THIEVES LOOT WELLS HALL DURING GEORGETOWN GAME; STUDENTS LOSE VALUABLES

Robber Takes Approximately Three Hundred Dollars Worth of Clothes, Money, Jewelry; Nine Men Suffer Losses; Bremer Expects Solution Soon.

Approximately $300 worth of clothes, money, and jewelry was included in the loot taken from Wells Hall by unknown burglars Saturday. The building was entered some time during the game between Michigan State and Georgetown. Entrance was gained through the transoms above the doors of the rooms entered.

Ben Bremer, chief of the campus police department, is working on some clues and expects that the robbery will be solved within the next few days. He has a description of all articles stolen and has notified state, Lansing, and Detroit police of the robbery.

Nine men were victims of the robbery. Those who lost articles are Sam and Abe Ellowitz, Detroit; E. V. Veilhamer, Flint; Wesley F. Snider, Buffalo, N. Y.; Anthony Walsh, Detroit; Geo. Ward, Bradenton, Fla.; Morris Smith, Charlotte; Charles W. Little, Kenmore, N. Y.; M. D. Allen, Lennon.

The heaviest loss was reported by Snider. He lost two suits, three pairs of trousers, a topcoat, a watch and chain. He had just purchased a new suit and repeat, but decided not to wear them to the game because of the weather. When he returned to his room he found them

Abe Ellowitz, who won a necktie at the game, the only touchdown during Georgetown, lost 15 ties in the robbery.

An incomplete list of the articles lost by the various students follows:

Snider: Two suits, three pairs of trousers, a topcoat, a watch chain and a gold bangle; ball cap sweater; a hat; a pair of shoes; a suitcase; four shirts; a fountain pen; seven ties and two rings.

Veilhamer: Portable typewriter; six shirts; a pair of trousers; a fountain pen; traveling bag; a carafe of cherries; six pairs of socks; pair of field glasses and 12 ties.

Ward: A coat and vest; a hat; a suit of three shirts; stockings; five ties and $15 in cash.

Ellowitz: $50 cash in cash and neckties.

Little: Two suits, a fraternity suit; a suede jacket; two fountain pens; an ever-sharp pencil; three shirts; a pocket knife; and a laundry bag.

Walsh: $10 cash; a fountain pen; sweater and three shirts.

Smith: Six shirts; a suede jacket; a pair of putamans; a suit; a baseball glove.

Allen: $50 cash in cash and neckties.

The short course year at Michigan State college will open Oct. 26 with the beginning of the two-year sixteen weeks' course in general agriculture. According to advance registration at least 37 counties will be represented by students enrolled in this course.

During the next two weeks it is expected that students from a number of additional counties will apply for admission for training in this course.

The schedule for the other short courses has been formed and is as follows: Winter term agriculture Jan. 4 to March 4; dairy manufacturing Jan. 4 to March 4; food manufacturing Jan. 4 to March 4; ice cream making Jan. 7 to March 18; aircraft engineering Jan. 4 to March 4; poultry Jan. 4 to March 4; home economics Jan. 4 to March 4; commercial fruit production Jan. 4 to Feb. 29; market gardens Feb. 8 to Feb. 12; ornamental horticulture April 18 to April 22; commercial floriculture Jan. 18 to Jan. 22; beekeepers Feb. 9 to Feb. 12; pickle packers Feb. 16 to Feb. 18; fruit growers Nov. 16 to Nov. 20; nurserymen Feb. 8 to Feb. 12; veterinarians Jan. 25 to Jan. 29; seed production and marketing Jan. 25 to Jan. 29; rabbit breeding March 21 to March 28; hot horticulture Sept. 12 to Sept. 16; green keepers Dec. 1 to Dec. 4; farm women's work July 23 to July 29.

J-Hop Chairman
Will Convene Tomorrow

A meeting of all chairmen of committees for the 1932 J-Hop has been scheduled for tomorrow night in the Union at 8 p.m. according to Doug Fink, junior class president.

Preliminary arrangements for the annual class function will be discussed at that time. It is expected that the meeting of the entire class will be called during the next week.

Due to an error announcement of the meeting of the chairman was made a week ago. It was stated that this meeting would be held without fail tomorrow.

Although Professors Edmonds and Dye were too busy to be interested, men repeatedly expressed their enthusiasm over the plans here.

Prof. George A. Branaman of the animal husbandry department and each of the Michigan State teams in complete charge of the arrangements.

TEAR DOWN NO. 1 PRACTICE HOUSE

Expect Work to Be Completed in Several Weeks at Most.

Work of raising practice house number one located adjacent to the Union building began Monday Oct. 26. The wrecking job is under the direction of Hicks & Hayes, a Lansing contracting firm.

Several weeks are expected to be taken in removing the house, it was thought at Sec. H. H. Halladay's office. When the upper structure has been wrecked, men employed by Ray Sabain, another Lansing contractor, will remove the stone foundation and fill the hole with dirt, grading it off. This is expected to beautify the campus greatly. No attempt will be made to remove other vacant practice houses for the present, it was also announced.

For some time this building has been used as a practice house for students in vocal, piano and violin courses in the music department. Mrs. Duckles, president, announced that there are four group leaders at present in the society. Anna Hollingsworth heads Group No. 1; Marie Patterson, Group No. 2; Barbara Bedford, Group No. 3; and Norma Newark, Group No. 4. The groups are being made by each group present. The group consists of 50 girls for their present.

Geology Groups
Make Field Trips
In Near Vicinity

The introductory classes in geology have been active on field trips during the past three weeks. All of their trips have been confined to East Lansing and vicinity. The earlier trips were made to study streams and their beds. In the past week over 150 students made trips to Grand Ledge to study the rock formations there. On these trips the students in the advanced course were led. There is a possibility that one more trip may be made to the sand dune area near Lake Michigan. The advanced class has been making a geological survey of the Lansing area.

In the geology and geography department there has been two additions to the teaching staff. Newton Z. Chute has come from the University of Minnesota to take the place of Prof. S. C. Bergquist, who is on leave of absence for one year. Paul C. Morrison, formerly of Ohio State University, has been added to the geography staff. Both new men have been instructed by the geography staff.

Mabel Petersen, president, announced that there are four group leaders at present in the society. Anna Hollingsworth heads Group No. 1; Marie Patterson, Group No. 2; Barbara Bedford, Group No. 3; and Norma Newark, Group No. 4. The groups are being made by each group present. AGAIN "CUT" REVISION

Last week press notices from the University of Illinois announced that unlimited "cuts" were to be extended the student body by an enormous administration. On occasion like that Michigan State has a habit of reflecting a little bitterly on the狭隘ness and narrowness of the system used here.

Last week the Michigan State News assigned its Inquiring Reporter to ask a dozen students their opinion of the present cut system. The results on the whole showed a majority were opposed to the present plan. Of seven voicing their views five were electron strenuous or otherwise. One favored it, and one had no opinion at all. That is probably a fair ratio for the entire college.

Accepting that basis supported by several years of persistent student objection to the plan, the News does not believe it is radical or unfair in calling the attention of the college administration to the general unpopularity of State's cut system.

Eleven unexcused absences for three terms of the college year are not enough for the average student. The arguments in support of this have been reiterated for several years. The fact that a college man or woman is supposed to have reached an age where he or she is fairly responsible, that many other colleges have seen the justice of more generous arrangements; the impossibility of sometimes getting absences excused; the very stringent penalty for excess cuts; the unfairness of depriving the student of well-earned credits for absences

Nate Fry and His "Gold Diggers"

My Ego And Yours

By JOHN TATE, JR.

The campus was surprised to hear that there was three hundred dollars at Wells Hall.

What was Able Ellowitz doing with fifteen less? They say that he will have to play to earn his keep.

The short red headed individual whose official tag is Well Hall supervisor became known when interviewed by the State News on the burglary he committed in the State News office at Michigan State. In fact the low level of student political deficiency today can be explained on the whole by just that.

Hence it is refreshing to meet with the kind of announcement that was made today by Don Fisk, newly elected president of the junior class. The formerly president of Blue Key national service fraternity has resigned that office to devote his full time to the junior class job. To make the example even more exemplary, he would not have been obliged to under the present system of activity points.

The junior "proxy" gives as his reason that he feels the class presidency is enough for one man to carry and do an efficient job. It is remarkable of the fact that his reason follows only ordinary common sense. It is surprisingly infrequent on this campus. Dick is to be congratulated. He has set a fine example.

From a reflection on the situation it would seem that a student who "grabs" a number of campus positions must be laboring under terrible delusions of self importance. It might take a colossal effort to kid himself into believing that a bad down student organizations are better off for his bungling half-time efforts than would one worth while activity be for his whole-hearted attempt. Michigan State has a number of such goats.

Until the student council finds time to enforce the present point activity system, students holding more than their share of campus positions would do well to follow Dick's example. It not only makes for more efficient government but for greater student participation. J. G.

BURGLAR SEASON OPENS

East Lansing police are investigating.

The local press sets a dozen or so slugs of this lettering, stows them away, and sits placidly waiting for the repeated uses they will met this winter.

In other words along with football, Empire, Sigma Tau, sorority, cushion, and tea dances, Michigan State college's annual season of robbery gets under way. This time with even more familiarity of trumpets than usual. No petty picking of small change from wide open fraternity houses started the season of the year. Rather a glorious and unique genesis. This time the suggestion lying in the over anxiety ballyhoo is that the visitor intentions were good. What road is paved with good intentions? We hope they like it.

When the nation's high scorer failed to get up after he had been tackled below the belt with a left jab, State's lone boxer and actor-coach was heard to moan, "This hurts me more than it does him."

And the boys delivered a low brassy cheer from center. It was probably a bad pass high over the head of the film star in our midst.

Judge Glacombe Carberry was coming down the sidewalk at the main party Saturday night. Immediately in front of him we were hemmed in by the crowd. Remembering the famous gloved incident and realizing that the silent judge can even be stopped by the president we just fell into the spirit of the thing and ran interference for them.

They backed a truck up to Wells Hall and carted away a couple of wards out.

The fraternity and boarding houses will pay later however. Ah yes, they will use. Never a winter has passed yet that they didn't play host to deadly night-sabers.

One would think that after seven or eight years of periodic society house robberies a few smart boys would begin to put their heads together and devise some means of protecting their personal belongings. As it is the fraternity dwellings are a goldmine to the light-fingered.

In all seriousness the News is warning society row that it may expect an even greater onslaught this year than ever before in view of the well-known hard times and the resultant scarcity of money in the pockets of people who have few scruples as to how they come by it.

It would be well to profit by the mistake of Wells Hall and give a thought to making your own castle safe. Lightning never strikes twice in the same place but a successful society house burglar comes back again and again.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWSORGANIZATIONS ASKED TO FILE CONSTITUTIONS

According to article 7, amendment 19 of the constitution of the Student Council, all college student organizations must file with the council a copy of their constitution and by-laws. At present, a few of the newly organized groups have not complied with this ruling.

Included in this group are all honorary fraternities, clubs and professional groups, social fraternities.

Lumpy Logan, Student Council president, stated last night that all organizations will be requested to Miss Katherine Winckler, of the art department, conform with this ruling within two weeks.

We are not trying to criticize Mr.

Field. It is a practice too common among newspapers in their attempt to get a story, to pick out a statement which when isolated from the text of the argument will sound odd by itself. A recent instance of this was of a certain eastern professor who was quoted by the papers as saying that all whistlers were mon-man, take this quotation for what it is worth. Mr. Field said among other things that "Love was a libid-

The final will be played Friday Nov. 13.

Y. W. Membership Nearly Reaches Three Hundred

All Girls Urged to Buy Tickets for Annual Homecoming Breakfast.

Membership for the Y. W. C. A. has reached the 200 mark. Three-fourths of that number attended the Recognition service Sunday afternoon.

At the general meeting Thursday evening a sketch of the year plan of meeting was presented. Officers and chairmen of committees presented their individual responsibilities. The list of officers follows:

President: Elizabeth Baker, treasurer; Karen McAlpin, secretary; Katherine Blake, girl reserves; Mrs. Foster, Social Service; Mrs. Cooper, Campus Crisis; Assembly Master, Mrs. Wickham; Margaret Peacock, ways and means; Gertrude Findlay, foreign born; Betty O'Neill, publicity; Mary Miller, freshman council; Frances Sullivan, delegation; Mildred Patterson, membership; Dean Brattin, program; Alice Becker, social; Aurelia Vandenberg, public relations.

All girls are urged to buy their tickets for the annual homecoming breakfast which will be served by the Y. W. C. A. Saturday morning Oct. 31 from 8:30 to 11. Come and meet your friends and attend the pancake breakfast in the church dining room. Tickets are only 25 cents. Mary Miller has charge of the sale of tickets or they can be required in Miss Baker's office at the Anna Zing, Bad Axe.

Wickstrom to be Sent to Congress of Panhellenic

For the first time in the history of Panhellenic Colleges are invited to send delegates from their own organizations. At a special meeting of Panhellenic held at Thursday night, Dorothy Wickstrom, president, was elected to go to the convention from Michigan State.

She will be joined in the delegation by Mrs. Pendley A. Coates and Prof. C. E. Miller.

At 9:30 Oct. 30 there will be a round table discussion. At 2 o'clock there will be a joint session with the Congress of the Delegates of the Intercollegiate Panhellenic. That evening T. Ulrich will be a formal speaker which brings the congress to a conclusion. College problems and plans will be given every consideration at these meetings.

The Women's debate trials will be held Saturday, October 29 at 7:30 in the forestry auditorium instead of Oct. 28 as previously announced. Speeches of those trying out are to be five minutes long.

There will be a committee meeting for the Sphinx fall term dance in the Woman's Lounge of the Union building on Wednesday at 5 o'clock.

Linton, Mrs. R. M. Ogle, Mrs. C. D. Ball, Mrs. F. W. Phelan and Marian Hasley, Miss Florence Head, housekeeper, will preside at a tea-table decorated in autumn colors.

A radio party was held at the Alpha Gamma Delta house Saturday evening. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Pendley A. Coates and Prof. C. E. Miller and daughter.

State Defeats Georgetown In Rough Encounter, 6-0

CROWLEY MEN BEAT EASTERN TEAM SATURDAY; HOYAS ARE HANDED NUMEROUS PENALTIES

Abe Eliowitz Scores Lone Touchdown of Game as Georgetown Effectively Stops Monnett. Coach Tommy Mills' Men Exhibit Wholesale Violation of Rules in Ruthless Attempt to Win.

By Charles Van Lopik

Fighting against a team that exhibited a wholesale violation of rules Michigan State's eleven iron men defeated Georgetown university by a score of 6 to 0 in the Spartan stadium Saturday. State players were the victims of need less roughing and unorthodox play employed by the visiting team in an effort to gain their first major triumph of the year. The Spartans by their victory gained revenge for the 14 to 13 defeat that was handed to them in the Hoyas' lair last year at Washington, D. C.

Coach Tommy Mills' men had their hearts set on a win and were determined to get it no matter what methods were used. Time and time again the Hoyas were guilty of infraction of the rules many of which were called and many which were not. Although the officials found it impossible to keep up with the over aggressive Hoyas the Washington team was set back for a total of 120 yards on penalties while the Spartans re-

MONNETT STILL HEADS SCORERS

CROSS-COUNTRY CAPTAIN HAS BIG DAY AS STATE THINCLADS RUN AWAY WITH BUTLER MEET

Spartan Cross Country Team Defeats Butler University, 19 to 35, at Indianapolis Friday Afternoon; Chamberlain Has Broken Two Records This Year.

Bob Monnett of Michigan State is still the leading scorer in national and circular. Monnett and Louis Bush of Massachusetts State are still leading the field in the race for nation individual football scoring honors.

Monnett has made 11 touchdowns and booted 16 points after touch down which gives him a lead of a single point over those who have a total of 88 points gained on 11 touchdowns and 5 points after touch down.

The leader in each of the nation's major groups of conference follows:

Plains and College	61	TD	Punt	1
Mont. & Mich. State	5	11	18	81
Bush, Mass. State	5	13	5	51
Christensen, Utah	4	9	5	59
Brewer, Duke	5	8	2	59
Mohler, South. Cal.	5	7	0	42
MacDonald, Minn.	3	6	0	36
Leibetter, Ark.	5	5	0	39
Oliver, South. Meth.	5	5	0	39
Frye, Rice	6	5	0	39
Graham, Kan. State	4	5	0	39

Monnett scored the lone touchdown against Coach Mills' men and turned in the same fine grid game that he did one dark night last fall in Griffith Park, Washington, D. C. This year his efforts were rewarded by a one point victory and not a one point defeat. Jerry Jones, right half, also did good work in the backfield and was responsible for some good gains.

State's line put up a great fight against Indiana odds all afternoon and acquitted themselves in good fashion. Capt. Mills, Gross and Buddy Meiers showed up to good advantage as did the rest of the toward wall.

Burdian Stars

All the advance publicity on Leroy Burdian, Georgetown's plumping fullback, was not overdone for in this little sampler the Hoyas possess one of the best ball carriers in the country. The "Adirondack wood-chopper" lived up to his reputation and repeatedly ripped through the Spartan line for long gains. His effectiveness was stopped when the Hoyas neared the goal line. Once it seemed as if the smacking Burdian was headed for a touchdown after he had plowed through the entire State team but he was hauled down from the rear. The Georgetown fullback lacks only the speed to make his thrills materialize into touchdowns. The Hoyas depended on him to such an extent Saturday that it was necessary to remove him late in the game completely exhausted.

Georgetown Holds

Captain Mill Davis won the toss of the coin and elected to defend the south goal as there was a slight wind from that direction. Harry kicked off to Georgetown who in turn fumbled it to their 25 yard line. Burdian dashed for 4 yards. Bush snared Ailens without any gain. Burdian made it 7 feet down to the Hoyas but the ball was called back and Georgetown was given a penalty of 10 yards for holding.

ARMY GRIDDER WAGES BATTLE AS LIFE FADES

Dick Sheridan Dies Monday from Neck Broken This Weekend.

PLAYED AGAINST STATE

Cadet Was Injured in Final Quarter of Army-Yale Game Saturday.

Cadet Richard B. Sheridan, 21-year-old Army football end, died Monday afternoon at West Point after having sustained a broken neck in the Army-Yale game at New Haven, Conn., last Saturday. The end came at 5:10 p.m.

Some of America's greatest nerve specialists were having a convention in New Haven at the time of the accident. After treating the Army end, they announced that the nerve which controls his lungs had been paralyzed. They gave only an extremely slight chance to live. If he had lived he would have been paralyzed for life.

Sheridan's neck was broken as he attempted to tackle fullback of Yale early in the fourth period of the game in which resulted in a 6 to 6 tie. Yale was carried from the famous Yale Bowl almost lifeless and with heart beat barely perceptible. At least 50,000 spectators looked on in awe at the seriousness of the accident.

Georgetown Holds

Georgetown took time out to let Abe Eliowitz, the fullback, through the line of the Geaux line for 2 yards, placing the ball on their 2-yard stripe. Bob Monnett then collected 5 more yards to make it a first down. It was first down and five yards to go. A faulty pass from center was over Monnett's head, and it looked like a big loss as he recovered it. A Georgetown player was off-side, however, and the ball was placed on the Hoyas six inch line. Eliowitz took the ball on the next play and hit the center of the line for a touchdown. Monnett failed to boot the extra point.

Shin Margin Held

The Spartans were forced to fight desperately against the aggressive play of their opponents to maintain their slim six point margin. In the final minutes of the game it looked as if the Hoyas were on their way to a touchdown and would not be thwarted but their unorthodox football proved their undoing.

This week Michigan State football fans will witness one of the outstanding teams of the east in action when the Nittany Lions of Syracuse invade the Spartan stadium to play their first game against State grid men. Syracuse to date has a very impressive record and the Spartans expect to find them the classiest opposition on the home schedule this year. The eastern team is primed for their game with the Spartans after a well earned victory over Penn State last Saturday.
