THE FOCAL POINT of everyone's day is with the meeting of friends in the Berkeley concourse. Of course, they must stop to discuss the latest campus news as depicted above. Because of this confusion students and professors alike are often late to class. A resolution presently on the floor of Student Congress hopes to relieve some of the congestion.

Annual MPA Convention

State Editors Confer in Kellogg

Editors of Michigan's more than 500 weekly and 58 daily newspapers will meet at Kellogg Center today and Saturday for the 42nd annual Michigan Press Association convention. Registration indicates an audience of more than 600 newspapermen and their wives, including Elmer White, MPA executive manager. He said sessions will cover varied phases of newspaper operation ranging from back-shop cleanup to advertising promotion. Business addresses will be given by two syndicated columnists, Sylvia Porter, whose weekly is Wall Street Journal, and business trends and Earl Wilson, chronicler of Broadway glamour. The convention opens with a noon luncheon talk today by Howard King, typographical consultant from the Intertype Company. Afternoon meetings will be on advertising for men and on "Shaping Up in Good Form" for women. Richard Cook, asst. executive vice-president of the Michigan Retailers Assn. Lansing, will be among speakers on the ad program. Columnist Porter will speak tonight before a gathering which will include the MSU Board of Trustees. Included on the Saturday agenda is Wilson's report on Broadway happenings. To the annual business meeting a new president will be elected to succeed E. C. Ted Hahow, publisher of the Hillsdale Daily News.

Robert Shaw Tickets

Tickets are now on sale for the program to be presented by the Robert Shaw Choral Feb. 7. The concert will present Bach's B Minor Mass. Tickets may be obtained at the Union ticket office with coupon D from student activity book.

Scientific Writer Discusses Government Medicine Control

By JIM TURNER
Government patent restraints, regulations and government control of medicine were two of the topics touched upon by prominent scientific writer, Robert D. Miller in a talk on medical reporting in the Union Thursday. Miller, editor of New York magazine, was here for the second annual Yates Memorial Lecture on "Medicine in the Press: Myth or Menace." The speaker told a group of science faculty, physicians and medical students that medical reporting has been intensive until the 1930s. "It was then," he said, "that the use of public funds for research and the voluntary health agencies such as the Tuberculosis Association, came into being." So the private citizen wanted to know what was happening to his money, he explained. Miller said the job of the medical reporter is to bridge the gap of communication between the medical profession and the public with authoritative scientific information presented to the public in the right perspective. The unrestrained reporting of medical news, he builds up in the public mind a false picture that medical research (and

GOOD MEDICAL REPORTING is the key to proper communication between the medical profession and the public, Robert Potter, editor of New York Magazine, told a group of students, faculty, and physicians in a Union address Thursday.

Paris Police Corral Rightists As Colonials Seethe in Algiers

Rebels Use Parrieade Maneuvers

Press Condemns Insurrectionists

ALGIERS (AP)—French insurgents in the Algiers street barricades defiantly stood by their arms today ready to meet any move against them by President De Gaulle.

After De Gaulle's surprise appeal Thursday for Moslem support and the ordered retirement of French chiefs here to an outlying command post, the insurgent French would be surprised at nothing. Campfires burned throughout the night inside the insurgent stronghold favoured in the heart of the city as they pondered over the departure of Gen. Mazza. Charles, top military commander in Algeria, and Delegate General Paul DeLouvrier, De Gaulle's chief civil representative here.

DeLouvrier and Challe withdrew Thursday night to a command post at Rida, about 25 miles southwest of Algiers, on orders from De Gaulle. Their pullout was announced by DeLouvrier at the same time he broadcast an appeal for an outpouring of Algeria's Moslems to back De Gaulle.

He gave no reason for the withdrawal to Rida, but he said clear the Army in Algiers is under Challe's command and that it should receive orders from him.

There were hints that the Paris government might be getting ready to isolate the city and let the European students go without supplies. There were reports that most officers in the Algiers garrison were in sympathy with the insurgents' cause and had warned they would refuse orders to fight.

Shift Needs City Police Clearance

Official clearance with the local police is all that remains to be done to put the recommendation regarding off-campus disturbances into effect, Dean of Students Tom King said Thursday. The recommendation made by the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs states all off-campus disturbances will be handled by the local police, rather than the dean of students office or the housing office. Complaints coming to the housing office or the dean of students' office will be referred to the city police.

Arrests would only be made if a violation of a civil law such as disturbing the peace or contributing to the delinquency of minors occurred.

King said he thought students who appear before a civil court would not have to appear before the student judiciary. The exact policy has not been determined, however, he said.

Fraternities, sororities and clubs are not considered off-campus housing, the committee said.

Kennedy Introduces Bill to Drop Affidavit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass.) introduced a bill Thursday to amend the non-communism affidavit required of college students obtaining government loans under the National Defense Education Act. Sens. Joseph Clark (D-Pa.) and Jacob Javits (R-NY) joined him as co-sponsors. Kennedy's bill, a modification of one he sponsored last year, would leave unchanged the oath of allegiance requirement in the law for student loan recipients.

10,000 Farmers to Invade Campus Annual Farm Week Starts Feb. 1

By ROBERT NEUMANN
A crowd of 10,000 is expected to attend MSU's 45th annual Farmers' Week program, Feb. 1-5. The program is held to explain the farmer's contribution to America.

The big mid-winter show is one of the largest of its kind in the nation, attracting specialists and amateurs who will explain the latest developments in farming and agriculture.

As in the past, there will be prize cattle shown, numerous exhibitions, 4-H youth demonstrations, their talents and prominent leaders speaking on the important farm issues of the day.

Heading the speaker's list are prominent men including Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich.), a member of the senate agriculture committee, and Laurin South, editor of the Des Moines Iowa Register and Tribune.

Some of the more high-lighted topics of the week will include Dairy, Professor G. M. Trout's description of his recent trip to Russia. This will be at 8 p.m. Monday in the Big Ten Room at Kellogg Center.

Dan Moore, Federal, Jury Commissioner for northern Ohio will speak on "Confidence Brekers" at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday in Fairchild Theater.

Max G. Menden Williams will deal on her trip with the World Health Organization at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday, in the Big Ten Room at Kellogg Center.

Model UN To Debate In Ed Kiva

"A more informal, international atmosphere," stressed Mohammad Tassiri, is what we are trying to accomplish in the MSU United Nations.

A boon to the model UN's plans is the obtaining of the Education Building kiva for tonight's meeting. Tassiri, UN Secretary-General, sees this as a positive step but will award a more effective presentation-discussion hour.

Tonight's topic, "How different foreign aid programs to underdeveloped nations may be made more effective," will be discussed by students representing 70 nations. As with the United Nations in New York, visitors are not only welcomed but encouraged. Attending tonight's meeting at 8 p.m. will be 20 students from Charlotte High school. Their purpose will be that of observing the MSU Campus United Nations in action.

Tassiri also stated that "expansory plans for developing more student UN meetings are in the making."

L-C Features Tchaikowsky

The works of Tchaikowsky will be featured tonight when the Moscow State Symphony Orchestra performs at the Auditorium at 8:15 p.m. as a special feature of the Lecture-Coronet series, the program will feature Tchaikowsky's Symphony No. 4 in E Minor and Concerto in D Major, Opus 57.

Konstantin Ivanov will conduct the 120 musicians with Daniel Shafran, cellist and Valerii Nizov, violinist as featured soloists.

Reserved seat tickets are priced at $1, $4 and $5. Students will be given a 50 cent discount and HD's must be presented at the Auditorium. Tickets will be available at the door tonight.

MSU Harpsichordist To Present Bachfest

Dr. Ernst Victor Wolf, harpsichordist, will present a recital of chamber music by Johann Sebastian Bach at 4 p.m. Sunday in the Music Auditorium.

Dr. Wolf will be assisted by the MSU Faculty String Quartet of violinists Romeo Tala and James Niblock, cellist Louis Potter, Jr., and violist Lyman Bodman. Also on the program are Virginia Bodman, string bass, and Russell Friedewald, flute.

Other discussions will extend from music pertaining to an analysis of the struggle for world and political power. All this is designed to give the farmers an up-to-date survey of the latest in farming and agriculture education.

For the believe-minded farmer MSU Army ROTC unit will feature a display Tuesday and Thursday.

This will include NRC's job of making an Army cadet and a Department of Army exhibit designed to inform the public of the speed and immensity of modern war.

At a career carnival show, several MSU ROTC cadets will be on hand to answer any questions farm youths may have regarding military careers and obligations.

High (Duff) DeLoraine, head football coach, Forgie Anderson, head basketball coach, and Clarence (Biggie) Mann, athletic director, will speak to the youth on "Why You Should Go to College" in different programs during the week.

Opportunities in jobs related to farming will be illustrated by Dr. Richard Swenson, director of instruction in MSU's College of Agriculture.

Distinguished service to agriculture awards will be given Wednesday by Thomas K. Cowdon, dean of agriculture. Honorees of this year are Lee D. Farnon, Cheeseman, Merrill D. Hill, Birmingham, and Arthur H. Haggard, Bluefield.

DeGaulle's Opposition Hit by Raid

Army Command Refutes to Post

PARIS (AP)—French police Thursday staged nationwide raids against rightists supporting anti-De Gaulle insurgents in Algeria.

Seeking at least 100,000 rifles, rightists raided homes and headquarters in such cities as Paris, Marseille, Bordeaux, and a dozen other cities.

The raids were apparently aimed at keeping the rightists off balance. Although these have been on since November, the police showed no sign of loosening their guard.

With a precision that betrayed long planning, the police moved in on big and little fish alike.

The rightists were apparently armed with rifles, shotguns and pistols. Although these have been on since November, the police showed no sign of loosening their guard.

The display of force was also aimed at Paris, where President Charles de Gaulle made a formal trip through the city to the newly building of the Council of State.

In another action prompted by Algerian events, the police seized Thursday's issue of five weekly papers — ranging from the Communist left to the far right.

The daily newspapers were almost unanimous in blunt condemnation of the insurrection in Algeria. The newspaper Paris-Presse lauded the men holding the barricades in Algiers, denouncing anti-De Gaulle calls for their punishment as erroneous.

Ag Standouts Win Honors

Marvin Vander Stout, East Lansing student, received the scholarship award for the best four-year scholastic average in the College of Agriculture, at the 25th annual Agriculture Honors program Thursday.

A total of 43 awards were given to outstanding agricultural students by business and farm organizations, departments of the college and student organizations.

Miss Aily Frith, Detroit freshman, received the Harvest Ball Queen award. Jonathan Bird, Knoxville, Tenn., senior, was recipient of the activity award. Vagdy Stora received the award for best student.

In each and every way the J-Hop will be new and different from the listing music of Lester Lakin to the subtle elegance of the decor to the formality of attire.

It will be a night to remember for all those who desire the best in entertainment. Tickets are now on sale at the Union desk.

Editorial Symbol No Grounds For Act of Seizure

THE SWASTIKA, religious token, good luck charm of American Indians or symbol of Nazi beliefs and anti-Semitism—depending on how you look at it—has created unexpected trouble for a student of this university.

THE ANSWER to all these questions, we believe, is no. There are areas of the world today where possession of a swastika reproduction is a serious offense.

A Stride Forward

THE FACULTY COMMITTEE ON STUDENT AFFAIRS recommendation that off-campus disturbances involving students be investigated by civil authorities rather than representatives of the university comes as a pleasant surprise to students who have been pushing for a move in this direction.

Wins 6 Months Pass to Lucon
Antonio Pinchinat, MSU Goliath

Michigan State's Goliath was chosen at the Lucon Theater Thursday night. Antonio Pinchinat, Health graduate student in agriculture, was judged first in a field of nine contestants. He won a trophy and a six-month pass to the Lucon.

Pinchinat, who is 5' 4" tall and weighs 142 pounds, was third in the 1959 Mr. Haiti contest.

Other winners are Paul Slayback, Dewitt sophomore, second; and Jerry Thayer, Jackson freshman, third. Slayback, the second place winner in the Junior Mr. Michigan contest Saturday, won a three-month pass to the Lucon, and Thayer won a two-month pass.

The judges were Carol Wangerman, Lansing freshman; Ellen Hoop, East Lansing sophomore; Susan Neiman, Traverse City junior, and Mrs. Gordon Smith.

After the contest, Jay Siegel, Philadelphia sophomore; and Gary O'Neil, Drayton Plains freshman, gave an Olympic weight-lifting exhibition. Siegel is the Pennsylvania state 165-pound champion, and O'Neil won the 165-pound AAU junior championship in Detroit Saturday.

MSU'S GOLIATH is Italian student Antonio Pinchinat (center). Runnerup Paul Slayback (right) and third place winner Jerry Thayer also won female judges' approval for brawn development.

Police Check Two Cases of Theft

Two thefts were reported to the Department of Public Safety Wednesday.

A student in West Yakeley hall told police that $50 was taken from her unlocked room sometime Wednesday. She said that she kept the money in a metal candy container on her dresser and that everyone was aware of this.

Another student reported to police that his clarinet valued at $200 was taken from his locker in the Music building sometime Tuesday or Wednesday.

He told police that before he discovered the theft he had lost his keys. When he went to the Music building he felt that something was amiss when he saw his previously locked locker open and found his lost keys inside but the clarinet missing.

Other valuable musical instruments were not taken, he said.

Local Drama Group to Stage One-Act Plays

The Community Circle Players of Lansing will present three one-act plays tonight at 8:30 at 1120 Sheridan St. in Lansing. The program will include "This Property is Condemned" by Tennessee Williams, "Aria da Capo" by Edna St. Vincent Millay and an original French pantomime by Ron Grow, Lansing senior.

Chicago Family Reunited After 16 Years

CHICAGO (AP)—A family separated for 16 years by the Iron Curtain was united Thursday in Chicago, thanks to the intervention of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Regina Leonas, 29, and her mother, Tomas, 77, both sobbing as they couldn't speak, completed their journey from Lithuania and met their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paulus Leonas of Chicago.

The mother, too, was all choked up. That left Leonas all the speaking chores.

"I've got my kids," Leonas said, smiling. "He (Khrushchev) kept his promise and I'm going to say so."

"This is the most exciting day of my life. There's been no such day since the world was created. My feelings can't be said in words. My heart is too small to hold them."

A crowd of more than 200 persons jammed about the big airliner that brought the children on the last leg of their long trip from their homeland, once Lithuania, now absorbed by the Soviet Union.

Many asked what Regina and Tomas were saying in Lithuanian to their parents.

They say they don't know what to say," Leonas replied. Later he said they were exhausted from the trip and the attention given them at each stop along the route.

The crowd included many of European extraction who told newsmen they had kinfolk behind the Iron Curtain and hoped that some day a similar reunion would be theirs.

Great Need For Nurses Stressed

Fifty years ago, the first Michigan board of nursing was appointed—and nursing achieved legal status in the state.

Today, observes Florence Kempf, R.N., director of the School of Nursing at MSU, more than 33,000 persons are registered as professional nurses in Michigan and more than 6,000 are licensed as practical nurses.

But the rapidly growing population, says Miss Kempf, should make the need for increasing numbers of qualified nursing personnel the concern of all citizens.

An "R.N." in the state of Michigan is one who has been authorized by the state "to perform any professional service requiring the application of principles of nursing based on biological, physical and social sciences."

The registered professional nurse may observe and record symptoms of the patient. She may execute treatments and medications prescribed by a physician. She may apply such nursing procedures as involve understanding of cause and effect in order to safeguard life and health.

The "R.N." may supervise other nurses and act as a nursing administrator in institutions and health agencies.

On the other hand, the "licensed practical nurse" may perform such duties as are required in the physical care of a patient and in carrying out of medical orders prescribed by a physician, under the supervision of a physician or a registered nurse.

Foresters Ready For '60 Shindig

All the preparations have been made for the annual Foresters' Shindig to be held Saturday night in Dem Hall. The dance, from 8:30 p.m.-midnight, will feature Clarence Schmidt and his orchestra.

Extreme informality, long beards and a Paul Bunyan atmosphere are still the order of the day, but some shades of yesterday have been banned from the event. At one time Foresters brought guns and shot blanks, but the noise caused such a rucus that firearms were eventually barred from the scene.

One other year, a rail fence was constructed at the end of the hall to keep a flock of invited sheep from invading the dance floor. This year the fenced-in area will hold couples taking time off to enjoy the refreshments which will be provided free of charge.

AN INDIAN PORTER, almost completely felled with a burden of containers which hide him, carries his load across a street bazaar in New Delhi. Huge burdens such as he carries are commonplace on the Indian sub-continent.

'Lack of Cooperation' by Doctors

Congressman Blasts A.M.A.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. John Blatnik (D-Minn.) Thursday accused the American Medical Assn. of once trying to thwart a congressional investigation of what he called false

Economists See No Great Change In Dairy Prices

Little change in prices of dairy products at the farm is in the offing for this year.

But if there is any change, it may be upward, report MSU farm economists.

Net income for the dairy farmer should hold about steady and possibly increase a little, say Glynn McBride and Ray Hoglund. Total production per cow will increase as will gross receipts. The higher gross receipts will help keep net income as high or higher than 1959.

- 1. Price support levels will remain at 75 percent of parity.
- 2. Per capita dairy product consumption will be about 700 pounds, milk equivalent.
- 3. Ample supplies of feed will be available.
- 4. Employment and consumer income will tend to be stronger.

The economists note that the decline in cow numbers which began in 1944 probably will continue into 1960. Average annual production per cow will also continue to move up although in July and August of 1959 it was only 1 percent above the year earlier. This was the smallest midsummer or fall increase in five years.

and misleading advertising in the tranquilizer industry.

The AMA tried back that Blatnik's charge was completely untrue, and said "the AMA has been active in fighting false and misleading advertising for 30 years."

Blatnik told a Senate hearing into drug prices about a House government operations subcommittee inquiry which he headed two years ago.

In our efforts to assist the American public, we were thwarted at every turn by the professional representatives of the profession," he said.

Three Washington representatives of the AMA appeared at the House hearing but were of little help, Blatnik said, adding that the "AMA's attitude was disappointing."

"Despite this lack of cooperation from the one source which could have been helpful," Blatnik said, "we did learn a great deal about tranquilizing drug advertisements and their regulation."

"We learned, for instance, that many of them are introduced with a minimum of clinical testing."

"The AMA, in a statement issued in Chicago, said: 'We cooperated with the Blatnik committee completely in the investigation held in May 1957. We have in our files a great deal of information that was supplied to the committee.'"

"We have no record of requests coming to us from the Blatnik committee relative to the advertising of tranquilizers. The AMA has been active in fighting false and misleading advertising for 30 years, before the committee on government operations was established."

Blatnik said there was doubt that false and misleading advertising of tranquilizing drugs was prevalent at the time of his inquiry and he added nothing has been done as far as he knows to correct the situation.

He told a senate judiciary subcommittee that certain medical groups have tried to whitewash cover up and minimize the seriousness of the problem.

Blatnik testified that his committee's hearings showed that (1) many claims were made for tranquilizers that could not be substantiated and (2) doctors can be misled by false drug advertising.

The congressman said the Federal Trade Commission up to that time had "completely ignored its statutory responsibilities" although it was empowered to police medical advertising. Late, however, Blatnik said the FTC has followed a more vigorous course.

Prison Probe Reveals Radio Transmitters

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP)—Inmates at the state prison here operated an ingenious radio broadcasting network, the warden disclosed Thursday.

The network stopped functioning after a Jan. 6 riot at the prison. The system was discovered when guards made a systematic search afterwards.

Warden Mark Richmond said several tiny broadcasting transmitters were found concealed in radiis owned by certain inmates.

The transmitters sent out a weak signal that did not penetrate the prison walls, but did reach the prison's 730 inmates.

Richmond said he suspects the network was used chiefly to inform prisoners about the movement of officials and guards.

Committee Schedules Civil Rights Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first break in the civil rights deadlock came Thursday as the House Rules committee scheduled a hearing next Monday on the controversial measure.

Indications are the committee will clear the bill for House consideration early in February.

The bill, approved last year by the House Judiciary committee, has been bottled up in the Rules committee. A petition for force action has obtained more than 190 of the 219 required signatures.

WITH J-HOP a short two weeks away, MSU coeds in all living units are trying to decide on the "just right" dress for the big night. Mrs. Helen Cannon, housemother, is giving her seal of approval to (l-r) Sandy Klinger, Birmingham Junior, and Jan Falk, Dearborn Junior, as they try to make their final decision on what to wear.

Faith Units Slate Guest Speakers

Religious activities are highly featured this weekend by several guest speakers. Also included in the weekend's programs are record dances and an outing party.

Hillel Foundation will hold Sabbath services at 6:45 p.m. Friday at the Sigma Alpha Mu house. George Kessler, assistant professor of horticulture, will speak on "What Israel Means to Me."

Members of Hillel Foundation have also planned a supper forum at 6 p.m. Sunday at Hillel house. The guest speaker will be Milton Rokeach, professor of psychology, who will speak on "Prejudice and Recent Disturbances."

St. John's Catholic Student Center Altar Society will hold its annual card party at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Student Center.

Wesley Hall has scheduled an outing party for Saturday, near Vermontville. Transportation will be provided from Wesley House.

Wesley Forum will be conducted by Virgil Kraft, Peoples Church of Chicago, in 31 Union at 7 p.m. Sunday. Mr. Kraft will report about "Adventure in Russia." The report will include colored slides and movies.

Canterbury Club has planned an informal record dance from 8-11 Saturday evening. The title of the dance is "Anglican Antics."

Members of Canterbury Club will also gather at 6:30 p.m. Sunday for evening prayer and supper. Guest speaker will be Tamunoeme West, foreign student from Nigeria, who will discuss the "Impact of Christianity Upon Nigeria."

Gamma Delta has planned their weekly cost-plus supper for 6 p.m. Sunday. Following the supper, they will participate in informal games and vesper services.

Alpha Gamma Phi will hold its annual Pink Rose Formal Saturday evening at the Poplars banquet room. Decorations centered around the fraternity flower will include pillars entwined with flowers spelling out AGR. Kenny Davis' orchestra will furnish music for dancing.

Asher House for Men has chosen an Oriental theme for its semi-formal dinner dance Saturday evening. Food with a far Eastern flavor will be served. Decorations of bamboo, lanterns and Oriental art work will complement the theme.

On Campus

'jour de fete'

By CONNIE ZEKI
State News Society Editor

It's party time, fun time and most of all, it's J-Hop time! The moments are few but fabulous when a coed has occasion to attend a formal ball. But it's practically unanimous that festivity is a woman's prerogative, especially when it comes to "dressing up" at night, but really "dressing up" during the day.

With each and every of childhood shoes of sparkling gold and an intriguing man's side what more is needed for an evening straight from heaven? Perhaps nothing else but a few drops of Arpeggio or Shalimar, or maybe L'Amour! To make that intoxicating air.

And even with "jour de fete" being strictly formal, the fairer sex still has a wide selection of dancing dresses to choose her favorite. There's everything from the new ankle length dresses to the floor length skirt with the day length dance dresses still a favorite.

While coeds are involved in making their final decisions on which gown is purely J-Hop material—a word to the gentlemen. Although J-Hop attire is strictly formal, it's tradition that coeds do not receive corsages.

If by any slight chance the men have not purchased "the ticket," they are still on sale at the Union ticket office.

Here's to the most glittering evening of all evenings—"jour de fete!" C'est bon!

Forestry Shindig, Too

Snow Provides Social Setting

It appears that snow in Michigan is not news (particularly in the last week). But what sportsmen do because of the snow is news. Nearly a full week of falling white crystals has given the winter sports enthusiasts plenty to do. For those who want extra cash and the chance to travel, upper Michigan resorts are reporting excellent conditions.

Skaters will find an evening of exercise at any of the local rinks. The nearby golf courses and parks will provide slopes for tobogganers.

The "Forestry Shindig," sponsored by the Forestry Club, offers an outdoor atmosphere this weekend within the four walls of Dem Hall. Dancing, entertainment and free refreshments in a very informal atmosphere will form the pattern for the evening.

Delta Gamma's new pledges will be introduced to the faculty, living unit presidents, alumni and friends at an open house this evening. The annual affair will include refreshments and dancing later in the evening.

Proceeds in Snyder and Emerson Halls have planned an ice skating party at the East Lansing rink this evening. Following the skating, the groups will dance in Front Hall.

Residents of Phillips and Armstrong Halls will hold a square dance this evening in the Phillips recreation room. Guest callers and a demonstration by the Promenaders will highlight the evening.

Alpha Tau Omega will participate in a Bundle Party this evening. Bundles of clothing will be exchanged by dates just before the party and contents must be worn for the entire evening.

"June in January" will theme the Union Board dance this weekend. Admission is 75c per

Yogi Berra Knows Reason Jensen Quit

NEW YORK (AP)—Yogi Berra says "Tommie" Jensen quit because he didn't want to play baseball. Berra, manager of the Boston Red Sox, announced his decision to let Jensen go from baseball on Tuesday. He said he wanted to spend more time with his family and devote more time to his job.

"That may be so," said Berra. "But I think the real reason he quit is because he is scared."

Wrestlers 3-0 Record In Danger Saturday

By MIKE SKINNER

Michigan State's winning streak is in danger this Saturday as the Spartans will take to the road and go up against Minnesota in what will be their toughest wrestling match to date.

The Spartans carry an unblemished 3-0 record into the meet, which includes one victory over the Gophers. However, that win was achieved in a quadrangular tournament at Evanston, Ill., Jan. 9, in which Northwestern and Purdue also competed. This week's meet is strictly a dual match between the Spartans and Gophers.

Michigan State won last year's scrap, 16-14.

Although Minnesota was beaten by Iowa last weekend, head State coach Fendley Collins expects tomorrow's tangle to be a tossup. He rates the Minneapolis team, along with his own Spartans, as placing about third in the Big 10 behind Iowa and Michigan.

State may receive a boost in the 137 lb. division with the enrollment of Mike Senzig into the starting lineup. According to Collins, Senzig is bigger and stronger than his two teammates, Roger Tavernier and Jim Conley, who have previously competed in that weight class, and therefore he feels that the Lansing Eastern product may be better able to hold his own.

It will be the first match this season in which Senzig has appeared. He just recently straightened out some academic problems which had kept him from competing for the starting lineup.

Collins sees the meet as being close all the way through. He especially feels that the 137 lb., 167 lb. and the heavy weight divisions could go either way.

The big match of the afternoon will be in the 137 lb. class. Collins said State's Norm Young will be competing against the Gophers' Charles Coffey.

"They wrestled each other in the quadrangular tournament and it came out a draw," he continued. "I'd say that if we can win this one then we have a good chance of winning the meet."

Despite the fact that his grades have fared better than was expected, and Minnesota perhaps not quite as well, Collins is wary of the host squad's potential. The Gophers started slow last season, then picked up and went on to win the Big 10 title.

A factor which could work against State is Minnesota's physical condition. The Gophers place less emphasis on early season conditioning than do several other Big 10 schools. MSU sources feel that Minnesota will be in much better shape now than when the Spartans first met them.

IM Highlights

Today at 5 p.m. is the deadline for entering the intramural table tennis tournament which begins Tuesday.

Monday is the deadline to sign up for the intramural swimming championships—individual events.

The intramural sport skills free throw contest begins Monday.

The champion of each of the Hall tournaments will choose his partner for competition in the All-Dormitory Championships, which will begin Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Intramural Bldg.

Swimmers to Splash Tonight Against Wisconsin Before TV

The Spartan swimmers, the only varsity team home this weekend, go before the TV cameras tonight at 7:25 in the IM pool against Wisconsin.

The taped show will be shown on WMSB-TV Saturday at 12 noon.

"Wisconsin has given us good competition through the years," Coach Charles McCaffree said. He pointed out their top-flight performer as being Ron McDevitt, a sprinter, who will give our boy Larry Jones all he wants.

McDevitt won the 100- and 220-yard freestyle races in the Badgers' triangular meet, with Iowa and Ohio State. In that meet, Wisconsin placed third with 33 points behind Ohio State's 67 and Iowa's 64. Wisconsin has beaten Loyola, 62-43, and Chicago, 66-39.

The Badgers are rebuilding this year, having lost their great sprinter, Fred Westphal, who was second in the 50 in the Big 10 meet last year; Tom Wissing in the backstroke and Kline Wilson in sprints.

Besides McDevitt, Wisconsin will be placing its hopes on Gene Eldenberg in the 50-yard freestyle, Eric Shalinder in individual medley, Andy Link in butterfly, Capt. Kurt Smetina in breaststroke and Tom Dewing in backstroke.

McCaffree plans to use Dick Brackett and Dick Blazewski or Jim Aenis in the 220-yard

'We Learned Lesson—Wait 'til 1960'—Berra

NEW YORK (AP)—Yogi Berra, only member of the club who played on all nine of Casey Stengel's championship teams, said Thursday the New York Yankees dropped to a dismal third place in 1959 because "we were all terrible last season."

"Everything went wrong. It could be we were over-confident. I think we learned our lesson. I'm looking for all the guys to really bear down this season," he said.

Berra didn't excuse himself, either, although he caught in most of the 131 games in which he appeared, and he boosted his batting average 18 percentage points to .284.

"I missed hitting at least 20 home runs for the first time since 1948 (he hit 19)," he pointed out. "And I drove in the least number of runs (69) since I became a regular (1948)."

The Yankee front office evidently thought he did pretty well for they signed him to a contract calling for the same figures he received in 1959, an estimated $50,000.

Berra said he thought the Yankees had a good chance to win the pennant in 1960 provided the pitching perks up.

"A lot depends on (Bob) Turley," he said. "He won only eight games last year and you know he's better than that. He had a lot of control trouble last year and there were times when he didn't seem to have his fastball. A lot also depends on the showing of two of our young pitchers, Jim Coates and Bill Short."

Berra, who will be 35 next May, is the oldest Yankee with the exception of Elmer Valo, recently signed as a free agent to pinch hitting duties. This will be his 14th full season as a Yankee.

In view of his outside activities and his ever-growing financial status, Yogi was asked how much longer he expected to remain in baseball.

"Oh, I hope to stay in baseball as long as they'll have me," he said. "When I'm through as a player, I'd like to stay on as a coach."

'Queen of Ice' Takes Command In Championships

SEATTLE (AP)—America's Queen of Ice, Carol Heiss of New York, deftly dominated Thursday as she is not ready to abdicate. She took commanding lead with five original points in her first test in the 1960 National Figure Skating Championships.

With flawless grace the defending champion skated the six required school figures. Each of the five judges placed her first in each figure.

Fifteen-year-old Laurence Owen of Boston — five years younger than the champion — tied for second with a more favored challenger, Barbara Ann Roles, 18, of Paramount, Calif., at 12 1/2 points.

The fourth contestant in the senior ladies division, Stephanie Westerdahl, 16, of Colorado Springs, Colo., had 20 ordinal points.

Her perfection Thursday all but assured Miss Heiss her fourth consecutive national championship and a berth on the U.S. Olympic team.

Co-Rec Swimming Off

Due to the Wisconsin meet to be held here tonight, there will be no co-recreational swimming in the Men's IM building, the Intramural office announced Thursday.

The other facilities in the building will be available however from 6-10 p.m.

The Women's IM building will be available from 6-10 p.m.

Spartan Swordsmen Face Air Force for First Time

An opportunity to meet the Air Force Academy takes the MSU fencing team to Notre Dame this weekend for a triangular meet.

The Spartans ordinarily meet the Irish once a season and they are scheduled to host Notre Dame and Ohio State on Feb. 20.

According to Coach Charles Schmitter, "We took on this extra meet so we could face the Air Force for the first time last year the Academy squad was tough, but I hear they lost some seniors—a lot, I hope."

There may be some change in the regular team line-ups. Sophomore John Boll, who was third man on the fall team last week, has been sick. Schmitter probably will not be sure of Boll until after a medical check-up.

If the Grand Rapids sophomore is not able to make the trip, Captain Chuck Schmitter, Jr., will switch to foil for this meet.

Dick Lawless and Bill McNamara complete the foil squad. The epee team includes Doug Jewell and Art Dowd. Jim Clark is also almost certain to see some action.

Steve Arnest, Don Johnson and Pat Muldoon are the sabre trio.

The Spartans will be looking for their first win after bowing to the University of Detroit last week in a close meet. The week has given Schmitter time to smooth some of the rough spots that appeared at Detroit.

'Top Two' Meet On Saturday

'Midget' Spartans Hope For Best With OSU

Two of the top Big 10 teams, on paper, will be squaring Saturday at 4:30 p.m. on regional TV.

The Spartans eagles will journey to Columbus to face the league leaders, Ohio State, which has racked up a 4-0 record.

The Buckeyes lead the Conference in scoring with 89.7 points per game to 87.4 for the Spartans.

The big surprise is that the Spartan "Midgets" lead the league in rebounding with 56.4 per game as compared to OSU with 50.2.

Horace Walker and Jerry Lucas, two of the leading individual scorers in conference play, will meet for the first time. Walker is in second place with a 26.4 average while Lucas, a top All-American candidate is just slightly behind with 26.2.

Walker, 6-3, is the leading rebounder in the conference with 21.0 per game.

"We'll be facing an almost impossible task," according to Spartan mentor Fordey Anderson, he continued, "the Buckeyes are probably the biggest team we've faced."

The large starting line-up of the Buckeyes will probably consist of John Havelick, 6-6, and Joe Roberts, 6-6, at forwards, Jerry Lucas, 6-8, at the pivot and Melvin Nowell, 6-2, and Larry Siegfried, 6-4, as guards.

Havelick, Nowell, and Lucas of the OSU starting five are sophomores.

The MSU starting five will consist of Lance Olson and Dave Scott at the forwards with Horace Walker playing center and Art Schwarm and Dave Fats holding down the guard posts.

This will be the 23rd cage action between the two teams. Ohio State is presently holding the edge with a 14-8 record.

20 Freshmen To Participate In AAU Meet

The 1960 edition of the Michigan State track team will start its season at the Michigan AAU meet in Ann Arbor on Saturday.

MSU coach Fran Dittrich is entering 20 performers in almost all of the events on the program. Also entered as unattached entries are 20 fresh trackmen.

State's best relay entry figures to be the distance medley quartet consisting of Brian Castle of Utica, in the quarter, Willie Atterberry, of Detroit, in the 880, Ed Graydon of Hamilton, Ontario, in the three quarter mile, and Big 10 champion Bob Lake of Kalamazoo, anchoring in the mile.

Running on the mile relay team will be Castle and Atterberry, plus two others to be chosen from Max Weissengruber, Hamilton, Ontario, Jim Carr, Los Angeles, and Tony Smith, of Lansing.

Some of the top prospects of the individual events are Zach Ford, Glenview, Ill., in the 60 yard dash; Jason Harness, St. Joseph, in the high and low hurdles; broad jump and the high jump.

Other leading contenders will be Jim Horan, Long Beach, Calif. and Gerald Young, Berkeley, in the two mile; Sonny Akkara, of Benn City, Nigeria, in the broad jump; Mike Kleinhans, Willowick, Ohio, and Jerry Dehenaus, of Warren, in the pole vault; and Mike Genard, Sumner, Wash., in the high jump.

MSU Sends Winning Team Into Weekend Road Battles

Undefeated in their three meets to date, the Spartan gymnasts travel to Chicago today for a meet with Illinois' Navy Pier branch and to Madison, Wis., Saturday to face the Badgers.

STAN TARSHIS... versatile performer

On High Bar Gymnast Tarshis 'Versatile'

"The man with greatest versatility on the horizontal bar" is a perfect description for Stan Tarshis, given by Coach George Szypula.

Tarshis, a 22-year-old senior from Los Angeles, Calif., majoring in physical education plans on doing graduate work at UCLA then to become a high school instructor and coach on the west coast.

Although he is an outstanding athlete, Tarshis is also an excellent student. He has a 3.25 all-university and attained a 4-point fall term.

Asked how he became interested in gymnastics, Stan replies that it was through a friend who liked tumbling in high school.

Tarshis began tumbling, but found that he enjoyed high bar work much better and therefore spent his time practicing and mastering stunts on the bar.

Since he has been at State, Tarshis has become one of the most outstanding bar men in the country.

In 1958 and 1959 he copped the Big 10 crown on the horizontal bar. Tarshis also was NCAA champion in 1959 and will be a big threat again this year.

"Olympic" competition is open only to all-around performers and therefore since Tarshis is a specialist he is unable to qualify.

"Stan would make an excellent Olympic performer and representative of the United States in foreign countries if he could compete," said Szypula.

"A performer like Tarshis is a great asset to a team for he is almost always a sure bet to win and therefore helps to build the morale of the team," said Szypula about this gymnast.

Stan will be completing his final year of college competition April 16, in the Michigan AAU, and will perform in his last home meet Feb. 20.

A date to remember . . .

Minneapolis-St. Paul Added to NFL Circuit

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Admission to Minneapolis-St. Paul to the National Football League Thursday rewarded the Twin Cities' dogged and agonizing search for major league status.

The news was greeted here with as much relief as triumph. Rebuffed continuously by the major baseball leagues, the Twin Cities will go on its pro football operation in 1961 at the five-million-dollar metropolitan stadium, built five years ago in the hope of luring big league baseball here.

In granting Minneapolis-St. Paul a franchise, NFL owners played out the final act of bewildering melodrama of intrigue, surprises and personality collisions.

At one time it turned the Twin Cities into an arena of battle between the established NFL and the eager American Football League, whose determination to hang on here virtually forced a commitment from the National League.

Twin Cities promoters began thinking seriously about attracting a pro football team here several years ago. Operators of Metropolitan Stadium in suburban Bloomington, sorely needing a source of revenue to satisfy stockholders, put themselves in the market for a pro football team to supplement expected receipts from pro baseball.

There was hope here of bringing in the Chicago Cardinals or another franchise. This gives way to negotiations for a new NFL franchise. When the NFL appeared to be losing its ardor, local football backers turned their embraces on the new AFL or so it appeared.

But the AFL never got off the ground here in the face of strong resistance by National League forces. The AFL released its Minneapolis-St. Paul franchise holders from their commitments and opened up the territory to the NFL.

By the time the Twins play their first game here stadium operations expect to have the capacity up to between 35,000 and 40,000. A Giants-Cardinals game last fall drew a sellout 26,000.

Stadium expansion, however, might require new discussion by the city council — which may mean the wrangling isn't over yet.

Canadiens Beat Wings

DETROIT (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens, led by Henri (Pocket Rocket) Richard and big Jean Beliveau, pulled out of some early sluggishness Thursday night and beat the Detroit Red Wings 4-2 before a jam-packed throng of 14,050 at Olympia Stadium.

Beliveau grabbed the National Hockey League scoring lead with a goal and an assist, raising his point total to 64, two better than Boston's Bronco Horvath.

Each team led once before Beliveau and Richard dived for a 2-2 deadlock with final-period goals. Beliveau scored early in the period with a blazing 15-footer and Pocket Rocket got the insurance tally late on a close-in pass from Don Marshall.

This was the 14th straight time the Red Wings have been unable to beat the Canadiens on Detroit ice. Detroit's last triumph was on March 23, 1958.

The Canadiens, hiking their lead over second-place Detroit to a whopping 20 points, grabbed the lead on a scrambling goal by Jean Guy Talbot. Alex Delvecchio tied it by converting his own rebound.

Two Montreal players were in the penalty box when Detroit went ahead early in the second period, but Richard earned the deadlock with a short flick past goalie Terry Sawchuk just six seconds before the period was over.

MSU Receives Institute Grant

By SHARON COVADY
State News Night Editor

A $10,000 grant through the National Defense Education Act will support a foreign language institute for secondary and elementary teachers at Michigan State University, Dr. George J. Davis, director of the program, said recently.

The institute will give teachers an opportunity to speak the foreign language in the classroom, to study the country of origin, to improve the quality of language education in Michigan schools.

MSU was one of 30 universities selected to hold institutes in French and Spanish. It will be the only one in Michigan to have German, Italian and Russian.

The program will accommodate 60 persons with 15 in each level: secondary and elementary for each language.

During the six-week institute, participants will speak in their own language, study the language, and attend to housing, meals and entertainment.

Alaskan Trip Featured In World Travel Series

"A Lumberjack's Bold Adventure" will be the World Travel Series offering Saturday at 8 p.m. at Fairchild Theater.

The new color picture of Alaskan was filmed by Don Cooper, who will narrate it in person. The film features such scenes as Mount McKinley, a sequence taken in a hidden valley, logging scenes in Southeastern Alaska and the highlight of the film, a sequence depicting Cooper and his partner trapped in a pack for more than 24 hours while thousands of tons of ice cascade from a glacier into the sea on all sides of their boat.

This scene is considered by many to be one of the greatest true-life adventure sequences ever filmed.

Don Cooper has been fascinated with Alaska since his boyhood and after managing to save the price of a ticket north, he went to Juneau in the heart of Alaska's timber resources.

Cooper says he went to Alaska expecting to be surrounded by bears and polar bears, yet already an opportunity to speak the language constantly. "The best way to learn a foreign language is to visit the country," Jovanuk said. "Since many teachers can't, we will surround them with the language and attempt to be there by speaking in English."

Ten speakers from France and Spain will live with the students to aid them in fluency and pronunciation. An eight member faculty will include four MSU instructors.

Students will study the language 11 hours a week, the country for six hours and language instruction for seven hours.

To be eligible participants must have a bachelor's degree, two years of a college French or Spanish course and other language teaching experience or the intent to teach.

Approximately 200 people have applied for the program to date. Selections will be based on the applicant's interest in teaching and his knowledge of the language.

We have to take good students who can understand the language," Jovanuk said. "We don't want those who are fluent and have excellent pronunciation. We want to improve those who have a basic knowledge of the language."

Under the NDEA each participant will receive a $75 stipend per week plus $15 weekly for room dependent.

Air Force School Open to Seniors

MSU seniors are eligible to apply for Air Force Officers Training School, Colonel Thomas J. Barrett, professor of air science, announced today.

The training program is open to both men and women, married or single, up to age 27½.

The OTS plan is designed to supplement the Air Force ROTC program of college educated officers. A limited number of ROTC college people are selected on a competitive basis for the program. Selected applicants will be sent to Officers Training School following graduation from col-

Badminton Club Meets

The Spartan Badminton Club will meet each Wednesday for the rest of the term from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the Men's IM

lege. After a three-month training period they will be commissioned as second lieutenants.

Following this program, males up to age 28½ may apply for either pilot or navigator training. Those not qualifying or desiring this plan will be given non-flying assignments.

Interested seniors should contact the Air Force Recruiting office at the Lansing Post Office building.

State Collegians Win Art Awards

Thirteen students of Michigan colleges and universities won top honors in a package design contest sponsored by the Cifowell carton plant of the St. Regis Paper Co.

Elizabeth Garrington, Cleveland, Ohio, junior, was awarded a $50 savings bond as second place winner.
