GOP Will Back Nisbet; He'll Head State Con-Con

Delegates Agree On 17th Try

Republican delegates Monday endorsed Stephen S. Nisbet, former chairman of the State Board of Education, as their choice for the president of the Michigan State Constitutional Convention.

Their decision, made after the 17th ballot, put George Romney, American Motors president—and former State Senator Edward Hutchinson out of the running for the coveted post.

ENDORSEMENT by the Republican delegates, who hold a 99-45 majority, makes the vote Tuesday a mere formality.

Nisbet emerged as the compromise choice of the GOP delegates after the fortunes of Romney and Hutchinson had

MSU Radio, TV To Air Con-Con

Michigan State University's radio and television services will air the opening session of Michigan's fifth constitutional drafting convention today.

WMSB-TV and WKAR will broadcast Gov. Swainson's address to the delegates, and until the convention president is elected.

Anchor man for the channel 10 show will be WMSB's Director of Public Affairs Rob Downey, assisted by Dr. Charles Adams of the political science department.

News Director Jack Hogan and Dr. Charles Press of the political science department will direct the show on WKAR.

jockeyed and swayed through the first 15 ballots. Neither could muster enough backers to take the position.

Some observers expected that the battle between Romney and Hutchinson would enhance the position of John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University, but the support never came.

ROMNEY WAS the original choice of the liberal-moderate bloc while Hutchinson was backed by the conservatives.

Nisbet classified himself as a moderate, saying, "I'm for a balanced constitution that would give stature and strength to the individual sections."

A RETIRED vice president of the Gerber Products Co., baby food manufacturers, Nisbet was school superintendent for 22 years in Fremont, his home since 1920. He is 66 years old.

He said he voted against calling a constitutional convention but that since a majority of the voters have shown they want it "I think we should do the very best we can with it."

Nisbet was nominated before the 15th ballot, after having picked up one "write-in" vote on the 6th and 7th ballots last Saturday.

WHEN THE 15th ballot was counted, Nisbet polled a surprising 27 votes, Romney had 26 and Hutchinson 16.

President Hannah and Dr. James K. Pollock, University of Michigan political science professor, had nine each. William B. Cudlip, a Grosse Pointe attorney, had six.

At this point Hutchinson, whose strength had been ebbing fast on the three previous ballots said he wished that his candidacy not be considered on the 16th ballot.

Nisbet jumped to 42 when the next votes were counted and had 51 on the final ballot. Hannah moved that Nisbet be declared the unanimous choice of the caucus and the motion carried.

Car Stalls On Tracks; Five Dead

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Five teenagers rushing home from school died Monday when a passenger train trying to make up for a late start twisted their car into two balls of metal.

The youngsters died less than a mile from the classrooms they had left nine minutes earlier.

Killed in the crash at a New York Central crossing in southeastern Marion County were:

Robert Altmeyer and his sister, Laurel; Stephen Pratt and his sister, Nadine and Lenny Taylor.

Norville H. Abraham, 61, Cincinnati, engineer of the Indianapolis-Cincinnati passenger train, said the car stopped on the track at the rural crossing when his New York Central train was traveling between 70 and 80 miles an hour.

It was the second crossing crash affecting a NYC passenger train in Marion County within 26 hours.

John A. Huffman, 51, an Indianapolis Branch Bank manager, was killed by another train northwest of Indianapolis Sunday.

The car was registered in the name of Stephen Pratt.

The crash occurred on a suburban road about a mile south of the school at Wanamaker.

Shipwreck Survivors Put Ashore

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—Thirty-three survivors of the tanker Hess Mariner, which sank 100 miles off Jacksonville, Fla., were put ashore here Monday from a rescue ship.

All appeared to be in good spirits. One man who suffered a broken leg in the engine room explosion Sunday night was brought in on a stretcher. There had been some difficulty in stopping his bleeding during the night, but a doctor from another ship had boarded the rescue vessel and treated him.

Representatives of the Hess Corp., owner of the sunken vessel, and Carolina Shipping Co., the ship's agents here, boarded the tanker Texaco Nevada to talk with the survivors.

The seamen then were brought ashore in Coast Guard boats. The first one off the Texaco Nevada, an elderly seaman, grinned and waved to newsmen and photographers.

Taxis took the men to hotels. Except for the injured man, they seemed none the worse for the experience.

Harry Kirschstein, an engine room maintenance man, said he heard the explosion about 8:10 p.m. as he lay on his bunk. "I knew right off it was serious," he said, "and with the others we went on deck. There was no panic. We are too well trained for that."

Kennedy, Rusk Meet On Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy flew back from a New England holiday Monday and conferred immediately with Secretary of State Dean Rusk on the Berlin situation and other foreign affairs problems.

The White House said no announcement was expected on the outcome of the conference.

It was Kennedy's first meeting with Rusk since the secretary's New York talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. The U. S. and Soviet Foreign Affairs Chiefs have been seeking to determine if there is any common basis for a four-power conference on Germany and Berlin.

After being brought up to date on diplomatic matters, Kennedy arranged to review the latest defense developments today with his military chiefs.

The White House said the President will confer twice during the day with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. At the second conference, scheduled for this afternoon, McNamara and Lemnitzer will be accompanied by Gen. Lauris Norstad, Supreme Commander of Allied Forces in Europe.

At Monday's session, Kennedy and Rusk were expected to review the conversations thus far with Gromyko and to map strategy for future discussions.

Johnson Swings At Red Bullying

LAS VEGAS (AP)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson told the world's neutrals Monday night the United States won't be swayed by their fears from its firm stand against Communism.

Johnson said in a speech prepared for a Democratic rally that this country is "not going to yield to the bullying and the blustering of Communism" in Berlin, other world trouble spots or in the United Nations. He added:

"And we are not going to yield to those who have been stampeded by the bullying and blustering of Communism."

"WE ARE not going to accept the verdict of those who would equate the morality of breaking the atomic test truce with the morality of purely defensive measures after that truce is broken."

"We are not going to acquiesce in the novel theory that we are somehow 'breaking the peace' of the world community because we seek to rally good neighbors against an arrogant bully."

"Let those who follow this philosophy search their conscience to explain their charge that the policeman who prevents an assault is equally guilty with the thug. We are not going to move from our course or alter our moral purposes."

IN OBVIOUS reference to recent Republican criticisms of President Kennedy's handling of international affairs, Johnson said Democrats have tried to avoid "partisan bitterness and rancor" and have not probed into the past "in a search for scapegoats."

"We know that the times demand imperatively that our country be united," he said. "We know that unity and petty, fault-finding partisanship are not compatible elements within any society, organization or nation."

Greeks Plan Open Smokers

Fall-term fraternity rush enters its second night Tuesday when all houses on the west of Abbott rd. will open their doors for open smokers.

All students other than first-term freshmen are invited to visit these houses tonight to get information and a first-hand look at MSU Greek life.

Wednesday evening all houses on campus continue open smokers for those wishing to revisit a house, or for those who did not get to visit on the first open smoker date.

Weather

Tuesday's weather will be partly cloudy and cooler early morning with near-freezing temperature.

The expected high will be near 60.

Last night's expected low was 30.

Reds Say Berlin Airways Not for Unrestricted Use

BONN, Germany (AP)—The Soviet Union reiterated Monday its stand that the Western claim to unrestricted use of the Berlin air corridors by American, British and French aircraft is without foundation or legal basis.

An article in Soviet Union Monday, a publication of the Soviet Embassy in Bonn, contended the Soviet Union agreed only military planes of the three western powers could use the air lanes to supply the Berlin garrisons.

The article said the Soviet representative declared at a meeting of the Allied Control Council on Nov. 9, 1954 that two types of corridors be established, one to supply the Allied garrisons, the other to handle the "usual" transit traffic between states.

"BUT THE Soviet representative also noted clearly that the Air Directorate of the Coordinating Committee could only seek permission for establishment of corridors of the first type," the publication said.

"This shows that the Soviet representatives in the first sessions, in which the Allied organs discussed the question of air corridors, adopted a clear and unmistakable position by declaring that the Allied Council could only discuss and decide on air corridors which are used to supply occupation troops in Berlin."

"The Allied Control Council joined in this stand so that later the question of air corridors was handled only on this basis."

The Western Allies have acknowledged that the Soviets attempted to adopt this attitude, but that the west objected and a proposal was adopted. See BERLIN, Page 3.

Syria Jails UAR Ex-Vice President

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Syria's new government launched a mass deportation of Egyptians Monday and announced the arrest of a Syrian strongman who until recently was President Nasser's Vice President in the United Arab Republic.

The jailed strongman is Col. Abdul Hamid Serraj. He quit his Cairo job for some unannounced reason and returned to Damascus only 48 hours before the outbreak Thursday of the army revolt that broke the Syrian-Egyptian union of 1958 which he had helped to promote.

A broadcast communique said Serraj was arrested at a Damascus hide-out Sunday night. He was accused of carrying out sabotage and subversion against Premier Mamoun Kuzbari's fledgling revolutionary government.

FROM EGYPT came bitter attacks against Kuzbari's conservative regime as a reactionary administration of exploiters and capitalists. There was a veiled charge in the government-owned Cairo press that the United States was somehow behind the uprising. Cairo broadcasts urged the Syrians to rise against the revolutionary movement.

Nasser told a student rally at Cairo University: "We are facing the most serious position which ever faced our nation." It may turn into a catastrophe. "But we might be able to turn it into a forward driving force to destroy reaction in all the Arab nation (sphere)," he said. "I must tell you that Arab nationalism has suffered a setback, a stab, a shock and treason."

BITTER, TOO were hundreds of Egyptians bundled out of Syria to take a ship at Beirut for home. The first of several thousand Egyptians, military and civilian, to be deported; they reached the Lebanese border town of Masna aboard taxis and buses with baggage piled high on the roofs.

"God bless Nasser," they shouted, some with an eye on cameramen gathered there to photograph the exodus. "Long live the United Arab Republic."

Damascus newspapers said the Egyptian population to be evacuated includes 700 school teachers, 56 physicians and health ministry employees and 50 employees of the rural affairs ministry.

Gov. Knight Says He'll Expose Fixer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, who charged Richard M. Nixon attempted to bribe him out of office-seeking with a big job offer, said Monday he'll name the bribe emissary Wednesday.

J. Howard Edgerton, a Los Angeles financier who thinks he'll be named, denied the charge.

Arab Club Resolution:

Revolt Condemned

The Arab club at its regular meeting Monday night drew up and adopted a five-point resolution condemning "the reactionary mutiny in the Northern Region of the United Arab Republic."

The resolution of which a copy was sent to Gamal Abdul Nasser, president of the republic, apparently is in response to the recent Syrian revolt.

But because the Arab club does not recognize Syria, Syria was not mentioned in the text of the resolution as such. Instead it was referred to as the Northern Region of the United Arab Republic.

In part the resolution reads: "The Arab students at Michigan State University condemn the move taken by certain Arab and foreign leaders who have supported this temporary reactionary mutiny."

The resolution contends, among other things, that the mutiny's aim is to stop the movement of Arab unity and socialism.

Except for a lone dissent against use of the word 'condemn,' about 25 Arab students, including those from Syria and Egypt, voted unanimously for the adoption of the resolution.

Delegates from the so-called non-aligned nations said they wanted more time to study the Soviet proposal, but there was increasing concern that without big power agreement there is little chance of speedily resolving the issue.

Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, Chief U.S. Delegate, said the Soviet plan is not a real compromise and its adoption "would seriously undermine the integrity of the secretariat."

UNDER THE Soviet plan the UN Security Council would recommend to the General Assembly the appointment of a man well-known in UN circles who would work in cooperation with three deputies now in the Secretariat.

He would serve until April, 1963, which would have been the expiration of the second five-year term held by Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld.

The Soviet Union declared it did not have in mind utilization of the veto by any of the deputies, but added that the temporary UN head must maintain daily cooperation with them, and "must seek to achieve mutual agreement with them on the major questions of the work of the Secretariat."

IN APPARENT objection to this stipulation, Stevenson declared in a statement that the Soviet plan "does not give the Interim Secretary-General a mandate to carry out the full functions of the office."

"It maintains the idea of the troika—of dividing the world into three blocs. There is no such world and it would be contrary to the letter and spirit of the charter to introduce this concept into the United Nations."

WE'VE GOT EACH OTHER—These poor souls may not even have been lucky enough to get a three-man room this term. So all those in three-man rooms may not have it so bad after all.

In Dorm Room Third Wheel Unnecessary

By LINDA LOTRIDGE,
Assistant Feature Editor
Of The State News

Three little girls all in a room, filled with misery and full of gloom.

These unhappy coeds have discovered that they must share two desks, dressers and closets for three.

It was Sunday afternoon and as I climbed the two flights of stairs to my new room, I had pleasant visions of having a big, roomy closet and a desk of my own.

However, as I neared my domain, voices floated out into the hall.

"Good, now I'll take this closet and you can have that one. And that's my dresser, too. That one by the door is yours."

"Oh, oh, my other two roommates have arrived. Impossible! They weren't supposed to register until Wednesday. It was all a part of a plot and I was the victim of circumstances."

GOOD GRIEF, I was a SENIOR (a moment's silence, please) and these peons were only juniors. But the odds were two to one. C'est la vie.

So in I marched, head high and hopes scraping the bottom. They gave me a triumphant grin and grudgingly conceded half a closet, a shelf on the desk and TWO drawers. I was also the lucky recipient of the top bunk. And, me - the shortest of the three.

"Let's see," I thought "I could transfer schools or get married. Both ridiculously impossible."

I could find no possible solution to better my status in life so I resigned myself to communal living in its most primitive form.

The next morning however, I became disgusted again. It wasn't too bad having to climb onto the top bunk in the dark or even having to jump rashingly onto the cold floor in the middle of the night to go down the hall.

THE REAL PAIN came when I tried to make my bed. As ever, I was trying to be neat and impress my roommates.

Being only a speck over five feet tall, I had some trouble reaching up to straighten the covers and smooth out the wrinkles. I quickly conjured up the idea of making the bed while still in it.

This is truly an art which should be learned by all top-bunkers. By pushing yourself up to the head of the bed and stretching out, you can smooth down the covers, tucking them in on both sides.

Slide carefully out the top and roll onto the floor. A few practice sessions and this proves to be an excellent bed making method.

roommates take their tennis shoes and sweat socks off in the evening.

We've tried opening our windows, filled with misery and full of gloom.

Under the blankets to keep warm. But 8 p.m. is too early to sack out.

For awhile I thought this three-girl room wasn't so bad until the morning our third roommate's trunk arrived from New York.

IT'S AMAZING how many clothes you can stash away in one-quarter of a closet.

Again life was rolling along quite smoothly. However, one of my roommates turned out to be a phys. ed. major and she hauled out her field hockey stick for a practice session.

What's a bump on the head or a black eye when you can watch a field hockey game on Saturday morning (at 7 a.m.)? And free, too.

There's a bright side to communal living. You have lots of company. It's never lonesome—or quiet.

I discovered one solution to this vexing problem. By putting a pillow on the floor of the old phone booths (a result of private phones in rooms this year), I can do a lot of studying.

It's a little uncomfortable sleeping in there but soon your back gets used to it. Now my friends will understand why I walk around campus in a folded over position.

I have one consoling thought—I graduate in June and won't be back to enjoy communal living in a four-girl room next year.

Movie Review

LaDolce Vita Gives No Visible Solution

The fault of "La Dolce Vita" is that it gives no visible solution to the problem it presents. Suicide seems only an escape device rather than a cure. The movie simply runs the gamut and then leaves you stranded in a very helpless, disturbing position.

Beginning with a statue of Jesus being flown over the city of Rome and ending with the devil emerging from the depths of the sea, "La Dolce Vita" takes you on a sometimes brilliant, sometimes nauseating journey of the degradation of a man's life.

As you watch helplessly, Marcello, a young newspaperman, is tempted through some ten or twelve, at first, seemingly unconnected episodes. The end of each episode finds him being drawn closer and closer to the amoral life which is so prevalent in today's organized society.

THE TRAGIC, almost pathetic twist is that only one man in the story is morally pure... yet he is the one who considers himself evil. In this person the author gives probably the most important clue to the message the "Sweet Life" has to offer.

This happens when he speaks of people in organized society as being detached from the world. There is a boredom created which separates people from the beauties of the real world, the simple beauties of nature.

Filmwise, "La Dolce Vita" is a brilliant work of art. Through the use of unusual lighting and camera techniques, the director, Federico Fellini, has created an atmosphere of desolation which contributes greatly to the feeling of helplessness you experience upon leaving the theater.

The potentially obscene portions he has handled with special care. Each plays well, packing their intended whollop, while at the same time not offending as many such scenes do.

FELLINI'S direction, coupled with an imaginative plot and a very talented cast, ignites an exciting film into a roaring inferno.

Filled with tight drama, "The Young Doctors" opened at the Michigan theater last Friday.

Set in a county hospital, the film concerned itself with the efforts of pathologists to effectively combat disease.

In order to allow for the proper amount of drama, there is also a conflict between two men. A young pathologist enters the realm of an older man and begins to attempt changes which infuriate his superior.

THE YOUNGER man is played by Ben Gazzara, who portrays the part of a serious young doctor who is concerned both with the inadequacies of the lab in which he is to work and the problems of falling in love.

The object of the young doctor's love is, quite logically, a student nurse at the same hospital. This part is played by a lovely newcomer to stardom, Ina Balin.

The high quality of the acting is quite notably added to by the efforts of Fredric March as he portrays the older doctor and head man in the pathology lab.

As the film progresses, another young doctor, played by Dick Clark, enters the scene. While he is interning at the hospital, he is also concerned about the fact that his wife is pregnant and there is an RH blood factor in conflict.

COMPLICATIONS arise as March refuses to add a new kind of blood test to the process he has been using for years. Time shows that the new process was required and the baby is nearly lost.

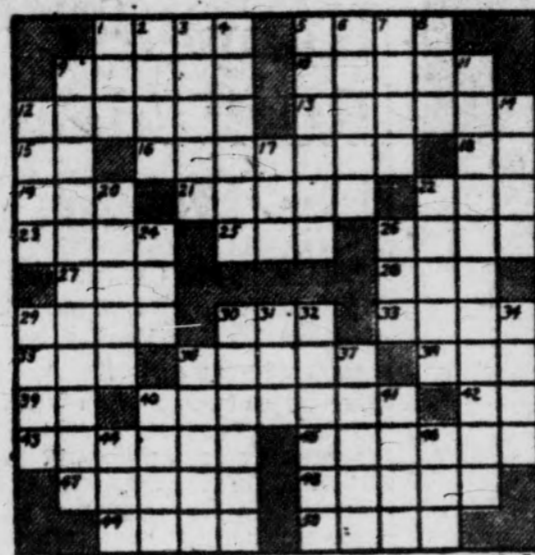

The older doctor is not proven a complete idiot, however, when he correctly guesses whether an amputation is necessary in the case of the younger doctor's sweetheart.

The end of the movie comes with the exit of the older doctor as he realizes that a new and younger man who is up to date with the more modern practices is what is required more than an older man who has fallen behind in modern practices.

Are Girls Pledging Fraternities Now?

From the Minneapolis Morning Tribune

Until she was graduated from high school, Helle Soer, 19, had never received mail implying she was a boy.

All these years there have been no subscriptions to the Open Road for Boys, no Charles Atlas information on muscles or no Boy Scout publications in Helle's mail box.

But after graduation last spring, the pretty, little blonde got a letter from St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minn. telling her about the school. One selling point was the ROTC program "for young men like you."

THEN HELLE got a brochure about fraternities from the University of Minnesota dean of student's office. Then she got a letter from ROTC at the university.

When she enrolled as a freshman, she got an invitation to a rushing smoker at Alpha Kappa Psi, a business fraternity at the university.

Helle went to the fraternity Tuesday night, found the front steps covered with lounging members and announced she was there because she had been invited as a rushee.

"They laughed and said they thought I was a boy and then they showed me around the house," Helle said. "We had Sloppy Joe hamburgers and potato chips. It was fun and I found out fraternity men are just like anyone else."

HELLE WAS born in Estonia and came to the United States with her parents in 1949. Her name causes no male-female mix-ups in Estonia.

Spartan World Offers Long List of Events

This year promises to be an exciting one at Michigan State. In addition to the thrills offered by the Spartan world of sports, there are many other features that will offer a good time for all.

Priced within the range of the student pocketbook, the Lecture-Concert series, Foreign Film series, World Travel series and the University Theatre will combine to provide a variety of features that would otherwise be beyond the reach of the average student.

The Lecture-Concert series, an old student favorite, will present a star-studded array of international favorites including Van Cliburn, pianist, Isaac Stern, violinist, and the Boston Pops Orchestra.

The only cost for these events is one coupon from a student activity book for each event. The coupons can be exchanged for tickets at the Union.

The Foreign Film series opened September 23 with "Man in the Raincoat" starring Fernandel. Future programming includes "The Crucible," "The Last Ten Days" and "The Red Shoes," winner of three academy awards.

Season tickets may be obtained for these movies for three dollars.

A package deal is being offered by the University Theatre. Season tickets for 16 shows are being offered for five dollars.

Two of the plays are "Dr. Faustus" and "A Streetcar Named Desire." "Brigadoon," the award winner, is the musical to be presented.

HUAC Labels Group 'Red'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities Monday denounced a group formed to protest a Supreme Court ruling that upheld the Internal Security Act—but it got no help from its main witness.

The witness, Joseph Brandt of (229 West 105th St.) New York, invoked the fifth amendment 60 times in refusing to answer committee questioning.

Brandt several times called the questions "tricky and loaded" and accused the committee of "trying to place me in the position of smearing individuals, and this I will take no part in."

THE COMMITTEE opened an investigation, which continues today, into the National Assembly for Democratic Rights. The group was formed to rally protest against the Supreme Court decision of last June 5.

The Internal Security Act, which the court upheld, would force the Communist Party to register as such, and to mark its mail and publications as coming from a Communist organization.

The Assembly held a two-day rally in New York Sept. 23-24 at St. Nicholas Arena to drum up support for reversing the Supreme Court decision.

Brandt refused at the outset to say what his occupation is. In invoking the fifth amendment he pleaded possible self incrimination.

COMMITTEE Counsel Frank Tavenner produced subpoenaed leases, signed by Joseph Brandt, for rental of St. Nicholas Arena and an office for the assembly at 118 East 28th St., New York. Brandt refused to identify the signatures or say who paid the rent.

Rep. Gordon Scherer, R-Ohio, asked him if the Communist Party put up the money. Brandt declined to answer.

Tavenner produced an article from the Communist newspaper The Worker, by Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, which said that Joe Brandt was in charge of the Party's campaign to nullify the Supreme Court decision. The witness refused to say whether the article was true.

"WHAT'S GOOD enough for her (Elizabeth Gurley Flynn) is good enough for me," remarked a committee member. "She'll be glad to hear that."

Brandt's lawyer, Joseph Forer, said jokingly.

Chairman Francis E. Walter opened the session with a statement that said "The National Assembly for Democratic Rights and The Citizens Committee for Constitutional Liberties are nothing but Communist front operations."

WALTER, WHO did not stay for the entire session, said the Party's two main weapons are See CONCEALMENT Page 7

Man, Wife Flee Reds

BURG, ISLAND OF FEHMARN, Germany (AP)—A young East German refugee couple who fled their Communist country in a tiny open boat was taken aboard a West German trawler near this Baltic Sea island, right under the eyes of a Soviet destroyer crew.

West German police said Monday a 21-year-old locksmith and his 19-year-old fiancee sailed last Friday in their boat from the East German port of Warnemuende. The boat's engine went dead during the first night and the compass broke down, leaving the couple adrift.

They were sighted Sunday by the trawler, and were picked up quickly, with a Soviet destroyer anchored only 400 yards away, police said. They were turned over to West German authorities and asked for political asylum.

The one-story farm house near the small town of Simrishamn on the shore of the Baltic was bequeathed to the Swedish Tourist Ass'n. on the condition it be made available for conferences suggested by the United Nations or others in the UN spirit.

This was disclosed Monday when Hammarskjold's attorney made public part of the last will of the UN Secretary General, killed in a plane crash while on a Congo peace mission.

HAMMARSKJOLD also provided that the six-room house be opened two months every summer to members of the Swedish Royal Academy who want to vacation there, a member of the academy, he left $10,000 to the tourist association for the property's upkeep.

Hammarskjold bought the old farm several years ago and planned to settle there after he retired from the UN Secretariat. The moorlands around the property are part of a national park and no new buildings may be built on them.

Hammarskjold, a vice president of the tourist association, also left in part of his extensive library. The bigger part of the library and his personal papers will go to the Swedish Royal Library—one of the See DAG'S WILL Page 8

by the Control Council which said in part:

"Flights over these routes (corridors) will be conducted without previous notice being given by aircraft of the nations governing Germany."

TODAY'S SOVIET article did not mention this, but said a report on the Control Council talks includes this statement:

"The representative of the U.S.S.R. has declared that the air directorate can only ask the coordinating committee for approval of the air lanes Berlin-Hamburg, Berlin-Bueckeburg and Berlin-Frankfurt-on-Main, which are necessary to satisfy the needs of the occupation forces."

The article claims the Western Powers did not object to this statement.

"On the contrary, Gen. (Bryan) Robertson (England) and Gen. (Lucius D.) Clay (U.S.A.) at the session of the Coordinating Committee on Nov. 27, 1945, gave as motive for creation of the air corridors the same reason, i.e., the necessity to satisfy the needs of their garrisons in West Berlin."

The publication also failed to mention a Soviet report prepared in 1947 which stated:

"A DECISION as taken after quadripartite agreement had been reached to allot three air corridors: Berlin - Hamburg, Berlin - Bueckeburg, Berlin - Frankfurt-on-main for unrestricted flights by allied aircraft over the Soviet Zone of occupation in Germany . . ."

UAR Severs Relations

Turkey Regretful

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)

—Turkey expressed regret and surprise Monday that the United Arab Republic is severing diplomatic relations with Ankara following Turkish recognition of Syria's new break-away government.

"We find it difficult to understand how this clear position of the Turkish government was based on the attitude of all concerned, could be misinterpreted as though it were against anyone," declared Turkish Foreign Minister Selim Sarper.

"Despite the fact that diplomatic relations may be momentarily broken," Sarper told the UN General Assembly, "the Turkish people will always continue to maintain most sincere feelings of friendship and good will toward the people of the United Arab Republic."

Cairo announced Sunday that President Nasser was breaking relations with both Jordan and Turkey, the first to recognize the provisional Damascus regime following Syria's withdrawal from the U.A.R.

Armstrong-Jones To Accept Noble Rank

LONDON (AP)—Antony Armstrong-Jones, recognizing his changed status as father-to-be of Princess Margaret's first child, was reported Monday to have agreed to become a peer of the realm.

one-time society photographer who married the sister of Queen Elizabeth on May 6, 1960. Court informants said Queen Elizabeth will soon confer a peerage on the 31-year-old Armstrong-Jones, who has steadfastly resisted accepting a lordship up to now.

Scandal Involves Policemen

DENVER (AP)—More arrests were expected Sunday night in the wake of Gov. Steve McNichols' announcement of "shocking and extensive criminal activities" by members of the 786-man Denver Police Department.

The indications were that he has reluctantly agreed to be elevated to the nobility so that his son or daughter may be born with built-in title.

Princess Margaret's baby is expected late this month or early in November.

There was no official confirmation of the report that Armstrong-Jones will shortly become a peer.

"When the queen is ready to give him a title she'll do it," said a Buckingham Palace spokesman. "Until then, we'll just have to wait."

Princess Margaret is known to have pressed her husband repeatedly to accept noble rank.

According to court information, Armstrong-Jones only gave way for the sake of the baby—fifth in line of succession to the throne.

Previously he was reported to have felt unable to accept a title conferred for the sole reason of his marriage.

The Queen's three children—Prince Charles, Prince Andrew and Princess Anne—are the first three in order of succession to the throne. Then follow Princess Margaret and her unborn child.

Family In Accident; Seven Dead

FREMONT, Neb. (AP)—The struggles of a 46-year-old laborer to provide for his wife and six small children came to a tragic end Monday when a highway collision wiped out all but one of the family.

Dallas Talkington, Blair, Neb., his wife and five children aged one to 9, were killed when their car collided with a semi-trailer truck.

After the vehicles collided the passenger car plunged into a ditch and the heavy trailer rolled on top of it, crushing the seven occupants.

BESIDES Talkington and his wife, Dora, 29, the crash killed Dallas Jr., 6; Dana La Vern, 5; Virgil Lee, 2; Lowell Cecil, 1, and Diane Kay Lewis, 9, Mrs. Talkington's daughter by a previous marriage.

The sixth child, Roger Lewis, 11, had spent Sunday night with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Dahmens, south of Fremont.

The family formerly lived in Craig, Colo., moving to Fremont more than a year ago. About 10 months ago, when Talkington's job on a paving project appeared about to end, they moved to Blair and he went to work picking corn.

The family was virtually destitute, but Blair residents contributed furniture and they were able to move into a 1½ story house at the edge of town.

TWO MONTHS later Talkington got a job as a laborer with the Blair Manufacturing Co., a farm equipment maker, and was regularly employed there at the time of the accident.

Gene Church, production manager of the firm, said he had heard indirectly that Talkington was looking for another job.

At Fremont early Monday morning, Talkington applied at the American Marietta Cement Co., Concrete Products Division, in answer to a help wanted ad. But Supt. Ed Hoising said Talkington reported he had a physical disability which would prevent him from

Maps, Plans For MSU Displayed

The future planning of MSU has been put into concrete example in the corridor of the Urban Planning and Landscape Architecture Building, A-1. The faculty of that department has erected a display of maps, plans and models made by the Site Planning Office.

These have been made by the instructors for students in the department and others to see.

The main part of the display has two large maps. One shows new buildings in various stages of development in the academic area of the campus, and the other, called the land use map, shows new developments on the entire university area.

There is also a third map on parking and roads. It depicts, especially, the land that could be saved by the construction of parking garages.

These maps, dotted with tiny models of buildings, show the locations of existing buildings, some with proposed additions, those in the planning stages and future building sites.

doing heavy work, Hoising told him that it would be impossible for him to pass the required physical examination. Hoising said he saw the family seated outside in the car as he interviewed Talkington.

It was as the Talkingtons pulled away from the plant in their 8-year-old family car that the collision occurred.

The truck driver, Frederick Schwalm, 38, Omaha, was treated for a cut on the forehead and released.

Typhoon, Fires Wreck 800 Homes

TOKYO (AP)—Fire whipped by strong advance winds of Typhoon Tilda destroyed 720 homes in the South Kyushu City of Kagoshima Sunday. The Kyodo News agency said two persons were injured and 800 families left homeless from the fire in Kagoshima, a city of 274,000 population.

The Japanese central meteorological agency predicted that Tilda, now packing 134 m.p.h. winds, would hit Okinawa Tuesday morning.

ONCE MORE, UNTO THE BREACH

With this installment I begin my eighth year of writing columns for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, as fine a bunch of men as you would meet in a month of Sundays—loyal, true, robust, windswept, forthright, tattooed—in short, precisely the kind of men you would expect them to be if you were familiar with the cigarettes they make—and I hope you are—for Marlboro, like its makers, is loyal, true, robust, windswept, forthright, tattooed.

There is, however, one important difference between Marlboro and its makers. Marlboro has a filter and the makers do not—except of course for Windswept T. Sigafos, Vice President in charge of Media Research. Mr. Sigafos does have a filter. I don't mean that Mr. Sigafos personally has a filter. What I mean is that he has a filter in his swimming pool at his home in Fairbanks, Alaska. You might think that Fairbanks is rather an odd place for Mr. Sigafos to live, being such a long distance from the Marlboro home office in New York City. But it should be pointed out that Mr. Sigafos is not required to be at work until 10 A.M.

But I digress. This column, I say, will take up questions of burning interest to the academic world—like "Should French conversation classes be conducted in English?" and "Should students be allowed to attend first hour classes in pajamas and robes?" and "Can a student of 18 find happiness with an economics professor of 90?"

—Because many of you are new to college, especially freshmen, perhaps it would be well in this opening column to start with campus fundamentals. What, for example, does "Alma Mater" mean? Well, sir, "Alma Mater" is Latin for "send money".

What does "Dean" mean? Well, sir, "Dean" is Latin for "don't get caught".

What does "dormitory" mean? Well, sir, "dormitory" is Latin for "bed of pain".

Next, let us discuss student-teacher relationships. In college the keynote of the relationship between student and teacher is informality. When you meet a teacher on campus, you need not salute. Simply tug your forelock. If you are bald and have no forelock, a low curtsy will suffice. In no circumstances should you polish a teacher's car or sponge and press his suit. It is, however, permissible to worm his dog.

With the President of the University, of course, your relationship will be a bit more formal. When you encounter the President, fling yourself prone on the sidewalk and sing loudly:

"Prexy is wise
Prexy is true
Prexy has eyes
Of Lake Louise blue."

As you can see, the President of the University is called "Prexy". Similarly, Deans are called "Dixie". Professors are called "Proxie". Housemothers are called "Hoxie Moxie". Students are called "Amoebae".

This uncensored, free-wheeling column will be brought to you throughout the school year by the makers of Marlboro and Marlboro's partner in pleasure, the new, unfiltered, king-size Philip Morris Commander. If unfiltered cigarettes are your choice, try a Commander. You'll be welcome aboard.

ARCHIE SAYS:

My cousin Archie—he thought the electric razor his gal gave him last Christmas was o.k. Then he tried Old Spice Pro-Electric, the before shave lotion. Now the guy won't stop talking, he thinks electric shaving is so great.

ARCHIE SAYS Pro-Electric improves electric shaving even more than lather improves blade shaving. ARCHIE SAYS Pro-Electric sets up your beard by drying perspiration and whisker oils so you shave blade-close without irritation. ARCHIE SAYS Pro-Electric gives you the closest, cleanest, fastest shave.

If Archie ever stops talking, I'll tell him I use Old Spice Pro-Electric myself.

SO DO I.

P.S. There's a .50 size but Archie gets the 1.00 bottle. (He always was a sport).

what comes after the wheel? ford motor company's educated guess

Frankly, there is no practical substitute for the wheel today. But at Ford Motor Company, our scientists and engineers refuse to give "no" for an answer. They are tackling, among others, the problem of wheelless vehicles for tomorrow.

Is "tomorrow" really far off? Not according to the men at Ford. Already they've developed the Levacar as one possibility. It replaces the wheel with levapods, perforated discs which emit powerful air jets to support the vehicle. Air suspension—if you will—of an advanced degree. Imagine traveling swiftly, safely at up to 500 mph, riding on a tissue-thin film of air. Guided unerringly by a system of rails. Propelled by powerful turboprops. This is the Levacar.

Meanwhile we've still got the wheel. And the job of building better cars for today. So we hope you won't mind riding on wheels just a little longer while we concentrate on both tasks.

Sunlight Allergy Cured

EDINBURGH, Scotland (P)—Thanks to treatment by a San Francisco physician, little Freddy McIntosh is emerging from the shadows of his strange allergy to sunlight. The 8-year-old boy was pronounced well on the road to recovery Monday, and his parents called it a miracle. "For the first time in 13 months Freddy no longer has to wear a gauze mask to protect his face from the sun's rays," his mother said. "The wee boy is so happy. He's even hoping to go back to school in a few weeks. "After all he's been through, it's unbelievable that he has started to get better so suddenly."

IT WAS only a week ago that Freddy was treated at his Edinburgh home by Dr. Collin Dong, a Chinese-American physician from San Francisco. The doctor, who suffered from a similar ailment in his youth, read about Freddy's condition in a hometown newspaper and decided to help the boy during his current vacation in Europe. He prescribed a strict diet for Freddy—and within a few days the condition showed signs of clearing. "NOW YOU wouldn't recognize him, he's so much better," said Mrs. McIntosh. The past 18 months have been a daylight nightmare for Freddy. His skin reacted violently to the sun's rays, producing raw blemishes on his face, arms and legs. At the height of the summer he was forced to wear a gauze mask that completely covered his head. Gloves protected his hands. Bandages were wrapped around other exposed parts of his body. "FOR MONTHS we had to keep him indoors," Mrs. McIntosh said. "All you could see of him were two slits for his eyes, one for his nose and another opening for his mouth. "It was heartbreaking to watch the poor wee soul—he was so lonely. The only times he left home were to go by bus to the Edinburgh Royal Infirmary. And even then passengers kept away from him as if he was unclean or had the plague." The doctor took one look at Freddy and ordered a diet that eliminated milk, porridge, bacon, eggs, sweets and some other foods. "These things are poison to him," the physician told Freddy's parents. The diet worked wonders.

Blood Pressure Damage Repaired

NEW YORK (P)—The surgeon's knife and the chemist's test tube have fashioned two new weapons against high blood pressure—a disease said to claim 175,000 American lives each year.

A surgeon has reported on a way to repair kidneys damaged by high blood pressure—and the repaired kidneys somehow returned blood pressure to normal in 80 per cent of the patients.

PHARMACISTS reported a drug, cousin to a common tranquilizer, which returns blood pressure to normal in mild and moderate cases of high blood pressure. Doctors said it holds promise as a preventive against the chronic state of the disease.

Dr. Michael De Bakey of Baylor University told of a technique to reconstruct the plumbing that supplies the kidney with blood and insures its effective functioning. The kidneys, which filter the blood to remove waste products and water, also need blood for nourishment.

OFTEN IN cases of hypertension or high blood pressure, the kidneys become impaired and release toxic substances into the blood which are believed to raise blood pressure still higher.

Dr. De Bakey used different surgical methods to make sure the kidneys were getting an ample supply of blood in cases where that supply had been limited by the narrowing or hardening of blood vessels.

In some cases, he used a plastic tube to detour the blood around the stopped-up section. In other cases he was able to enlarge the artery or blood vessel by sewing in a patch along the narrowed section. Sometimes the narrowed or plugged up artery could be reamed out.

AFTER THE operation, for reasons not completely known, blood pressure returned to normal in 4 out of 5 of 115 patients treated over a four year span. There was a striking reduction in blood pressure in another 8 per cent. Only 6 per cent showed no improvement.

Doctors also have reported success with a new drug called mebutamate. It is chemically related to tranquilizers and muscle relaxants in the Meprobamate family.

Mebutamate, by apparently acting on a control center in the brain, lowers blood pressure in patients who have no other symptoms of hypertension other than the elevated blood pressure readings.

Dr. Garfield G. Duncan of the University of Pennsylvania said that even mild or sporadic high blood pressure should be treated with the drug as soon as it was diagnosed.

THE MILD or intermittent cases frequently lead to chronic cases and sometimes to death.

Use of the new drug can prevent the disease from progressing, he said. Mebutamate, trade name

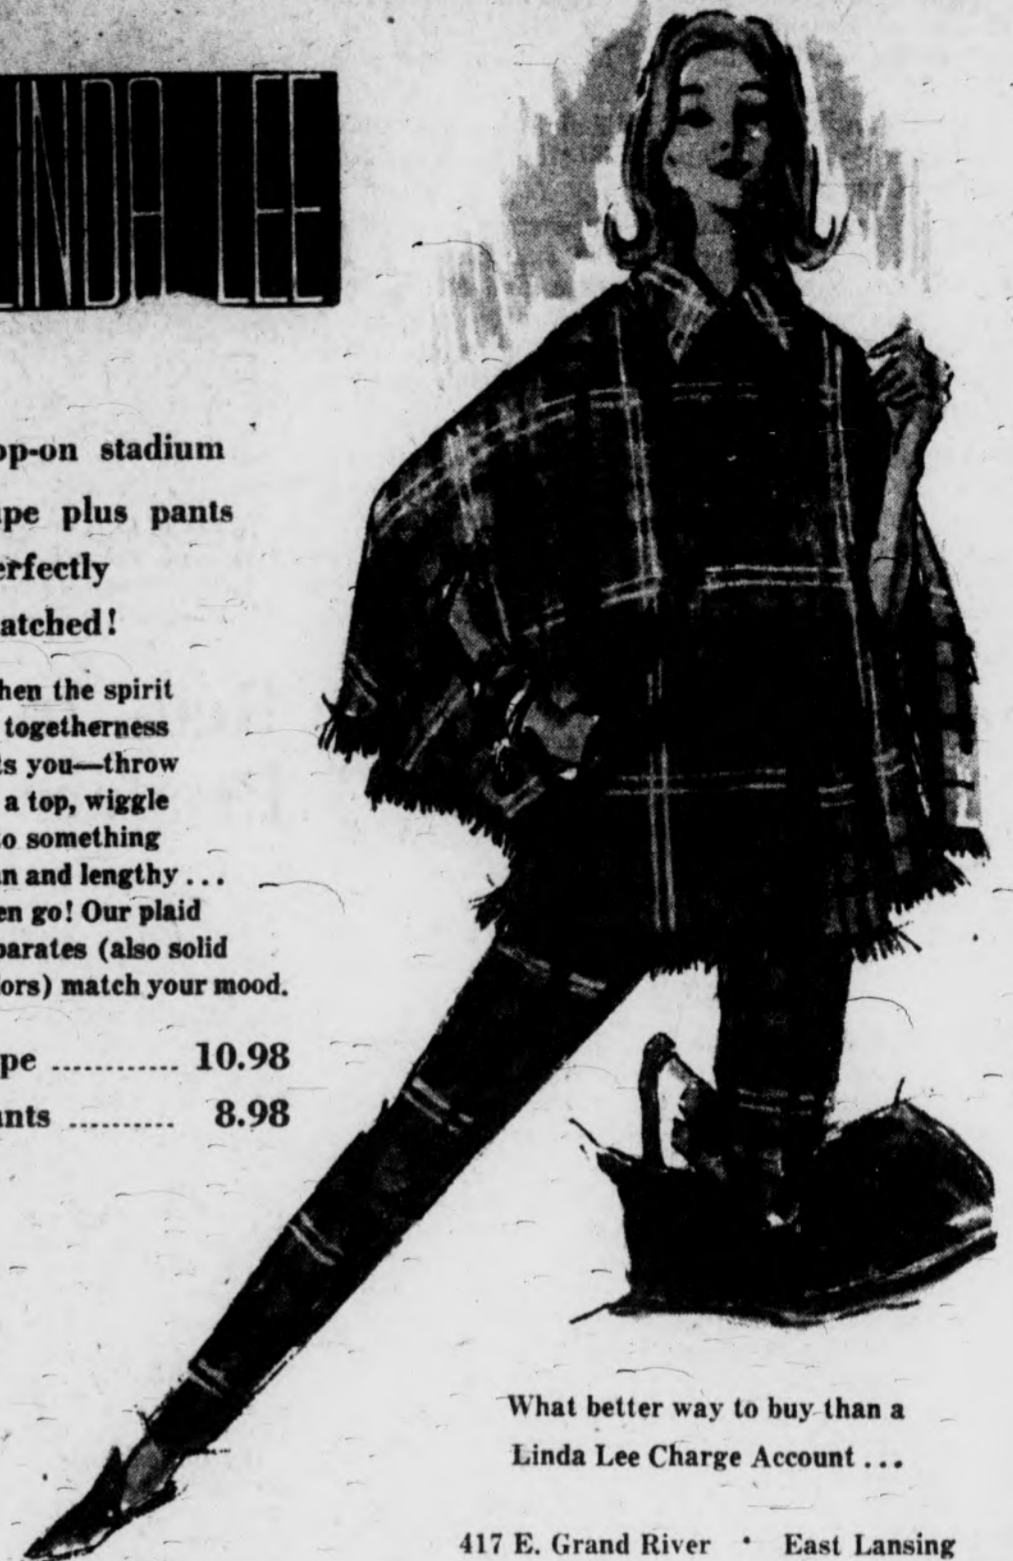

Capla, is made by Wallace Laboratories, makers also of the Meprobamate Tranquilizer Miltown and the related Soma.

Sports in Life

JIM ROOKS

Here it is—the first State News Hunter's Calendar for University students and faculty. It is our hope that Michigan State sportsmen will come to depend on this information for extra curricular trips to the field, taking with them this guide on what they may hunt, where and when, and legally.

Michigan's hunting scene is divided into three Zones. Zone 1—Upper Peninsula, Zone 2—Northern Lower, Zone 3—Southern Lower.

Information will deal mainly with certain counties in Zone 3. Counties that surround the Lansing area are Ingham, Clinton, Livingston, Shiawassee, and Eaton. It is this area where most of us will concentrate our gunning this fall. Zones 2 and 3 will not be ignored however. Whenever space permits entries on up-state hunting in these two remaining zones will be given.

I HAVE purposely mentioned the above counties as main points of hunting interest to the student. Lansing is located centrally in one of the best hunting areas of Michigan. The rich muck bottomlands that surround us yield a tremendous amount of game annually. More than adequate food and cover are on hand to sustain their existence.

Farms are plentiful, but only if you ask the farmer first. We are bounded on all four points of the compass by hundreds of acres of state land open to hunting. Land which is closed to hunters will be clearly posted as such. Closed state lands includes sanctuaries, research lands, and preserves, and the signs mean what they say—"Closed to Hunting".

When looking for a place to hunt it should be noted that these closed lands are few in comparison to state land posted as open and should be regarded lightly, until located, then follow the letter of the law.

THROUGHOUT the hunting season articles will appear telling of places to hunt and the best ways to get shooting. Always keeping in mind that you, the student, will find your spare time in the woods and marshes that are no more than an hours drive from the campus. Some of our best hunting however, is found a stones throw from East Lansing. October 20 is the big day in Southern Michigan, Zone 3. A time restriction that day of no hunting until 10 a.m. is placed on all hunters of any type game, mainly to protect the pheasants against violators who might be afield, trying to bag their two birds a few hours early.

Personal observation where birds have been seen to be most plentiful, will be given in an article prior to the opening day. And a pre-season tip—the birds will be plentiful this 1961 opener.

Duck hunters will open the 1961 season on Friday, October 13. This hearty breed of sportsmen will find mixed emotions on the water fowl situation. Many of the local pot holes and marsh ponds numbering well over 150 are dry or nearly so.

SHOOTING HOURS, one-half hour before sunrise until sunset, have been changed back to the old standard sunrise to sunset this year, with an opening of 12 o'clock noon on the 13th.

This report is given for the Spartan hunter. You can help it stay as accurate as possible by calling in tips and bits of shooting information that will aid in keeping this column timely and up-to-date, during the 1961 hunting season. Call the State News or call Jim Rooks at ED 2-5611. Any suggestions for better and complete coverage on this column will aid you, the sportsman, in a successful hunting season.

HITTER AND CATCHER—Roger Maris and Sal Durante, 19, hold Roger's 61st home run ball in the runway at Yankee Stadium after Durante caught the ball in the right field stands in the fourth inning.

Reds In New York; Prepare for Series

NEW YORK (AP) — Manager Fred Hutchinson brought his National League champion Cincinnati Reds to town October 1 to begin preparations for the World Series and said:

"We're in good shape. We've got a ball club that can win. Johnson is the only fellow who might not be able to play."

Catcher Darrell Johnson, former bullpen catcher with the Yankees, strained a muscle in his side before Friday's game at Pittsburgh and is a doubtful starter for Wednesday's opener against the New York Yankees at Yankee Stadium.

"He can catch all right," Hutch said, "but he may not be able to swing a bat."

Hutchinson and the bulk of the team flew here from Pittsburgh after concluding their season with a 3-1 loss to the Pirates. Others, including Johnson, came here ahead of time and were at Yankee Stadium to watch Roger Maris hit his 61st home run in the Yanks' closing game with Boston.

"We know Maris can hit—I've seen that myself and the scouts have told me so," Hutchinson said. "But we also know you can't concentrate on Maris."

Hutchinson still refused to say who would start for Cincinnati, but it's sure to be Jim O'Toole, a young left-hander with a 19-9 record. In his series preparations, Hutchinson pitched O'Toole, Joey Jay and Bob Purkey in order at Pittsburgh... indicating O'Toole will pitch the series opener, Jay the second game and Purkey the third, the latter the opener at Crosley Field in Cincinnati.

The Reds worked out at the stadium Monday and Tuesday, starting at 12:30 p.m., EST.

Homer Record Set

NEW YORK (AP) — Major League home run production reached an all-time high of 2,730 in 1961. The 10 American League teams accounted for 1,534 homers, the most ever for the junior circuit in one season. National Leaguers hit 1,196, final figures compiled by the Associated Press showed yesterday.

The New York Yankees led both leagues with 240, a record for one season. The Milwaukee Braves topped the National with 188.

Iowa, Mississippi Top Poll

It will be another month yet before Iowa and Mississippi realize their moment of truth in college football, unless...

Unless the roof falls in on them as it did to Ohio State, Rice, Penn State and UCLA, to name four, last weekend.

The two powerhouses, ranked 1-2 nationally in the Associated Press' poll, may make it unscathed until Nov. 4, when both face their toughest opponents of the year, Ohio State and Louisiana State, respectively.

THE HAWKEYES, who made coach Jerry Burns debut last Saturday a success by beating California 28-7, play Southern California this weekend.

Mississippi, with two straight victories, and 17 games in an unbeaten string, takes on Florida State. Ole Miss had to work for a 20-7 victory over Kentucky last Saturday night.

In between Southern Cal and Ohio State, Iowa faces Big Ten foes—Indiana, Wisconsin and Purdue while Ole Miss must tackle Houston, Tulane and Vanderbilt before playing LSU.

Ohio State, though had its thoughts of a perfect season jolted by upset-maker Texas Christian, which held the favored Buckeyes to a 7-7 tie. Last week, TCU upset Kansas 17-16, and now challenges Texas for southwest conference supremacy. Those two don't meet till late in November.

RICE, another of the so-called SWC elite, ran right into Georgia Tech's up-and-coming buzzsaw that mowed 'em down 24-0 while UCLA, the pride of the west coast's Big Five, got ambushed by Michigan 29-6. Coupled with Penn State's Friday night loss, the nation's top ten teams are in a rather bedraggled condition.

However, Saturday is another game and Ohio State gets a chance to catch the UCLAs still down. Penn State takes on Boston University, a 31-7 loser to Army last Saturday, on Friday night. Rice is idle.

Some of the big boys made out better. Alabama, which now contends with Ole Miss and Georgia Tech for southeastern conference honors, beat Tulane 9-0 and plays Vanderbilt this week. Fifth-ranked Syracuse scored 29-14 over West Virginia, which hasn't won a game in 18 starts, and will have a little more competition this week from Maryland.

TEXAS continued going strong, walloping Texas Tech 42-14 and meets Washington State on Saturday. Michigan State (No. 10), atop the Big Ten after beating Wisconsin 20-0, will find out if Stanford is for real. The Indians, after an all-losing season in 1960, won their second last Saturday, upending Oregon State 34-0.

Notre Dame convinced everyone it wasn't kidding with its 19-6 beating of Oklahoma and Navy may not be as dead as many think after beating William and Mary 44-6.

Kansas, tabbed a power before the season, still hasn't won in two starts, after tying Wyoming, the Skyline's top-dog, 6-6. Baylor will have something to say in the upcoming Southwest Conference race after winning its second in a row, 16-13 from Pitt.

And Virginia had its one-game winning streak snapped—but how—42-0 by Duke.

deceit and concealment and that the Internal Security Act approved by the Supreme Court would "strip it of the weapon of concealment."
He said the Act and the Committee investigation do not in any way curb the Party's free speech. But he added the Act compels the Communist Party to "do what it hates and fears doing. It compels it to identify itself."

Frank J. McNamara, testified over the world had pledged solidarity with the U. S. Party in its campaign to get the court ruling nullified.
ANOTHER witness, David Duval of New York, who said he was a student at Princeton University, testified that he had attended the rally in New York "out of academic interest and personal curiosity."
Duval said he was President of the Princeton Conservative Club and "was not and am not that Communist Parties all over the world had pledged solidarity with the U. S. Party in its campaign to get the court ruling nullified.

TAVENNER said the Committee expects to call as witnesses today Miriam Friedlander, an official of the National Assembly; John T. Jailed Priest Swings At Communism

PHILADELPHIA, (AP) — An Augustinian priest, first jailed by Cuba's Premier Fidel Castro and then expelled, says "Communism has no greater ally than complacency" throughout the world.
Father McCarthy, until his expulsion Rector of Villanueva University in Havana, Saturday told students at the 14th annual School Publications Conference at nearby Villanova University: "Complacency was Communism's greatest ally in Cuba and in the future it may be the greatest ally in the United States."

He suggested that those in America who are concerned about communism should "suspect ultra-nationalistic movements—people who are going to 'save' America; avoid criticism of the press that in any way could lead to its control; be knowledgeable and understanding of other people in other lands, and defend our own philosophy vigorously."
The priest said that in Adolph Hitler's rise in Germany he blamed the Jews for everything.

"Fidel Castro (in his rise) used the United States to foster discontent among his people," he declared. "Cuban problems were blamed on aggression against the Cuban people by the United States government and its allies in big business and finance."

NOT SO LUCKY IRISHMEN STRANDED—Members of the Irish-American Erin's Own Club of Chicago pose with a map at Shannon, Ireland, airport where they've been stranded since last Wednesday. Over 100 members of the club, on a nostalgic trip to Ireland, expected to be flown home last night with the arrival of their chartered plane at Shannon. —AP Wirephoto.

98 Americans Still Caught In Ireland

SHANNON AIRPORT, Ireland (AP)—Down on their Irish luck, 98 stranded American air tourists bedded down for at least one more reluctant night on the old sod after five of their fellows took off for home on a regularly scheduled airliner.
Their charter airliner, already five days behind schedule, sat on a Shannon Airport runway nearby, anchored by a due bill.
The stranded Americans, members of the Irish-American Erin's own club of Chicago, have spent five nightmarish days and nights in Shannon Airport lounge, some sick, others just bone tired and all mostly broke. They left Chicago Aug. 24 for a month's vacation in Ireland—the first visit to the old homeland in years for many.

MRS. NOREEN Fitzsimons, 21-year-old housewife, left with her daughters, Patricia, 5 months, and Noreen, 2, and her mother-in-law.
"My husband Jack and my in-laws in Chicago got together and found the fare," she said.
MOST HAVE spent all their time in the airport lounge, sleeping on chairs and floor, but the immediate future brightened somewhat.
The U. S. embassy in Dublin offered to stake each of them to $50 and sent two senior representatives to care for their wants.
Airport authorities made arrangements for them to spend the night in hostels and local hotels—instead of on the chairs and floor of the airport lounge where most spent the last five nights.
But five of the travelers had enough of the long wait for a plane home to Chicago. They took a scheduled airliner to the United States.
MRS. NOREEN Fitzsimons, 21-year-old housewife, left with her daughters, Patricia, 5 months, and Noreen, 2, and her mother-in-law.
"My husband Jack and my in-laws in Chicago got together and found the fare," she said.

Aggression May Aid U.S.-Spanish Ties

BURGOS, Spain (AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco called Sunday for revision of the U.S.-Spanish military agreement because of what he called the Soviet Union's aggressive activities.
He appeared to give the go-ahead for another major U.S. air base in Spain.

Francisco urged "renovation" of the 1953 U.S.-Spanish aid-for-bases agreement at a private meeting of his cabinet and military leaders as Spain hailed 25 years of Franco rule.
His speech to the commanders and ministers later was broadcast on the national radio.
Under the 1953 pact the United States agreed to build three major air bases and a naval installation here for joint U.S.-Spanish use at a cost of more than $350 million.
Discussions have been underway for some time on the possibility of a fourth air base and other military assistance for Spain. Franco in his speech appeared to signal his approval for expansion of U.S.-Spanish defense collaboration in this direction.

He said there are many who believe that "while the Russians could win the battles of peace there was no necessity for them to seek war."
Nevertheless, he said, a threat of war hangs over the world, and the western peoples should prepare for it, perhaps as a means of avoiding it.
"Since the period of our (U.S.-Spanish) agreement is already four-fifths gone it is necessary that we renew our studies and renovate this

U. S. Supreme In World Science

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's chief science adviser said Monday the United States is supreme in science among all the nations of the world, despite a widespread impression that Russia is ahead.

Addressing the Radio-Television News Directors Association, (RTNDA), Dr. Jerome Wiesner acknowledged that the Soviet Union leads in some aspects of space and missiles.

But he ticked off a long list of scientific fields — including medicine, food development, computers, the conversion of saline water to fresh, and so on—in which he said this country is markedly superior.

WIESNER BRIEFED the radio and TV newsmen on the opening day of a four-day national convention, attended by about 400. Most of his remarks were for background only, not to be attributed to him. Also addressing the convention, on a "background only" basis, were Chester Bowles, undersecretary of state, and Paul H. Nitze, assistant secretary of defense.

British Vow To Defend South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Defense Minister Jim Fouché told the South African people Sunday Britain has pledged to protect this country's sea coasts in the event of war with the Soviet Union. At the same time, in another campaign speech, Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd was criticizing Britain's political and racial policies in Africa.

Verwoerd and Fouché spoke at rallies of their nationalist party in the campaign for the Oct. 18 national elections.

Speaking at Standerton, in Transvaal Province, Verwoerd confidently predicted victory for his nationalist party. He charged his opposition supported policies which eventually would install black rule here.

Verwoerd also said he "deplored a recent statement by Duncan Sandys, Britain's commonwealth relations secretary, when he told a Commonwealth gathering—including representatives of the Afro-Asian nations and presumably to satisfy them—that South Africa's leaving the Commonwealth had cleared relations because of her obnoxious policy of apartheid."

Verwoerd added acidly: "I could say a lot about British policy in Africa. I could say lots about Britain's treatment of people in Kenya and the Rhodesian federation. I could also use nasty words to express my opinion of those policies but I have always regarded these as being that country's own affairs. Similarly, I feel that South Africa's affairs are her own domestic concern. But if the custom of criticism continues we must be forgiven if we express our opinions of British policy."

Language Study Hits New Heights

More than 3,300 students are taking foreign languages this fall, increasing enrollment 43 per cent over the last year, Dr. Stanley Townsend, head of the foreign language department announced Monday.

French classes, increasing almost 50 per cent over last year, now alone have more students than the entire department had four years ago, he said.

Spanish, the second largest class, doubled, and German classes are approximately 40 per cent larger. Enrollment in Russian increased ten per cent.

Greek class enrollment jumped to eight times last year's enrollment, while Italian classes increased over 50 per cent and the Chinese and Japanese classes showed substantial enlargement, Townsend said.

He attributes the jump in enrollment in foreign languages to three reasons.

"For one reason, people are increasingly aware of the importance of a knowledge of foreign languages, given the present political world situations. Secondly, the College of Science and Arts is showing a shift towards humanities, away from technical areas. Thirdly, the new language requirements for AB degrees has influence," he said.

Eleven additional assistant instructors were appointed to the staff when the large enrollment was discovered. These and eleven other new faculty members in the foreign language department will take part in the training program inaugurated this fall by the department. The program is designed to help carry out department educational policies, with emphasis on the spoken language, Townsend said.

May Launch Man To Moon from Orbit

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Space Agency Chief James E. Webb said the United States will probably launch its initial manned flights to the moon from an earth orbit and not directly from the earth.

Both methods are being worked on, he told a Utah Democratic State Central Committee luncheon Saturday, but the launching from orbit might save two years in the time needed to put a man on the moon.

The problem is the tremendous power needed to launch the vehicle which would weigh so much. It has been estimated that seven or eight million pounds of weight would be needed to start with for a direct flight to the moon from the earth.

Arabs Found By Israel

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Two Arab infiltrators were captured near the Israel-Egyptian frontier Monday after a clash with an Israel army patrol, a military spokesman said.

He said the Israel patrol fired at the two men after they failed to heed a challenge.

One of the two was wounded in the encounter.

The Nova Booster is being developed for this purpose. Webb said it would have 12 to 20 million pounds of thrust. As of now, the plan is to cluster eight, 10 or 12 liquid-fuel engines to each capable of exerting 1.5 million pounds of thrust.

Webb said an earth-orbit flight would not need that much. The launching vehicle would be assembled in orbit—a job with terrific problems yet to be solved, and the shot to the moon would then not require so much booster power because the vehicle would be out of the strong gravitational attraction of the earth.

He said the Saturn C-3 Booster—with three of four F-1 liquid-fuel rockets, each with 1.5 million pounds of thrust, would be used first to put a three-man ship around the moon. Then an attempt would be made to assemble a moon launching platform in earth orbit.

People Die from Penicillin Shots

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Health Ministry says between 15 and 20 persons die here annually as a result of improperly injected penicillin shots. The Ministry said most of the fatal shots were self-administered.
