Russia Calls on U. S. To Follow Example

Desire Size of U. S. Armed Forces Be Cut by One Third

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia called on the United States Monday to follow the Soviet Union's example and cut the size of its armed forces by one-third.

Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov, in delivering a note to the state department, said such action "will certainly create a favorable atmosphere" for East-West disarmament talks for mid-March.

Administration leaders quickly made it clear they were not impressed with Russia's appeal.

The Soviet manpower cut, announced last Thursday by Premier Nikita Khrushchev, was mainly a streamlining of Russia's military power made possible by increased reliance on missiles and other weapons, U.S. officials said.

Further, they said, there is no present way to double-check whether Russia will follow up these words with acts.

Khrushchev, addressing the Soviet parliament, announced a cut of 1,200,000 men from Russia's Army, Navy and Air Force. He said this left 2,423,000 men under arms.

The body promptly rubber-stamped approval of Khrushchev's decision Friday. In a formal resolution, the Soviet members hailed it as significant proof of Russia's readiness to disarm for the sake of peace.

Menshikov handed Secretary of State Christian Herter a copy of this 1,500-word declaration during a call at the state department. He dodged questions from newsmen about Herter's reply, saying "You'd better ask Mr. Secretary about it."

Menshikov's call appeared deliberately timed to exert pressure on western nations as they met to decide what their stand should be when they talk with the Russians about disarmament March 15 in Geneva.

Only 90 minutes before Menshikov called on Herter, ambassadors from Britain, France, Italy and Canada talked with the Secretary of State about arrangements for arriving at a combined western approach.

More such western disarmament meetings will be held beginning next Monday to consider what concessions should be offered and sought from the Soviet Union to break the existing deadlock on this issue.

Monsignor Higgins to Speak On Labor-Management

Labor-management ethics will be discussed at 8 tonight in the Kellogg Center Auditorium.

Billy Graham Heads for Africa In Latest Crusade

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Graham left by plane Monday to carry his evangelistic crusade to Africa, which he characterized as an awakening giant entering its year of destiny.

The tall, blond evangelist from North Carolina will hold meetings in nine countries, all overwhelmingly populated by Negro peoples. The countries are Ghana, Nigeria, Southern and Northern Rhodesia, Tanzania, Ruanda-Urundi and Ethiopia.

Before take-off, Graham said in a statement: "Many forces are battling for the mind and soul of Africa today. It is my prayer that Africa will turn wholeheartedly to Christianity. If Africa turns its back on the faith that made Western culture great, I fear the former 'Dark Continent' will be plunged back into a period of darkness and chaos without precedent in modern history."

UB to Teach Social Latin Dances Tonight

Dance instruction sponsored by Union Board will be held tonight at 7 and 8 in the Union Ballroom.

Beginning social dance classes will be at 7. Specialty dancing, including mambo, rumba and cha-cha, will be at 8. Students may sign up at the Union Board desk. Luncheon is $2.

Benson's Program Supported

Nixon Supposedly Backs Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Richard Nixon is supporting the administration's farm program, along with all of its other proposals to Congress, a Nixon spokesman said Monday.

That was the answer given by whether the vice president Herbert Klein, Nixon's press secretary, to a question as to backs Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson's farm recommendations.

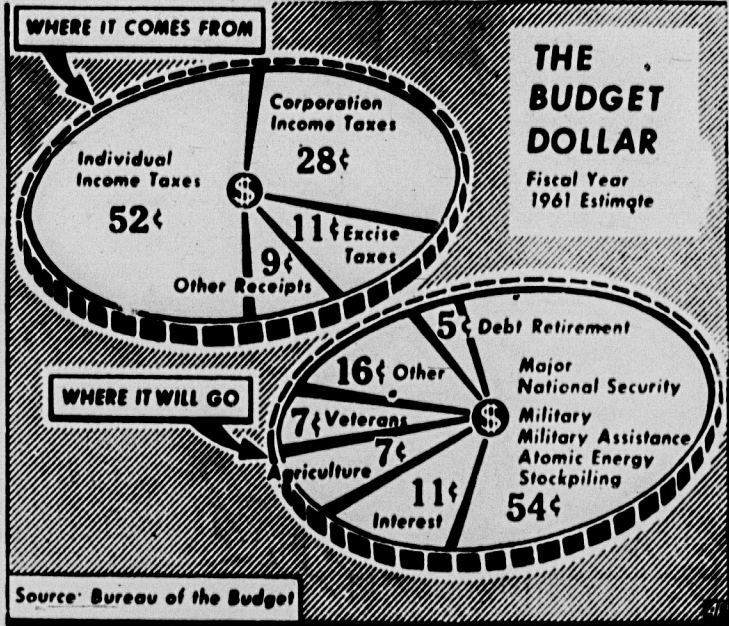

Benson said Sunday he would expect Nixon to endorse his flexible price support program in the presidential campaign and to carry it out if elected.

Klein said he doesn't think the administration's agriculture proposals have been spelled out fully yet. He indicated Nixon is awaiting specific recommendations before making any public statements on the matter.

When these are made, presumably in a later presidential message, Klein said Nixon "will assist the president in every way he can" to get their approval by Congress.

Klein made it clear, however, that Nixon's support of President Eisenhower's program will not preclude him from stating opinions of his own from time to time as the campaign progresses.

Although Klein would not comment, it seemed evident Nixon was not entirely happy about Benson's efforts to commit the Vice President to his program.

Ike's Balanced Budget

Raise Taxes, Trim Defense

Congressmen See Slim Hope Of Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats in Congress, and some Republicans, foresaw Monday little chance of President Eisenhower getting all he asks in his new budget. They predicted too tough going for his hopes of a $4,184,000,000 surplus.

The reaction to Eisenhower's request for postal rate and gasoline tax increases was particularly critical, indicating Congress won't go along.

Senate Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas said he was glad Eisenhower had "decided to join" the Democratic-run Congress in trying to balance the budget.

House Republican leader Charles Halleck of Indiana obliquely advised Congress it will be hung with the "spender" tag if it doesn't heed Eisenhower's bid for a balanced budget.

Rep. Noah Mason of Illinois, senior Republican on the tax-writing House Ways and Means committee, said Eisenhower will have rough sledding raising any new tax revenue this year. Sen. Roman Hruska (R-Neb.) saw things the same way.

There were the usual forecasts of cuts in foreign aid and some other items. Others said the projected spending won't meet the nation's needs.

Sen. Harry Byrd (D-Va.), chairman of the senate finance committee, said "if there is to be a surplus, it will not result from expenditure reductions."

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.) said "in my judgment there will be many debates, much discussion and, finally, Congress will enact a budget not far different from that the President has submitted."

TASS Says Budget Has Nothing Good For the Workers

MOSCOW (AP)—President Eisenhower's new budget "holds practically nothing good in store for the working people, while it does impose a further heavy burden of taxation on them," TASS said Monday.

"In spite of the acute shortage of school buildings, the appropriations for school construction are to be cut down from a meager sum of 75 million dollars in the current fiscal year to 71.5 million dollars."

On the other hand, TASS said 57.1 percent of the total budget was for military purposes, and added:

"In the new fiscal year, the President stressed, the emphasis on the modernization of the American armed forces would be maintained and the United States military aid to its allies would reflect the growing importance of new types of armaments and missiles."

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower proposed in a $79,810,000,000 budget Monday that a skeptical Congress boost some taxes, build a big surplus, and whittle defense spending while the world still teeters on the edge of disaster.

The odds appeared to be decidedly against his getting his way.

Spending bills for missiles and Navy ships would be trimmed a bit, and the one for military air plans somewhat more, in this record peacetime budget. It covers the 1961 fiscal year starting July 1, 1960.

Eisenhower told the legislators his budget is a prudent one and provides both for "maintaining required military strength and enhancing the national welfare."

As Eisenhower laid it down, the government will take in a record 84 billion dollars in revenue in the next fiscal year, on the expectation of a prosperous economy which will pass the half trillion dollar mark. It will spend $79,816,000,000 which would leave $4,184,000,000 surplus which the President said should be applied to the vast national debt.

In comparison, receipts for the current fiscal year ending June 30 now are figured at $81,156,000,000, spending at $79,354,000,000, and the surplus at 217 million.

Eisenhower said he is almost doubling projected spending for the conquest of space, by lifting the figure for the national aeronautics and space agency from 325 to 600 million dollars, an increase of 275 million.

The President has allotted 37 cents of every dollar to be spent to major national security. This is by far the biggest item in the budget.

Budget Weighs Four Pounds, Has 952 Pages

WASHINGTON (AP)—Just to look at President Eisenhower's budget is a sobering experience.

It's something like a metropolitan phone book, although not so exhilarating. It weighs four pounds, has 952 pages (plus a 78-page introduction), costs $5.50 and presents statistics scampering everywhere, in tiny print.

Eisenhower sent this budget to Congress Monday, and two observations can be made immediately:

(A) any — well, almost any — college trained economist could understand it, and (B) probably no more formidable book will be published this year.

President Eisenhower is always talking about how these expenses must be cut, cut, cut. Yet here he is admitting that household expenses are going up for him, too. Keeping up the White House and surrounding hawks will go from $449,000 to $505,000 a year.

More pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters and half dollars will be needed in fiscal 1961. More currency will be wearing out. More mail—a staggering 66,400,000 pieces—will be sent, a small fraction of which may be well worth reading.

Former Presidents get allowances, free office space and mailing privileges. So here, too, the costs go up, from $200,000 to $250,000. This provides for President D. D. Eisenhower's retirement.

Kishi, Ike to Sign Pact; Japan to Become Ally

At AUSG Hearing

MSU Students Oppose Loan Withdrawing

Students attending the AUSG open hearing on a resolution for MSU to withdraw from the National Defense Education Act were unanimously opposed to the resolution Monday.

The resolution was proposed by AUSG because of the governing body's opposition to the disclaimer affidavit required of all students applying for the loan.

The affidavit required all students to state they do not believe in, are not members of, and do not support any organization believing in or teaching the overthrow of the U.S. Government by force or violence or by any illegal or unconstitutional means.

The views of approximately forty students attending the hearing included some who saw nothing wrong with the affidavit, some who felt it could be changed slightly and others who opposed it entirely.

One who had already had one loan, plans to obtain another to continue her education. Another student said his education under the loan has not been hindered by the affidavit.

Several students voiced the opinion that the affidavit is necessary in a defense loan to prevent those who are not loyal from obtaining loans; in short, to provide security.

Some students felt MSU, by sponsoring the resolution, would merely be following in the footsteps of the intellectual waves of Eastern schools who have withdrawn from the program.

Supporters of the resolution said it might hurt some people, but in the long run it would benefit America. They felt we should not be blinded by self-interest. They also expressed the fear that if such affidavits remained they might be applied to other fields and hinder freedom of speech.

The committee, however, pointed out that even if the resolution is passed, MSU would not necessarily withdraw from the NDEA.

Young GOP'S to Hear Legislator Tonight

State Rep. Bob Waldron (R-Wayne County) will speak before the Young Republicans tonight at 8:30 in 34 Union. He will talk about the ins and outs of being a Michigan legislator.

Waldron, a third term legislator, is chairman of the election committee and a member of the education committee.

He is the only Republican in the legislature elected from Wayne county.

Leaders Make Final Decisions

Meet With Advisors On Eve of Signing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Japan's Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi made final preparations Monday for today's signing of a new treaty with the United States and discussion of communism and other mutual problems with President Eisenhower.

Kishi spent most of the day at the Japanese Embassy going over plans with Foreign Minister Aichiro Fujiyama and other top advisers.

Eisenhower conferred with Secretary of State Christian Herter and his top Asian advisers for 20 minutes Monday to prepare for a private meeting today with Kishi.

After the meeting Herter told reporters the discussion will cover a broad range of topics, including a review of the international situation.

He called the U.S.-Japanese Security Treaty that will be signed a "landmark."

Monday's News Late

Contrary to popular belief, the State News was published Monday. However, due to a printing press breakdown that prevented papers from coming off press until after 4 a.m. and subsequent circulation confusion, many subscribers did not get issues.

signed a fine thing for both countries.

Herter was accompanied by the White House Monday by Douglas MacArthur III, U.S. Ambassador to Japan, and J. Graham Parsons, Assistant Secretary of State for far eastern affairs.

Kishi has indicated he will talk about Communist China, disarmament and a review of East-West relations leading to the Summit Conference at Paris next May 16.

Eisenhower's State of the Union remark calling upon Japan and the industrialized nations of Western Europe to participate to a greater degree in the development of southeast Asian countries also will be a prime topic before the two leaders.

The new treaty will pledge Japan and the United States to increase their economic collaboration as well as military partnership.

The treaty has aroused considerable opposition in Japan.

Credit Union Members Asked To Approve By-law Changes

Members of MSU's credit union will be asked to approve three amendments to the organization's bylaws Wednesday night at their 23th annual meeting.

The proposed amendments, if approved, would: 1) remove the unsecured loan limit which is now $400; 2) allow the immediate families of present members of the union to become members and 3) increase the board of directors from seven to nine members.

Three directors will be elected at the meeting, two to the credit committee and one to the supervisory committee. If the third amendment is passed, five new directors will be elected.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the Union ballroom. Charles Smith, humorist and Professor of English at Western Michigan University, will speak to the group after the business meeting.

The membership of the credit union, which numbers 3,500, is composed of faculty and staff members and graduate students.

This year the union declared dividends totaling $88,000 and interest rebates totaling $42,000, according to Leonard Luker, chairman of the board of directors. This amount to an 18 percent interest rebate and a 2.4 percent dividend.

Train Cuts School Bus In Half; Four Killed

PACKLER, Ala. (AP)—A freight train crashed into a school bus at a dirt crossing Monday, sliced it in half, killed four children and critically injured eight other children and the driver.

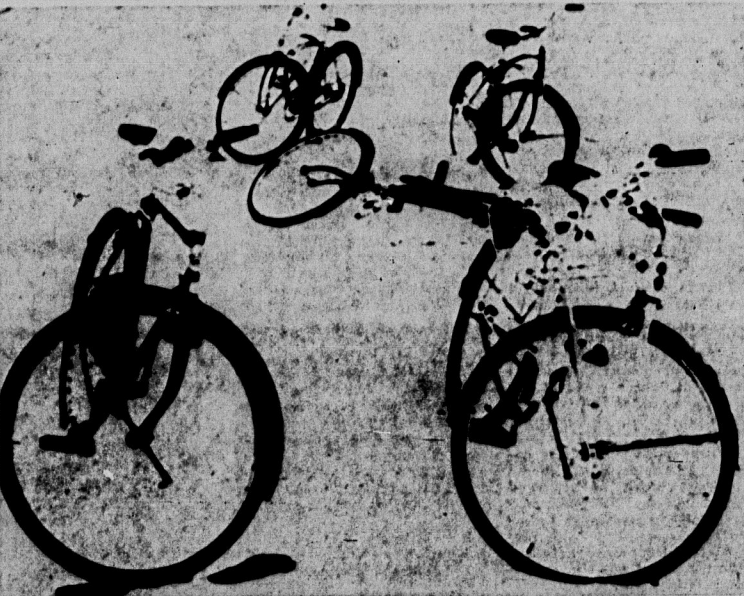

Part of the wreckage was dragged three-fourths of a mile. "The brakes gave out," said 50-year-old Charlie Beavers, a school bus driver for the past three years.

Two of Beavers' nephews were among the dead. A nephew and niece of the driver were seriously hurt.

The bus normally carries about 45 pupils.

Today's Principle, Problem Tomorrow

A CONTROVERSY is ensuing on this campus over a resolution recently presented to MSU concerning the affidavit and loyalty oath required of a student who borrows money under a loan program provided by the National Defense Education Act.

As stated formally in a letter to the editor Friday, the resolution resolved that MSU withdraw from the program because these two conditions are "not consistent with academic and political freedom and discriminate against the student in American universities."

The violent opposition to the resolution as expressed in letters to the editor come from the most part from persons who are now receiving the government loans and are fearful of losing them.

WHAT IS INVOLVED is a principle as the real intent of the resolution was not to deprive MSU's 100 loan-receiving students of an education by having the school drop the program. The proponents want to emphasize and make it clear that the affidavit as it stands is odious to loyal American students and thereby put enough pressure on congress to strike the affidavit requirement. They want to do this as forcefully as they can.

Let us repeat, it is not the loyalty oath that proponents of the resolution object to, but the affidavit which the student is compelled to sign when seeking a loan of this type. The loyalty oath was only included in the resolution to make it more broad and sweeping, and because the oath is felt to be ineffectual.

The key words that triggered the action for striking the affidavit are "that he (the recipient) does not believe in" THE AFFIDAVIT as it stands now is harmless. It is only an individual's assurance to his government that he is loyal and does not subscribe to subversive activities. Nothing more.

However, in the requiring of the words "I do not believe" lies the germ of an insidious danger to American freedom. This, in the long run, is what the proponents of the resolution fear.

The students who have written us honestly admit that the loans are making possible their educations. And they avow that the signing of the affidavit has not taken away any of their liberties and rights. This is true.

BUT WILL IT BE TRUE in 10 years, or in 50? If the need is great enough perhaps a citizen, in a decade or two, will find himself compelled to swear that he doesn't believe in something that is not such a clear-cut red, white and blue statement as not believing in the violent overthrow of the United States government.

The issue as it is now is only a principle, but it may be advisable to remember in determining its importance, that no one takes our freedom; we give it away bit by bit through unconcern and shortsightedness.

Letters to the Editor

Authors of Affidavit Resolution Seek to Clarify Their Stand

To the Editor:

As the sponsors of resolution number 18 which concerns the loyalty oath and disclaimer affidavit of the National Defense Education Act, we think it is necessary to clarify our position. Contrary to published reports, our main objection is to the disclaimer affidavit, although we believe the loyalty oath is unnecessary.

Shriners Send Thanks

(Editor's Note: The following letter was received by President Hannah.) Dear Dr. Hannah:

On behalf of Shriners Hospital for crippled children, we express our sincere thanks for the contribution made by Dean Look, Blanche Martin and Patricia Pyle in the 35th Annual Shrine East-West football game, Jan. 2.

These young men proved excellent representatives of your university, gentlemen in every respect, as well as great football players. As a result of the game we anticipate the hospital will receive more than a quarter million dollars to carry on its work.

Your special thanks goes to you also for the privilege we enjoyed in having Coach Hugh "Duffy" Daugherty as head coach for the East team.

W. M. Coffman, Managing Director, Islam Temple, San Francisco, Calif.

Beard Blast Gets Rebuttal

To the Editor:

Although I fancy myself as being a reasonably tolerant beardless person, usually occupied with more important things than writing letters to the editor, I feel it necessary that I make an exception in answer to the letter "Boos Beards" in the Jan. 14 State News.

I could have tolerated the lack of selectivity displayed by the staff in selecting this letter to be used in a publication which I thought was dedicated to the cause of furthering education and understanding on campus. (Unless, of course, this was a plant by the Forestry Club to gain free publicity for the forthcoming Shindig.)

I could have tolerated the disclaimer brought to "Peanuts" by putting this letter right next to it.

I could even have tolerated the senseless conclusions that could be drawn from the statements.

Yes, I could have tolerated the many other things, but lady, when you slander the Upper Peninsula you are desecrating hallowed ground. Granted, most of the timber has been stripped

Powerful Old Timers Seeking To Avenge '59's Overtime Loss

By JOHN SCHNEIDER
Seven of Michigan State's greatest heroes of the 1950's have returned to the campus for the evening's Old Timers' game in the 1960 edition of the MSU rivalry.

This is the second annual game of the series. In the first game last year, the 1959 Big 10 champions were forced to go into overtime to edge the 'old boys' 65-56.

Game time at Jensen Fieldhouse this evening will be at 8 p.m. Student admission will be $1.00 and adults admission will be $1.00.

The roster of these former Spartan greats includes one of the most outstanding basketball players in Michigan State history, Julius McCoy. His presence in the lineup of the alumni team makes the current squad much stronger than last year's squad that lost in overtime last year.

Many can remember the fabulous feats accomplished by McCoy with his ambidextrous shooting ability which gave him a host of MSU's scoring records: single game, season and career highs.

Those who witnessed the game between MSU and Ohio State in 1956 will not easily forget the scoring duel between McCoy and Bob Freeman of the Buckeyes that produced what is believed to be the highest number of points ever recorded by two opposing players in the same game. McCoy was outscored by Freeman 46-40, although MSU gained the victory, 94-91.

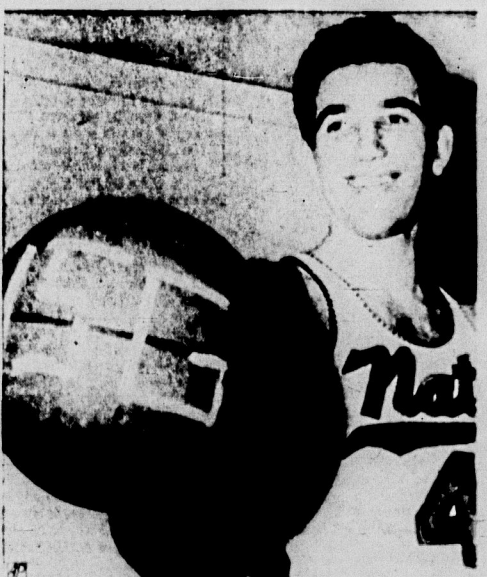

Among the other players back for the game is Bob Armstrong, who is now in the insurance business in Grand Rapids after playing pro ball with the Philadelphia Warriors and the Boston Whirlwinds.

Ricky Axala, who was the smallest player in the Big 10 during his playing days, played professionally with the Harlem Globetrotters and is presently employed at Kirkwood General Hospital in Detroit.

Jim Stouffer and Tom Rand of last year's championship squad, are still here at MSU. Rand is coaching the Freshman cagers, and Stouffer is finishing up his work on his degree.

Jack Quiggle, All American guard during his playing days at State, just missed landing a position on the Detroit Pistons this fall, and is now working in the insurance business in Detroit.

DOLPH SCHAYES of the Syracuse Nats became the first NBA player to hit the 15,000 point mark as Syracuse defeated the Boston Celtics 127-120 in Philadelphia Jan. 12. Schayes scored 34 points to bring his 12-year career total to 15,013.

Present Concrete Plans Dallas, Twin Cities on Inside Track for NFL Expansion

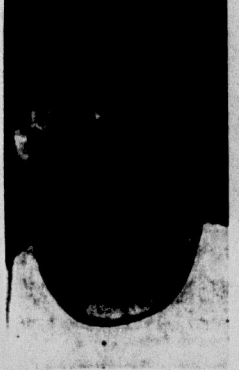

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Representatives of Dallas, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Miami, and St. Louis presented concrete franchise plans to National Football League owners Monday night.

Both Minneapolis-St. Paul and Dallas virtually have been promised franchises by George Halas, owner of the Chicago Bears and chairman of the league's expansion committee.

Halas, who has refused to say much more than "Hello, how are you?" since he arrived in Miami Beach, encouraged the Dallas and Minneapolis-St. Paul people on the basis of an 11-1 informal vote in Philadelphia last October favoring expansion. A source said the pro football pioneer will feel "greatly let down" if the owners "congeal" on him now.

Most of the owners have pledged their support of Halas. Some, however, are hedging, saying they are for expansion if the three important factors—conference alignment, schedules and player allotment—can be worked out.

Revote Possible Big 10 Meeting Called To Review Bowl Topic

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big 10 in a special meeting Sunday will review its position on Rose Bowl football participation.

Conference faculty representatives and athletic directors will have a joint session in Chicago Sunday to evaluate the Rose Bowl in a new light before the March meeting in Columbus, Ohio.

Assistant Commissioner Bill Wood said Monday.

ern Universities (California, Stanford, Washington, UCLA and Southern California) has been organized formally since the Big 10's vote on the Rose Bowl and has signed an agreement as official host. The AAUW also has indicated it would like the Big 10 to be represented in the Rose Bowl.

"In view that the AAUW now has reached official status — which it hadn't before the Big 10 vote of 5-5 killed a contract renewal proposal—we want to determine if this is sufficiently a new matter to justify changing of positions and justify a new vote."

The contract for Big 10 representation in the Rose Bowl expired with the New Year's Day game which saw Washington walloping Wisconsin, 44-8. Last May, the Big 10 failed to get the required majority to renew the contract as Illinois, Minnesota, Ohio State, Northwestern and Wisconsin voted against it.

If faculty men believe a new vote may be justified, it would be done at the March meetings. Athletic directors Sunday also will vote on a Big 10 football coaches' request to use the free substitution rule for conference games next season. If there is an affirmative vote, the matter will be put before faculty representatives for approval or disapproval.

Quits U of W Pollom Is Hired As USC Coach

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Norm Pollom, assistant football coach at the University of Washington, has been hired for a similar job at the University of Southern California, a spokesman said Monday.

Pollom, 34, spent the last three years at Washington. Prior to that he was a high school coach for seven years. He is a graduate of the College of Puget Sound.

Washington Head Coach Jim Owens said he is sorry to lose Pollom but added that he considered it a fine opportunity for his assistant.

Pollom, married and the father of four, is due to move shortly to Los Angeles and join the staff of newly appointed USC mentor John McKay.

Hydrofoil Contract Awarded

85 Million Spent For Winged Ship

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government Monday awarded a pioneering contract for a five-million-dollar hydrofoil ship designed to carry 100 passengers at speeds up to 90 miles an hour.

The maritime administration said the vessel will be able to travel between New York and Bermuda in eight hours. Most cruise liners now take about two days for the trip.

A 15-million-dollar contract for construction of the 80-ton vessel was awarded to Dynamic Developments, Inc., an affiliate of Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp., Bethpage, N.Y.

In addition to the government funds, Grumman, General Electric and other firms associated in the project will provide part of the financing.

A hydrofoil is a type of ship in which wing-like foils lift the hull out of the water to reduce the drag of the waves. Most present hydrofoils are small, but maritime planners said they expect to develop, within the next 10 years, larger vessels which will become common on many liner routes.

The Maritime Agency said the 104-foot ship may be the world's largest and fastest hydrofoil. However, Russia has announced plans to build a similar vessel that will carry 300 passengers at 62 miles an hour.

Grumman has been studying hydrofoils for two years under government contracts. The announcement said these studies "firmly indicated construction as the next logical and progressive step."

Construction will begin immediately, and the ship is expected to be ready for launching in June 1961.

The hydrofoil will have a speed range of 68 to 90 miles an hour and will operate in open seas. It will be powered by an aircraft jet engine linked to a gas turbine.

After the vessel is tested, the maritime administration said, it will be placed in passenger service under a private operator.

The announcement said hydrofoil craft are expected to prove ideal for service on the Great Lakes, between Seattle and Alaska, between Miami and Puerto Rico, and on similar runs.

Soo Receives Land From Mrs. Osborn

LANSING (AP)—Mrs. Chase Osborn, widow of Michigan's governor in 1911-12, has offered the city of Sault Ste. Marie a $50,000 piece of property on the St. Mary river, Atty. Gen. Paul Adams said Monday.

Adams, acting in a private capacity as Mrs. Osborn's attorney, said the property adjoins the city's new sewage disposal plant and runs for 400 to 500 feet along the river.

In a letter to Sen. Mayor Roy Lynn, Mrs. Osborn said she offered the site in commemoration of the centennial of Osborn's birth, Jan. 22, 1860. She asked the city to use it as a public park.

Osborn, widely known as a conservationist, donated the land on which the sewage plant is built in hopes it, too, would be used as a park.

135 Dead or Missing

Storms, Quakes in Japan, Peru; Volcano Eruption in Hawaii

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Violent winter weather, earthquakes, and an erupting volcano left at least 135 dead or missing in Japan, Peru, and Hawaii, according to the Associated Press.

In Japan, a violent winter blizzard left at least 100 dead or missing Monday.

As the 85-mile gale driving a curtain of snow moved off toward the Kurile Islands, the Coast Guard expressed fears the casualty count would rise yet higher.

Scores of fishing boats were likely to be caught in the northern waters near the Russian-occupied Kuriles, the Coast Guard said. It reported 130 boats already had sought shelter in the Kuriles.

Most of the 100 dead or missing in the storm, which hit northern Japan last weekend, were fishermen. Six fishing boats were sunk, two others were reported missing and 12 grounded or otherwise damaged.

Police and Coast Guard said they feared that at least 48 of the 100 were dead.

Thousands of skiers flock to northern Japan for the week-end but no casualties were reported among them. No casualties were reported among U.S. servicemen.

The death toll in the series of quakes that has rocked southern Peru since Wednesday now is placed at 25, according to reports from the area.

Worst toll was at Arequipa, where 22 were killed. A series of five weak quakes in the area sent inhabitants running into the streets. A new tremor at 1:43 Monday morning caused some panic.

Hullbreaker crews in Honolulu rammed up a 20-foot dike Monday and diverted a fiery river of lava into the sea shortly before a sudden spasm of Kilauea volcano belched molten rock 1,700 feet into the sky.

One finger of the slowly-flowing lava threatened the deserted Waipo Springs Resort, near the evacuated village of Kapoho, but the bulldozer crews completed their work in time.

A Hawaiian defense spokesman said the danger was past and that the lava flow was no threat to people in the area. However, the crew are continuing to stretch the earth dike around the shut area to the sea.

The main lava flow—from a rift in the side of Kilauea three miles from Warm Springs—continued to boil the blue Pacific, killing thousands of fish.

The 1,700-foot fountain was the highest since Kilauea resumed activity this month after spectacular displays in December. The Kapoho area was reopened for guided tours at 10:30 Monday after no more fires could be detected.

14-15 Yale Students Involved In Sex-in-Dorm Morals Case

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Police officials said Monday they expect to issue warrants for several Yale students involved in a sex-in-the-dormitory morals case involving a 14-year-old girl.

Police Chief Francis McManus said 14 to 15 students will be questioned.

Meanwhile, Yale confirmed reports that 12 students have resigned since last Tuesday when their names slipped into the case. Previously, Yale had denied anyone had been expelled or suspended.

Police said the students would be arraigned on morals charges. "Every student we think we have a case against, we're going to issue a warrant for," said city attorney Gilbert Winick.

The girl was taken into custody Friday and turned over to juvenile authorities. She now is in the custody of her parents.

Russians to Assist U.A.R. In Building Egyptian Dam

CAIRO (AP)—The Soviet Union will assist in building the second stage of Egypt's billion dollar Aswan High Dam. The United Arab Republic announced Monday night.

The announcement means the Soviet Union will bear the responsibility for building the entire project, one of the biggest of its kind in the world.

Soviet Russia already is supplying machinery, scores of technicians and engineers and financing to the extent of about 100 million dollars to build the first stage—offer dams and diversion canals.

U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser pushed the button on Jan. 9, setting off 10 tons of dynamite to start the first stage.

Egyptian public works minister Mousa Arafat said recently Britain, Austria, West Germany, Italy and Japan had offered to participate in the second stage.

President Eisenhower announced last Wednesday that the United States also was considering assistance through the world bank.

The first stage is expected to take about four years.

Actual construction of the granite dam 645 feet high—the world's highest—is expected to take about six years.

It will use 17 times more granite than the great pyramid of Cheops and when complete will produce about 10 billion kilowatt hours of electricity—10 times more than Egypt now produces.

The power and irrigation project has been close to Nasser's heart.

English Make Vogue Bid Using Grandmother's Gray

LONDON (AP)—Norman Hartnell, dressmaker to the queen, set the tone for the opening of the London spring and summer fashion shows Monday by saying grandmother's gray now is the symbol of youth.

London's chic designers opened their semi-annual presentations in a Bond St. salon tastefully bursting with the newest creations in accessories.

This season's smart color is society gray, a pale beige-gray that seems to go with anything.

"As a shoe color gray is less enlarging than white," said Hardy Amies, one of London's poshest designers.

"Gray used to be the prerogative of grandmothers," observed Hartnell. "Now it has graduated to the younger generation."

Aage Tharum, the royal milliner, showed his light and airy hats to be worn forward on the nose.

"Women are tired of wearing pudding basins," he declared.

Belts are wider this season, and necklaces narrower. Gloves seem to be climbing farther and farther up the arm, according to Dents of Worcester who ought to know—they've been making gloves since 1775.

Monday's show was a curtain-raiser off the main event today, when London's dress designers start introducing what the well-dressed woman with the English flair will be wearing.

A lively look of conversation was the sign to show London's creations in the heart of Paris at the end of the month.

"It's a daring idea but I really think it will pay off," said one designer. "We'll catch those American buyers in a receptive mood. We just have to live down this traditional drivel that we in England show a lack of taste."

N.Y.U. Seeking Legal Talent

Two $7,500 Scholarships Offered for Law Study

New York University's annual search for exceptional future legal talent is under way throughout the nation.

Available through the 1960 Root-Tilden Scholarship Program of the University's School of Law are grants for two outstanding scholars in each of the ten federal judicial circuits.

The scholarships, valued at $7,500 each, cover tuition, room, board, and living expenses for three years of law study.

Winners of the present competition for the awards will begin their study at the NYU Law Center in New York City in September.

"The Root-Tilden Scholarship Program," Dean Russell B. Niles of the School of Law points out, "was founded in 1951 to give special training to a selected group of young men who have the capacity for public leadership and give promise of becoming outstanding lawyers in the best American tradition."

Participants in the program are housed together in a new dormitory near the law school at NYU's Washington Square Center in Greenwich Village.

They are afforded personal contact with leaders in industry, the legal profession, and public affairs, and each has a practicing attorney or judge as a sponsor.

The Root-Tilden scholars also study under a special tutorial program that augments the traditional law program with courses in the humanities and social sciences.

In addition, they discuss vital topics of general interest at a series of forums designed to further the development of their speech facility.

The group often is visited by prominent persons from many fields. These have included Supreme Court Justices, journalists, United States senators, and educators.

The following are the eligibility requirements for the Root-Tilden candidate:

He must receive a baccalaureate degree before beginning his law school training.

He must take the Law School Admission Test and submit his score with his record.

He must be between the ages of 20 and 28 at the time he begins his law studies.

He must be unmarried and a male citizen of the United States.

He must not previously have attended any law school and must possess an academic record that places him in the upper quarter of his graduating class.

Candidates may apply from either their native state or the state in which they attend college. Circuit selection committees make the final choices.

The committees usually consist of the chief judge of the Court of Appeals for the circuit, the chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank for the district, and a professor of law.

Applicants must forward by February 26 one copy of their college transcript and completed application forms for initial consideration by the Root-Tilden Committee. The committee is located at the New York University School of Law, 40 Washington Square South, New York 12 N.Y.

Steel Man Denies Holding Prices Until Elections

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Roger Blough, chairman of U.S. Steel Corp., Monday said he had made no commitment with government officials to hold the steel price line.

Shortly after settlement of the steel strike, Blough issued a statement saying the big steel maker did not contemplate any immediate increase in prices.

Blough's statement was made following numerous conferences with Vice President Nixon and Labor Secretary Mitchell to resolve the steel conflict.

In a speech Monday before the National Cannery Assn., Blough said there had been "factual statements" having political overtones to the effect that government officials in recommending the terms of the steel companies would not raise their prices until after the election.

Ship Routes Detoured Pacific Vessels Keep From Red Test Area

HONOLULU (AP)—U.S. and other Naval and Merchant ships stayed a healthy distance away from Russia's announced missile test area in the central Pacific Monday, but aircraft routes were changed only slightly.

A U.S. Navy spokesman said Navy reconnaissance planes sighted three Soviet ships of the "Siber" class deployed along the northeast perimeter of the announced rocket impact area southwest of Hawaii.

"They seem to be idling and there seems to be little activity," the spokesman said. "They are not steaming."

The 3,800-ton Russian vessels were about seven miles apart on the fringe of the 45,000-square-mile zone marked off by Moscow for long-range missile shots beginning last Friday. The tests are to last until Feb. 15.

All U.S. Navy and Merchant vessels have been warned to stay out of the target area some 1,000 miles southwest of Hawaii.

A Qantas Empire Airways spokesman said: "Our schedules are unaffected."

The Australian Air Line flies eight jet schedules per week between Australia and the U.S. mainland via Honolulu.

The spokesman said: "We began a slight detour last Friday. We are taking adequate precautions just like the other air lines. We have had to deviate slightly only from our regular course."

The planes are following a course about 100 miles east of the Russian fringe area.

Pan American Airways has two jet flights a week and Canadian Pacific flies two DC-6 four-engine propeller aircraft per week. Pan American flies between Australia and Hawaii, Canadian Pacific between Australia and Canada via Honolulu.

The Honolulu city council passed a resolution last week, protesting the Soviet action. The resolution asked the Russians to select another impact zone.

St. Louis Children Have Picnic

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Public school officials said Monday it is "extremely doubtful" if any public schools will be open today if the strike of custodians and matrons is still on.

School board officials and representatives of local 118 of the public school employees met late Monday with no break in sight.

The strike began at 6:30 Monday morning and as a result some 80,700 pupils, 78,200 of them grade school students, got an unexpected holiday.

Nine of the city's 11 high schools operated as usual. Their buildings were still heated because workers of another union, the stationery engineers, were on the job before picket lines went up and therefore heating systems were manned.

The striking union operates heating plants in the grade schools. But the engineers are expected to observe the picket lines today.

Teachers were ordered to report this morning but late Monday the board of education had not decided whether to have pupils report in the morning.

The strike was a serious thing to grownups but for the children it was a picnic.

MEMO TO: Editor,

Subject: A CAREER WITH A CHALLENGE.

Your readers, especially those under the age of 35, have been a source of talent, inspiration and raw material for us during the last few years. Each year, we have heard from your readers in response to our appeal for dedicated young men and women to work in the labor movement.

We are convinced that in every generation there is a segment of young people who would like to play a courageous and active role in changing the shape of things, and we are therefore renewing our invitation to a career that others—in this decade—have found a rewarding way of life.

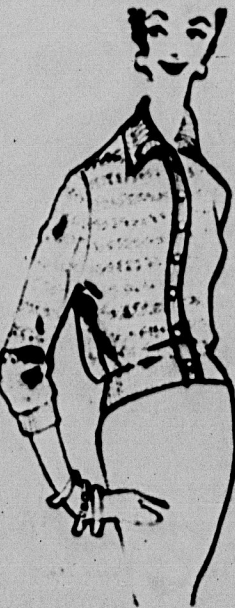

The International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union conducts its own "West Point," to prepare young men and women for careers in labor leadership. The one-year course combines classroom and field work. Those who complete the course are assigned to a full-time job with the union.

With the job comes the challenge—to provide the kind of dedicated and ethical leadership that will make the American labor movement the creative social force it seeks to be.

The Training Institute is now in its tenth year. 140 of its graduates now hold union office in the ILGWU. Virtually all started as organizers—to learn the labor movement at the grass roots. While some continue at this mission as their first and enduring love, others branch out to take on responsibilities as business agents, local union managers, educational and political directors, area supervisors, time study experts, etc.

There is nothing soft or cushy about any of these jobs. But then we are not looking for young people who want the easy plush life. We want those who will enjoy the sting of challenge.

To those, we open the doors of the Institute. Write before April 15: ILGWU Training Institute, 1710 Broadway, New York 19, N. Y.

New Cyprus Republic Birthday Set

LONDON (AP)—The Cyprus conference Monday delayed the birth of the Cypriot Republic until March 19 but held fast to gains already made in working out the island's future.

After three days of bargaining the delegates agreed the Feb. 19 target date for transferring the British colony into an independent nation could not be met.

Remaining points of disagreement, including the size of military bases the British will retain there, were referred to advisors.

Recently, an experimental word-processing machine demonstrated conversion of a page of Russian to English in 10 seconds. The electronic devices of the future will not only make dictionary references automatically, but will also analyze syntax and semantics to provide a functional English translation.

This kind of work, now being explored at IBM, requires widely diverse talents and skills. People with backgrounds in business administration, liberal arts, engineering, mathematics and the sciences are making their valuable contributions. An observer might consider many of these people astonishingly young. But youth is no barrier at IBM, where advancement has always been based on performance.

Diversity of work and advancement based on performance are advantages a younger person will find important in selecting a career.

Black Hawk Player Hurt In Crack-up; Wife Dead

CHICAGO (AP)—Eddie Litzberger, veteran Chicago Black Hawk hockey player, was off the critical list Monday but probably sidelined for the season following an auto accident that killed his wife.

Litzberger was under sedation in a hospital throughout the day, unaware that his wife, Dorothy, was fatally injured in an early morning auto accident.

Police said Mrs. Litzberger, 36, was thrown from the auto when it skidded 80 feet into a viaduct on an icy expressway.

Litzberger, 28-year-old forward whom the Hawks bought from the Montreal Canadiens in 1954 for $15,000, was in less serious condition than at first feared.

The liver function tests indicated no rupture, although there was evidence of kidney damage. His pelvic bones, at first believed broken, were not fractured. X-rays showed.

This is such a shock to us we haven't given much thought to Litzberger's replacement," said Hawk coach Rudy Pilous.

Bearcats Remain First Despite Bradley's Upset

Despite its one-point loss last Saturday, Cincinnati retained its top ranking in the weekly Associated Press poll of the nation's college teams. Bradley, which handed the Bearcats their first defeat of the season, vaulted from fourth into second place.

California and West Virginia each dropped a notch to third and fourth, respectively. Utah State moved into the top 10 for the first time, displacing Southern California, which dropped from 10th to 14th with a one-point defeat by UCLA. Utah State jumped from 12th to ninth. The only other major change in the rankings, based on the votes of 191 sports writers and sportscasters, involved Villanova and Texas A&M, each beaten for the first time last week. The Wildcats, defeated 89-81 by West Virginia, moved up from ninth to eighth. The Aggies, dropped by Southern Methodist 66-64, slipped from eighth to 10th.

MSU Students Are Top Dog Too Much

By SUZETTE RAMSEY

The students at MSU are too accustomed to being the top dog, Charles McCaffree, coach of the swimming team, feels.

The coach thought this was part of the explanation for the small crowds the swimming meets have had. The crowd at Saturday's Iowa meet wouldn't even have filled the much smaller seating facilities at Jenison Pool, the past site for meets.

The Spartans, which placed fourth in the Big 10 last year, is rebuilding a team which lost national champions Billy Steuart and Don Patterson in distance and sprints and seven other lettermen. The sophomore-dominated team has beaten Iowa State and Iowa so far this season.

In the Big 10 relays, however, the Spartans failed to get a first against Michigan and Indiana, the top two teams in the conference, but they got five seconds, as compared to none in 1959.

"You can't always be first," McCaffree says, "though you always strive for it." He stressed the value of the Spartan squad, which is known as the "killer" in Big 10 circles. "You have to beat us to win," he says, "and every team has to play its best to beat us."

After the relays, Michigan coach Gus Stager, as reported in the Michigan Daily, said, "Despite the performance of Indiana, I was greatly impressed with the work of Michigan State. They have a new crop of swimmers who are just beginning to come through for them. They're going to surprise a lot of people."

McCaffree rates his team as among the top seven in the country. He included in his list Michigan, Indiana, Ohio State, Southern California, Yale and Stanford.

"We don't meet the teams we'd roll over," he said, noting that the team meets all Big 10 schools this season. "The better the competition, the more you tend to equal it," he philosophizes.

McCaffree wasn't rationalizing about the competition. The Big 10 is consistently high in the country in swimming. The Western Conference has produced all of the NCAA team champs since 1937, except for the four years that Yale won.

"In no other sport has the Big 10 monopolized the national championships as much as in swimming," the coach noted. The U of M and OSU, which McCaffree calls a challenger this year, especially have produced many individual champions.

MSU was the host for the Big 10 relays Jan. 9. The only other teams participating were Michigan, Indiana and Iowa State. The scoring has been taken out the relays to encourage more teams to come, McCaffree said, but as this has not helped, scoring may return next year.

Deadlines Slated Opening Week Action Plentiful In Intramurals

Action Monday night triggered intramural action for the winter term as dormitory basketball, open hockey and fraternity volleyball all opened seasons.

Inaugurals for other sports and leagues continue this week. Tonight independent basketball begins at 6:30 and dormitory handball at 7.

Thursday sees the fraternities start cage action.

Friday is the deadline for entering the IM paddleball doubles tournament which begins Jan. 25. Students may sign up all this week in the IM building for the paddleball competition.

The tourney rules will have 21 points to a game with a match consisting of two wins of three points.

Next week men may sign up for the IM table tennis championships in singles.

Wilt Leads NBA With 37.6 Mark

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain, the gigantic Philadelphia Warrior rookie, has the National Basketball Assn. scoring race all to himself Monday.

The 7-foot-1 center leads in total points and game average, taking over the former from Cincinnati's Jack Twyman. Wilt has scored 1,544 points in 41 games for a 37.6 average, according to NBA statistics.

Twyman has a 31.3 mark on 1,536 points in 49 games. He had topped the NBA until Chamberlain took over after games of last Sunday.

Stokes Out Of Hospital, To See Game

CINCINNATI (AP)—Maurice Stokes, a basketball star in college and in the National Basketball Association, will leave Christ Hospital here Sunday for the first time since March, 1958, and it will be to watch a basketball game.

Stokes will be allowed to watch his former Cincinnati Royals teammates play the Philadelphia Warriors in an afternoon game here.

Stokes, who played his college basketball at St. Francis of Pennsylvania, was stricken with encephalopathy on March 15, 1958 as he and the other Royals were enroute here from Detroit.

He was unable to move or speak for many months. Recently he has been able to eat, speak slightly and even take a few steps in a body brace.

Lakers Plane Forced Down In Cornfield

CARROLL, Iowa (AP)—The Minneapolis Lakers professional basketball team rode an airplane with an ailing electrical system to a dark landing in a cornfield during a heavy snowstorm near here early Monday.

The plane, without lights, radio or flight dials to guide the crew, sat down in about a foot of snow without injury to any of the 23 persons aboard or damage to the aircraft.

The wind-whipped snow in the air was so thick that pilot Vernon Ullman of Brookings, S.D., and co-pilot Harold Gifford, Minneapolis, had to stick their heads out the windows to scan the cornfield.

They avoided a water tower and power lines in circling Carroll at low altitude. And Lakers guard Frank Selby said the plane "almost hit an automobile" in going in for the landing.

The Lakers, long accustomed to the plaudits of sports fans, left no doubt that as far as they are concerned, pilot Ullman was the biggest star of all.
