PI KAPPA DELTA ELECTS PERRIN TO PRESIDENCY

When Winter Comes--- And Our Scribe Goes On

Forensic Activities for Coming Year Discussed at Meeting of Speech Honorary.

HOLD POW-WOW OCT. 10

Other Events Planned Include
State Meeting, and Debate
Team Tryouts Later.

Plans for this year's forensic activities on the campus are well under way with the annual Forensic Pow-Wow, a meeting of the Michigan Intercollegiate Speech League, and a debate with Cambridge University debate team to be held in the near future.

In a recent meeting of Pi Kappa Delta, national speech honorary officers for the current year of the local chapter were elected. Elmer Perrin, a senior from Northville, was elected president. Other officers elected were: Clara Dickinson, vice president; Lela Jensen, treasurer; Frances Scullin, secretary; and John Brattin, corresponding secretary.

The Forensic Pow-wow is sponsored by Pi Kappa Delta and will be held in the Union porch, Thursday, October 10, at 7:30. At that time the plans for the year's men's and women's debate, oratory and all other speech activities will be outlined. Students interested in speech work in any form are urged to attend. Refreshments will be served.

This afternoon and Saturday will be student and faculty representatives on our campus from 14 Michigan colleges to attend the meeting of the Michigan Intercollegiate Speech League. At the meeting the debate topics for the year will be selected and the date set for various contests and tryouts.

Tryouts for the men's debate team will be held some time this week under the direction of Coach D. Menchhofer. The regular debate season runs throughout winter term. Last year during spring vacation four members of the varsity team made a two week trip through Canada and New England. The men making the trip were Donald O'Hara, Donald Hittle, Elmer Perrin, and James Clark. Colleges debated included Ontario Agricultural College, Syracuse, Dartmouth, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Columbia University, Boston University and Fordham.

Coach O. J. Drake is in charge of women's debate activities. Four members of the women's team also made an extensive trip during spring vacation. Members making the trip were Lela Jensen, Ruth Johnston, Hazel Sikkenen, and Ruth Martin.

This year while there will be a long trip for either team, there will be shorter trips in Michigan and neighboring states through the winter term. During spring vacation Pi Kappa Delta will send delegates to attend the national convention in Houston, Texas.

Co-eds? No! Says Editor at St. Mary's

Moraga, Calif. — (ACP) — An emphatic "No" to the recent proposal that St. Mary's college turn co-educational is the answer of the Collegian, weekly student newspaper at the Moraga institution.

In the leading editorial in its current issue, Editor Philip Quittman calls the idea "absurd" in no uncertain words.

"We chose St. Mary's because we wanted to go to a man's college. And we still prefer to go to a man's college. There are ample co-educational facilities in the immediate region for those who must constantly be with the weaker sex. For those students who must have 'company,' transfers to co-educational institutions can be obtained," he blasted.

Quittman called St. Mary's "the last real stronghold of masculinity in the region." Authorities of the college are sounding out sentiment on the proposed admittance of women students in the future.

Weather vanes whirl like roulette wheels and State politicians in Lansing sprint after rolling derbies as the winds of the frozen north descend upon our gentle campus of M. S. C. Equinoctial rains fall and the sun shines no longer at 98 in the shade. To the new changes in weather conversation, barbers clip at a brisker autumn speed. People sneeze-catch cold. Frozen write home for $25 for topcoats, grandma's patch quilt, and the family bottle of Dr. Hoff's cough syrup.

Truly, "Ladies and Gentlemen" (from It's of the Tigers) Fall is upon us. Time to hibernate for '35, '36 beside the banks of the Winding Cedar and take up the books, profs, and friends at hand. One week of college has elapsed. A bub-bub week of changed schedules, closed sections, new books, well-known frat and sorority rushing irregularities, new rooms, no letter or money from home, different cooking, nobody to tell one to hang up one's clothes and so far, far down the column. ## TEA GIVEN HERE FOR AAUW HEAD

Dean Conrad, Mrs. Harold Patton Aid in Entertaining Delegates to Convo.

The annual state convention of the American Association of University Women is holding its sessions at the Hotel Olds in Lansing today and tomorrow, October 4 and 5. A major social function of the convention was the tea that Michigan State college gave this afternoon from 4:30 to 5:30 in East Mary Mayo in honor of Dr. Edna White, second vice-president of the national A. A. U. W. Michigan State college is playing another important part in this convention through Dean Elisabeth Conrad and Mrs. Harold Patton, who are co-chairmen of the Lansing committee and who have worked with state officials in planning this convention.

Dr. Edna White, besides being national vice-president, is the director of Merrill-Palmer school in Detroit. She received an honorary degree from Michigan State college a few years ago. Mrs. Robert S. Shaw headed the receiving line at the tea the college gave for Dr. White this afternoon. Others in the line included the A. A. U. W. state president, Mrs. Fred Steinhilber, Miss Irma Voigt, regional director and also national president of the Association of Deans of Women, Miss Helen Martin, president of the Lansing chapter, and other visiting officers. Mrs. Harold Patton introduced the guests and Dean Dye poured tea.

The meetings of the convention opened this morning at 10 o'clock with registration. At 12 o'clock luncheon today Major Douglas C. Boote of Canada was the speaker. His topic was "International Economic Cooperation, a Necessity of This Age." At 2:15 this afternoon Mrs. Burnham Finney was in charge. The theme of this meeting was "Echoes From Los Angeles." Michigan delegates to the biennial convention in California presented short reports.

There will be a breakfast for the delegates tomorrow morning. A high spot on the morning's program will be the question box conducted by Dean Voight. Mrs. F. G. Atkinson, chairman of the A. A. U. W. fellowship committee, will speak at the fellowship luncheon tomorrow noon.

Chamberlain Joins Columbia Faculty

Stuart H. Chamberlain, son of Prof. C. W. Chamberlain of the physics department, who received his degree of Master of Science from Michigan State college in 1930, and was graduate assistant in physics from 1928 to 1931, left for New York city Thursday. He has accepted an appointment on the teaching staff of Columbia university as instructor. He will work in the Pupin laboratory of physics. Professor Chamberlain was a student of Michael Pupin's at Columbia in 1910.

the situation coming under control after this week, let's go this year. Let's make every minute of each hour of every day of each week count. Count for all the loyal student to our Alma Mater. We have the biggest and best enrollment of students since the founding of M. S. C. Let's balance this with the biggest and best year this institution has ever known. New eyes of athletic and educational prominence look to State college with great expectations. We've made ourselves what we are, but we're still making.

Probably when you or your old Junior before he left home for White Hall this year will go for all of us. Primarily get the educational end taken care of to the best of one's abilities then step out and do your best living in other activities.

Be you the dashing quarterback or the third pincode player of the band or just a spectator in this big game—put plenty of pep in pep into your registration to the Alma Mater and watch our college-go place. After all life is just a bowl of people going places.

SPARTAN "Y" FORUM

A timely talk entitled "What's Happening in Ethiopia" will be given by Dean E. H. Ryder of the history department this Sunday at 12 noon before the Spartan "Y" Forum. All college men are welcome to attend.

This is the first in a series of talks on the war situation in Europe. The following Sunday Dr. McClure, pastor of the Peoples church, will discuss "Threats to Peace."

UNION BUILDING COMES TO LIFE

Mrs. O. W. Thompson and Ray Riggs Add "Personality" to Local Brick Pile.

By BEVERLY SMITH

In this day of much discussion about personality, why not assume that a building can sometimes have a personality just as well as a human being? For instance, a college Union building, where all sorts of students enjoy "hanging out," cannot be thought of as just as much brick and stone. And Michigan State Union is no exception in this way. However, the last few years have seen a sentiment growing up among campus leaders that not enough students here have the "union habit." There has been a great deal of head scratching going on to figure out just what to do to give the Union that bit of positive personality it seemed to need.

This year two well known campus persons are going to lend their help in encouraging the students of Michigan State to make the Union the hub of the campus universe. Mrs. O. W. Thompson will be hostess at the Union and Ray Riggs will be host.

Mrs. Thompson is in no way to be considered a chapertone. Rather she is to be a "ready-to" person. Both she and Mr. Riggs will be available for all the social functions of the Union. Those students who have known Mrs. Thompson during the several years she has been here will realize that no one can say a more hearty or sincere "hello" than she. She has this to say about her new capacity: "I shall enjoy it from a social viewpoint. I like to meet new people and greet old friends. I like both boys and girls, and I like to see them together."

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS TO MEET NEXT TUESDAY

The first meeting of the student chapter of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers will be held next Tuesday night at 7:30 in room 298 of Olds hall. Appointment of committees and the planning of the year's program are the major features of the program. A short speech by Prof. L. S. Foitz is included in the program. Refreshments will be served.

STAFF CHANGES IN L. A. DIVISION ARE ANNOUNCED

Large Increase in Enrollment
Results in Addition of Seventeen to Faculty.

VACANCIES ARE FILLED

W. R. Fee and E. Ballachey
Replace Ruth Johnston and
C. S. Shartle on Staff.

By HARVEY HARRINGTON

Because of the large increase in enrollment, and to fill the vacancies made by the death of Miss Ruth Johnston and the resignation of C. S. Shartle, the liberal arts division announces the addition of 14 new instructors, one assistant professor, and two part-time instructors.

G. M. Radimsky, who was educated in the secondary schools of Germany, and obtained his M.A. degree at the University of Wisconsin, will teach German. Mr. Radimsky has taught three years in senior high schools, and at North Dakota State Teachers' college at Dickinson. He also coached the debate teams at both places.

William Kimmel, of the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N. Y., will take over an assistantship in music.

In the mathematics department J. F. Heyda and J. A. Stray have been added as full-time instructors. Dr. Kenneth Warren, J. Zimmer and Paul Dressel have been given full-time instructorships in this department also.

In the art department E. B. Brauner will teach portrait painting and freshman design. He is a graduate of Cornell university, and is the son of the dean of fine arts at that institution.

The school of journalism will have assistance from two new men, Mr. Gill and Mr. Masters, of Northwestern university.

Dr. E. Ballachey of Leland Stanford university and Dr. Sidney Newman, who attended Clark university, will begin their work in the psychology department. A vacancy was created in this department by the resignation of Mr. Shartle.

Dr. W. R. Fee has been given an assistant professorship in the history department. Dr. Fee obtained his B.A. at Indiana university, and his Doctor's degree at

NYA IS DIRECTING CCC LAND STUDIES

Two Organizations to Cooperate in Study of Waste Lands.

The National Youth administration of the forestry department, which consists of 400 members, directed by G. O. Stewart is now studying waste land, endeavoring to determine if any use can be made of it. This organization is working with the CCC camps of the neighboring counties in learning the value of the apparently useless lands which many farms possess.

The CCC boys go to the swall holes, densely wooded areas and other unused territories and map out the land and tabulate data concerning them. This information is sent to the administration working at the college. The students of this organization study the information received and through research work determine the good of it.

NO EXAMS UNTIL 1936 FOR 100 N. Y. U. FROSH

New York—(NSFA)—One hundred lucky freshmen at N. Y. U. have been selected to take the new "unified course" which leads to a comprehensive examination at the end of the second year. Until then students chosen for "superior preparation" will be given individual guidance through a course designed to stimulate "broad cultural appreciation of values in all significant phases of contemporary life."

Why Our Dean of Women Won't Be a Gloomy Dean

By DOROTHY LANGDON

If you can't find her, she is at the Union, and if you can't understand her, she is speaking French, and if she teaches the Union under French classes and French in the Union she is Dean Elisabeth Conrad. She attributes her escape from a nervous breakdown and the frost plaster in the Union to the fact that she has studied very frequently during the past week.

The French began this summer when Dean Conrad went to Middlebury college, Middlebury, Vt., where she studied at the French school and spoke only French, day and night. The Union began on August 1, when after more than a month without a word in English, Dean Conrad was called back to East Lansing by word that the people spoke only Spanish at available programs for the week's taken. The tea began with Frenchman. There was mixture and a few fearful Frenchmen girls and you have it a Conrad didn't indulge in those headaches. Or a groan. But she, the French, the Union and later never has a groan in the morning, tea were formidable enough, even if you can't hear a word of French.

Cornell Man Joins Art Dept.

Portrait painting is the main interest and hobby of the new professor in the art department at Michigan State. His name is Erling B. Brauner and he hails from Ithaca, N. Y. The artistic ability evidently runs in the family, since Mr. Brauner's father is the head of the art department at Cornell university.

After graduating from the art department at Cornell, Brauner had a year's experience with mural painting in New York city. He has come to State after having received his second degree in art at Cornell. This is Brauner's first experience in teaching, and he not only says he likes the work but also he likes very much the art department at State and the campus. This speaks well for our alma mater considering the noted beauty of the Cornell campus.

At present Brauner is teaching freshman art work and taking over some of the advanced drawing and painting classes of Prof. A. G. Scheele, head of the department, who has been ill since the beginning of the school year.

CELEBRATIONS

In the event of a victory at Ann Arbor tomorrow, there will undoubtedly be a free dance at the Union Monday afternoon, sponsored by the Student Council.

Cleon Skinner, manager of the State theater, states that there will be no free show after the game, but instead he will offer a free movie at the close of the football season.

State students are requested by the Student Council to refrain from theater crawling and other acts of rowdism, since such things in the past have resulted in disciplinary action by college authorities and the state police.

MEET PLANNED BY PRESS CLUB

To Discuss Plans for Coming
Year at Meet of Journalistic Group Next Wednesday

The first meeting of the press club of Michigan State college will be held at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, October 9, in the Union porch. The club was organized last year and has since then been working to improve the quality of journalism on campus.

David C. Wray, editor of the Michigan State newspaper, will be the guest speaker at the meeting. He will discuss the current state of journalism and the future of the profession.

The meeting will be held in the Union porch, and all members of the press club are invited to attend.

PATTON IS BOOKED FOR SINGING TOUR

Former Operatic Artist Will Appear in Cincinnati, Chicago, Pittsburgh.

Among the numerous concert engagements which Fred Patton of the vocal department of Michigan State college has been engaged to fulfill this year are the following appearances with orchestra.

On November 8 and 9 he will be heard with the Cincinnati symphony orchestra at Walden in "The Walkure" and with the same organization on January 21 and February 1 at Kurveval in "Tristan and Isolde." These two performances will bring the total appearances which Mr. Patton has made in Cincinnati to 142.

On November 21, 22 and 23 Mr. Patton will be heard as Kurveval in "Tristan and Isolde" in Chicago with the Chicago symphony orchestra, and in April with the same organization in the St. Matthew Passion by Bach. In Pittsburgh, Mr. Patton will appear as soloist with the Pittsburgh Mendelssohn choir in D minor Mass by Bach.

To dinner, where I feasted copiously, that I might fill the space unfilled by breakfast. Again to class, where did glean much lost sleep. Espied Dime Wallace on my way home, and did scurry across the street to escape the vibrations of her larynx. Chanced by Brakeman's Bookery, he hawking his wares from the threshold. Indulged most heavily in cheese and apple pie at supper, which I fear shall bear from some night fall. Invited by several parties to the Sign of the Red Nose, but was strong and declined. Perused the books in as many minutes, and do bed.

Q. E. D.

Your best Herick ad columnist of last week seemed to have all the dope in his geometry problem presented in his last attempt. Except for one point. Perhaps a gentle suggestion dropped by a feminine factor in the now extinct triangle when that triangle was just a straight line was the decisive integer.

It's difficult to imagine what people are thinking about by just looking at them, but a certain blonde of the genus Kappa gave herself away in a Spanish Lat class. When asked what the motto poem of Germany was, she mumbled, "Seagrains."

Personal nomination for the smoothest theme song, Joe Sanders' "I'll Never Forget I Love You." Herick's five stooges, so an ill wind hath brought me, are the Messdames: Halgren, Reed, Stone, Svoboda, and Greenwood. They should be jailed for aiding and abetting a public nuisance. My own stooges report that Peg Sharp, a Tri-Belt transfer student from Michigan, counts three fraternity pins among her collection of old gold.

Green Harris excused himself for a few minutes one night at the Palace Royal and when he returned found that two fratres had entered him in the amateur contest as a singer. He took one long, gulp, stepped to the mike, and won first prize. Where is the Sigma Nu embellishment, which once graced the Lewis bosom? Lee Meyerson, the Ruen influence, caused a quick change of Michigan game plans by putting in an unexpected appearance. Why is Don Pierce called "Schmer"? Jim Brakeman, what with additional knowledge acquired from a class in ad copy, has a system all his own for high pressure selling. He explained same in Metall Thursday p. m.

OPENING

Friday, October 4, marks the opening of Coral Gables—an event of import to the playboys. Coral Gables, to the uninitiated, may be discovered by simply following "he" nose, if you follow it out Grand River toward Detroit. Stan Bowers, manager of the Gables, who for several years has given local dance fans some real music, will present Ray Williams and his band to the initial audience.

Lately "65" Hutchinson's latest brain child is a wow. Slithering up to the nearest unfortunate he mutters into his ear, "What's the difference between a lady and a diplomat?" If the victim is smart he will cast a fishy look toward the mad man and start for parts unknown; if a gullible critter, he will undoubtedly whine, "I dunns." Whereupon Hutchinson will howl with glee and rattle off the following: "When a diplomat says 'Yes' he means 'Maybe'; when he says 'Maybe' he means 'No'; and if he says 'No' he's no diplomat." By this time the victim will remember an important engagement, but the fiend will collar him and continue in this vein: "Now, when a girl says 'No' she means 'Maybe'; when she says 'Maybe' she means 'Yes'; and if she says 'Yes' she's no lady." Then, with a look of great joy, he will stroll away satisfied. At this juncture the victim may either collapse or throw a fit, according to his nervous structure.

Tuberculosis Authority Sure Disease Could be Eradicated by Right Treatment.

Medical science now has advanced to a point where tuberculosis could be practically wiped out if a wider knowledge of the modern methods that are being used to prevent, find, and combat the disease could be assured, Dr. Bruce H. Douglas, president of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, declared this week.

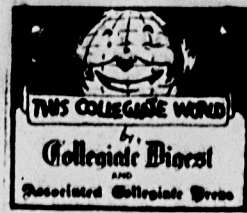

"Our greatest remaining task is to bring to the general public the knowledge of the disease that has resulted from years of medical research. During the past 35 years the tuberculosis mortality rates have been reduced over 40 per cent. This sharp decline has been due to a number of factors, among them the improvement of medical and nursing care and the rapid development of the sanatorium movement.

"The fact remains, however, that relatively very little is known about tuberculosis by the general public, and that if there was a wider knowledge, an even more rapid death rate decline could be expected."

Dr. Douglas pointed out that if three broad principles about tuberculosis could be impressed upon the public mind much of the distress that is prevalent could be eliminated. Those principles are:

1. Don't get the germ. But since one can never be sure, observe healthful living habits. Get plenty of sleep, good food, fresh air, and sufficient recreation. These are the only known preventives of tuberculosis.
2. To make sure as to whether or not you have tuberculosis, see your physician, arrange to have a tuberculin test and, if a reactor, a chest X-ray. These methods are the only sure ways to discover tuberculosis.
3. Should you be found to have the advanced, adult type tuberculosis, go to a sanatorium as soon as possible. Best rest in a modern treatment sanatorium is the only cure for tuberculosis known to medical science.

In referring to the second point, Dr. Douglas called attention to the fact that the Michigan Tuberculosis Association has already begun another nine-month period of tuberculin testing and X-raying among Michigan school children. From November, 1933, to June, 1935, 88,841 persons were tuberculin tested by the association, 19,187 were X-rayed. All activities are financed solely by tuberculosis Christmas seal pennies.

Business men, speaking before groups of future Rotarians, tap their fingers and remark, "Ah, yes, no young man could better occupy himself during these depression years than by going to college."

And a thousand college presidents, with one eye on the school account books, agree enthusiastically. In fact, if more young men and women with money to spend, don't agree with them this year, another batch of small colleges are due to wipe the blackboards free from chalk and call it a day. Ten colleges closed within the last couple of years, while several others consolidated.

Others are putting up a strong fight to save themselves. The methods they have used in this fight are just now coming into the open, thanks to an investigation by the Association of American Colleges.

The Turck report shows that American schools of higher learning have amazingly degraded themselves in the frantic competition for students. Says the reporter, "The business world has had few practices in unethical competition that cannot be matched somewhere in the colleg world."

Colleges offer "scholarships" lavishly, which are, in reality, only out and out grants-in-aid and have no merit basis. One man estimates that out of 200,000 freshmen last year, only 15 per cent paid all expenses. Unscrupulous high school principals make deals with the colleges, whereby they provide two paying students to every scholarship. Alumni got commissions on each high school graduate they drag into the fold of Alma Mater.

And the frame of mind of the students themselves who are thus escorted through college? Says an investigator, "Flattered by many proposals and at last bribed, they act as if they owned the campus. Professors find them critical, demanding, unsympathetic. And, of course, a student who had entered a college at the earnest request of press himself, would find it mighty hard to flunk out."

The average college professor we suppose, would think of his slim purse and remark, "Times have not changed, after reading that."

The "pedagogue" was originally a slave. He was a slave in the Athenian household, where he looked after the safety of the master's sons. Under the Roman empire, he became the instructor of the boy slaves in the households of the nobles. These slaves were known as the "pedagogians"—from which term it is believed our word "page" is derived.

A future Sam Johnson at the University of Michigan develops a few word definitions: Honesty—a fear of being caught. Truth—lack of fact. Courage—combination of stubbornness and resignation. Pleasure—one half memory, one-half anticipation. Love—one half imagination, one half biology. Moron—one who is content with a serene mind.

New development in campus etiquette as outlined by a dean at the University of Iowa (Iowa City). He thinks that students should wait three minutes for an instructor to appear, five for an assistant professor, eight for an associate professor, and ten for a full professor or dean.

To which we amend: O. K.—if the faculty will do this: Allow freshmen to be two minutes late, sophomores five minutes, juniors ten minutes and seniors' fifteen minutes.

Following our valuable custom of making known all the newest philosophies of education we introduce to you the latest course study at the University of Wyoming (Laramie). It is a course in dude ranching. You study bookkeeping, botany, journalism, food purchasing, contract laws and speech making.

What. Nothing about how to appeal to the instinct of romance in beautiful, rich eastern girls? Nothing about how to roll a cigarette with one hand, at full gallop? My goodness, it looks like a course of work.

State Hampered by Injuries as Michigan Awaits Annual Battle

Worries Over Condition of Stars Dampens Hopes of Followers on Eve of Big Game Line Strong and in Good Shape.

By AL THEILER

Michigan State's Spartans tomorrow afternoon are going to try to enter the big time. At the stadium in Ann Arbor, Dick Colina will lead Charley Bachman's 1935 edition into the most crucial game on the schedule.

If State wins, the rest of the way down the stretch will be comparatively easy. A loss means that they will have to start all over again to prove their right to a ranking with the best schools in the country.

Bachman had hoped to have his eleven at full strength for this important struggle, but his hopes were not to be fulfilled.

His ace, Kurt Warmbein, nursing an injured shoulder that may keep him out of the sidelines. This difficulty may be traced all the way back to last fall, when the Spartans journeyed to New York to engage Manhattan college in what turned out to be the toughest game on the schedule.

Warmbein came out of that struggle with his injured shoulder, and the end of the campaign it was doubtful whether or not Kurt could ever don a uniform again. But he was out with the squad and Bachman built his attack around the fleet St. Joseph half-back. He came out of a scrimmage one night holding his shoulder and has been on the sidelines ever since. He was out of the Grinnell game and whether or not he gets in will have much to do with State's chances tomorrow.

Steve Sebo last year kicked the field goal that really defeated the Wolverines. Last week he complicated a back injury that he had concealed from the Spartan trainers, and is also a doubtful starter. His speed was to have been a decisive cog in the State attack.

Edwards, one of the shining shining lights against Grinnell, is definitely out of tomorrow's game. He won't be back in action before the game with Boston college, October 19. The State line, one of the strongest in the middle west, is unscathed. It is doubtful if the Michigan backs find a harder line to pierce all season. With this in mind, Spartan backs are looking forward to a busy afternoon knocking down passes. Renner

YEARLING TEAM IN DAILY DRILLS

Making Rapid Strides as Kobs Hits Upon First Stride Line-up to Scrimmage Varsity.

By BOB LIEF ERICKSON

Under the able tutelage of Coaches Kobs, VanAlstine, and their student assistants, Russ Reynolds and Jack Peary, the frosh team is gradually taking shape. At the present time the squad is composed of sixty men of all sizes and caliber, the smallest man weighing only one hundred and twenty-five pounds.

The merit of the team can not be ascertained at this early date, most of the time having been spent in dummy scrimmages against the varsity, using the parts of the varsity's coming opponents. However, the frosh can boast of a heavy line, and a backfield that is fast and clever. Plays have recently been issued and within a few days the squad will take shape.

In early scrimmages Kobs has been using a line-up consisting of Ballenger, and Bremer ends; Hunt and Malow, tackles; Campana and Klemmer, guards; Burkey, center; Egan, quarterback; Colek and Dudley, half backs; Kowalek, full back. To supplement these, he has Morse, Ewing, Harris, Norman, and a host of other good ball players.

Next Wednesday the frosh take the field against the freshman team of Central State Teachers college, the game being played at East Lansing. On October 15, they tangle with the reserves, following which they journey to Kalamazoo on November 3 to skirmish with the Western State frosh. The finale is the inter-squad game to be played on November 13.

WOODCROFT TEAM PLAYS AT ARMORY

State Polo Squad Plays Flint Team Tonight.

The Woodcroft polo team of Flint will play the cavalry R. O. T. C. at Demonstration hall, East Lansing at 7:30 p. m.

The Woodcroft team is composed of Hothorn at No. 1, M. Donald at No. 2 and Monk at No. 3. They will bring their own string of horses for the game. The R. O. T. C. team will consist of Wallace Clark, Robert Weber and Donald Freshour. These men had all had one season of competition and will be able to give the veteran Woodcroft team a good game.

A second game will be played by the 119th field artillery team and a team consisting of Private Joe Lee, Sergeant Eddie Secour and Gerald Peterson. Capt. David A. Taylor of the cavalry division will referee the game.

The general admission is 25 cents per person, with students admitted for 15 cents if accompanied by their student books. These are the first games of the season and should prove to be good ones. The college polo team played the Flint team last year and won two games from them.

will be throwing them from start to finish.

Wagner and Daalgreen both played last year and were a strong factor in the State victory. Zander is back, ably assisted by Julius Sieder, and with Joe Hazards and Vince Vanderberg available at the center post, Bachman's line will be at the peak of strength.

Michigan had no Ward this year. He was the only star the Wolverines could find from last year's game. Viergreen was at a tackle post, and Savage also was in the game. Pataneil took care of an end post during part of the affair, and will hold down that post again.

State saw little of the starting Wolverine backfield in last year's tussle. Renner was out, and Ritchie and Cooper were freshmen. Everhardus at that time wasn't considered on a par with the other backs.

If Warmbein and Sebo are considered able to start, Bachman will have little excuse to offer in case of a defeat. All Spartan followers are hoping they will be in there. The student body is practically migrating as a body to Ann Arbor. A special train is being run, leaving Lansing at 11:3 a. m. and scores of other students are motoring down.

The military band will be on hand to provide musical inspiration. Practically the entire car stands in the stadium will be crowded with Green and White posters.

SPORTORIALS

By HARRY WISMER, Sports Editor

Due to the fine work of our business manager, Larry Hutchinson, the page this week is pretty well filled up with ads, and so my dear friends and fans of Michigan State college, as Bob Murphy would say, I offer you a sports column in short pants.

Yes, tomorrow is the day of days and we want to see you all there... win or lose we have a great team and a fine bunch of boys out there representing this institution... they need your support... give it to them.

The injury situation is no better... Warmbein and Edwards are definitely out of the game... a tough break for State, but it is the breaks of the game... the men will be in there battling every second, and you fans are bound to catch a glimpse of some real action tomorrow afternoon.

This evening at 6:45 there will be a pep meeting in front of the gym... the coaches will speak as well as a number of players. Be there and show your club that you are loyal Spartans as well as loyal Spartans. Bring along your best voice and your best girl, if you've got one.

Coach Bachman and Ralph Young are in Detroit this afternoon attending the Michigan State-Michigan luncheon. They returned at three P. M. in time for this afternoon's final drill. Fielding H. Vost and Harry Kipke were also there.

BACHMAN

Did you know that yesterday L. J. Edmond and Ralph Young attended the World Series game in Detroit... also that this is one of the busiest weeks the athletic office has ever had... that more tickets have been sold already for tomorrow's clash than were sold all last year... that radio station WJAR will give a telegraphic report of the game over the station with location at the Mackay... and that WJIM will handle it direct to your car... that the Detroit Lions are playing in Brooklyn this Sunday... that Eddie Kowalski is a valued member of the Lions... that Thomas Emmett, publicity manager of the Lions is one of the best in the land... that State has one of the best conditioned teams to be found any place in the country.

That Kurt Warmbein has scored three touch-downs against Michigan in the last two years... and that they are the only three that have been scored by the Spartans against the Wolverines over a period of some 16 to 18 years... that Lou Faral's by their jump up from Hammett each week to see the Iron Duke in action... that Russ Reynolds last year's star quarterback is back in school this fall and is aiding the freshman and Coach Kobs... Russ was one of the best... that the experts give State the edge in the game tomorrow... that this evening at 7:15 the Peoples Finance Bank Mr. Joe Greene, present Coach Charlie Bachman, John Hannah and old man Colonel J. P. K. are going just lands here on a trip from Kentucky. The broadcast will feature the State-Michigan game, and also predictions of Saturday's big football game.

...The... Sideline Coach

MASK?

Honest, those things that approach quietly and hop up in spots bother here and there, have seeped into the notice of the old coach to the effect that those Michigan boys are ready to spring a M. X. on us. It's an old form of intrigue. Halfway some Joe is being a triple-threat, slippery-tipped, phantom figure who is so much better than the other lads that he is the obvious one to watch during the afternoon.

Then along about the third play, spring their new sensation, an unknown who has been groomed to the enemy type of defense, to pick the weaknesses in the opposing line and win on the element of surprise.

Look at the Rose Bowl game last January. Stanford had made all preparations to check the running game of the Alabama backfield, Dixie Howell in particular. Came the game and who got the points? A darn good end by the name of Don Hutten, who had been overlooked as a scoring threat, and he caught a few of Howell's passes.

No, Renner won't be the top hand on the backfield of Mr. Kipke, though he be captain and quarterback. It will pay to watch those promising sophomores—Cooper, Lutinski, and their ilk.

Two factions have sprung up over an ostensibly simple question. A wave of cockiness, it seems, has swept the campus concerning the year's biggest tilt with the Wolverines. Feeling is bound to run high, boastfulness and braggadocio are sure to crop up in the picture somewhere when two closely matched teams are due to clash; but, moderation is good in all things.

One group contends that cockiness spells disaster.

The other faction says with conviction, be confident but not over-joyful, so, and let the team be cocky as a unit.

The old coach, after straddling the fence along with Mrs. Hogan's cat, has jumped over to the lads with the liberal view, believing that the students "Michigan fans and jags" needs some slight counseling before being admitted to the records. My the deuce, that sagacious philosopher of Tiger spirit, has this to say about it: "Thinking victory isn't too prominent. Chalkboard on the wall hold it in mind to my with a combination of cheer, hard play, the

MICHAEL PRESS TO PLAY IN MUSKOGON RECITAL

Michael Press of the violin department, conductor of the Michigan State college symphony orchestra, will give a recital at the meeting of the Muskegon Women's club at Muskegon Friday evening, October 4, with Marjorie Host as accompanist.

LONG SHOTS

Prediction... the largest crowd in the history of the game will be on hand in Ann Arbor by game time tomorrow... even a large slice of Detroit will invade the Huron valley for the tilt with their embattled Tigers last ditching at Wrigley field, Chicago.

Authorities bid you to start early as possible. Old M-16 looks like the Oklahoma land rush three hours prior to game time... and there'll be the usual quota of food divers showing the girl friend how the old man can still do 20... better not argue too many right sideways.

Baseball... it looks like the Tigers in seven as this is being written... it may be all over in four for the Cubs as you read it. Baseball is a funny game. Watch Hepp, Theiler push Hepp's ball up Main street in a wheelbarrow next week... Theiler let on the Cubs.

MORTAR BOARD DRAFTS PLANS

Work for Year Develops From Ideas Gathered at National Convention.

With the sponsoring of the All-College welcome dance last Friday, Mortar Board, national honorary for senior women, began its second year on the Michigan State college campus. The Mortar Board program for the campus this year is to be based largely on the ideas brought back from the national Mortar Board convention this summer near Asheville, N. C., which Wilma Wagenvoort, president of the local chapter, attended.

At the convention were 53 official delegates, one from each chapter, coming from every state university and several other notable colleges of the United States. The Michigan State chapter was the youngest chapter of Mortar Board and answered to the roll call of "baby chapter." All the delegates were leaders in their various activity fields and gave evidence of the wide recognition and prestige which Mortar Board has in the universities all over the country. Mortar Board members are chosen with the greatest care after a long period of elimination, and to belong to Mortar Board is the greatest honor that a girl can have in college.

The theme of the convention was built around scholarship, leadership and service, the three qualities considered in a prospective member of Mortar Board. Many colleges reported that Mortar Board chapters had developed a tutoring service and were encouraging the system of doing honor to a large group of good students rather than singling out a few brilliant ones for recognition. Several Mortar Board chapters reported that they had organized faculty-student associations which discussed campus problems and even the curriculum of their colleges. Vocational guidance programs were also sponsored by Mortar Board in some universities.

The Michigan State chapter's service program includes sponsoring parties, the spring term etiquette lectures, a scholarship loan fund, and taking a large part in the senior activities during senior week. Later in the year an activity of Mortar Board while Mortar Board was still the local honorary, Sphinx, it founded its sister society, Tower Guard, an honorary for sophomore women. Members of Mortar Board this year are: Wilma Wagenvoort, Helen Anthony, Marian Andros, Constance Matczak, Doris Reber, Anna Mae Childs, Laraine Rauls and Dorothy Langdon.

GIRLS' ASSEMBLY TO DISCUSS SECTS

Program for Term to Include Two Outside Speakers.

Campus Girls' Assembly, the Sunday noon religious group for campus women, is conducting this term a study of the world's living religions. The study will include Hinduism, Buddhism, the religions of China and Japan, Mohammedism, Judaism, and Christianity. Elva Lea Foltz is in charge of the meeting for Sunday, October 6, which will be a discussion of the animistic, fetism and Zoroastrian religions still in existence today. Two outside speakers are on the program for the term, with the remainder of the meetings conducted as student discussions.

Another major project which C. G. A. is sponsoring this term is the training course in the leadership of student discussions. Ormand Drake of the speech department will present this course in three evenings, to be held from 7 to 7:45 October 15, 22 and 29. Any student, boy or girl, who is interested in gaining knowledge of this type of leadership is welcome to attend. This course will be especially of value to members of Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Students' Christian Union, and Campus Girls' Assembly.

New York university has received more than 10,000 books during the past few months through the activities of the Society for the Libraries.

CORRECTION

The following paragraph appeared in the article on the attendance system last week: "No student will receive a grade in any subject in which he is absent, for any reason, three times the number of class meetings per week. That is, if your class meets three times a week, you will be allowed a total of eight absences. This total includes both cuts and 'unexcused absences.' A student is allowed to have a total of three times his class meets per week, minus one, providing the number of cuts is not equal to twice the amount of class meetings per week. For a class meeting five times a week, he could have five cuts and three 'unexcused absences' and still not get a W. A." The above paragraph is incorrect and should have the following correction: The word "excused absences" should be substituted for the word "unexcused absences" in both instances.

LIBRARY BUYS UNIQUE CAMERA

In November, 1934, the Bibliofilm service was inaugurated for the purpose of decreasing the inter-library loans of books by supplying directly to individuals copies of scientific articles, and to extend the use of the resources of the library to isolated scientific workers without adequate library facilities.

A camera, specially designed by Dr. R. H. Draeger, is used in taking pictures of different bulletins which are sent by the library of the United States department of agriculture located at Washington, D. C. to state college libraries throughout the country. As many as 1,000 pages can be photographed in an hour.

The libraries receiving these films must be equipped, however, with a magnifier adapted for direct reading. These magnifiers are provided with an eight power lens and handle, and shade for the eye not used in peering into the instrument.

The college library now has one of these magnifiers and a few films. Jackson F. Towne, librarian, predicts a great future for the film service, pointing out the saving in postage made possible by the light-weight film and the durability of the material.

HARRIER COACH HAS TWO TEAMS

Lauren Brown Puzzled Over Picking Five Best Out of Ten Good Men.

With only one week to go before the opening of the cross country season, Coach Lauren P. Brown is still looking for the five best men on his harrier squad. There are ten men on the team who are all good runners, good enough to make the varsity in any school in the country, but the problem as to who is the best is still puzzling.

After two weeks of hard practice, the Spartans are raring to go on the brittle paths, through the woods and anywhere that x-country races are run. This coming Friday will mark the zero hour so far as candidates for the team are concerned. On that day will be held the all-college run, the results of which run will determine who runs under the green and white in the first contest with other schools.

Captain Bechtold and Nelson Gardner are the two men who are conceded a place on the team. Both are veterans of last year's championship team and Bechtold was on the IC4A trophy winners the year before. These men are wise to the ways of the cruel cross country world and are counted on to be well up in front in all their races this year.

The outstanding men on the team besides the two already mentioned are Waite, Green, Boss, Sparks, Dennis, and Hills. This is by no means the order in which they are expected to finish however.

The freshman team this year looks good but as yet there has been no outstanding person on the squad. The frosh will have several meets this year with other schools and will get more seasoning as the fall goes on.

TALK DIRECTOR NAMED BY CBS

Edw. R. Murrow, Experienced Educator, to Coordinate Current Issue Broadcasts.

In a desire to coordinate its broadcasts on current issues and to centralize these increasingly important operations, the Columbia Broadcasting system today announced the appointment of Edward R. Murrow as director of radio talks.

Mr. Murrow comes to Columbia with a wide experience in educational work, both as an organizer and administrator. His familiarity with university and student problems, his association with national and community enterprises and his past experience in developing many broadcast programs, ably equip him for this work.

For the past four years Mr. Murrow was the assistant director of the Institute of International Education. In this position he made frequent studies of many American and European centers.

He assumed his new responsibilities with the Columbia network on September 20, having returned from an extensive trip to England and Europe where he observed at first hand the many national and civic problems, as they concerned broadcasting in those countries.

HORT GRADUATES SECURE POSITIONS

Two Receive Instructorships; Other Goes With N. Y. Firm.

George W. Woodbury, who was graduated from here with a major in landscape gardening in 1927 and who took his master's degree in horticulture here in 1931, and who has been serving as assistant professor of horticulture in the Texas Technological college, Lubbock, for the last three years, has gone to the University of Idaho as associate professor of horticulture and research assistant.

O. B. Howell, who was graduated from State with a major in horticulture in 1931 and who took his master's degree here with a major in botany in 1932, has gone to Texas Technological college to replace Mr. Woodbury. C. E. Russell, who was graduated from M. S. C. in 1926, is now head of the department of horticulture in Texas Technological college at Lubbock.

L. E. Tompkins, who was a 1933 State graduate with a major in horticulture, and who has had a fellowship in Washington State college and received his master's degree there this last June, has just taken a position in the sales organization of the General Chemical company, New York city. He will have as his territory nine midwest states with headquarters in Chicago.

Parents and even grand-parents are now given the opportunity to take regular college courses and earn university degrees in afternoon study under a new adult education plan developed at the University of Southern California.

COLEMAN TO GIVE GAME OVER WKAR

Director of College Station to Give Telegraphic Report.

Tomorrow's clash with the Wolverines will be given to you fans over WKAR, the college station, via a telegraphic report. Bob Coleman, director of the station will be at the Mike giving you a snappy play by play description of the battle.

Other games on the State schedule are to be broadcast also during the course of the fall season. The Kansas game next Saturday will be on the air with Harry Wismer at the mike.

When you are unable to attend these college games tune in on station WKAR and get the latest dope on your football team.

SPARTAN GRIDDERS READY FOR MICHIGAN

(Continued from page 1) claim that Renner is a better passer than either Bennie Friedman or Harry Newman. On top of that the Wolverines are better fortified in the backfield with such outstanding men as Bob Cooper, Stark Ritchie and Cedric Sweet, all set to do yeoman service along with the valuable Renner.

Michigan also has some new and faster men up there on their forward wall—men who can really get up and go. Psychology favors the Wolverines this fall just as it favored State last year, due to the fact that this year Michigan is the underdog and we are the favorite. Overconfidence has lost many a football game these past 5 years.

The contest meaning so much to both schools as it does is bound to be one of the hottest games of football played on any American college gridiron this entire fall. The Michigan men are seeking revenge and realize that another defeat at the hands of the Spartans is likely to result in another bad year for Kipke and Co.

The advance ticket sale for this game has been the greatest it has been in years and from all indications there should be a crowd of some 35,000 to 40,000 people on hand for the opening kickoff. Michigan State's fine band is going down en masse for the game and will furnish the afternoon's music along with the university organization. The band is also traveling by bus and will get under way around 10:15.

A great number of students are taking the buses down, and others are going by car and train. All in all a fine representation of State college students is in the offing for this game of games.

The probable starting lineup for the Spartans is as follows: Zarza and Allman at ends; Zundel and Sieder at tackles; Wagner and Dahlgren at guards; Buzzolts at center; Colina at quarterback; Aggett and Sebo at the halves and Brandstatter at fullback. Men who are likely to get in the game before it is very far along are such performers as Kuhne, O'Malley, Ziegel, Neuman, Halbert, Howard Swartz, Vince Vandenberg, Mike Wilson, Paul Beaubien, Don Wiseman, and a few others who have been showing promise in the delly. Has written quite extensively, and has had articles published in many periodicals of the calibre of the Atlantic Monthly, Nation, the New Republic and the Literary Review. He also taught four years at Lafayette college, in Pennsylvania. C. C. Hamilton of Pittsburgh, Pa., a graduate of Cornell, has also been given an instructorship. Mr. Hamilton received his Ph.D. at the University of Pittsburgh. He has had some years of teaching at the University of Pittsburgh also.
