Kennedy Urges Greater Role, OAS Membership for Canada

Sees Big Force for NATO

OTTAWA (AP)—President Kennedy said Wednesday the United States is ready to establish an internationally controlled sea-borne nuclear missile force and to beef up allied nuclear and conventional forces to convince world communism its "grand designs" will be resisted.

The President, in a major address to the Canadian Parliament, also bluntly told Canada it is time she joined the Organization of American States in an all-out effort to secure the whole Western hemisphere against "the encroachment of international communism."

The speech to the two houses of Parliament in the House of Commons was the high point of a state visit, in which one of Kennedy's main purposes was to persuade Canada to contribute more to Latin American defense and development.

KENNEDY reminded Parliament the United States plans to commit five—and subsequently more—Polaris atomic-missile submarines to the NATO command area, subject to allied agreement.

"Beyond this," Kennedy said, "we look to the possibility of eventually establishing a NATO sea-borne missile force which would be truly multilateral in ownership and control, if this should be desired and found feasible by our allies, once NATO's non-nuclear goals have been achieved."

The United States, he said, intends to strengthen the conventional capability of the alliance as a "matter of highest priority," and is taking steps "to increase the strength and mobility of our forces and modernize their equipment."

"To the same end, we will maintain our forces now on the European continent and will increase their conventional capabilities," he said. "We look to our NATO allies to assign an equally high priority to this same essential task."

Kennedy said both the improvement of conventional forces and the increase of nuclear forces are aimed at guaranteeing that "no aggressor will mistake our determination to respond instantly with whatever force is appropriate."

THE TIME has come, he said, for members of the Atlantic community to further increase and integrate their forces, research development, production, storage defense, command and training at all levels of armaments.

"So let us begin," he said. "Our opponents are watching to see if we are divided, deceived or in doubt about their grand designs. We must show them that we are not—that we are determined."

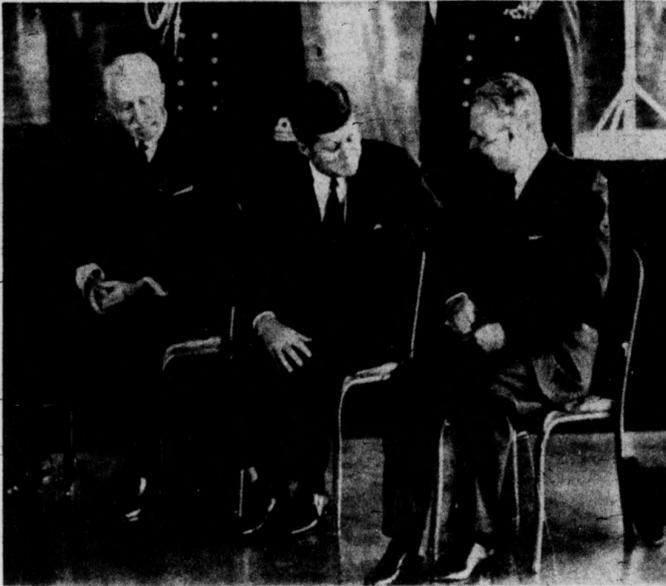

The President's address followed a meeting of two hours and 35 minutes with Canada's Prime Minister John Diefenbaker. The two already had discussed Tuesday night the possibility of a Kennedy meeting with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Disclosing this, White House press secretary Pierre Salinger declined to go into details. The disclosure was, however, recognition that the United States has been discussing with allies. See KENNEDY Page 6

Police Find Car But Wheels Gone

Early Tuesday morning Lansing police found a 1955 convertible at the east end of Main street with the rear wheels removed and the ignition wires crossed.

The car was stolen from Robert E. Boice, Grand Rapids junior.

No U. S. Troops In Korean Revolt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department said Wednesday American troops "have not been and will not be . . . involved in any way" in the Korean revolt.

Press Officer Joseph W. Reap made this statement while declining comment on a broad range of other questions about the uprising by a Korean military group.

"The situation there . . . is fluid," Reap said. "It does appear that the rebel military group is in control of the capital city area but we have insufficient and incomplete information on other parts of the country and because of that I have no comment."

Brogan Speaks at Union Students Like U. S. History

By SALLY WARD, State News Staff Writer

Students in Great Britain are finding the study of American History, a new academic phenomenon, according to D. W. Brogan, distinguished visiting professor from Cambridge.

Brogan gave several reasons for this point of view at a talk Tuesday night at the Union, sponsored by the history department and the History Club.

"The average British student, when he gets over the initial hump of study, is eager to learn more about American history and proceeds with warmth and feeling," Brogan said.

Congress Help Get Hoodlums?

Kennedy Asks Aid To Cut Crime

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy Wednesday asked Congress to help the Justice Department go after hoodlums and racketeers who "have become so rich and so powerful that they have outgrown local authorities."

Urging passage of a series of bills aimed at breaking up "vicious and dangerous criminal combinations," Kennedy said "only the federal government can curtail the flow of funds which permit the kingpins to live far from the scene," beyond the reach of local officials.

He estimated organized gambling does a gross volume of $7 billion a year and helps support numerous other criminal activities, "including the bribery of local officials."

KENNEDY testified before a House Judiciary subcommittee at a hearing on legislation dealing generally with organized crime.

He submitted a statement by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, seconding his proposals, but Chairman Emanuel Celler, (D-N.Y.) said he would like to hear from Hoover personally.

Celler said Hoover had declined an invitation to testify and asked Kennedy to try to "change Mr. Hoover's attitude" so the committee can question him. The chairman noted the hearings will continue more than a week.

In his statement, Hoover said the annual cost of crime now totals $22 billion, "the equivalent of $123 for every man, woman and child in these United States."

The FBI chief said the bills proposed by Kennedy would enable the government to "proceed more effectively and vigorously against the well-entrenched interstate racketeers who are beyond the reach of local law enforcement."

THE PRINCIPAL law asked by Kennedy would make it a federal offense to travel across state lines for the purpose of aiding racketeering.

Kennedy noted that most big time gamblers employ couriers to travel about the country collecting their profits.

HOLDOUT AT GENEVA PARLEY—Leuam Insiengmay, right, chief delegate of western-backed royal Laotian government's group to Geneva international conference on Laos, chatted with Etienne Manach, director of the French Asian Department, at a Geneva hotel Tuesday. In the center is Prince Khammo of Laos. Insiengmay, Laotian minister of interior, said he would boycott the conference because the pro-Communist Pathet Lao representatives of Prince Souvanna Phouma's self-styled neutralists were also invited. Coalition Government Cease-Fire Discussed

BAN NAMONE, Laos (AP)—After four days of bickering, rebel and government negotiators Wednesday agreed to discuss forming a coalition government for Laos and a joint military committee to help supervise the cease-fire.

Birmingham Stops Bus

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A Greyhound bus carrying a racially mixed group believed ready to try to crack bus station segregation arrived here Wednesday.

But Birmingham City police met the bus on the outskirts of the city, arrested two of the passengers, and put two officers on the bus for the remainder of the journey to the bus station.

At the station, the two officers stepped off the bus, but police refused to let any of the other passengers—all negroes get off.

main demand—that top priority in future discussions be given to formation of a coalition government rather than military matters.

THE ROYAL government, however, won agreement to its chief demand that a joint military group be formed to work with the three-nation international control commission in checking on the cease-fire.

Two rival plans were proposed and will be discussed at another meeting Friday in this rebel-held town 75 miles north of Vientiane.

The royal government proposed first a meeting of the three leaders—presumably government strongman Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma who is recognized by the Communist bloc as the premier of Laos, and Pathet Lao chief Prince Souphanouvong.

Discussion of the question of legality of any provisional coalition government would be the second topic. The third would be a proposal that any provisional government include all parties and prominent independent groups.

The Pathet Lao proposed these points:

1. Any government formed would be only provisional to handle immediate problems of reunification.

2. Discussions then would turn to the basis of a coalition government to be formed, meaning who would get key spots.

3. Duties of the provisional government would be outlined.

4. Government policy would be set up.

A NUMBER of differences are bound to come up in talks on a coalition government—including how many cabinet seats the rebels, now in a strong position militarily, will demand.

Though both sides talked of a summit meeting between top leaders of all factions, there was no firm agreement. "Neutralist" delegate Pheng Phongsavan said Souvanna had authorized him to accept a meeting of "the three princes" and suggested it be in the rebel capital of Xieng Khouang.

This had two catches. Pheng was proposing the government be represented by Premier Prince Boun Oum. But Deputy Premier Gen. Phoumi is the real power. Also, Zieng Khouang is believed unacceptable to Phoumi as a meeting place.

However, observers felt the door was left open for high level talks in the near future.

Plan Speech House For French Studies

By DIANA BUCHMAN, State News Staff Writer

In accordance with President Hannah's Seven-Point plan, the language department is planning to create a language house on a small scale. The purpose is to have the serious French student live in a French atmosphere, said Stanley R. Townsend, language department head.

West Landon terrace precinct has been chosen for the language house, said Townsend. The first group will include 16 to 18 women French students.

"We hope to have a native speaking French girl living on the premises in perhaps the capacity of resident advisor," said Townsend.

The dining room alcove will be exclusively for the students participating in the language house program. The students will speak only French at meals.

Part of the west lounge will be used as a French room. French magazines and newspapers will be available. The lounge will also be used as a classroom. French students living outside Landon hall will come to class here, said Townsend.

If the housing authorities release the dormer at the end of the terrace precinct, this room will be substituted for the French room, continued Townsend. This room is better as it would be exclusively for French students.

The idea of a language house is not new, said Townsend. The University of Colorado and the University of Minnesota carry out this idea in their summer schools.

This plan will begin next fall term and continue throughout the year. If the idea is successful it will be expanded to include men and Spanish students.

Women having completed two years of French who are interested in this program may contact Dr. Stanley R. Townsend, 328 Morrill hall, to fill out an application.

University Profile

At Top in Business World, Crissy 'Retires' to Teaching

By SHEILA KNIGHT
State News Feature Writer

In our competitive economy, it is a rare man that reaches the top in the business world to retire into an intellectual life of writing and teaching.

William E. Crissy, professor of business administration is such a man.

Personal Development associates, a counseling firm specializing in marketing and sales management, was headed and founded by Crissy, and all but one employee were his former students.

IT WAS FROM this firm that he resigned and came to the university, although he is still active as a business consultant.

He has nothing but praise for this campus, its faculty and students, he said.

"The student body of this campus is the wholesome, well-motivated, intellectual equal of any student body I have seen and the graduate students are outstanding. MSU has an exciting business faculty and an outstanding marketing group," Crissy said.

HE HAS TAUGHT psychology at Harvard, Cornell, Columbia and New York universities, and he is author of the "Psychology of Selling" series.

Crissy has over fifty publications in marketing and sales literature and he presently has a book at press, "Sell the Way the Pro's Do," which discusses and analyzes the techniques of the country's greatest sales people.

Crissy was commentator on the radio program, "Make up Your Mind," for four years and has appeared on television representing the Boy Scouts for fund raising purposes.

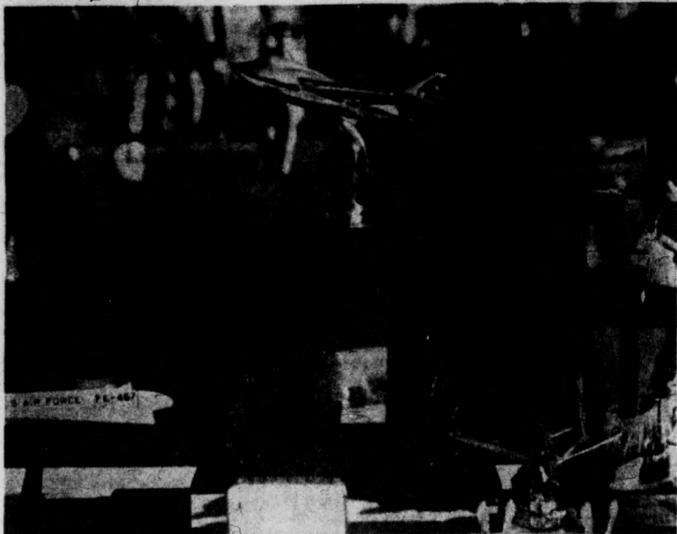

After receiving his BS at West Chester State Teachers college, Ed M at Harvard and PhD in Psychology at North Carolina, he entered the Navy during World War II and served on the destroyer, Albert W. Grant, the most damaged destroyer to survive the war.

He received the Silver Star for gallantry in the battle of Surigao Straits. He is still active in the Naval reserve as a consultant and naval research director.

Now residing in Okemos, Crissy plans to remain at the university until retirement.

Summer Students To See Second Fine Arts Festival

The second annual Fine Arts festival featuring some of the nation's top names in music, art, dance, theater and landscape architecture will be part of the university's summer session for 1961.

Music conductors Robert Shaw and Thor Johnson, singer Leon Bibb, dance artist Erick Hawkins, author and educator Harold Taylor, painter Edward Corbett, film critic Helen Bower, landscape architect Conrad Wirth and many others are included in the diversified program.

A premiere performance of university composer H. Owen Reed's "Overture for Strings" by the American String congress under the direction of Thor Johnson will get the festival under way on July 17. Taylor will present the convocation address.

ROBERT SHAW, director of the famed Robert Shaw Chorus, will bring to a close the performance portion of the festival on July 20 as he directs the MSU Festival Chorus and Orchestra in Verdi's "Requiem."

Shaw is known to millions throughout the country by his many best-selling recordings and annual concert tours. He is also associate conductor of the Cleveland Orchestra.

Conductor Thor Johnson will head a distinguished faculty of musicians at the third American Federation of Musicians string congress at the university this summer. He was music director of the Cincinnati Symphony for eleven seasons and has been music director of the Ann Arbor May festivals since 1939.

One of the most provocative and original thinkers in American education, Harold Taylor, first came to national prominence in 1945 when he was appointed to the presidency of Sarah Lawrence college at the age of 30. He is also familiar to a nation-wide television audience as host of ABC's "Meet the Professor" program.

AMONG THE balladeers on the American scene today, Leon Bibb is a rarity. Not only is he an excellent interpreter of folk-songs, but he also brings to his work a magnificent voice. The

New York Times' record critic named him a "striking singer" who sings as if "he had the whole world in his hands."

Painted Edward Corbett has had his works circulated in the United States, South America and Europe by the Museum of Modern Art and the Art Institute of Chicago. He has had numerous one-man shows, the most recent at the Walker Art Center in Minneapolis this spring.

Lois Balcom of Dance Observer magazine described Erick Hawkins new dance, "Here and Now with Watchers," as "sheer theater magic." The New York dance artist will perform at the university with dancer Barbard Tucker and music by Lucia Dlugoszewska.

Helen Bower was motion picture critic for the Detroit Free Press for 14 years prior to her retirement last March. She has also served as drama critic.

Conrad L. Wirth, director of the National Park service in Washington, has had a distinguished career as landscape architect and national park planner. He has also been a consultant on an international scale in his field.

Oriental Spectacular Opens At Aud Next Thursday

The musical comedy that first introduced the memorable and haunting "Stranger in Paradise," which was the nation's top song-hit throughout the mid-fifties, is opening at the Auditorium on May 25 and will play through the 27.

This is the Oriental extravaganza entitled "Kismet," which is being produced jointly by the department of music and the University Theater. "Kismet" is replete with the glittering color of the bazaars, fakirs, and serpentine dances of the Arabian Nights.

With a record of a 17-month run in New York, "Kismet" is based on one of the most famous and popular plays of the English-speaking stage. Originally written by Edward Knoblock, it scored its first success in London and in New York in 1911, and established the late Otis Skinner as one of the great stars of the stage of that time.

AFTER SKINNER acted it up and down the American continent continuously for four years, he made two movie versions of it, first a silent film in 1920, and a talking picture in 1930. Later, in 1944 Ronald Colman and Marlene Dietrich made a technicolor movie of it. "Kismet," which means fate or destiny, is the story of a dauntless D'Artagnan of old Baghdad, a beggar who sells poems outside a mosque and lives on the edge of starvation.

His tale is an example of the strangeness and unpredictability of human life. With luck, audacity, agile wit and an eloquent tongue, he is able to rise from his penniless state to become the Emir of Baghdad in a single day.

Added to this success, he disposes of his enemy, the fierce Wazir of Police, and takes over the Wazir's alluring wife.

Joint Recital Featured Sunday

A joint recital will be sponsored by the music department at 4 p.m. on Sunday in the Music auditorium.

The featured musicians will be Karen Murphy, a harpist and senior from Davidson, Mich. and Robert Hogenson, a pianist and graduate student in composition from Kirksville, Mo.

Miss Murphy will open the program with "Giga" by Corcell, "Rigodon" by Rameau and "Prelude and Toccata" by Handel.

HOGENSON will play the first two movements of Schumann's "C Major Fantasia" as his opening composition.

Two preludes for harp are programmed next, one is by Grandjany and the other by Ravel. These are followed by three Salzedo compositions, "The Last Rose of Summer," "Rumba" and "Florentine Music Box."

Meldrum Named President

High Hilarity Reigns Supreme At Recent E. Shaw Elections

High hilarity reigned supreme Tuesday night as the men of East Shaw elected their officers for the coming year.

Don Meldrum, a freshman from Grosse Pointe was elected president of the dorm amid an air of gay celebration, yet somber consideration.

Three favorite son candidates, Dean Jedry, Doc Donnelly and John Sobell, kept the audience laughing for a great part of the evening.

JOKES were made about the usual scapegoat, dorm food.

"We guarantee that next year we'll serve food in the dinner lines," said Jedry's interpreter.

"We should abolish dorm government and have complete havoc as Mr. Kennedy does!"

THIS REMARK by Jedry met with varied reactions.

Another favorite son, Doc Donnelly, entered on the shoulders of comrades. He was dressed like Fidel Castro and smoking a cigar.

He was introduced as the "great Revolution Squelcher."

"We will sink the cafeteria help with Jello," said "Fidel."

"Today Cuba . . . tomorrow the world. Long live the men of East Shaw!"

Another comic joked, "I'm going to talk about the food problem. We don't have much of a problem . . . we don't get that much food."

AT ONE POINT in the evening a young man wearing a tuxedo stood up to introduce his candidate, John Sobell.

Speaking in a heavy English accent the young man said, "Fellow students, we are the chosen ones to battle against the archaic social position to which we are most wrongly subjected.

"We cannot feel that our positions are secure when our canoes may never be returned to our beloved and polluted Red Cedar River.

"We must fight! The next wind from the cow barns might be the end of us . . . we must fight!"

BENEATH the hilarity, however, was a more serious trend. The issues involved in the election were de-centralized government and relative strengths of precincts in relation to the dorm president.

Three ballots were necessary to elect a new president with a simple majority.

"We should make the voice of the precincts strong in the General Assembly," said Don Meldrum, the newly elected president. "The president should be a contact man."

"ALL THE IDEAS for projects and resolutions should come from the men," Meldrum said. "They should not be little pet projects of mine."

Frazier Alexander, a freshman political science major, was elected vice president of the dorm.

HE SAID that he felt that the proposal to diminish the number of representatives to the General Assembly from five in every precinct to one from every precinct was not good.

"Democracy is based on diversity," said Alexander.

The election was held according to an electoral college system. Each precinct elects five

DePaulo, Ex-Racer, To Appear at Jr. 500

The Junior 500 pushcart race will add a touch of the famous Indianapolis 500 Saturday when it features its honored guest, Pete DePaulo, one of the old time racing greats.

This is the second straight year that DePaulo will travel from his home in California to be the honored guest of the race, sponsored by Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

DePaulo was the first man to win the Indianapolis 500 race on baloon tires and the first to average over 100 miles per hour. This was in 1925.

THE 63-YEAR-OLD DePaulo, a figure of tremendous stamina and courage, is a veteran of many Indianapolis races and other tests including many tours at Grand Prix road-racing in Europe.

He got his start in racing working as a mechanic for his uncle, Ralph DePalma, one of the early winners of the Indianapolis classic.

Besides racing himself in many races, DePaulo was the coach of the Ford Motor company's racing team until the auto manufacturers ceased the practice of racing teams.

He has lectured to many groups on the problems of driving and maintaining safety on the roads.

HE WILL represent the public relations staff on public safety for the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company.

After riding in the parade, DePaulo will stand near the start of the race and help officiate.

Other guests at the race will

be President John A. Hannah, East Lansing Mayor Gordon L. Thomas, university officials and Anne K. Murray, West Springfield, Mass., freshman, Junior 500 queen and her court.

Seniors of the Week

Cheerleader, Entomologist High In Activities, Studies

Senior of the Week honors go to two out-of-state seniors, Mary Katherine "Kitty" Paul, elementary education major from Winston-Salem, N.C., and George Eickwort, biological science major from Lynbrook, N.Y.

Kitty is well known to all who have attended football games the past two years because she has been a varsity cheerleader.

KITTY IS A member of Union Board and is secretary of her sorority, Kappa Alpha Theta. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, education honorary.

Other activities include program chairman for J-Hop, the IFC-PanHel conference, Water Carnival and Spartacade committee work.

Among trips Kitty has taken she says her most interesting was one to Europe, including Russian and Poland. She also had an unusual activity in her home town—she was a member of the Winston-Salem Junior Spinners club.

After June graduation Kitty plans to teach elementary school.

George is only a first term senior, but his list of activities is long enough to fill more than four years of work. In addition his all-college is a healthy 3.83.

George is treasurer of Alpha Phi Omega service honorary and has also been treasurer and secretary of Elsworth House. He is active in Canterbury Club and was editor of the club's publication, Canterbury Tales.

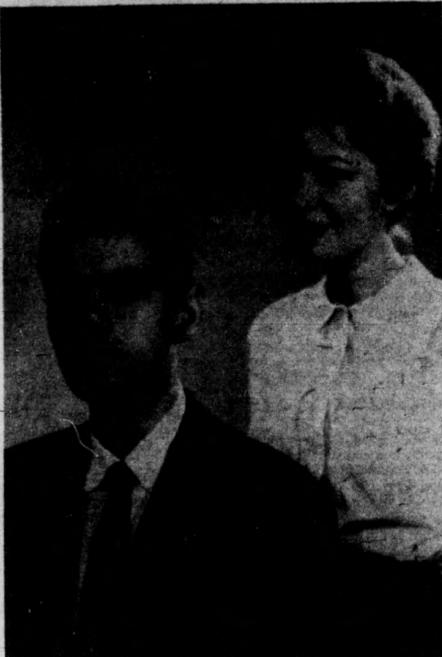

He is a member of the Honors College advisory board and has received three National Science Foundation research grants in entomology. He is a member of the Michigan Entomological Society and is a museum assistant in the entomology department.

A past president of Phi Eta Sigma, George is also a member of Green Helmet, Tau Sigma, Beta Beta Beta. He received an outstanding junior award earlier this week for service and activities during his first years on campus.

George has done many interesting things during the summer, including research at the Smithsonian and American Museum of Natural History, work at the Gull Lake Biological Station, work for NSF and collecting garbage at Jones Beach, N.Y. For the last job he held the title of "operations assistant," he says.

When George isn't working on entomological studies, he enjoys tennis, hiking and art. After graduation next March he plans to work on his M.A. at Michigan State and then continue for a Ph.D. elsewhere.

Padre Island, off the Texas coast, was named after Padre Nicholas Balli, a Spanish priest who vainly tried to establish a ranching colony there in 1811.

MSU Threat for Big 10 Tennis Crown

Michigan Rated Favorites

By DICK COLBY
State News Sports Writer

With an exciting battle for team honors expected, the 1961 Big Ten tennis tournament gets under way today at the Spartan varsity courts.

No less than four teams are accorded a good chance to win the three-day meet, which determines the conference champion. Defending titlist Michigan rates as a slight favorite on the basis of dual meets, but Michigan State, Indiana and Northwestern are also very much in the title picture.

Michigan, coached by Bill Murphy, enters the tournament with a squad which has been beaten this season only by Northwestern and Miami of Florida. Led by nationally ranked sophomore Ray Senkowski, the Wolverines are strong in all nine flights.

Indiana and Northwestern and Michigan State all have powerful teams this year. Northwestern, despite its win over Michigan, is rated no better than a strong darkhorse for the title while the Spartans and Indiana are definite threats.

Northwestern, last year's runnerup can rely on its number one man, Skip Gage, plus a few veterans. Indiana counts on its star, Don Thorne, and its great depth to become new champions.

Stan Drobac's Spartans, hoping to improve on last year's third place finish, will have the advantage of home courts, but will need an all-out performance to unseat Michigan as kingpin of conference tennis.

LEADING the green and white netters is Captain Brian Eisner, who despite being last season's singles runnerup, will play the roll of the underdog. Drobac will use his regular lineup of Eisner, Dick Hall, Roger Plagenhoef, Jack Damsen, Ron Henry and Bill Lau in the title quest.

The rest of the league looks quite weak this season with Illinois possibly having the best chance for fifth place. Other teams entered are Wisconsin, Ohio State, Iowa, Purdue and Minnesota.

Tickets are fifty cents for students and one dollar for all others. They may be bought at the courts.

BRIAN EISNER (above) MSU's highest finisher from last year's meet as No. 1 singles runner-up will be out to avenge that loss today. He owns a 7-1 won-lost record against Big Ten opposition to date. Dick Hall, another top choice for State in singles competition, will also team with Eisner as State's top doubles entry.

Thinclads To Run at Iowa City

Distance runner Gerald Young and broad jumper Sonny Akpata are Michigan State's foremost contenders for titles in this weekend's Big Ten outdoor track championships at Iowa City.

The two are among 11 performers entered by Coach Fran Dittrich in the 61st annual conference meet which Iowa hosts beginning Friday afternoon and concluding Saturday afternoon.

They are the only Spartan entrants who scored points in the 1960 outdoor meet, and are among five who accounted for 15 1/2 points at MSU placed sixth in the 1961 indoor championships with a total of 20.

YOUNG, the Big Ten's cross country and indoor two-mile champ, has a season and all-time personal best of 9:04.6 for the two-mile. He's due to run in the mile too. Akpata has a season top of 24-3/4 in the broad jump and figures to rank highly. Indoors this year, he finished third.

Others in the Spartan contingent who possess good scoring potential are sprinter Zach Ford, miler Clayton Ward, hurdler Bill Mann and pole vaulters Bill Alcorn and Gerald Dehenau. Alcorn, Ford and Mann were indoor meet point getters.

FORD, entered in the 100 and 220, has a :09.8 and a :21.2 to his credit this spring. Ward has run the mile in 4:17, and also will go in the two-mile where he's done 9:23. Mann's best race is the high hurdles, where he's recorded a :14.9 performance. Both Alcorn and Dehenau have vaulted 13-8.

Still other Spartans entered are Bill Green in the 440 and 660 (the latter a new event), Tom Jefferson in the highs and lows, Roger Humberger in the 880 and the mile, and John Sharp in either the 220 or the 440. State also will enter a mile relay team.

McElhenny Signs With New Pro Grid Team

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Hopes brightened for the new Minnesota Vikings pro football team Wednesday with announcement that veteran Hugh McElhenny had signed three one-year contracts.

McElhenny said in a phone conversation from his Los Altos, Calif., home, "I'm not reluctant to go with the Vikings. I like being the underdog. We'll surprise a lot of people."

THE FORMER San Francisco 49er star in nine years with the coast team gained 4,288 yards rushing, for sixth best all-time record in the National Football League. The 49ers put him on the draft list when the league expanded last fall, and the 32-year-old McElhenny had debated giving up professional football in favor of his business interests. He has a chain of supermarkets in the Frisco Bay area.

But Wednesday the Vikings announced that the backfield ace had come to terms with Viking general manager Bert Rose after a series of conferences. Terms of the contracts were not disclosed.

McElhenny, who had mentioned he disliked the idea of maintaining two homes, said he expects his family to live with him in the twin cities area during the football season.

When news of McElhenny's signing hit the streets here, it had a bull-market effect on the Vikings ticket office. Business manager Billy Bye said, "We were swamped with calls from people who wanted to know if it was true." He said 42 persons placed orders for season tickets after hearing the news, making a total now of some 24,850 advance season ticket sales.

COACH NORM Van Brocklin was enthused at McElhenny's signing.

"Hugh can do anything," said Van Brocklin, who is launching a new career here himself after starring as quarterback for the Philadelphia Eagles.

"He can do things almost unbelievable. He's running harder now to make up for a little less in speed. I've never seen a guy who can go down through an open field like Hugh."

McElhenny, who weighs 198 pounds and stands 6 foot 1, is the 25th player to be signed out of the 36 acquired by the Vikings from other NFL teams.

Badger Leads Squad

Golfers Finish Season, 11-2-1

Michigan State's golf team compiled a fine dual meet won-lost-tied record of 11-2-1 and now ranks as one of the favorites in Big Ten title play this weekend at Bloomington, Ind.

Spartan Coach John Brotzmann rates Michigan, Purdue, Minnesota and MSU as the top four contenders—any one of which has a fine chance to cop the 1961 championship. Purdue has won the last three years.

MSU's only losses have come in road matches at Michigan and Purdue, but the neutral course at Bloomington will help even things up.

"THE INDIANA course is well suited to our style of play," said Brotzmann, "since it is somewhat similar to our own Forest Akers course. You have to shoot well off the tee both places."

The Spartan coach added that the IU layout is a tight, hilly course with good greens. Once again the State-linkers will be relying on over-all team depth rather than one or two individual stars.

BUDDY BADGER leads the squad with a 75.6 average while close behind are Tad Schmidt, 76.5; Gary Barrett, 76.8; Capt.

C. A. Smith, 77.2; Gene Hunt, 77.3, and Marty Kleva, 80.

Schmidt, Barrett and Smith are veterans of past conference play with Smith capturing third place honors in the 1960 meet.

Instructor's Responsibility Is to Average Student

In these years of mechanization, computers, and atomic power, there has been an increased need for mathematicians. It has been up to the colleges to satisfy this need, and Dr. John D. Hill is an excellent example of a man who has dedicated his life to the training of minds to meet this need.

Dr. Hill, who was born in Kentucky in 1907, was raised and attended school in California. He had the distinction in 1930 of being in the first graduating class from the University of California at Los Angeles, where, in the same year, he had been captain of the track team.

After receiving his A.B., he taught for one at U.C.L.A. from 1930 to 1931. His graduate work was done at Brown University in Providence, Rhode Island, during which time he worked as a part time instructor.

He received his S.C.H. in 1934 and his Ph.D. in 1936. In 1936 he came to Michigan State, rising from instructor in 1936 to professor in 1949, and has been here ever since.

Dr. Hill has taught undergraduate courses in algebra, calculus, and differential equations, as well as graduate courses in real analysis. He has also taught a summer course in the survey of modern algebra. Recently the Mathematics Department has been experimenting with large lecture sections, and Dr. Hill taught the first experimental large lecture section in calculus.

Included among his activities are Sigma Xi, a national scientific honorary; Phi Kappa Phi, a national scholastic honorary; and the American Association Phi Mu Epsilon, an undergraduate mathematics honorary; of University Professors. He is also the author of two dozen research papers on real analysis.

Dr. Hill is married and has four children: Joan, a freshman at Michigan State; John, a senior at East Lansing High; Mary, a sophomore at East Lansing High; and Edmund, a student at Bailey Street School.

His wife, a 1940 graduate of Michigan State, is a teacher in the Lansing school system. She is studying this year at Michigan State for her Ph.D. in adult education, and she will teach at the Lansing Community College in September.

A home workshop and listening to classical music on his hi-fi occupy much of Dr. Hill's spare time, although he is finding that this spare time is rapidly becoming nonexistent. He has given up golfing for spectator sports and enjoys pro football on television. He is an enthusiastic Tiger fan.

It is Dr. Hill's feeling that the main responsibility of instructor is to make sure the average student is given a chance to learn the material well instead of just the bright student.

He said that since Michigan State is supported by the taxpayers, the majority of which are neither brilliant or stupid, it is its responsibility to make sure this class benefits.

Kennedy Urges More Roles for Canada

the value of a summit meeting with Khrushchev.

THE SUBJECT apparently was not renewed at the formal conference of Diefenbaker and the President.

Kennedy is reported to have laid much stress on his hope that Canada, along with all North Atlantic nations, would be able to increase economic aid to all underdeveloped countries, and he mentioned Latin America in particular.

The Canadian leader, however, was said to have declined any promise to boost Canada's contributions in sectors outside Southeast Asia and the British Commonwealth. On the matter of joining the Organization of American States, the Canadian's position was reported one of considering this but of making no commitment now.

The two discussed such matters as Laos and Viet Nam in Indochina; Geneva talks on a nuclear test ban, Western hemisphere problems, foreign aid, the problem of divided Berlin, the strength of NATO, the European Common Market, Red China's role in the world, the Congo in Africa and, on the domestic front, problems of farm surpluses.

The two leaders also discussed Cuba, but only to the extent of that island nation's part in the whole hemisphere picture.
