

Police Cooperation Gets Jump On Crime

Robbery Case Mobilizes Four Units

PLANNING IS THE KEY to efficient patrol of the area of the reported robbery. E. Lansing police took charge of the case, with Lt. Charles Wibert, head of the uniform division, and Corporal Donald Hewson handling the search of the area.

A small boy, bleeding about the head, staggered into a local fraternity house recently and told a story that set off an area-wide police mobilization that involved Michigan State Police, Ingham County Sheriff patrols, the majority of the East Lansing police department, and a platoon of officers from the Department of Public Safety.

According to the boy, he had been hit on the head and his newspaper route collections were stolen by a tall, stocky man with long hair, wearing dark clothes.

The reported strong-armed robbery took place within the jurisdiction of the East Lansing police, close to University property, so the East Lansing department, working under the direction of Lieutenant Stephen Naert was in charge of the case. Under the lieutenant's direction, University, Sheriff and State Police moved into the area of the alleged robbery to search for a subject that fitted the boy's description.

University police, in cars and on foot, scoured the wooded areas on the campus in hopes of turning up the suspect.

State Police called in Trooper Abbott with "Jocko", a famed tracker with all the capabilities of a bloodhound.

Sheriff's deputies drew shotguns from the racks, and set out to cover the outlying areas surrounding the scene of the alleged robbery.

Tramping through mud that was often over their boot tops, University police covered the banks of the Red Cedar and found nothing.

nearly an hour in the mud, discovered no tracks.

Sheriff's deputies and university cars found nothing in the outlying areas.

A university car near the scene of the crime picked up a subject which fit the boy's description, and turned the subject over to the East Lansing department.

The subject, already the possessor of a criminal record from sometime back, was identified by the boy through a one-way glass, but denied any knowledge of the crime.

A check of the subject's whereabouts at the time of the crime cleared him of any connection with the boy.

Why had the boy identified the subject? Was the boy mistaken?

Lieutenant Naert not only found that the boy was mistaken. After extended questioning with the boy and his parents, it was found that they boy was lying. He had lost his newspaper money, and being afraid, had inflicted the cut on his head with his pocket knife.

He hadn't expected to cause so much trouble.

before the rain ruined the scene for "Jocko." University, East Lansing and Sheriff's cars had moved swiftly to get into position to block the area.

Patrol At Night

ON PATROL IN THE AREA, Officers James Auten and Ron Mahaffy of the Dept. of Public Safety check of the area of the reported robbery.

(Continued from page 2) East Lansing officers had to have uniform trousers cleaned of mud and slime from the river bank. Shoes and boots were muddy and wet.

The city of East Lansing was undermanned in the night hours because most of the men on duty and called-in to duty were searching for a phantom robber. The university had only one car available for hospital runs, student protection, and traffic enforcement because most of the men were searching the river banks or outlying districts.

The Sheriff's department was short of men because of the high concentration in the East Lansing area.

Cooperation and mobilization of the departments was typical of the police cooperation in the area, but a "whopper" had resulted in lost man power to the departments, lowered protection to the communities and danger to the officers lives because of the necessity of high speed movement to cover the area.

Thus during this National Police Week, the State News salutes the men and departments that carry on the constant, often dangerous protection of our lives and our property.

3 State Pitchers Topple Irish, 4-0

By MIKE SKINNER
Of The State News Staff

Gary Ronberg, Jack Nutter and Wes Kiewicki pitched Michigan State to a 4-0 victory over Notre Dame here Wednesday.

Ronberg started and worked four innings allowing four hits. In picking up the win, his third, he did not walk a batter and he struck out four.

Nutter hurled the next three innings and also allowed four hits. Kiewicki finished up in the final two frames.

It was the Spartans fifth straight non-conference victory without a loss.

Alan Cooper pitched the distance for the Irish and was charged with the loss.

State scored once in the second to take an early lead and then put the game away with three more runs in the fourth.

The Spartans run in the second was unearned. Dennis Ketcham reached first on the second and scored. Jerry Lumianski laced a single to center.

Jerry Sutton started State's three run rally in the fourth when he singled to center. Ketcham dropped a neat bunt down the first base line to advance him to second.

Costello followed with a line single to center and Sutton raced home with the first run of the inning. Then Lumianski drilled his second hit, a triple to center, and he followed Costello home when centerfielder Bill Brutvan threw the ball over the third baseman's head.

Notre Dame threatened in the first inning when they bunched back-to-back singles to place runners on first and second one down.

Ronberg, who is not unscored upon in his last two outings, bore down and retired the side with a pair of strike outs.

The Irish came closest to scoring in the fourth, Ronberg's last inning. Shortstop Rich Gonski started the trouble with a single out to the catcher, an infield miscue enabled John Mathews to reach first base.

Then Walt Osgood singled to left but fast fielding by Joe Porrevecchio prevented a run from scoring. Thus the Irish had the sacks loaded with only one man down.

Jim McDonald slapped a grounder to Lumianski's left but the Spartan third sacker came up with it and fired to catcher George Azar for the force at the plate.

John Counsell ended the frame when he bounced a grounder to third and this time Lumianski threw to Ketcham at second for the force.

The Spartans were out in the contest, 9-6, but six errors by the Irish helped the host team's cause.

State's most productive batters were Lumianski, with a single and a triple, and Sutton, with a pair of one-base blows.

MSU's other hits were picked up by Costello and Ronberg. Ronberg opened the bottom of the third with a triple to deep right-center but he died on the hot corner when Jeff Alrecht, Pete Smith and Porrevecchio all struck out.

The victory was the fifth in its last six ballgames for State. The Spartans hit the road this weekend for a single game against Wisconsin Friday and a double-header with Northwestern Saturday. These games will close out State's Big Ten season.

Looking At SPORTS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK.—The entry of Michigan State, West Virginia and Iowa Wednesday raised to 45 the number of schools in the 86th ICAA championships at Villanova, May 25-26.

Michigan State, led by football halfback Sherman Lewis and Herb Johnson, has a 15-man entry. The Spartans, who won the ICAA in 1949, are the only non-Eastern school in the meet.

Host Villanova, winner of four of the last five titles, is favored again.

LOS ANGELES.—The "Miracle Mile" annual feature of the Memorial Coliseum Relays, suddenly assumed that image Wednesday with word that Peter Snell of New Zealand and Dwyer Burleson of Oregon will meet Friday night.

Snell is the world's greatest and has a record pending at 3:54.4.

Burleson is rated best in the United States and holds the American record of 3:57.6.

BUDAPEST.—The Hungarian Communist party newspaper Nepszabadsag reported Hungary's 1960 Olympic flyweight boxing champion Gyula Torok has been trying his punch in night-life instead of the ring.

"Since he won the gold medal, glory has gone to his head and he has abused his popularity again and again," the paper said.

"He seems not to have heeded the repeated warnings and his lack of discipline was unfortunately condoned because of his former merits."

"His latest scandalous act was the last straw. Last Saturday night he brawled at 4 a.m. in a Budapest suburb and even attacked an official person."

"We do not need a sportsman who casts a shadow on his honest sports colleagues."

Torok has been warned for drunken brawling before.

INDIANAPOLIS.—A bird crashed into the goggles of rookie Ed Kostenuk Wednesday ending his hope of being the first Canadian in the 500-mile Memorial Day auto race since World War II.

The 33-year-old Victoria, B. C. driver definitely is out of the race, said Dr. Thomas A. Hanna, speedway medical director.

Dr. Hanna said the plastic goggles lens was smashed against Kostenuk's left eye, scratching the cornea and causing some bleeding around the iris. He also had an enormous "black eye."

ST. LOUIS.—St. Louis Cardinal outfielder Minnie Minoso who fractured his skull Friday night, appears to be out of danger his doctor reported Wednesday.

Dr. L.C. Middleman said the 39-year-old Cuban should be in the lineup in six weeks.

SAN DIEGO, CALIF.—The general manager of the American Football League's San Diego Chargers expressed disbelief Wednesday at reports that his ace halfback, Paul Lowe, had signed a contract to play with the Detroit Lions of the National Football league in 1963.

The reports were published in the San Diego Union and the Evening Tribune today, both papers saying they had the information on good authority.

INDIANAPOLIS.—The AAU acted Tuesday as if it would like to smooth over the suspensions of 11 Indiana college trackmen to avoid open hostility in a jurisdiction dispute with the NCAA.

One man was reinstated by the AAU in his native Kentucky. And national AAU headquarters in New York said it planned no penalties for "contaminated" athletes who compete against the suspended men.

U of M's Elliott Pleased by QB's

ANN ARBOR.—Heartened by the work of his Michigan quarterbacks, plus the eagerness and hard-hitting displayed by newcomers, Coach Bump Elliott termed this year's spring practice as the best since he took over at Michigan in 1959.

But Elliott's optimism is tempered by several problems — chiefly in the line. Center progress was definite with emergence of Jim Green, 210-pound Trenton boy, as chief candidate. Such newcomers as Dave Butler, 220, from Detroit, and Dick Hahn, Barberton, O., pointed up the guard situation behind veterans John Minko, John Marcum and Dave Kurtz.

Captain Bob Brown stood out with pass grabbing in the spring tilt, despite the fact that his Blues lost 28-19 to the Whites piloted by quarterbacks Dave Glinka and sophomore Bob Timberlake. Jim Conley, a young end from Springdale, Pa., showed well with such vets as John Yanz and Bill Tagueon. Top end prospect John Henderson, Dayton, O., missed the final game with a shoulder injury. So did Doug Bickle, place-kicking end, regarded as a starter next fall.

Michigan State All-America football center Dave Behrman who tips the scales over the 250-pound mark is the biggest "regular" in State's grid history.

Mets Nip Cubs

NEW YORK.—Felix Mantilla's single to left with the bases loaded in the 11th inning Wednesday gave the New York Mets a 6-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs. The defeat showed the Cubs deeper into the National League cellar with their second straight extra inning loss to New York. The Mets won 6-5 in 13 innings Tuesday night.

A walk to John DeMerit, a single by pitcher Jay Hook, Jim Hickman's sacrifice and an intentional walk to Elio Chacon preceded Mantilla's single off Glen Hobbie.

Irish Outfielder Is Put Out Twice In Same Inning

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—Notre Dame must have reminded the fans of the old Brooklyn Dodgers in a recent game with Toledo University when Irish outfielder Dave Hanson was put out twice in an inning.

Hanson was on first with one out when second sacker George Sefcik grounded to short. The shortstop threw to second for the force on Hanson, but the relay to first was wild. Hanson, meanwhile, not realizing he had been called out went on to third, where he was unnoticed by the umpires.

Rich Gonski, the next Irish batter, hit a grounder to Toledo's third baseman. Hanson broke for home, but was tagged out by the third sacker. Hence, Hanson was called out twice in the same inning.

The umpires, who must have thought they were seeing double, finally realized their mistake. They ruled that the third out stood.

MSU Crew Advisor Seeks Varsity Status

By JOHN VAN GIESON
Of The State News Staff

Insufficient funds and lack of practice have forced the Rowing Club to cancel plans to compete in three regattas this spring, said Dr. Maynard M. Miller in an interview Tuesday.

The club was scheduled to row at Purdue this weekend but has had to drop out of the race because they are not in shape to compete, he said. Tentative plans call for a regatta at Wayne State later this term.

Miller, the faculty advisor to the club, called upon the athletic department to recognize crew as a varsity sport at MSU.

Varsity status would help the club in three ways, according to Miller. First the crew would be able to modernize its equipment, some of which is quite old. Second, funds would be provided to the team to travel to races at other schools. Third, practice would be run more efficiently. It is often a haphazard affair now, he said.

An excellent stretch of water on the Grand River near Moore's River Drive is available to the club for practicing Miller said. The city of Lansing has even offered free land on which to build a boat house, but the club has no funds to pay for the building, he said.

"Our boats are now stored on the lawn and the good will of a gentleman in East Lansing," Miller said.

The shells now in use by the club have been better days, he said, but the club is negotiating with a Wyandotte high school for the purchase of three of its shells. Two of the shells are lightweight. Miller said that the club is particularly interested in buying them so that it may set up a 150 lb. crew and give more men a chance to participate.

"One of our greatest needs -- and it would bring a good indoor sport to the campus -- is a rowing tank," he said.

Miller explained that the tank is a common device with Eastern schools. It is a simulated shell held stationary while a swift current flows past. It very nearly duplicates actual rowing, he said. The greatest advantage is that it enables a crew to practice year-round.

The rowing tank would be available to the intramural program, Miller said. He added that he would like to see each men's dorm with a shell of its own in organized intramural competition.

The intramural sports staff has been very helpful to the Rowing Club, Miller said. He had special praise for Harris F. Beeman, head of the staff. Beeman is also a strong supporter of a varsity crew, according to Miller.

Despite the facts there has been no competition yet, and crew brings them little recognition, Miller said that he was highly pleased with his own team.

Co-captains David Eakin and Dan Reid along with manager Bob Immonen were singled out for special praise. He called the "pepperpots" of the squad.

Miller said the club has not been honored by this year's appointments and is already planning for next year. He called upon all interested students to contact him within the next few weeks. Experience is not necessary, he said.

The club plans a short season next fall. They have been invited to an international regatta at Western Ontario University. Miller said that about eight top crews are lined up for the event.

There is more than enough material here to give MSU a topflight crew, he said. Also, there seems to be ample interest among students and faculty, Miller said. Given those factors, he is convinced that crew can become one of the strongest sports at MSU.

Spartans Warm Up For Big Ten Track

By JAY J. LEVY

also placed well this spring. The mile relay team will consist of Parker, Lewis, Ford and Horning. The quartet has done 3:17.2 this spring and could do better considering Parker's sub 47. at Mt. Pleasant.

Jerry Dehnau will do the vaulting chores for the Spartans. He has cleared 14' several times outdoors this season.

State should place well in the high jump with four performers eligible. Wilmer "Bubba" Johnson has topped the bar at 6'5" and will be backed up by Bill Berry, 6'4", and Tom Peckham and Dave Cox who have done 6'2".

George and Jim Haislip, brothers from Detroit Denby High School, are candidates for line positions on Michigan State's 1962 football varsity.

Women Netters Almost Perfect

An Aquinas college women's tennis team left East Lansing Wednesday afternoon stumped.

MSU's powerful women's team allowed them only one game in their 7-0 win.

All the team members won their sets 6-0, 6-0, with the exception of Taty Balasis. Balasis eased up in the second set of her 6-0, 6-1 win to allow Aquinas's Bette Tarte to pick up the only game against the MSU women.

George and Jim Haislip, brothers from Detroit Denby High School, are candidates for line positions on Michigan State's 1962 football varsity.

Cards Try for Altman

Cardinals, badly in need of outfield help because of an injury to Minnie Mino, have made an offer to the Chicago Cubs for George Altman, their hard-hitting outfielder.

It is believed the Cardinals have offered right-handed pitcher Ernie Broglio, a 20-game winner for the Cardinals two years ago, and outfielder Charlie James for the left-handed hitting Altman.

BEACH FASHION — A model wearing a fringed outfit for beach poses at antique water tap during fashion show in Munich, West Germany, department store.

His first Big Ten indoor track meet was a memorable one for Michigan State 154-pound sophomore Sherman Lewis. The speedy Spartan from Louisville won the 300 and the broad jump and placed second in the 60 to pace all individual scorers.

Dave Mutchler is State's only representative in the shot put and has shown promise in practice meets. His best in practice has been over 50 feet and he, too, set a career best in the Central meet with a heave of 47'11 1/2".

Assistant Coach Jim Gibbard said Wednesday, "The team could do very well." If warm up performances are any indication of future things, it could get mighty hot for some Badgers and Wolverines at Purdue this weekend.

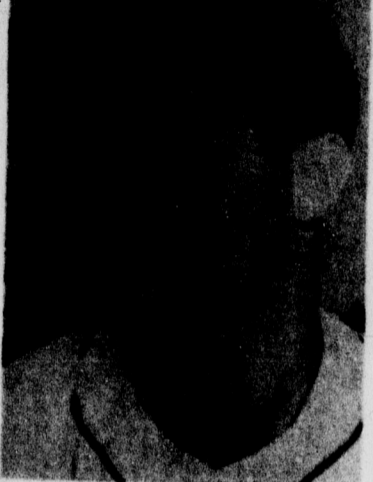

Tigers Lose, But Colavito Hits a Homer

DETROIT (AP) — The sizzling Minnesota Twins, with a barrage of doubles and Vic Power's pair of timely singles, stretched their winning streak to four games Wednesday with a 6-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

The victory, their ninth in 12 games, vaulted the Twins into a virtual tie for the American League lead with Cleveland and New York, who were scheduled for night games.

Camilo Pascual went the route for his fifth triumph. He surrendered solo home runs to Rocky Colavito, Steve Boros and Norm Cash.

Sluggo Colavito smacked his first homer this season after 27 games of frustration. The homer came on his 11st trip to the plate.

ROCKY COLAVITO

Power drove in three runs as the Twins put on two-run rallies in the third and fifth in taking a 4-2 lead. He singled both times and added a single in the scoreless eighth. Minnesota scored three more runs in the sixth, driving out loser Jim Bunning.

The Twins' sixth-inning rally was featured by doubles by Bob Allison and Bernie Allen and singles by Earl Battey and Pascual.

Pascual's second single drove in a run in the ninth.

Another Record Falls to Musial

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Stan Musial equalled the national baseball league career record for hits Wednesday with a line single to right center field in the sixth inning against San Francisco. It broke a 15 at-bat hitless string.

The St. Louis Cardinal slugger's safety off Juan Marichal's 1-1 pitch was his 3,430th hit in a major league baseball career that dates back to 1941.

He tied the mark set by Tommie Wagner, who played three years for Louisville and 18 for Pittsburgh before retiring in 1917.

After the hit, which sailed cleanly over second baseman Chuck Hiller's head, play was stopped and the ball was presented to Musial as the Candlestick park crowd of about 14,000 applauded warmly.

Musial had moved within one hit of the record last Wednesday against the Giants in St. Louis. But he went 0-for-2 the rest of that game, 0-for-4 against the Giants Thursday and 0-for-7 in a weekend series with the Dodgers.

Manager Johnny Keane kept Musial out of the starting lineup Tuesday night "to give him a rest." The Man appeared in the eighth inning as a pinch hitter and walked, just as he had done Saturday against Los Angeles.

Wednesday he fouled out and flied out in his first two times at bat.

It was the third league career record to fall to the 41-year-old lefthander this season. He eclipsed Wagner's record of 2,785 games played and Mel Ott's mark of 1,859 runs scored. Musial already was the NL career leader in doubles and long hits.

Cameron had to settle for a tie, 10-10, after a 9-5 deficit in the first. Pete Wade homered for Cavalier.

Bryan four easily conquered Bryan two, 10-2, in five innings. Chuck Allen received credit for the win.

Gilmer Has Human Music With Its Moo's

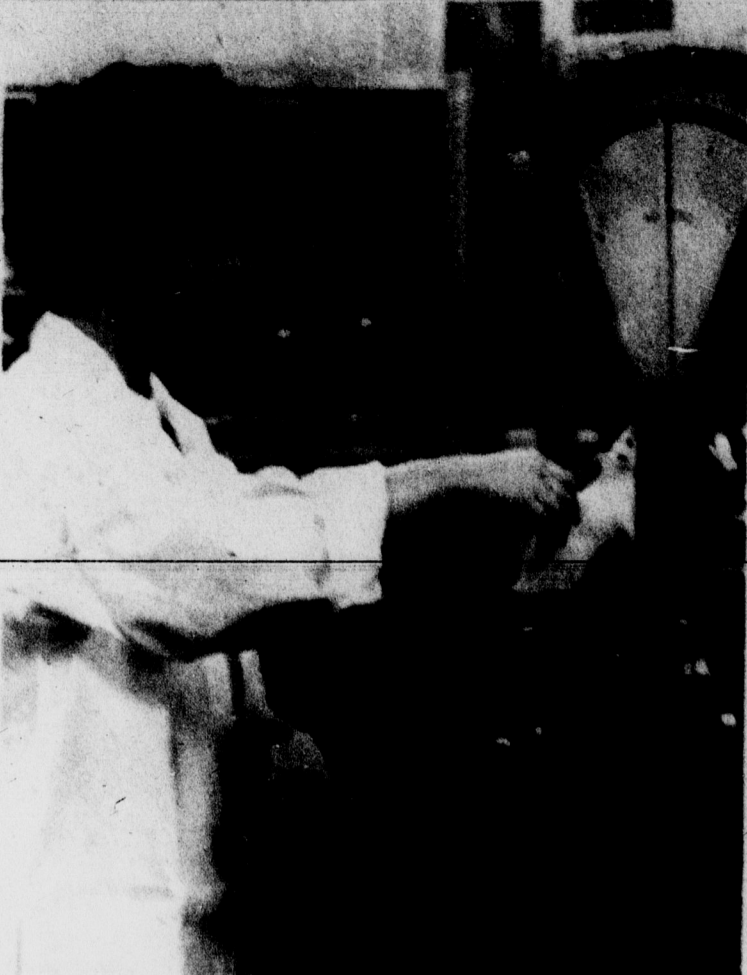

Students passing Gilmer Hall around noon often hear strains of music amid barking dogs and mooing cows.

The music is from the 14-member veterinary medicine glee club which practices twice a week during the noon break. The group, whose only requirement is a desire to sing, has performed at various veterinary medicine functions. They have sung at the annual Honors Convocation banquet, the State Medical Technologists' Conference, and the Post-Graduate Conference for Veterinary Medicine. They also will entertain at this year's Publications' Banquet Monday evening.

Popular numbers, Negro spirituals and old favorites are sung by the group. Some of the arrangements were written by Barry Tarline, a former med student who organized the group five years ago.

Presently a quartet sings with the club. It is composed of Emerson Colby, 1st tenor; Jim Shelton, baritone; Ed Fowler, 2nd tenor; and Dick Spivey, bass.

The group receives an annual $25 allotment and donations for its performances. Last spring the glee club purchased a piano from its earnings. Bill Freitag, Milwaukee, Wis. senior, directs the group.

The possibility of early diagnosis of vitamin deficiency may be an application of research being done in the biochemistry department.

Phyllene Drummond, Brecksville Ohio junior, explained that since vitamins are altered by the body in order to be used as catalysts for various body functions, she is testing whether vitamin deficiencies can be detected through blood analysis.

The purpose of the buildup was underscored by a statement from the council of SEATO issued at its headquarters in Bangkok.

Western nations fear an offensive by Prince Souphanouvong's pro-Communist Pathet Lao, which has swept over northwestern Laos in the last two weeks, bodes ill for Thailand.

The statement said the American buildup was "entirely precautionary and defensive in character but that it also served as a warning that any Communist aggression will be resisted."

It added that "continuing consultations are in progress among SEATO nations for the purpose of considering further possible moves by other member countries."

Prime Minister Keith Holyoake of New Zealand announced that his cabinet was studying plans to send fighting men at "least fly the flag" in Thailand.

Outstate Tuition Called 'Unfair'

It is unfair for MSU to charge out-of-state students more money for tuition said Republican Paul P. Chien, a 1953 graduate who announced plans to seek a candidacy for state senator for state senator from the 14th legislative district in the August primaries.

Chien said that although he doubts he will be elected, he hopes he will stimulate some public interest for the welfare of educational institutions as well as the general welfare of the majority of the people.

Chien, presently a management and financial consultant in East Lansing, became a naturalized citizen to exercise his right in seeking a public office in a great state," Chien said, "I sincerely hope this will exemplify our democratic process in work to other nations."

Many people currently lack proper representation in the Michigan legislature, he said.

"I am deeply convinced we need more impartial representatives to represent the unorganized consumers, civil service personnel, faculty members and the students, as well as small businessmen," Chien said.

The state has the responsibility to support the cost of higher education, he said. At the same time it is the duty of the young citizens to educate themselves so that they may serve their state and the nation as adult citizens.

"I feel the Michigan legislators are not carrying out their duties especially in education," he said, "since every American citizen should have an opportunity for higher education."

Chien, 36, came to the United States 14 years ago from Shanghai, China.
