Spartans Fly to California

The Spartan football team has yet to don a game uniform, except for picture sessions, and they are rated No. 6 in the nation.

Not a bad start for a team which will be on the road for two days away from its home.

It's hard telling where the MSU eleven will end up after the 38-man traveling squad flies to Palo Alto, Calif., for its Saturday clash with Stanford. Last year, MSU ran over the Indians in Spartan Stadium, 31-3.

However, the serious gridders, who will get on the plane for the cross country flight this morning, must point toward a much tougher squad this year.

With one game under its belt, the Indians are owners of a 6-3 victory over a little but spirited Tulane team. This one game is a definite asset to a team, especially for the younger members.

The Green and White clad Spartans will send one of the largest teams onto the gridiron in the schools history. Only one thing, Stanford will send an equally large team unto the field.

This year's backfield of Coach Duffy Daugherty's Spartans is being compared to the "pony backfield" of the 1952 team that won the national championship. That is physically and statistically at least.

Quarterbacking the team will be Pete Smith of Ecorse. Smith, who is a senior, is equal in stature to Tom Yewcic, signal-caller of the '52 champions.

Both Smith and Yewcic stretch out to 5-11, while the present quarterback is two pounds heavier at 182.

The fullback, George Saimes, stands 5-9 and tips the scales at 186, while the '52 fullback, Evan Slonac was 5-8 and 170. Neither man is the hard-hitting line plunger, but both rather quick and agile and able to locate the holes.

Saimes, on his performance as a junior last year, was named as captain of the squad and also had been voted as an All-American candidate.

At one halfback will be Dewey Lincoln. Only two pounds and one inch in height separate Lincoln from Billy Wells. Wells voted the pigskin for a 5.4 average in his varsity career, while Lincoln had a fine start as a sophomore last season with a 5.1 average.

The only spot that leaves little to compare physically in the pony backfield is the other halfback slot. This year, Sherman Lewis, who was named to the second All-Big Ten squad as a sophomore in '61, is taller but lighter than LeRoy Bolden.

Bolden stood only 5-7 1/2, but weighed 163, while Lewis is all of 5-9 and 154.

Coach Daugherty's main concern as expressed earlier in the week is his second line.

Behind the probably starters: ends Ernie Clark and Matt Snorton, tackles Ed Budde and Jim Bobbitt, guards Steve Mellinger and Charlie Brown and Center Dave Behrman there is little experience.

Already guard George Azar and Bobbitt have suffered injuries. Azar surprised everyone at practice session when he showed up with the cast removed from his foot.

Bobbitt suffered torn knee ligaments, but proved to be a fast healer, and should see some offensive action against the Indians. He was being groomed for the place kicking chores, but the injury will definitely prohibit him from doing them in the opening tilt.

Behrman, like Saimes, has had a share of accolades piled upon his helmet. In addition to the well-earned honors of All-American, the Dowagic center is also the largest Spartan ever to put on a gridiron suit.

He tips the scales at 263. Missing the flight to sunny California will be No. 1 punter, Dick Proebstle. Replacing him will be sophomore back Lou Bobich.

Following Saturday's game, the Spartans will return to their team headquarters at Rickey's Studio Inn Hotel before returning to Lansing by plane Sunday morning.

ford by running against the dummies. Calling the play is second string quarterback Chuck Migenka (25). —State News Photo.

Mini Grid Coach Hopeful

'Team Will Improve'

CHAMPAIGN (UPI)—Pete Elliott doesn't expect his Illinois football team to win the Big Ten championship this year, but he does believe it will be improved enough to start the Illini back toward the top of the Conference.

"I feel that we have more sophomores on our first two teams than any Big Ten ever has played," he said. "We're shuffling trying to get enough depth, and to find somebody to step in and play all the way. We're trying not to get any position ultra weak, or ultra strong. Our problem is to try to get fair competency everywhere."

"There's no question the sophomores will improve as we go along. I do feel that with the sophomores and the returning veterans, while we're returning to this conference probably we have a better football team by considerable more than last year. Frankly I think it's a team to start to get Illinois back with. "We did pretty good in recruiting last year, and I feel the freshmen this year should be the best we've ever had. We got about 80 per cent of the boys we wanted."

Improvement in Illinois this year should be at almost every position, particularly in the backfield, where Elliott will play with men he planned to use last year before injuries and disciplinary problems backed up his squad.

Mike Talferro and Ron Fearn will share the offensive quarterback job, Jim Warren and Norm Willis, both out last year, will be the starting halfbacks, and probably Al Wheeland, injured last year, the starting fullback.

As reserves he can count on Mike Brady for defense, and Ken Schumacher, Cecil Young and graduate sophomore Truman Jackson at halfback, and Dave Pike or sophomore Gregg Schumacher at fullback.

Up front he'll blend experience with rookies who have ability and will be bigger with more potential talent. His ends could be Thurman Walker and sophomore Lynn Stewart with rookie Rich Callaghan and veteran Bill Pasko in reserve.

Tackles should be Bob Easter and Bob Scharbert, both veterans, while at guard he'll have veteran Dick Deller and sophomore Archie Sutton, with sophomore Dick Butkus at center.

But Kus, Sutton and Stewart were expected to be great, Butkus particularly. "I've never been around one like him in my life" Elliott said. "He has real greatness and should be an outstanding football player. He was a perfect attitude, he's a hard worker and he loves to play."

Both Sutton and Stewart have

Stanford - Tough

Stanford will be rougher and tougher this year, says Michigan State backfield coach Cal Stoll. Stoll scouted the Stanford-Tulane game on the coast last Friday and he reports the Indians are much improved over last year; when State downed them 31-3.

Almost the entire squad is back from last year, all more experienced. They have also developed a running game to go along with their perennially strong air attack.

Defensively, Stanford looked good holding Tulane twice within the five yard line.

Stoll also stressed that the Stanford line will be the biggest State faces this year.

Starting quarterback is junior Steve Thurlow who thrilled fans last year at Spartan Stadium with throws of better than 50 yards.

Backing him up is Clark Weaver who piloted the Indians to their 7-3 triumph over Tulane.

The other backfield starters, all of whom played last year at East Lansing are fullback Ken Babajian, and halfbacks Tyce Fitzmorris and Danny Spence.

Head coach Jack Curtice will probably use the platoon system and each unit will be required to play offense and defense except for a few individuals who are specialists in one or the other.

With one victory and game experience under their belt, Stoll thinks the Indians should be stiff competition.

Test For Freshmen

All freshmen men interested in establishing their collegiate athletic eligibility, as stated in stated in The Big Ten rules, may do so by taking the American College Testing examination Oct. 17.

The exams will be given at 7 p.m. in Rm. 109 Anthony Hall, at the cost of $3.

U-M Gridders Have 'Potential' for 1962

ANN ARBOR (UPI) --About the best that Coach Bump Elliott could say about his 1962 Michigan football team was that it was "potential."

The Club will be strong, at the opening of the season, in a very few positions, but sophomores who lack experience have the potential to be very good, and Elliott hoped they'd reach that peak sometime this season.

"Our success is going to have to be through experience," he said. "We're going to make mistakes, a lot of them. I hope we learn from them. The greatest thing we have is enthusiasm and spirit."

Most of the current Wolverine strength is concentrated in the backfield. Elliott described right half Dave Raimy as a "Real fine football player, who can be a great halfback. He's our great offensive threat, and where the others are good or adequate, Dave is the guy who has to break it up for you."

Quarterback Dave Glinka, he said, "Does a fine job," and behind him comes sophomore Bob Timberlake, "Potentially a good quarterback," and Sophomore Frosty Evashevski. "We don't have all the talent in the world at quarterback," Elliott said, "But we're adequate."

Halfback Jack Stroble will be on the left side, he said, classifying him as a "fighter who is tough and wants to play," and probably sophomore Mel Anthony at halfback.

Problems abound in the line. Three of the right ends were lost since spring practice, so Elliott has one letterman with experience, another without, and inexperience behind them.

At tackle, he has John Houtman, a starter last year, and Joe O'Donnell, a former guard, who never played tackle. Behind them, though are sophomores Jerry Mader and Arnie Simkus, another "Potentially good tackle," at center, Elliott said, "I'd just as soon pass it up, because it's very jumbled up."

Guards could be one of Michigan's best positions with starter John Minko on the left side and rookie Rich Hahn, "One of the better prospects," in reserve. Sophomore John Marcum looks like the best on the other side, with two letterman behind him.

Elliott has 15 sophomores thus stretched among his top 33 players, and he said "We intend to use three teams, because we're using numbers to get freshness and eagerness. I think it's the best way to get kids ready. We're not doing it because we have a great depth."

"There are areas where we lack experience tremendously. But in due time, I think some of these boys will be football players. Whether they'll get up off the floor to do it, I don't know."

The Michigan schedule, he said, was "terrible" for development of a young team.

"Nebraska is going to have its best team in 10 years," he said, "And I think they pick them for second in the Big Eight. Army will be better with added enthusiasm, and then we have to play Michigan State, Purdue and Minnesota. If we've still got players after that, we'll know whether they can play."

Lion Trio Leads NFL Listings

NEW YORK, (UPI)--Milt Plum, Yale Lary and Terry Barr of the Detroit Lions were among National Football League leaders in several individual categories.

Plum, obtained from the Cleveland Browns earlier in the year, led the league in passing after two games. His average of 71.2 per cent on 37 completions in 52 attempts gave him a slight edge over little Eddie LeBaron of the Dallas Cowboys, who had a 70.8 per cent completion record. Plum held the lead in the number of touchdown passes, seven, and in average yards gained per pass play, 10.06. He also joined Bill Wade of Chicago as the only player without an interception against him. Plum's passing yardage total of 523 was third best.

Barr led the pass receivers with 12 receptions for 185 yards and two touchdowns. Lary was tied with eight other league players for the most interceptions, two, and led the league in punting with a 50.6 yard average on five kicks.

Heppinstall Spartan Booters Elected into Hall of Fame Debut At Purdue

Former Michigan State head trainer Jack Heppinstall is one of 26 charter members elected into the newly-instituted Helms Athletic Trainers Hall of fame.

Heppinstall served at MSU from 1914 to 1959, attending the aches and bruises of more than

JACK HEPPINSTALL

10,000 Spartan athletes in that period.

A native of England, Heppinstall was an outstanding soccer player and track man. He gained his first experience as a trainer in England, before coming to the United States in 1913.

In 1948 Heppinstall served as a trainer with the U.S. Olympic team. He is a past president of the National Athletic Trainers Association and for a long time has been one of the most respected men in his field.

He still resides in East Lansing.

Coach Gene Kenney's fine Spartan booters make their '62 soccer debut Saturday when they journey to Lafayette, Ind. to encounter Purdue.

Word from Lafayette asserts that the Boiler-makers under the rein of first year mentor Harold Heffelfinger have shown marked improvement over last season and cannot be taken lightly.

Coach Kenney has guided his team to the top of the Eastern division of the Midwestern circuit for the past several years only to be thwarted by the Western division champ, St. Louis, in the championship playoff each time. Kenney has sprinkled an excellent array of sophomores with his talented group of letter-winners and should once again turn out an exceptional squad.

Although graduation nabbed star goalie Ted Saunders, Coach Kenney has come up with a capable replacement in junior Bill Onopa, who lettered as a full-back last season. Bill's job will be made much easier, thanks to the return of Sam Donnelly and Reinier "Dutch" Kemeling, the Spartans' defensive ace's. The Spartans already stubborn defense will be further supplemented by the addition of crack soph, Dennis Checkett.

The booters scoring punch is expected to be in the hands (feet and heads in soccer's case) of returning seniors, Mabricio Ventura, Jean Lohri, Jerry Heron and Rubens Filizola.

Kenney's squad seems to be in top physical shape, showing good speed and excellent game knowledge during practice.

Sherman Lewis, Michigan State's versatile football and track star from Louisville, Ky, placed third in the 100, second in the 220 and fourth in the broad jump at the 1962 outdoor Big Ten track meet.

Since Entering Big Ten

Munn Looks Back

By BIGGIE MUNN
MSU Athletic Director

Michigan State's entrance into the Big Ten was certainly a great step forward as far as the school was concerned. My first season at Michigan State was 1947 at which time we had a 7-2 record. The stadium at that time seated 26,000 and in 1948 the seating capacity was raised to 51,000. In 1956 there was another addition to bring our present capacity to 76,000. This itself shows the tremendous growth and interest in Spartan football.

The first regional television broadcast of a Spartan game and one of the most thrilling I have ever seen was when Michigan State won from Notre Dame 36-33 with the game being played in South Bend. The first national TV game took place in 1951 when Michigan State won 35-0 over Notre Dame and the coverage of this game still holds the record as the game was not only on national television but all national radio networks had it for that day. This was indeed record coverage.

In 1951-1952 the football team was undefeated winning the National Championship in 1952 and in 1953 they tied Illinois for the Big Ten title and went on to win the Rose Bowl 28-20. In January, 1954, Michigan State again went to the Rose Bowl winning 17-14 with Dave Kaiser kicking a field goal with seven seconds left in the game.

The fortunes of Spartan football have certainly taken a climb. The athletic department has tried to keep abreast with the growth of Michigan State by adding intramural buildings, tennis courts, golf courses and other facilities for the use of our students and faculty. The gate receipts alone put in $100,000.00 a year to support our very good intramural program. We are like any other Department striving for excellence and it is our feeling that if any student is going to take part in our intercollegiate athletic teams, he should certainly try to be real good. It has been generally known and admitted that those young men who are athletes come to our University first for an education but while they are here they should have every opportunity to take part in any extra curricular activity they so desire so thanks students for following the Spartans. Get behind your team and be proud of them.

Harriers Key Lies in Depth

Depth will be the key to Michigan State's 1962 cross country fortunes as Coach Fran Dittrich for the first time in many years backs a great individual runner. The harriers will open the season with a triangular meet Oct. 1 against Ohio State and Ohio University at Athens, Ohio. Last year, the Spartans won the ICAA championship, finished second in the Big Ten, and tied for eighth in the NCAA. Six lettermen return from this team giving Dittrich a fine nucleus from which to build his club. The returnees: senior co-captains Roger Humbarger of Godwin Heights and Don Castle of Uti-; Pat Stevens, Lansing junior; Bob Fulcher and Dick Gyde, Haz- Park juniors, and Ron Berby, Millford juniors. "On paper" these six along with sophomores Jan Bowen, Al-; Mike Kalnes, Drayton Plains; Jack Amle, Flint; George Thom-; Williamsville, N.Y., and Or-; Larson, Davison, have the best chance of making the top seven positions, the number of runners entered in championship meets.

Sailors Meet on Thursday

Films of the 1958 America's Cup Races between the United States and England will highlight the Sailing Club's first meeting of the fall term, Thursday, at 7:30 p.m., in the Union ballroom. The Sailing Club, whose main goals are to promote an interest in pleasure and competitive sailing, also plans to conduct a program whereby novices will learn to sail the club's fleet of Penguin dinghies. This program will include a shore school and instructive periods on Lake Lansing, with the club's racing skip-pers. More information on the Sailing Club's fall schedule in both its instructive and racing programs, will be available at the first meeting, which is open to all students and faculty of Michigan State and residents of the Lansing area. Michigan State Athletic Director Biggie Munn served as track coach at Minnesota during the 1934 and 1935 seasons.

Iowa Adopts New Offense

IOWA CITY -- Coach Jerry Burns, who found it rough coaching in the shadows of the phenomenal Forest Evashevski, has turned to the spectacular in an attempt to lift his team to past heights. Burns has adopted a five man backfield to exploit the pinpoint passing of potential All-American Matt Szykowny and to open up more holes for flashy Larry Ferguson. The new man will be used as flanker.

There is no doubt here that Burns has probably the best backfield in the Big Ten, maybe in the nation, but a questionable line darkens Iowa's future for Big Ten title and national acclaim. This was proven by last week's 39-35 defeat by Oregon State.

With All-American candidates like Szykowny, Ferguson, and dazzling end Cloyd Webb, plus probably the Big Ten's best sophomore fullback Willie Ray Smith, the Hawkeyes could go all the way. The Iowa-Ohio State could mean the Roses for one or another.

PATTY CAKE, PATTY CAKE... --End Ernie Clark's large hands holds that of back Ron Rubick. An end for two years, Clark's hands are big enough to wrap around the pigskin. While Clark's hands are the largest on the football squad, Rubick's are the smallest. State News Photo.

Indiana 11 Must Hustle

The Hoosiers of Indiana University will once again be forced to rely on hustle and determination, instead of talent and muscle-power, as they fight for their lives in the Big Ten. Coach Phil Dickens team can't be expected to do any better than duplicate last year's 2-7 mark, which included a winless (0-6) conference record.

Dickens only consolation is an all letterman backfield consisting of quarterback Woody Moore, wingback and captain Nate Ramsey, halfback Marv Woodson, and fullback Jim Bailey. Promising soph Tom Nowatzke, a hard-hitting fullback, futher brightens the picture after Saturday's 21-0 win over Dansas State.

The line was riddled by graduation with only guard Ken Ellis and center Jack Holder returning. Dan Croftcheck, 6-2, 210 sophomore guard is a name to watch in the future.

All in all the future looms again gloomily for Phil Dickens and his squad, despite its initial victory.

DICK BUTKUS

Michigan State's first football victory in history was a 10-0 decision over Lansing High School in 1896.

Minnesota Gophers Shy of Seasoned Reserve Material

MINNEAPOLIS. - Coach Murray Warmath finds himself confronted with an exceptionally perplexing one as he prepares his 1962 Minnesota football squad for its opener against Missouri in Memorial Stadium on Sept. 29.

At no time during Warmath's nine years at the Minnesota coaching helm has he been as shy of seasoned reserve material as this year.

"Take last year, for instance," says Murray. "We could replace our front-line men with one and two lettermen at each position. In most positions this year we don't even have one."

The consequences are obvious. The Gopher sophomores are going to have to come on fast to fill the gaps left by the departure of 17 lettermen, including the starting ends, center, quarterback, left halfback, and fullback.

This is a problem enough in itself for the Minnesota coaching staff, but the dilemma stems from this situation: the sophomores are green.

"We think we have a potentially fine group of interior linemen, especially," says Warmath but all of them as well as the top newcomers at other positions are probably a year away from being valuable varsity players. Each is badly in need of lots of game experience.

"How are you going to get these boys this game experience facing a schedule such as ours? It's probably the toughest ever played by a Minnesota football team in the nation that has a schedule as demanding as ours."

The opener pits Minnesota against a Missouri team admittedly improved over the one that shut out the Gophers, 6-0, in the 1961 curtain-raiser. The Tigers are favored to win the Big Eight title.

Next up is a team that is said to be the United States Naval Academy's (Navy) best in 10 years. And Navy was plenty tough last year when it humbled Army 13-7.

Coed IM Program Boilermakers In Initial Tie With Huskies

A new and different women's intramural program starts this fall under the direction of Carol Harding, newly appointed director of women's intramurals.

The women's intramural program will be similar to the mens, with three leagues in competition: independent, residence hall, and sororities. Four teams will each have one team represent them in competition.

Equipment may be checked out any time the building is open. The building is available for general use on Monday through Friday, 3 to 9 p.m., and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The pool hours are: Monday through Friday, 6:30 to 9 p.m., and Saturday 11:30 to 3 p.m.

Planned for this term are swimming and volleyball with field hockey on a varsity level. Sports chairmen and officials will meet the first full week of classes, the dates to be announced later.

Any coed is eligible to participate with the women's field hockey team, which will meet Thursday at 4 p.m. in room 137 of the Women's IM Building. The meeting will be followed by a short practice. Anyone interested in participating, but not able to attend the first meeting should contact Miss Dorothy Mc Knight, advisor to the team.

Seven games are planned for the season. Barbara Lockhart, manager of the team, can be contacted for further information at ED 2-5502.

LAFAYETTE, Ind.--Purdue has been tabbed by so-called football experts as one of three teams with "good" chances of going to the Rose Bowl, that is if Ohio State or Michigan State don't make it.

However, Purdue's first game last Saturday against Washington on the coast indicated that the Boilermakers might not be as strong as many people believe.

Washington, another Rose Bowl hopeful, tied Purdue 7-7 in the game, but outplayed the visitors from the Big Ten. Purdue earned only 9 first downs to Washington's 19 and gained a little over 100 yards compared to the Huskies' 234.

Purdue would have lost if Washington hadn't fumbled the ball away three times in critical spots.

The task ahead for head Coach Jack Mollenkopf is to strengthen his forward wall which was wracked with the departure five top-notch regulars, including the team's most valuable player, guard Tom Krysiniki.

The Boilermakers were happy with their backfield. But it didn't sparkle in the Washington deadlock. Purdue wasn't able to get a substantial drive going.

As a matter of fact, it was a Washington fumble on the three line that gave Purdue its only legitimate scoring opportunity. Fullback Tom Yakubowski took it in from the two.

Busy Slate for Men's IM

The men's intramural program will hold competition in the three leagues, plus individual competition in sports skills this term. Fraternities will compete in bowling, and all leagues in touch football, paddleball, badminton, table tennis, and the turkey trot. Individual events will be: handball doubles, fencing gymnastics, wrestling, archery, football pass and football kick.

All competition is subject to eligibility rules.

Hours for the Men's IM Building are: Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Saturday 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sunday, 1 to 6 p.m.

The Indoor Pool is open 11:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. and 6:30 to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday; 11:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday; and 1 to 6 p.m. on Sunday.

The Jenson Pool is open from 3 to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday and the Outdoor Pool is open, weather permitting, the same hours as the indoor pool.

Coach Unveils QB At Northwestern

EVANSTON, Ill.—Ara Parseghian, the Northwestern coach, has a knack of solving his quarterback problems. This year is no different.

Parseghian, beginning his sixth year as head coach at this private college, unveiled sophomore quarterback Tom Myers in the Wildcats' 37-20 trouncing of South Carolina in their opener Saturday.

Myers, a six-footer from Troy, Ohio, merely completed 20 of 24 pass attempts in the win to tie a record set in 1942 by Otto Graham against Michigan.

Myers performance zooms Northwestern's stock in the Big Ten title chase and moves it among the top darkhorses in the conference.

The 18-year old threw a pair of touchdown passes on his way to the school passing mark and ran for a third TD. He picked up 275 yards with his tosses. Only one aerial was intercepted.

Myers direction of the Northwestern attack, which picked up 31 first downs, another school record, was flawless.

Northwestern's performance was bolstered by a starring of returnee Bill Swingle, the junior fullback from Grand Haven. Again he gained 75 yards in 18 carries to demonstrate he would pick up where he left off from his impressive sophomore year. He scored a pair of touchdowns.

George Saines, Michigan State's All-Big Ten fullback and 1962 captain, was selected the "outstanding player" of MSU's spring football drills.

Contrasting Northwestern's great offensive show was a comparatively poor display by the defense, which was left with a gaping hole by the departure of Larry Onesti, one of the Big Ten's outstanding linebackers last year.

The Wildcat line also lost starting tackles Fate Echols and Bud Melvin. So the 277 yards given up to South Carolina's rushers is understandable.

Parseghian will have to tighten the line if he hopes to move up in the race and beat Michigan State in the Nov. 17 game here.

great potential, he said, while other rookies who might be stand-outs this year included guards Wytie Fox and Ed Washington, center Bruce Capel, Callaghan, Schumacher, Jackson and tackle Brian Duniec.

"Our line is probably as inexperienced as it can get," he said, "But we believe it has more potential than in the past. There's no question they have capabilities. I know we're going to get hurt by mistakes, but they're our best football players and we've got to go with them."

"I don't know of anybody with a tougher schedule," he said. "We'll probably be the underdog in every game, and I'd have to say that would be correct."

No Wisconsin QB To Pass To Richter

MADISON, Wisc.—Pat Richter, Wisconsin All-American end and the nation's second best receiver (47 receptions, 817 yards, and 8 TDs) is a man without a quarterback. Graduation took quarterback Ron Miller and their isn't another tested passer on the squad. But a pass thrown near Richter is a completion.

Mentor Milt Bruhn has little to talk about besides Richter. Other proficient players are center Ken Coleman and end Ron Carlson. Sophomores will have to carry the brunt of Coach Bruhn grid load.

No Stopping Ohio State II

Woody Hayes, Ohio State football, Big Ten titles and All-Americans—every year it's the same story and you can look for it again this year.

With an endless flow of superior talent, Hayes has all the ingredients for the nation's best eleven. Hayes primary concern is to find a first-rate replacement for the graduated Bob Ferguson. The best bet is understudy Dave Katterhenrich, a bruising runner. He will team with halfbacks Paul Warfield, a speed merchant with good deception, and Bob Klein. Alternating at quarterback will be Joe Sparma and Bill Mrukowski.

The line will be anchored by little Billy Armstrong, center, tackle Bob Vogel and his counterpart Daryl Sanders.
