

MEMBERS OF THE MSU Army ROTC detachment step out for Old College Field Tuesday afternoon to march in the Deans and Faculty Day parade.

Clubs Join In Exhibit At Festival

MSU's three national clubs for international activities are joining forces for the first time to present their groups' story to the public.

International Relations Club, Model UN, and Delta Phi Epsilon, all affiliates of national student organizations, are preparing a combined exhibit for the International Festival on May 14.

The club is sponsored by the Foreign Policy Association of New York.

Model UN is affiliating with the Collegiate Council for the UN, part of the worldwide student movement to support that international organization.

D-Phi-E is a national professional fraternity for men interested in careers abroad in government and business.

Don Emerich, Lansing senior and president of the 50-college Midwest Region of the international relations group, said the nationals offer chances for discussion and exchange with students at other schools.

Model UN is discovering, said Pres. Jorge Limantour, Mexico City senior, many advantages of national affiliation. Since MSU is the only school with a permanent organization holding frequent model sessions, Limantour finds other students greatly interested in the East Lansing program.

D-Phi-E National Vice President Noble Bright, Jr., administrative assistant at the Pakistan Project, said that the 100 graduates who have sought jobs abroad since the chapter was established here in 1955, have found the fraternity's national reputation and its interested alumni a great help.

All or Nothing, Big Three Pledge on Summit Talks

AAUP Resolution Hits Hannah, Board

By BILL KIELMAN, JR.
State News Night Editor

Adoption of resolutions "regretting" the decision of the Board of Trustees to continue compulsory ROTC at Michigan State and censuring Pres. John A. Hannah for "failure" to "support the vote of his faculty on a curriculum matter" was announced Tuesday by the local chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

The resolutions were adopted at a meeting Monday night. They referred to action of the Board of Trustees on April 21 declining to place ROTC on a voluntary basis as recommended by the Academic Senate.

Dr. Hannah said "The state constitution makes the Board of Trustees solely and exclusively responsible for the operation of the university, and their action on the ROTC matter makes it a closed issue as far as I am concerned."

Chairman of the Board of Trustees Connor Smith pointing out that "I represent the public on the board," said he believed the consensus of public opinion was for the retention of compulsory ROTC.

The resolution censuring Dr. Hannah read:

"The recent vote of the Academic Senate calling for the termination of compulsory ROTC was neither endorsed nor disapproved by the President of Michigan State University. It is clearly the prerogative of the President to have a personal position on the matter of compulsory ROTC. However, in his capacity as President of the University, he has a clear obligation to support the vote of his faculty on a curriculum matter. The AAUP Chapter censures his failure to do so."

The other resolution read:

"The rejection by the majority of the Board of Trustees of the recommendations of the faculty concerning the basic ROTC requirement implies either that the deliberations of the faculty were ignored or that they were considered to be incompetent, irresponsible, uninformed, or all three. The action of the board is regrettable and not in the best interest of the university."

Dr. Ray Denny, professor of psychology, local AAUP president, said the vote on both resolutions was "practically unanimous."

Dr. Roger Wescott, associate professor of social science and president of the MSU Teachers Union, said his organization regards the AAUP's action "as honest, forthright, and courageous."

"We endorse them wholeheartedly."

Chairman Smith said that "as far as I'm concerned, the issue is settled for the time being."

"The faculty doesn't want to consider this a closed issue," maintained Denny.

Smith did not agree that ROTC was entirely a matter of curriculum. He said that he respected the faculty's voice in curriculum matters, and said that he would be willing to leave these matters to the faculty.

"I repeat that we have a faculty second to none, but there was more than the faculty to be considered," Smith said.

"I still maintain that this ROTC question got outside the realm of academic affairs," he added.

NORMAN THOMAS

Thomas To Talk On Rights

Denial of civil rights and civil liberties within some unions is one aspect of civil rights to be discussed by Norman Thomas in his address at the MSU Labor and Industrial Relations Center at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Thomas, who was one of the organizers of the American Civil Liberties Union some 40 years ago, will also take a look at civil rights in other segments of American society.

The six-time candidate for the Presidency on the Socialist Party ticket has been involved in many struggles in support of the rights of workers to organize.

In one of his battles for free speech, free assemblage and picketing, he spoke at a mass meeting in Terre Haute, Ind., challenging Paul M. Nutt's "Hoosier Hitlerism." As a result of the meeting, the right to picket was restored and ultimately, military law was abandoned.

Thomas' lecture in Fairchild Theater will be open to the public.

Eisenhower Praises U. S. Arsenal

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower Tuesday inspected the Army's awesome arsenal of nuclear weapons. Then he declared that anyone who says America has "gone soft" and can't defend itself is mistaken.

Among the weapons the President saw was the spectacular new Davey Crockett short range and portable atomic gun. It was publicly displayed for the first time.

Secretary of the Army Wilber Brucker said of that weapon which can be fired by two men: "Davey Crockett dwarfs in fire power anything we had ever known in the immediate area of the battle line."

And the Army added that civilian populations would not be endangered by its blast and that danger from radioactive fallout would be minimized.

In a spectacular firepower demonstration of various new weapons, the Army used no nuclear warheads, of course. But it did use live conventional ammunition. Eisenhower watched intently through binoculars as time after time targets on the range were hit with pinpoint accuracy.

The fire power demonstration included the shooting of rockets from hovering helicopters and the launching of Honest John and Little John missiles with conventional warheads. The newest of Army tanks also took part in the display.

Cold War 'Detente' Is Sought

Western Powers Outline Program

ISTANBUL (AP) — The Western Big Three pledged to their NATO partners Tuesday they will seek an all-or-nothing understanding with Russia to end the global cold war at the summit.

No piecemeal settlements would really relax East-West tension, it was agreed.

Turkish tanks stood guard at the far end of the plaza from the new city hall where the 15 foreign ministers of the NATO Council met and reached these conclusions. But only one incident marred an otherwise quiet day.

Fifty students assembled for an anti-government parade near Taksim Square in the heart of the city but troops with bayonets leveled moved in and dispersed them before they could form ranks.

These were the highlights of the NATO Council session as related by senior authorities.

Secretary of State Christian Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville assured their allies any stopgap deal arranged by President Eisenhower and the summit chiefs on Berlin will leave Western rights intact. Otherwise, they promised, there will be no deal with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev at the summit meeting in Paris.

Herter, Lloyd and Couve de Murville stressed they will demand that Russia quit trying to upset governments such as those of West Germany, Greece and Iran—if a detente really is wanted. Detente is a French word widely used by diplomats to mean relaxation of tension.

Lloyd declared there could be no selective detente, and truly peaceful coexistence requires an end to Soviet defamatory campaigns against such countries as West Germany, Greece and Iran.

On Germany all accepted a Western Big Three idea for an all-German plebiscite which Khrushchev will hear about. The plebiscite would let East and West Germans decide if they want unity or continued division as the Soviets desire.

On disarmament it was arranged that the West would seek Khrushchev's help in trying to break the impasse in East-West negotiations to end the world arms race. It was decided to propose a few concrete measures and to do some real talking in secret at the Paris meetings on this.

President Eisenhower and Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan will have separate sessions with the Russians to settle the two main obstacles holding up agreement to quit nuclear weapon tests. The allies hope the talks will open the way to signature of a treaty by mid-summer.

Bicycle Owners Issued Warning On Parking Rules

Bicycles will be picked up as abandoned property if they are not parked in the bicycle racks or the immediate adjacent area of the residence halls, the department of public safety reports.

In order to mow grass and maintain the campus grounds, bicycle operators are advised to comply with the regulations.

In addition to bicycles not parked in the bicycle racks, unused bicycles left in the bicycle racks will be removed on or after June 12, 1960.

These bicycles will be picked up as abandoned property and disposed of in accordance with university ordinance.

Tenth Congress Appoints Speaker

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower appealed to the Democratic-controlled Congress Tuesday to pass up politicking and get down to legislating for all America in these closing months of the election year session.

"Too great a preoccupation with events of an election year could seriously impede constructive effort," Eisenhower said in a special message.

"We should jointly resolve that the shortness of time and political rivalries will not be allowed to prevent us from serving the American people effectively."

Democrats on Capitol Hill greeted the above-politics tone of Eisenhower's message with who-does-he-think-he's-kidding skepticism.

American Awarded Lenin Peace Prize

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russians Tuesday night announced the award of the Lenin Peace Prize to industrialist Cyrus Eaton, who repeatedly has called for better understanding between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Tass described the Canadian-born industrialist, who now lives near Cleveland, as "a public figure whose activity is an example of courageous service to the lofty idea of peaceful co-existence between the peoples."

The prizes, at last accounting officially valued at $25,000 each, used to be called Stalin prizes. They are awarded to persons the Soviets consider have made outstanding contributions to peace. Other 1960 winners were: President Sukarno of Indonesia, described as "actively carrying through an independent foreign policy aimed at the strengthening of universal peace."

Laurent Casanova of France—called "one of the initiators of the peace movement."

Aziz Sharif, described as "a public figure of Iraq whose life is inseparably linked with the Iraqi people's struggle against colonialism and for the consolidation of international peace and friendship." He is a leader of the "peace partisans" in Baghdad.

In Cleveland Eaton's office reported he was making an inspection tour of iron ore mines at Steep Rock, Ontario, and could not be reached immediately for telephone comment on the award.

Eaton, who was 76 last Dec. 20, is chairman of the Steep Rock Iron Ore Mines, the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, the West Kentucky Coal Co., and a director of several other large corporations. In 1954 he sponsored the first in a series of "thinkers' conferences at his ancestral home

Concert Set By Women's Glee Club

The MSU Women's Glee Club will give its spring concert in the Music Aud. on Sunday at 4 p.m. Ethel Arneling, assistant professor of voice is director, and Stephanie Kocia, graduate organ major, is accompanist. The public is invited.

A special feature of the program is a performance of "The Sunken Village" by Llywelyn Gomer (pseudonym of Gomer L. Jones, of the Music faculty) with the composer at the piano. Two songs by James Niblock of the Theory-Composition staff also will be heard.

The glee club will begin with a group of sacred songs. After the performance of Gomer's "The Sunken Village", an instrumental trio will play the Poulenc "Sonata for Horn, Trumpet and Trombone." Performers are Carolyn Mawby, trumpet, Mary Seeburger, French horn, and Ruth Seeburger, trombone.

The concert closes with five songs: "Spring" by Prautsch, "I Will Give My Love an Apple," by Dr. Niblock, "A Shepherd Kept Sheep" by Thiman, "I Know Where I'm Goin'" arranged by Scott, and "Little Bird, Little Bird," arranged by Kubik.

'Grapes' Film Praised As Thought-Provoking

By CARLETON ALSOP

The film version of the Steinbeck novel "The Grapes of Wrath", played to two full houses Monday night at Fairchild Theatre, and proved to give a valuable and truly thought provoking evening for its audiences.

In spite of distracting qualities such as the age of the film and a very young Henry Fonda, the audience had no difficulty responding to the power and emotion displayed.

The plot traces the emigration of the Joad family to California, which they believed to be a land of opportunity. Chased from their homes by the rich land owners and their powerful machines, the Joads load all their belongings on a broken down truck and set out.

They encounter and endure hardship, frustration, and heartbreak but remain together, for in the family as a group lies their strength.

Throughout the film, separating the most emotional or depressing scenes, are necessary touches of relieving humor which the audience savors. In addition to this, there is displayed some very fine character acting which lends a great deal to the overall realistic aspect of the film.

In general, it is safe to say that the "Grapes of Wrath" is a film that provokes thought about an area which few people consider.

For instance, the effect of mechanized living on the lives of the Joads and people like them at the time of the depression and the great dust bowls, and the possible effect of push button living on the lower classes in the future.

The "Grapes of Wrath" provides an indeed worthwhile evening.

It all added up to the traditional eve-of-wedding atmosphere: busy, gay, rushing and clustered.

Traffic was already clogging around the edges of Parliament Square as police installed wooden gates in the streets.

The bridal procession will go from Buckingham Palace to the Abbey and back, a round-trip of two miles and 488 yards—if the meter in the taxi Tuesday was accurate.

Along the whole route, workmen were erecting tall white poles, like the masts of a ship, and tipping them with umbrella-shaped canopies of gold cloth.

Great banks of red and yellow tulips were in a fury of bloom in front of Buckingham Palace and around Parliament Square.

The center piece of this flaming floral display is an arch in the mall. It is 60 feet high. On Thursday night, it will be covered with roses.

Two columns of flowers, nine feet high, will stand on both sides of the high altar in the Abbey.

MSU Plays Host to Big 10 Meets; Track, Golf Course Made Ready

Two of Michigan State's spacious outdoor athletic facilities are being spruced up for the staging of Big Ten championship meets.

Ralph H. Young Track Field and the Forest Akers Golf course are the sites being manicured for the conference track and golf championships to be held on campus for the first time Friday and Saturday, May 20-21.

Most of the work is centered on Young Field. Runways to the high jump, pole vault and broad jump pits are being black-topped to conform with league standards. Bleachers for 3,000 fans are being moved from the east side to the west side of the track, so that the sun will fall behind the spectators. And this has brought about the shifting of sprint lanes from the east side of the field to the west side.

A temporary press box is being erected back and above the west stands opposite the main finish lines to handle the anticipated heavy press coverage.

"With the work we are doing, we think we'll have one of the finest outdoor setups that exists," says Track Coach Fran Dittrich.

Over on the Akers 18-hole layout, Golf Coach Ben Van Alstyne reports that no special efforts will be made to toughen up the course. "We think the course is plenty good as it stands, and it's in excellent shape," he said.

Dad-Burned Shame Hoosiers' Dickens Again; 'One Helluva Recruiter'

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Phil Dickens is a stocky country-looking man who'd like nothing better than to be sitting on a creek bank with a fishing pole in his hands. He's the kind of fellow who says "Dad-burn" when he means something stronger.

It's not the kind of man you'd expect to be the center of a storm over illegal football recruiting.

But Dickens was known as "One helluva recruiter" at little Wofford College in Spartanburg, S. C.

The Big 10 suspended him in 1957, his first year as head coach at Indiana University, for alleged lavish recruiting practices.

And today, with the responsibility of building a football team to pay for a new, 45-million-dollar stadium, mild-mannered Phil Dickens is in the middle again.

The NCAA says Indiana violated its football recruiting rules, and all of Indiana's teams are on probation for four years — banned from post-season games and tournaments and NCAA sponsored TV contests.

"It's a dad-burned shame," Dickens said.

"We thought we'd done everything possible to avoid anything like this," the Hartsville, Tenn. native said. "Neither I nor any member of my staff ever made any offer of any kind to any boy, or had knowledge of such an offer. This is the gospel truth."

Three years earlier, when suspended for one year by the Big 10, Dickens commented, "I was not aware of violating Big 10 rules. I didn't intend to violate the rules."

A few months earlier, shortly after IU signed Dickens to a four year contract, he said, "We'll get the job done."

The nature of the job was no secret. Indiana, long a weakling in Big 10 football, wanted a winning team. Dickens was the man picked to do the job.

He enraged Wyoming football fans by walking out on a newly signed three-year contract after coaching the Cowboys to a 10-0 season record and the Skyline conference championship.

After sitting in the stands his first year, Dickens' Indiana football team came back and compiled a 5-3-1 record in 1958, including a 15-15 tie with Purdue.

Last season Indiana had a 4-4-1 record and fans began to flock to old Memorial Stadium to see Dickens' charges in action.

I. U. alumni began to boast of the team's football feats for the first time since Bo McMillin, who brought the Hoosiers their only Big 10 football championship in 1945.

Lou Groza, Frank Howard To Headline Football Clinic

LOU (THE TOE) GROZA ... highlights football clinic ...

College Prep Coaches To Meet at MSU

Lou Groza and Frank Howard, two of the greatest names in most colorful personalities in football, will headline the Football Coaches Clinic at Michigan State Friday and Saturday.

Groza is probably the greatest place-kicker in the history of the game. After his college career at Ohio State, he led the Cleveland Browns professional team where for a number of years he had been a star.

Groza consistently has been among the NFL leaders. He is regarded as one of the league's outstanding offensive players, having been named several years to the all-league team and being nominated for eight bowl games in nine years.

Howard has been head coach at Clemson College in South Carolina for nearly 20 years, started there right after his graduation from Alabama where he was known as "herd of Red Elephants."

He has taken Clemson into six bowls, including the Orange Bowl twice. This season his Tigers won ten regular season games, then met and defeated the Christian in the Blue Bowl at Houston.

The clinic, which annually attracts several hundred Mid-West and West prep and college coaches, will be held in Spartan Stadium Saturday afternoon between 1 and 4 p.m. The MSU varsity will be on hand.

Cincinnati U. Shifts Athletic Staff

CINCINNATI (AP) — George Smith, who coached the University of Cincinnati's basketball team to third place in each of the last two NCAA tournaments, today was named athletic director at the school. His team last season was rated no. 1 in the nation in the Associated Press poll.

He succeeds M. Charles Mileham who was given a newly created job of assistant to Vice President Ralph Borseick.

Ed Jucker, who has been an assistant to Smith, was named head basketball coach in a wholesale shakeup.

Rain Hampers Schedule Minnesota Takes Command Of Big 10 Baseball Race

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Minnesota, shooting for a third straight Big 10 baseball championship, has taken command in the Western Conference race by drubbing Michigan twice in a doubleheader.

The Gophers scored 10-3 and 11-2 victories Saturday while much of the conference schedule ran into weather difficulties.

Three doubleheaders were rained out, Illinois and Indiana split, with the Illini winning 8-0 and losing 1-4.

Inclement weather canceled three twin bills, Northwestern at Wisconsin, Ohio State at Purdue and Michigan State at Iowa.

Minnesota took a full game lead over both Ohio State and Wisconsin who won their openers but were weathered out Saturday.

The Gophers blasted five homers Saturday among their 10 extra base hits behind the rout-going performances of Howard Nethé and Clyde Nelson.

In the only other doubleheader played Saturday, Ernie Kumerow limited Indiana to four hits while his Illini teammates piled up 11 hits.

However, Terry Gellinger was not as effective and gave up four runs in the first inning to suffer the loss.

Conference play continues Friday with Michigan at Michigan State, Iowa at Indiana, Purdue at Northwestern, Minnesota at Ohio State and Illinois at Wisconsin.

Luro Views Derby Field

Louisville, Ky. (AP)—Vic Luro, the trainer of Vortia Park, Canadian candidate for Kentucky Derby, said Tuesday that if Bally Ache got a fast and no one forced the pace, "I can kiss the money goodbye."

Luro said that a pace of seconds or better for the half-mile would be necessary to slow Bally Ache down in the later stages.

Someone suggested that Vortia Park had enough speed to force Bally Ache's pace.

"I am not running a bet for the rest of the field," the Argentine trainer said. "I am going to stay up close, but I am going to run my horse in ground in attempting to do the same to Bally Ache."

Sackett, Sinks Lead Spartans To 6-1 Victory Over Western Michigan State's baseball team behind the three hit pitching of Don Sackett and Mickey Sinks, broke a three game losing streak with a 6-1 victory over a tough Western Michigan team.

Western, which holds victories over Illinois, Michigan and Notre Dame, scored its only run in the sixth inning on a home run of Sinks.

Friday and Saturday the Spartans encounter their arch rivals, the University of Michigan, in a three game set. Friday State is host at Old College Field. Game time is 3:30. Saturday, the Spartans travel to

Ann Arbor for a twinbill with the Wolverines.

John Hendee drove in three runs with two singles to be the top run producer for the Spartans. Bill Schudlich, who had a double and an RBI, had a perfect day at the plate with two hits in as many at bats. Tom Riley also picked up two hits for the Spartans.

State scored twice in the fourth inning to take the lead with Hendee knocking in Ron Holmes and Sackett with a single. In the seventh Hendee brought home another run, driving in Holmes with a single.

State scored twice more in that frame on a wild pitch and a double steal.

Bill Schudlich bated in the final tally as he singled Jerry Lumianski home.

Coach John Kobs was satisfied with the performance of the team. "Our batting has improved, and our fielding was excellent—we made no errors," Kobs pointed out several outstanding defensive plays. He noted Hendee's fine catches and mentioned two plays by Holmes, one of which set up a double play.

Don Sackett pitched the first four innings for State and allowed only one hit. Sackett struck out four in his stint. Mickey Sinks gave up two hits, one a home run, while striking out three during the five innings he worked.

On Friday, Sackett is scheduled to be the starting pitcher for State against the Wolverines.

Yankees Extend Tiger Losing Streak to Seven

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Skowron, Roger Maris and pinch hitter Kent Handley hammered home runs and Art Ditmar and Ryné Duren turned in fine relief performances as the New York Yankees inflicted the seventh straight defeat upon the Detroit Tigers Tuesday, 10-3.

Four Tiger pitchers were victims of the Yankees' 14-hit attack which included three doubles and a triple besides the three home runs. Skowron, hottest New York hitter with a .458 batting average, had a double besides his fifth four-bagger of the season which tied him for the league lead with Cleveland's Wookiee Heid.

Don Mossi, veteran left-hander who whipped the Yankees six times in eight decisions last year, bore the brunt of the Yankees attack. He yielded six hits and five runs before the Yankees knocked him out in the fifth when they scored three runs to break a 2-2 tie. Pete Burnside, Bob Bruce and Dave Sisler followed Mossi to the mound.

Whitney Ford started for the Yankees but had to leave after the first inning when he complained of a tightening in his pitching elbow. The Tigers rapped the southpaw for four of their nine hits, good for two runs and an early 2-0 lead.

Ditmar took over in the second inning and was credited with the victory, his first of the season. The right-hander gave up five hits and one run in five innings. Duren hurled the last three innings and did not give up a hit.

There will be a Varsity Club meeting today at 8:30 in the Varsity Club rooms. Nominations for new officers and honoraries will be held.

Guest speaker at the meeting will be Jack Shingleton of the Placement Bureau.

Chicago Takes AL Lead; Topples Baltimore, 5-3

BALTIMORE (AP)—Chicago ace Billy Pierce picked on a favorite target Tuesday, pitching the White Sox to a 5-3 victory over the Baltimore Orioles. The curve-balling left-hander, winning his second straight going the full distance, notched his 20th lifetime triumph over the Orioles, who have beaten him only six times. He lost one this season prior to beating Cleveland and Baltimore.

The White Sox backed him up with a well-balanced 12-hit attack that included four doubles and excellent clutch hitting.

Chicago got off to a 4-0 lead, scoring a pair in each of the second and third innings.

In the second, Roy Sievers was safe at first on Ron Hansen's error, Gene Freese doubled him home, and Jim Landis singled, scoring Freese.

Nellie Fox and Minnie Minoso hit back-to-back doubles in the third and Sievers singled, for two more runs. A two-bagger by Luis Aparicio in the seventh with two out, followed by Fox's single, accounted for the other Sox run.

Steve Barber, 21-year-old Baltimore rookie left-hander, suffered his first defeat. He has won one.

Barber and the veteran Pierce had excellent control. Neither issued a walk, nor did Jack Fisher, who relieved Barber in the eighth. That contrasted sharply with last night's shabby performance when 10 hurlers for both teams gave up 17 walks.

Dodger Pitching Star Craig Out With Broken Collarbone

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lanky pitcher Craig, a key man in pitching the Dodgers into the World Series last year, is out of action for two months.

Dr. Robert Kerland, club physician, said Craig suffered a fractured collarbone when he collided with Vada Pinson of the Cincinnati Reds Monday night.

Vice President E. J. (Buzzie) Havesi wired National League President Warren Giles, asking that Craig be placed on the disabled list. If granted, this would reduce the Dodger roster to 27, just two over the limit for the regular season.

Barasi made no move to replace Craig on the roster.

Dr. Kerland described the injury as an "undisplaced fracture involving the outer aspects of the clavicle (collarbone) in the right shoulder." He said the veteran righthander probably will be unable to play for two months.

Thomas' Mark Surpasses Reds

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—John Thomas, a solemn-faced youngster of 19, can relax now and watch the others try to catch up to him because he's finally become the world high jump champion.

Even though there's no one who comes even remotely close—that includes the Russians—Thomas was strictly second best according to the books until he cleared 7 feet, 1 1/2 inches at the Penn Relays Saturday.

Earlier, it had been hoped that Craig suffered little more than a bad bruise.

Craig was knocked head over heels by Pinson in the eighth inning. Pinson was trying to score from third.

Coed Tennis Team Skins Past Western

The women's tennis squad came from behind by taking both doubles matches to top Western Michigan, 4-3, at Kalamazoo Tuesday.

Judy Fallick won her singles match, 6-1; 6-0 over Greta Soderman of the Broners.

In the no. two singles, MST's Sue Lamb dropped her match to Jean Soderman, 6-1; 2-6; 3-6.

Sue Dhooge won her match in three sets, 4-6; 6-2; 6-1 over Western's Sandy Fonger.

In the last two singles matches, State was beaten by its Western Michigan opponents. Isabel Rackl lost, 5-7; 9-11, and Ann Baughaer dropped in three sets, 2-6; 6-4; 4-6.

In the doubles match, State picked up its winning points with victories by Judy Fallick and Ann Baughaer, 61; 6-3; and by Miss Lamb and Miss Dhooge 6-1; 6-2.

These are the silver wings of a U. S. Air Force Navigator. As a flying officer on the Aerospace team, he has chosen a career of leadership, a career that has meaning, rewards and executive opportunity.

The Aviation Cadet Program is the gateway to this career. To qualify for this rigorous and professional training, a high school diploma is required; however, two or more years of college are highly desirable. Upon completion of the program the Air Force encourages the new officer to earn his degree so he can better handle the responsibilities of his position. This includes full pay and allowances while taking off-duty courses under the Bootstrap education program. The Air Force will pay a substantial part of all tuition costs. After having attained enough credits so that he can complete course work and residence requirements for a college degree in 6 months or less, he is eligible to apply for temporary duty at the school of his choice.

If you think you have what it takes to earn the silver wings of an Air Force Navigator, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Ask him about Aviation Cadet Navigator training and the benefits which are available to a flying officer in the Air Force. Or fill in and mail this coupon.

There's a place for tomorrow's leaders on the Aerospace Team.

Deeply interested in India and a thorough scholar is Dr. John Useem, head of the Sociology and Anthropology department.

Dr. Useem spent 1952-1953 in India doing research on Indians who had received their education in the U.S.A. or Great Britain who then returned to India. The purpose of this research was to see how Western education influenced their attitudes and feelings toward India.

In 1958-1959 Dr. Useem and his family returned to India to do more research. This time their work was directed towards the American in India.

When asked about his teaching activities Dr. Useem replied that he was doing no teaching this term but preferred teaching a some of his other activities. Dr. Useem came to Michigan State in 1949 after receiving his BA at UCLA, his MS at Harvard, and his PhD at the University of Wisconsin.

His spare time is filled by many activities. Dr. Useem is a member of the Social Science Research Council, which allocates fellowships to American students; the Foreign Service Institute, for which he acts as an adviser to the Department of State in the field of diplomatic service; and the Edward W. Hazen Foundation, which is concerned with higher education in America.

Handball also fills much of his spare time. He says that he's been playing for 20 years but that practice has not made him perfect yet.

Dr. Useem's wife is a sociologist and has helped him considerably in his research projects.

Conelrad Stations Try Civil Defense Blackout

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States tested its civil defenses Tuesday, blacking out television stations and switching radio broadcasts to the agreed channels for emergency instructions to the public.

It was Operation Alert 1960, begun at 1 p.m. EST with sounding of sirens of alarm to signal warning of hypothetical attack. Defense mobilization director Leo Hoegh scurried from his office here and went by helicopter to a protected command post in Virginia to direct the training exercise.

TV stations were off for half an hour. Radio broadcasts were on 640 and 1240 kilocycles. In transcribed addresses over these Conelrad stations, as they are called, President Eisenhower and Secretary of Defense Thomas Gates reminded the public that civil defense readiness is an important part of the nation's over-all readiness to meet attack.

Eisenhower said the readiness of the military forces and those of U.S. Allies provided a strong deterrent to possible war. He added: "It would be unwise to neglect our civil defense mission because our total defense is incomplete and meaningless without reliable and responsible home defense."

Fast Drivers Claim Lives Of 1 Million Persons in '59

Despite anti-speeding campaigns that were conducted in many parts of the United States during the past year, nearly 1,000,000 men, women and children were 1959 victims of the fast driver.

The Travelers Insurance Companies in its statistical report describing what happened on our highways during 1959, stated that drivers exceeding the speed limit were involved in 43.1 percent of the fatalities while speeding drivers figured in 38.3 percent of the traffic injuries.

Of the 37,600 traffic deaths during the year, 12,980 were the direct result of drivers exceeding the speed limit. No other single action of drivers was even close to the grim record of speed.

Cited as causing 4,790 deaths during 1959 were the drivers on the wrong side of the road. Their mistakes accounted for 15.9 percent of the death toll.

The driver who did not have the right of way caused more than half a million people to suffer injuries—22.8 percent of the injury toll.

In its highway safety booklet being distributed to more than 3,000,000 persons, The Travelers reports that more than 900 additional deaths occurred on our highways during 1959 as compared with the preceding year. Injuries soared to 2,870,000 reflecting an increase of nearly 50,000.
