DEPRESSION FORCES NEWS TO ONE ISSUE A WEEK

MILITARY MEN LAST HOPE OF ANNUAL STAFF

Granum to Approach Military Classes With Plan Used Last Year With Success.
PRICE GOES UP TONIGHT
Uniform Deposit Assignments Accepted for Purchase Price of Wolverine.

Unless the military subscription plan being instituted by the Wolverine management is successful in bringing in 350 more fees there will be no yearbook this spring.
This decision was made last night by James Granum, business manager, who Wednesday and Friday will send his assistants to all military classes to present the details of the plan that pulled last year's Wolverine out of the hole.

In brief, the plan allows all military men who have deposited $10 on the uniforms to assign $5.00 of the sum to the Wolverine for subscription. In this way no cash outlay will be necessary and the times will gain 50 cents in the deal, occasioned by the fact that the yearbook cost goes to $5.50 tonight.

Granum said two nights that he positively must have 350 more subscriptions by February 1 or he will not be permitted to publish the annual. He hopes that enough military students will subscribe to remove all doubt as to the outcome of the campaign.

The advantages of the idea are many, according to Granum. The student will not be called on for any down payment or cash outlay, he merely assigns half the money he will receive the end of spring term for his military uniform to the Wolverine staff. Last year the same plan was used with utmost success.

Granum expects that students who have been short of money or who have neglected to pay their fee will find the plan an ideal method for reserving their Wolverine. Different from last year's scheme the plan will include the Spartan band numbering 80 men.

Announcement was made by faculty members in many classes Monday the leeway of one day would be signed students in subscribing for the Wolverine before the price rose 50 cents.

It was emphasized that the campaign had until 10 o'clock tonight to get in under the wire and sign up at $5.00 at the main desk in the Union. After that time the new price will go into effect, Granum said. He termed his deadline as an emergency measure to meet the requirements of printing costs.

Staff Member is Translator

Dr. C. H. Sparway Translates Book on Soils From the Russian.
Dr. C. H. Sparway, research associate in soils here, recently finished a translation of the only known compendium of methods for the investigation of soils in the laboratory. The volume was compiled originally by Prof. K. K. Gevork, professor at the Forest Institute, Leningrad, and published in the Russian language. Later the work was brought out in the German by Prof. D. L. Frey of the Laboratory of the Land-Registry office at Riga. Prof. Frey's translation was the source of Dr. Sparway's volume.

Sound copies of the typed translations were recently placed in the library of the soils department for the use of graduate students and members of the staff. Dr. Sparway's work is the only one of its sort in the English language, and is regarded as a major contribution to progress in the field of soils research in the western hemisphere. A copy of the volume was recently mailed to Prof. Gevork by Dr. Sparway.

Will Display Model of Engraving Plant in Union During Convention.

The 61st annual meeting of the Michigan Press association will be opened here at 1:30 Thursday by the president, George R. Averill, with his address at the first meeting of the assembled journalists. This convention, which is to continue through all day Thursday and Friday and Saturday forenoon, will bring to the campus a large assembly of representatives from the state's foremost weekly newspapers.

The program and business meeting of Thursday afternoon in addition to the president's address will consist of the field director's report, the field director Joseph A. Sturgeon, appointment of convention committees, and an address on Russian Propaganda and Recognition by John L. Lovett of the Michigan Manufacturers' association. A plan to display an engraving plant in the Union building has been worked out so that the next program for the manufacture of halftone cuts at low cost in small plants will be illustrated by J. W. Page of the Newspaper Engraving Equipment company, Chicago. This demonstration is a feature of the convention which is expected to create high interest.

Only five men have signed up for the qualifying contest in the Union sponsored participation in the Intercollegiate Billiard competition it was said at the clubhouse today. There is still time for competition to become familiar with the system of "key shots" and join the matches. The local qualifying meets will probably not be held until the end of this month, though no definite announcement has been made.

PAPER LEAVES SEMI-WEEKLY PUBLICATION

FACE FAILURE
Measure Temporary; News May Return to Old Standard After End of Crisis.

The Michigan State News will only publish one issue a week for the rest of this term.
Decision was made yesterday after consultation with James B. Hasselmann, director of publications, and C. O. Wilkins, college comptroller, to forestall a steadily mounting deficit in a business stagnation in the policy of the student publication.

Heretofore the News has appeared only on Friday afternoon, abandoned for the semi-weekly policy inaugurated in 1926.

As revealed by the News' management last week the campus news sheet is faced with the first serious financial deficit in its history. Failure of several central Michigan banking houses, and general shortage of ready cash in the banks, has crippled the News to a point where no other course faced its editors.

Planning of the News depends nearly 60% on advertising and with the depression advertising in business establishments, no ad has been obtainable to bolster its banking budget.

An appeal was made by the News last week for faculty subscription support to relieve the deficit. A faculty committee was appointed Friday afternoon by President P. A. Shaw to act as a nucleus in the subscription campaign. It is composed of J. B. Hasselmann, chairman; L. L. Frimosh, G. W. Hobbs, E. Marshall, and Miss Irma Gross. They will consult with the editors and business managers of the State News this week and lay plans for an intensive campaign.

It was felt in publication circles today that with an appreciable amount of faculty support and a campaign of weekly pleas the News could hold out until the end of the term and make the necessary financial condition for the advent of the new administration spring term.

By this action the News abandons a policy instituted in 1926 under the editorship of Keith Hinshaw, non-director of the college radio station and a member of the publications department.

Mackerel Sharks

mackerel sharks appeared out of the pearly grey shadows. Darting faster and faster through the well placed bait the big sharks became intensely interested in the tube and began to charge against the observation window. Great hectic bubbles and spots on the mackerel sharks showed they were set to kill and the big hammerhead who seemed to dominate the pack whirled and wheeled about, showing the rippling muscles across his back and through his dark brown body fully 12 feet long.

After Williamson had dived the crew above to bail up a large net and get it over, he convinced himself that a shark does not turn over to bite and to make certain of this he filmed a shark using a baited hook without turning over. The shark took the hook and instantly there was a swirl and he went straightening out the net.

Calling for the largest shark, factored to a chain, another shark was shipped and the net was able to play this one without bringing it alongside in a tight position. The men immediately took the hook from the jaws and he again threw it down to the net below. This probably saved Williamson from a fatal attack because he was witnessing the attack from several sharks looking in at the window while another lurched and chewed at the netting around the window of the boat.

AN EXPLANATION

Today's issue of the Michigan State News marks the last of the Thursday editions for the remainder of the winter term. Hereafter the paper will appear only on Fridays.

This move comes only as a natural measure. Realizing that without immediate reorganization of the paper the News' financial status would be in jeopardy and thereby realizing that the News is fundamentally a student-written and student-supported paper, the News administration is attempting to meet more serious difficulty, the complete abandonment of the publication which might be detrimental to the present policy of the News. The move is being continued until the end of the year.

PANHELL RESPECT

Published this week on the part of the News administration is a special issue of the paper, which is a salute to the Panhellenic organization. The issue is published in a form which is intended to be a permanent record of the Panhellenic organization's activities during the year.

The action is entirely voluntary on the part of the News administration. Since the management of the paper is entirely in the hands of its officers and it is solely through their efforts that the paper is published, it is for them to take the responsibility for the decision of the Panhellenic organization.

AN EXAMPLE

As a western university, Michigan State University is proud of its record in the field of inter-collegiate cooperation.

The Panhellenic organization is a fine example of inter-collegiate cooperation. It is a voluntary organization of the Panhellenic organization, which is a salute to the Panhellenic organization's activities during the year.

STUDENT D

Student G: "Mr. Newman and Mr. Sheat certainly make you work but I think they're very good."

Student H: "Randall isn't so bad neither is Miller."

Student N: "Why I don't really know, but I guess they're all alright."

Student O: "If I gotta have any, I guess Breaky and Shedy are O. K."

Student P: "Oh, Mullenburg and Mason, I guess are O. K."

Student Q: "Oh, Miss Vaughn and Miss Johnson for me."

Student R: "Well, if there is such a thing as a Prof. being popular, I'll take Clark."

Student S: "Newman, oh, his divine."

Student V: "Lawrence, if he'd only comb his hair and press his pants."

Student X: "These guys all give me a pain."

Student Y: "Clark is O. K. but so are all."

Student Z: "Put me down for Miller and Shedy, though it doesn't make a hell of a lot of difference. And so on into the night."

ON THE THIRD FLOOR

On the third floor of the Union is an exhibit of 12 paintings by Arthur N. Colt which you can reach by going through one of the many unfinished portions of the building. As far as variety is concerned Mr. Colt has demonstrated his versatility in masterful still-lives, landscapes and lastly and most important because they are seldom exhibited here, figures and portraits. The Indian Girl is particularly interesting in that Mr. Colt has caught that warm luminous tint of the camp-fire which the figure and even the air is delicately washed in each portrait Mr. Colt seems to have achieved the ultimate in characterization not only in the physiognomy of the sitter but in catching him in a typical pose. Few painters do this. Perhaps they learned the trick from the photographers.

The landscapes and still-lives, although few in number are equally as good. All in all one is impressed by the quality of Mr. Colt's technique and yet his achievement of a certain individuality without becoming bizarre. No exhibit so far this year has equalled it.

Those who heard Goldsand's recitation were more than pleased with this young Viennese's demonstration of piano technique. Mr. Believed him to surpass that of young sensation, Vladimir Horowitz. His delicacy of tone particularly was the subject of comment. And wonder of wonders, he played Beethoven.

UNION BOARDING CLUB IS BECOMING POPULAR

Plans are still under way to make the Union's recently announced boarding club a popular student institution. Ray Riggs said today in spite of the poor response the idea received at its first sitting Monday.

Approximately a dozen men have been signed up and with the increased use of the club it is thought a much larger number of students will take advantage of it. Weekly boarding rates are $5.50.

Chorus Practices Haydn's 'Creation' for Anniversary

The chorus of the Michigan State Institute of Music under the direction of Zimoy Kovacs has started preparation of Haydn's "Creation" which will probably be presented in the spring.

Selection of this oratorio was made to honor the two hundredth anniversary of Haydn's birth which is to be marked in 1932. The oratorio is a well-known oratorio and is considered to be one of the most descriptive musical compositions.

The Art club will meet on Wednesday evening of this week instead of on Tuesday as previously announced.

Pan-Hellenic Ball Tops Small List of Fraternity and Other Parties Held on Last Friday and Saturday

Alpha Gamma Delta Leap Year Hop is Next in Importance; Many Societies Hold Open Houses; Initiation Banquets Given for New Members at Various Houses.

The Pan-hellenic Ball, the Alpha Gamma Delta Leap Year Hop, three fraternity open houses, and a few radio parties, together with fraternity and sorority initiations, crowded the past week-end with interesting social activity. Standing out as the highlight of the week-end, the Pan-hellenic formal dance held in the Hotel Olds Saturday evening from 8:30 until 12 o'clock attracted more than 150 couples. Bruce Fayerweather's M. S. C. Collegians furnished music for the occasion. Honor guests for the affair included President and Mrs. R. S. Shaw, Dean Elizabeth Conrad, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Dicks, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. De-... and Mrs. E. Lemmer. Simple rectangular green and white programs were the only favors. Sponsoring a Leap Year Hop in the Union ballroom Friday evening the alumnae chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta stated a successful dance which was attended by 150 couples. The M. S. C. Collegians played for the dancing.

Spartan League Open Meeting Set for Tonight

Orchestra Members Will Illustrate Talk by Ann Kuehl on Dancing.
The first open meeting of the term for Spartan Women's league will be held this evening at 7:00 in the dance studio of the gymnasium when members of Orchestra, honorary dancing society, will illustrate an informative talk by Miss A. Kuehl, dancing instructor following the short business session.
Cards announcing the meeting have been sent out by the committee headed by Virginia Anderson, 27 Times of 25. All co-eds interested in the league are invited with special permission for freshmen.
Mrs. R. E. Beindorf of Lansing, member of the Matinee Mistle, and popular among women's clubs, there will sing at the S. W. L. tea given for women of the faculty, wives of the men faculty, and members of the league, Friday, Jan. 22, at 3:30 to 5:30 in the Woman's building, according to Kate McAlvey, program chairman.
Dean Elizabeth Conrad, Dean Marie Dye, Mrs. Robert S. Shaw, Mrs. H. B. Halladay, Mabel Peterson, and members of the board Virginia Cutler, 32 and Virginia Allen, 32, will be the honored guests.
Miss Ann Kuehl and Miss Josephine Garvin will play.
Lillian Peterson, 33 of South Haven general chairman announces that the date of the winter term formal has been changed to Friday, Match 4 in the Masonic temple of Lansing. Tickets will sell for $2.00.
Spartan Lions and Spartan Tigers are the unique names of volleyball teams for Spartan Women's league, according to Margaret and Genevieve Fox, chairman of sports. The schedule will be announced following a meeting of the sports managers of societies and groups Tuesday, Jan. 19, 5 o'clock, with Miss Elizabeth Daniels in her office.

Co-Ed Groups Are Urged to Use Cabin More Frequently

Mecca of Hikers and Campers is Delightful Place to Spend an Evening.
It is urged that more members of W. A. A. use their well-equipped cabin. Located a mile and a half south of the campus, it is the Mecca of hikers and campers, and over night camps. The cabin is free for the use of any W. A. A. member. For groups not containing a member of the organization a reasonable rental is charged.
A fine stone fireplace at one end of the cabin furnishes the heat and adds to the attractiveness and general rustic atmosphere of the place. Everything needed for a week-end camp life is furnished in the cabin except food. Sleeping accommodations for thirteen girls are available in the loft.
Groups wishing the use of the cabin should sign for it in advance or see Norma Barr.
A new gate way to the grounds has been made this eliminating the recent necessity of passing through a barbed wire to reach the cabin.
Many groups have taken advantage of the facilities this year. Spartan League and Green Splash are among the organizations to have held parties there. The spring term luncheon of W. A. A. is held at the cabin each year.
All W. A. A. members should take advantage of the opportunity of tent them in the use of such an attractive cabin.

CLUBS TO SERVE MEALS

It has been announced that various clubs will serve meals during the coming Farmers' Week. ### Record Mark Set in Co-ed Physical Education Course

Enrollment of Fresh and Sophs Proves Popularity of Department.
Five hundred and thirty-five freshman and sophomore co-eds are enrolled in the Women's physical education department, according to Dr. Lydia Lightning, head of the department. This number by far exceeds the enrollment of previous years.
Interpretative dancing with 220 co-eds in the class is the most popular of the physical education courses given. This subject presents the fundamental rhythms and their patterns, rhythmic activities, step patterns, fundamentals of movement and dance composition. The course is taught by Miss Ann Kuehl.
One hundred and seventy-six co-eds have entered in the swimming classes. Miss Josephine Garvin gives instruction in theory and technique of strokes and diving in water postures, and in speed and endurance swimming to advanced students. Those unable to swim are taught fundamentals of the art.
Natural gymnasium under the direction of Miss Dorothy Parker, has 171 students. This course aims to teach skill and ability in the use of the body which will be of value in everyday life.
Miss Elizabeth Daniels has 37 students in her class of corrective gymnastics. Faults of posture, curvatures of the spine, flat feet and round shoulders and other physical defects are carefully studied and analyzed, and proper corrective measures to be taken in each case are taught.

SOPH PROM DATE IS ANNOUNCED AS MAR. 5

With the approach of March 5, the date of the 1932 Sophomore Prom committees have been appointed and plans for the affair are nearing completion.
While the orchestra and patrons have as yet not been decided upon, the party will be held in the Union ballroom. It was learned from Jack Tichnor, general chairman.

Committee Will Take Charge of Y. W. Meeting

The Y. W. C. A. all-membership meeting to be held at 7:15 o'clock Thursday, Jan. 21, in the student parlors of the church is to be in charge of the deputation committee. The committee is a group of students who have prepared a program which they give in other towns. So far, the team has made two trips. Special music is to be furnished by Marguerite and Norma Hoyt and Margaret Crummer. A talk will be given by Ruth Eager on the subject of Disarmament. What I Means, Frances Sullivan will recite a poem entitled Illusions of War. An offering will be taken to help defray the expenses of the Y. W. delegates to the late Geneva conference. The meeting will be dismissed in time for the student lecture to be given that evening.

Music Honorary Meeting Called for Wednesday

Miss Betty Lee, president of the local chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, national honorary musical sorority, announces a meeting of the organization to be held Wednesday evening in the Peoples church at 8:00 o'clock.
The society is sponsoring a musical to be held in the home of Mrs. L. Baker of East Lansing, the evening of Jan. 21. Announcements regarding the nature of the program to be presented will be made at a later date.

STATE PLAYS TITANS HERE TONIGHT

MICHIGAN STATE MEETS TITANS IN GAME TONIGHT; SPARTANS TRIM XAVIER SATURDAY, 22-20

By Jim Dulso

The University of Detroit basketball quintet meets the Spartans tonight at Demonstration hall in the first meeting of the two teams this season. There's more than a little speculation as to who is going to win the game tonight. State followers take the stand that winning basketball games from the Titans is a tradition, State having won nine games out of 10 in the past six years. Last year State won the game at Detroit by a score of 16 to 11, and also the home game 25 to 15. Detroit followers indicate that the winning streak which the Titans inaugurated on the previous last fall was the start of a new era in victories as far as athletic relations between the two schools was concerned.

Both teams have had about the same measure of success during the current season. State having dropped two games, the Titans losing the same number. Both have beaten their common foe, Western Michigan and Xavier, by close margins. The Titans star performers so far this year have been Hayes and Laufer, forward, and center, Champ and center guard, Atchison, McCaffrey, and forward, Bester. The Titans star performers so far this year have been Hayes and Laufer, forward, and center, Champ and center guard, Atchison, McCaffrey, and forward, Bester.

Basketball Game
State won a basketball game Friday night from Xavier largely through the resourcefulness of Randy Boeskoel in the final minute of play. With the score tied at 20 apiece, and both teams fighting desperately for the possession of the ball, Boeskoel did a neat pivot from the vicinity of the foul circle and being hit one hand, showed the ball through the basket for the deciding counter. Previous to this, Coach Boeskoel had been unable to tally either from the field or foul line.

While the Xavier team didn't receive a great deal of optimistic publicity they brought along as new a team as the Spartans have encountered this year. They employed a different style than most teams at this season. They also deliberate managers and they

"I like to see a man smoke a pipe!" You've heard your own girl say it, perhaps. You're sure to hear it wherever girls get together. They pull away from their cigarettes. But they like to see a man smoke a pipe. There's something about a pipe. It's a slow, reflective, hand-making smoke over a calm, relaxing, restful smoke. The hunter's smoke, the fisherman's smoke, the engineer's smoke, a man's smoke, through and through. And pipe smokers who know their fine tobacco, tell you there's no hand quito like the fine, selected, pungent, Edgeworth. The favorite tobacco in 42 out of 100 leading colleges. Do it Edgeworth. ## With Daubert in the Tower Spartan Side-Lines BY VAN

Our intrepid band now reached the foot of the tower. We tightened our knapsacks on our backs, took another drink of water, and prepared for the long climb to the top. Entering the open door we saw high above the flicker of a light. "He's there boys," shouted our leader. "Come!"

In single file we proceeded up the narrow winding stairs. Up and up it went. From landing to landing, another step and step. Our breaths grew short, our legs weak, we gasped in the thin air of that rarified atmosphere. "Easter boys," whispered our leader in a fainting voice. "It is almost time!"

At last a mighty shout echoed from the foremost one of our party, and those below passed it on so that the darkness vibrated. "Success!" As we crawled after the man in front of us we saw that there were no more stairs, that the summit had at least been reached. But the scream of joy that trembled in our throats was stifled before it reached our lips at the sight of that short, commanding figure, reminiscent of Napoleon the Great in his younger days, of that stern bearing and awful presence.

Wrestling
Coach Fendley Collins, Spartan wrestling coach, last Saturday night produced a wrestling team that should go through their schedule undefeated. The Spartan grapplers exhibited real ability when they downed a powerful University of Michigan team 14 1/2 to 13 1/2. One of the things that was outstanding in the Wolverine meet was the superior condition of the Spartans. In every match of the evening the staying qualities of State men were in sharp contrast to the apparent exhaustion of the Wolverines. Coach Keen of Michigan is a highly capable coach and a "real guy" but the state meet emphasized the fact that more time could have been spent on conditioning and less on the development of seissor holds. Despite the narrow margin of victory State's superiority was plainly evident to the unprejudiced observer.

Shut Up
At the Michigan mat meet some vocal wailers shouted, "Beat Michigan like we did in football!" Some very very mean individual piped the question, "Did Michigan play State in basketball?" Well, aw shut up!

Crowley
Coach James Crowley, Michigan State's grid mentor, will center with athletic officials of the University of Iowa this week in regards to the job of head coach recently vacated by Burt Ingwerson.

Coach Crowley has been linked in the past with many coaching assignments that we are always skeptical. There is, however, a general campus feeling that the popular Spartan coach is merely making time at Michigan State.

Coach Crowley was asked concerning the Iowa offer, "Does this mean that you will leave State?" "Well, if the offer is satisfactory, I certainly will consider it. Even then I would have to be relieved of my contract with State. But the offer will have to be satisfactory from a number of angles, before I would be sent to take it," he answered.

Gossip at wrestling meet: A lady in rear ejaculates, "That fellow has a lotta hair on his chest!" another fellow pipes up, "I'd like to see Ghandi in a wrestling match."

SPARTAN WRESTLERS DEFEAT WOLVERINE GRAPPLING TEAM IN THRILLING MEET SATURDAY

Coach Fendley Collins' Team Exhibits Great Power in Downing Strong University Mat Outfit; Austin, Ball, Stoner, and Leopard Are Outstanding Stars for Spartans.

One of the most thrilling meets in the wrestling history of the college occurred last Saturday evening when Michigan State's wrestlers defeated the strong University of Michigan team, 14 1/2 to 13 1/2, before a capacity crowd in State's gymnasium. The meet marked the first time in five years, and the third time in history, that a Spartan team has emerged victorious over the Maize and Blue, and Coach Fendley Collins had ample reason to feel proud of the strongest State team he has ever coached.

A victory over Michigan always signifies a successful season for any State team, and with this match a thing of the past, the prospects for an undefeated season are bright. Spartans who starred for State were Floyd Austin, diminutive sophomore, Stanley Ball, the 136 pound veteran, Norman Stoner, powerful former captain, and Olen Leopard, 175-pound representative. Ball and Stoner accounted for ten of State's points by winning the only two falls of the evening.

Austin started State off on the right foot by winning a decision over Texera, Wolverine representative in the 115 pound class. In the second match, Ball increased State's lead to 8 points by pinning his man to the mat handily in the short time of 4 minutes, 23 seconds.

Captain Byam was the victim of ill-luck in his match when, after putting up a brilliant fight he missed gaining a draw by a mere 20 seconds. His opponents was Thomas of Michigan. Stoner, in the next event, gave one of his typical good showings by evading Hellwig's representative in the second fall of the evening in 7 minutes, 58 seconds. State's lead was now 13-3 but the meet was far from in the bag for the Spartan grapplers. Their Big Ten opponents showed dogged spirit by refusing to give up and they were due to cause State much trouble before the meet ended.

The Maize and Blue grapplers won the next two events from State. Mosier, defender Jensen, in the 155 pound class, and Wilson, won over Marsa in the 165 pound class. Jensen, in his match, narrowly averted being pinned to the mat on several occasions. His ability to get out of tight places won him much applause from the crowd.

Marsa, after getting off to a fast start, fell victim to his opponent's powerful seissor-hold, and dropped his event by a decision. The score now stood 13 to 9 with State still needing points to win. The next match in the 175 pound class between Leopard of State and Reif of Michigan was the closest affair of the evening. The match was declared a draw at the finish of the regular ten minute period, and two overtime periods were necessitated. Neither wrestler gained an advantage, so the referee called it a draw and 1 1/2 points were awarded to each team.

The final event between Reavley of State and Stoddard of Michigan was the deciding bout of the evening, with Michigan needing at least a draw to win. Reavley showed the real Spartan spirit by sacrificing a chance for personal glory for the team's sake. Taking no chances of losing by a fall, he fought a stalling bout to let the Wolverine-heavyweight win the decision and gain a little three points. Reavley was not threatened seriously throughout the match and could have had he cared to take the chance given Stoddard plenty of run for his money.

The entire Michigan State team deserved credit for the victory as all members exhibited a real fighting spirit even in defeat. The fact that not one Michigan man won by a fall reflects much credit on the Spartan team.

Coach Collins' wrestling will act into action again next Saturday evening against the Mechanics Institute of Rochester, N. Y. The meet will be held in the Spartan gymnasium starting at 7:30 o'clock.

The summaries:
118 pound class: Austin, State, defeated Texera, Michigan. Time advantage, 6:32.
126 pound class: Ball, State, defeated Aldinger, Michigan. Fall, 4:23.
135 pound class: Thomas, Michigan, defeated Byam, State. Time advantage, 1:20.
145 pound class: Stoner, State, defeated Hellwig, Michigan. Fall, 7:58.
155 pound class: Mosier, Michigan, defeated Jensen, State. Time advantage, 6:46.

BOWLING MORE ABOUT J-HOP

The dairy husbandry and the extension bowling teams are still in the lead in the Faculty bowling league. As a result of the meet held Saturday, January 16 at the Rainbow Recreation club the extension department holds first place in total points, having a total of 4,912 and the dairy husbandry team 4,634. Both teams have equal standing of 833. The total scores for the entire league up to and including January 16 are: Dairy Husbandry, won 1 lost 1 standing, 334; Extension, won 5 lost 1 standing, 833; Farm Crops, won 4 lost 2 standing, 833; Publications, won 3 lost 3 standing, 500; Military, won 3 lost 3 standing, 833; Chemistry, won 0 lost 3 standing, 600; Horticulture, won 0 lost 3 standing, 600.

The three high point men in the league are A. G. Kettunen, 277 average; B. B. Roseboom, 629 average; 197; P. De Vries, 1118 average 198.

Another feature attraction of the 1932 meeting will be the showing of movies of the summer outing held in Muskegon last time. This movie will be offered Friday evening following the Dutch treat luncheon in the dining room of the Union. Later Friday evening a bowling match is scheduled between two picked teams of the publishers.

The convention will conclude with the downtown business meeting to be held at the Hotel Kalamazoo at 9:00 Saturday forenoon. All sessions of Thursday and Friday will be held at the Union building.

As far as Wittenburg is concerned, nothing is known of their fencing ability as State has never encountered them before. This little school usually furnishes tough competition in most any branch of sport, however, and are looked upon with respect by their Ohio neighbors.
