State-Wolves Clash Replacements Fit in Plans

How well will the Michigan State basketball team, defending Big 10 champions, do now that two first stringers have been dropped because of flunking classes?

That will be the main question surrounding the MSU-University of Michigan basketball game Saturday at 8 p.m. in Jenison Field House.

Saturday's battle, the second for the Spartans in conference play, will be the first without center Art Gowans, who scored 148 points in eight games, and Jim Behinski. The pair was declared ineligible for the winter term along with sophomore-reserve Bill Pauline.

Moving in to replace the departees are Dave Scott and Art Schwarm.

The question hanging over Jenison even overshadows the traditional interest in the game. Michigan, the Spartans' archrival, is not expected to be too much of a real test. The Wolverines have troubles of their own, winning only two of the first nine games.

John Tidwell, a high scoring forward-guard, leads the Wolves into their first conference contest. In nine games Tidwell has topped 18 points for a handsome 20.8 average.

Michigan has been averaging 64.9 points a game compared to a 79 average for Michigan State.

Despite Michigan's impotency the threat of an upset can't be counted out—for two reasons. First, anything can happen in a Michigan State-Michigan game because of the traditional incentive.

The other reason is State may have trouble adjusting to its new regulars—Schwarm and Scott.

Even though he is a new name to many, Scott is a Spartan veteran and letterwinner. He was absent from the squad last year because of difficulties with the university.

The Detroit senior stands 6'2" and he possesses a fine jump shot and is one of the speediest men on the squad. For Detroit, Cooley High School he was top scorer in the city league.

Sophomore Schwarm should be more than an adequate replacement for Behinski. As a matter of fact after eight games Schwarm scored 41 points to 23 for Behinski.

The State line-up should read—Horace Walker at center, Scott and Lance Olson at forwards, Dave Fahs and Schwarm at guards.

Walker is averaging 19.1 points a game for the season and is one of the top scorers in the Big 10. He will team up with Olson, who has 147 points, to give State a good one-two punch.

Starting for Michigan will be sophomores Scott Maentz and Dick Clark at forwards, Lovell Farris at center and Terry Miller and Tidwell at guards.

State won the lone game played between the teams last year when it set a scoring record for most points, 163. Michigan scored 91 points to help set the record for the most ever scored by both teams in a game involving State, 194.

Michigan leads the all-time series 43 to 29.

Right after the Michigan test, Coach Fordy Anderson and his Spartans have to look to an away game Monday with Iowa.

Big 10 Swim Relays Feature Top Teams

IN WHAT THEIR COACH calls the "most attractive" meet of the season, Spartan swimmers will face the No. 1 and 2 Big 10 teams, the University of Michigan and Indiana, and Thursday night's opponent, Iowa State, at 3 p.m. Saturday in the Big 10 Invitational Relay.

Coach Charles McCaffree says the meet is especially exciting because everything, even the diving, is in relays, putting the emphasis on the team, rather than the individual. Thus, the best swimmer paired with two weaker ones may be beaten in a relay by three good swimmers.

Admission for MSU students is free, while general admission is one dollar and reserved seats $1.50. The meet will be held in the

TONY TASHNICK

Men's IM indoor pool, which seats over 2,000, and McCaffree says he would be happy to see the place crowded.

NO SCORE IS KEPT in the meet, but awards are presented. In the 1959 race in Ann Arbor, the U of M won seven firsts and two seconds, Indiana captured one first and seven seconds while MSU had five thirds.

The Wolverine tankers won the Big 10 championships in a record-breaking performance last year, followed by Indiana. MSU finished fourth.

Nine events are scheduled, including the 400-yard freestyle relay, 200-yard backstroke relay, 400-yard breast butterfly relay and the 500-yard freestyle relay, with one man swimming 50 yards, one 100, one 150 and the fourth 200.

Others are the 200-yard medley relay, with one man going 50 yards backstroke, one 50 yards breast, one 50 butterfly and the last 10 freestyle; diving relay; 300-yard individual medley relay, 200-yard freestyle relay and 400-yard medley relay.

MICHIGAN HAS SEVEN SWIMMERS returning as Capt. Tony Tashnick, Big 10 triple winner in butterfly and individual medley events, and Frank Legacki, Big 10 and NCAA 100-yard freestyle champ and American 100-yard butterfly record-holder.

Wolverine Dave Gillanders, NCAA butterfly titlist, will be matched against Indiana's sophomore, Mike Troy, who smashed butterfly records in the Pan-American trials last summer.

Indiana's backstroke, Frank McKinney, who was beating Japanese as well as American swimmers last summer, will be competing, along with teammates Dick Beaver and Bill Barton, against Michigan's John Smith and Al Gaxiola.

Despite the entries of these top swimmers in the U.S., McCaffree stresses that the team depends on the strength of all members, since relays de-emphasize the individuals. "We've got one of the finest shows Saturday that the students will ever see," McCaffree adds.

President Forecasts Prosperity

State of Union Address Confidently Optimistic

Forecasts $4 Billion Surplus in '61;
Suggests Application on National Debt

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Thursday forecast unmatched prosperity for the United States, a debt-cutting surplus for its government and—if the Soviet cooperates—peace with justice for all the world.

In a confidently optimistic State of the Union message, Eisenhower told applauding members of Congress that income should exceed outgo in the 1961 fiscal year by $4,200,000,000.

Grad Day Discussion Scheduled

Spring term commencement after final examinations will be up for discussion again when academic council holds its monthly meeting Tuesday.

The proposal before council was drawn up by academic senate's Instruction, Curriculum and Research Committee, headed by Provost Paul Miller. It calls for switching commencement date from June 5 to June 12 this year and ending classes June 17.

The present schedule lists final exams through June 13. Extra exams would have to be taken out of the regular 30-day spring term. The Miller Committee recommendation were adopted. Academic council ruled the issue at its December meeting. It should approve the ICR Committee report Tuesday the matter would go back to senate for confirmation.

The shortening of spring quarter would be a stop-gap measure, Miller said Thursday, "but our committee feels that commencement after finals is the best plan and we want to effect the measure as soon as possible."

Among possible long-range solutions to the early finals problem would be starting fall term earlier in September, Miller said.

Under this plan, fall term would end before Thanksgiving, winter term could be started before Christmas, spring term would end near Memorial Day and a fall 12-week summer school could be completed before Labor Day.

Student groups seeking commencement at the end of each term—Morris Board, Excalibur and Senior Council—met with the provost's office and commencement committee before the proposal was formulated.

Bridge tournament sign-ups will start today and will continue throughout next week. Sign-ups will be accepted at the Union Board executive desk in the Union main lobby.

WVKAR Initiates Stereo Concerts
Marking another "first" in the activities of MSU's radio stations, WVKAR and WKAR-FM, the initial broadcast of a series of stereophonic concerts will begin Sunday at 11 a.m.

Using special custom-built amplifying equipment, the stations will broadcast high fidelity concert selections by some of the world's great recording artists.

To fully appreciate stereophonic sound the listener should tune his regular AM radio to 870 kc, WVKAR. Then, approximately six feet to one side, place an FM receiver tuned to 90.3 mc, WKAR-FM.

Announcers Needed
Auditions will be held Monday evening in the Aud. for student staff announcers for WVKAR.

Opportunities in radio include regular announcing, news broadcasts, remote programs, interviews and writing for majors and non-majors in communications.

French Film 'My Uncle' Full of Life

A clumsy uncle blundered his way across the screen last night in the Fairchild theater when the foreign film series presented Jacques Tati's French comedy, "My Uncle."

Light, gay music depicting a low class neighborhood was contrasted with the noise and bustle of the wealthy. A major portion of the film was pantomimed by men, women and dogs.

An uncle devoted to his little mistress took the audience into the back streets of France and presented a very humorous side to life consisting of boyish antics, a sloppy street cleaner and the "alley dogs."

The scene then changed to an ultra-modern home hosted by a fussy, society woman and hosted by her husband, a factory owner. Their main problem throughout was to make the uncle conform to modern day standards which meant holding a gun and marrying.

Even a garden party proved a failure in solving the problem. However, in the end, the uncle continued on his way enjoying life in a rather slap-happy fashion.

The movie will be shown to-night in Fairchild at 7 and 9 p.m.

State News Makes New Appointments

The appointments were announced Tuesday at the first winter term staff meeting by D. Peter Walters, editor-in-chief, and Sue Price, managing editor.

Proposal Submitted For Clinical Center

A proposal for a medical center at Michigan State was presented to the Board of Trustees at its December meeting.

The proposal was submitted by the Research Development Committee which includes Provost Paul Miller, Lloyd Ferguson, dean of the College of Science and Arts, W. W. Armistead, dean of the College of Veterinary Medicine, and Milton Mueller, vice president of development.

Presidential Asst. James Denison said the reason for the proposed center is not to gain prestige.

"We feel there is a need for a third medical school," Denison said. "The facilities of the University of Michigan's and Wayne medical schools are crowded." Denison said the need for physicians is increasing at a fast rate.

"If we are to meet that need, we must start now," Denison said. "It takes time to prepare a good medical school."

Included in the medical center would be colleges of medicine and veterinary medicine, and schools of medical technology and nursing. Later a college of dentistry, a curriculum in public health, and a medical research institute would be added.

The proposal said the medical center should employ a new approach to medical education. The pre-clinical training would share the same classrooms and facilities.

The proposal said there would be no duplication of pre-clinical departments simply, for example, to preserve the distinction between human and animal anatomy and physiology.

The clinical departments of the proposed center would be separately staffed and housed. Included would be a medical sciences building, a university hospital for training students, a clinical department of a medical research institute, and perhaps a geriatric hospital and a laboratory animal colony.

Denison said the centralization of facilities would save money and provide a better correlation among the medical scientists.

Denison said the Board of Trustees renewed its request to the state legislature, that the Boys' Vocational School property in Lansing be reserved for Michigan State when abandoned as a possible site for the medical center.

Tax Debate Flares Up In Senate

LANSING (AP) — Republican Sen. John Stahlin of Belding Thursday shot back a tart answer to a complaint from Democratic Highway Commissioner John Mackie that part of the new nuisance taxes were "an attempt to do a hatchet job" on the department.

Mackie said the new three percent use tax on materials used for state highway construction would jump the cost of road building more than $3,600,000 this year.

Before Commissioner Mackie complains about this tax, I would like to see some evidence of economic and efficient highway department operations," Stahlin said.

In the past two years, he has increased the cost of general administration by 34 percent—quite a jump in the amount of money spent for administration instead of road building.

Stahlin, chairman of a Senate committee investigating department land-buying practices added application of the use tax to government construction projects procedures in many states.

Mackie, meanwhile, asked Atty. Gen. Paul Adams, a Democrat, to rule on constitutionality of the use tax application to state highway construction materials.

IFC Slates Winter Rush For Sunday

Rules will be available for prospective fraternity rushers, according to an announcement by the Inter-Fraternity Council Thursday.

A clearing center has been established in the IFC office to enable rushers to be arranged for studies as quickly and as efficiently as possible. Service is expected to be available to men in the dorms within 20 minutes after calling the university and asking for the IFC extension.

IFC hopes that by cutting down traveling time, the rushers will be able to make more responsible evaluation of the seven area schools and of each individual group.

Sunday afternoon, Jan. 16 from 2 until 5, fraternities will hold open houses so that interested men may become familiar with as many houses as possible.

Next week's smokers are scheduled as follows:
Monday, 7-10 p.m., Abbott Road and West
Wednesday, 7-10 p.m., east of Abbott.

Bridge Tournament Sign-ups Accepted
Bridge tournament sign-ups will start today and will continue throughout next week. Sign-ups will be accepted at the Union Board executive desk in the Union main lobby.

Rushes model latest styles for winter rush.

Panhellenic Council held its second rush convocation of the 1959-60 year Thursday night in the Music Aud.

Coeds were welcomed to the convocation by Sandy Maynard, chairman of the convocation, and Mabel Petersen, PanHellenic Council advisor. The schedule of rush parties was given and the post office system for receiving party invitations was explained by Joyce McNamara, vice president of PanHellenic.

During the hour-long meeting rushers saw the movie, "Sorority Rush at MSU." The film consisted of scenes from rush activities of past years.

Invitations for the first round of parties will be picked up today from 2-4 p.m. in the PanHellenic post office, 13 Student Services. Rush counselors will be on hand to give out bids. Activity information sheets and financial data about each sorority will also be available.

Rushers may select seven houses to visit at this stage. Parties will be held Saturday afternoon from 1-5 and Sunday afternoon from 2-5.

Spartan Cage Plight Could Be a Blessing

SATURDAY NIGHT at Jenison Fieldhouse the "new" MSU basketball team will engage our neighbors from Ann Arbor with a decided number of personnel missing from the starting lineup...

This situation results from the scholastic ineligibility of three of Fordy Anderson's squad members because of fall term grades. In one swipe, this loss of players deprives the Spartans of their No. 1 scorer and relegates them even more than ever to the ranks of the "dark horses."

But before MSU athletic followers throw up their hands in disgust, we'd like to offer one consoling thought to prove that something good can always be found in the darkest of situations.

Long regarded as a worshipper of athletics, State now has the opportunity to let the educational world know that all is not lost in East Lansing.

The layman is often impressed with fraternity hazings, robberies and other miscellaneous hi-jinks perpetrated by a small segment of MSU students. All of these happenings usually result in the average citizen getting a very warped viewpoint of the "happy go lucky college student" at MSU who has nothing to do each day but prance about this beautiful campus having "grassers" and impromptu beer parties.

Perhaps this demonstration that even the "big guns" are subject to scholastic regulation is what is needed to convey the real meaning of education at MSU to outsiders.

Perhaps now they'll begin to take seriously the tightening of academic requirements in these parts that has been heretofore "pooh-poohed" by our contemporaries in Ann Arbor and elsewhere. Ironically, the first contest in which the three Spartan cagers will be ineligible is the Michigan contest Saturday night.

All is not lost, athletically speaking, either. The surprisingly successful road trip the cagers concluded over the Christmas holidays proves that this year's team can still win ball games, even without the height that is supposed to be essential to a winning outfit.

Hard as it may be to believe, that proverbial "silver lining" amid the clouds of gray will be hanging over Jenison Saturday night. You'll just have to look a little harder than usual for it.

Film Fare 'The Miracle' Proves To Be Dull, Unlikely

The current popularity of Biblical spectacles causes one to wonder whether it is the public or the producers who are finding this vein of matter so undeniably interesting...

The one presently in our mind is the film version of Max Reinhardt's old stage spectacular based on Karl Volleboller's older play, "The Miracle."

The undignified events are so implausible that it would take a master technician to make them palatable as a screen material. This, the current version does not have. Resultantly, the film is tired and the script tiresome.

The uninspired multi-lingual cast does little, if anything, to improve matters. Simply by the presence of several of its characters, this film invites recollection of "The Nun's Story," but any sort of comparison would be a mistake.

"FOOD YOU ALWAYS REMEMBER"

"LITTLE STORIES WITH BIG MORALS"
First Little Story

Once upon a time a German exchange student from old Heidelberg came to an American university. He lived in the men's dormitory of the great American university. He was a fine, decent young man and all the other young men in the dormitory of the great American university tried very hard to make friends with him, but, unfortunately, he was so shy that he refused all their invitations to join their ball game. After a while his dormitory mates got tired of seeing him and so the poor German exchange student, alas, spent every evening alone in his room.

One night while sitting all alone in his room, he smelled the most delicious aroma coming from the room next door. Conqueror's his senses, he walked to the room next door and there he saw a bunch of his dormitory mates sitting around and discussing literature, art, culture, and like that. They were all smoking Marlboro cigarettes, which accounts for the delicious aroma smelled by the German exchange student.

"He smelled the most delicious smoke."

Timidly, he entered the room. "Lemon pie," he said, "but what is that marvelous smell I smell?"
"It's our good Marlboro cigarettes," said the man, who was named Fun-loving Ned, Happy Harry, Jolly Jim, and Tofabb David.

No the German exchange student took a Marlboro and enjoyed those latter makes, that finer siter, that smooth, heavy flavor, and soon he was comfortable and easy and last he shyman.

From that night forward, whenever he smelled the good smell of Marlboro cigarettes, he always went next door and pined the ball session.

MORAL: WHERE THERE'S SMOKE, THERE'S HIDEVS

Second Little Story

Once upon a time there was an Indian brave named Walter T. Muskriet who had a squaw named Margaret Giggling Water. Margaret was wet of a nose but she also could make hooded occasions. Every day she whipped up a brand-new pair of leaded moccasins for Walter, which were so gorgeous that all the Indian made on the reservation grew giddy with admiration.

Well, Mr. Margaret got pretty tense about all the girls making eyes at Walter and one night they had a terrible quarrel. Walter flew into a rage and slapped her so hard that she started crying like all get-out and went to her mother and never came back.

"Good riddance," said Walter, but all soon found out how wrong he was, for the Indian made were not really interested in him, only in his moccasins, and when he stopped showing up with a new pair every day they quickly gave him the yo-he-ho-ho. Today he is a broken man, writing all alone in his teepee and muttering ancient Ute curses.

Sophomores Capture 7 Firsts In Tank Win Over Cyclones

By SUZETTE RAMSEY

A sophomore-riddled team overpowered Iowa State, 77-28, Thursday night in the first dual meet for the Spartan swimming team in the IM indoor pool.

Seven first places went to MSU sophomores. Dick Brackett won in the 220 and 440-yard freestyle, Dan Convis in the 50-yard style, Ron Welfare in diving, Carl Shaar in the 220-yard butterfly, Ron Gage in 200-yard backstroke and Denny Ruppert in the 200-yard breaststroke.

One junior, Larry Jones, came up with a win in the 100-yard freestyle. The only Cyclone first place went to Iowa State's sophomore, Paul Witherell, in the 200-yard individual medley.

Pool records were set in the 400-yard medley relay, 50-yard freestyle, 100-yard freestyle and 400-yard freestyle relay, all won by MSU, because of the changing of the Big 10 rule that freestylers must touch the edge on a turn.

Last year's Big 10 meet was held in the MSU pool and the conference was then experimenting with the high school rule that freestylers did not need to touch. The Big 10 changed back to the former rule this year, so an automatic pool mark was set in these four races. The 220 and 440-yard freestyle events do not apply.

The 3:50.3 time in the medley relay, made by Gage, Bill Singleton, Wes Roberts and Jones, also set a dual meet record.

Decker's Cage Pickings

By TOM DECKER

First, a little boasting about my final football picks. Only Clemson's upset of TCU spoiled the otherwise perfect state of predictions. I had six picks right in other bowls.

Hoping to keep a good percentage on predictions, here are my Big 10 cage choices for Saturday:

MSU over Michigan, Minnesota over Illinois, Ohio State over Indiana, Iowa over Northwestern and Purdue over Wisconsin.

And here are nation-wide basketball picks: Detroit over Notre Dame, California over Stanford, Cincinnati over Tulsa, Duke over NCS, Kentucky over LSU, So. Cal. over Washington, Utah over Utah State and West Virginia over Penn State.

My record for last time was nine right and two wrong. I stand 17-3 for the season.

Following is a list of the State News top 10 teams:

Rank	Team	Rating
1	Cincinnati	100
2	Bradley	95
3	Utah	90
4	Ohio State	85
5	So. California	80
6	California	75
7	Wake Forest	70
8	West Virginia	65
9	Georgia Tech	60
10	Duquesne	55

And here is a list of Big 10:

1	Ohio State	95
2	Michigan State	90
3	Wisconsin	85
4	Indiana	80
5	Illinois	75
6	Iowa	70
7	Purdue	65

Spartan Icers Look for 1st Win

Spartan hockey team, bolstered by new players, will be looking for their first win in a two-game series against North Dakota tonight at eight in the evening. The game is at two p.m. when they completed their work during the fall season.

will be Terry Moroney, Mel Christoferson, Ed Ozyko, Bob Norman and Bob Kempf playing defense.

One forward line will be made up of Jack Roberts and Tom Mastonen at wings with Andre LaCoste at center. The second line will have Fournel and Turcotte at wings with Boucher at center. Jim Atack will center the third line with Michelson and either Frank Silka or Gus Hendrickson at the wings. Eldon Van Spybrook will be in the net. Student admission to the games is by activity book and 25 cents.

TERRY MORONEY from wing to defense

one of the players, Claude Bessone of Montreal, Que., was a top player on last year's freshman squad. The others are Dal Turcotte, Boucher of Sudbury, and Glen Mickelson of Oakland Lake, Ont., said hockey coach Amo Bessone.

Bessone's defense also stepped up when his top defenseman, Bob Armstrong, became anatomically ineligible at the end of the term. Armstrong, however, will be out for the rest of the season.

Terry Moroney, the team's top scorer, will drop to defense to replace Armstrong. Moroney picked up four goals so far this season.

North Dakota has a fast, hard hitting team, said coach Bessone. The Nodaks, last year's NCAA champions, are in fifth place in the league with a 2-3-1 record. State has lost seven and tied one this season. The tie was against North Dakota.

Gymnasts to Hold Season's 1st Meet

Michigan State's seven letterman gymnasts team, which will meet Michigan Saturday at 2 p.m. in the initial dual meet of the season.

The meet is just a "warm-up" before the squad begins the tough part of its schedule next week with Ohio State at home.

The MSU gymnasts piled up their largest score last season against Central Michigan, 84 1/2 points to 27 1/2 for the Chippies.

Lettemen traveling to MI. are Capt. Angelo Fessenden, Dick Becker, John Daniels, and Short. Stan Tarshis, Tom Pease and Chuck Thompson.

Other making the trips are Larry Bassett, Gami Brown, Bob Dandy, Jim Durkee, Steve Gason and Bob Saxe.

Grapplers Travel to Northwestern

An experienced Michigan State wrestling team departs today for Evanston, Ill., to take part in a quadrangular wrestling tournament Saturday with Northwestern, Purdue and Minnesota, defending Big 10 champion.

The Spartans, who won the meet last year with 74 points, boast Big 10 130-pound champion Norman Young who will go at 131 pounds. Assistant wrestling coach Gale Mikles expects a rough time at the tourney but predicted four possible wins. According to the coach sophomore George Hobbs (123 pounds), Gordon Johnson (147 pounds), Young and heavy-weight John Baum should win or place high.

The grapplers' season picture was dealt a blow when junior

John McKay was declared ineligible. And there is a possibility another junior, Mike Senzig, may be declared ineligible. Minnesota, will go into the meet with all but one member of last year's Big 10 championship squad on hand and will be heavily favored.

Also talking to Evanston will be Bill Gucciardo, Bob Schlieter, Bob Moser and Roger Tavener.

Her Uniform -

The Exclusive Executive Model... Tailored To Fit The Finest

One look at her and you know she's an officer in the United States Army. Her uniform gives it away, and she doesn't mind a bit! Because it's her passport to prestige... the distinctive sign of a young executive in the Women's Army Corps. Wherever she goes, and it might be anywhere from Hawaii to Honolulu, she knows that uniform will bring respect and recognition.

She doesn't have time to get smug about it, though—her uniform demands as much from her as she does from it. She's got to keep on her toes. She's got to show initiative and intelligence, foresight and flexibility—qualities worthy of a college graduate. Qualities worthy of an executive in a world-wide organization.

Interested in wearing the Army uniform? We'll be glad to tell you more if you mail us the coupon below... It's your passport to prestige!

SPECIAL... SUMMER PROGRAM FOR JUNIORS: Mail a special form to the Adjutant General's Office and you'll receive a series of orientation brochures... The program is to help you decide with confidence if you want to apply for an Army officer's commission when you graduate. If you're interested, delay no longer... fill out the coupon.

Joseph Kennedy Lauded For Strike Settlement

Steelworkers' David McDonald Says Financier Worked Behind the Scenes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Financier Joseph Kennedy was credited Thursday with helping end the bitter steel labor controversy by drumming up opinion in Wall Street to wind it up.

David McDonald, Steelworkers union president, described Kennedy, father of Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass.), as being one of the most influential men behind the scenes in bringing about the contract settlement.

"He worked a long time on this," McDonald said. "The ambassador and I have been friends for years. I knew he was talking with people. We were in contact every couple of days. He's quite an important figure around Wall Street."

McDonald said many bankers and financiers were getting "sick and tired" of the continuing steel dispute's unsettling effects on the economy and the prospect of a renewed strike that could upset 1960 prosperity prospects.

The union chief said he understood Kennedy, former ambassador to Great Britain, helped encourage the view in the financial world that the steel labor squabble ought to be settled.

McDonald said he didn't want to understate Nixon's or Mitchell's roles in any way because both did "a great job" in getting the industry and union together. But he said others, including Boston financier Kennedy, played a part too.

MSU Army Clears Snow

A small army stands ready to fight at a moment's notice the forces of old man winter.

The army is composed of 40 men and $200,000 worth of snow removal equipment used by the grounds maintenance department to keep the campus roads, sidewalks, and parking areas clear and usable.

According to Bert Ferris, grounds department director, some 25,000 people depend on the department for safe driving and walking conditions on the 24 miles of roads and 53 miles of sidewalks on campus.

Campus police notify the department when conditions are bad enough to warrant snow removal action. The department then notifies its men, no matter what the time of day or night, who then work around the clock if necessary.

If the snow hits during the night, the snow removal men try, whenever possible, to have things in order by eight o'clock the next morning.

The equipment they use ranges in size from bulldozers and heavy trucks to small tractors and pickup trucks. Probably the one type of equipment familiar to most is the revolving broom used on tractors and pickup trucks to keep the sidewalks clear.

AOCS Helps Solve Off-Campus Problems

No student has quite so many problems as the fellow or coed who lives off-campus. One method of solving the tribulations of everyday life for these students is to join the Association of Off-Campus Students.

Aside from participating in college functions and club activities, the Association is planning a center for students who don't live in a dorm, sorority, fraternity or co-op. Although such a center is in the future, for the time being these students must inhabit the Union grill, lounge or room on the campus.

At the present AOCS has approximately 200 members and provides services that students living on campus receive and those living at home or in an apartment don't get.

Intramural sports play a major role for participation by the men. In the fall, the big sport is football, in the winter it's basketball and in the spring softball. The women, too, have swimming, volleyball and softball.

AOCS had a "first" this fall when they presented the first 1960 Oldsmobile the MSU campus had seen at the Activities Carnival. Although their homecoming display was stolen, members weren't discouraged. Over Christmas vacation those students living in the Lansing area went caroling at local hospitals.

According to Phil Bailhouse, president of the group, any student living off campus and interested in taking part in sports, social functions and service projects is eligible to join.

Dear Dr. Frood: Every night for the past two weeks I've dreamt that I am being pursued by a beautiful girl in a Bikini who wants one of my Luckies. Just as she catches me, I wake up. How can I prevent this? Puzzled

Dear Puzzled: Go to bed a few minutes earlier.

Dear Dr. Frood: I am the ugliest guy on campus. My face looks like 90 miles of bad road. When I go to a party someone always steals my date. I worry about this. Can you help me? Loveless

Dear Loveless: Take heart. Any girl who would go out with you isn't worth worrying about.

Dear Dr. Frood: I think this ink blot looks just like rabbit ears. My friends say I'm nuts. What think? Bugs

Dear Bugs: It's your friends who are nuts. These are clearly rabbit ears. And the long shape extending down is the rabbit's trunk.

Dear Dr. Frood: I have invited three girls to the dance this Saturday. How do I get out of this mess? Upha Creek

Dear Mr. Crook: Tell two of them to dance with each other until you cut in.

Dear Dr. Frood: I have been dating one girl but I am so good-looking and so popular that I have decided to spread myself around a little more. What should I do about this girl? Dashing

Dear Dashing: Tell her the good news.

Dear Dr. Frood: My roommate always wears my clothes. What should I do? Put Upon

Dear Put Upon: Cover yourself and stay indoors.

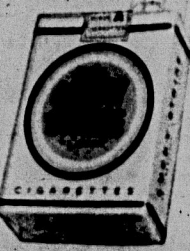

Dr. Frood, Ph.D.

Dear Dr. Frood: My mother and my brother don't like my boy friend, but my father and my sister do. His father and two brothers don't like me, but my mother and his other brother do. What should I do? Miss Muddler

Dear Miss Muddler: Tell your father to talk to your mother and tell your sister to talk to your brother. Then tell your boy friend's mother to talk to his father and tell his brother to talk to his brothers. If that doesn't work, then talk to your mother and brother yourself. Maybe they know something you don't know.

COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE MORE LUCKIES THAN ANY OTHER REGULAR!

When it comes to choosing their regular smoke, college students head right for fine tobacco. Result: Lucky Strike tops every other regular sold. Lucky's taste beats all the rest because L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco.
