Joseph G. La Palombara, head of the department of political science, left Wednesday for a nine-week tour of Asia to inspect the technical aid projects of the United States.

La Palombara said he plans to make an evaluation of work done by MSU under the technical aid projects of the United States and the International Cooperative Administration, a technical assistance agency of the United States.

La Palombara was under colonial rule in France for the past 15 years. He has had a long experience in having a national independence, and he has had a long experience in having a national independence.

Churches Clash On School Aid

New York, (AP)—A clash between Roman Catholic and Protestant leaders arose Wednesday over recommendations of President-elect John F. Kennedy's study group on Education and Public Health.

A charge by Francis Cardinal Spellman that it would be unwise to include church-run schools in such a program was countered by Dr. Oswald C. Hoffman, of the Lutheran North-Missouri Synod.

Dr. Hoffman, whose church is the largest system of Protestant elementary schools in the country, said "let Cardinal Spellman speak for himself. He is not speaking for us Lutherans."

As Americans who accept traditional American policy of church-state separation we liberals would not feel discriminated against if Federal funds were appropriated for their schools only.

In fact, we think that Federal assistance, if there has to be any, should be restricted to public schools.

Dr. Hoffman's spokesman, Cardinal Spellman, said, "that's all right—let people disagree with me. The issue is a long-shouldered one, with Protestant leaders generally opposing government aid to parochial or private schools, and many Catholics favoring it. Others do not."

At the question boiled up Wednesday, however, it featured a Protestant defending a position that has been repeatedly attacked by Kennedy, a Roman Catholic against using public funds for church-related schools.

Dr. Hoffman, information director for his church and pastor of the "Lutheran Hour," said including parochial schools from government aid "deprives no one of their freedoms."

Vote Fraud Disclosed By GOP

Larry Laidner, state chairman of the Republican party, told the Young Republicans Tuesday that he has a list of 227 names of people voting in the Democratic ward in Detroit who do not live in those wards.

Laidner said that he planned to hand over the names of the voters to the secretary of state on Wednesday morning. He said the names were obtained from a list to do not vote.

He also revealed the record of the party during the four years of the state chairman.

The Republican party has taken a number of steps that we take a national attitude and fail to give the same treatment to the voters.

At a time in 1950 the Republican party took 51% of the vote in the state, but in 1954 it took only 40%.

Adlai, Expert in Rebuffs, Expects Many for U. S.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Adlai Stevenson designated ambassador to the United Nations, warned Wednesday that the United States may run into "rebuffs" and disappointments in the U.N. following the formal admission of Red China.

The rebuffs came in response to questions by the Senate Foreign Relations committee, which approved his nomination.

Stevenson was one of many members of President-elect John F. Kennedy's inaugural administration who paraded to committee rooms for Senate hearings on their nominations.

Stevenson delivered a glowing tribute to the U.N. he called it "the most important institution in the world" and said its importance is demonstrated by the fact that "when a Communist leader wants to be heard, he goes to the U.N. and he is heard."

At Last Conference Ike Urges JFK To Keep U.S. Strong

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Eisenhower urged the incoming Kennedy administration Wednesday to keep America "strong and firm and yet conciliatory" in meeting the global challenge of communism.

The retiring President, in an amiable mood, closed out his White House news conferences with a wide-ranging discussion of domestic and foreign problems. It was his 103rd meeting with reporters as President and 305 of them hurried out.

He was solemnly authoritative in outlining what he regarded as Kennedy's greatest problem, his own greatness and his biggest disappointment in eight years in the Presidency.

McNamara Trust Plan Rejected

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Senate Armed Services committee Wednesday rejected the $11 million trust fund plan of Secretary of Defense-designate Robert S. McNamara. He had set it up to avoid possible conflict of interest.

But the committee decided to fall short. McNamara was offered to file a written promise that neither he nor his firm would own defense stocks while he heads the Pentagon.

The action came during a busy day when Senate committees approved the nominations of four members of President-elect John F. Kennedy's cabinet and of Adlai Stevenson as ambassador to the United Nations.

McNamara, however, received only conditional approval. To win full approval, he must file the written promise.

In his testimony Tuesday, McNamara said he would revise his trust fund plan in any manner suggested by the committee.

It is a very harsh rule," said Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the committee, but he said the committee also had applied it to Charles E. Wilson, President Eisenhower's first secretary of defense.

The committee decision, however, means "that the McNamara trust could not buy any stock which he could not buy personally," Russell said.

Strike Hits Commuters; New York Rails Halt

NEW YORK, (AP)—The New Haven Railroad was forced by tugboat pickets Wednesday to suspend passenger service to 30,000 daily commuters. It brought to 100,000 the number stranded in the nine-day walkout.

The strikers, using a pink Cadillac to transport a handful of pickets to Connecticut, prevailed upon New Haven trainmen to respect their slim picket lines. Suspension of service was then announced by New Haven President George Albert, who said:

"It is with great regret that we find ourselves forced to discontinue passenger service in and out of the New York area."

In the face of continued picketing by striking maritime unions, we have had to be almost to keep this service running. We feel it is a real injustice that 600 striking tugboat workers who do not have any part in the operation of our commuter service, can thus be left out of 30,000 New Haven commuters and retard vital shipments of food and fuel into New York.

The strikers' foray into the New York Central, which straddles 40,000 commuters and cut main line service from Grand Central Terminal.

THE PINK CADILLAC played a key role in the strike. The strikers used it to transport a handful of pickets to Connecticut, prevailing upon New Haven trainmen to respect their slim picket lines.

A fire on the Bessy rail construction site Tuesday night may have been deliberate, it is being investigated by police safety officers.

Several bags of cement and a canvas covering were in the fire. Fire trucks made another run shortly before the Bessy fire to Anthony Hall A circuit breaker in the sub-basement exploded and blew the cover off the electrical box.

Reconciliation Seen By Dick and June

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—There were signs of reconciliation Wednesday between actor Dick Powell and actress June Allyson, just a day after the first divorce suit and disclosure of a settlement giving her 2.5 million in property.

"I still love June and I'm sure she still loves me," Powell told reporters as he stood beside his wife at their Beverly Hills home.

"If people will only leave us alone," he said. "Maybe we'll be able to work out our situation."

Powell showed a passing sign of amnesia when he was asked about a report from London that he was rushing home to find out what they reported separation was all about.

These "English" newspapers are rough on a person," he asserted. "I know June was planning a divorce. I signed the property agreement two months ago. It was just coincidental that I returned home to find the papers were filed."

Earlier Tuesday Attorney Jerry Greider filed Miss Allyson's suit in Santa Monica Superior Court, alleging mental cruelty.

At the prison, guards allowed people to drive up to the gate. The prison is surrounded by a 12-foot wall, a deep trench and a high barbed wire fence. At each corner lookout towers have been placed.

Riot Changes Lockup Lumumba Badly Beaten

JACOBVILLE, (AP)—Police Lt. Lumumba was taken up Wednesday in the aftermath of a riot in the town of Jacobville, Kan., during a severe blizzard.

The Kansas Government of President John F. Kennedy during the riot, Lumumba was taken up Wednesday in the aftermath of a riot in the town of Jacobville, Kan., during a severe blizzard.

Apparently shaken by the incident, Congo President Joseph Kasavubu ordered him transferred to Katanga. Kasavubu's government said Kasavubu issued the order because "the Thyswas badly beaten and hospitalized." Kasavubu said Lumumba has resumed public contacts since the President removed Lumumba as Premier last September.

Swedish UN troops, following orders not to intervene in Congo politics, did not stop the beating administered Lumumba and two political associates on their arrival from Leopoldville Tuesday.

Accompanying the deposed Premier were Maurice Mpolo, Youth Minister in Lumumba's cabinet, and Joseph Okito, Vice President of the Senate. They were met by Katanga police and their European officers.

Arson Suspected As Cause of Fire

A fire on the Bessy rail construction site Tuesday night may have been deliberate, it is being investigated by police safety officers.

Several bags of cement and a canvas covering were in the fire. Fire trucks made another run shortly before the Bessy fire to Anthony Hall A circuit breaker in the sub-basement exploded and blew the cover off the electrical box.

Smoke had spread through the ventilation system, but the flames were out by the time firemen arrived, and damage was confined to the circuit box.

The railroad was directed against 11 buildings that operate a branch of highway and hundreds of workers and railroad cars that were called by the Southern International Union, the Masters, Mates and Poles Union.

The main issue is a job security law that was contract. The railroad was the right to reduce the size of the five-man tugboat crew. The union held on maintaining present crews.

12 Die in Fire; Murder Found

BEDFORD, QUE., (AP)—And Voshburgh's lawyer was charged with murder Wednesday after 12 hours after a 1950-era car had built him eventually responsible for the deaths of his wife and 11 of his 13 children.

The 12 Voshburghs died in a fire that swept their shanty home early Dec. 29 at Newn, 33 miles south of Montreal.

Voshburgh was the sole survivor of the fire. The other four children were not in the shack-like home at the time.

The 12 bodies were exhumed and the autopsy disclosed that while the children had died of asphyxiation, Mrs. Voshburgh, 43, had not.

Questioning of neighbors and relatives brought to light discrepancies in the stories of what happened the night of the fire.

Erroll Makes Hit Playing Garner

BY STAN MARTINO
State News Staff Writer

"Yes, Yes, Yes" mumbled the crowd at the Slatway piano in the Arts Faculty night.

And then, Erroll Garner, the pianist, stepped to the piano and played a piece called "Yes, Yes, Yes." It was a piece that he had written for the occasion and it was a hit.

ERROLL GARNER was the guest pianist at the Slatway piano in the Arts Faculty night. He played an impressive program of 24 pieces, including "Yes, Yes, Yes," a piece he had written for the occasion. Garner, who is 35, is a well-known pianist and composer. He has recorded many records and has performed in many concert halls.

Garner's performance was a hit with the audience. He played several pieces that he had written for the occasion, including "Yes, Yes, Yes," "The Blues," and "The Train." He also played several pieces that he had recorded, including "The Blues," "The Train," and "The Blues."

The audience was in good luck. Garner played several pieces that he had written for the occasion, including "Yes, Yes, Yes," "The Blues," and "The Train." He also played several pieces that he had recorded, including "The Blues," "The Train," and "The Blues."

Republican Victory Assured; Lansing Democrats Agree

There will be an election in Lansing township Feb. 20, but only one party will be on the ballot.

The Democrats lost their place on the township ballot in the primary election Feb. 20 and the general election April 3 by failing to qualify any candidates for township offices.

Mrs. Belle McMillen, township clerk, said that no Democrats, or members of any party other than the Republican, have applied to be placed on the ballot.

The Democrats won't even have a party emblem with a row of blanks on the ballot. The only way to vote for any other than the Republican candidate is to write the name in the GOP column.

The attorney general ruled in 1955 that a party which fails to qualify any candidates is not entitled to room on the ballot. To be placed on the ballot at the primary election two years from now the Democrats must file a petition carrying names of two percent of the township voters.

There will be an election in Lansing township Feb. 20, but only one party will be on the ballot.

The advertisement, called an "Open Letter to Freshmen," was purchased by a single fraternity.

The Inter-Fraternity Council is interested in maintaining and furthering a responsible university community and feels that mature understanding among all individuals is necessary to achieve this end.

Using other tables also enables members of the same state party to run for the same township office.

Democratic candidates will appear on the separate state ballots at the general election April 3.

Friday is the last day for winter term graduates to submit application for diplomas. Those who have not applied may do so in 116 Administration.

Spellman Sees Dooley; Doctor Prepared to Die

NEW YORK (AP)—Jungle Doctor Thomas Dooley is prepared to die and "is satisfied he has served his country, his profession and his God," Francis Cardinal Spellman said Wednesday.

The Archbishop paid a birthday visit to the 34-year-old Dooley at Memorial Hospital Tuesday and spoke of it at a Bishop's Relief Fund luncheon Wednesday.

He said the young doctor, who established hospitals in Laos and worked there until stricken with cancer, had requested the visit.

Dooley is reported in serious condition and semiconscious much of the time.

Phone Co. Helps Telephone Directories Assist Erroll Garner

By LINDA LOTRIDGE, State News Staff Writer

Two Lansing telephone directories were needed before the famed jazz pianist, Erroll Garner, could get down to the piano...

Garner, who stands only five feet two inches tall, held an interview with reporters Monday afternoon in the Aud.

Usually he is aided by a New York City directory but none was available.

The jazz genius refused to play for the reporters. The piano was out of tune.

The stage managers in the Aud made sure it was in perfect condition for the concert he gave last night.

Garner never knows exactly what he will be playing ahead of any concert. Known for his improvisation, the pianist cannot read music.

Jazz is international although a person must cultivate a good feeling for it first and then an ear, Garner said.

This form of music may be taking over from rock 'n' roll. He said that a genius like Dave Brubeck and Ahmad Jamal are bringing the standards of jazz up.

"Even Elvis Presley is a genius in what he does," he said.

When questioned further about rock 'n' roll music the pianist said he felt that the music keeps teenagers occupied.

However, when they get into the 11th and 12th grades, their tastes in music usually change to either the classics or jazz.

2 Shotgunned, Student Dies, Killer Loose

BERKELEY, CALIF. (AP) — A 40-year-old English professor and his graduate student assistant were wounded — the student fatally — by an unidentified, bushy-haired man with a sawed-off shotgun on the University of California campus Wednesday.

The student, Stephen Mann Thomas, 29, died an hour and a half after the sudden and unexpected attack in the Dwinelle Hall office of Prof. Thomas Parkinson. Parkinson was shot in the face.

Both victims were rushed to Herzig Memorial hospital. Thomas died there of a gaping neck wound. Parkinson later was transferred to Peralta hospital in nearby Oakland where his condition was described as fair. Part of his jaw was shot away.

The professor's wife, Mrs. Arnie Parkinson, was at his bedside. She said she had no idea of why anyone would shoot either her husband or Thomas, a brilliant student working for a doctorate in English.

Grad Student Gives Dance Instructions

The first in a series of dance instruction classes will be held Friday at 8 p.m. Lessons are open to all interested persons in the area and will be held in the Forestry Log Cabin on South Campus.

These classes of several countries will be taught. Those will be followed by a discussion on the possibilities of the group.

The class is being organized by Bob Harrison, East Lansing grad student.

Admission is 50 cents.

B-B Shots How Many More Wins?

By BEN BURNS

We won! We won! but how many more will our Spartan basketball players bring home this year?

It appears on consideration that the MSU basketball team will meet few opponents of somewhat similar strength or weakness if you like it that way during the rest of the Big Ten season.

Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and MSU are supposed to be the Big Ten cellar dwellers.

Our Spartans could quite conceivably beat Michigan at Ann Arbor and possibly Wisconsin. Minnesota has beaten the Spartans once, but being prejudiced I think the Spartans could turn in a good showing on the home court.

Wisconsin downed the Spartans on their home floor, but they could be beaten on a night.

Northern Michigan should be at least an even match or a positive victory.

It is possible of course for the Spartans to come alive and win half of their Big Ten games this season, but sadly this prospect looks very dim.

One game that there should be a large turnout for, in spite of the lackluster season, is the night of the Ohio State-Michigan State exhibition in Jensen Field House.

Many fans are exhibiting about seeing Jerry Lucas, Larry Siegfried and John Havlicek play basketball, but especially Lucas.

The prospects in general for the year look dim and I entirely sympathize with Forddy Anderson, whom I consider one of the best coaches in the nation.

The freshman squad looks good and we can always hope for next year of the year after, but in the meanwhile sports fans should switch their interests.

Our wrestling team has turned in several fine performances and it looks like it will be a good season for coach Fendley Collins' grapplers.

The swimmers put on a spectacular performance in Iowa last weekend according to Charles McArthur, the swimming coach.

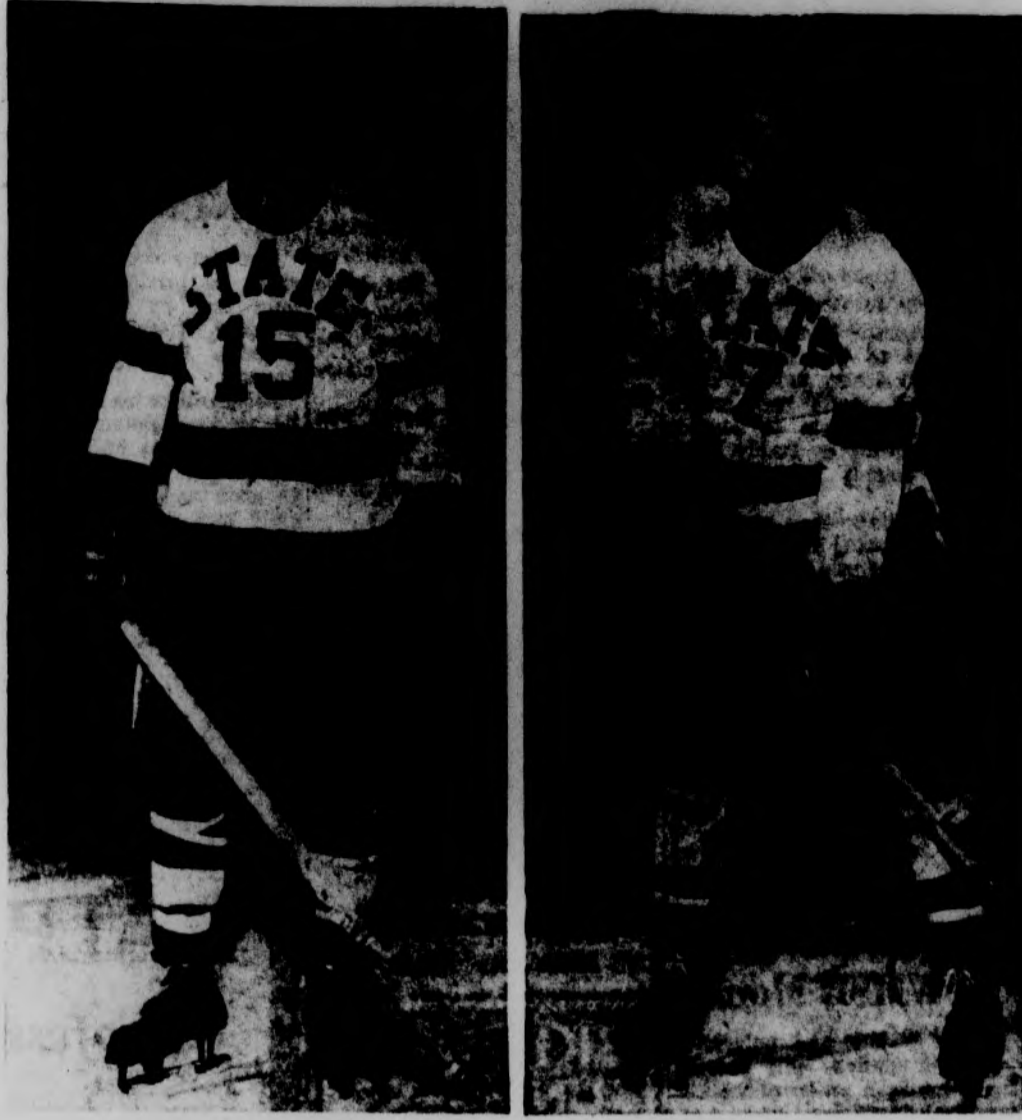

Such standouts as Carl Shaar, who turned in a time that would have been second in the nation last year and broke his own varsity record, will be bolstering the Spartan squad.

Capt. Billy Stewart and Dick Bruskett will add strength to what should be a fine team.

The tankers meet Minnesota this Friday and then Indiana on Saturday. Indiana's squad will include three Olympic gold medalists.

The gymnasts under George Szypula looked good at Iowa State last weekend and the weekend before that when they practiced on Central Michigan.

In general, frustrated basketball fans will just have to content themselves with having some major teams in the minor sports and go to these matches instead.

ANDRE LACOSTE

TOM BOUCHER

Veterans LaCoste, Boucher Steady State's Hockey Line

By SUE CAMPBELL State News Sports Writer

Captain Andre LaCoste and Tom Boucher, two of MSU's finest centermen, are seeing their last season of play with the Spartan hockey squad. The fine leadership, play-making ability, and hustle of these two seniors has added greatly to the Spartan forward wall.

LACOSTE AND Boucher are natives of Sudbury, Ontario where they both graduated from St. Charles High School. Teammates in high school, they went on to play intermediate hockey with Falconbridge, Ontario becoming to Michigan State.

Andre LaCoste, who is a senior, had a "flow" start this season due to a broken hand. Last year he led for first place in scoring along with teammates Terry Moroney and Jack Roberts with fourteen points. As a centerman, André is a great asset to his linemates and the team because he goes into the corners and digs for the puck.

He is the best forechecker we have had on the squad since Joe Polansky says Head Coach Arno Bessone. "What he lacks in speed, he makes up for in hustle and tenacity."

He worked well with Real Turcotte and Claud Fournel and is proving to be equally as effective this season with Bobby Doyle and Real Turcotte. "He's a good digger and when he's on the ice he gives it all he's got," says Coach Bessone.

"Coaches enjoy working with players like Boucher and LaCoste," commented Bessone. "They have the desire and enthusiasm that spark the team."

On Campus with Max Schulman 1961: YEAR OF DECISION Will our year be 1961, which shows every sign of being quite a distinguished year. First off, it is the only year since 1951 which begins and ends with the figure 1. Of course, when it comes to Figure 1, 1961, though distinguished, can hardly compare with 1911, which, most people agree, had not just two, but three figure 1's. This I'll wager, is a record that will stand for at least two hundred years!

WILLIAM H. COMBS, dean of university services and secretary of faculties, is a veteran of 22 years with the university. He has been active in public service work and has served on several state committees.

'Faculty Profile'

University Services Dean Combs Recalls His Past, MSU Growth

By JESS MAXWELL
State News Feature Editor

Dean of University Services and Secretary of Faculties William H. Combs enjoys leaning back one in a while and remembering his 22 years at the university.

"It's been a long time," he said. "I am proud to have participated in the tremendous growth of this school."

Active in public service and educational work for many years, Combs now oversees the Audio-Visual center, Library museum, department of military and air science, and the Lecture-Concert series.

Born on a farm near Ellettsville, Ind., Combs attended Indiana University, receiving his bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees.

He was awarded the Baldwin Fellowship in history at the University of Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1926-27 and the Harrison Fellowship at the University of Pennsylvania in 1929-31. He received a Ph.D. in 1933.

Combs taught in elementary and secondary schools in Indiana for 12 years before teaching at Berea College in Kentucky, and the University of Tennessee, before joining the staff at MSU.

ACTIVE IN public service work since 1933, Combs was a consultant to the state Department on the public welfare of Tennessee, member of the Commission of Modernization and Reform of Government of Michigan, member of the Michigan Constitutional Revision Study Commission, and member of the technical staff of the Advisory Tax Study Commission.

He is presently a member of the Institute of Local Government in Michigan and of the board of directors of the Midwest Interservice Corporation of which he was chairman in 1958-59.

"Public service work is educational, enjoyable, and a service to others," Combs said.

COMBS CAME to the university as an assistant professor of history and political science in 1938. He was elevated to associate professor and to the headship of the department of public administration in 1944 upon the reorganization of MSU in that year.

He was instrumental in developing the university's first public administration training course in 1949.

Combs was administrative assistant to the president for academic affairs from 1945-56 and dean of the All-College division for seven years.

He has been dean of university services since 1956.

AS DEAN, COMBS "oversees two separately organized teaching departments and four classified as other educational services."

He is chairman of the faculty committees on university service, course and curricular changes, and Reserve Officer Training Corps. He has been a member of the Graduate Council since 1945.

"I have had a lot of experience in teaching in the earlier days," Combs said, "and experience in administrative and research work in my later days."

"AND I HAVE enjoyed it all," he added.

Combs is married, has two children (one, Robert, is a surgeon in Lansing, and the other, Joan, is a MSU graduate), and resides in East Lansing.

Combs is the author of a book, "Tennessee: A Political Study," and a pamphlet, "Constitutional Problems in Tennessee." He has written articles for several publications.

"Hobbies?" "I am a little too busy with work and don't have much time for them," he said.

COMBS MAKES frequent trips with the athletic teams as a spectator.

"I expect to see a considerable increase in all phases of the university's life and especially in the fields of research and international programs," he said.

"But in order to meet this expansion, the university faces the problems of building a good research library, and developing the audio-visual and museum programs for technical and research purposes."

J-Hop's History Is One Of Sleds, Snow and Fun

By UTE AULD
State News Feature Writer

Even if tricky old man winter decides to surprise the campus with a gigantic blizzard Jan. 25, the night of the 1961 J-Hop, "Tara," it seems unlikely that this would prove an insurmountable obstacle to couples eager to swing to Buddy Morrow's "Sounds of the Old South."

In 1912 the problem of a snow-storm paralyzing streetcar lines, then the only mode of transportation, was solved in a practical, yet somewhat romantic way, by the Spartans.

Couples rented two sleighs, bundled up warmly, and let horsepower do the rest—almost. Just outside the city limits, the sleighs broke down and dates trekked the rest of the way to Lansing's Masonic Temple, where they literally danced the night away, snowed in, of course.

'The Challenge' On WMSB Mon.

WMSB-TV, the university television station, will present the third in a series of weekly programs Monday at 11:30 a.m. entitled "The Constant Challenge."

According to Michigan Education Association spokesman Jerry White, the series was produced to emphasize the problems and conflicts of contemporary education.

Last Monday's program presented an insight into the role that athletics plays in the social maturation of youth.

In coming programs, the series will feature subjects such as school finance, the creative approach to education and the influence of education on ethics and morals.

Annual Art Show Open to Jan. 30

The art department's annual purchase show will continue until Jan. 30 in Kresge Art center, displaying prints from 1850-1960.

The show comprises a broad range of print-making techniques used by such artists as Bonnard, Chagall, Gauguin, Klee, Picasso, Renoir, and Rouault.

Sales will be made to the public starting tomorrow via the art department office.

Gallery hours are 8 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Tuesdays and Saturdays and Sundays from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. The gallery is open Tuesday evenings from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

EARLY J-HOPS, then known as Junior Proms, were preceded by formal receptions, banquets, and grand marches. The dance began as early as 4 p.m. with students attending being excused from late afternoon classes.

The tradition of favors was established in 1916 when the men received leather billfolds and their dates mahogany table lamps.

In 1930 the dance was changed from the gymnasium to the auditorium. That same year the tradition of getting name bands began. Fletcher Henderson and his "snappy aggregation" came from New York City to play for the 300 couples attending the hop. Coeds even had all night permissions for the dance.

The reduced ticket price of $5, the semi-formal attire, and the one-night stand are the 1961 contributions to the changing J-Hop history.
