MSU Losing Profs Due to Money Lack

By JIM WALLINGTON
Managing Editor

Trustee Warren Huff, shocked by a list of 27 staff resignations submitted to the Board of Trustees Friday, said Michigan State's competitive position is rapidly deteriorating because of a "glut" of money.

Huff said Michigan State is now unable to fight off offers from other universities which sometimes promise pay increases of $1,000 to $1,500 per person.

"We used to lose good people to industry only," he said. "Then schools located in attractive areas began picking up our people. Now universities and colleges in such places as Alabama, St. Louis and Texas are attracting them."

The resignation list represents a dangerous erosion of our academic position.

The Board acted quickly to head off the loss of another faculty member who had been offered a $3,000 boost by the University of Illinois. It voted a $1,600 pay raise for the economics professor.

Trustee Frank Merriman said it "would be a dereliction to our duty in not trying to keep outstanding people here."

Among resignations submitted to the Board were Richard Adams, professor of sociology and anthropology, to go to the University of Texas for a $6,450 raise; Richard Rudner, professor in philosophy, to Washington University, St. Louis, for a $5,000 increase; Frank Ryerson, assistant professor in business services, to the University of Alabama, for a $1,100 increase.

Edward Weiner, professor in political science, to East West Center, Hawaii, as vice-chancellor, with substantial salary increase; Vergil Reed, professor in marketing and transportation administration, to Columbia University, for $6,000 increase in pay.

It was also announced that Clarence Winder, psychology professor was planning to move to UCLA.

those used next to the fire station on Shaw Lane, will be constructed on Harrison Road between the C&O and Grand Trunk tracks in front of the driver training strip.

Question of whether to finance the $160,000 project through University funds or through income from married housing rentals was to be decided at a later meeting.

Construction contracts went to Hasusman Construction Co., Lansing, $28,874 for mechanical work, and Hazel-Buehler, Inc., Lansing, $12,996 for electrical work.

A low bid of $52,275 by Hanelvance Construction Co., Lansing, was accepted for modification of Rather and Butterfield Halls for

Increase Of Fees Put Off

U of M Votes to Up Tuition Next Fall

Action on whether or not to raise student fees will be taken at the June Board of Trustees' meeting after the Legislature decides on MSU's appropriation, President John A. Hannah said Friday.

The Legislature has postponed taking action on appropriations for the state colleges and universities until after they have reached an agreement on a new tax schedule.

Hannah had said last month that there would be no tuition increases unless the Legislature does not receive the necessary money from the Legislature.

Governor John B. Swainson has asked the Democrats on the boards controlling Michigan colleges and universities to hold back on student fee increases this year.

Tuition for Michigan residents at MSU was not increased last year, but some out-of-state fees were raised. The reciprocal scale which set rates for out-of-state students from $645 to $750 was changed to set a rate of $750 for all out-of-state students.

Tuition increases expected to bring in an additional $2 million were approved Thursday by the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

Out-of-state students will carry the heaviest load of the increases under the new U of M scale which is to go into effect for the fall semester.

Out-of-state freshmen and sophomores tuition will be increased from $750 to $900 per year while Michigan resident freshmen and sophomores fees will remain at $290.

Other increases per year amount to $30 for Michigan resident juniors and seniors, and $110 for out-of-state juniors and seniors. Graduate school tuition hikes amount to $70 for Michigan residents and $250 for out-of-state students.

Graduate professional students in the schools of dentistry, medicine, public health and law will pay an additional $80 to $350 in fees.

Fees for music students were reduced by $160 for freshman and sophomores and $130 for juniors and seniors.

The tuition increases are the eight since 1946 at the U of M.

Show Faith In Students

Cite 'Admirable Conduct' As Cause of Housing Change

By BEN BURNS
Editor-in-Chief

Students may begin looking for new off-campus housing today as a result of a Board of Trustees decision to liberalize regulations.

The change equalizes housing regulations for men and women and represents a vote of confidence in student responsibility by the Board of Trustees.

Under the new policy, drawn up by the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs and women 21 and over may live in unapproved un-supervised housing with parents' permission.

A second part of the policy which requires students under 21 who don't have to live in residence halls to live within the East Lansing city limits, was disputed by trustee Don Stevens of Okemos.

Stevens said he felt limiting the boundaries to East Lansing would decrease competition and cause a rise in prices.

Trustee Warren Huff of Plymouth also expressed concern over the availability of housing within the new limits.

Dean of Students John Fuzak said the committee would continue to watch the East Lansing situation and if any major change occurred would make a new recommendation.

The regulations will cause about 40 students to seek housing within the new boundaries before next fall.

The Board passed over a recommendation to extend boundaries for students under 21 beyond East Lansing which represented a definite liberalization of policy and a move to meet modern needs.

He said he felt the change was due to the admirable conduct of the student body over the past several years.

The old regulations allowed un-supervised housing for single men over 25 and veterans with 21 months active status provided

PAUL A. VARG
Varg To Head College To Take Office This Summer

The Board of Trustees named Paul A. Varg, professor of history, dean of the new College of Arts and Letters Friday.

He will head one of the three colleges formed in the reorganization of the College of Science and Arts. The appointment becomes effective July 1.

Varg, 50, came to the University in 1955 to teach history of American foreign relations after serving a year as visiting professor at the University of Oregon.

He was an associate professor of history at Ohio State University for 12 years.

In 1955-56 he lectured at the University of Stockholm under a Fulbright grant.

A native of Worcester, Mass., he received his bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees at Clark University in Worcester and his Ph.D. at the University of Chicago.

Varg was stationed in Washington while serving in the Navy from 1943-46. At the end of the war he taught at the U.S. Naval Academy.

He is the author of two books, "Open Door Diplomacy: Life of William Woodville Rockhill" and "Missionaries, Chinese and Diplomats." He has just completed a third book, "The Foreign Policy of the Founding Fathers."

He has been a member of the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship regional committee for the past five years.

He is also a member of the American Historical Association, the Mississippi Valley Historical Association, American Association of University Professors and the Swedish Pioneer Historical Association.

Article on Reds Gets Comments

By INGRID WAGNER
Of the State News Staff

A timely article about Communist efforts to infiltrate college campuses in the May-June issue of "Campus Illustrated" has led to a variety of opinions in the English department.

The article suggests that there may be a revival of Communist activities on college campuses because the Reds feel that students are a fertile ground for their propaganda.

The article seems to be a fair survey of the problem of Communism on the campus," George R. Price, professor of English, commented.

He said that he agrees with the stand taken by President John A. Hannah at a faculty meeting that what occurred on this campus was simply one of a number of planned Communist appearances and part of a campaign of some sort.

"I believe that the stand taken by a Board of Trustees was a reasonable one," he added.

George Wolf, an assistant instructor of English, called the article a good, fairly factual one with a minimum of editorializing. He said that he didn't feel it was sensational or trying to create hysteria.

"But I don't think the fact that we had a Communist speaker on campus indicates any great

Planetarium Site Shifted to Shaw

The MSU planetarium will be constructed on a site opposite Shaw Hall instead of adjacent to the Museum, the Board of Trustees decided Friday.

Trustees said the site of the $400,000 structure, due to be completed next spring, was changed to "make available more favorable facilities for auto parking, be adjacent to the new science center, and get away from too great a congestion that would have resulted at the Museum site."

The facility, which mechanically allows viewers to watch the heavens from the earth and the moon, will be constructed by the Spitz Laboratories, Inc., of Yorklyn, Del. It is being financed through contributions to the MSU Development Fund, which received a $250,000 gift from Mr. and Mrs. Talbert Abrams of Lansing.

The Board accepted a gift totaling $5,227 from the Class of 1912 for the Planetarium.

Trustees approved several other important proposals concerning the University's physical plant, including the acceptance of bids for the construction of a married housing office and shop building.

Cadets To Hear Powell

GENERAL H.B. POWELL

The Commanding General of the U.S. Continental Army Command, Herbert B. Powell, will be the speaker as Army and Air Force ROTC cadets receive their commissions Tuesday.

In his present post at Fort Monroe, Va., General Powell directs the largest military training establishment in the entire free world and is also responsible for maintaining the combat-ready Strategic Army Corps.

The public is invited to the colorful commissioning ceremonies at 4:15 p.m. on Old College Field.

The entire corps of more than 2,800 cadets will participate in the parade. Music will be by the MSU Marching Band and the Army drum and bugle corps.

Second Lieutenant commissions will be awarded to 55 Army and 10 Air Force cadets. Commissions to 36 other cadets will become effective upon completion of requirements during the summer quarter.

General Powell, a native of Monmouth, Ore., was commissioned in the Army as a second lieutenant in 1926, following graduation from the University of Oregon. He is a graduate of the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College and the National War College.

Honors to General Powell, a rated Army aviator as well as a combat infantryman, include the Distinguished Service Cross, the Legion of Merit with Oak Leaf Cluster, the Bronze Star with two Oak Leaf Clusters, the Air Medal, the Army Commendation Medal and the Purple Heart. He has also been decorated by the Republic of Korea and the United Nations.

Assisting General Powell in presenting the commissions will be Col. James F. Skells, professor and head of military science at the University and Col. Thomas J. Barrett, professor of air science.

The ceremonies will also include the awarding of the President's Cups to the outstanding cadets in the Army and Air Force units.

President John A. Hannah will make the awards this year to Army cadet Arnold E. Chesal, Lansing senior, and Air Force cadet Larry E. Harvey, East Lansing senior.

In case of bad weather, a decision to move the event inside to Jenison Fieldhouse will be made at 2 p.m. and an announcement made at frequent intervals over WKAR.

GCA Department Name Changed

The Department of General Communication Arts is now the Department of Communication.

The Board of Trustees approved the renaming of the department at its meeting Friday.

Dean Fred Siebert, head of the College of Communication Arts, requested the change.

Global Glimpses

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK -- The President of the National Conference on Social Welfare called Sunday for adoption of President Kennedy's plan for Medical Care for the Aged under Social Security.

Dean Fedele F. Pauli of the University of Michigan School of Social Work also urged strengthening of the Social Security program by including the 14 million workers now excluded from coverage and by increasing weekly benefits.

U.S. Fires 14th Of Series

WASHINGTON -- The United States exploded another nuclear device in the atmosphere near the Christmas Island testing area Sunday, the Atomic Energy Commission announced.

The test—the 14th announced since the Pacific series began—was in the intermediate yield range or the equivalent of between 20,000 and 1 million tons of TNT.

Communists On Move

VIENTIANE -- Pro-Communist forces broke the lull on the northwestern front Sunday, governing government outposts outside Houei Sai near Thailand's border, U.S. military sources reported.

It was through this border river that royal government forces fled into Thailand after the military debacle in the northwest earlier this month. This defeat sent U.S. forces rushing to Thailand to prevent any Communist infiltration from Laos and the front had been quiet since.

Check Theft, Plane Crash

LOS ANGELES -- Federal agents probed today for any possible link between the theft here of 350 sticks of dynamite and the crash of a jet airliner which killed 45 persons in Missouri.

The dynamite was stolen from a storage yard in the nearby San Fernando valley several days before the May 22 plane disaster, said William G. Simon, special agent in charge of the Los Angeles Federal Bureau of Investigation office.

Tribunal Angers DeGaulle

PARIS -- The government Sunday abolished the special high tribunal that angered President Charles De Gaulle by sentencing Secret Army chief Raoul Salan with a life sentence.

The decision may clear the way for another trial of the much-decried former general in a regular court on new charges arising since his arrest.

Created by De Gaulle himself to deal with such cases as the one against Salan, the special tribunal had been expected to hand him a death sentence as it had his top Secret Army lieutenant, former Gen. Edmund Jouhand.

1962 Wolverine Out on Tuesday

Distribution of the 1962 Wolverine will begin Tuesday, according to sales manager Dave Foster.

Off-campus students should come to room 20 in the basement of the student services building between 3 and 5 p.m. on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. Sales receipts must be presented in exchange for a book.

Books will be distributed in fraternity, sorority houses and in the dormitories on Thursday and Friday.

Students who have lost their receipts or if their names do not appear on the distribution lists of the sales representatives must come to the Student Services building on Thursday, Friday or Monday.

Basic College Reviews To Be Held This Week

Reviews of third term Humanities, Social Science, and American Thought and Language will be held in the Union this week.

The schedule:

American Thought and Language -- Monday, 8:15 p.m., 31 Union.

Social Science -- Tuesday, 7 p.m., 31 Union.

Humanities -- Thursday, 8:15 p.m., 31 Union.

Susan Scott 'Miss Lansing'

Susan Jean Scott, Okemos junior and Chi Omega, became the new Miss Lansing this weekend in a two-hour program at the Michigan Theater that climaxed the local first stage of Miss America Competition.

The 19" dark haired business education major won over 10 other MSU coeds participating in the competition.

Runners-up include Lucille Bishop, East Lansing freshman and Janet May Cable, Detroit sophomore. Hasmig Tepikian, Yonkers, N.Y., junior was honored as "Miss Congeniality."

Miss Scott received the crown and a bouquet of roses from another MSU coed, Gretchen Ann Kuechava, a sophomore, who is the 1961 Miss Lansing.

The program, which took place after the showing of Elvis Presley's new film "Follow That Dream," was moderated by WILS news director Bob Runyon and included a surprise appearance by film star George Montgomery.

Montgomery is currently on a promotional tour in conjunction with "Samson" which opened at the Starlight Friday.

Robert Romal, general chairman of the Miss Greater Lansing Pageant, reported that local competition follows the lines of national Miss America competition and binds the contestants with the same rules.

The girls first competed in formal, talent demonstrations, and finally swim suits, Romal said.

Miss Scott first appeared in a green print gown she and her mother had designed and sewn for the show. It featured an orange and green print bodice of Italian courtier cotton and a green tulle skirt with white organza overskirt and dark green velvet bow.

For the talent show, she did a dramatization of the Robert Browning. She wore a black toga with gold waist cord and sandals which she and her mother had also designed for her portrayal of the murderess in the dramatization.

The finalists chosen after the first judging included Miss Scott, Miss Bishop, Miss Cable, and Margaret Soulliere, Mt. Clemens junior, and Mary Coleman, Pittsburg junior.

Library Understaffed

60,000 Books Uncatalogued

By ANNE DARLING and JOHN DANCER
Of the State News Staff

(First of a Series)

"The book I want is always missing," a pre-law junior told a friend at Kewpie's recently. They were talking about the University Library.

His friend, a political science sophomore, answered that "I get so discouraged just looking for books over there that I usually end up buying paperbacks."

A third student remarked, "I got so mixed up trying to use the library when I was a freshman that I quit going over--except to do assigned reading."

She was a junior majoring in elementary education.

These remarks led these two State News reporters to talk to more students, faculty members and library officials to find what kinds of problems the University Library is confronted with.

This is what we found.

"The library is understaffed," according to Richard Chapin, director of libraries. "Our limited budget makes us rely on student assistants instead of professional librarians," Henry Koch, associate director of libraries, said.

Students who answered a State News questionnaire about the library said that student assistants were generally cooperative and anxious to help but simply didn't know where to find books themselves.

Bruce Smith, professor of political science, said that student assistants "waste everybody's time--faculty's, students' and librarians'."

Library Understaffed

Because of our lack of professional catalogers, Koch said, we now have about 60,000 books in the library that are uncatalogued. Some of these books have been in the library since 1952.

Most of these 60,000 books, Chapin said, will need to be catalogued by a professional because they have no Library of Congress number and original cataloging must be done.

And professional catalogers are hard to find, Chapin and Koch emphasized.

But what about some other problems that have little to do with the shortage of professional librarians--stolen books, for example?

Smith has said that "the amount of theft from the library is nothing less than a scandal."

Koch said that the library doesn't really know how many books are being stolen each year. Before the turnstiles were installed, he said, about $40,000 worth of books were stolen annually.

Students and faculty members know that it is possible, even easy, to steal from the library in spite of the turnstiles and a centralized check-out point.

"Our limited budget makes us rely on student assistants instead of professional librarians," Henry Koch, associate director of libraries, said.

Students who answered a State News questionnaire about the library said that student assistants were generally cooperative and anxious to help but simply didn't know where to find books themselves.

Other Decisions By The Trustees

This week the MSU Board of Trustees deserves a pat on the back.

Recouping from last week's decision to bar Communist Robert G. Thompson from campus property, the Trustees made two commendable decisions in their meeting Friday.

They were approval of the liberalized housing regulations which allow 21-year-and-olders to rent housing in Lansing and the decision to construct the Planetarium on south campus across from Shaw Hall.

The Trustees reaffirmed their faith in the maturity of the MSU students by passing the new housing rules. Dropping the age to 21 of those permitted to live in unapproved housing shows that the Trustees no longer think of students as children.

The inclusion of women in the rule that states students over 21 can live in unapproved housing with parent's permission is realistic and ends the second class student status of women at MSU.

The phrase requiring parental okay is the only drawback to that section of the new rules. But in time that too will probably be scratched. Let's not bite off or expect too much at a time.

The portion of the new rules which keeps students under 21 within East Lansing city limits and in approved housing is also realistic, from the administration's point of view.

It eases their duties by putting all students in the one classification under a single governmental unit and keeps them in a concentrated area. These students should be able to find housing in the city because the new rules now allow many to seek accommodations in areas before restricted to them.

Back to the Planetarium. The Trustees eliminated a certain bottle-neck before it actually developed by approving the relocation of the Planetarium, which was supposed to be built adjacent to the Museum.

At the original site there would be a minimum of parking space, a greatly congested traffic area and the beauty of the location would have been lessened.

But across from Shaw Hall there will be ample parking facilities for the many high school busses and private cars which will carry thousands of interested persons to the $400,000 planetarium.

The facility, due to be completed next spring, will also be logically located in the proposed Science Center area along with other buildings housing science facilities.

See, the Trustees aren't so bad after all.

Alert, Aware Americans?

The Milwaukee Journal reports that a national promotion to encourage lay citizens to express their sentiments by wire on business before the Congress is running into difficulty.

The shoal upon which the promotion is mired is the discovery that 56 per cent of Americans are unable to name even one of the two senators from their home states and fewer know who their congressman is. This has caused promoters to get together a complete roster to supply this information.

An alert, aware American? -- The Sacramento (Calif.) Bee

Because of the flood of letters received by the State News over the Communist controversy, we have been forced to condense the letters considerably. Following are excerpts from many of these letters.

An Open Letter to the Michigan State Legislature

--Well, gentlemen, the speaker appeared, and the events which transpired there made a mockery of your pompous distrust of the University. The drowsed communist speaker was mercilessly heckled throughout his talk, was handed the most embarrassing sorts of questions possible, and was finally laughed off his soapbox. The crowd, which probably tripled through your publicity, then heard two Hungarian speakers deliver prompt and undeniably anti-Communist speeches. The second was given a dramatic standing ovation as he left the platform. The point is, that what you feared would begin as a dark session of Communist indoctrination ended as an unequivocal reaffirmation of democracy which would have warmed the heart of any patriot. I would admonish you, as legislators, to use more forethought and responsible judgement in the future. Your resolutions in question are a sad commentary on your lack of faith in the educated public of Michigan, a faith that should have been reaffirmed for you Wednesday evening in spite of your own intellectual myopia.

Sincerely, William R. Doerner

Commendation

To the Editor: An Open Letter to the Board of Trustees.

We commend your recent action in thwarting a clever attempt on the part of Communist party and sympathetic free-thinkers to undermine the beliefs of our students and to make them the dupes and witless puppets of a subversive attack on the American system.

Thank you, gentlemen. You have prevented the subversive effort from reaching fruition. As long as we have your guidance in the intellectual development of the student body, we can feel free to continue our education unencumbered by those who would seek to obstruct our pursuit for objective "whole-truths."

Clark McPhail Michael T. Micklin Robert K. Orsway Joe Smucker Worth Summers Carole Wolfe Graduate Students Dept. of Sociology and Anthropology

Gullible

To the Editor: How gullible we have all been to believe we were defending our American rights of freedom when we vehemently lashed at MSUBd. of Trustees for preventing a Communist to appear on the premises! I am ashamed of myself!

Do you all realize that we Americans are fighting a war with Communists like Thompson? Not only a cold war is sapping our energies and taxes which could otherwise be directed at many important needs such as this university - and all schools - but a blood and bullets war is taking the lives of Americans and freedom seekers of many countries. Your friends and relatives may be some of those killed in supporting our USA against Communists - Communists which are directed by Moscow; members of an international movement to take over all governments.

Don't you realize the value of our liberties? What our democracy works toward? What you have to lose in this struggle? Will we suddenly wake up some day to find ourselves in chains and wonder how it all happened?

Carolyn Wardell Student 173620 334 Evergreen, E. L.

Undemocratic

To the Editor: This seems most undemocratic considering that the right to free speech in an assembly are supposedly to be guaranteed by the first amendment to the Constitution. Therefore by handing down this edict the Board of Trustees has violated and superceded the "Law of the Land".

Andy Dunn

Not Afraid

To the Editor: The youth of America are adamant about their rights. They will hear what Communism has to offer them whether or not we provide the facilities to house the meetings; why should we add more fuel to the fire by refusing. The only way our youth will learn is to be allowed to evaluate the issues at hand. How can they do this if men are not allowed to express their opinions?

Our campuses house the leaders of tomorrow. Our hope for the future lies in them. Are we so afraid of Communism that we have no faith in our youth to uphold the American heritage of freedom.

Mary Ann Lance Secretary Agr'l. Hall Campus

Scared

To the Editor: It is my belief that the Board of Trustees is acting like a scared old lady. She doesn't think that the country jail is strong enough to hold the bandits, so she hides in her home with all the doors locked. And now she and her pets are safe beyond reason. And in her backyard is her husband's grave, and the graves of her dead pets. They too are safe beyond all reason.

Jim Harkness Still Alive in E. Shaw

Red Professor

To the Editor: In reference to the controversy over the Party speaker, what prevents in principle the Young Socialist Club, the A.C.L.U., or any other organization from submitting a request to the Administration for a professor of a U.S.S.R. Party School to fill the chair of Distinguished Visiting Professor at MSU to instruct for one year entering students in the field of Party Philosophy?

Certainly, the criterion of "academic freedom" allows it, and, surely the "student intelligence" should not be insulted by a denial of such a request. Assuming such an invitation was possible, what then prevents further creation of a chair in Party Strategy?

R. J. Krsiakowski University Village

An Experience

To the Editor: Reading documents is one means of learning; listening to speakers another. Just as documents must be supplemented by more and more background and interpretation, so must lectures be researched and evaluated. To deprive interested and curious university students of this learning experience because their university state may lead to confusion is to demonstrate little faith in our educational system and those values for which it stands. Such an experience should lead to critical discussion of the communist system, and our own; it seems to me this is the heart of education.

Frank Cookingham C 56 West Shaw

Free Speech

To the Editor: While Mr. Thompson is a known Communist dedicated to the overthrow of our government we must not be afraid to hear treason if it is spoken, for to deny anyone the right of free speech in a country that makes free speech a founding principle is in effect to deny that right to ourselves. History has shown that once a State limits civil rights tyranny will soon follow.

There are many paths to tyranny. Communism is one but so is hypocrisy. Therefore let us remember Jefferson's words and realize a society cannot be truly free unless all men enjoy the rights that others have died for to preserve.

Eric Doane Thuma 513 Sunset Lane East Lansing

Knowing Enemy

To the Editor: Experience is still the most effective teacher and getting things second hand will never replace first-hand encounters. Seeing a "real-live" Communist and hearing his propaganda direct would create a greater understanding of Communism.

If the future leaders and citizens cannot be made aware of the philosophy and tactics of Communism by the fanatically faithful disciples of this doctrine, they may well "bury us".

We feel it is to be regretted that Michigan State is more concerned with admittedly needed appropriations than with the understanding of the most terrible "ism" of our time.

James E. Meeks David A. Milko Robert H. Ross

Block Ideas

To the Editor: What is the Board of Trustees trying to hide? Are they so uncertain of the merits of democracy that they feel anyone bearing of another form of government will turn against it?

When I was young my parents said smoking was bad. I accepted their opinion until I was mature enough to experience smoking and judge its merits personally. They also said that communism was bad. However, I no longer rely solely on their opinion. I feel I am now mature enough to experience this issue and come to my own conclusions.

I am an engineering student and my only chance to be personally informed about political issues is through University sponsored lectures. If I cannot find more about the democracy vs. communism issue at this University, I will find out somewhere else. But, it is a shame that our parents and ourselves are spending good money to have ideas blocked by fear.

Donald A. Erickson

Hypocrisy

To the Editor: It seems to me that by forbidding Thompson's appearance, MSU is taking a step in the direction of ostracizing those who disagree with popular or majority doctrines.

Let the Communists speak. Let us decide for ourselves whether their dogma is sound or not. Let's not use totalitarian methods to protect democracy.

Harvey L. Acherman Graduate Assistant Economics Dept.

Resolution

To the Editor: Last Wednesday night, All University Student Government passed a resolution which in effect chastises the MSU Board of Trustees for not allowing Robert Thompson to use University facilities to speak. The vote was 23 for, 15 against and two abstentions. I am writing in an attempt to explain the vote of the 15 persons who were opposed to this resolution.

These votes may be divided into two groups, those who are in favor of some type of resolution but not this one and those who are opposed to any type of resolution in opposition to the board's decision.

The former group agreed that AUSG should take some stand, but they should be more constructive and objective in this resolution. I maintain, and I think I am speaking for this minority, that AUSG showed the same kind of "blatant disrespect" that they were so venomously advocating that the board had used in their decision.

The second group, of which I may be the only member, feels that the Board of Trustees made the right decision and therefore was opposed to this and any other resolution of this nature. I hold that the people of this country are in a cold war with the communists... the people, remember. The people of this state elect the Board of Trustees to govern the affairs of this University. If I had a choice, I certainly would not allow my enemy to speak against me on my own property. It is the same with the people of this state. Their representatives, acting in good faith to the people, could not allow university facilities to be used by a person whose credo is the overthrow of the government of this country by forceful means or not.

An attempt is being made to formulate a minority report, to be submitted to the same people who will receive this one, in order to express our opinions. A roll call vote was taken on both second and third readings. I challenge every student to find out how their representative voted and to question their purpose, whether or not you agree with their stand.

John Chidester South Case Congress Rep.

Nut Field

To the Editor: For years, England, that cradle of Western political liberties, has reserved an area of Hyde Park for absolute freedom of speech. Here the fringe speakers can mount their soapboxes and harangue any person who will listen for any reason.

Surely somewhere on the spacious MSU campus there is a little plot of ground which can be set aside for the nuts. If this were done, there would be no need for all the emotional sweat which is generated every time some evangelist feels the urge to unburden his soul and point the way to Utopia. All that would be necessary is a two-line notice in the Daily that "So-and-So will speak at Nut Field, 7:00 p.m. Wednesday."

In this way the occasion would get about the attention it deserves and freedom of speech would be preserved. After all, once you have denied the right to talk to any individual or group, then the sliding scale enters and no one knows where it stops sliding.

Bruce Stewart Assistant Professor

Mature

To the Editor: It is only by being acquainted with two sides of an issue that one can make any judgments. We feel that we are mature enough to listen to a Communist without rashly absorbing all that he says, or without being swayed by any forms of propaganda that he may utilize in getting his opinions across.

It is the task of those who are educated to lead the way for others who are not "as stable and as understanding" as that in the United States of America

SO THE EDITOR SAYS Ostrich-Eye View

BEN BURNS

The appearance of a Communist speaker last week brought about a number of interesting reactions including irrational emotionalism from legislators, parents and other adults, who should know better.

WLS, a local radio station, broadcast an editorial of this nature. The editorial stated in part: "The young men and the young women who make up the student body of our university, and the university, come from a widely varied degree of background, educational systems and family lives. They have all undoubtedly been well prepared for university life, but nowhere, nowhere have they as a body received the kind of education and background that would make them prepared to spot the mistruths, distortions and lies that the campus newspaper would want them to find. The dialectics of a highly trained Communist propagandist. Another quote includes:

"We as citizens of the state of Michigan grow increasingly weary of the cries of students and civil liberties buffoons who cry loudly that their rights of complete freedom are being abridged. Listen to a few basic facts.

"The University of East Lansing is paid for and supported by the citizens of Michigan, not the students. The University heads are hired and paid by the citizens of Michigan, not the students. The citizens of Michigan demand to be and are responsible for everything on the MSU campus.

"We don't like Communists. We don't want them around. Any one disagreeing with the opinion of the supporters of our university and who simply can't stand this invasion of the right of free choice as an individual is invited to go wherever he or she can find a school administration stupid enough to permit the immature and unformed to make administrative decisions."

On the whole the editorial speaks for itself. I imagine the WLS personnel felt that freedom of expression and the fact that students are Michigan citizens were minor points not worthy of consideration. I also suppose they honestly believe the best way to get rid of Communists is to hide your head in the sand, deny their existence as a threat and not have them around.

The students don't like Communists either, but we feel you have to know what you are fighting in order to fight it intelligently.

Perhaps this is irrational buffoonery, but we don't think it is tragic that an attitude as hysterical as that shown by the WLS editorial is prevalent in Michigan citizens. It is a reflection on our way of life and our society.

'Miss Lansing'

Following this initial judging the five winning finalists were all re-judged, Romal explained. Questioning of the contestants plays an important role in the final selection, he added. For her serious question, Miss Scott was asked to make a comment on a political figure in the news recently. Her reply: "The Billie Sol Estes case is very interesting to me. I'm wondering what other national figures will be involved."

In a less serious vein, she was asked what she would do if a boy called and asked for a date when she knew a girl friend of hers had put him up to it. "I'd probably accept the date," she said, "so as not to hurt him but I'd ask him over to my house for a nice quiet evening of records and checkers."

plus a trip to Atlantic City for the Miss America contest. The judging was very close at the Michigan Theater Saturday night, Romal commented. "These are the most talented girls we've had in a long time," he said. Following the show, Miss Scott was introduced at Dines Restaurant according to tradition, Romal said.

Along with the Miss Lansing title goes a $300 wardrobe of four complete costumes plus a swim suit which Miss Scott will wear to vie for the Miss Michigan title July 4 through 6 at Muskegon. The prize for Miss Michigan competition is $2,000 in cash.

Shuman To Address Marketing Ass'n

Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, the nation's largest farm organization, will speak at the first annual meeting of the Michigan Agricultural Cooperative Marketing Association Tuesday at 10 a.m. in Kellogg Center. The marketing association was incorporated last year to represent producers of Michigan farm commodities in dealing with processors on marketing matters including terms of trade.

Warner Made Director

A recent graduate and one-time speaker of ASG congress, Dale Warner, has been appointed research director for Sen. John H. Stahlin's (R, Belding) campaign for Republican nomination for lieutenant governor. Warner, 21, is presently chairman of a college student group promoting Stahlin's candidacy.

He photographed books on the ground floor that had been tossed on the shelves. Many had the covers ripped off and pages missing. One was an English grammar with a penned statement saying it was purchased in 1839. Other pictures showed old Atlases that were ripped and scattered about on the floor.

When faculty members were asked to comment on the strengths and weaknesses of the University Library, we found a feeling of apathy. Ten prominent professors on campus were questioned. Only two would comment. The other eight "had nothing to say."

Eugene Onegin At Fairchild

"Eugene Onegin", Tchaikovsky's immortal opera, will be the Lecture Concert Series' featured film presentation Monday and Tuesday evenings at Fairchild Theater. The two showings each evening at 7 and 9 p.m. will be the first in the Lansing area. The cast includes soloists, chorus, corps de Ballet and orchestra of the U.S.S.R. Bolshoi Theatre and the Leningrad Academic Theatre of Opera and Ballet. The opera is based on "Yevgeni Onegin", written by Alexander Pushkin and considered by many literary critics to be a masterpiece of world literature.

"Yevgeni Onegin", which has been called an encyclopedia of 19th century Russia because of its portrayal of the period, took Pushkin 10 years to complete. The film depicts the philosophy and morals of Russian society in the first quarter of the 19th century and the beauty of the Russian countryside. It is in color and has a running time of 106 minutes.

NAACP To Feature Hooker in Final Meet

The NAACP will feature James Hooker, assistant professor of history, as its guest speaker at a meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in Old College Hall, Union. Hooker, specializing in African studies, will speak on "The Changing Attitudes between American Negroes and Africans." He will discuss these changes as they are indicated in recent developments in literature and politics.

Week's Seniors Arnold, Jackson

Sharon Jackson, Ovid home economics major, and Richard Arnold, agricultural economics major, were chosen by Senior Council as seniors of the week. Sharon has done most of her work with 4-H clubs and home economics organizations. Besides keeping herself busy with many activities she has managed to maintain a 3.13 average.

She has been president of the Home Economics Council as well as recruitment chairman for the Agricultural Council in 1961 and 1962 and an ag council representative in 1960 and 1961. He was also a member of the Agricultural Economics Club. He was chosen for the outstanding senior award for the Ag Economics Club. He was also presented the top activities award from the College of Agriculture for 1962. He was also member of Alpha Zeta.

Richard lives with his wife and daughters at the High School House near the Peoples Church. He and his wife have been resident advisors for the Senior High Youth Fellowship for two and a half years.

After graduation at the end of the summer Richard will do public relations work in agriculture. He has started an office in East Lansing.

While working on ag council, Sharon was chairman of the decoration committee for the 1960 Harvest Ball and chairman of the 1960 Ox Roast program committee. Sharon has also been on the student organization council and dorm council, for which she was elected chairman.

She was also chosen for Kappa Delta Pi education honorary, and Omicron Nu home economics honorary. After graduation Linda plans to work for the Co-operative Extension Services as 4-H Club agent in Lenawee County.

Richard Arnold is managing to bring up three daughters, age 6, 4, and 1, with his wife Carol as well as produce a weekly half hour television show for WXYZ-TV in Detroit. Richard has also kept busy with campus activities. "If I had to do it over again, I wouldn't devote as much time to the television show," Richard admits. Every minute has been filled, but it isn't as bad as it sounds, he said. The name of the television show is "Rural Newsreel." Richard has traveled all over Michigan gathering movie film and stories for the show.

Crاندall Trenching Service, Lansing, was awarded the contract for walks and drives in the Case-Wilson dormitory area on basis of its low bid of $75,921.50.

Site work at the new Engineering building and construction of a traffic circle on Shaw Lane will be done by Kagle Construction Co., Lansing, which submitted a low bid of $57,048.60.

The Board also approved the resodding project done at Spartan Stadium by the M-99 Evergreen Nursery for $6,460 and the road repair at MSU's Hidden Lake Gardens in the Irish Hills by Russel Miller, Clinton, for $17,290.01.

Trustees also authorized the University to proceed with alterations in Berkeley Hall to provide offices for the new College of Social Science and Arts and Letters and to go ahead with repair work on several roadways on campus which were damaged by winter.

Young Dems To Hold Final Term Meeting

The Young Democrats will hold their final meeting of the term Monday at 8 p.m., in Parler A of the Union.

The main order of the evening will be elections of next years officers. There will also be a convention report, a speech by Alan Cletcher and action on an executive board recommendation to oppose the renomination of the Democratic members of the Board of Trustees who voted against allowing Communist Robert G. Thompson to appear on campus.

Dedication Song Written Here

A song entitled "Wings Over the World" written by Doris A. Paul, wife of the director of the Lecture-Concert Series, Wilson B. Paul, will be the theme for the dedication of the fabulous new Trans-World Airlines terminal at Idlewild Airport in New York Monday. Co-writer of the song, Esther M. Fuller will attend the ceremonies with Mrs. Paul. Fred Waring and the Pennsylvanians will play the song.

Villanova Wins IC4A Track Meet

By JAY J. LEVY
Of The State News Staff

Host Villanova ran away from a field of 44 other schools in the 86th annual IC4A Outdoor Track and Field Championships Saturday in a meet that saw seven records broken and one tied.

The Wildcats amassed 49 1/2 points to chalk up their third consecutive victory and fifth win in six years thus allowing them to retire the present cup.

Michigan State, with a four man contingent, qualified for five places, but came away with only five points on the strength of one third and one fourth.

In the Friday preliminaries, MSU qualified two men in the 220 yard dash, one in the 100, one in the high hurdles and one in the broad jump.

Sherman Lewis, who took the IC4A indoor broad jump title, took second in the qualifying round with a leap of 23' 3 1/2". In the finals he could do no better than this and he had to settle for third place. The winning leap was 23' 7 3/4".

Although Lewis also qualified in both the 100 and 220, Zach Ford, State's second man in the 220, became the only other Spartan of the day to score. Ford, who had qualified Friday by winning his heat in 21.5, finished fourth in the finals in 21.3.

The race was won by world champion Frank Budd of Villanova in 20.6. Budd was one of two double winners in the meet as he also won the 100 yard dash in 9.6.

Lewis was scratched from both sprints by coach Fran Dietrich because of a leg injury. In the qualifiers, Lewis had done 9.7 and 21.5.

Hutler Herm Johnson made it to the finals of the 120 yard high but did not run in the money. His qualifying time was 14.8. Leon Pras of Villanova won with a 14.2 clocking.

One of the bright spots for State was the performance of middle distance man Don Castle. Running in both the half mile and mile, both times were the best of his career.

A 1:52.0 effort earned seventh place in the half mile and though he did not place in the mile run, he ran a creditable 4:12. The winning time in the mile was 4:06.4 a new meet record set by Harvard's Mark Mullins. John Reilly of Georgetown split the tape in 1:49.3 to take the half mile run.

Other records set were in the mile relay, 3:10.6 by Morgan State; the 3,000 meter steeplechase, 3:19.1 by Villanova's Pat Traynor; a clocking of 51.7 in the 440 yard hurdles by Jay Luck of Yale; and the 440 yard dash with a 46.7 mark by Morgan State's Hubert Brown.

NYU sophomore Gary Gubner was the only other double winner of the meet as he took firsts in both the shot put and discus. His heave of 62' 1 3/4" set a new record in the shot and he placed first in the discus with a toss of 168' 10 1/2".

Rolando Cruz of Villanova and John Belizta both pole vaulted to a new meet mark of 15' 6" but neither could break the tie. Former world record holder John Thomas of Boston University won the high jump with a 6' 7 3/4" leap.

The Spartans now have one meet left on the season's card. They travel to South Bend on Saturday for the Central Collegiate Meet.

Major Leagues Put Ex-Spartans to Work

Two former Michigan State baseball players, one supposedly on the decline and the other just emerging, opposed each other in Baltimore Orioles' 4-2 win over the Boston Red Sox Sunday.

Five other MSU baseball players are on Major League rosters. Pitcher Dick Radatz, a rookie who paced Michigan State in 1959, lost his first game in relief in his 17th appearance this season. Radatz allowed two runs and two hits in his five-inning relief stint.

Starting pitcher for Baltimore was Robin Roberts, one most famous of the ex-Spartans, who was relieved after 7 2/3 innings and did not figure in the decision.

It was Roberts' first start for the Orioles who signed him last week after the New York Yankees released him. The Yankees obtained Roberts from the Philadelphia Phillies where he compiled several dazzling 20-victory seasons.

Last Wednesday the record of former Spartans was more illustrious. Radatz saved Boston's 6-1 win over the Minnesota Twins with two innings of scoreless ball.

Al Luplow, who was signed in the spring of 1959, cracked a ninth inning pinch-home run for the Cleveland Indians, the team which signed him, to defeat the Indian-Chicago White Sox game, 4-4. Chuck Essegian followed with a game-winning homer.

Most impressive this season has been Ron Peranoski, voted the most outstanding MSU pitcher in 1958. In a reliever's role for the Los Angeles Dodgers he has compiled a 3-0 won-lost mark for the season with a 1.29 Earned Run Average, the lowest in the National League.

The southpaw hurler aided the Dodgers Sunday in winning their seventh straight decision. He came on in the ninth and retired pinch hitter Don Demeter to save the 5-2 victory.

The lefty was the Dodger's rookie of the year last season in compiling a 7-5 record. Ed Hobaugh, captain for Coach John Kobs' squad in 1956, is hurling for the Washington Senators and Jack Kralick, signed off the campus in 1954 as a freshman, is a Minnesota Twins pitcher.

In the National League is veteran Hobie Landrith, who was signed when a freshman in 1954. The New York Mets catcher is batting over .300. He has played for Cincinnati, New York Giants and the St. Louis Cardinals since leaving Michigan State.

Harfst Named Sports Editor

Dave Harfst and Terry Wareham were appointed State News sports editor and assistant, respectively, for fall term '62. Ben Burns, editor-in-chief announced Monday.

Harfst, Essexville junior, was a part-time sports reporter for The Bay City Times for two years. He will work at The Times this summer.

Wareham, Houghton Lake sophomore, was assistant editor spring term and was a special correspondent for the Bay City paper, while in high school.

The appointment marks the first time since winter term that the State News will be operating with a sports editor and full staff.

Harfst said he would set up tentative plans and organize his staff for fall term before school adjourns. He added that all students planning on working on sports in the fall should contact him at the State News.

Harfst adds that anyone who has not worked for the State News previously but is interested in joining the sports department should contact him also.

Kaline's Absence Hurts the Tigers

NEW YORK (AP) - Detroit manager Bob Scheffing, faced with the loss of Al Kaline for possibly two months because of a broken collarbone, acknowledged that losing the Tigers' No. 1 star was "like draining some of our life's blood."

"It's impossible to estimate the effects of the loss of such a great player as Kaline," said Scheffing before Sunday's important doubleheader at Yankee stadium. "We'll do the best we can, of course, but we'll miss him like the Yankees miss Mickey Mantle. Maybe more because the Yankees have a few more guys to pick up the slack."

"Fortunately we have some pretty good replacements and the guys on this club are pretty capable of picking themselves up. But they can't play like Kaline. Who the heck can?"

Kaline, off to his best start in years, has been the club's leader in all offensive departments. Through Saturday's game, he was batting .336 with 13 home runs and 38 runs batted in. His fielding, throwing and running has been top flight.

Kaline's injury was diagnosed by Dr. Sidney Gaymer, Yankee physician, as a longitudinal fracture of the outer end of the right clavicle. It is the part that holds the right shoulder and collarbone together.

Diamond Clash Washed Out

By MIKE SKINNER
Of The State News Staff

SOUTH BEND, Ind. - There was no luck of the Irish here Saturday. Instead there was rain.

The Spartans left under cloudy skies at 8:15 a.m. Shortly after the rain fell and according to Coach John Kobs "it came down by the buckets full."

However, the Spartans continued toward the Irish camp and when they reached it only a light sprinkle was falling.

There was only one problem. Notre Dame's new field had been left uncovered and it was full of puddles.

The Spartans remained in South Bend for a half hour and Pete Smith took the opportunity to ease the football stadium.

Smith played on that same gridiron two seasons ago for State at quarterback.

Gary Ronberg, Spartan pitcher, slipped in behind Smith and said: "Hey, Pete, is that the place where you fell down trying to pass the ball?"

Smith scoffed and said something about the weather.

The rained out game will not be rescheduled and consequently State may have missed its last chance to play one more game against outside competition before the season ends.

Two games remain on the schedule against Western Michigan but these contests may not be played since Western qualified for the NCAA District four play-offs.

If the play-offs open this week Western will undoubtedly cancel its two game home-and-home series with the Spartans.

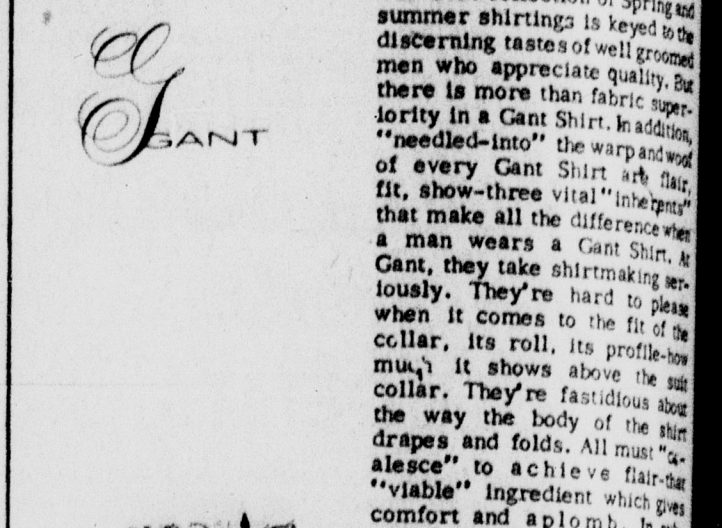

Kobs left early Sunday for a NCAA committee meeting in Fort Wayne, Ind., where the dates and the other three teams will be selected for the district

Why We Carry, And You Deserve...

The Gant collection of Spring and summer shirts is keyed to the discerning tastes of well-groomed men who appreciate quality. But there is more than fabric superiority in a Gant shirt. In addition, "needed-into" the warp and woof of every Gant shirt are fibers that make all the difference when a man wears a Gant shirt. At Gant, they take shirtmaking seriously. They're hard to please when it comes to the fit of the collar, its roll, its profile. How much it shows above the suit collar. They're fastidious about the way the body of the shirt drapes and folds. All must "alesce" to achieve that "visible" ingredient which gives comfort and a plomb. In substance, these are the reasons why Gant shirts look as they do, why we carry them, and why you deserve Gant.

Carlin Lauds Progress Of University of Nigeria

The improvement in the facilities at the University of Nigeria during the past year has been "astounding", according to Edward A. Carlin, dean of the University College.

The growth of the new nation has been remarkable considering the many different tribal and cultural groups which live in the country, Carlin said. They have avoided internal conflicts at a time when other African nations were having tremendous problems.

"They're really moving," said Carlin. "There are plans for a continuing education center and an agricultural extension program in the near future."

Praise New MSU Retirement Policy

An article in the State Journal Saturday reporting comments of the Academic Steering Committee to the Board of Trustees was misleading, Rollin H. Simmonds, committee chairman, said Sunday.

"The State Journal failed to state the committee's purpose in attending the meeting Friday and unintentionally probably gave an erroneous impression," Simmonds said.

The committee chairman's speech to the board stated: "Events of the past week support the view that you have little trouble getting news of grievances, criticisms and complaints of the faculty as well as of legislators. That is not the entire story, however."

"The Steering Committee decided three weeks ago to take the establishment of the new retirement plan as the occasion to tell you we appreciate the time and effort you spend in guiding the university. We think we had a part in bringing the retirement problem to your attention."

About two years ago at the request of the faculty, the Steering Committee surveyed retirement policies of other Michigan universities and major universities across the country. We sent a letter to President Hannah summarizing the results and recommending liberalization of our retirement policies. We are pleased at your action. The new policies, as interpreted by President Hannah, are not only generous with other universities and will be of aid to this University in attracting and holding able faculty.

"Over the years Michigan State has been fortunate in the calibre of its top administration. We think it is fortunate today that you men are so seriously concerned about the University and appear ready to take positive steps to raise further the quality of what is now a very fine university."

MSU Men's Glee Club Make Fall Plans

The MSU Men's Glee Club has completed operations for the current school year and preliminary registration and auditions for Glee Club membership next year will be held Monday through Friday.

Graduates and undergraduates interested may make appointments for auditions by calling 355-7662, or by contacting Director Gordon Flood in Room 121 Music Building.

High Schoolers Study Here

Lansing area high school students will participate in the fourth annual Foreign Language Honors Institute here this summer.

The six-week program of French and Spanish training, will also feature studies of the cultural, political, and economic aspects of France and Spain and related countries.

Twenty students each will participate in the French and Spanish programs. The students are nominated by their high school language teachers on the basis of past accomplishment, present motivation, and future career plans.

Yates, assistant professor of Spanish. Joseph Therrien and Madeleine Bise of the department of foreign languages will help teach the institute.

NO WASTE
LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—A "clean plate" campaign at the Nebraska Men's Reformatory is saving from 75 to 100 pounds of meat a day, and reducing coffee consumption by a couple of hundred pounds a month, Supt. Clarence Keller reports.

Early Morning Driver Ticketed on Foot Bridge

Department of Public Safety officers ticketed James TeSelle, 22, of Milwaukee, for driving on the foot bridge behind the library at 1:30 a.m. Sunday.

TeSelle told officers he was not a student. He offered no explanation for his act, officers said.

TeSelle put up $20 bond and was released. Two students playing catch in the third floor hall of Rafter Hall's B wing accidentally tripped a fire alarm at 1:46 p.m. Saturday.

Vet Auxiliary Chapter To Hold Senior Tea

The Women's Auxiliary to the student chapter of the American Veterinary Medical Association held their annual Senior Tea Thursday in the University Chapel.

Dr. and Mrs. W.W. Armistead presented 41 P. H. T. (Pushing Hubby Through) degrees to the wives of graduating veterinary medicine students.

In order to receive this degree, the wives have attended educational meetings to enable them to become more familiar with their husbands' profession.

Hannah Honored By Ag Groups

Sincere expressions of high praise and genuine gratitude were heaped on John A. Hannah, president of MSU, by his long time friends and associates in Michigan agriculture Friday night at Kellogg Center.

Some 500 people associated with 75 affiliated organizations of Michigan agriculture dined with Hannah and participated in the two hour tribute paid to him.

One of the most enthusiastic participants of the ceremony was a registered Polled Hereford heifer. The blue ribbon heifer was discreetly hidden at the back of Kellogg's Big Ten room until her presentation to Hannah.

Recognizing that Hannah's services and talents have not been limited to the field of agriculture, there were in addition, expressions of tribute from education, industry and government.

Clifford Hardin, chancellor of the University of Nebraska and a former dean of the MSU college of agriculture, told his first experience with Hannah. He said the typical speech from Hannah is ten minutes of predictions of things to come for MSU, an expression of his philosophy of education and a ten minute sales talk.

Another speaker was Berl L. Bernhard, executive officer of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission, who came from Washington D.C. to praise Hannah's efforts for government. He also read telegram messages from President Kennedy, former President Eisenhower and Michigan Senator Philip Hart.

Mrs. Hannah was also praised. She received a bouquet of roses and a plaque for being the encouraging wife of John Hannah and the gracious first lady of MSU.

FINANCIAL AID FOR JFK
BOSTON (AP)—Newell Garden, an electronics company employee, says he knew President John F. Kennedy when he didn't have a dime.

Garden relates how he met Kennedy at LaGuardia Airport, New York, when Kennedy was in the Senate.

"How are you, Senator?" Garden asked.

"I need a dime to call my home in Hyannisport," Kennedy replied, Garden accommodated.

Kennedy reversed the charge to Hyannisport.
