Nixon asks Congress for OK to start draft lottery system

WASHINGTON (AP) -- President Nixon asked Congress Tuesday for power to overhaul the draft by switching to a random lottery system, mostly of 19 years old, to minimize "the disruptive impact of the military draft on individual lives."

Nixon's long-awaited message to Congress stressed that the drastic changes he plans represent a way station on the road to his previously promised elimination of the draft and reliance on an all-volunteer force.

"I am hopeful that we can soon restore the principle of no draft in peace time," the President said in a message to Congress.

"But until we do, let us be sure that the operation of the Selective Service System is as equitable and as reasonable as we can make it."

"By drafting the youngest first, by limiting the period of vulnerability, by randomizing the selection process and by reviewing deferment policies, we can do much to achieve these important interim goals."

Nixon's proposal would retain undergraduate college deferments and would enable a student to put off his possible induction for four years--possibly a fifth, if he went to graduate school.

Administration officials acknowledged that, though their goal is to spread the draft load more equitably, the proposed system still would give an edge to the college man. It might even permit him to avoid the draft entirely if, by the time he finished school, draft quotas were way down because of the end of the Vietnam war, or the draft itself had been ended.

See related story, page 3.

Nixon's plan would change the present system under which a man is liable for the draft for seven years--from his 19th to 26th birthdays--and under which draft boards call the oldest man first.

Instead, as administration officials foresee it, a youth would be vulnerable only for one year, from somewhere in his 19th to somewhere in his 20th year, depending on when the scrambled calendar year begins.

The dates of a given year would be scrambled and, officials said, drawn from a fishbowl or some other selective arrangement at the national level, to set the draft sequence.

Thus, Nixon explained, those born June 21st might head up the call list, followed by those born Jan. 12 with those born Oct. 23 the third choice. The sequence would be on a national basis but would be applied locally against each board's quota.

More than 4,000 local boards would have to follow this sequence, although they would retain authority to grant deferments and exemptions for hardship, occupation, fatherhood, college education, vocational training and apprenticeship.

At the same time, Nixon ordered the National Security Council and the Selective Service System to review thoroughly the guidelines and standards used by more than 4,000 local draft boards for deferments and exemptions and report back to him by next Dec. 1. His objective: to reduce inequities further.

Nixon's plan would create "a Selective Service year" which would begin on the first day of the third month following passage by Congress of the legislation Nixon requested.

The President put his objective this way:

"Change from an oldest-first to a youngest-first order to call, so that a young man would become less vulnerable rather than more vulnerable to the draft as he grows older."

"Reduce the period of prime draft vulnerability--and the uncertainty that accompanies it--from seven years to one year."

"Select those who are actually drafted through a random system. A procedure of this sort would distribute the risk of call; equally--by lot--among all who are vulnerable during a given year, rather than arbitrarily selecting those whose birthdays happen to fall at certain times of the year or the month."

"4. Continue the undergraduate student deferment, with the understanding that the year of maximum vulnerability would come whenever the deferment expired."

Officials said that a student, upon graduating from college, would become a sort of "artificial 19-year-old," regardless of his age and would be vulnerable for a year.

"5. Allow graduate students to complete, not just one term, but the full academic year during which they are first ordered for induction."

But the present deferment for medical students and allied fields would continue.

In calling for a review of guidelines to local boards, Nixon said that while the autonomy of local boards provides "valuable flexibility and sensitivity," reasonable guidelines can "help to limit geographic inequities and enhance the equity of the entire system."

In Nixon's view, the present draft arrangements make it "extremely difficult for most young people."

Board may force Stevens to resign from key position

By STEVE WATERBURY

State News Staff Writer

Speculation has arisen that MSU Board Chairman Don Stevens, D-Okemos, may be forced to resign his chairmanship at the board of trustees meeting Friday.

A bipartisan coalition is reportedly forming that favors former board chairman Warren M. Huff, D-Plymouth, for the position.

Republicans on the board have expressed concern over statements made by Stevens in a series of letters written to Huff, that were published in a Detroit newspaper April 28.

The letters revealed Stevens advocated consultation among Democratic board members and with Democratic party officials on selecting a new vice president for business and finance prior to consideration by the entire board. Huff favored bipartisan consultation.

Trustee Frank Merriman, R-Decker-ville, stated Tuesday that if the issue of a new chairman should arise, "I will support Huff."

Merriman indicated he had supported Huff for the chairmanship in January when the board re-elected Stevens as chairman, and that events since that time have not caused him to change his mind.

He stated he would not raise the issue himself, however. "They (the Democratic trustees) have the votes. If the issue is raised, it will be by them," he said.

Merriman said he was upset over a statement made by Stevens in one of his letters to Huff in which he said "he couldn't care less" what Republican trustees thought.

Clair White, D-Bay City, is also considered to be a Huff supporter.

"I have high regard for the contribution Mr. Stevens has made over a long period of time to higher education and to the people of Michigan," White said. "But under the present circumstances, I think it would be in the best interest of MSU and in the best personal interests of Mr. Stevens that he resign his chairmanship."

White expressed concern that recent controversies among board members may discourage potential new presidents of the University from desiring the position.

"Who wants to walk into a political bee-hive?" he asked.

He said that the resignation of Stevens could "wipe the slate clean."

EARMARKS ROTC

ASMSU to consider four essential points

By WHIT SIBLEY

State News Staff Writer

The ASMSU Board has earmarked four essential points for immediate consideration in future board deliberations.

The board will explore the resolution of the ROTC controversy, procedures for the selection of a new University president, a drive for more and better student participation and a re-evaluation of the student book store operations.

Tom Samet, ASMSU board chairman, said that the question of the continued sanctioning of ROTC programs by the universities of the nation is as critical and fundamental as the values upon which universities are based.

"The single, overriding value of the University must be life," Samet said, "and the time has come for us to rise above any institution which denies this primary consideration."

"Personally I think academic credit and standing must be denied to the entire ROTC program."

Samet said that the student book store policies and operations must be studied.

"I do not think anyone, faculty or students, is clear on a workable solution to the question of high prices and the unavailability of assigned books," Samet said.

He said that the faculty are not always prompt on submitting reading lists and that students may contribute to the high prices of books by not taking proper care of them and creating a generally low resale value.

"The board is working on a proposal to the book stores involving a return of a portion of their profits to students who patronize the stores," Samet said.

Bill Rustem, junior member-at-large said he would like to see a move to totally eliminate women's hours and work to eliminate discrimination against students by East Lansing businesses. Rustem cited the charging of high deposits by the phone company as an example.

AP survey shows of ABM increasing Senate supporters

WASHINGTON (AP) -- The Nixon Administration has picked up more Senate backers for its Safeguard missile system than its opponents have wooed over, the latest Associated Press survey shows.

Nevertheless, opponents of the system now number 48, three votes short of an absolute majority.

Advocates of speedy installations of the limited antiballistic missile system proposed by President Nixon can now count 46 Senate supporters.

Six senators who hold the key to resolving the issue--say they are undecided.

Based on the AP surveys, backers of the system have gained the support of 11 additional senators while opponents have picked up five.

3,000 QUESTIONNAIRES

Selection board prepares to sample student opinion

3,000 questionnaires to 100 classes next Tuesday and Wednesday.

"We want a sample of at least 3,000 students, and we're aiming for 5,000," said Sue Gebelein, student representative to the All-University Search and Selection Committee (AUSSC).

Members of PSB's steering committee will visit classes next week that are a rough sampling of the entire student body. A proportionate number of undergraduate and graduate level courses were selected so that each group could be adequately represented.

Out of 36,607 students enrolled spring term, 20.3 per cent are graduates. Other percentages are: freshmen, 20.5; sophomores, 17.7; juniors, 19.1, and seniors, 21.6. These percentages are about equal to the percentage of each class level that will be questioned.

Miss Gebelein said that this method of visiting the classrooms instead of mailing out questionnaires was chosen because PSB had a better chance of getting more questionnaires back.

Mike Gieszer, alternate student representative to AUSSC, submitted the proposed questionnaire to the ASMSU student board Monday night for any changes board members might suggest. ASMSU appropriated $500 last week to PSB.

Selection forums

Forums in residence halls and Greek living units tonight will focus on what qualifications students want in MSU's next president.

Members of the steering committee of ASMSU's Presidential Selection Board will lead discussions, along with faculty members and living unit officers.

Locations for tonight's forums are:

7 p.m. Phi Mu, 301 Charles St.

8 p.m. Emmons (lounge)

Mason and Abbott (Mason cafeteria)

8:30 p.m. Phi Gamma Delta, 239 Oakhill Street.

Mayo Hall ('30s Room)

9 p.m. Wilson-Holden (Room G-8)

Bailey (lounge)

"The $500 would cover the cost of the questionnaire," Miss Gebelein said.

Funds are needed, however, to buy paper and pay for computer consultant time and computer rent.

An arrangement might be worked out with the Dept. of Communications that would result in no computer costs, she said.

Answers to the questionnaires will be marked on IBM sheets, and the results will hopefully be tabulated and analyzed by the end of spring term.

Hectic plans bring Muskie to 'U' lecture

By ROSANNE BAIME

State News Staff Writer

How do you bring a U.S. senator to campus?

With great difficulty.

Especially when he was a Democratic candidate for vice president.

Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, is scheduled to speak at 3 p.m. Friday in the ASMSU Great Issues lecture series. Ann Michaels, outgoing Great Issues director, talked this week about how he was signed.

"We put in our bid for Muskie last fall with Richard Fulton of New York, his agent," Miss Michaels said. "It's taken us until now to get him."

Fulton's office notified the Great Issues program winter term that they had Muskie, Miss Michaels said.

As soon as Muskie's appearance was definite, Great Issues personnel went before University departments and organizations to allocate the time he will spend on campus. They were greeted with an overwhelming response.

Bids from the groups, submitted according to standard Great Issues procedures, were accepted and Muskie's time was distributed on a first come (Please turn to back page)

7 administrative posts open

By STEVE WATERBURY
State News Staff Writer

MSU is currently functioning with temporary or soon-to-depart personnel in seven top administrative positions.

Two of the positions, dean of the College of Agriculture and Natural Resources and the position of director of Honors College, are expected to be filled at the next board of trustees meeting Friday.

Other administrative positions currently with temporary occupants include the presidency, dean of the College of Business, director of the Center for Urban Affairs and Equal Opportunity Programs, provost and the vice presidency for business and finance.

The nominee for the position of director of Honors College that will be submitted to the board Friday was secured through the use of a selection committee which included faculty and student representation. The name of the nominee has not yet been released.

Faculty representatives were chosen from the University Committee on Honors Programs, a standing committee of the Academic Council. The chairman of the Honors College Student Board was the student representative on the selection committee.

This committee submitted several names to Provost Howard R. Neville, who submitted one of the names to Acting President Adams.

The present director of Honors College, William W. Kelly, will be leaving MSU July 1 to accept the presidency of Mary Baldwin College in Virginia.

A similar procedure was used to select nominations for a new dean of the College of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

An advisory committee composed of 10 faculty members from various departments in the college and two student representatives was used to secure recommendations.

Provost Howard Neville, who is currently serving as acting dean, submitted the name of the nominee to Adams. Adams will present this recommendation and the recommendation for the new director of Honors College to the trustees.

Thomas K. Cowden, former dean of the college, was appointed asst. secretary of agriculture for rural development and conservation by President Nixon in April.

The Academic Council initiated action Tuesday on creating a committee to advise Adams concerning a replacement for Provost Neville, who will depart from the University Sept. 1 to assume the presidency of Claremont Men's College in California.

A resolution passed by the council recommended that the acting president, with the advice of the Steering Committee of the council, "appoint a committee consisting of four faculty members, one undergraduate, one graduate student and one administrator at the level of dean or above."

This committee has not yet been selected.

A replacement is also being sought for Ron Lee, former director of the Center for Urban Affairs and Equal Opportunity Programs, who left MSU in April to become asst. postmaster general in the Nixon Administration.

Adams stated that because the center was organized so recently no advisory committee has yet been formed.

Instead, Adams said he has been informally consulting with faculty, administrators and students in an attempt to come up with a "careful and judicious" decision in selecting a replacement for Lee.

A committee composed of faculty and student representatives is continuing its search for a new dean of the College of Business.

Former dean Alfred L. Seeley resigned his position effective May 1 to become chairman of the board and president of Wolverine World Wide, Inc.

No action is currently being undertaken to replace former vice president for business and finance, Phillip J. May, who resigned Nov. 30 in the wake of conflict of interest charges.

SDS slates demonstration for abolishment of ROTC

Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) have scheduled a rally to demonstrate against ROTC at 1 p.m. Thursday in front of Demonstration Hall.

Speakers are scheduled to explain the SDS stand on ROTC which calls for its complete abolishment.

In a position paper SDS stated that students cannot wait for ROTC "to wither away, as ASMSU wishes. We can't waste time with phony committees and meaningless reforms."

The paper called for the discontinuance of the ROTC program.

It stated that the American people have been told since World War II that the reasons for retaining the wartime military strength and building it to the present level were to provide self-determination for the free peoples of the world and to protect the less powerful nations from communist aggression.

"In reality, however, the function of the military has not been to make the world safe for democracy but rather to make it safe for American business enterprises," the paper said.

Major Ivan R. Darling, asst. professor of military science, said that his department will make no attempt to interfere with the demonstration.

COMMITTEE OF 16 PLAN

Adams implements advice

By MARILYN PATTERSON
State News Staff Writer

Acting President Adams said Tuesday that he is "giving a great deal of attention" to initiating the recommendations of the Committee of 16 in "a variety of places."

Adams was requested last week by the Academic Council to implement the committee's recommendations on improving race relations at the University.

"In my speech before the Academic Senate (Thursday) I suggested that the machinery for the most effective implementation is on the department and college level," Adams said.

"The center of initiative in any University is the departments and colleges," he said. "These units should be involved in the general program of implementation."

The Committee of 16, a special committee appointed by former President Hannah last spring, recommended an all out effort towards enrollment of black students and establishment of a center for race and urban relations.

The center, the committee's report said, should function directly under the Office of the president and should have a dean or director with appropriate professional supporting staff.

Also the committee recommended that:

--A full-time staff member in the Office of Admissions be appointed for recruitment of black undergraduate students.

--The dean of the College of Advanced Studies be assigned to stimulate recruitment of black graduate students.

--A search be conducted for black faculty members.

--An effort be made to increase the number of black administrators.

--An effort be made to increase the number of black employees in non-academic areas.

--Development of voluntary programs involving faculty and students be encouraged.

Robert Green, asst. director of the newly organized Center for Race and Urban Affairs, told the Academic Council last week that many of the committee's recommendations had not, as of yet, been implemented.

International News

North Vietnamese attacked allied outposts along the demilitarized zone with a rocket and mortar barrage that American officials said Tuesday was probably a further show of defiance of U.S. demands in the Paris peace talks.

Britain and France, the nations with the shakiest currencies in Western Europe, announced Tuesday rising trade deficits for April. The buildup to this month's currency crisis hurt both countries' trade and helped turn the French figure into a record.

Roused by the decision of Malaysia's Chinese faction to shun the nation's new government, racial rioting exploded among youths in Kuala Lumpur Tuesday, killing at least 25 persons and wounding hundreds.

National News

House investigators were told Tuesday that Secretary of Welfare Robert H. Finch temporarily overruled the Food and Drug Administration decision for immediate withdrawal from the market of an antibiotic which the agency deemed unsafe.

The drug in question is Panalba, a popular antibiotic combination marketed by the Upjohn Co. of Kalamazoo.

The Apollo 10 astronauts were pronounced in good health Tuesday to blast off for a journey around the moon.

Otto F. Otepka, demoted State Dept. security officer, easily won Senate Judiciary Committee approval Tuesday of his nomination to the Subversive Activities Control Board.

Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen, top member of the committee, said he is "absolutely satisfied" Otepka has no connection with either the Birch Society or the Liberty Lobby.

An Iowa bank executive, Richard Jenkins, paid $10,000 ransom Tuesday for the return of his 22-year-old daughter from kidnappers in Waterloo.

Michigan News

Federal and state agricultural officials began a joint study Tuesday to identify pesticide pollution sources in Lake Michigan. The study will analyze discharges from 25 chemical plants and oil samples from 439 locations across the State.

Campus News

Nineteen Brooklyn College students faced criminal charges Tuesday in connection with fiery campus disorders. At the same time, 21 sealed indictments were handed up by a grand jury investigating seizure of a Cornell University building by armed black militants.

In Louisville, two University of Kentucky students were charged with a vain attempt to set fire to two buildings. Police said they found homemade fire bombs on the campus.

Draft system elicits controversy

By IRENE PINCKES
State News Staff Writer

President Nixon, who included a volunteer army as part of his campaign proposals, asked Congress Tuesday for the authority to change from the present conscription system to a draft lottery.

The president has been expected to make some move concerning the draft for about a month.

The idea of a draft lottery is not new. Former President Johnson advocated a draft lottery in 1967, but at that time he received considerable opposition from a group on the House Armed Services Committee.

The New York Times said on April 12 that "proponents of the change in Congress reported a better climate for the idea than ever before."

Random selection
Nixon's plan is based on a random selection system of drafting young men for service in the military.

The present selective service plan has been the object of controversy for some time. Those in opposition to it argue that it is unfair. They say that it is causing resentment among draft registrants and their families, that it interrupts careers and disrupts personal plans for the future.

With a large number of men being graduated from college and high school this summer, the manpower pool will be increased to more men than are necessary for military service.

The President, however, still advocates a volunteer army.

"I am hopeful," he said, "that we can soon restore the principle of no draft in peacetime."

The senate will consider the new proposal first, but if it survives both houses, it will possibly go into effect on Jan. 1.

"Vast improvement"

Acting President Walter P. Adams said that he thinks the draft lottery is "a vast improvement over the present selective service system."

Charles Larowe, professor of economics and counselor at the Draft Information Center, 507 1/2 E. Grand River Ave., raised the question, in an interview, of whether any system of conscription is fair.

Larowe favors the idea of a lottery system over the idea of a volunteer army. He said a volunteer army would be made up of men who could not get jobs elsewhere.

If America maintains a foreign policy of a world policeman," Larowe said, "every part of the society should bear some cost. People in all walks of life will have sons representing their country."

Larowe said that a volunteer army costs more and the economy involved in a draft lottery makes it more appealing, but not really more fair.

"I can see that the lottery is an unfair way but there is no way that is fair," Larowe said.

Another counselor for the Draft Information Center, John J. Masterson, professor of mathematics, said that an all volunteer army would be harder for the people to control.

"To raise a large all volunteer army takes a lot of money," Masterson said.

He said that he thought a random selection would be fairer. It would not drain the black community or the poor, and would be more representative of the elements of society.

Masterson said. He said that a volunteer army would achieve more efficiency with less people.

Fairness of lottery

"The fairness of a lottery," Masterson said, "hinges on the fact that less people drawn would be from lower classes and the poor people would be freer to work toward their goals."

Masterson also stressed the fact that a lottery system would not give any added assistance to the growing number of people who are opposed to war.

"The draft lottery is not the answer to the draft problems as I see it," he said.

Stage, film artist to show paintings

An artist who has painted scenery for television, Broadway theatre, the New York Metropolitan Opera and films will exhibit 50 paintings and pastels at Lansing Community College Tuesday through Friday, 8 a.m.-9 p.m.

Otto Grunde, Latvian artist, will be at the exhibition of his work in the cafeteria of the Liberal Arts, Sciences and Health Careers Bldg. on North Washington Street from 7-9 p.m. each evening.

The artist graduated from the Latvian Academy of Fine Arts in a figure masterworks class.

Nixon to respond to VC peace plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon ordered his top peace negotiator Tuesday to speed home for new instructions as the President put final touches on his first full-fledged Vietnam speech since entering the White House.

Henry Cabot Lodge, head of the U.S. mission at the Paris peace talks, was due in Wednesday afternoon and planned to hurry back to the French capital Thursday in time to present the following day the U.S. response to the enemy's 10-point peace offer.

Nixon's speech—a half hour radio-telecast report to the nation at 10 p.m. (EDT) Wednesday—will in itself be a form of reply to the 10-point plan put forward by the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front May 8 with Hanoi's backing.

Administration official said the 10 points show some marginal movement by enemy envoys toward serious negotiating.

Abortion. . a realistic view

Sen. Gilbert E. Bursley's bill to liberalize Michigan's abortion law is a more realistic approach to the problem than current state legislation governing abortions.

The bill would allow abortion if the mother's life or health were in danger, if the infant might be born with a disabling physical deformity or mental disability or if pregnancy resulting from incest or rape were endangering the mental or physical health of the mother.

The bill is thus an extension of the present law's single condition that allows abortion when the mother's life is definitely in danger.

Probably the most valid argument against liberalization of abortion laws is that abortion is murder and diminishes the value of the individual life. However, present laws do not define the matter that way.

Abortion itself is a felony while the person responsible for the death of a woman due to abortion is charged with manslaughter. Legally abortion itself is not murder.

And legally there are presently exceptions to the law when individual problems necessitate it. Bursley's bill realizes there are additional circumstances under which abortions are justified that are not covered by the present law.

The need is clearly there. Abortion laws, like prohibition laws, have proved that morality cannot be legislated.

The flagrant violation of abortion laws coupled with selective enforcement both in Michigan and throughout the United States should be sufficient reason for changing the law.

Statistics reveal there are approximately one million illegal abortions in the nation each year. One in five pregnancies end in abortion.

The laws are rarely enforced unless a woman dies from the operation or a person is performing so many that he is running an "abortion mill."

Clearly the public does not support or believe in the present abortion laws.

On the other hand, a more liberal abortion law would actually save lives. One-third of the maternal deaths in Michigan each year are the result of illegal abortions.

Because of the poor facilities and lack of knowledge on the part of many abortionists, complications arise from the operation. If these operations could be performed in the sanitary conditions of a hospital, under the direction of a doctor, chance of death would be practically nil.

Adoption of Sen. Bursley's bill is in the spirit of the law as it stands, would lessen the conflict between law and the people's behavior and would even save lives.

True, Bursley's bill would still be an attempt to legislate morality and we would rather dispense with all such legislation. However, the bill is an improvement on the law as it stands and its passage would provide for a more realistic attitude toward a growing social problem.

Anyone for mono?

I'd like to prevent a campus-wide epidemic.

Of what? Of that disease that strikes terror in the hearts of all its victims' roommates. Mononucleosis.

Or mono, if you're on a friendly first-name basis.

A college campus is a natural incubator for mono—a lot of people, crowded together, overworked and overtired. Resistance goes down, mono pops up.

Add to that the fact that one doctor on Olin's staff of seven does not believe in admitting patients for mono.

What do you have? Pretty soon, a campus full of infectious carriers.

I know. I was one of them.

I was struck down in my journalism prime: hit with a 100+ fever just as the ASMSU Board was electing this year's chairman.

I couldn't work. I couldn't go to class. I could barely make it across the footbridge from Wells Hall to the new administration Bldg.

So I went, as ordered by my roommate, to Olin that Thursday.

And Friday.

And the following Monday.

At first my doctor interpreted the results from four tests and an X-ray as "a virus in my system" and prescribed some antihistamine capsules.

The next day, after more tests, she decided I had a bladder infection and gave me sulfa tablets.

When I still had a fever of 101 on Monday I paid my third visit to the lab, where they finally caught a glimpse of whatever it is you see in case of mono.

"You have mononucleosis, my dear."

(Said the spider to the fly???)

"It isn't my policy to admit students for mono. Just go to class, get at least 10 hours of sleep a night and take two aspirin after every meal."

"Am I infectious?"

"You will be for a while."

"And I don't have to be admitted?"

"It is not necessary."

"You're the doctor."

By virtue of her speedy diagnosis I had already infected half of ASMSU, the State News, four classes, Smokey Robinson, the Miracles and a fieldhouse full of people.

I figured that was enough and locked myself in my room for a week.

A few weeks later that same doctor was on call in the evening for emergency cases. One student came in after feeling sick for a week and sleeping for 20 straight hours.

"All you need is a good night's sleep."

Come back in the morning during clinic hours and we'll run some tests on you."

Two days later the same doctor was on hospital rounds, walked into the girls' mono ward and announced "it is not her policy to admit students for mononucleosis."

By that afternoon the ward was empty.

I've been led to believe by my family doctor, my mother and pre-Vietnam Dr. Spock that mono is just not something to be treated with a pat on the head and a bottle of aspirin.

Most doctors at Olin seem to agree.

But familiarity with the disease seems to have bred contempt, or at least disrespect, in one case.

In a situation like Olin, where patients are dealt out to doctors largely as a deck of cards, certain basic policies should be set down on the general line of treatment.

Whether or not a student is admitted for a disease like mononucleosis should not depend on which doctor he sees.

It shouldn't be too hard for the staff physicians to come to an agreement.

After all, there aren't that many of them.

POINT OF VIEW

White majority distorts justice for black minority

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following "point of view" on the recent hearing at Wilson Hall was written by Dharendra Sharma, associate professor of philosophy at Justin Morrill College.

I am surprised to see so many enlightened faculty members and others expressing their concern for "legal due process" and for protection of "individual's rights" supposedly denied to two members of MSU at the Wilson Hall hearing. I wish to congratulate the Black Students' Alliance (BSA) for such a tremendous awakening caused by them that one of our colleagues Allan B. Mandelstamm, professor of economics, felt it necessary to speak out (letter in the State News, May 6) in defense of those who had to succumb under the "Nazi tactics on this campus within the past week." Mandelstamm has compared Dr. Adams' approach with that of Chamberlain at Munich, and has also doubted that there were any "legitimate grievances existing."

I wonder, if the persons like Professor Mandelstamm were, by accident, born as blacks, how would they have reacted to the established legal due process, say, to the trial of Earl Ray, the assassin of Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr.? How beautifully the system has shielded the real racist culprits responsible for the murder of the messiah of Peace and Brotherhood! If Dr. Mandelstamm still doubts the legitimacy of the black's grievances, I suggest, let him paint himself black and move into the society for a few days, and he shall have an insight of the black's perception of reality.

The news-media has described the BSA as a violent group of hoodlums. Mandelstamm has even stated that "the management representatives voted... their physical well-being was endangered." I do not know if any white liberal professor went to Wilson Cafeteria to speak to the black students—of course, except our fearless smiling Acting President Dr. Walter Adams. I did go there one evening. And let me report to those who still have not lost faith in the unity of Man, that I found the black students quite orderly and courteous. Some were reading, some playing cards, and others pondering and engaged in discussions. I witnessed no ill manners, nor any damage to any person and/or property. There were no arms, guns, spears, knives or sticks. There was no one even singing "Christian Soldiers Marching On." To me it appeared to be the most ideal non-violent expression of steamed up black frustration. If the society chooses to term such happenings as "Nazi tactics" and react to them in the real Nazi spirit of "Law and Order," then, I submit that we are creating a situation that will be equivalent to "The chickens coming home to roost."

Had such concern been shown in defense of rights of tens of thousands of blacks by the community and Mandelstamm as is being stirred up against the event leading to action against the two members of MSU (not that their rights are less important), I believe, the events of Wilson Cafeteria need not have occurred. Whereas the majority (whites) controls the system, makes the laws and executes them, whereas it runs the Press and the News media, the FBI, the Poince, the Pentagon, and the National Guards, it will be contrary to reason to dismiss the black's struggle for his rights as "Nazi tactics."

In the name of humanity and brotherhood I appeal to the majority:

YOU ARE POWERFUL ENOUGH TO MAKE CONCESSIONS, WHEREAS THE MINORITY (BLACK) IS TOO WEAK TO BEND ANY FURTHER.

OUR READERS' MIND

Snide and irresponsible comments

To the Editor:

Since the snide and irresponsible comments of Edward Brill in Monday's State News may mislead a few uninformed members of the academic community, please let me correct some of his more flagrant misrepresentations and innuendos.

First: I am not now, have not been, and will not be a candidate for any administrative position at MSU which is not vacant or which may become vacant in the future.

Second: If Mr. Brill had bothered to inform himself, he could have learned that I had a fair amount to say about "due process" for the employees in Wilson Cafeteria during the Academic Council discussions.

We are products of environment

I am writing this letter in reply to your editorial Monday, denouncing the "racist" attitudes congruent with the Greek system. Resented most of all is your unsubstantiated over-generalization proclaiming all Greek houses, et. al., racist, interested only in the "elitist qualifications" of its members. Admitted, there are some very selective ("lily white") Greek units which some may call, within reason, status-oriented. However, to admonish the whole system under this stereotyped label, exceeds your journalistic liberties, illustrating the apparent lack of knowledge on the subject.

My house, like all other houses, will initiate a member only if we feel we would like him as a brother. This is a personal decision. Any racist-selectivity is a product of the American society and not the Greek system. This newspaper, BSA, and SDS seem to relish the whole exciting idea of picking out scapegoats: such as ROTC and the Greek system, rubber-stamping them racist, militaristic, imperialistic, or whatever other word happens to be in style, and holding them up as if they are the last vestiges of a misdirected society.

These organizations first should look at themselves before throwing out the labels. Those very selective Greek houses use the excuse that blacks do not turn out for rush. In a like manner the small number of black State News staff writers and glaringly white editorial staff has been justified with claims that too few apply and too few are qualified. Here again, a personal decision, this time on your part.

Moreover, by your own criteria, the all-black BSA should not be tolerated by this University: since, as you say, "any organization that is either by structure or nature racist has no legitimate place in the academic community."

Face it, we are all products of our environment and not shaped by the particular groups with which we associate in college. Labels can be thrown from both sides. It is time you stop the scapegoating and mud-slinging and start to set examples yourselves. The Greeks are trying, even at times against our national's wishes. It is about time you saw both sides of an issue and start editorializing from factual basis rather than from heresy stereotypes.

The essence of the matter is that such employees have a clear and effective guarantee of due process (including an explicit prohibition of racial discrimination) in their claims. It is regrettable that the University breached its legal and contractual obligations by failing to refer the employee complaints to this existing machinery.

Third: If Mr. Brill had bothered to inform himself, he could have learned that I—and a great many other members of the Academic Council—have had a lot to say in the past about due process for students. Where was Mr. Brill when the Academic Freedom Report was being written (with my active participation), and where was he when it was being debated and passed by the Academic Council (again with my active participation)? And where was Mr. Brill when a number of participants in the short-lived Administration Bldg. sit-in were suspended without a hearing last June? I told the Academic Council where I was: in the offices of top administrators.

tors, accompanied by one other faculty member, insisting that this action was a denial of due process and urging that it be reversed. It was.

It is ironic that Mr. Brill, who now sneers at due process and impugns the motives of those who seek to uphold it, was quick to seek due process for himself and to invoke the protection of the Academic Freedom Report when he believed that his freedom to print naughty words was threatened. He won his case, thus providing a minor illustration of an important fact: few universities provide as comprehensive and effective guarantees of due process (both procedural and substantive) for its students as MSU. No doubt the Academic Freedom Report can be improved upon. But improvements are not likely to be accomplished by the publication of inflammatory lies.

SDS blind, running amuck

To the Editor:

Over the last few weeks, ROTC, its motives, methods and rationale have been challenged at MSU. Largely, these challenges have been or will have to be met in the future. Also, when given a chance to respond, ROTC has done so to the satisfaction of most rational people. Now, it is time to question SDS (the New Left, The Movement, or whatever you wish) and analyze their methods, etc.

SDS appears to be one of the most self-righteous and self-centered groups on campus. When questioning academia, they rarely ask "Is this true?" rather, "Is this what we want others to think is true?" They perform no service for anyone, but definitely give the impression of doing so.

SDS has no sense of reality, but they create a world of their own to fit their paranoid tendencies. They form opinion without rational process. SDS wields power without responsibility. They are not open to reason, for when you speak to them, they simply can not hear.

SDS is a blind mass running amuck to crush without direction or purpose. They've got to force their miserable little personalities on every individual they meet.

The question to pose to SDS now: "Do the ends truly justify the means?"

(In anticipation of all the indignant letters following this, I might add that the satirical undertone is intentional.)

'U' alumni office open to parents

By MARK EICHER
Asst. Managing Editor

One stop many parents are likely to make while visiting the campus this weekend is to the MSU Alumni Assn. office in the Union-headquarters for over 18,000 active members of the Alumni Assn.

"The increase in alumni activity on several fronts was very noticeable last year," Jack Kinney, executive director of the MSU Alumni Assn., said.

Kinney said the association has three main areas of interest: University development, alumni relations and the Alumni Assn. Magazine.

The Alumni Assn. has been responsible for such developments as the Abrams Planetarium, the Alumni Chapel and improvements to the Library, Kresge Art Center and Kellogg Center.

In addition to physical development, the Alumni Assn. has aided scholarly development through various scholarship programs and education awards.

Funds for development come from the Alumni Development Fund which handles over $1 million a year, Kinney said.

Kinney noted that the tuition plan adopted by the MSU Board of Trustees in August 1967, based on ability to pay, was not well received by many alumni and is still affecting contributions.

"Several hundred registered their disapproval by refusing to contribute to the fund," he said. "This has also carried over into our solicitations for gifts during 1968."

"It's encouraging to see increased activity on the part of our alumni clubs, especially in Michigan. This year we are attempting to work more closely with our out-of-state clubs."

Every active member of the association receives the Alumni Assn. Magazine, issued eight times a year.

"One problem which has haunted the publication in recent years," Kinney said, "is the selection of material to be included in the magazine."

ISAC offers lower rate for travel

European flights will be less expensive for students who travel with the International Student Affairs Club (ISAC) this summer.

Yvonne Ellingson, ASMSU travel director, said that students or faculty interested in flights to Europe can join ISAC and become eligible for five summer flights at reduced rates.

Faculty members and students carrying six credits are eligible for a two-year membership at $1.50.

Round trip flights from New York to London at a cost of $215 will be available for June 12 to Aug. 30 and June 18 to Sept. 9.

Two New York to Amsterdam round trips for June 12 to Aug. 27 and June 16 to Sept. 1 are offered to ISAC members for $265.

One-way passage to London on a flight departing from New York on Aug. 29 will be available for $110.

Anyone interested in ISAC can contact Miss Ellingson at 353-6072 for further information.

OCC to have representatives from each apartment house

The Off-Campus Council (OCC) will implement a new plan fall term to include on the council a representative or committee from each off-campus apartment house.

At regular meetings of these representatives, grievances and ideas for social activities would be heard, Norman M. Mayer, president of OCC, said. The meetings would serve as channels for alleviating problems.

"In theory, we represent 20,000 students off-campus," Mayer said. "The council is trying to give off-campus students a voice."

The ideal is to represent the views and opinions of the off-campus students, not just those of the council, Mayer added.

For the summer, the OCC has recently compiled two files for those students desiring to sublet apartments and those hoping to lease apartments.

The file includes information on price, number of occupants and location of the apartment.

The file is located in 162 Student Services Bldg.

'U' bands to play in fine arts center

The MSU Concert Band and Wind Ensemble will be performing some new works in a new setting this Sunday.

The two bands, under the direction of Harry Begian, will be heard in the new Fine Arts Auditorium of Okemos High School.

The wind ensemble, a group of about 30 select student musicians, will present the premiere performance of "Refractions," written by Paul Harder, professor of music.

Harder's work was composed especially for the ensemble, utilizing the 12-tone or "tone row" technique.

The ensemble will also perform "Overture to 'Candide'" by Berstein, "American Salute" by Gould, "Anatolia Rhapsody" by Creston and "Towhee Piper Music" by Mohaupt.

A highlight of the concert band's half of the program will be the first movement from Khachaturian's "Concerto for Piano," featuring piano soloist Leon Gregorian, East Lansing doctoral candidate in music.

The concert is open to the public without charge. The center is located on Okemos Road, south of Mt. Hope Road.

RETAIN MHA MEMBERSHIP Judiciary enjoins Bryan

By DELORES MAJOR
State News Staff Writer

The All-University Student Judiciary (AUSJ) enjoined Bryan Hall last week to retain its membership in Men's Halls Assn. (MHA), after an effort by the residence hall to secede from the organization.

The AUSJ found Bryan Hall guilty of violating Article II, Section 1 and 2, and Article III, Section 2 of the MHA Constitution.

Article II Sections 1 and 2 state that all residents of men's residence halls at MSU will be members of MHA and stipulates that they will pay an annual per capita tax of 25 cents or less, to be paid to MHA no later than the third week of classes fall term.

Article III, Section 2 states that each residence hall will have one voting representative on the President's Assembly.

Bryan Hall residents have refused to pay the MHA tax and have sent no representatives to the weekly MHA meetings.

Robert Melichar, past president of Bryan Hall, said that the major reason for the attempted withdrawal was that residents of Bryan Hall thought that MHA did not fully represent them.

"We also feel that we have a lot more in common with the girls' dorms here (Butterfield and Rather) than with the other men's dorms in South or East Complex," he said.

He also said that the complexities of potential governmental powers were buried within MHA and Women's Inter-residence Council.

However, AUSJ's rationale issued with their decision Friday said that "even though Bryan Hall thinks that Brody Complex affords a unique living situation, we do not believe that their association with MHA thwarts them from capitalizing on this unique opportunity to develop a strong complex council in at least an advisory or cooperative sense."

AUSJ also felt that "to allow Bryan Hall to disaffiliate would create the potential for disorder, which would constitute an abnegation of the necessary order and maximum freedom, and thus do a disservice to the University community."

AUSJ further suggested that Bryan Hall remain in MHA and subject its opinions to the critical scrutiny of the other members of the organization."

The student judiciary enjoined Bryan Hall to retain its membership in MHA and pay all dues whether past, present or future.

Melichar said that he thought that Bryan Hall would appeal the decision "if we can."

SUMMER VOLUNTEER NEEDS: Several agencies have begun to request volunteers for summer placements in the community. Students who are interested in summer volunteer work should contact the MSU Volunteer Bureau prior to summer term if possible.

EAST SIDE ACTION CENTER: has requested a group of volunteers to assist in the distribution of its newsletter. This would be done once a month on Saturdays and would be a good project for a residence hall, fraternity, or sorority.

INGHAM COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY AND BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA: is in need of one male and one female volunteer to work every other Wednesday night with a group of high school boys and girls. The purpose of the group is to explore the medical profession and consequently volunteers from the "Health Science" are needed.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION HOSPITAL-Battle Creek: Has requested volunteer's help. The V.A. Hospital is a mental facility with a 2,000 bed capacity. This is a very excellent opportunity for anyone interested in the field of mental health. Volunteers leave campus at 3:00 p.m. Tuesday.

READERS: are needed to assist MSU blind students. All volunteer work is arranged at the convenience of the volunteer and the student.

Michigan Training Unit (MTU) in Ionia. Volunteer opportunities are available at Michigan Training Unit (MTU) in Ionia. The MTU is a boy's training prison where inmates, ranging from 12-21 years old, may complete their high school education. This is an excellent opportunity for anyone interested in the field of mental health. Volunteers leave campus at 3:00 p.m. Tuesday.

SCOPE: Greeks are needed to assist in manning a community center run by students and people from the community. A variety of programs are held at the center and all talents are needed.

EMERGENCY SERVICE CORPS: Two young ladies have volunteered to coordinate an "emergency service corps." There has recently been a large number of general visits to assess injuries and to take care of children for parents who are undergoing emergency medical care of consultation.

CAMPUS COMMUNITY COMMISSION: The C.C.C. is a student program that works primarily with elementary school children in the Lansing area. The elementary program consists of (1) a recreation program five days a week during the noon hour designed to keep the children off the streets, (2) an afternoon program five days a week, 3:00-5:00 p.m., any afternoon incorporating recreation and a variety of clubs aimed at helping the children with their studies, (3) a Saturday program including recreation, arts and crafts from 1:30-5:00 p.m. (4) and field trips and parties with the children periodically. Other programs include adult education, Tuesday and Thursday evenings, and a teenage program in which local teens participate in all programming as junior staff.

WEST SIDE COMMUNITY ACTION CENTER: The West Side Community Action Center has requested several MSU black students to act as Big Brothers and Big Sisters to black children of the West Side Community.

LANSING BIG BROTHERS: Faculty staff and graduate students are needed as Big Brothers for fatherless boys living in a socially acceptable manner. The boys may have social, emotional or delinquency problems. The Big Brother is assigned for the purpose of assisting the boy in becoming a happy, independent, mature citizen and reach adulthood with goals and plans for this period of life.

BOY'S CLUB OF LANSING: Volunteers are needed for all areas. Any individual interested in working with boys from 6-13 would be welcome. Boys from the club would particularly like someone to conduct a tumbling workshop or help organize a tumbling club.

TUTORS NEEDED: Tutors are needed for MSU minority group freshmen. All tutoring will be done on campus at times convenient to the tutor and the tutee.

OPERATION SHOPPING BASKET: This is a program conducted at the North Side Action Center. Volunteer drivers are needed two hours a month. The volunteer would pick up a lady from the North Side Community and take her shopping and offer help on food marketing habits. The opportunity offers a rewarding experience for a minimum commitment. This is a particularly good opportunity for wives of MSU faculty staff and graduate students.

'U' police invite inspection

In conjunction with Police Week the University Police will sponsor an open house Thursday between 10 a.m. and 10 p.m.

During the 12-hour open house members of the University community are invited to see exhibits of confiscated weapons and drugs and the operation of a breath analyzer.

At 2 p.m. Thursday the police will demonstrate pursuit driving in the commuter lot. Transportation will be provided from the police headquarters.

3-15 visitors are invited to an open briefing of campus police officers. The briefings constitute the instructions an officer receives before he goes on duty.

At 8 p.m. two films will be shown. They are on household security and drug addiction.

The police are also inviting members of the University community to accompany an officer on his rounds for an hour between 7:30 a.m. Thursday to 7:30 a.m. Friday.

As many students as possible will be allowed to ride with the officers while they make their rounds around campus. Those interested are urged to call the police desk (355-2221) for scheduling.

Batsmen split CMU twinbill

By GARY WALKOWICZ
Executive Sports Editor

The MSU baseball team used a four-run fourth inning to score a 7-5 win over Central Michigan Tuesday after the Chippewas had routed MSU, 11-0, in the opening game of the doubleheader at Kobs Field.

The split gave the Spartans a 20-12 season mark, while CMU is now 21-8.

The Spartans and Chippewas were deadlocked at 2-2 entering the bottom of the fourth in the nightcap.

Phil Rashead doubled to open the inning and George Petroff reached base on an error. Pinch hitter Larry Rettenmund then singled home Rashead, and Petroff scored on a wild pitch.

Lead-off hitter Joe Gavel walked, another wild pitch then advanced the two baserunners and Rich Jordan followed with a line single to center to drive home two runs.

Jordan accounted for the Spartans final run in the sixth when he tripled off the right field fence, driving home Gavel who had walked.

After MSU's four-run splurge, the Chips scored three runs in the fifth off Spartan reliever Mickey Knight, who had relieved starter Kirk Maas that inning.

Knight got in trouble again in the ninth when Central loaded the bases after two were out.

Spartan Coach Danny Litwhiler then called upon right-hander Dan Bielski, who induced rightfielder Gary Szalka to lift a fly ball to center for the final out.

MSU had taken an early 2-0 lead in the game in the third inning.

Three consecutive walks and a checked-swing single by Gary Boyce drove home Maas with the first tally of the game. Gavel then scored when Chip hurler Ralph Darin delivered a wild pitch.

In the fourth two walks and three CMU hits produced two Chippewa runs. Further damage was averted when Spartan centerfielder Rick Miller threw out a CMU runner who attempted to score from second base on a single to center.

In the opener, the Spartans absorbed an 11-run loss for the second time this season. MSU lost to Miami, 11-0, in its first game of the year.

Litwhiler used four of his lesser-league hurlers in the initial contest and CMU batters raked them for 12 hits, including two home runs, while Chippewa righthander Dick Lange limited MSU to two hits.

Gary Boyce's opposite field double and Tim Bograkovs ground ball single were the only Spartan hits off the fireballing Lange, who struck out six batters.

CMU's biggest inning was the fourth when they put together five hits and two walks for four runs after two were out.

Rick Kreuger, Dave Williams, Dana Easton and Chuck Viane all worked on the mound for MSU, but only Viane was able to hold CMU scoreless.

Base-path robbery

Central Michigan shortstop Ed Papes slides safely into second base with a stolen base, while Spartan catcher Harry Kendrick's throw bounds away from George Petroff during the first game of the MSU-CMU doubleheader at Kobs Field Tuesday. CMU won the opener, 11-0, while MSU took the nightcap, 7-5.

Phi Beta Sigma takes title as fraternity track marks fall

The annual IM fraternity track meet last week saw eight new meet records set, with Phi Beta Sigma capturing first place with 24 meet points.

Sigma Nu finished second with 22 points to lead third-place finishers Phi Gamma Delta and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, each gleaming 14 points.

Greg Demmink of Alpha Tau Omega set a new meet record in the shot put with a 55'1" throw.

Other meet records were set by Steve Howard (Sigma Alpha Epsilon) who won the high jump event with a 6'2" jump and Jack Sprague (Phi Gamma Delta) who broke the 100-yard dash record with a 10.2 time.

Art Costantino (Delta Tau Delta) and Dave Eade (Beta Theta Pi) also set new meet records. Costantino ran the 440-yard dash in :52.6 and Eade ran the 220-yard dash in :23.6.

Harold Richmond, Phi Beta Sigma's entry, ran the mile in 4:50.0, setting a record.

Sigma Nu gained points in the 880-yard relay, running 1:37.5, and in the 60-yard low hurdles when Gary Spade set a record at 7.5.

Only two events failed to produce new meet records. Jim Melin (Lambda Chi Alpha) jumped 20'8" to take the long jump title and Richmond ran the 880-yard run in 2:06.8.

BIG TEN MEET

Track records likely to fall

By DON KOPRIVA
State News Sports Writer

Making fast tracks on soggy tracks seems to be the earmark of Big Ten trackmen during this outdoor campaign.

Despite a spring that has seen snow at the Ohio Relays, torrential rain at Drake and cold weather and high winds at numerous dual meets, Big Ten trackmen appear set to rewrite the record books this weekend in the league's 69th annual meet at Purdue.

Indiana and Wisconsin seem ready to battle it out for the title as the Badgers will attempt to become the first squad since the 1966 Spartans to follow up an indoor championship with an outdoor crown.

Michigan, Ohio State and Illinois all should challenge for the third spot while Fran Dittrich has stated MSU's goal to be a first division berth.

But the records should be coming fast. Wisconsin sophomore Mark Wenzelried has already bettered the meet marks in the 660 with his 1:16.6 effort and half-milers Ed Towmey of Minnesota and Ralph Schultz of Northwestern could be set for a crack at Spartan John Spain's 1:48.0 standard at 880 yards.

Both have bettered 1:50 this year.

Led by Hoosier soph Mike Goodrich, who blitzed a .09.2 at Drake, the 100 yard dash field is improving yearly and the century mark of .09.4 held by immortal Jesse Owens could topple.

MSU's Bill Wehrwein, unofficial world record-holder at 600 yard and NCAA titlist inside, rates as the best threat in a number of years to approach Glenn Davis's 11 year-old mark of 45.8 in the 440.

Wehrwein's best thus far is 46.7.

Two sophs appear to be top contenders for league high jump honors and a record. Minnesota's Tom Heikkala and Indiana's Gary Hauptert have each cleared 7 feet during the year and seem almost a cinch to top Michigan's Gary Knickerbocker's mark of 6-9 1/2.

returns as mile champ and record-holder at 4:03.9 but will be hard pressed by soph teammate Don Vandrey to keep his crown. Vandrey has posted a 4:04.5.

The longest of the races, the three mile, could prove one of the most exciting.

Steve Hoag of Minnesota is the top returnee from 1968 but will be challenged by MSU's Ken Leonowicz and Illinois's Ken Howse. Leonowicz and Howse hold the only times under 14:00.

Mike Butler will be shooting for the hurdle mark of :13.7 while OSU's Dick Bruggeman will focus on Bob Steele's .50.7 record in the intermediate hurdles.

Banks, Cubs rout Padres

CHICAGO (UPI) -- Ernie Banks drove in seven runs with a pair of homers and a double Tuesday to lead Chicago to a 19-0 rout of the San Diego Padres and give Dick Selma his first victory as a Cub.

Banks' RBI total climbed to 1506, only three behind Mickey Mantle, and sixteenth on the all-time RBI list.

The Cubs set a National League record for most runs scored in a shutout.

Morrall, Hayes head pros at benefit game

By MIKE MANLEY
State News Sports Writer

At first glance, Spartan Stadium may look like it is hosting a professional football all-star game this Saturday in addition to the annual Green and White game.

On hand to help raise money for the Martin Luther King Spartan Aide Fund will be 39 outstanding pro football players—20 of whom played their college ball at MSU.

Gene Washington, former Spartan All-America and co-chairman of the event, has lined up some top-flight talent—led by 1968 National Football League MVP Earl Morrall of the Baltimore Colts and Bob Hayes, the All-Pro flanker of the Dallas Cowboys.

Game time for the Green and White contest is 2 p.m., but starting at noon, the pros will be on the field to sign autographs and pose for pictures for fans. They will also be available after the game.

The Detroit Lions will be represented by Bill Munson, Nick Eddy, Jerry Rush (MSU), Mel Farr, Lem Barney, Charlie Sanders, Tommie Vaughn and George Chatlos (MSU). Farr, one of the finest runners in the NFL, and Barney, an All-Pro cornerback earned Rookie-of-the-Year honors in 1966 and '67 respectively.

Former MSU All-America halfback Clint Jones, who is co-chairman of the game along with Washington, heads a group of seven Minnesota Vikings to Spartan Stadium.

Along with Jones will be Bobby Bryant, Alan Page, Earl Sells Macbee, John Henderson, Wally Hilgenberg and Paul Krause.

Coming to the game with Morrall from the Baltimore Colts is Bubba Smith, the 6-7, 280-pound former MSU All-America defensive end. Gail Cogdill, the former Lion All-Pro end now with the Colts, and All-Pro defensive back Rick Volk will also be on hand.

George Webster, whose famous No. 90 has been retired at MSU, will be in attendance. Webster, considered the finest defensive player in Spartan history, is now an All-Pro linebacker with the Houston Oilers.

Former MSU stars Ernie Clark (St. Louis Cardinals), Jimmy Raye (Los Angeles Rams), Dwight Lee (Atlanta Falcons) and Pete Gent (Dallas Cowboys) will also be on hand.

Other ex-Spartan greats who will be here Saturday are Herb Adderley (Green Bay Packers), Dave Herman (New York Jets), Jim Kanicki (Cleveland Browns), George Saines (Buffalo Bills), Paul Rochester (New York Jets) and Ed Budde (Kansas City Chiefs).

They will be joined by former MSU stars Fred Arbanas and Ed Lothamer (Kansas City Chiefs), Joe Przybycki (Philadelphia Eagles) and Jeff Richardson (New York Jets).

Also on hand will be Bruce Maher (New York Giants), John Sample (New York Jets) and Buddy Young, the assistant to the NFL Commissioner.

The proceeds of the game will go to a new summer tutorial program in Lansing and a non-athlete scholarship program at MSU for students who need assistance to stay in college. This scholarship program is for black, white and Mexican-American students.

"I want to emphasize that the professional players who are coming won't make any money at all," Washington said. "All the players are paying their own ways here—plane fare, hotel, everything."

"These players are concerned in raising money for the fund. I think a lot of credit should be given to them for taking the weekend off and coming to Lansing."

Bob Hayes is flying in from Dallas, Tex. Webster is coming from Houston and several of the Rams are making the trip all the way from the West Coast.

Tickets for the event may be bought in advance at the Jenison Fieldhouse ticket office and the Paramount News office in downtown Lansing. Prices are $2 for adults and $1 for students and children. There are also a limited number of press box tickets available to the general public at $5 each.

Gray, Good lead 'S' netters hopes

By DENNIS COGSWELL
State News Sports Writer

For MSU's John Good and Tom Gray, the luck of the draw may determine the pair's success or failure in Thursday's Big Ten Tennis Tournament here.

Good and Gray, playing at No. 1 doubles, have been coach Stan Drobnac's most potent weapon this spring, posting a 6-3 record in the conference.

In the Big Ten Meet the top four doubles teams in each class are seeded ahead of time on their records, thus insuring that the best teams do not eliminate each other in the first round. Since the meet is a single elimination affair, the seeding becomes doubly important as an unranked team would probably meet one of the top four teams. If Gray and Good are seeded they have a good chance of finishing high; if not, they could draw a top team in the opening round.

They have been playing together since last fall, and had a 5-2 record in the team's trip South this year.

Gray was a standout in high school, winning state singles crowns in Iowa in 1966 and 1967.

"I didn't play doubles very much in high school," Gray said. "So it's been more or less a matter of me adopting to John this year. When we're receiving a serve we just try to chip our returns."

Good won the 1965 Indoor Junior Doubles Title, and had a brilliant year as a sophomore in 1967, taking the Big Ten Title at No. 4 singles, and teaming with Mickey Szilagyi to win No. 2 doubles.

The Lansing senior and Spartan captain fell off last year to a 2-1 record in doubles in the conference meet, and was eliminated in his first singles match.

Gray names Michigan's Peter Fishback and Brian Marcus as the toughest pair he and Good have faced this year.

Grid realignment pleases Morrall

Earl Morrall, former MSU quarterback and last year's MVP in the National Football League, said he can see one good thing coming out of the realignment of the American and National Football Leagues.

"We don't have to face the Los Angeles Rams twice a year," Morrall said.

Baltimore went 11-1-12 two seasons ago but Los Angeles tied them and went on in the NFL Playoffs by virtue of more points in the teams' two games. Last season the Colts barely finished in front of the Rams as Morrall was the league's top passer.

Baltimore was placed in the American Conference along with the Cleveland Browns and Pittsburgh Steelers. The Colts are in the same division with the New York Jets, Boston Patriots, Buffalo Bills and Miami Dolphins.

MEET OPENS FRIDAY

Murphy leads title quest

By CHAS FLOWERS
State News Sports Writer

"We are all working for one thing, and that's the Big Ten championship."

That's the way MSU golf Captain Larry Murphy sums it up as the Spartan golfers wind up their last week of practice in preparation for the Big Ten Meet this weekend at Forest Akers Golf Course.

Murphy, a Wheeling, W.Va. senior, came to MSU four years ago on a full scholarship.

After three years of competition which saw the golfers finish fourth, third and second in the conference, Murphy is optimistic about this year's squad.

"There is no real sixth man," Murphy said. "We count the five best scores from the six entries."

"Everyone's playing pretty decent golf right now," Murphy said. "We all have confidence in each other's game."

Head coach Bruce Fossum has nothing but high praise for Murphy, one of three seniors on this year's squad.

"He's the best competitor I've ever coached," Fossum said.

Andretti sizzles on speedway

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)

Little Mario Andretti burned up the track Tuesday at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, turning a lap at 171.494 miles per hour, the fastest ever here by a piston drive racer.

Andretti, from Nazareth, Pa., Monday was clocked at 170.197 m.p.h. in his backup car, becoming the first driver to reach the 170 mark this spring during practice for the Indianapolis 500-mile Memorial Day auto race.

Murphy said he strives for consistency in his game.

He said he isn't an exceptional driver, but that the mark of a good golfer is getting on the green after poor drives. Golfers call this "getting up and down."

"You've got to make up for it with chipping and putting," I think I'm a good chipper.

The Spartan captain played football and basketball in addition to golf in high school and would like to coach golf and basketball in West Virginia.

His brother will come to MSU next year and Murphy hopes he will be able to play on the golf team.

Murphy said the pressure is building up on the team which will be going after the first Big Ten championship in their 18 years in the conference.

The strong showings of MSU, Purdue and Ohio State through the season, and the surprising strength of Indiana and Michigan last weekend in the Spartan Invitational should make for a five-team race.

LCA for IM title

Alpha Tau Omega won the fraternity title of the IM softball league Monday night as they defeated Lambda Chi Alpha 3-0.

Ron Gaerpner pitched for LCA and received strong hitting support from catcher Scott Kutner and first baseman Rod Coffey. Coffey delivered the big hit of the game with a bases-loaded double in the fourth inning, sparking a four-run rally for the winners.

Bob Von Gruen was the losing pitcher for Lambda Chi.
