Castro Cites U. S. Base in Plot

Claims Naval Planes Trying to Help Rebels

Washington Denies Charge, Says Fliers on Normal Duty

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro charged Monday that U.S. authorities at Guantanamo Naval Base are connected with a plot to set up organized counter-revolutionary resistance to his regime in eastern Cuba.

"American authorities at the naval base know of these activities and are connected with them," the Prime Minister said in an interview aboard a plane that returned him to Havana from eastern Cuba.

He said U. S. planes had been flying over the mountainous region of eastern Cuba, probably trying to make contact with Manuel Beaton, a counter-revolutionary hiding out there with a small band of men.

He said the objective of all their activities "is to create some sort of resistance to the government on the East coast between the mountains and Guantanamo."

The Prime Minister did not name any officer or group of officers at the big U.S. naval base in connection with his charges.

The U. S. State Department in Washington quickly denied the charges. A spokesman said: "Our people at the base are doing their work and not dabbling in Cuban politics."

As to the U. S. planes, it was recalled in Havana that planes from the base were searching for a missing anti-submarine plane last week, and their normal search pattern would take them over the mountain area.

U. S. officials said such searches were coordinated with Cuban authorities.

Despite the charges, Castro said he feels problems between the United States and Cuba can be solved. He expressed willingness to talk with anyone in the interest of promoting U. S. Cuban understanding.

But he appeared reluctant to specify whether he thought a meeting with President Eisenhower or Secretary of State Christian Herter would do the trick.

Dean Tom King, asked for comment on the "security check" charge, denied Monday that the Dean of Students' office either kept security files or advocated student use of polygraph tests.

Candidates Questioned On Issues

AUSG presidential candidates Bryce Plapp and Dan Riedel submitted to extensive Union grilling Sunday before the newly-formed Contemporary Issues Forum.

About 20 students attended the meeting.

Plapp's and Riedel's differences on issues posed by forum members—ROTC, drinking regulations, housing policy, the role of the Dean of Students' office and the role of AUSG—remained minor.

Both Plapp, vice president of AUSG and speaker of Student Congress, and Riedel, former AUSG public-relations director now serving as director of orientation, were pressed on the question of racial discrimination in fraternities and sororities.

Both preferred education against prejudice to any form of AUSG resolutions urging living units to "end restrictive covenants or else."

The candidates took identical positions on the ROTC question, recommending more AUSG resolution if compulsory ROTC is not dropped by the Board of Trustees.

Criticism of the Dean of Students' office and its alleged security checks on students belonging to certain campus organizations prompted the concern of both Plapp and Riedel who said they had been unaware of any such practice. Both opposed the arbitrary use of polygraph tests in disciplinary cases.

Dean Tom King, asked for comment on the "security check" charge, denied Monday that the Dean of Students' office either kept security files or advocated student use of polygraph tests.

Lunch-Counter Demonstrations Inspired by Reds?

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said Monday he "wouldn't be surprised" if the sit-down demonstrations against lunch-counter segregation in the South were inspired by Communists.

Truman was questioned about the sit-downs during a news conference at Cornell University.

He said he had told Cornell students at seminars Monday that he was "against the Southern students shutting up a man's place of business," but on the other hand he did not believe a business man should "bar anyone from his place of business."

The former Democratic President then recalled that in 1937 it was revealed that the first sit-down strike in the nation had been Communist-inspired.

Asked by a reporter whether he thought the present lunch-counter sit-downs also were Communist-inspired, Truman replied: "I wouldn't be surprised."

Slides of Mexico Shown Tonight

Slides of Mexico will be shown at the Spanish Club at 7 tonight in the UN Lounge, Union. Barbara Contino, Mexico City junior, will narrate them.

Plans for the club's participation in International Festival will be formulated.

Spanish Club is sponsoring a display of colored pictures of Latin American scenery in the UN Lounge. Dr. Carlos Teran, associate professor of foreign languages, is showing his Brazilian paintings in the display.

Korean Students Start Riot

Demonstration Ban Starts Fight

SEOUL (AP)—A wave of antigovernment demonstrations spread to this South Korean capital and two other major cities Monday, bringing bloodshed and spreading alarm among authorities.

At least 30 persons, 15 of them police, were injured in clashes between thousands of students and club wielding police at Seoul, Pusan, South Korea's second largest city, and Chongju, 70 miles southeast of Seoul.

Members of President Syngman Rhee's cabinet met to discuss the demonstrations that began in the southern port of Masan last week. Demonstrators charged Rhee's Liberal Party rigged the March presidential elections when the Liberals won an overwhelming victory over the Democrats.

The demonstrations broke out in mass defiance of a government ban on demonstrations imposed after several students were killed in bloody rioting in Masan.

Several thousand university students started a demonstration that ended in a skull-cracking, window smashing riot after dark.

In Pusan, 1,300 high school boys stoned policemen, smashed windshields of fire engines and injured two officers in a three-hour demonstration. Police finally dispersed them with teargas and warning shots.

Officers and 1,000 high school demonstrators stoned each other for an hour at Chongju.

Police were reported braced for new demonstrations Tuesday in Seoul and other cities.

Except for swinging clubs in a futile attempt to thwart the march of thousands of uniformed boys from Korea University in Seoul, police showed great restraint. They allowed more than 500 students to squat all afternoon before the National Assembly building, blocking the capital's main avenue.

The students demanded the release of arrested comrades and chanted against "corrupt, dictatorial, incompetent, barbarous, murderous, police state government."

Outsiders joined the students at dusk and began stoning mounted police.

The evening riot developed as the students, marching back to the campus, were attacked by about 50-toughs swinging clubs, iron bars and bicycle chains. The students counterattacked, drove off the thugs, then smashed store windows and attacked buses.

Curfew Law Starts Aug. 12

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken said Monday a bill setting up a statewide curfew for Michigan's young folks will become law without his signature.

Milliken, citing conflicting views of experts on juvenile problems, said he was doubtful the curfew would be very effective. But he declined to oppose the legislature's decision.

The curfew will take effect Aug. 12, if the legislature adjourns on schedule May 13. It will require children under 16 to be off the streets by midnight and those under 12 to be home by 10 p.m.

Children accompanied by parents, guardians or other designated adults would be exempted as would those sent on a special errand by parents or guardians.

ALBERT SCHWEITZER

Schweitzer To Play Story Of His Life

Dr. Albert Schweitzer, scholar, theologian, philosopher, writer, organist and physician, will perform in a movie of his life at 8 tonight in the Union Ballroom.

Perhaps best known for his missionary work in Africa and his ability to play the organ, Schweitzer will reveal his life as he reminisces of the days when he lived in Alsace, France and Africa.

He tells how he began study of the piano at the age of five, the harmonium at seven, and the organ at eight. At nine, he was able to substitute for the parish organist at church services.

It was only natural for Schweitzer to be interested in theology, being the son of a minister.

He tells of his attending lectures in theology and philosophy at the University of Strasbourg. He took a degree in philosophy, another in medicine.

But no degree was ever so hard to obtain as the degree in humanity dictated by his conscience.

"I settled with myself," he explained in his autobiography, "that I would consider myself justified in living 'til I was 30 for science and art."

"From that time on," he wrote, "I will devote myself to the direct service of humanity."

Thus combining his humanity, religion and knowledge of medicine, Schweitzer embarked on his trip for the French Equatorial Africa as tropical doctor and missionary.

Frederic March and Burgess Meredith will narrate the 80-minute colored film.

Admission will be free.

Delinquency Meeting Set

Ways of identifying and preventing emotional disturbance and juvenile delinquency in the elementary school child will be probed Friday and Saturday at MSU.

More than 300 citizens, educators, and youth agency workers will tackle this enigma at a conference on problem behavior of elementary children at Kellogg Center.

"One of the major conference objectives will be to generate inspiration for carrying on fearlessly the effort to deal wisely with problem behavior in the elementary child," explains Karl Kramer, conference chairman from the State Department of Public Instruction.

"Another goal," he adds, "will be to give participants some tools they can use when behavior problems occur."

Highlights of the two-day meeting include talks by Michigan Supreme Court Justice George Edwards; Dr. William Wattenberg, Wayne State University; and Robert Scott, director of the Children's Division, Michigan Department of Corrections.

A panel of specialists in child guidance will discuss means of preventing potential behavior problems.

Joining to sponsor the conference will be the Michigan Department of Mental Health, the Michigan Interdepartmental Staff on Children and Youth and the MSU College of Education.

IT'S "SWING Your Partner" and "Kick-two-three" as the Promenaders and Orchestras dance groups practice in the last minute rush for the "Kaleidoscope of Dance" held tonight and Wednesday. Dances will range from square dances to contemporary and tap dances.

Dancers Set Annual Show

"Kaleidoscope of Dance," the second annual spectacular sponsored by Orchestras and the MSU Promenaders with a cast of 70 will be staged tonight and Wednesday at 8:15 in Fairchild.

A review of current dance trends, the show will include jazz, modern, folk, comedy and interpretive numbers performed by groups of students.

Among the many numbers to be presented is "Man—Free, But Not Alone," choreographed by the dance production class with music specially written for the show by Oscar Stover, assistant director of bands.

Also included on the program are "Folk Holiday," a collection of folk numbers danced by the Promenaders; "Have Gun, Will Travel," a musical comedy number by Orchestras members; several interpretive presentations and some solos. Some tap numbers are also scheduled.

Admission is one dollar. Tickets will be available at the door.

Tickets on Sale

Senior Ball tickets go on sale today in the Union concourse. The semi-formal dance will be held April 29 from 9 p.m.-midnight at the Hotel Olds ballroom. A special feature at the annual affair will be the announcement of 80 club members. Tickets are $2 per couple.

Talks on Poetry

Dr. Stanley Townsend, head of foreign languages, will speak to the Lansing Poetry Club in the Blue Room of the Women's Club House tonight at 8. His subject will be "On Translating German Poetry."

Handbook Out

Sparta-Guide, a handbook for organizations, published by Organizations Bureau, is being mailed to all campus student leaders and presidents of organizations. John Barkham, director of organizations, stated, "This is the first time Sparta-Guide has been completely reworked. It will help student organizations do a better job for the student body."

First Big Parade of Spring Today

Nearly 2,500 cadets will participate in the first major ROTC parade of spring term this afternoon at 4.

Army ROTC will assemble in front of Dem Hall, the Air Force ROTC in the Fieldhouse. Both groups will be greeted by the ROTC Drum and Band Corps as they move onto Old College Field.

A platoon of military-police will stop traffic on Kalamazoo shortly before the parade begins.

Men's Glee Club to Present Spring Concert Saturday

The MSU Men's Glee Club, under the direction of Edward Richmond, will sing its annual Spring Concert Saturday in the Big 10 Room of Kellogg Center at 8:15 p.m.

Student Director is Robert Stemm, East Lansing special student, and Charles Young, Charlotte special student, is accompanist.

The concert will open with four sacred songs: "Christ the Lord Is Risen Today," medieval chant; "O Vos Omnes," by Vittoria; "All Glory Laud and Honor," by Teichner-Bach; and "The Last Words of David," by Randall Thompson.

English songs to be performed are "Masons, Lovely Maiden," by DeLasso; "Amo, Amas, I Love a Lark," anonymous; and "The Vagabond," by Vaughn-Williams.

Debussey's "Invocation" and Poulenc's "La Belle Si Nous Etions" will be followed by two choruses from "Tannhauser" by Wagner.

Folk songs and spirituals will include "Wake Thoe Now, Dear-est," "Cooche--folk song; "Black Is the Color of My True Love's Hair," Appalachian folk song; "They Call the Wind Maria," by Frederick Loewe; "De-Don't Toucha My Garmel," arranged by Robert Shaw; and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," arranged by Lillian Dawson.

Lighter music will be offered by "The Cabarets," a male quartet. Members are Robert Stemm, East Lansing special student; Bergen Bull, East Lansing sophomore; Norman Sahley, Cleveland, Ohio, junior; and Howard Lynn, Lansing freshman.

"MSU Fight Song," "To The MSU," and "Shadows" will conclude the program.

Books on Review

Have you ever been in Mexico? Have you ever thought about going or considered buying some of the wonderful crafts from our Southern neighbors? James Norman's book "In Mexico" will be useful to anyone who has an interest in Mexico, or in people and places in general. Norman, in a series of his subjects, brings old thoughts to new light, and his new thoughts he brings an enthusiasm for all that is Mexican.

Norman's book offers both enjoyment and reference value by providing a thorough selection of reference while weaving into the pages anecdotes and a sense of warm understanding which make for exceptionally easy reading. He divides the book into three parts and from then on, you, the reader, are on your own.

Some wind threads may be merely tied on to the article while the remaining portion is composed of hurray hair. Mrs. John Doe will find out later for all it comes out in the wash.

Once you take the initial step of looking at them up, you'll find yourself referring back a few pages and eventually reading the entire work. The primary purpose of the book is to tell the person who may visit Mexico "Where to Look" and "How to Buy Mexican Popular Arts and Crafts." This information has been carefully culled and presented.

How can the average American tourist buy one of the beautiful cloaks made of thousands of tiny feathers? First he must know that they exist, for many tourists come home from a vacation in Mexico still thinking that serapes and sombreros are their only commodity.

Once the desire for a certain product has been kindled, the shopper must find a place to buy the item and, if he knows that he has taken a year to make the garment and can bargain effectively, he may be able to purchase a beautiful item.

Many faulty articles are sold to thousands of ignorant tourists each year.

For example, many "Native Americans" do not know that a shirt dyed with authentic

Bagwell Set For Release From Hospital

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Paul Bagwell, expected to announce soon as a Republican candidate for governor, said he plans to leave the Lansing, Edward W. Sparrow hospital today. Bagwell has been hospitalized since a fall at his home March 14 required surgery to his right knee.

"I've been running ahead of schedule on my recovery and getting around pretty good," Bagwell said. "I only need a small check from my doctors before getting out."

Bagwell also said he would ask the MSU Board of Trustees for a leave of absence without pay starting May 1.

"There's no terminal date on the leave," Bagwell said. "Only the date I'll decide that."

Bagwell, MSU scholarship director, is expected to formally announce his candidacy at a fund-raising testimonial in Lansing April 29. Backers hope to raise some $10,000 to help pay his living and travel expenses during the campaign.

THE BIGGEST CUSTOM CONCERNING shopping is bargaining. This too is a part of Mexican life—the merchant would rather spend an hour bargaining than sell at 100 percent profit. For this reason James Norman spends an entire section on "The Art of Hagging."

Customs, history and folklore should go hand in hand with a shopping tour in Mexico. As you walk from store to store you will see lawyers, businessmen and bankers eating candies and "paletas" (popsicles). As you see the many idols (good and bad copies) in statue form or cut from stone for earrings you will see their history in large amounts. This is a part of the people.

Two educators from MSU are attending the 38th annual convention of the Council for Exceptional Children, a department of the National Education Association, in Los Angeles today through Saturday.

Attending will be John Jordan, professor of education and Harold Anderson, professor of psychology.

About 2000 educators from throughout the country are expected to attend the conference themed "Using Research and Experience in Educational Planning."

The program will feature panels of speakers on such topics as: exceptional children, community programs for handicapped children, and the emotionally handicapped child.

The Michigan delegation will take part in section meetings on current trends in speech improvement, a code of ethics for special education, research on gifted children and others.

American affairs, which would have been in character, he said he neither hoped for nor expected a Democratic draft.

Stevenson, returning from a two-months tour of Latin America in the middle of the political thunderstorm, has marched right into the open where the Democratic lightning can strike.

Rockefeller, emerging from a long preoccupation with the New York legislature, is going to take to the road again, putting himself back in the national limelight.

Both have been standing on the "no hope" line, Stevenson since 1956 and Rockefeller since his too-early campaign last year.

But spots of Rockefeller fervor have persisted throughout the country despite the walk-in generally expected for Vice President Nixon. His supporters will be watching closely to see whether reaction to his forthcoming speeches seems to warrant a stretch run. Even if they can't get the nomination for him, a show of power might get them other things at the convention and thereafter. Some of them also feel sincerely that Republican muscles are losing their tone from inactivity and need some form of fillip.

Stevenson struck the flint at a news conference in New York. Instead of dwelling on Latin probably also because the presidential bug is hard to kill. Normal political procedure, he really had hopes for a draft, would have been to take to the road this spring, helping to raise money for the party and patting governors and senators on the head.

Instead, he dropped almost out of sight, his Latin American trip being obscured by that of the ident Eisenhower.

His speaking program, he calls for appearances only at academic halls. He found out at the University of Virginia, however, that he can turn them into political forums if he wishes.

Whether he has been influenced by the indecisiveness of the Wisconsin primary, whether he senses a division of strength among other candidates which could lead to a convention deadlock, his actions no longer bear out his expression of no hope.

After 1956, however, he got the idea that a third attempt would hardly be worthwhile. He kept himself to the forefront as a student of world affairs because he is really interested, and

Seniors of the Week

SUE CLARK

DON STOVER

You've seen her everywhere on campus during the past four years — from Spartan Stadium where she was a sophomore reserve cheerleader, to the Journalism building library where she now writes the president's gavel at meetings of Theta Sigma Phi, national women's journalism honorary.

This seemingly tireless Senior of the Week is Sue Clark, an energetic blonde journalism major from Vicksburg with a 2.73 all-college average. Green-eyed Sue's multiple activities include the State News, where she was a night staff member, Union Board, Fraternity Council, the Sportade ticket committee, the J-Hop patrons committee, Sorority Sing committee, and the IFC-Panfil public relations committee.

This year, in addition to her campus activities, Sue also keeps a sharp eye on the finances of the senior class in her office as treasurer. With her flare for organizations coupled with hard work, she was selected for offices in her sorority, Alpha Phi, where she served as house manager, treasurer, and president. Although she has held a summer job on a hometown newspaper for four years, last summer, Sue left the typewriter and the copy pencil for the Champs Elisee and the Rue de la Paix — highlights of a European tour.

After graduation, her plans are to work on a daily newspaper or in the field of public relations.

Just name any campus honor and chances are, Don Stover is one of its members. The blonde Agricultural major has been active in Excalibur, Phi Eta Sigma, Blue Key, and Alpha Zeta.

Besides participating in these honorary activities, and maintaining a 3.24 all college average, Don also manages to spend a lot of time at the Wolverine office where he holds the position of business manager in addition to the title of "Organization Man" par excellence. According to reliable sources, he earned the title not only for his junior executive manner, but also because he comes complete with unique work with Madison Avenue type bachelor's quarters.

And to demonstrate his versatility, the blue-eyed Berrien Springs senior has made himself known in various campus organizations from Ag Council to IFC, where he was a chairman for the Big Ten Conference. He has also worked on water carnival and is secretary of his fraternity, Alpha Gamma Rho.

To round out a perpetually busy schedule, his jobs have included a stint as research assistant in the horticulture department (please don't eat the daisies) last summer.

Don's immediate plan after graduation this spring is to go on in post-graduate work in agricultural economics at MSU.

Anti-Biotics in Milk Discussed

Dairy Fieldmen Convene

Concern with animal health and anti-biotic control in milk will be the main topics of discussion at the Dairy Fieldmen Conference at Kellogg Center today and Wednesday.

J. M. Jensen, associate professor of dairy, who is in charge of the conference program says about 175 fieldmen from Michigan, Ohio and Indiana would attend.

Bell Ringers Make Chicago TV Debut

The Spartan Bell Ringers, a group of ten talented students who perform on English handbells, made their debut before Chicagoand TV audiences on the Fran Allison show over WGN-TV last Thursday.

Directed by Wendell Westcott, university carillonist, the popular music group also made a television appearance on Don McNeill's Breakfast Club last Friday.

The unusual music of the Bell Ringers springs from a handsome set of 49 finely-tuned handbells covering four octaves. Their mellow tones range from the baritone tolling of a four-pound bell to the tinkle of the tiny four-ounce model.

An illustrious Revolutionary War hero, Paul Revere, was the forerunner of bell ringers in this country. But it was not until after World War II that handbell ringing became popular on a national scale.

Director and organizer of the Spartan Bellringers, Wendell Westcott, has concentrated on carillon in England, Scotland, Belgium and Holland as well as in the U.S. He attended Bezaard-school to Mechelen in Belgium, the world's only carillon school, and organized the first handbell group in the Netherlands in 1957.

John Hazaran, of the U. S. Food and Drug Administration will discuss the control of anti-biotics and pesticides, Tuesday afternoon.

Other speakers will discuss related subjects Tuesday and Wednesday morning. A banquet tonight in the Centennial Room at Kellogg Center will feature Dr. G. M. Trout, professor of dairy.

The conference is sponsored by the dairy department and the Cooperative Extension Service.

Mutual Broadcast Network Resold

NEW YORK (AP) Sale of the Mutual Broadcasting System to Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. was announced Monday.

The change in ownership was the fifth in three years and the second during the past year for the radio network of 468 affiliated stations.

The manufacturing company acquired the net work from Albert McCarthy and Chester Ferguson, Tulsa, Okla., businessmen and owners since mid-1959. The purchase price was not announced.

Herbert Burtow, president of Minnesota Mining, said mutual will operate "with the greatest possible degree of independence."

DREAMING OF VACATIONS?

It's all right to dream of vacations, but it's wise for all juniors to start planning ahead to what you are going to do after graduation.

We suggest you consider working for Public Service Electric and Gas Company in New Jersey. With more than one billion dollars invested in plant, it is one of the leading utilities in the country. Public Service ranks fourth among the investor-owned operating utility companies providing both electric and gas service in the United States.

So start thinking now about next year... you would be wise to give Public Service serious consideration.

This Pitcher Can Really Hit 'Em!

Ron Burke of West Shaw 2 pitched a six-hitter and collected three home runs Monday to lead his team to a thronous, 15-1, win over West Shaw 1 in 1M softball. Burke walked one and struck out three during the shortened three-inning contest.

Rutterfield 4 scored three times in the last half of the final inning to edge Rutterfield 8, 10-9, in eight 1M action. Kilkirk was the winning pitcher.

West Shaw 4 held off a 1st inning rally by West Shaw 3 to emerge with a victory, 3-2. Marty Green pitched a two-hitter for the victors and drove in two runs with a triple.

Rather 1 overcame a seven-run lead passed by Rather 2 with 10 runs second inning to win, 10-7. There were only seven hits during the three-inning game that saw 21 walks allowed.

Emmons 7 scored 12 runs on only four hits to top Emmons 8, 12-10.

East Shaw 6 took advantage of 14 walks allowed by losing pitcher Robin to score 11 runs on but four hits. Six won the game from East Shaw 7, 11-5.

Two walks and a single by Dave Tyler enabled E. Shaw 2 to edge E. Shaw 1, 4-3. Laver struck out seven opponents for the victors.

In a three-inning slugfest, West Shaw 9 stopped West Shaw 8, 19-10. Metz homer for the losers.

Rather 4 outlasted Rather 3 in a three-inning game to win, 11-8. Lavers received credit for the victory.

Foster allowed two hits in pitching Rather 2 to a 8-2 victory over Rather 6. Laver also pitched for the victors.

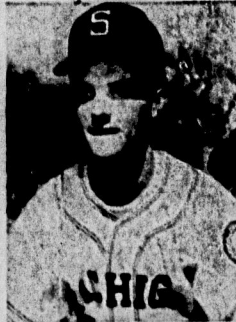

Rutterfield 1 was outbid in its contest with Rutterfield 2, 5-4, but managed to dent the plate four more times than its opponents to win, 9-5. El Alis slammed a double and a triple for tie winners.

Emmons 2 scored 11 times in the first inning and then held on to gain a close, 11-10, victory over Emmons 4. Ray Elbridge and Bill Doran blasted homers during the game.

In another tight contest, West Shaw 6 took advantage of 10 walks to edge West Shaw 7, 6-5. Each team picked up only two hits in the walk-loaded contest.

Five games were forfeited Monday evening. Rather 7 over Rather 8, E. Shaw 9 over E. Shaw 8, Emmons 2 over Emmons 1, Emmons 3 over Emmons 6, E. Shaw 4 over E. Shaw 3.

Gardner Will Remain

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Senators Monday were assured of keeping Billy Gardner, their new second baseman, regardless of what happens to catcher Clint Courtney.

Gardner came to the Senators two weeks ago from the Baltimore Orioles in exchange for Courtney and infielder Ron Samford. Under the original terms, Courtney's infected finger on his right hand had to heal sufficiently for him to play by today or the deal would collapse.

Oriole physicians reported last week that Courtney would be unable to play until next month. Club president Calvin Griffith of Washington and Lee MacPhail agreed over the weekend to extend the deadline on Courtney's condition until May 10.

1M Highlights

The dorm tennis tournament scheduled to begin tonight has been postponed until Wednesday, April 27, to enable the dorms to hold ball tournaments. The names of the two men to represent each dorm must be turned into the IM office by 5 p.m. Monday, April 25.

Fraternally tennis tournaments begin Wednesday. All teams should consult Wednesday's State News for pairings.

Team golf rosters are now being accepted at the IM office. Teams will consist of four men. This is an 18-hole medal play tournament and will be held Sunday, May 1, at the University course. Green fees must be paid at the time of entering. Deadline for the Michigan State intramural tennis tournament slips are due Friday at the IM office at 12 noon.

Spartans Win Despite Cold Bats

By JOHN SCHNEIDER
Associate Sports Editor

MSU maintained its unbeaten home record by topping Albion College, 6-0, Monday at Old College Field, before a gradually diminishing crowd of chilled fans.

The Spartans took advantage of the fielding lapses of the Albion nine, which included seven errors, five walks, four hit-batsmen, two pass balls and a wild pitch, to score six runs in the first two innings.

This weekend, State will begin its Big 10 action with single game against Purdue Friday and a twinbill Saturday against Illinois. Friday's game will start at 3:30 p.m. and Saturdays tilts are scheduled to begin at 1 p.m.

Coach John Kobs continued Saturday's pattern of using his pitchers in three-inning stretches. Wes Klewleki, Don Kurcz and Jack McCook combined to shutout the Briton sand held them to four singles. The Britons picked up one hit in each of the first four innings, but were held hitless the rest of the way.

State scored twice in the first inning when Ron Holmes led off with a single and was moved around to third on two walks by Albion's freshman hurler, Jim Papefus. Papefus then hit John Hendee, forcing in a run, and Hendee later scored on a pass ball after the Spartans had two men forced at the plate.

The second inning was a wild affair, as the Spartans scored four times on three hits, four errors, a hit batsmen and a pass ball. Holmes, Bill Schudlich and Hendee all singled during the inning.

State hit safely only five times during the game, with but one hit coming after the second inning. Holmes and Schudlich each had two and Hendee picked up one. Hendee was also hit twice during the game, raising his total to four for the last three games.

Coach Kobs substituted freely during the game using a total of 17 athletes. He also raised the number of pitchers used in the last three games to nine.

State's record now stands at eight wins and four defeats.

Spartan statistics for Monday's game: P-nose, 9B-Hendee, Holmes, Bill-Schudlich, Hendee, 2, Th-Schudlich, 8B-Klewleki, 5, Kurcz, 4, McCook, 3, 8B-Klewleki, 3, Kurcz, 1, McCook, 1, 8B-Klewleki, 3, Kurcz, 1, McCook, 0.

2-Mile Relay Unit Cuts MSU Quantico Record

By LARRY ZAMZOK

The MSU track team opened its 1960 outdoor season last Saturday at the Quantico Marine Relays when it broke the Quantico two-mile relay record.

The record was set two years previously by the Spartan team of Brian Castle, Fordy Kennedy, Dave Lean, and Willie Atterberry.

The new time is 7:33.1, bettering the old record by four and three-tenths seconds.

There were only two replacements on the new record setting team. Jim Carr and Bob Lake. Lean went back to Australia and Kennedy is no longer eligible.

Manhattan College grabbed the lead at the gun and held it to the first man, Lake, running third, took the lead and handed it to Atterberry who maintained it. The individual times were: Castle, 1:36; Carr, 1:53.5; Lake, 1:32.5; Atterberry, 1:51.1.

The distance medley relay comprised of Carr, Castle, Atterberry, and Lake, running the quarter, half, three-quarter, and mile, respectively, turned in its second excellent performance of the day placing No. 2, with a time of 10:08.8.

These four Spartans, besides breaking the two mile relay record, shattered the existing varsity distance medley record by 10 seconds.

The mile-relay team of Zach Ford, Carr, Castle, and Atterberry snared fourth place in that category with a time of 3:15.3. Despite winning their division, the Spartans failed to win the event by a shade over two seconds.

Gerald Gerhard captured two third places with his performances in the high jump and the hop-skip-and-jump. He vaulted 6'3" in the high and 44" in the latter event.

In the 440-yard hurdles, Atterberry placed third with a clocking of 52.3. Billy Reynolds brought home a fourth place in the 10,000 meter run with a 33 minute 19 second time.

Sonny Akpata, highly touted field star, had a case of what Coach Fran Dittrich calls "sophomoreitis", failing to place in either the broad jump or his specialty, the hop-skip-and-jump. Both Gerhard and Akpata turned in better performances in practice this week under poor weather conditions.

Assistant coach Jim Gibbard claims that it will be a two way battle in the mile relay at the coming Penn Relays, the biggest inter-collegiate track meet of the season. He explained that Yale had the fastest times in this winter's indoor season. But this was State's first outdoor meet.

Coach Dittrich was almost completely satisfied with Saturday's performance. All the disappointing facts, however, can be explained in that it was the first meet of the year.

Over 900 contestants flocked to Quantico, Virginia and completed in 95 degree weather.

SCHOENDIENST BACK IN ACTION—Back in harness after treatment for tuberculosis that sidelined him, second baseman Ed Schoendienst of Milwaukee Braves completes double play pivot and throw in National League opener at Milwaukee April 12. Advance to Olympic Finals 3 Wrestlers Romp to Titles, Another 3 Second at Toledo

Five MSU wrestlers have a chance to make the United States Olympic wrestling team after advancing to the finals.

The five, and one other, placed first or second at the Toledo regional last weekend.

Norm Young, Andy Fink and Ken Maidlow all copied championships at Toledo while Okla Johnson, Gary King and Merl Prebel were runner-ups.

King, a 147-pounder, injured his elbow in the final match with Larry Hayes of Iowa State and will not be able to go to the finals next week.

Young, a former Big 10 champion, copped his title at 136½ pound crown without being defeated. He surpassed Spartan Dave Chester, who placed third.

Maidlow and Prebel finished one-two at 191.

Johnson lost to Dick Wilson of Toledo U and a Pan American champion, in his 114½-pound division.

Heavyweight John Baum, who wrestling coach Fendley Collins called the second best heavy at the meet, hurt his elbow and didn't qualify at his weight.

Baum suffered his injury battling Bill Kershake of Cleveland who weighs 300-pounds and is eight time NAAU champion. He was also on the last two Olympic teams.

Other Spartan entrants at Toledo were Dave James, who placed fourth at 147½, and Jerry Jackard, a 136½-pounder, who hurt a rib in the second round.

ANOTHER LANE TRADE HITS AL AS SEASON OPENS

Junior Circuit In Full Swing

Rejuvenated Line-Ups All Through the League

The American League will play its first full schedule today with games at Chicago, Cleveland, Boston and Baltimore. The total gate for the two-day, five-game opening program is expected to approximate 150,000. The National's four openers April 12 drew 179,782 fans.

Bob Elliott, who succeeded Harry Craft at Kansas City, is the only new manager in the league. Two others were not around last opening day. They were Jimmy Dykes who took over at Detroit after Bill Norman was ousted in early May and Billy Jurges who replaced Mike Huggins at Boston in July.

A series of off season deals and retirements and the normal replacement of a number of veterans by rookies has resulted in a turnover of about 50 per cent from last year's opening lineup. In some cases, however, this is misleading. Regulars like Bill Skowron, who normally would have opened a year ago, were out of action only because of injuries.

Cleveland opens against Detroit in the Indians' Municipal Stadium and a crowd of 40,000 is expected to be on hand to see Rocky Colavito and Harvey Kuenn in their new uniforms.

The Indians traded slugger Colavito (42 home runs last year) to the Tigers for league batting champion Kuenn (333) Sunday in a straight player transaction.

The acquisition of Colavito gives the Tigers another badly needed long-ball hitter to team with Al Kaline.

Indians' manager Joe Gordon has picked Gary Bell (16-11) to replace Detroit's Frank Lary. The Indians have two new infielders with Johnny Temple at second and Bubba Phillips at third. Kuenn probably will work in the outfield although he also can play shortstop.

Besides Colavito, Detroit has added Chico Fernandez from Philadelphia at first base, and Steve Bilko at shortstop. The Chicago White Sox, bristling with new muscle, will open defense of their league championship at Comiskey Park against Kansas City before about 30,000. Since the Sox were

 For two Spartan tennis players this afternoon's tennis match at Detroit will be an unofficial homecoming.
 Capt. Bill Hotchkiss and Mel Saperstein, both from the Detroit area, will be among the varsity netmen doing battle with the University of Detroit at 3 p.m. on the Titans home courts.
 Hotchkiss, who played three years of varsity tennis at Grosse Pointe High School, will see action at the No. 2 singles position and at the No. 1 doubles spot with Roger Plagenhoef.
 Saperstein, a sophomore, who is trying to break into the Spartan line-up, played his high school tennis at Mumford in Detroit. He will be playing with Ron Messall at the No. 3 doubles spot.

'Trader Lane' Still Dealing, Score Exchanged for Latman

CLEVELAND (AP)—Herb Score, the former strikeout artist for whom the Boston Red Sox once offered the Cleveland Indians one million dollars, was traded to the Chicago White Sox for right-hander Barry Latman in a straight player swap.

Senators Win Opener

Red Sox Butchered, 10-1, Ike Tosses Out 1st Ball

WASHINGTON (AP)—Camilo Pascual struck out 15 for a new club record and his hit-happy Washington teammates smashed four home runs Monday in a 10-1 rout of the Boston Red Sox. President Eisenhower and a packed opening day crowd watched at Griffith Stadium.

Pascual, the brilliant Cuban right-hander, gave up only three hits in the most dazzling first day performance in the Capital in years.

Even one of the hits in the second was a spectacle. Ted Williams landed on a 3-2 pitch in the second inning and blasted the ball over the fence in deep center. The home run went over the 31-foot wall 420 feet from the plate. It was the longest hit out of the park since Mickey Mantle of the Yankees belted two over the same spot on opening day in 1956.

Jim Lemon, Bob Allison, newcomer Earl Batley and Billy Conzola laced homers for the Senators.

They and Pascual gave Eisenhower a relaxed going away present. The Chief Executive flew up from his golfing vacation at Augusta, Ga., to throw out the first ball for his last opening day game. He now sports a winning 4-3 record, as far as the Senators are concerned, for season-starting pitches since he assumed office.

Immediately after the game, he left for Augusta.

Pascual, curving 'em fast and slow, was superb in breaking a strikeout record set by the immortal Walter Johnson. Johnson had fanned 14 in 1910 and equaled the mark in 1924. Jim Shaw, another Washington hurler, also struck out 14 in 1914.

Lemon, Allison and Batley poled their homers off Tom Sturdivant.

Poor Olivet!

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—The University of Detroit belted a helpless Olivet baseball team all over the lot Monday as it took both ends of a doubleheader by the same lopsided score, 9-0. The double victory gave Detroit a 4-0 record thus far this season. Olivet is 0-2.

Deportation Of Painter Is Upheld

Back to Finland Ex-Communist

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court Monday upheld a deportation order against a 50-year-old Portland, Ore., house painter who was brought to this country from Finland when less than a year old. The painter, Willia Niukkanen, was ordered deported on grounds he was an active Communist party member from 1937 to 1939.

The court announced its ruling in an unsigned opinion. Justice Douglas wrote a dissenting opinion, joined by Chief Justice Warren, Justices Black and Brennan. This made the vote 5-4.

Niukkanen came to this country in 1909. He was ordered deported in 1933 and for seven years attacked the order in legal proceedings in federal courts.

The Internal Security Act calls for deportation of aliens who at the time they entered the United States, or at any time thereafter were Communist Party members.

Niukkanen's appeal to the Supreme Court cited a Dec. 9, 1937 decision by the high tribunal that overturned a similar deportation order against an alien who was a Communist Party member in 1935. In that case, the court said the record did not show the 1935 party membership was "the kind of meaningful association" to support the alien's deportation.

Niukkanen contended the 1937 decision applied also to his case. But the majority opinion said an able federal district judge had found that Niukkanen persuaded himself by denying membership in the Communist Party.

Niukkanen's case therefore differed from that involved in the 1937 decision, the opinion said, adding that the person involved in the earlier case admitted membership in the Communist Party but showed innocence of "meaningful association in the party."

Effects of College On Religion Studied

A questionnaire will be distributed to entering freshmen this fall in an attempt to determine the effects of four years of college life on religion.

According to Dr. Robert Anderson of the religion department, a similar quiz will be given at the end of the senior year. A comparison of the two questionnaires will show the influence of the university on the religious beliefs of its students.

Dr. Fauzi Najjar, assistant professor of social science and foreign studies, has received a grant from the Rockefeller foundation for research abroad.

Najjar will do research in the Middle East on the topic, "Democratic and Non-Democratic Patterns in Arab History and Thought," from October, 1960, to September, 1961.

His headquarters during this time will be the Center for Islamic Studies at American University, Beirut, Lebanon. The grant provides a living allowance as well as research funds.

Najjar is originally of Lebanon but is now an American citizen. He earned the BS degree at the American University, Beirut, in 1948 and the MA and PhD degrees at the University of Chicago in 1950 and 1954. Before coming to MSU in 1956 he was an instructor at the American University.

A member of the American Political Science Association and the American Oriental Society, Najjar is the author of several professional articles on political and social aspects of modern Arab life.

School Building Effect Studied

Does the physical structure of a high school building affect the development of attitudes toward learning by its student body?

This is the question Dr. Karl Hereford and staff members of the College of Education will attempt to answer during the year for the United States government.

The research project, officially titled "The Relationships between School Design and Utilization and Personnel Interaction," will be financed by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"We will attempt," said Hereford, "to determine whether a campus-plan high school, or school-within-school pattern, in which students are decentralized in smaller school houses, affects inter-personal attitudes more than the conventional high school structure."

The claims for the campus-plan were varied, he said. By having several different schools within one high school, the problems of traffic congestion, peer and student-teacher relationships are limited to one small area of one building, rather than to a larger area of the entire high school.

"Methods for the decentralization of pupil population may be classified into three types," Hereford said. "In one group, pupils are dispersed according to subject area centers. For example, science teaching occurs only in one area, wing, or cluster of the building."

Another type of an arrangement would be the grade-level area where students are dispersed according to grade-level centers, he said.

The third type would be the cross-sectional area where pupils are dispersed into little school units, each containing a cross-section of the total population.

For example, in a secondary school of 1,800 pupils, 600 pupils from grades 10, 11 and 12 are housed in each of these areas, fingers or clusters of the building for substantial periods of time.

"During the next year," said Hereford, "the research faculty will be studying 300 outstanding high schools throughout the country. From that group, the research faculty will analyze the characteristics of 32 schools extensively."

The project is coordinated through the Bureau of Educational Research which is located within the College of Education.

The Red Cross staff members attending classes this term are: Mrs. Audrey Bassett, a field representative from Washington, D.C.; Marna Murphy, a disaster service representative from San Francisco; Paul Jacobsen, a disaster service representative from St. Louis; and Harrison Straub, assistant director of disaster service in the Southeast area from Atlanta, Ga.

The main goal of these students who attend school one or more terms is to attempt to solve major problems of the American Red Cross.

The idea for the present program developed in a conference held at Kellogg Center in 1957. Classes for training the management staff of the Red Cross are now held in Charlottesville, Va.

Dr. Edward Moe, Dr. Charles Loomis, and Dr. Sheldon Long of the sociology and anthropology department are working with the American Red Cross on this program.

It's what's up front that counts

You can reproduce the experiment. It's easy as "A". (Yes, you can do it in the bathtub.) Assuming that you have first visited your friendly tobacconist, simply light your first Winston and smoke it. Reasoning backwards, the discovery proceeds as follows: first, you will notice a delightful flavor, in the class of fresh coffee or of bread baking. Obviously, such flavor cannot come from the filter. Therefore, it's what's up front that counts: Winston's Filter-Bread. The tobaccos are selected for flavor and mildness, then specially processed for filter smoking. This extra step is the real difference between Winston and all other filter cigarettes. Besides, it's why Winston is America's best-selling filter cigarette.

"Eureka! Winston tastes good... like a cigarette should!"
