

U.S. Prestige Report Sealed From View

Document Classified Secret Says Haggerty

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration Wednesday sealed from public view a report which Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy says supports his contention that U.S. prestige overseas has slipped.

Kennedy Speaks in Detroit

Crowds Stand In Rainy Weather

By DON FEMBER and OWEN KING

SPECIAL TO STATE NEWS—Suburban Detroiters stood in the rain Wednesday to hear Senator John Kennedy say Vice President Richard Nixon is either "fully uninformed, or unwilling to tell the truth" about the United States Information Agency prestige poll.

Several hours earlier, Kennedy pressed his offensive with a charge that the administration is "afraid to tell the people the truth."

"It is bad enough to suppress the truth about procurement contracts or foreign aid expenditures or waste or inefficiency or worse," Kennedy said in a speech prepared for delivery on his stunning tour of Michigan.

"It is far more dangerous to hide the truth about our position abroad—and hide it for political purposes."

Kennedy argued the prestige report is being kept from the public to protect his Republican opponent, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who has insisted U.S. standing in the world is at an all-time high.

Again the Democratic candidate demanded that Nixon make the report available. Nixon has said he has no objection.

There have been published and broadcast reports that the USA survey reflects strong belief in 10 friendly nations of Europe and Asia that Russia is leading as a military power and may pull further ahead in the next 10 years.

Speaking in Dayton, Ohio, Nixon told a rain-soaked crowd the Democrats have been downgrading U.S. prestige because they have "nothing else to talk about."

He did not mention the USA survey.

When disclosing the decision to keep the report under wraps, Haggerty said he didn't want any misunderstanding about Eisenhower's position on the prestige question.

The White House press secretary directed attention to a speech the President made in San Francisco last Thursday night—a speech widely viewed as a job at Kennedy.

In that speech, Eisenhower spoke of a bright record of progress and development and said that in the face of such a record he heard some misguided people say that the United States is second-class power and that our prestige has slipped to an all-time low.

Today, Haggerty said that in the speech Eisenhower was speaking from his knowledge of all the facts and not just from a position paper prepared by one agency.

Not only Kennedy, but a house of representatives subcommittee and Democratic members of the Senate Foreign Relations committee have been trying to force the USA report out into the open.

Judd Blasts Dems. Before Republicans

1,000 Hear Comments At Lansing Dinner

By SHARON ROBINSON State News Staff Writer

Congressman Walter H. Judd, (R-Minn.), lambasted the Democratic campaign here Tuesday night before an audience of over 1,000 Republicans at the Zach Chandler dinner at the Civic Center.

"In this campaign the American people must decide what direction the country and world will take in the next four years," Judd said.

Judd said national security and national solvency were the major issues of the campaign.

Judd, keynote at the Republican national convention in Chicago, said that the nation's armed strength after 7 1/2 years of the Eisenhower administration is "utterly fantastic."

JUDD KNOCKED Democratic presidential candidate Kennedy by calling him a "youngster with perhaps a good future but short of experience."

The issue of Quemoy and Matsu doesn't involve just two little islands, according to Judd. "The Reds' plan is Quemoy, Matsu, Formosa, then expulsion of the U.S. from the Pacific."

"The Reds are after victories," Judd said. "The question is what to give them next."

"We can't give them Korea, Poland, or East Germany," Judd said. "We gave them the last time."

Citing Cuba and Quemoy-Matsu as examples, Judd said the Reds use the same tactics as a skillful quarterback—power and deception.

TAKING ANOTHER job at Senator Kennedy, Judd said that if certain people would stay in the Senate to find out what is going on, they wouldn't go around telling the country our defense is bad.

Judd said the Reds don't want big victories, but they would be satisfied to take it "piece by piece" or "island by island—Quemoy and Matsu."

Judd praised the present administration for not "going over the hump" while Reds were testing our tempers. "The administration has not lowered its guard, or accepted words as deeds."

Judd also praised vice president Nixon for "taking character assassinations abroad while pursuing his end. He is the one seen most abroad and at home."

"Vice presidential candidate Lodge knows the most about international maneuvering," Judd said. "He has been watching plays at the UN and diagnosing them correctly."

JUDD ATTACKED Senator Kennedy for "having the audacity to inherit his wealth and still be so sure he knows what to do with America's money and resources."

UN Orders Troops Out Of Capital

LEOPOLDVILLE, THE CONGO (AP)—The United Nations cracked down today on Col. Joseph Mobutu here and on Katanga President Moise Tshombe in Elisabethville, resisting violence in the two places and the threat of violence in the other.

The UN command ordered Mobutu's rampaging Congolese soldiers to clear out of this terrorized capital and stay in their barracks. Mobutu agreed to the demand and promised to help remove all barriers, civil and military, impeding smooth UN operation.

The UN command stood up to a threat in Elisabethville by sending four truckloads of Moroccan and Swedish UN troops, all armed to the teeth, slowly through the streets of the seceded province's capital in a show of force that wound up at the UN headquarters there.

The 10-minute display of UN armed might seemed to impress the Katangans.

To end the terror spread in Leopoldville the past four days by unruly units of the 3,000-man Congolese garrison, the UN headquarters called in Mobutu and Justin Bomboko, head of the provisional government set up by Mobutu.

The two were told that military anarchy in Leopoldville "will not be tolerated any longer."

The two Congolese leaders agreed to the army withdrawal after some hesitation. They said their 3,000 troops will be pulled out of Leopoldville's African sector by tomorrow.

The Mobutu troops—wild, uncontrolled and often drunk—have been robbing and beating frightened civilians. The only orders they had were to make searches where necessary and to seize arms, the two Congo leaders insisted.

THE REDS make sure the UN doesn't work by keeping the organization crippled when the ships are down," Judd said.

"Nobody is keeping Red China out of the UN but Red China—she doesn't qualify," Judd said. "UN standards would have to be lowered to the level of a gangster to let Red China in."

Earlier in Flint, Judd spoke to about 1,800 persons to support the candidacy of Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain, of Lansing.

From Lansing Judd flew to Detroit Tuesday night and was to appear in Little Rock, Arkansas, on Wednesday.

Cong. Judd's speech was telecast to some 10 million Michigan viewers Tuesday night.

"Because of his sensational keynote address at the national convention, Judd has been tagged one of the nation's most dynamic speakers," Ed Blackmore, Chandler Club president said.

Judd has served in China as a medical missionary, practiced medicine in Minneapolis, and served in Congress since 1942.

Alaskan Republican Missing

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, (AP)—Dr. Lee L. McKinley, Republican candidate for the U.S. senate from Alaska, was reported overdue Wednesday on a flight from Anchorage, Alaska, to Fairbanks.

The federal aviation agency of office here reported receiving a radioed message from McKinley's Anchorage dentist told the FAA he was having difficulty determining the direction to Fairbanks.

That was the last word heard from him. It was believed McKinley was about 75 miles south of Anchorage when the message was heard.

Nixon, Bentley, Bagwell Tour Michigan Today

Campaign Bypasses Lansing

Large Crowds Greet GOP

DETROIT (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon comes to Michigan today on the heels of his Democratic presidential rival, Sen. John F. Kennedy, to vie for the state's 20 electoral votes.

The Republican presidential nominee will trace around Kennedy covered in an earlier trip to Michigan. Kennedy swung through several Detroit area cities today.

Nixon will enter Michigan this morning at Monroe and swing across the southern part of the state. He'll visit seven cities during a 14 hour stay.

The Nixon campaign train will stop at Monroe, Ann Arbor, Jackson, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids and Muskegon.

AT EACH STOP, Nixon will deliver an address. Party officials said Nixon will be accompanied by Rep. Alvin M. Bentley, Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, and Paul D. Bagwell, GOP gubernatorial candidate.

The State News will have complete coverage of the event as two staff members, Jan Millar and Kit Erickson, will travel with the Nixon party throughout the day.

Wednesday Nixon accused the Democrats of using disgraceful and irresponsible tactics in the campaign's climactic days by downgrading American prestige all over the world.

The Republican presidential candidate told crowds across Ohio during a long day of vote-hunting by train that his opponents apparently seized on the prestige issue because "they are running out of issues with nothing else to talk about."

NIXON SPOKE to generally good crowds on his final day of campaigning in this pivotal state. His aides said that at a number of points the crowd's exuberance exceeded Kennedy's turnouts in the same area last week, even though it was raining part of the time Wednesday.

By far the biggest crowd to greet Nixon during the day was at Columbus, where he motorcaded from his train through thousands of applauding well-wishers on the streets at the noon hour.

He spoke at the stationhouse to a crowd estimated by a police inspector at 50,000. The same officer said more than 75,000 saw the motorcade.

In a statement issued at Springfield, Nixon taunted Kennedy about his farm plan, asserting that the Democratic nominee appeared to have quit mentioning it in recent speeches.

He said it could be Kennedy "hasn't the courage to discuss a plan that would raise the price of food sharply in the stores."

The Senator has denied previous GOP assertions that the Democratic program would cause a big jump in consumer prices.

Nixon said he would be willing to attend a summit meeting with Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev early next year if it would produce an enforceable agreement to end atomic testing.

Blood Drive To Begin On Monday

By JESS MAXWELL State News Feature Editor

The Alpha Phi Omega fall blood drive will begin Monday in the fourth floor of the Union, reports Maurice Oberg, publicity chairman.

All students, faculty members and residents of the East Lansing area are asked to participate in the drive which will continue through Friday, Nov. 4, said Oberg.

The drive is held under the direction of the Ingham County Chapter of the American Red Cross. This group supplies over 900 pints of blood per month to local hospitals.

Alpha Phi Omega is a Boy Scout national service fraternity. It has 25 members on campus.

"APO is being assisted by the Spartan Woman's League, which provides the escort service," said Oberg.

Oberg said that this year's goal is 2,000 pints.

Director of Athletics Clarence ("Biggie") Munn is the chairman of the Ingham County blood program.

Students desiring to make appointments to give blood should pick up appointment cards as soon as possible in the Union concourse.

Faculty members are scheduled to give blood on Monday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., but students may still arrange appointments.

Blood may be given Tuesday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Wednesday and Thursday from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. On Friday, Nov. 4, blood may be given from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Trophies will be given to the living units, fraternities, and sororities with the largest percentage of contributions.

Colleges Plan Mock Elections

Every time a national election comes up, straw votes become popular across the country. The Big Ten universities are no exception to other groups caught in the frenzy of elections.

Tuesday, all Big Ten universities except Ohio State will participate in a mock election. Ohio State had election last week, in which Richard Nixon, the Republican presidential candidate, defeated John Kennedy, the Democratic candidate, 4,053 to 2,393 votes.

The election on this campus will include not only the two major presidential candidates, but also the two gubernatorial and senatorial candidates. Voting will be held in every sorority and fraternity house, all dorms and the Union.

Balloting will be from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. in the Union; 11:15 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. and 5 to 5:30 p.m. in dorms and Greek houses. Students may vote either in the Union or living units. ID cards must be presented and stamped before a student votes.

All ballots will be counted by 9:15 p.m. and results will be announced in Wednesday's State News.

The Big Ten newspapers have arranged a conference telephone call to discuss the results of the elections. Several schools will have state tickets, but only presidential results will be compared. The election is being sponsored on campus by the State News, Republicans and Young Citizens for Kennedy. All ballots will be tallied by these three groups and other volunteer students.

Lodge Says Our Prestige Not Slipping

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge said Wednesday he didn't think much of any report which contends the prestige of the United States overseas is slipping.

"I know more about American prestige than the USA, United States Information Agency—because I spent eight years in the place where it was put to the test," the Republican candidate for Vice President told newsmen on his arrival here from a tour of northeastern Pennsylvania. He was referring to his service in the United Nations.

Lodge had been asked to comment on what Sen. John F. Kennedy calls a USA report which supports the Democratic presidential candidate's contention that U.S. prestige is slipping.

Lodge said Kennedy was confused between prestige and popularity.

"We assume we are not generally loved in the world," he said. "No big power is. But prestige means mostly respect. And a nation gains respect if its word is good and its ideals noble."

Before coming to East Lansing, Lohri had maintained an undefeated record.

Frosh Cage Squad Pleases Rand

By DERWOOD HAINES

The very pleased with this year's squad. Tom Rand, MSU freshman basketball coach said he was watching his Spartans train through some passing drills. There's a fine group of young men who will only say "MSU" on the basketball court," he continued.

The freshman season ended on that note as a squad has the same overall size as the one he handled last season but he added that they had more potential in the first seven men of the year's team.

IM Football Bower Rocks Urey, 13-6

By BRUCE FABRICANT

In independent football play, Bower rocked Urey with first football tactics, cashing in on repeated interceptions, in rolling to a 13-6 victory Tuesday night.

Two pass interceptions, three of them by Neil Kristof, made the Urey attack in the first half. Kristof's interceptions were the last points scored. Urey was unable to penetrate Bower's defense when it counted most. At halftime Bower led 13-0 and seemed well able to cope with everything that Urey had to offer.

Urey's biggest drive, a 50 yard advance, was staved with two minutes remaining in the final period. Rex Drexler's interception and lateral to Bob Steer, who passed to Dave Daniels, culminated Urey's only touchdown march.

French Poet Wins Nobel Prize for Literature

STOCKHOLM (AP)—The Nobel prize for literature was awarded Wednesday to Saint-John Perse, a French poet whose life has been marked by wanderings and adventures.

The 55-year-old Académie Française member Perse won the $4,000 prize, from a fund established by the bequest of a Swedish iron master which has a tradition of honoring authors of originality of our time.

Perse was born in a small town in Brittany, France, and spent a part of his childhood in the United States, where he worked in the iron industry.

Perse's poetry is marked by an air of mystery and imagination, and is characterized by its brevity and its use of classical forms.

His latest poem, "Chants," is full of allusions to the modern world.

It appeals to Europe to consider the role of history and culture with this line:

"Sommet de temps, here we are, Messieurs the lords of men."

Born on the island of Guadeloupe in the French West Indies, Perse was baptized Alexis St. Léger and adopted his pen-name after entering the diplomatic service in 1918. It rhymes roughly with the English word "perse."

When he was 11 years old, his family, which came from a long line of French colonial administrators, sent him to France to study. Always close to the sea, a major theme in his poetry, he first considered a naval career but abandoned it.

FROM 1918 to 1920 he was employed as the French attaché in London. He worked during a crisis period and returned to the French West Indies in 1920. The outbreak of the World War I had ended the French colonial empire.

Perse's poetry is marked by an air of mystery and imagination, and is characterized by its brevity and its use of classical forms.

His latest poem, "Chants," is full of allusions to the modern world.

The poem in an English translation by T. S. Eliot, another Nobel laureate, is the only one of Perse's poems with much veneration in the United States. Even that veneration only in the thousands, for his work is an enigma to most modern poetry.

As shown in a series of images in the series about the rise and fall of civilizations and cities and, as one French critic put it, "the progress of vast spaces in Asiatic deserts."

His other early works include "Logiques," "Friendship of the Poet," and "L'Amour d'un Poète."

In 1927 Perse was named secretary-general of the French Foreign Ministry, his country's top career diplomat. He continued writing poetry at night and kept it a secret from his associates.

In 1940, eight days after the start of Hitler's blitz, the French government fled. Perse opposed surrender to Germany and was dismissed. He fled to the United States, where American poet Archibald MacLeish helped him get a post as a consultant to the Library of Congress in Washington.
