticket sales will begin Jan. 20 and will continue until a limited number of tickets have been sold.

The name of the band and theme will be released in January.

The city where promises to be a complete surprise, according to Kelli Green and Rick Shapiro, chairman of decorations. "Nothing like this has been done before," they added.

The band will make its first appearance in the Middle West at the 1960 J-Hop. It is acclaimed one of the best in the country, Jeff Pasner, band chairman, said.

Marking its 60th anniversary this winter, J-Hop will be following a precedent set in 1901. That year the dance was a one-night affair, with an eight-piece band.

TV OR NOT TV

The academic world has made its first tentative steps into television—a few lectures, a few seminars, a few lab demonstrations—but colleges have not yet begun to use television's vast capacity to dramatize, to amuse, to stir the senses, to unshackle the imagination. Like, for example, the following.

ANNOUNCER: Howdy, folks. Well, it's time again for that lovable, laughable pair, Emmett Twokey Magruder, Ph. D. and Felicia May Crimscoff, M.A., in that rollicking, roistering fun show, American History 101. And here they are—the team that took the "biss" out of "history"—Emmett Twokey Magruder and Felicia May Crimscoff!

DR. MAGRUDER: Howdy, folks. A funny thing happened to me on the way to my doctorate. A mendicant approached me and said, "Excuse me, sir, will you give me 25 cents for a sandwich?" and I replied, "Perhaps I will, my good man. Let me see the sandwich."

MISS CRIMS-COTT: Oh, how droll Dr. Magruder! How delicious! You're a regular Joe Penner! But enough of badinage. Let us turn to our rollicking, roistering fun show, American History 101.

DR. MAGRUDER: Today we will dramatize the taut and tingling story of John Smith and Pocahontas. I will play Captain Smith and Miss Magruder will play Pocahontas.

ANNOUNCER: But first a message from our sponsor. Folks, have you tried Alpine Cigarettes yet? Have you treated yourself to that fresh filtration, that subtle coolness that extra-long, extra-efficient filter? Have you? Hmmm? ... If not, wake your tobaccoist and get some Alpine at once! ... And now to our grim and gripping story. Picture, if you will, a still summer night. An Indian maid stands by a moonlit brook. Suddenly she hears a footstep behind her. She turns.

MISS CRIMS-COTT: Oh, John Smith! You-um startle-um me-um!

DR. MAGRUDER: Howdy, Pocahontas. What are you doing by the brook?

MISS CRIMS-COTT: Just washing out a few scalps. But what-um you-um want-um?

DR. MAGRUDER: I came to see the Chief.

MISS CRIMS-COTT: You-um can't-um. Chief is leaving for Chicago.

DR. MAGRUDER: On what track?

ANNOUNCER: And speaking of tracks, stay on the right track with Alpine—the track that leads straight to smoking pleasure, to fun, to frolic, to sweet content. ... And now back to those two gassers, Emmett Twokey Magruder and Felicia May Crimscoff.

DR. MAGRUDER: Well, folks, that's all for evlap. See you next week, same time, same channel.

MISS CRIMS-COTT: Stay tuned now for "William Cullen Bryant—Girl Intern."

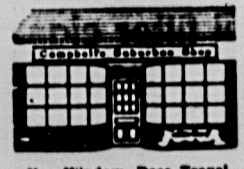

ANNOUNCER: And remember, folks, there was a time when you needed to smoke two cigarettes to get what you get from one Alpine—one cigarette for light menthol, one for high filtration. Today you can get it all in a single Alpine, which means you no longer have to go around smoking two cigarettes at a time, causing your friends to sneeze, and violating the fire laws.

And speaking of TV, remember to watch Max Shulman's "The Many Loves of Doble Gillis" on CBS every Tuesday night—presented by Marlboro Cigarettes, from the makers of Philip Morris and Alpine.

Greener pastures for America's second largest telephone system

Nowhere in the United States is the economic "grass" greener than in the great agricultural areas of our nation. New farm equipment has increased productivity. New home conveniences have brought a higher standard of living, and demands grow for an even better way of life.

Part of this better living has been the demand for more and better Communications.

It follows that as these rural areas expand and prosper, so does General Telephone. For these are the areas we serve.

In Wisconsin, for instance, dairy farms are producing more milk of better quality from fewer cows. Wisconsin country homes are bright and up to date. Their standard of living is equal to or better than that of their city brothers.

In this one state, Gen Tel plans to spend more than $30 million in the next few years improving and increasing telephone services and facilities.

This is a typical example of how we strive not only to meet today's communications needs—but to answer tomorrow's.

"THE WORM TURNS"
Shakespeare said it this way: The smallest worm will turn, being trodden on. But Miguel de Cervantes beat him to it in "Don Quixote," Part II, Book 3: "Even a worm when trod upon, will turn again."

"MUSIC HAS CHARMS"
The 17th Century playwright, William Congreve, was the first to set down this classic metaphor concerning the powers of sound and rhythm. You'll find the whole quote in "The Mourning Bride," Act I, Sc. 1: "Music hath charms to soothe the savage beast, To soften rocks, or bend a knotted oak."

"RHYME OR REASON"
Edmund Spenser, 16th Century poet, expected a pension. He didn't get it. So he wrote the rhyme: "I was promised on a time/To have reason for my rhyme/From that time unto this season/ I received not rhyme nor reason."

Religious Organizations Slate Seasonal Events

In keeping with the yuletide season, campus religious organizations have planned many Christmas activities for the weekend. Trees will be decked with icicles and ornaments while students sing the traditional carols. A little less traditional but just as much fun will be the Christmas dances.

Christian Student Fellowship has planned a combination of Christmas events for this evening. Members will leave College House at 7 to go caroling. The group will return about 8:30 for their annual "hanging of the greens."

Canterbury Club is having evening prayer and supper at 6:30 Sunday night. Dr. Lawson Jones, choir director, will lead the program to follow.

Members of Gamma Delta will get together to trim their tree from 3 to 5:30 Saturday afternoon at Martin Luther Chapel. Following the tree supper at 5:30, the group will carol various living units on the cam-

Yuletide BY CONNIE ZEKIT

It's almost like having two Christmases when you're at MSU. With mistletoe, holly, Christmas trees and carols, already invading the campus, everyone is becoming inspired with the Christmas spirit.

Christmas doings are many this weekend, and studying will just have to play second fiddle for at least one evening.

Christmas stockings filled with candy canes will be presented to all sorority and fraternity houses by Alpha Omicron Pi this weekend.

Pi Beta Phi and Delta Tau Delta are presenting their annual Christmas tree lighting ceremony at 8:30 Sunday evening. Children from the Michigan School of the Blind will light the tree, located west of the Union.

Theta Chi's annual Christmas vesper service will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Alupini Memorial Chapel. Alpha Gamma Delta will join the Theta Chi's in presenting the program.

Christmas Festivities Theme Parties, Teas

Christmas appears to be taking preference over final exams around campus this weekend. Activities have been geared to the holiday season rather than to studying. Dances, teas, open houses and parties galore have been planned, with Christmas the theme for each.

Delta Tau Delta will hold their annual Christmas party this evening. Bob Astalos will provide music for dancing around a white frosted tree decorated in gold.

Alpha Kappa Psi is sponsoring an all-university dance at the Masonic Hall from 9-12 this evening. The Bachelors have been scheduled to play for the "Finals Fling."

Santa Claus and his live reindeer will make an appearance at the Sigma Nu's Christmas party this evening. Jack Braun is to furnish music for dancing. The men of Alpha Sigma Phi and their dates will attend a "Snow Ball" Christmas party this evening in the chapter Fountain Room. Dancing, games and caroling are to complete the entertainment.

Van Hoesen has planned a "Final Fling" dance this evening. Music for dancing in the hall lounge will consist of his favorite recordings on tape.

Theta Chi and Delta Zeta will hold their annual Christmas party for underprivileged children at the Theta Chi house this evening. A "Come as Your Favorite Commercial" party has been scheduled for active members by the Theta Chi pledges for later in the evening. Phi Mu's and their dates will enjoy a Christmas party at the chapter house Saturday evening. Their traditional pink tree and the "Phi Mu Lady" dressed in white satin with a pink and velvet coat will be present. Women's residence halls will be opening the Yule season Sunday with their annual Christmas teas and open houses. Gilchrist, Yakeley, Campbell, Landon and Phillips have planned festivities for the day.

All filter cigarettes are divided into two parts, and...

"Weni, widi, Winston!" Thus did Caesar (a notoriously poor speller) hail the discovery of Filter-Blend—light, mild tobacco specially selected and specially processed for filter smoking.

He knew that a pure white filter alone is not enough. To be a complete filter cigarette, it must have Filter-Blend up front. And only Winston's got it!

That's why Caesar would never accept another brand even when it was offered gratis. In fact, history tells us he'd glow at the extended pack and sneer, "Et tu, Brute?"

In a stirring oration to his legions, Caesar put it this way: "For the Numeral 1 filter cigarette—for the best-tasting filter cigarette—for the noblest filter cigarette of all—smoke Winston!"

"Winston tastes good like a cigarette should!"

P.S. to bachelors. If you're lucky enough to find a gal who'll keep you in Winston, Caesar!

Swimming Squad Young, But Eager

Sophomore-Dominated Team To Meet All Big 10 Schools

By SUZETTE RAMSEY
State News Sports Editor

The 1960 swimming squad will be a "small, young, eager" according to Coach Charles McCaffree, and may be a good season, if all retain eligibility.

The winners are back, but the bulk of the team is composed of sophomores. Graduates were heavy with the senior Don Patterson, gone, and senior freestyler Bill Gage, ineligible, though probable in his senior year, because of participation in the Olympics, which cut down on his participation in the state competition one year. McCaffree declares that the best schedule it's had in 10 years is all nine Big 10 schools. He also has the best home meet with the Big 10 Swim and dual meets with the state and Illinois Swim Relays are expected to be here. This is an "attractive" McCaffree said, since it is in relays between individuals. This was held in Ann Arbor last year and has chiefly altered between the two schools.

Expected to be here are Indiana, University of Michigan, and Iowa State University. Michigan is the defending champion with Indiana and second and third place, respectively, last year. The regular dual meet is Jan. 15 in Ann Arbor. A three-way meet is scheduled for the same date, but it can't be entered in the AAU gala in Ann Arbor because of the conflict with exams. The regular AAU meet was not held last year.

The Spartans have Frank Moe as champion, returning. Lettner Bill Singleton, sophomore Denny Ruppert and junior Jim Tyson will back Medina as the breaststroke.

Sophomores dominate the event with Ron Gage, former state champion, and Lee, who also placed in state championships, and Gage participating with Jack Wickersham. McCaffree says that Gage should give the team strength in the pool for the first time in 10 years.

The Spartans have letterwinners Dave Digel, Larry Jones, Denny Baker and sophomore Dan Convis, Juergen Matt, Dick Blazewski. McCaffree has much to look for in the sophomore trying to swim the sandal in distance freestyle. Dick Brackett, swimming distance will be back. Johnson, a junior who swam last year, and Jim Anis.

Another sophomore heads the butterfly artists. Sophomore will be swimming in a second sophomore Wes and letterwinner Art will.

Gage and Digel will be the individual medley along with Denny Simon, who didn't swim last year because of a back operation. MSU's entered diver, Jerry, will return in his

Draft Choices Agree
DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings have two draft choices. Back Johnny Robinson and forward Warren Rabe, of Michigan State, have agreed to join the team for the 1960 season, the team said Thursday.

HARRIERS FORDDY KENNEDY, Billy Reynolds and Jerry Young were named to the first All-America squad announced by the NCAA. Here is the MSU team that won its second triple crown in two years. They are (l-r) Reynolds, Clayton Ward, Young, Ed Graydon, Tony Smith, Bob Lake and Kennedy. The Spartans won back their titles in the Big 10, ICA and NCAA meets.

Michigan State in 1958 had its first sports champion when H. A. Avery defeated Canada's Henry Zimmerman in the state high kick competition with an effort of 21 inches above his head.

3 'S' Harriers Honored

Michigan State and Houston—1-2 finishers in the NCAA cross country championships—dominate the first All-America collegiate squad announced by the National Collegiate Cross Country Coaches Assn.

The Spartans and the Cougars placed three performers each on the 15-man honor squad. Nine other schools placed one runner each on the team, which was determined by taking the first 15 place winners at the annual four-mile championship meet held at Michigan State's course Nov. 23.

The Cross Country Coaches

Assn., headed up by Iowa's Fran Cretzmeier, has decided to make the selection an annual affair, at each succeeding NCAA championship meet.

Houston's representatives are Al Lawrence, NCAA individual winner, and teammates John Macy, who finished second, and Pat Clohessy, who was eighth. MSU team winner for the eighth time in 21 meets, had Forddy Kennedy, and Billy Reynolds, third and fourth place finishers, respectively, and Jerry Young, in 11th place, as members of the select group.

The entire All-America team going in order in which each runner finished in the NCAA meet, includes these runners: Al Lawrence, Houston; John Macy, Houston; Forddy Kennedy, Michigan State; Billy Reynolds, Michigan State; Tom O'Riordan, Idaho State; Billy Mills, Kansas; Dick Engelbrink, Penn State; Pat Clohessy, Houston; Jim Tucker, Iowa; Dick Greene, Army; Jerry Young, Michigan State; Miles Eisenman, Oklahoma State; John Darby, Iowa State; James Bower, Illinois; and Tom Rivers, Drake.

Lou Agase, Michigan State offensive line coach, Thursday night it is probable that he may not be at next season.

This statement came after the announcement that Agase is being considered for the head coaching job of the Toronto Argonauts, a Canadian professional football club.

Agase said there has been no definite offer, but he is going to Toronto over the weekend to confer with Argo officials.

State's Football Defense In Big 10 Cellar-Statistics

The key to a good finish in the Big 10 football race isn't a good offense. That's what Michigan State's Spartans believe after comparing the 1958 and 1959 football seasons.

Last year State finished dead last in the conference standings even though it was second in defense. But this year the Spartans wound up as the number two team in the conference, even though they ranked ninth in defense.

Iowa and Wisconsin should reflect the same belief. The Hawkeyes took the offensive title and were second in defense. But they finished sixth in the Big 10 standings.

Wisconsin, league champions, had poor showings in offense and defense rankings, finishing seventh in both. The Spartans were number two in defense.

Foundation Mathematics Course Added to EL Ed Curriculum

A new four-credit mathematics course is to be added to the preparation program for elementary teachers.

Experimental sections of "Foundations of Arithmetic" will be offered winter and spring terms to help elementary teachers get a better background in arithmetic prior to taking the methods course of teaching arithmetic," Collier said.

"The process of revising the preparation program offered an opportunity to develop a new course to help elementary teachers get a better background in arithmetic prior to taking the methods course of teaching arithmetic," Collier said.

He explained "Foundations of Arithmetic" deals with the structure of arithmetic. It is taught in the mathematics department because it is strictly a mathematics course, and doesn't concern how to teach.

Collier added: "An understanding of arithmetic is needed by all people with a general background for a well rounded education."

L. M. Kelly, professor of mathematics, who will teach the course winter term, said: "Generally, elementary teachers only have a high school mathematical background. Their basic understanding of arithmetic is often insufficient to explain the what and why of simple problems. For example, why do you carry when you add?"

Kelley said that arithmetic is generally taught as a rote mechanism, which is usually due again to a lack of understanding by the teacher.

"The establishment of this course," Kelly said, "represents encouraging tangible evidence of a closer liaison between professional schools and the school of education."

AFROTC Take to Sky: Tour Country

The Air Force ROTC cadets will be up in the wild blue yonder at least twice a month for the rest of the school year.

The project carries the MSU cadets via Air Force Transport to Air Force Bases in Ohio, Delaware, Kansas, Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee, and Florida.

Different Air Force Commands such as the Tactical Air Command which operates jet interceptors that protect our borders will be visited.

Strategic Air Command and Air Materiel Commands are also included among the bases to be visited by the cadets to encourage them to strive for a commission in this vital service.

Grant Awarded Dr. Hans Nathan

Dr. Hans Nathan, a professor of music at MSU, has been awarded a grant from the Sweeney Memorial Fund of the Library of Congress.

The grant is a contribution to the publication of Nathan's book, "Dan Emmett: Minstrel Man," which is a biography as well as a history of early American Negro minstrelsy.

The book will be published in early 1960 by the Oklahoma University Press.

Final Examination Schedule For Fall, 1959

The last day of classes for Fall Term is Tuesday, December 8. All final examinations will be given in accordance with the following schedule.

The time of the examinations in Basic College courses is given below. Examination rooms will be announced by the instructor during the last week of classes.

Communication Skills: Wednesday, December 9, 10:15-12:15
 Natural Science: Thursday, December 10, 10:15-12:15
 Social Science: Friday, December 11, 10:15-12:15
 Humanities: Saturday, December 12, 10:15-12:15

The time of examinations in sections other than Basic College courses is determined by the department and the time the class is scheduled during the term. Examinations will be given in the same classrooms used for class meetings during the term.

If at least two of the days and hours follow the regular pattern, all students, instructors, and room schedules will automatically clear. In a few courses, at the request of the department concerned, the final examination has been scheduled by the single hour lecture section, and in some instances students may encounter conflicts. In that event, the examination scheduled by the class meeting two hours each week will take precedence over the examination scheduled by the student and the department requesting the special scheduling of its examination.

All instructors having examinations from 8:10 a.m. and from 1:30-3:30 p.m. are requested to terminate their examinations promptly so that rooms and buildings may be cleared for the examination periods which follow.

MSU Curator Assists In Restoration of Fort

As part of a joint project between the Mackinaw State Park Commission and the MSU museum, Dr. Moreau Maxwell, curator of anthropology, spent the past summer supervising excavation of the site of historic Fort Michilimackinac on Mackinaw Island.

The park commission is in the process of reconstructing the 250-year-old fort to its original detail.

More than 49,000 cubic feet of dirt were sifted through screens during the excavations and approximately 10,000 significant artifacts were found. The classification of which will take nearly a year.

Much of the work was done by a group of 14 convicts provided by the department of correction, conservation division.

"They showed more enthusiasm and interest in the work than many graduate students would," said Maxwell of the convict workers. He added that primarily due to the interest, enthusiasm and capability of this group, more than twice the original maximum estimate of work was accomplished during the summer period.

Artifacts found by the group enabled recognition of three general periods of fort occupation.

The first period, that of the early French, lasted from 1719-1760, the middle French-early
