High Court Plans Last Decision

Governor Denies Appeals to Delay

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—Calm and composed, Caryl Chessman went to a small prison waiting cell Sunday, starting a suspenseful all-night vigil next to San Quentin's gas chamber. The hour set for his ninth day with death is 10 a.m. Pacific daylight time (noon EST) today.

Only two hours before that, seven California Supreme Court justices will convene to give their decision on the convicted sex killer's latest petition for a stay. The court has voted 4-3 three times against clemency.

In Sacramento, Gov. Edmund Brown rejected appeals for a reprieve.

He turned down A. L. Wirin, American Civil Liberties Union attorney who flew from Los Angeles to plead that Chessman should be reprieved until a new Supreme Court Justice takes the bench June 1, after which a new appeal might receive a change from the 4-3 vote which three times has turned Chessman down.

Chessman's new petition, asserting innocence, was filed Saturday and asked delay in the execution until Attorney General's investigators could find three men Chessman declared could prove he was not the 1948 "Red Light Bandit" of Los Angeles lovers' lanes.

The Attorney General's office said agents were looking around the clock for the three men.

Today was the second time Chessman has been in the holding room. The other time was Feb. 18. Gov. Brown halted all executions for 60 days.

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Gov. Edmund Brown Sunday rejected eleventh-hour pleas to reprieve Caryl Chessman.

Three Hollywood stars and two professors called on the governor at the executive mansion with an appeal to spare Chessman's life.

Brown told newsmen afterward: "I am powerless to act."

The group included Steve Allen, Marlon Brando, Shirley MacLaine, and University of California Professors Eugene Burdick and Richard Drinnon. Drinnon is chairman of the East Bay Committee for Abolishing Capital Punishment.

Brown said they asked him to grant a reprieve while a petition is circulated for an initiative measure to abolish capital punishment.

He said such action on his part would be an abuse of his power and "a violation of my conscience."

Activities Carnival Positions Still Open

Petitioning for committee chairmen and members for Activities Carnival will continue through Wednesday. Petitions may be picked up and filed at the Union desk, Union course, and Women's Division.

Committees include publicity, programs, theme, organization, entertainment and correspondence plus a secretary and treasurer.

Activities Carnival is sponsored by AWS under the chairmanship of Pat Wineland, Jackson Jr.

Tri Delt Scholarship Applications Available

Applications for the two $100 scholarships offered by the local chapter of Delta Delta Delta are due May 9.

Any MSU coed is eligible to apply for the scholarships which are offered for next fall term. Applications may be picked up in the Women's Division until Wednesday.

ANOTHER EXCITED COED runs the happy saunter to receive her cap after hearing her name called for Mortar Board tapping at May Morning Sing Sunday morning. Twenty-five coeds were tapped into the senior women's honorary.

Coeds Honored at Breakfasts

Mortar Board, Tower Guard Tap 60 in Traditional Rites

Sixty coeds were honored Sunday morning as Mortar Board tapped 25 junior women and Tower Guard elected 35 outstanding freshmen women at May Morning Sing.

The Men's Glee Club sang "Brother Sing On," "No Man is an Island" and "To Thee MSU" as part of the program.

A brass choir, directed by Byron Autrey, assistant professor of music, played "Two Marches" with the accompaniment of Wendel Westcott, associate professor of music, on the carillon.

Mortar Boards, old and new, and their parents, were honored by Pres. John A. Hannah at a breakfast. Tower Guard was similarly honored by Spartan Women's League.

New Mortar Boards are: Jane Bingham, Gainesville, Fla.; Elizabeth Buschlen, Lansing; Marjorie Clark, East Lansing; Jane Denison, East Lansing; Carol Dressel, East Lansing; Mary Eberhardt, Richmond; Margaret Fleischer, Detroit; Judy Fudge, Holt; Gloria Gammon, Detroit; Mary Hannah, East Lansing.

Judy Huber, Midland; Judy Kaufman, Chicago; Dolores Lindhart, Tenafly, N. J.; Bonnie Lathell, Detroit; Jean MacLeod, East Lansing; Beverly Mike, Detroit; Marcia Mitchell, Grand Rapids; Miltie Moore, East Lansing.

Angelyn Napoli, Chicago; Marjorie Rols, Kalamazoo; Jayne Sausser, Muskegon Heights; Linda Templeman, Findlay.

Soviets Parade Guns, But May Day Is Quiet

Castro's Audience Impatient, Ike's Effigy Hanged in Tokyo

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union paraded soldiers, guns and standard rockets through Moscow's Red Square under overcast skies Sunday in a traditional observance of May Day.

Marshal M. V. Zaharov, former commander of Soviet troops in East Germany, emerged as the new Soviet chief of staff. Zaharov succeeds Marshal Vasily Sokolovsky, who has been in ill health.

With the Paris summit conference coming up May 16, the Russians showed none of the frightening weapons of which Premier Nikita Khrushchev spoke in an address last January to the Supreme Soviet.

Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, the May Day speaker, said that, despite improvement in the international atmosphere, the Soviet Union felt obliged "to maintain vigilance and keep defense at a high level."

He said nothing, however, to the Russians are planning to demonstrate military or scientific advances before Khrushchev meets with the Western big three government chiefs in Paris it must be by other means, perhaps a moon or Mars rocket.

Menderes To Stop All Rioting

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Premier Adnan Menderes declared Sunday he is determined to put an end to any further demonstrations against his government.

An army communique warned that arms would be used to back him up.

Istanbul was under a 24-hour May Day curfew. Troops guarded the city in which foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization are meeting tomorrow for a periodic review of Western defenses against communist aggression.

Menderes' statement was broadcast by the government-controlled national radio and followed another strong warning against disorder issued by the military commander of Istanbul.

Both implied that army troops were prepared to use arms to put down any further anti-government demonstrations.

The 61-year-old premier said: "I will put an end to situations in which unrest, riots and street scenes are staged in this country. We have called upon those elements which staged demonstrations last week to comply with laws forbidding further outbreaks. I don't know whether they will comply, but we are determined to put an end to the whole idea."

Menderes claimed the opposition Republican People's Party incited last week's student riots in Istanbul, Ankara and Izmir "because the opposition is jealous of my achievements."

Czech Diplomat Advises Peace Treaty

Berlin (AP)—Jack-booted, steel-helmeted troops of the Communist East German People's Army goose-stepped through East Berlin today in honor of May Day.

Allied officials issued a statement to remind the world that such parades violate an agreement with the Russians that no German military units are permitted in the divided city.

Music Fraternity To Hold Dance

Phi Mu Alpha, professional music fraternity, will sponsor an All-University dance, "Let's Get Away From It All," Friday from 9-12 p.m. in the Union ballroom.

Live music to end mid-term blues will be provided by the Phi Mu Alpha Sextet. Admission is $1.25 (75 cents stag). Tickets will be on sale at the door.

Phi Mu Alpha's annual jazz concert is planned for May 10.

1,786 Pints Donated

Blood Drive Falls Short By More Than 200 Pints

The spring term blood drive ended Friday after 1,786 pints of blood had been collected 214 less than the 2,000-pint goal.

This year's figure was nearly 300 hundred over last year's, according to blood drive chairman, Capt. Major Donald Miller, East Lansing Jr.

Even though the goal wasn't reached we think the drive was very successful and are very happy with the results," Miller said.

Eighty-one percent of the blood was donated by persons in either Army or Air Force ROTC. In total pints, the Army ROTC donated 865 and the Air Force ROTC 921.

Although the majority of the blood came from the ROTC, Miller said without the persons not affiliated with the military departments, the drive would have been very short.

Miller said he would like to thank everyone who helped make the drive a success and is certain that the people served by the Ingham County Blood Bank are very grateful for the large turnout.

The blood drive was sponsored by the Armed Air Society and the Army Officers Club, two ROTC groups.

Rattner's Methods Subject of Movie For Faculty Club

The MSU faculty Men's Club will see a first showing of the film, "The Creative Method of Abraham Rattner," Tuesday noon in the Union Parlors.

Rattner is visiting professor and artist in residence in the Art department at MSU.

The film is an appreciation of the man and artist conceived by Allen Leaps, an associate professor of art. Leaps also started the production.

The film was completed by Edward McCoy, assistant professor and head of film production in the audio-visual center, who will discuss some of the problems and methods involved in interpreting such faculty members and their contributions on film.

Rattner stands at the height of his power and also at the height of his recognition as an artist according to Prof. Bennett Sandefur, president of the Men's Club.

Two House Fires Occur on Campus Over Weekend

Two dwelling fires occurred on campus over the weekend, East Lansing firemen reported.

A roof fire Friday afternoon, at 3794 College Road, the home of Norris Slee, university employe, burned through to the attic and into one of the bedrooms, firemen said.

Fire department officials reported Mrs. Slee had thrown some papers into the furnace and the roof caught fire from the sparks.

Mrs. Slee called fire fighters and the blaze was soon extinguished. Officials said firemen made a very good stop on this fire.

Another blaze broke out early Sunday morning at 903 Cherry Lane in the apartment of Charles Joiner, political science instructor, firemen said.

Flames were confined to an overstuffed chair, firemen said, but there was heavy smoke damage on everything in the apartment.

Fire Marshall Phillip Patriarcho said the fire is believed to have been started by a cigarette.

AUSG 'Admiration Society' Springs Up

A MUTUAL admiration society for self-perpetuation evidently has sprung up in Student Government.
In the first of two extra sessions of Student Congress, Bryce Plapp, speaker of the outgoing congress, who presided over the extra session, appointed himself as a fraternity representative to the incoming 10th Congress.

Although Plapp received the recommendation of IFC for the position, it seems a bit beyond the bounds of taste that he appointed himself to the new position over protests.

Representatives Arnold Hoffman and Barry Boughton protested Plapp's self-appointment on the grounds that the speaker of the former congress cannot appoint members to the new congress. This is a technical point, but it would appear to be an unhealthy situation if the outgoing speaker could appoint himself to whatever job he might desire.

PLAPP is unquestionably qualified for the position and has earned it through long and able service. It seems that it might have been more democratic to leave the position open until a new speaker is elected (particularly since Plapp is one of the candidates) than to resort to self-approval.

In answer to the protest, Plapp cited a resolution passed last year which created the extra organizational sessions. He said that since the old speaker presides at these sessions, he has the right to make new appointments.

This seems to be another case of the same old story that (at least in our experience) when Student Government needs justification for something it wishes to do, there is always some regulation somewhere to fill the need.

'Tall Story' Sure Is!

"CAMPUS LIFE at MSU could never be like this." That's what the advertising says.
Yet, every day, millions of movie-goers across our nation are being given the impression that campus life at MSU is like this.

Those of you who have already seen "Tall Story," now playing at a local theater, know what we are talking about. Those of you who haven't already seen the movie would do best to take our advice and not bother.

Not only does the picture contain some of the most warped values ever perpetrated on a movie screen, but it gives the impression that these values are part of the "rah! rah!" spirit at American colleges in general and MSU in particular.

The impression is given that MSU is a haven for athletic coaches who are having trouble with "too much academics" at other institutions.

After getting a glimpse of our 76,000-seat stadium and five swimming pools, we can hardly blame Warner Brothers for picking MSU as the place where their fictitious coach would most like to work. But we wish that they'd at least include us in a higher calibre picture next time.

Why They Don't Care

IT SEEMS that MSU is not the only university to experience apathy at the polls when it comes to campus elections. In a recent all-school election at the University of Kansas some of the write-in votes included such "students" as: Bob Hope, Harry S. Truman, Bing Crosby, and Charlie Brown.

We would imagine there were quite a few students here who would have liked to have done the same thing.

"We Should Get Together More Often"

Letters to the Editor

Hits New Coed Housing Set-up

To the Editor:
Last week's official-looking white sheets from the housing office were posted on the bulletin boards of the residence halls requesting girls to sign for three-girl rooms and enter a new phase in "community living."
In our dormitory no intelligent explanation was given as to the specific reasons for this change. The possibility of an increased enrollment and a weak attempt on the part of the housing mother to quiet the girls' protest by saying that "it might be fun to have three in a room" does not seem to be a sufficient explanation.
If three-girl rooms are absolutely mandatory, then the $253 board and room fee per term should be reduced. An attempt by the administration to "soften the blow" by furnishing free linen seems ridiculous.

Another possible solution to the problem would require the university to change one of their traditional laws of regimentation. If the housing facilities are going to be this limited, why not allow 21-year-old students to move into so-called unapproved housing?
This goes back to the old, but nevertheless true, argument that at the age of 21 students should be treated as adults, especially in the university which supposedly paves the way toward maturity.
We realize the arguments of crowded living conditions, limited study and closet space, and general confusion are not strong enough to stand up to those of a public institution who has to accommodate as many students as are qualified to attend.
All we want now is a full explanation of the situation and some definite action to remedy it.

More of Same

To the Editor:
Today has been a momentous day. We have just discovered that the Administration has decided to forward the principle of togetherness. The way in which they chose to promote this is by placing an additional student in each of our gracious, spacious rooms.
With this new proposal we will no longer have to seek to find the needed companionship we have so long desired.
We wish to congratulate the Administration on this wise decision and conscientious effort to correct this long overlooked problem. The only thing we wonder is if these administrators would not like to join us in our gracious, spacious rooms.

S'News 'Goofs'

To the Editor:
I am surprised to find myself given as the source of misinformation on topics with Ultra-sonics in an article printed on page 2 of the State News for April 27.
While it is true that I discussed some of these topics with a State News reporter, it is also true that a large part of that article is made up out of "information" not given by me.
Paragraph one, particularly, is attributable to the sensationalism of your reporter, and not to the Physics Department.
As a student, I do not feel myself qualified as a spokesman for the Physics Department; furthermore, Physics is not primarily concerned with practical applications. That is why I referred your reporter to the College of Engineering.
In short, I did not discuss the cooling of rocket nose cones by ultrasonics with your reporter, and any such statements should not be attributed to me.

ROTC, Maybe?

To the Editor:
The moral values instilled into youth by sound military discipline have been admirably illustrated in the recent history of Germany and Japan. The young men of these countries were neither soft nor pampered, nor were they burdened with a useless ballast of impractical humanistic knowledge.

Russia Ready For Surprise

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia may try to put a man in space before the May 16 opening of the Big Four summit meeting in Paris, Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) said Sunday.
"They have been very quiet in the space field and I'm certain that Khrushchev's sense of timing will once again be in the picture prior to the summit meeting," said Jackson.
"He was interviewed on the ABC-TV program, 'College News Conference.'
Jackson is chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on National Policy Machinery, which has been holding hearings on the state of American science and technology.

Book Review

Farrell Novel Traces Ascent And Fall of Overnight Success

By JOHN MORGAN
The question framed in the title of Henry Farrell's new novel is asked frequently enough, not of Baby Jane perhaps, but of the "type" which she represents: the overnight success—the shamefully untalented, but cute, child star whose inaptitude becomes more obvious with age.
The question is here asked of Baby Jane Hudson, the "Diminutive Dancing Duse from Duluth," one time darling of vaudeville. It is asked also of her sister Blanche, former silver-blonde beauty of the screen.

WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO BABY JANE?
By Henry Farrell
Kinehart, 245 pages, $3.00

Farrell uses television's late, late show as a device with which to invade the ungrateful solitude of filmdom's graveyard and to awaken in Baby Jane the insidious ambitions and the animosities which time, drink, and a fickle public had etherized for years.

The Hudson sisters, each of whom gained separate and distinct successes, were both of an earlier entertainment era—an era the memories of which had become quite as dulled and insignificant as are their present lives.

An answer to the separate fates of the Hudson sisters was to be found, literally, in Blanche's mansion, as well as what the mansion symbolically represented—in its rigidity, its declared but shallow expression of what is fashionable rather than timeless in the arts.

Baby Jane, now faded and gawdy in her withering years, was, like the mansion which imprisoned her, vulgarly endowed with a capacity for appealing to what was merely "the mode." She was the passing fancy of the esthetically unwashed.
Because of her inability to adjust to the vagrant demands of her audiences, she had, in fits of drunken jealousy, suffered an ungraceful professional demise. Her fame as the lovable child star, idol of millions, had become gradually and totally obscured by the brilliance of a new star, her sister Blanche.

Blanche Hudson's success in films was even more spectacular than was Baby Jane's fame in vaudeville. In her earlier years, she had been the unfortunate "other" child in a family which was dominated by the cruelly overwhelming success of her precious sister. With the growing popularity of movies, however, vaudeville and Baby Jane soon "died," and Blanche assumed the family spotlight.

The years have since dimmed Baby Jane's jealousy as well as Blanche's film glory, which was abruptly ended by a mysterious accident that left Blanche invalid and, paradoxically, dependent on the near-demented Baby Jane.

But now, the late, late show had cruelly ripped the scab from old wounds and all of the former resentment, drunkenness, and animosity had returned with T.V.'s showing of Blanche's films.
Henry Farrell's book is a tragically grotesque tale of ego devastation. However conceivable it may be that I have attributed to this story a point which Farrell had no intention of making, his indifferent, somewhat flimsy manner of form and style provided precious little help for that matter, incentive, in my attempts to grasp at anything concrete.

He is, otherwise stated, "non-categorical." The story is an interesting, if not intriguing one nevertheless, and readily appreciable as, if nothing else, a breather.

Democrats Warn Eisenhower They'll Fight Political Attacks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic leaders have sent word President Eisenhower the nearness of the summit conference will not deter their retaliation if he tries to tag Congress as do-nothing.

Democratic chiefs have made it clear to their Republican counterparts that Eisenhower can expect a major political explosion if he indulges in budget-busting attacks in a session talk to the nation tonight or in a special message to Congress later.

Eisenhower obviously would like a little domestic tranquility as he had the heads of the Western states are talking with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Paris this month. Democrats generally agree that would be a good idea. But they insist that if Eisenhower does not what they regard as a political campaign document shortly before he takes off for Paris May 14, he needn't expect any more of the same.

House speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) and Senate Majority leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) are especially sensitive to Republican contentions that the Democratic controlled Congress isn't doing anything in the last few months but pass a civil rights bill.

They shrug off attacks on this score from the Republican National Committee. But they have made it clear they won't take it lightly if the President makes any budget-busting and do-nothing slogans his own.

Whatever he may say in tonight's TV-radio appearance, Eisenhower was reported to be preparing to ask in his forthcoming special message for the end of election year cooperation with the Democrats that might be the exception to the rule.

Some of the Republicans to whom the President read portions of his message last week described it as conciliatory. They said Eisenhower will dwell on some length on the mutual security program, urge agreement on a farm bill he could sign, ask again for bond guarantees for classroom construction and propose a voluntary general-state health insurance plan for the elderly.

The lack of any final agreement within the administration on the terms of the health proposal has held up the dispatch of the message to Congress.

The Democrats have their own ideas about these subjects and some others. The indications are strong that they will give Eisenhower several opportunities to use his veto power and see just what he can do in Congress he needs to obtain his rejections.

Rayburn has promised action on expansion of social security coverage, medical aid to the aged and school construction. In addition the house may act on minimum wage and depressed farm bills.

Most of these measures won't be in a form satisfactory to

Tukey Is Elected Vice President By Hort Society

Dr. Harold Tukey, head of the department of horticulture, won international recognition when he was elected vice-president of the International Society for Horticultural Science recently.

His election took place at the society's council meeting in The Hague, The Netherlands. Tukey represented the United States at the meeting.

He was also named chairman of the International Commission on Fruits.

The International Society for Horticultural Science is a newly formed group working toward drawing together work of various scientific horticultural organizations in each country.

MSU is among 54 colleges and universities which have won recognition from the American Alumni Council for "distinguished achievement in the development of alumni support."

The Council pointed out that the awards program is designed to broaden the base of gift support for American education. The judges indicated that improvement and consistently good performances in alumni giving were honored with top awards going to efforts which enjoyed spectacular gains in a short space of time.

MSU's answer to the fashion-conscious personalities featured on the ultra feminine pages of Vogue and Harper's Bazaar could very well be Ann Slabaugh. Impeccably groomed, and moving in the aura of Arpeggio, this Senior of the Week, manages to participate in a host of activities while maintaining a 2.89 all college average.

A Home Economics major from Mansfield, Ohio, Ann has been active in the Retailing Club for 4 years and seems to have a penchant for serving as secretary to various campus organizations.

To date she has been Junior class secretary, Spartan Spirit secretary, Union Board social committee secretary and High School Cooperation secretary. And to add one more set of minutes to her file, she was elected secretary of her sorority, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

In addition to these duties, Ann has been a Blue Key hostess for four years, a member of Fresh-Soph Council and the Union Board of Directors, and is Senior Council's chairman of Senior Swingout. Utilizing her interest in haute couture, she was also the commentator of the Union Board fashion show and of the Farmer's Week fashion show.

Although she has been a member of the college board at Lord and Taylor's in New York, after graduation Ann plans to join the westward movement to California for a retailing job in a Los Angeles department store.

Although Lee Tussing, a Forestry Products major, may sometimes stay up nights wondering how much wood a woodchuck could chuck wood (this may end automation), said problem apparently hasn't interfered with his campus activities, which are beau coup.

Maintaining a 2.7 all college average, this versatile Senior of the Week has been tapped for Phi Eta Sigma, Green Helmet, and Blue Key.

A member of the IFC president's assembly, and chairman of the 1958 Publications banquet, Lee is now Commencement chairman for Senior Council and was Junior Council's publicity chairman.

He was also a member of the Water Carnival publicity committee, the IFC rush committee, the Greek Week publicity committee and the IFC goals committee. Besides wielding a frantic foil on the freshman fencing team, the Kettering, Ohio, senior has served as Junior 500 comptroller, and as president and treasurer of his fraternity, Lambda Chi Alpha.

As for post-graduation plans, Lee says that he may either head for the West Coast or possibly cha cha down to South America to work in sales or production of wood products.

'Accidents Happen to Others'

Opinion polls and surveys of the driving public have consistently indicated that some 90 percent consider themselves "average" or better drivers. The principal reason for rating themselves so competently is the fact that these drivers have never had an accident in many years of driving.

In short, most people believe that "accidents happen to the other drivers who are not as competent as myself."

This poses a serious problem to traffic safety workers who know from accident analysis that drivers are not as good as they should be, and that accidents can happen to anyone.

Delivers involved in most fatal accidents, for example, have no prior accident record.

While the traffic accident problem has many complexities, the most difficult to do anything about is the individual driver. The fact that it is the individual driver and not the highway or the vehicle which is the basic cause of most accidents seems to carry little conviction except to traffic safety workers.

Since September of last year, the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police have been conducting an educational program aimed at voluntary compliance with traffic laws. Based on Michigan's accident facts, which show that traffic violations contribute as a cause in 8 out of 10 fatal accidents, the association attempted to call the public's attention to the traffic law violations which occur most frequently in these fatal accidents.

These violations are: ignoring stop signs and signals; driving too fast for conditions; drinking and driving; driving too closely to the car ahead; wandering out of the proper lane and failure to yield the right of way.

Seminar Planned At Kellogg Center For Management

A Financial Management seminar, designed to increase the efficiency of the top-level corporation executive, will be offered May 8-11 at Kellogg.

The financial management of a corporation has assumed increasingly greater significance in recent years, according to conference officials. This seminar will stress recent developments in the field and the problems of integrating financial management with the objectives of the firm, they said.

During the week-long course, participants will study the role of financial management, organizational objectives and problems, taxes, budgeting, business forecasts, governmental environment, and other related topics.

The seminar is one of a series of management programs.

Women Enthusiastically Begin Softball, Tennis Seasons

By JANE WACKARBARTH
Co-eds turned out with a lot of enthusiasm for the first week of spring intramurals by participating in softball last week.

The scores were relatively low in most of the games, but the Tri-Deltas outshone their opponents in their two games with scores of 9-1 over Off Campus and 11-5 over the Thetas.

South Williams defeated Gilchrist by a large score, 10-1, on Tuesday but Gilchrist rebounded to beat the DZ's 7-3 on Friday.

The Alpha Phi's had the highest score when they slaughtered Sigma Kappa's 14-1. Phillips also won by quite a large lead over East Yakeley, 12-5.

The block scores of last weeks games were: Block I: Delta Delta Delta 9, Off Campus 1, Delta Delta Delta 11, Kappa Alpha Theta 5; Abbot 2, Van Hoosen 0.

Block II: South Williams 10, Gilchrist 1; Alpha Phi 14, Sigma

Kappa 1; Gilchrist 7, Delta Zeta 3.

Block III: East Landon 7, North Campbell 5.

Block IV: Mason 4, West Landon 1.

Block V: Phillips 12, East Yakeley 5; Alpha Delta Pi 4, Alpha Xi Delta 3; Williams 2, South Campbell 0.

Games scheduled this week are:

Monday: Phillips vs. Alpha Xi Delta

South Williams vs. Delta Zeta

Kappa Kappa Gamma vs. Snyder

Tuesday: Off Campus vs. Kappa Alpha Theta

Sigma Kappa vs. Gilchrist

Wednesday: East Landon vs. Kappa Kappa Gamma

West Landon vs. West Yakeley

Pi Beta Phi vs. Alpha Omicron Pi

Thursday: East Yakeley vs. South Campbell

Delta Delta Delta vs. Van Hoosen

Phillips vs. Alpha Delta Pi

Coed tennis intramurals got under way last weekend. Thirty-six coeds are enrolled representing ten women's dorms and nine sororities. Living units are divided into five blocks.

Coeds have received lists of the players and must make arrangements to play matches before their scheduled deadline. Half of the matches must be played by May 9 and the other half by May 23. Finals must be played by May 30.

Players are ranked according to their ability and no substitutions may be made after the first match is played.

Matches will consist of winning two out of three sets. The winner of each match will receive 2 points, the loser, 1 point.

A match may not be postponed, and must be played and reported by the deadline stated. If arrangements to play cannot be made, neither player will receive any points.

If a player fails to appear for a scheduled match she will be eliminated from further play and no one may take her place. The opponent will receive 2 points. Such cases should be reported in writing to Miss Jane Rider, intramural advisor in 130 Women's gym.

Forms to report the matches are available on Miss Rider's desk. The results must be turned in by 5 p.m. of the deadline date.

The tennis courts are open for intramural play every day from 3 to 5 and on week-ends.

Unbeaten Golfers Take Third Match From Hillsdale, 15-3

Michigan State's golf team won its third straight match, Saturday, by downing Hillsdale College, 15-3, at Forest Akers Golf Course.

Northwestern and Wisconsin invade East Lansing today for a triangular meet with the Spartans. The match is scheduled to start at 12:45 at the Akers course.

Tad Schmidt and Ty Caplin tied for medalist honors Saturday. Both shot 75's on the rain soaked course.

Tim Baldwin swept three points from Ed Sawson of Hillsdale in the top seeded match. Baldwin fired a 79 in his opponents 93.

Schmidt's 75 helped him garner 2 1/2 points from Don Button who shot a 85.

Jack Reynolds defeated Del Karnes 2 1/2 to 1/2. Reynolds shot a 79 during his 18 hole match. Buddy Badger was held to a tie by the Dale's Jack Fauster. Both fired 83's for 18 holes. Fauster was low man for Hillsdale.

C. A. Smith, with 76 strokes, took 2 1/2 points from John Savarino of Hillsdale.

Caplin picked up three points with his medalist winning 75. He defeated Jerry Agar, who had to settle for an 88.

The Northwestern win was the sixth 5-6 victory this season for the netmen, who take on Wisconsin this Friday and Illinois this Saturday in their last two home appearances of the year.

Coach Stan Drobac had nothing but praise for his team.

"The top three men started showing new fire at Minneapolis," said the coach. "Einer and Hochkiss played some of their best tennis, and Smith improved with every game."

Roger Plagenhoef continued to play excellent tennis. The husky Holland junior was the only Spartan to sweep three single matches. Plagenhoef, who is now 6-0 in the Big 10 and 13-2 in the season, is conceded the best chance to gain a seeded position at the Big 10 Championship meet at Evanston, Ill., May 19-21.

State's attack received an unexpected blow when Ron Mescall, the Spartans' No. 5 man, twisted his ankle in a single match against Minnesota. Mescall continued to play despite his injury. But he was nowhere near his season form as he dropped two out of his three matches.

Dr. James Feurig said he felt Mescall would be ready for Friday's Wisconsin match.

Because of the weather and airline reservations, the Spartans' match with Minnesota was limited to 10-game pro sets, and to eight-game pro sets against Iowa.

Streak Now 15, Mescall Hurt

By ROGER LIFS
A come from behind victory over Northwestern enabled the MSU tennis team to run its unbroken string of victories to 15 in a marathon tennis meet held in Minneapolis, Saturday.

The quadrangular contest was scheduled as a two-day meet. However, due to heavy rains Friday all the action had to be crammed into an 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. period Saturday.

The men, apparently undisturbed by the bad weather and their rugged schedule, rolled past Minnesota and Iowa by scores of 6-3 and 7-2. However, Northwestern was a different story. The Wildcats made the Spartans work as they took the first three singles matches but the determined Spartans stubbornly hung on to pull out the victory, 5-4.

The Northwestern win was the sixth 5-6 victory this season for the netmen, who take on Wisconsin this Friday and Illinois this Saturday in their last two home appearances of the year.

Coach Stan Drobac had nothing but praise for his team. "The top three men started showing new fire at Minneapolis," said the coach. "Einer and Hochkiss played some of their best tennis, and Smith improved with every game."

'Versatile' MSU Offense Blasts 'Pittsburgh', 52-0, in Mud Bowl

By JIM WALLINGTON
State News Sports Editor

Versatility was the word following Saturday's football scrimmage which saw a talent-stacked Green squad wallop a White team, 52-0.

The eight Green touchdowns showed the versatility of the Spartans' double wing-multiple offense. Because of the mud bowl in which the game-type scrimmage was held in, there was little or no passing.

"We were able to score seven times on ground thrusts," said Duffy Daugherty, head football coach.

The other score, which was the last, came on a pass from Leroy Loudermilk to Jason Harness.

Daugherty played his first three strings on one team for a purpose. He assigned the White squad, made up of fourth stringers and reserves, to use Pittsburgh's offense and defense to allow the first strings to become acquainted to Pitt's style of play.

Pitt is the Spartans' first opponent this fall. The most spectacular touchdown of the scrimmage came when end Wayne Fontes, playing with the third Green squad, intercepted a lateral from White quarterback Pete Smith and romped untouched into the end zone.

The other TD's were rung up by Gary Ballman, George Salinas, Herb Paterra, Don Stewart and Ron Halcher, who went in twice.

Art Brandstatter and George Azar had four successful conversions between them.

Salinas, a sophomore (next fall) from Canton, Ohio, was the outstanding fullback of the day.

Besides the touchdowns, he intercepted a pass and was the leading gainer in the next to last scoring drive with 35 and 15 yard gains.

Saturday was also a good and hard day for quarterbacks. Tommy Wilson and Don Stewart didn't particularly have an enjoyable time. Wilson had a pass intercepted which almost was turned into a touchdown.

But the third and fourth string signalcallers, Loudermilk and Paul Hrisiko, engineered their squads expertly. On one drive Hrisiko threw 13 and 12 yard passes.

The first three strings were well defined. On the first unit were Wilson, Mitch Newman, Bob Snel and Gary Ballman in the backfield; and Dick Oxendine, Jim Corgiat, Pete Kakela, Micky Walker, Azar, Howard Mudd and Dave Manders on the line.

Mudd and Azar are sophomores.

The second string boasted backfield men Stewart, Rocky Ryan, Larry Hadas and Ron Halcher; and linemen Dave Bearman, Ed Budde, Mike Biondo, Fred Boyles, Tom Winko, Lonnie Sanders and Brandstatter.

On the third string were Loudermilk, Salinas, Jim Eaton, Ron Watkins in the backfield; and Jim Kanucka, Tony Kumioga, Oscar Hahn, Fontes, Ernie Clark, Ken May and Dave Her-

Major League Round-Up Pittsburgh Keeps Rolling, Chicago Bounces Into 1st

Pittsburgh rolled to its ninth straight victory in the National League, its longest winning streak since 1944, and Chicago swept into the American League lead Sunday by taking a doubleheader from slumping Detroit.

Robert Clemente's home run with the bases loaded in the first inning launched the league-leading Pirates on the way to a 13-2 romp over Cincinnati. The victory put the Pirates two full games ahead of second place San Francisco. Both the Giants and the Los Angeles Dodgers had an unusual Sunday open date.

Milwaukee fought off a last-inning Phillie rally for a 5-4 triumph with the help of five straight hits by Billy Bruton, including its first home run of the year.

Tony Taylor collected four hits and drove in three runs in Chicago's 9-4 victory over St. Louis. Don Elston stopped a Cardinal threat in the eighth.

Cleveland took a pair from Kansas City, 6-4, and 3-1, with two rookie pitchers, Wynn Hawkins and Dick Stigman, going the route. Bubba Phillips drove in

1960 U. S. Olympic Hopefuls Perform 'Superbly' in Meets

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—John Thomas, Ray Norton and Bill Nieder headed the list of top United States track and field Olympic hopefuls in the Penn and Drake relays.

Important from a Olympic standpoint were Thomas' world record leap in the high jump, Norton's record tying performance in the 200-meter run and Nieder's victory over Parry O'Brien in the shot put.

Thomas of Boston Univ. cleared the bar at 7 feet 1 1/2 inches in the Penn competition to better the world record of 7-1 set by Russia's Yuri Stepanov. The Russian used special shoes since ruled illegal.

Nieder, former Kansas ace now an army officer, tossed the 16-pound shot 63 1/2 feet, turning back O'Brien and Californian Dave Davis at Drake. O'Brien, who holds the listed world record of 62.4 feet, did 63 1/4 feet, Davis 61 3/4 feet. Nieder has pending for a world record a toss of 63-7.

Tigers Drop Nos. 5 and 6 To White Sox

CHICAGO (AP)—Gerry Staley and southpaw Frank Baumann supplied brilliant relief pitching Sunday, giving the Chicago White Sox 6-3 and 5-2 victories over the Detroit Tigers.

A crowd of 29,586 saw the Sox extend their winning streak to 5 games. The loss left Detroit with six straight defeats.

Al Kaline hit a solo homer for Detroit in the fourth inning of the first game and Al Smith pounded a two-run homer for the Sox in the second—the second homers of the season for each.

The Tigers damaged Dick Donovan with a walk and singles by Bolling and Rocky Colavito before Baumann came to the rescue in the ninth. From then on they were powerless, as the southpaw scattered three singles, struck out 4 and walked 2.

Uncle Tom's Boys Take IM Golf Title

Uncle Tom's Boys picked up three honors in the intramural golf tournament held Sunday afternoon at Forest Akers course.

Uncle Tom's won both tourney and independent titles and had the low man of the day, Lew McDonald.

SAE took the fraternity title with a 333 total and the two Shaw teams, West and East, clocked for dorm honors with identical 370's.

The champions bested 26 other teams with a 309 four-man total. McDonald's 75 was tops out of the 103 golfers in the competition.

The other Uncle Tom's links-men were all under 80. John Marquart had 77, Bob Painter 78 and Jerry Painter 79.

Evans Scholars were independent runner-ups with 350.

John Overguard with 80, Mike Row with 80, John Mason 84 and Bill Tolleite 89 gave SAE its 333 total to runner-ups ATO, 346.

The West team members and their totals: Dave Sjberg 86, Ron Scheafer 90, Jim Eggert 91, B. Green 101.

The East squad: Fred Sparkes 87, Bob Mitchell 89, Lassman 93, Barry Jones 101.

A GUIDE FOR THE LOVELESS
Gentlemen, take warning. June is almost upon us—June, the month of brides. Have you got yours yet? If not, don't despair. You don't have to be rich or handsome to get a girl. All you have to be is kind, considerate, thoughtful, and obliging—in short, a gentleman.

For example, don't ever call a girl for a date at the last minute. Always give her plenty of advance notice—like three months for a coke date, six months for a movie, a year for a prom, two years for a public execution. This shows the girl that she is not your second or third choice and also gives her ample time to select her costume.

And when you ask for a date, do it with a bit of Old World gallantry. A poem, for instance, is always sure to please a young lady, like this:

*I think you're cute,
Daphne La France,
I'll put on a suit,
And take you to a dance.*

In the unlikely event that you don't know any of these poems, Daphne La France, try this:

*I think you're cute,
Winifred Jopp,
I'll put on a suit,
And take you to a hop.*

In the extremely unlikely event that you don't know either of these poems, try this:

*I think you're cute,
Isabel Pratt,
I'll put on a suit,
And take you to a ball.*

Have You Got Yours Yet?

If there is no Isabel Pratt, Winifred Jopp, or Daphne La France on your campus, it is quite obvious why you've had trouble finding dates all year; you've enrolled in an all-male school, you old silly!

Next let us take up the question of etiquette once you are out on a date with Isabel, Winifred, or Daphne. The first thing you do, naturally, is to offer the young lady a Marlboro. Be sure, however, to offer her an entire Marlboro—not just a Marlboro butt. Marlboro butts are good of course, but whole Marlboros are better. You get an extra inch or two of fine flavorful tobacco—and I mean flavorful. Do you think flavor went out when filters came in? Well, you've got a happy surprise coming when you light a Marlboro. This one really delivers the goods on flavor, and when you hand Isabel, Winifred, or Daphne a whole, complete, brand-new Marlboro, she will know how highly you regard and respect her, and she will grow misty and weak with gratitude, which is very important when you take her out to dinner, because the only kind of food a college man can afford to feed in a weak and misty condition is a half times her own weight every twelve hours.

At the end of your date with Isabel, Winifred, or Daphne, make certain to get her home by curfew time. That is gentlemanly. Do not leave her at a bus stop. That is rude. Deliver her right to her door and, if possible, stop the car when you are dropping her off.

The next day send a little thank-you note. A poem is best. Like this:

*For a wonderful evening, many thanks,
Isabel, Winifred, or Daphne,
I'll take you out for some more merry pranks
Next Saturday if you'll have me. © 1959 Mac Graham*

We can't give you rhyme but we'll give you good reason why you'll enjoy Marlboro and Marlboro's unfiltered companion cigarette, Philip Morris. One word says it all: flavor.

Teenage Girls Keep Poor Diet for Beauty

Speaker Says Nutrition, Fashion Go Hand in Hand

Nutrition and fashion go hand in hand in beauty for young girls and women this spring and summer. Mrs. Sigana Earle, director of food and homemaking for "Seventeen" magazine, and Rita Adrosko, department of textiles, clothing and related arts, MSU, spoke at the concluding session of the joint Michigan Dietetic Association and Michigan Home Economics Association conference Saturday afternoon at Kellogg Center.

Speaking on teenage nutrition, Mrs. Earle said that the teenager today is "malnourished." The high school teachers and college instructors are after a way to reach the teenager on the subject of nutrition.

"The lines this year are the restrained curved lines and the loose straight lines," she said. Paris shows the skirt line for spring and summer easy and swinging. Abbreviated jackets are designed for the petite figure. Elongated jackets for the larger figure.

Miss Adrosko said that the accessories for spring and summer are simple. The textures are soft and flowing. Colors are bright and light. Skirts are getting wider but the narrow skirt is still in trend," she said.

Miss Adrosko demonstrated her talk with a new visual aid device put out by the Vogue pattern company. She said that the aid is useful for instruction in both high school and college classes.

Presiding was Miss Margarette Lofink, consultant in home-making and family life education, Department of Public Instruction.

Miss Bonnie Lane, state editor of Future Homemakers of America, gave the greetings. Miss Margaret Zacharish, director of home economics, Lansing Public Schools, introduced the speakers.

Registration records showed that 495 registered for the three day joint conference this year.

BILL HAMPTON, Bloomfield Hills senior, received the outstanding senior award from Jerry Franz, (D), Lakewood, Ohio senior, at the Senior Ball Friday night.

United Fund Conference Slated

Michigan United Fund board members will meet for their annual conference May 3-4 at Kellogg Center to lay plans for the 1969 campaign.

More than 250 are expected to attend. Guest speaker will be Walter Landlaw, executive vice-president of the United Foundation, Detroit.

Orientation sessions will be held for new members, and various budget problems will be examined. Registration records showed that 495 registered for the three day joint conference this year.

New Teaching Media To Be Revealed in Fall

New educational media, designed to aid both the learning and teaching processes in the classroom, will be revealed at MSU next fall.

New uses for motion pictures, video tapes and other audiovisual aids, film strips, slides, radio and television will be presented by some of the nation's outstanding educational researchers at a conference at Kellogg Center.

The conference will bring together representatives of those who do research, and of those who guide research policy and the use of research results from a seven-state area.

The fall conference will not only reveal new educational media, but will demonstrate the use of the media and enable the conference participants to evaluate it in the light of their own particular needs, points out Dr. John Parsey, conference chairman from the MSU College of Education.

Teaching will not be overlooked, he adds. However, the concern will be how the new media and related devices can take over some of the mechanical teaching, help the teacher to teach more effectively and free more of her time for the kind of creative teaching that only a human being can do, he states.

Prof. W. T. Astbury, department of biomolecular structure, Leeds, England, will give a general talk on "The Chemical Basis of Life" at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Room 122, Kedzie.

Prof. Paul Boyer, department of physiological chemistry at the University of Minnesota, will speak on "Recent Advances in Oxidative Phosphorylation" at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Room 122, Kedzie.
