Ceylon Ambassador To Speak at MSU

Former Security Council President Accepts Invitation

The MSU United Nations secretary-general Mohammad Toussi announced Monday that former United Nations Security Council president and present ambassador to the United States from Ceylon, R. S. S. Gunewardne would address a national conference of university students on world problems here Feb. 18.

Gunewardne acknowledged an invitation from Toussi over the weekend to speak at the first model United Nations conference composed of university students from all parts of the U.S., Canada, Mexico, and Cuba.

Toussi, who is from Iran, said Monday that President Nasser of Egypt and President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana also were invited to the conference but had to refuse because they would not be in the United States at the time of the meeting.

STUDENTS FROM MORE than 150 universities have been invited to attend the Feb. 17-19 conference.

The student United Nations organization has student representatives from more than 70 foreign countries.

Toussi said that the conference would enable students from all parts of the United States to voice their opinions on world problems.

"We will discuss the same issues that the UN is talking about in New York," he said. "The problem of Red China's admission to the UN and the Congo crisis will be two of our main discussion topics," Toussi said.

TOUSSI, WHO HAS B.A. and M.A. degrees in education from Michigan State, said that Gunewardne would be able to convey to the students many of the problems that the UN is faced with since he has served as Secretary General.

"To us he has a background of the United Nations and will give our students an accurate and knowledgeable report of the UN," he said.

Invitations are also being sent to more than 100 Michigan school districts to request the presence of high school student leaders to attend the conference as spectators.

Shelley Berman Plays Tonight at Civic Center

Climbing up on a table so he could talk to the capacity crowd at the Union Monday night, Shelley Berman explained: "I feel like Fidel Castro. If you haven't got guns, bring pitch forks and axes."

And Berman attracted students to the Union like the man with the beard attracts followers. He even had to mount a table to see everyone in the art room could see and hear him.

Berman said he got started doing exactly what he did Monday night—showing off. And "show off" he'll do tonight at the Civic Center.

"I'm not brave all the time," he said, "and I'm liable to be afraid if the place is empty when I do my routine."

Berman has been playing at universities throughout the nation. There are still many tickets available for tonight's performance, which begins at 8:30.

Freshman and upperclass women with lower than 2.0 averages have been granted 10:30 permission to see the show if they take a one weekend-night campus within the next two weeks, AWS announced.

THE EDGE OF SHELLEY — Names of students crowded into the Art Room of the Union Monday night to catch a glimpse of comedian Shelley Berman.

Berman shot off his humor in many of the impromptu answers he gave to questions asked by the audience.

Communist Bloc Cheers Lumumba Ally Pressures UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) President Sekou Toure of Guinea, a favorite of the Communist bloc, demanded Monday that the U.N. General Assembly immediately seat the delegation of deposed Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Toure submitted a resolution asking such action in advance of a decision by the assembly's credentials committee on whether to seat the Lumumba group or a rival delegation sent here by Congo President Joseph Kasubulu.

TOURE TOOK the spotlight in the assembly as a champion of Lumumba, who appeared to be under house arrest in Leopoldville on orders of Joseph Mobutu, Congo strongman. Lumumba created a stir Sunday night when he raved from bar to bar in the Congo capital, proclaiming he was assuming power.

In Leopoldville late Monday, the crisis sharpened again when the commissioners in charge of the Congo government demanded that the United Nations surrender Lumumba to them by 3 p.m. today or face action by the Congolese army.

Rajeshwar Dalal, Indian diplomat heading the U.N. operation asked Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold for instructions. The U.N. Secretariat here had no immediate comment.

The Congo seats have been vacant pending a recommendation from the steering committee on which delegation should be seated. No decision was in sight.

THE COMMUNIST bloc led loud bursts of applause as President Toure outlined an African-African policy and went down the line for most of 30 minutes.

Premier Khrushchev's proposal to the U.N. General Assembly. But new African Nation's representatives seemed to react coolly to the speech. Toure at times seemed to seek recognition as spokesman for newly independent Africans formerly under French control, but most of their representatives sat by.

Premier Khrushchev appeared to show the effects of strain, however, to close at times during the Toure address. Khrushchev, however, remained calm at the frequent bursts of Communist bloc applause. But at the end of the speech the Soviet leader jumped to his feet and led the handsomely pleased by the Guinea's words.

Greeks Begin Rush Season

Fraternity rush began last night and will continue through Wednesday, October 19.

A new innovation in this year's rush is the principle of deferred pledge. In deferred pledge, only first term freshmen aren't permitted to rush until they have established a grade point average.

All men who have established a 2.0 all-college are allowed to pledge this fall, as are transfer students.

Last night's rush was at all houses on Abbot road and on the west side of it. Tonight's rush is at all houses on the east side of Abbot, and Wednesday night all houses will be having rush.

'Catcher' Lecture Scheduled Wed.

Professor Samuel Baskett of English, will give a review of the novel "Catcher in the Rye" Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in 32 Union.

The review is part of a seminar series sponsored by the Academic Benefits committee of the AUCB.

Baskett said the novel, by J.D. Salinger, tells how an intelligent, sensitive 16-year-old boy reacts to what he considers the phoniness of American 20th century life.

The review will discuss the basis of appeal of "Catcher in the Rye" to undergraduate students and evaluate the significance of Salinger's writings, according to Baskett.

Wolverine Sets Contract Deadline

Wednesday, Oct. 19, is the final deadline for signing contracts and making appointments for organization pictures to be taken for the 1961 Wolverine.

Any member of the organization can sign the group's contract in the Wolverine office, 334 Student Services from 2-5 p.m.

Due to insufficient address of organization advisors and presidents, many groups have not received announcement of contract application.

"Contracts must be signed as soon as possible in order that picture appointments can be made," said J. d. y. Derby, organization editor.

'Giselle' Ballet Presented Tonight

Prima ballerina Dame Margot Fonteyn and "danseur noble" Michael Somes, take the lead in the first presentation by the Royal Ballet, London, in the Lecture-Concert series tonight at the auditorium.

Dame Margot is hailed by many as the finest ballerina of the western world and certainly Ulanov's leading rival for recognition as the greatest ballerina of our time.

Candidate to Visit Lansing and MSU

Socialist Party Nominee Also to Appear This Week

Democratic presidential candidate Sen. John F. Kennedy will speak to students from the steps of the Union at 5:15, Friday, as one of the final speeches of his tour through southeastern Michigan.

Kennedy's plans to address Michigan State's student body was announced Monday by Richard Owen, English faculty Democratic nominee.

Kennedy is also expected to address an estimated crowd of 12,000 in front of the capitol in Lansing before he arrives on campus.

Lansing and MSU will be among Kennedy's final stops in a one-day tour of ten cities in Michigan. He will begin his tour at southeastern Michigan in Ann Arbor and will move by train to Jackson, Alton, Marshall, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids before arriving in Lansing.

Kennedy will arrive in Lansing at 4 p.m. to greet Gov. G. Mennen Williams at the capitol. From the capitol, he will move to the Union steps.

Proposed issues included admittance to the UN for Red China, intervention to help Algeria, restoring order in the Congo, and support for UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

The questions were proposed by delegates in accord with actual policy of various UN member nations, and referred to committees for study of the written resolutions on which future debate will be based.

MODEL UN SECRETARY General Mohammad Toussi, Iranian graduate student, addressing the group, called attention to the increase of the New York UN by 14 nations since the last academic year.

"In the United Nations, we see the world and each of its nations working out its destiny," Toussi said.

Plans are well along for the first of a projected annual series of intercollegiate Model UN conferences at MSU, Toussi said.

Already 120 schools have been invited to the meeting scheduled for February 17, 18 and 19, 1961. National associations for foreign students from various nations in American schools have been asked to send observers.

Many UN nations have offered to send diplomats from New York as advisers. High school groups throughout Michigan have been invited to visit the sessions.

FRATERNITIES, sororities, cooperatives, and other housing units at MSU have agreed to accept housing obligations for the weekend conference, Toussi said.

In addition to meetings of the model UN general assembly, a variety of other UN agencies will hold model sessions. The International Court of Justice will meet in the supreme court chamber of the state capitol, Toussi said.

Keynote speaker for the conference will be the Ambassador of Ceylon to the U.S. and U.N., R. S. S. Gunewardne, a member of the UN Security Council.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A State Department Monday sharply denied Soviet Premier Khrushchev's claim that the United States planned to send a second U2 flight over the Soviet Union but decided against it after receiving a warning that Russian planes would shoot the plane down.

Department press officer Francis Tully said the United States has had no plans to send U2 planes over the Soviet Union since President Eisenhower announced last May that there would be no more such flights during his administration.

The reply was to a charge Khrushchev made during a TV interview Sunday night in New York.

Tully said the Soviet leader apparently had forgotten the content of a conversation he had held with the U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson last Sept. 7 on this point.

MSU Broadcasts Series on Jobless

The dilemma of the unemployed in today's mechanized society is the basis of a MSU radio series now being broadcast throughout the nation.

"Situation Wanted" was conceived and researched by Dr. Daniel Kruger, of the Labor and Industrial Relations Center. It was produced by Al Lafuente, of WKAR.

The series of 26 programs is heard weekly over more than 70 stations.

"The series is an attempt to take a complex problem like unemployment and break it down into small, personal parts," Kruger said.

Each fifteen-minute program covers one facet of the unemployment problem. Through taped interviews with jobless workers, employment service officials, labor and industrial leaders, educators and others with first-hand experience in job market problems, the roots of the problem are examined.

The programs include interviews with colored job-seekers, faced with a "double burden": unemployed women, facing another kind of discrimination, those "too old," "too young," "too inexperienced"; those whose skills are obsolete; those caught in depression areas, the "militant" and the hard-copped.

Other programs feature excerpts from hearings held by the U.S. Senate Special Committee on Unemployment Problems, interviews with state governors, testimony given before Senate hearings by such labor leaders as Walter Reuther, industry leaders such as General Motors Vice President Louis Boston and top federal officials in labor and management fields.

The series concludes with programs analyzing the impact of automation on the American employment market and a summary of labor market trends and needs in the next ten years.

"The problems discussed in this series require community study, understanding and action," Kruger declared. "Listener response, from states as far away as Texas and Nevada, has been very gratifying, and a number of high schools have requested the tapes for use in social studies courses."

The program is broadcast locally over WKAR at 5 p.m. on Fridays.

STAR OF "GISELE" is leading ballerina Dame Margot Fonteyn, who will perform the famous Romantic classic with London's Royal Ballet tonight in the and. It is the first musical presentation of the 1949-51 Lecture-Concert Series. The ballet company will also perform Wednesday and Thursday.

Wildlife Club To See Documentary Film

Dr. Alfred Ester, assistant professor of fisheries and wildlife, will show a film called "A Missouri Story" at Wednesday night's meeting of the Fisheries and Wildlife Club.

The film is a documentary film of an old Missouri farm.

The meeting, to be held at 7:30 p.m. in 116 Natural Science building, is open to students and the general public.

Williams Gives Historical Lecture

Fred Williams, professor of history, delivered the Burton Memorial lecture to the annual meeting of the Michigan Historical Society Friday night.

The topic was "A Study of the Civil War," a familiar subject to Williams who is one of the members of the Michigan Civil War Centennial Observance committee.

Baril Named Police School Training Head

Lawrence Baril has recently been appointed program director of law enforcement training for the School of Police Administration and Public Safety.

In his new position he will arrange programs for over 14 special courses given to Michigan's police officers each year in Kellogg Center, Baril said.

These courses are jointly sponsored by the school of police administration and public safety, the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police and the Michigan Sheriffs Association.

Three of the courses each year are basic courses for beginning police officers from departments too small to hold their own schools. Others are specialized courses such as accident investigation or command officers conferences, Baril said.

In addition to the courses held at Kellogg, some courses are scheduled for MRU-O. These will be primarily for Macomb, Oakland and Wayne county officers.

Instructors for these courses are drawn from the university, the state police and municipal police departments throughout the state, Baril said.

Baril was formerly coordinator of the field service training program of the school of police administration and public safety.

Block Bryan Gives Spirited Performance

By BEN BURNS

Block "S" certainly should be complimented on their greatly improved performance Saturday, although one could possibly consider changing the name of the group to Block BRYAN due to the large turnout demonstrated by our most spirit minded dormitory.

Even the traditional "S" had moved back into position this week. The block only made two or three maneuvers that befuddled the observer as to what it was, but this can be expected of any group.

We certainly must agree that the performance was 100 percent improvement over last year's miserable showing and I'm sure they are quite fit to be seen over nationwide TV when the Spartans meet Ohio State.

Except for the couple of demonstrations that were unrecognizable and a script version of MSU that was something less than a picture of symmetry and half of the "IT" in THE END the show was a pleasure to watch.

It seems that there must be some sort of correlation between soccer and volleyball as volleyball coach Dick Nelson will have to wait until this winter before two of his players Cecil Heron and Rubens Filizola can practice with the team.

Spartan football coach Duffy Daugherty seems to have given up the idea of using soccer players for kicking off as he says Art Brandstatter seems to have ironed out his kick off problems.

One could wonder how soccer coach Gene Kenney felt when he found that his all-American Cecil Heron had strained a muscle from kicking footballs all week, or so it is rumored.

When asked what he said when Iowa's Joe Williams pulled a reverse on Tommy Wilson's belly series and romped 64 yards for a TD, Duffy said, "I heard a phone drop up in the press box, over my headset, and thought one of the coaches had had a heart attack."

Others seemed to get equally excited during the game as on one occasion, when Wilson was back to pass a flag was thrown and all action stopped except for Wilson who was still trying to elude a persistent tackler, the press box announcer blared over the PA system "throw the ball" and set all the reporters to chuckling.

When told of the score of Saturday's Illinois-Ohio State game Daugherty said, "Yes, and we have to play them yet, too."

Syndicate Joins Bidding For Kansas City Franchise

NEW YORK, (AP)—A four-man syndicate headed by Henry Kieron, an Illinois, N.Y., businessman, joined in the bidding Monday for the purchase of the Kansas City American League franchise.

Kieron said he will meet Thursday in Chicago with Ed Vollers, attorney for Mrs. Warren Hume, widow of the late Arnold Johnson, for the purpose of negotiating a possible deal for her majority stock holdings.

"I had a preliminary talk with Vollers Sunday," said Kieron. "And I might say it was encouraging. I don't know what the franchise is worth but I hope to find out later this week. Vollers has agreed to let me look at the club's books and check into its operations."

Kieron said he understood the club had an offer of $3,500,000 from another group but expressed confidence his syndicate would top the bid if it was satisfied with its findings. He said if his syndicate is the successful bidder it intends to keep the Athletics in Kansas City.

"We think Kansas City is a good baseball town," he said, "and we certainly intend to stay there."

Pirates Take 3-2 Edge in Series Games

NEW YORK, (AP)—Elroy Face, the scrappy guitar-playing ace of the Pittsburgh bullpen, saved Harvey Haddix Monday as the New York Yankees won their 5-2 victory in the fifth World Series game.

It was the second straight sparkling relief job by Face in Pittsburgh's gallant comeback of two triumphs after a pair of humiliating defeats in the first three games.

The Pirates thus head home to Forbes Field to finish the series with a 3-2 edge, in games, and needing only one more to nail down their first World Championship since 1925. After tomorrow's open date, the Series will resume Wednesday. If a seventh game is necessary, it will be played at Pittsburgh Thursday.

HADDIX, a 35-year-old left hander who specializes in breaking pitches, struggled in the early innings but allowed only three hits going to the seventh.

When Tony Kubek and pinch hitter Hector Lopez each singled with one out in the seventh, manager Danny Murray taught came to the mound. After a few words with Haddix, Murray made a knee-high sign with his right hand, indicating to the bullpen that Face, the man with the low fork ball, was the man he wanted.

Little Elroy made Gil McDougald's bid.

Face forced Howard, grounded out.

In the ninth, the Yanks went down quietly, one-two-three. Pittsburgh greeted Art Ditmar with a long lost cousin with three runs in the second inning. The Blue Jays had knocked out the Yanks' 4-0 winner in the first inning in Wednesday's opener. This time they were helped by some sloppy fielding.

Dick Stuart's single and Smokey Burgess' double to the right field corner put men on second and third with one out. Gino Cimoli, who had forced Stuart, scored easily on Don Hoak's slow bouncer to Kubek and when McDougald dropped Kubek's throw, trying to get Burgess' at third, all hands were safe.

Bill Mazeroski's single through with a double to left that drove in both Burgess and Hoak, who had taken second on McDougald's error.

Luis Arroyo, the chunky senior from Puerto Rico, finally got the job done in the second but was hit out in the third by heavy weather in the third. Dick Groat's double to the left field corner and Roberto Clement's single to left gave the Pirates another run and finished off Arroyo.

Manager Casey Stengel, who had hinted strongly Sunday night he would start rookie Bill Stafford, probably wished he had done just that. Stafford, a 22-year-old right hander brought up from the Richmond farm in mid-August, pitched five shutout innings. He allowed only three hits but it was the old case of locking the barn door after the horse was stolen.

The Yanks, who had hit seven homers in four previous games while piling up a .361 team batting average, had their homer.

Roger Maris slammed a Haddix pitch into the upper deck in right field with nobody on in the third. It was Maris' second homer of the series.

Stengel said his sixth game pitcher would be either right-hander Bob Turley, winner of the second game, or left-hander Whitey Ford, winner of the third.

"If we had won today, it would have been Turley and then Ford," said Stengel. "I have two days to decide on my starting pitcher for the next game."

PITTSBURGH nicked Ryne Duren, fourth Yank pitcher, for his final run in the ninth. Smokey Burgess singled to left and took second when Bob Cerv fumbled the ball. Joe Christopher ran for the slow-footed Burgess and moved to third on a wild pitch. Hoak sent him racing home with a single to center.

Haddix gave up one run in the second when Howard doubled off the right field wall, took third on an infield out and scored while Kubek was grounding out to Stengel.

Stengel's concern for Ditmar, who was knocked out in the first inning of the game of the Series, was the victim.

"So the other day he didn't do so well," said Manager Casey Stengel concerning Ditmar, "and he didn't do so well now, but they didn't field so well for him either, and anyway he won 15 games this season."

Stengel has two lineup worries — Elton Howard has a bad finger and Bob Cerv threw his knee out recently.

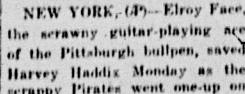

He sent in Yogi Berra to bat for Howard in the eighth but he grounded out. The chances are there will be more changes in the Yankee lineup by starting time Wednesday.

The bleachers and standing room tickets didn't sell out for this game. As a result the crowd was only 17,000, or about 8,000 under Saturday's turnout and 5,000 less than Sunday.

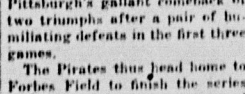

NEW YORK, (AP)—Gil McDougald, the veteran third baseman of the New York Yankees, faced up squarely to his fatal error in the second inning of Monday's fifth World Series game.

"I dropped the ball," he said with a bitter smile. "He didn't knock it out of my hand. I dropped it before he hit me."

Yankee Veteran Says: "I Dropped the Ball"

NEW YORK, (AP)—Gil McDougald, the veteran third baseman of the New York Yankees, faced up squarely to his fatal error in the second inning of Monday's fifth World Series game.

"I dropped the ball," he said with a bitter smile. "He didn't knock it out of my hand. I dropped it before he hit me."

Pittsburgh Favored 4 to 1 to Win Series

With the Series scene shifting back to Pittsburgh for the remaining game, or games, the Pirates have become 4 to 1 favorites to win it all. However, the Yanks are favored 6 to 5 in the sixth game if Turley pitches against Friend.

The bleachers and standing room tickets didn't sell out for this game. As a result the crowd was only 17,000, or about 8,000 under Saturday's turnout and 5,000 less than Sunday.

Mississippi Heads Poll; Spartans Drop to 14th

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Spartans managed to cling to a position in the top twenty of the Associated Press poll despite a 27-15 loss Saturday. Iowa moved up to number two spot. Bouncing back after one rather poor performance, the rebels of Mississippi stormed the heights of collegiate football this week and regained first place in the weekly ranking poll as Syracuse dropped to fourth.

from fifth to third with 8 firsts and 365 points. Syracuse first a week ago, wound up fourth with 4 firsts and 352 points. Those four teams split all the first place votes and, oddly, Mississippi's point total was exactly the same that Syracuse had last week 28 first place votes.

Navy, Missouri, Baylor, Clemson, Kansas and Minnesota, in that order, completed the top 10 in the rankings. Syracuse's tumble was something of a shocker, but not as

The rebels, who lost their hold on first place when they skinned the edge of an upset against Memphis State, handed Vanderbilt a 26-0 thumping Saturday while Syracuse, the 1959 National Champion, turned in a shaky but winning performance against Holy Cross, 15-6.

Court Denies Portsmouth Damage Suit

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Supreme Court Monday denied the Portsmouth (Va.) Baseball Corp. a review of its unsuccessful plea in lower courts for damages because of the broadcasting and telecasting of major league games into the Portsmouth area.

The Portsmouth Corporation, operating a minor league baseball club, sought $250,000 damages from the American and National major league leagues and others. Portsmouth was in the Class B Piedmont League which closed after the 1955 season.

OLE MISS drew 19 of the 48 first place votes and 428 points. Iowa, an impressive 27-15 winner over Michigan State, had 17 firsts and 411 points. Ohio State, 24-7 winner over Illinois, moved up

Kickers Put Best Foot On Football

BIRMINGHAM, ALA. (AP)—Georgia Tech's Tommy Wells and Auburn's Ed Dyer are the kind of boys who bring smiles to the faces of old-time advocates of using the kicking toe for points in football.

THE SUIT alleged violation of Major-Minor League Rule 1 (A), which provides a procedure for occupation of a minor league club's territory by a major league. Federal courts in New York dismissed the suit, holding Rule 1 (A) does not apply to broadcasting or telecasting of games into a minor league territory.

Air Force Team Plans to Zero-In On Navy Pair

ANNAPOLIS, (AP)—Stepping two Navy joes, instead of one, may be the Air Force's major problem when it takes on the soaring midshipmen in their first interservice football clash at Baltimore Saturday.

And when Wells and Dyer face each other in a Southeastern Conference game here Saturday—well, may the best foot win. Wells, a 166-pound senior half-back from Nashville, Tenn., kicked two field goals for Tech last week and beat Louisiana State 6-2.

Portsmouth's appeal to the Supreme Court said it was "illogical to hold that baseball cannot be played in a territory, but that it is valid to beam pictures of a game into every home and amusement enterprise in the area."

Dr. Joseph Jachimczyk, Harris county medical examiner, officially listed the death as accidental, caused by a broken neck. He said there was no sign of brain injury or heart trouble.

WELLS HAS booted field goals from 40, 24, 22, 37, 24, 36 and 41 yards out. Dyer has scored with kicks from 27, 28 and 15 yards out. His field goal in the last four minutes against Kentucky beat the Wildcats 10-7.

HIS SEVEN-for-seven mark already has set a Southeastern Conference record and has tied a national record.

Halback Joe Bellino has been going great guns all year. He has scored six touchdowns and passed for two others in Navy's climb to the No. 5 spot in national ranking in four games.

Now he has back with him his No. 1 sidekick in the Navy backfield—fullback and team captain Joe Matajavage, who will be starting his first game after a leg injury on the third play in the season opener against Boston College.

Syracuse Plans Line-Up Changes For Penn State

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—A disappointed Ben Schwartzwalder said Monday he planned wholesale shifts in the Syracuse football lineup in hopes of perking up the slumping Orange for the game with Penn State here Saturday.

"We're going to shake the bush. Whether it's going to help us I don't know," the Coach told reporters at a news conference that amounted to a wake after Syracuse's poor showing in a 15-4 victory over defending Holy Cross Saturday.

Syracuse's defending national champions will be seeking their 15th straight victory and 21st straight in regular season play. The Orange has not lost at Archbold Stadium since 1957. An expected sellout crowd of 40,000 will watch the action.

Asked whether his team was complacent, as often charged, Schwartzwalder countered that the 1959 champions were complacent and somewhat in practice but "when the bell rang we were hitters. This year they can't hear the bell."

Employment Not Quite Satisfactory

WASHINGTON, AP—The government Monday reported a modest improvement in jobs last month. But an official conceded the unemployment situation is "far from satisfactory by any standard."

The Labor Department said employment and unemployment went down in September, largely influenced by seasonal factors. The main factor was the return of young workers to school.

The rate of idled workers in the total labor force dropped slightly from 5.9 per cent in August to 5.7 per cent in September.

This means that 57 out of 1,000 able and willing workers couldn't find jobs, as compared with 59 out of 1,000 a month earlier.

AFL-CIO economists discounted this small improvement. They said the 5.7 idle rate is the highest for September in any non-recession unemployment compensation totaled the highest on record for the month.

These are the government's job figures for September.

Employment—Declined from 68,282,000 in August to 67,567,000, still a record high for September. The drop was 715,000—less than a decrease of 750,000 jobs that was expected in September for seasonal reason.

Unemployment—declined by 400,000 from 3,788,000 in August to 3,368,000 last month. Normally a decline of 300,000 is expected for the month.

THE LESS THAN SEASONAL decline in employment coupled with more than seasonal decline in unemployment caused the idle rate to edge downward a bit.

But Seymour Wolfbein, Deputy Assistant Secretary of Labor for man-power problems, noted that the total of long-term unemployed—those without jobs 15 weeks or longer—has stayed for several months at around 800,000.

"We are continuing to have a relatively high level of employment together with a relatively high level of unemployment that is far from satisfactory by any standard," he said.

The October job figures, which probably will be announced shortly before the Nov. 8 presidential election, are expected to show some further modest improvement. Wolfbein said if only seasonal influences occur, the October unemployment total will decline to about 3.2 million.

SIMILARLY, the usual declining opportunities of the winter season can be expected to drive unemployment up to around 4 1/2 million next January.

Wolfbein said he doesn't see recessionary danger signals because employment is continuing strong in many job categories, while sagging in the factory and other non-farm sectors.

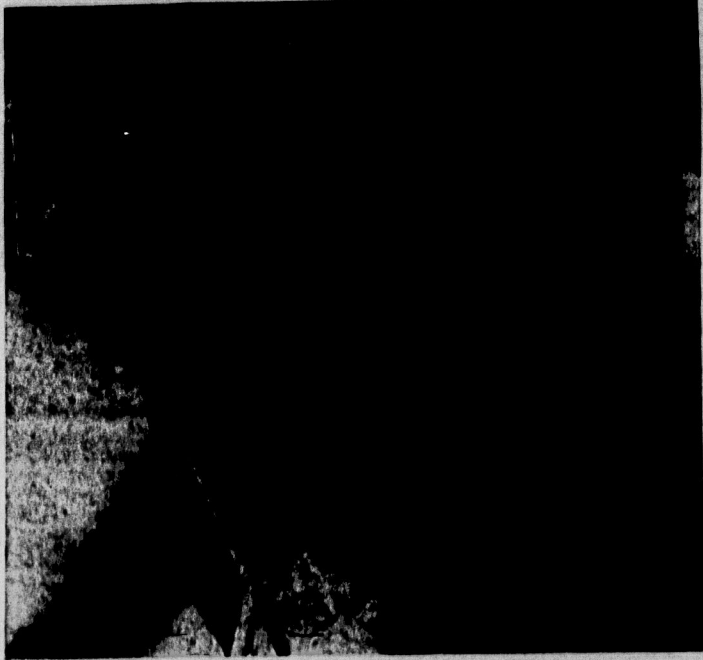

Student Hurt In Accident

A student was injured early Monday afternoon when he rode his bike into the path of an automobile on Shaw lane near Chestnut.

Robert L. Talerico, 1536B Spartan Village, was reported in fair condition at Sparrow late Monday afternoon after suffering possible chest and head injuries.

The driver of the car, Bergan Ira Bull, 131 Bogue was not held.

Witnesses said both Bull and Talerico were proceeding west on Shaw lane when Talerico abruptly turned into the path of the car.

Police and ambulance men check on the condition of Robert Talerico after he was injured in a car-bicycle accident late Monday afternoon.

Honors College Increases

Honors College enrollment has reached a new high of 504, said David Hess, assistant to Dr. Stanley Idzerda, director of the Honors college.

The highest previous enrollment was about 410 which was reached last year, Hess said.

Hess gave the following breakdown by colleges:

The College of Science and Arts has by far the largest number of Honors College students with 234. Engineering is a second with 76. The college of Business and public service has 49, University College has 47, and Communication Arts has 24.

Honors Economics and Veterinary Medicine each have 19, and Agriculture and Education, with 18 apiece, complete the enrollment.

Hess saw no special reason for the large enrollment in Science and Arts, but said the trend to foreign languages is probably a big factor.

Specific figures on the Honors College students taking foreign languages were unavailable, but Hess said the number has increased considerably since last year.

Even War Movie Humorous in Spots

Week's Films Keep Viewers Laughing

By HILL DOERNER
State News Movie Critic

The next time you hear someone talking about a British comedy, don't get the idea it's a stuffy, sophisticated Oscar Wilde drawing room affair. The English have become as far from and whacky as Martin and Lewis under laughing gas.

Hilarious testimony to this point, called "Carry on, Nurse," is now showing at the State Theater.

THE STORY concerns the antics in the Male Surgical Ward of an English hospital. This situation naturally suggests a host of rather nutty characters, and most of them find their way into the script.

A young journalist is the pivot figure. Others include the holy terror head-matron, a bawling student nurse, an effeminate musician, a studious physicist thoroughly uninterested in romance, and an activated Casanova. If these seem vaguely familiar, they are. But all of them give good performances, and the re-hashed hash for once isn't stale.

A precautionary word to special groups, however, if you belong to the Temperance League, the Sex Preventative Society, or the Anti-Gambling Club, you'll probably go away highly indignant, for these subjects are either treated comically, or made basic preoccupations of the picture. I doubt, however, that anyone will be led too far astray by this levity.

While "Carry on, Nurse," is a little too predictable and conventional to be great comedy, it surely is a refreshing contrast to some of the sedatives that have passed for comedies lately.

I suppose "All the Young Men" is so titled to imply that every soldier is a representative of some group, and that every group is represented in this picture. Anyway, the cast does cover a lot of ground: the repressed Negro, the soldier, the uninitiated greenhorn, Southern racist, the professional Americanized Indian, and the sapling immigrant.

Then to supply friction or lubrication to the plot, as needed, there are the inexperienced doctor, the wounded warrior afraid to die, and the acid humorist.

THIS PANORAMA of ethnic groups and vested interests suggests a host of separate themes, but the film unpretentiously includes only war, race, the hereafter, and ethical conduct in crises.

The plot is essentially situational. An expeditionary Marine force is attacked on its way to capture a particularly strategic location during the Korean War. The officer in charge is killed, and turns over his command to Sidney Poitier.

The rest of the film is a sort of mosaic exploring the relationships and inter-relationships of the characters, glued together by their objective, to hold this spot until more troops arrive.

GENERALLY, the acting is excellent. Sidney Poitier is a compelling leader, Alan Ladd comes through with an agreeable performance of under-acting, Mort Sahl does well in a tailor-made part, but Ingmar Johansson looks like he hadn't come to from Paterson's final fight.

The film leaves one with the impression of having seen a remodeled home; a very polished and absorbing finish, built over a well-worn and rather unstable foundation.
