

Spartans Will Get Cash Awards, Cups At Convo Thursday

Classes Will be Dismissed So All May Attend Annual Event in Gymnasium; Dr. Henderson of Ann Arbor Will Speak.

Spartan Achievement Day, when Michigan State students are awarded the honors they have earned in the past year, will be held in the college gymnasium Thursday, March 11, from 10:00 until 12:00 o'clock. This is the only general convocation of its kind held on the campus, and classes will be excused during these hours to allow students to attend.

Heretofore, the convocation has been for one hour only, but it was considered that this amount of time was inadequate to meet the demands of the program planned, and was for this reason changed.

Dr. W. D. Henderson, director of the experiment station at the University of Michigan, will be the principal speaker. Doctor Henderson is well known throughout the state, having talked at practically every Michigan high school. He has made quite a name for himself as a speaker, and is anticipated as being an excellent feature of the convocation.

For the greater part, the awards to be given are monetary in nature. These groups or persons presenting or endorsing a sum of money are: Marantha Judson, W. S. Seyer, Chi Omega, Michigan State Veterinary Medical association, Anna E. Bayha, Lansing Zoneneisen and Louise H. Champell. The Alpha Zeta cup, the Arnold G. School-Beta Sigma oil painting, the Interfraternity Council cup, Tau Beta Pi slide rule, the Sander award cup, and the Xi Sigma Pi cups are other awards to be given.

The awards will be presented by the deans of the divisions to which the prizes are given. Recipients will be announced beforehand, and was announced by F. T. Mitchell, dean of men, yesterday. They will, however, be notified, in order that they may be present to receive their prizes.

Plan Union Dance For Next Friday

Nate Frye's Orchestra Will Play for Event.

The ballroom, Friday night, March 12, from 9:00 to 12:00, will be the scene of another Union all-college dance.

Nate Frye's orchestra, which has proved popular with the many Union party crowds, will again furnish the music.

The party will be informal, as usual, and the duets will sell for the customary 40 cents per person, 80 cents per couple.

The dance will be the last one which the Union will hold this term, as the Friday following, March 19, comes just prior to final week.

Tickets will be on sale at the Union desk, and those planning to attend had better get theirs early, as the usual formal party will not be held downtown, thus insuring a greater demand.

However, late deciders will be allowed to enter. The last formal of the season, the sophomore prom, is being held Saturday night, the 13th, instead of on Friday, as is the usual practice.

Members of the social service group of Y. W. C. A. are asked to hand in their scrap books by Thursday, March 11.

Soph's Band Is Favorite On Continent

Noble Sissle, Negro Maestro, Had Many Engagements in Europe.

Noble Sissle, whose versatility and uniqueness in dance entertainment have won international recognition for him, brings his band and featured entertainers to the Schomore Prom at the Masonic Temple on Saturday, March 13.

Acclaimed the idol of Europe and the favorite of society throughout America as well, through engagements at the Les Ambassadeurs in Paris, Ciro's club in London, Hotel d'Paris in Monte Carlo, and the French Casino in New York, Sissle is at present engaged in a tour of the mid-west following a record breaking engagement at the Palace theater in Chicago.

Does Not Use Baton
Performing seemingly meaningless gyrations with his nimble fingers, Sissle forsakes the baton while conducting his musicians.

It is this trait, producing as it does the soothing albeit staccato rhythms that seem to hypnotize his listeners which has earned him the sobriquet, "Mesmerist of Melody."

The internationally famous leader brings with him the same array of entertainers who received the plaudits of Europe and who more recently graced the spotlight of New York society's popular night spot where they were featured over NBC.

Billy Banks, a master in the art of mimicry, and Edna May Harris head the list of Sissle's troupe. Banks' rendition of "the man on the flying trapeze" is a classic, while he's no less amusing with his crooning and tap dancing.

Leader Is Versatile
While being able to afford entertainment of every type for all classes of listeners, Sissle does not confine his talents to music alone.

Sale Opens Monday
Through the Soph party is a week away, Jeff Gough, general chairman, announced that over 100 tickets have been sold. Sophomores have first opportunity on the tickets until Monday, after that the duets may be purchased by the other classes.

If present details are ironed out, the party will be broadcast over WJHM.

Hays Says Work on Spartan More Fun Than Three Dates

Jimmie Says That Long Hours of Work Are Worth It; Publication's Future Assured.

By Gerald Winter
"I have more fun making up the Spartan dummy before turning it over to the printer than I do on three dates put together," Jimmy Hays, general managing editor of the new college serio-comic magazine, declared in an interview Tuesday.

Hays, president of the Press club which sponsors the Spartan, told how he really enjoys working on the magazine, even when it keeps him up into the dawning hours of the morning. He said he thought the rest of the staff found the work equally interesting.

This year is being given over to feeling out what features the students like, Hays asserted. "We look for the circulation to pick up with change of the content of the magazine," he said, declaring that the final aim is to put sales on a subscription basis. According to present plans, the magazine will be enlarged during the spring term, and a combination Water Carnival program and Spartan will be put out in June.

Art Work Excellent
The staff of the magazine is not under the Board of Publications as yet," the editor pointed out, stating that the matter would be settled at the next meeting of the Board. The staff consists of a group of Press club members working with Lloyd H. Geil, of the Journalism department, who has acted as faculty adviser. Speaking of the Spartan's art staff, Hays stated that "the best ability on the campus is corralled in our art department." He made particular reference to Oscar ("Oz") Warbach, whom he described as "a real find." Warbach has been doing work as a cartoonist and caricaturist for the magazine.

Conceived Year Ago
The idea of the Press club sponsoring a magazine was first suggested by James Hughes, a member of the class of 1936, and the club's president that year, the editor asserted. When Hays succeeded Hughes as president this year, work was begun on the idea for a serio-comic monthly to follow along the lines of the present Spartan. When the first issue came out in December, it was the first officially-sponsored magazine to be issued since the "Green Onion" of ten years ago.

The Spartan's success in the future, Hays believes, is further insured by the large amount of national advertising which it is carrying, and by the satisfaction which advertisers are showing in the magazine.

Swing With Indeps and Hot Music Saturday

Saturday night
A good band.
A cheap date.
Little theatre.
Independence hop.
Semi-formal open.

And what's more, Fred Arnold, general chairman, announces the further reduction to 110 couples of a limit previously set at 140.

Bob Mitchell has announced the patron and guest list. Dr. and Mrs. Mallman and Dr. and Mrs. Johnson will be patrons. The guests will be Dr. Mitchell, Dr. Roseboom, C. D. Hall, Miss Sater, Mr. Caniff, Bill Genne, Dr. Thorpe, Deans Dye, Emmons, Dirks, Gilmer, Bessy, Huston, Conrad, and President Shaw.

Tickets will be sold to the public for 80 cents a couple at the Union desk and the Smoke Shop. Members having membership cards will be admitted for 60 cents.

This is the Independent Men's league's principal social function of the term. Music will be furnished by "Red" Drennan who has, the independents claim, the "hottest band on the campus."

Prof Gee Finds Grads at Work

All Are Satisfied With Their Jobs.

Under the direction of Professor E. A. Gee, of the economics department, a letter and questionnaire were recently sent to each of the eighty-five business administration and economics majors who graduated last year. Of the seventy replies received to date, all reported that they were employed in some capacity.

Accountancy and sales, and their branches, employ a majority of the 1936 graduates. The number in these types of work are twenty-five and twenty, respectively. Clerical and office work claim twelve of the number, while four are engaged in the small loan financing business.

The production side of manufacturing is responsible for the positions of two more, and two are also burying themselves in graduate study. Three have found jobs in the Army and Marine Corps, and personnel work and journalism each employ one.

According to Professor Gee this is an especially optimistic report because it indicates that an exceptionally large per cent of the people are employed in work for which they had specifically prepared. In direct contrast to the graduates of the Depression period, most of the reports received this year state that the people are very well satisfied with their positions.

Y.W.C.A. Presents One-Act Plays

Celia Merrill, Bonstelle Assistant, is the Director.

The Y. W. C. A. will present two one-act plays at an open meeting Wednesday, March 10, at 7:15 p. m. in the Social hall of Peoples church. This is the first time the dramatics group, of the Y. W. C. A. has ever attempted to put on a play for the public outside of the one given annually at the May Morning breakfast.

Celia Merrill, member of the junior cabinet, is directing both plays. Since she has worked under the famous Jessie Bonstelle in Detroit and has had previous experience in play production, she is particularly capable of directing these plays.

The dramatics group has been very active this year. There are five other plays in rehearsal now according to Myrtle Patton, chairman of the group and member of the senior cabinet. These will be presented as soon as they are ready.

The meeting Wednesday night will constitute the all-membership meeting for March. Each Y. W. C. A. member is to bring a friend to make this "Guest Night."

Writer Says Fear of War Is Not Great

French Correspondent Claims France is Well on Recovery Road.

In his lecture here Wednesday evening Count Raul de Roussey de Sales described graphically France's ascent from depression, giving those political events leading her return to prosperity as well as portraying the social unrest in France when her business cycle was at its lowest ebb. He also spoke of the improbability of European war, saying that few European countries would be ready for war within the next two years.

The phenomenal recovery of French industry Count de Sales illustrated through reference to the streets of Paris. "Six months ago," he said, "those streets were vacant, but today they are crowded with traffic jams such as I, a Parisian, have never seen."

Reached Depths in '36
French social unrest, according to de Sales, was greatest six months ago when the depression hit its lowest point. At that time communist and fascist factions in French politics agitated continually, staging demonstrations and parades throughout the country.

Those radicals were, however, as de Sales pointed out, greatly in the minority, numbering only two million or one-twentieth of the population. The radicals did not want to run the country, but merely to improve the democratic government which they deemed rotten.

The government was changed when radical and conservative alike joined in forming the present "Popular Front," headed by le Blum. The speaker pointed out that le Blum's recent activities have closely paralleled the American new deal. The banking system was made more democratic, and working hours were shortened.

Discusses Sit Down
The sit-down strike idea, he explained, has been even more popular in France than in the United States. He told of how workmen in factories and stores throughout France struck together and tied up the nation's business.

That sit-down strike was settled in 24 hours by le Blum, and there have been no major labor disturbances since.

Fears of war, with Germany have been forgotten in France within recent months, de Sales continued. He said that the French are now quite confident that Great Britain will come to her aid if a conflict should arise.

But the speaker emphasized his point that there is no immediate danger of war in Europe by saying that most countries are so unprepared that they will fight only if invaded.

State Will Debate Notre Dame Squad

Belen and O'Hara Will Represent MSC Monday.

A debate, team from Notre Dame will meet Michigan State in a debate held Monday night, March 8, at eight o'clock in the Union ballroom, to which the public is invited. Mr. McMonagle, coach of men's debate squad, announced that State will be represented by Fred Belen and Donald O'Hara.

State will debate on the affirmative side of the proposition, "Resolved: That Congress should be empowered to fix minimum wages and maximum hours for industry," while Notre Dame will uphold the negative.

This is one of the few debates scheduled to be held on campus this season. Notre Dame has a good reputation in debating, and it is expected that this contest will prove very interesting. A decision will be made at the close of the debate.

The Lutheran Students' Club will meet Sunday, March 7, in room 109, Peoples church. The meeting is scheduled for 6:30 p. m.

Campus Group Will Present Vocational Lecture Course At Opening of Spring Term

Girls Learn Siren Ways

Personality Clinic to Meet in Little Theatre on Monday.

Do men look at you twice? "If they don't, and you want to do something about it, let the Home Economics Club Clinic have the fun of helping you. We answer lots of questions about this and that, and have decided to go into the business. We'll tell you things your best friends never notice. Things like the type of hat that brings out the gypsy in you, and doesn't just keep your head warm, things like whether your voice has a come-hither quality, or whether it is the sort that frightens small children, things like minimizing your eagle beak to call attention to the light in your eyes, and lots of others, if you can "take it."

We have loads of bright ideas bursting to be used, and maybe they are just what you need to make a new woman out of you. Won't you guide us in our enthusiastic plans for reform, by checking our list of subjects that we may offer help in?

So reads the questionnaire to be sent out by the Home Ec. Club. They are anxious to answer the requests of the Liberal Arts and other groups for the past several years in offering assistance in Grooming, Posture, Voice, Cosmetics, Applying for a Job, Personality Traits, Clothes for occasions, Hair, "Biancament," "Plumpies" and "Thinies," Glasses, Hats, Etiquette, Accessories, General Overhauling, and the like.

The first real meeting of this clinic will be held Monday night at eight o'clock together with the regular Home Ec. Club meeting. Miss Tom Taylor of the McCall magazine will speak in "The Charming Hostess." This will be in the Little Theatre. All of those interested are urged to come. Further announcements will be given at the meeting.

Issue Questionnaires
With official sanction granted by the college authorities, questionnaires will be handed out through classes in the divisions of the college. These questionnaires will contain lists of occupations which the student might be interested in, and he will be asked to check those he would like to hear discussed.

The freshman physical education lectures will also be canvassed by the committee in charge, both for men and women students.

One of Biggest Student Undertakings Now Being Planned to Aid Students; Questionnaires to be Handed Out Next Week; Sponsored by Students.

Sponsored entirely by student organizations, a widespread Vocational Conference Lecture course will be offered to the students of Michigan State college within the first few weeks of spring term.

According to tentative plans announced here yesterday by the student committee in charge of the program, Dr. T. Luther Purdon of all-college convocation. Devised to provide help to all students, a comprehensive schedule has been arranged in which thirty or forty of the most prominent men in industry and business throughout the state will be brought to the campus. They will meet with groups of students throughout a two-day period, explaining the different phases of their particular vocation.

Unlike other vocational courses, this one is described as one in which only specific fundamentals of each vocation will be discussed. It is hoped in this way that the student will get much more helpful information than in any other way, and will furnish him with a practical knowledge of the field he wishes to study while in college.

Behind the movement are the following campus organizations: A. W. S., Student Council, Mortar Board, and Blue Key national fraternity. Representatives of each group have been working on the program, and have it advanced far enough now for reference to the students.

With official sanction granted by the college authorities, questionnaires will be handed out through classes in the divisions of the college. These questionnaires will contain lists of occupations which the student might be interested in, and he will be asked to check those he would like to hear discussed.

The freshman physical education lectures will also be canvassed by the committee in charge, both for men and women students.

Press Plays at Kansas Convo

Violinist is Guest Artist for Music Teachers.

Michael Press, head of the violin division of the music department of Michigan State college, was guest artist at the twenty-ninth annual convention of the Kansas State Music Teachers' association held this past week.

Mr. Press spent the entire week in Kansas, making his first stop at Lawrence where the University of Kansas is located. There he met many of the professors at the University and had a fine opportunity to visit their music department. He was so warmly received there that he decided to hold his rehearsals with his accompanist there.

Arriving at the Kansas State College on Thursday, Mr. Press gave his first recital before the convention audience, made up of students and teachers of music from all over the state.

The following day he conducted a master violin class for interested students attending the convention and was so in demand that he had to repeat the class later in the day.

Among other artists who appeared on the convention program were Rudolph Ganz, eminent pianist; Herbert Gould, baritone; and W. Otto Miesner, authority on public school music.

A. W. S. Will Send Two Girls West

Shaw, Farley to Attend Convention.

Jane Shaw and Nancy Farley are representing Michigan State college at the national A. W. S. convention which is being held at the University of Southern California at Los Angeles during spring vacation.

Jane is co-chairman of a discussion of problems in campus living. The group will discuss the problems of social democracy, cheating and drinking. This will be one of several groups all of which are coordinated with the theme of the convention "Does This Fortell a Nobler Race?"

The girls are planning to go by the Southern Pacific route and hope to be able to spend several days touring the state. During the convention, which lasts from March 31 to April 3, sight-seeing trips and other entertainment as well as the discussions have been planned.

State Orators Are In State Contest

Two Michigan State orators went to the oratorical contest held in Detroit at Wayne University Friday, March 5. In the women's contest, held in the afternoon, State was represented by Jean Stoltz, whose oration is entitled "Civilization—Why?" Robert Refior gave an oration entitled "Titanic Indifference" in the men's contest in the evening. Both speakers were coached by Mr. Fischer of the speech department. The contest will be judged by the different coaches, each rating all except his own contestants. Fifteen Michigan colleges are eligible to send representatives.

Formal Season Marches On To Dick Jurgens and His Band

Societies Combine To Present Major Party This Evening

Rachel Minges, Pan-Hellenic Head, and Jack Hamann, Fraternity Prexy, Will Lead Grand March With Their Respective Guests.

For the first time in Michigan State social history Interfraternity and Panhellenic councils are joining forces tonight at the Lansing Masonic temple to present one of the most important parties of the formal season. In the person of Dick Jurgens and his Hotel Drake orchestra, the two Greek letter groups have one of the best known dance bands that has appeared here this year.

Jurgens and his crew of 14 players promise a program that is a combination of both "sweet" and "swing" tunes. Several novelties will be included. The band is composed entirely of young men, all of them college graduates and many of them collegiate football players.

A huge star, radiating the Greek letters I. F. C. and P. H. C. will adorn the back of the orchestra shell. Figures of a college man and a co-ed will flank the stage. Red, green, and blue neon tubing will be used in the columns on either side of the shell. The programs are green and white celluloid and bear the portraits of a co-ed wearing a tiara, and her guest in a top hat.

There will be a broadcast of the party over station WJIM between 8 and 10:30. This will be followed immediately by the grand march.

Leading the grand march will be Rachel Minges, president of Panhellenic council, and her escort, George Daniels. President and Mrs. Robert S. Shaw will follow Jack Hamann, president of Interfraternity council, and his guest, Gus Sherman, will be next in the Alice Goddard and Rex Lamerson, co-chairmen of the party, will follow with Bart Collins and Ann Nugent, respectively. The star committee co-chairmen and finally the guests at the party will up behind these leaders.

Guests at the party will include Dean and Mrs. F. T. Bell and Prof. and Mrs. C. H. ...

North Hall

Masquerade costumes of every description were worn, by North Hall girls Thursday night when a costume party was given at the dormitory under the direction of Dorothy Track, social chairman. Singing, tap dancing, and a humorous skit were presented for the entertainment of the girls.

Laurine Endleman will go to Detroit this week-end to be the guest of Leila Gunnison. Harriet Gibson and Wilma Fritz will visit their families in Northville and St. Clair, respectively.

Mrs. B. E. Trombly visited her daughter, Jean Westgate, last Sunday. Jane Cordner and Mary Walsh are going to Detroit this week-end. Margaret Anger will go home to Detroit this week-end and her parents will drive her to East Lansing Sunday.

Janet O'Hara was a guest at dinner Wednesday night. Nancy Glasgow visited at her home in Detroit last Saturday and Sunday.

Delta Alpha

Verna Bailey and Clara May Wetherby spent Sunday at Clara's home in Clark lake.

Among the alumnae who returned for formal party Saturday evening and the meeting at the chapter house in the afternoon were Edna Ossenheimer, Betty Spicer, Lorna Lange, Ruth Henry, Adine Prentice, Marian Megelchick, Jean Cobb, Esther Ostrum, and Gladys Joughlin.

Alice Vivian was the guest of honor at a dinner honoring her twenty-first birthday Monday evening at the house.

Mrs. Helen Halliday and son Jack of Sylvania, Ohio, called on her mother Mrs. S. Leonard, Delta Alpha housemother, Monday afternoon.

Chi Omega

Officers for the coming year were elected at the meeting Monday night. The following girls were chosen: president, Connie Blakely; vice-president, June Dean; secretary, Jane Shaw; treasurer, Betty Sears; pledge, Elaine, Marjorie Tribe; social chairman, Diana Young; corresponding secretary, Beatrice Robertson; house president, Mary Frances Smith; and Panhellenic representative, Eileen McCurdy and Jane Geare.

Chi Omegas will entertain faculty women and wives of department heads at their annual faculty tea on Sunday. Connie Blakely is general chairman.

Grace Johnston and Betty Sears spent the week-end at home. Shirley Ellis spent Friday night in Lansing as the guest of Dorothy Lewis.

Donna Russell graduates this week for the second time. She has been going in for ag short courses.

Zeta Tau Alpha

Monday night election of officers was held with the following results: president, Elizabeth Ann Brenner of Lansing; vice-president, Mildred Moldenhauer of Lansing; treasurer, Janet Fretz of Detroit; secretary, Dorothea Smith of Lansing.

Louise Mills was Jean Baum's luncheon guest Wednesday noon. Phyllis Rathlow and Dorothy Luesz were guests for Wednesday dinner at Jean Sandhammer and Margaret Holchin. Thursday evening a rushing dinner was given. Janet Fretz and Jane Meadows spent the week-end in Detroit.

Tea and Toast

By Ma Grundy's Granddaughter

The Interfraternity-Panhellenic dance tonight is not the only highlight on the social program for the week-end. "No fuss and feathers" is the motto of the Independent Men's League has attached to the Hop they are staging in the Little Theater tomorrow night. The affair is semi-formal, and Red Drennan's orchestra will play.

Two Greek letter societies are holding their term dinner dances at the Olds. Delta Sigs have theirs scheduled for tonight; the S. A. E.'s Saturday and the Hermians will have theirs tomorrow night in the Union. Pi Kaps have a radio party planned for Saturday. Xi Sigma Pi, forestry honorary, is having a similar party in the foresters cabin. Delta Chi pledges have chosen "If I had the wings of an angel" as their theme song; they are holding (of all things) a prison party tomorrow night.

Tower Guards are holding a reception in the Women's building parlors tomorrow afternoon from 3 until 5 o'clock for alumnae, honorary members, and members of Mortar Board. In the receiving line will be Gertrude Brummelhoff, president of Tower Guard, Jean Ballard, president of Mortar Board, Mrs. R. S. Shaw, Dean Elisabeth Conrad, and Dean Marie Dye, honorary members of Tower Guard, and Dorothy Langdon, Helen Amerman, and Louise Langdon, past presidents of the sophomore women's honorary.

Leone Schaevey will sing, and Prof. C. G. Fulkerson will discuss modern books. Ice cream and wafers will be served.

The S. W. L. etiquette book, "We Like It Done This Way," is meeting favorable comments from the co-eds. We especially like the drawings that accompany the advice that is completely Spartanish, and only faintly Emily Post-ish. Some parts are sizzling in their implications though. Take this one for example: "It could mean a lot of things. Unfortunately, at most of our parties, very few dances are exchanged. If the girls had her way (in most cases)—but if you've a bad date you just have to make the best of it."

We might as well climb on the band-wagon with everyone else (even the Michigan Daily) and say with awe in our voices: "Q—those Hespies."

Kappa Alpha Theta

Mrs. Schultz was a dinner guest of the Alpha Phi's Sunday. A buffet supper will be held for the actives and pledges Friday night at the chapter house.

The pledges are going to give a tea at the house Sunday for the actives.

Election of officers was held Monday night. The new officers are: president, Marjorie Gilray; vice-president and pledge captain, Dorothy Taylor; scholarship chairman and recording secretary, Nancy Farley; corresponding secretary and house chairman, Vivian Knepp; treasurer, Dorothy Hasselbring; editor, Dorothy Garlock; stewardess, Betty Pratt; chaplain, Margaret Hammond; marshal, Ann Green; archivist, Kay Stringham; historian, Moira Gibson; alumni relations chairman, Julia Simmons; secretary relations chairman, Marian Hasselbring; house manager, Luella Davis; librarian, Virginia Dean; social chairman, Elizabeth Wallace; rushing captain, Betty Wilson.

East Mary Mayo

The past week-end was an exceptionally enjoyable one at East Mary Mayo. The girls were hostesses to twenty-one out-of-town girls who came chiefly for the winter formal Saturday night. Ray Vickerstaff and his orchestra played for the dance. An added attraction was the floor-show featuring Marty Vial, Bill Gladden, Helen Carso, Charles Fles, Joyce Taylor, Mary Gilliam, and Bob Tappan.

Then, according to East Mayo tradition, the girls entertained numerous guests, including twenty young men, at dinner Sunday.

Sigma Kappa

Sigma Kappa has ribboned Betty Cook, 40, Lakeside, and Nancy Tubbs, 39, Kalamazoo. Dorothy Langdon is leaving Saturday for Midland where she will take over the position of society editor on the Midland "Republican." Dotty graduated last June, and since August she has been working in the registrar's office here.

Because other people give her a hand, Roslyn Alcalay, arts college sophomore at the University of Minnesota, has few financial difficulties. She earns her living by reading palms in one of the local hotels.

115 Athletes Entered In Track Meet Here Tomorrow

List Stars To Compete For Honors

Allan Tolmich of Wayne to Defend Three Championships.

One hundred and fifteen athletes, the largest entry in recent years, will compete for honors in Michigan State's annual indoor track carnival in the gym tomorrow afternoon and evening.

The track meets will represent 11 schools with Michigan State leading the way. Athletic Director Ralph H. Young has named 28 varsity and four freshmen to participate.

Western State Teachers ranks second to State in team power with 13 varsity and three yearlings. Michigan Normal and Wayne University will look to 12 and 9 varsity men, respectively, to gain recognition. Wayne also is sending three freshmen.

Other Teams Entered

Other teams entered are Albion college, seven varsity and two freshmen; Kalamazoo and Hillsdale, six varsity each; Central State and University of Detroit, five varsity each; Detroit Tech, one varsity and five freshmen; and Grand Rapids Junior, one varsity man.

Festivities get under way at 3 o'clock. The afternoon session will see the staging of finals in only two events—the shot put and 300-yard dash.

The real fireworks takes place in the evening with activity scheduled continuously from 7 until 10 o'clock.

Although no official team championship is decided, State will be favored to retain its mythical crown won last year. Wayne University again appears as State's chief obstacle.

Rosy is Missing

Missing from the entry list are Abe Rosenkrantz and Jim Matthews, Michigan Normal's great half-mile and hurdler, respectively. Rosenkrantz will run in Chicago tomorrow, while his teammate is on the sidelines with a leg injury.

The entry does contain the names of all but one 1936 winner, Graykiewicz of Normal, who won in the 300-yard dash.

Leading the individual performers is Allen Tolmich of Wayne, who gained all of the spotlight to himself in 1936 when he finished first in both the high and low hurdles, and 40-yard dash.

Best in History

Tolmich's performance was the greatest single accomplishment in the history of the carnival.

The Wayne star should keep his hurdles titles with Matthews out, but he may find the going tough when he opposes State's Bill Greer in the 40-yard dash. Greer has been installed favorite to win the sprint.

The other champions back are Gerard Ross and Bill Smith, both of State, winners in the two-mile and shot-put, respectively, last winter. Ross, Wellwood, Wayne high jumper, and Bill Hawthorne, of Normal, pole vaulter.

SPORTORIALS

By AL THEILER, Sports Editor

When 115 athletes crowd into the gym tomorrow and put on a show for the boys and girls, it should give a pretty fair indication as to just how badly the college needs more facilities for handling such an event.

Even at these dual meets, with a limited number of events coming off at a time, the floor is still crowded by hurdlers and sprinters running through their paces; the upper deck is jammed with the distance men and relay entries, and the pole vaulters, shot putters and high jumpers are relegated to the sidelines.

Sportorials isn't going to campaign. We merely ask you to drop around tomorrow and get a look at the crowded condition. Besides, it will be a whole of a good track meet.

The greatest sport of them all will soon be with us again. With the sports pages once more beginning to fill with accounts of the southern training trips, and with the Kobsmen taking a new lease on life, there are signs of baseball in the air. April 16 is the date along the baseball in the air. Old Mr. and Mrs. America won't have to wait very much longer either. There's no sport that takes a hold on the American public as does the great American game, and the only reason most of us look forward to spring is because baseball comes with it.

April 16 is the date along the Red Cedar, four days before the big leagues knock the barrier down. It looks like a banner year.

Harry Cary and Al Brightman tomorrow afternoon should peel themselves a record or two. Swimming against Western Reserve and Wisconsin, the two of them were both well under varsity record time, but were edged out in each case. Tomorrow they swim Ohio Wesleyan, and hope that the Ohioans come up with one good back stroker and one good breast stroker—not that they want to get beat, but that they want someone who can push them over the finish line ahead of the record now plastered on the pool wall.

Changes are they'll do it tomorrow. And in the meantime, Red McNamara and Whitey Bell will try to assault the records in the 50 and 100 yard dash again. The boys really have a swim team. Come on over and watch them.

Greer in the 40-yard dash

Bill Greer in the 40-yard dash. Greer has been installed favorite to win the sprint.

The other champions back are Gerard Ross and Bill Smith, both of State, winners in the two-mile and shot-put, respectively, last winter. Ross, Wellwood, Wayne high jumper, and Bill Hawthorne, of Normal, pole vaulter.

Tankers Seek To Regain Lost Luck Saturday

Meet Ohio Wesleyan Saturday in Afternoon Meet.

Coach Jake Daubert's swimmers, defeated twice during the last week-end, will attempt to climb back on the victory wagon Saturday afternoon in the Spartan pool when they will entertain the Ohio Wesleyan natators at 1:30 p. m.

Tuesday of next week will see the Spartans in Detroit for a return meet with Wayne University, who fell victim to State's early season victory rampage in a meet at East Lansing.

Following a five-day rest, Coach Daubert's swimmers should be in top form for the Wesleyan meet. Bill Bell, who put up a great fight against Wisconsin in the final event of the meet last Monday only to lose by a hair, will be back Saturday fully recovered from a severe cold which kept him out of practice last week.

The leading Spartan record breaker, Co-captain Jim Harryman, who has lowered his marks in the 220 and 440 yard free style events twice this season, will be shooting for another set of marks Saturday against the Ohioans.

Little is known in East Lansing of the strength of the Ohioans since the two teams did not meet last season, and no notice has been received on the opponents' times for this season. However, Coach Daubert is looking for the Spartans to go back into the victory column.

State's swimmers have broken even so far on the current schedule, having won from Wayne, Cincinnati, and Case while losing to Michigan, Western Reserve and Wisconsin, the latter two being among the best swimming meets ever seen in the Spartan tank.

Six Big Ten Foes Booked This Spring

Spartans Also Schedule Notre Dame, Nebraska for Diamond Games.

Athletic Director Ralph H. Young today announced the most elaborate schedule in history for Michigan State's 1937 baseball team.

In all, the Spartans will play 26 games, seven on their annual southern trip which gets under way in three weeks and the remaining 19 during the regular campaign to start April 16. Games with six Big Ten teams, Notre Dame and the University of Nebraska feature the strong schedule. State will play Michigan, Ohio State, Iowa and Wisconsin in double headers while facing Northwestern and Indiana in single encounters.

Irish are Coming

The Notre Dame Irish are booked for a pair of games, coming here May 1, and playing hosts to the Spartans at South Bend, May 26.

Nebraska will appear in East Lansing, June 12, Alumni Day, to help State ring down the curtain on the season's play.

In addition the Spartans have carded their annual home and home series with Toledo, Western State and Michigan Normal to round out a well-balanced spring.

The team will start south three weeks from tomorrow and play its first game at Newberry College in South Carolina on March 29. Coach John Kobe still is dickering for a game to be played the following day.

Duke is Scheduled

Other games down south are with Duke, North Carolina, Elon College, Wake Forest and Ohio University.

Toledo University will be here April 16 to assist State in the opening game of the regular season. Wisconsin plays on Old College field the Thursday and Friday and then State takes to the road April 29 to engage Western State at Kalamazoo.

Notre Dame is in town May 1, and Western State comes here for a return game on May 6. Two days later the Indiana Hoosiers tackle the Spartans here.

Four in Row

Then follows four games in as many days for State as the team plays Northwestern here May 12; Toledo at Toledo, May 13; and two games at Ohio State on May 14 and 15.

Michigan Normal supplies the home opposition May 22, and after going to Notre Dame, May 26, State returns here to do battle with Michigan in the annual highlight of the home season, May 29.

The return game with Michigan is slated for Ann Arbor, May 31. State goes to Ypsilanti for its final road game of the year, May 5. Iowa plays its annual double-header here June 7 and 8 and the season closes with Nebraska as the attraction four days later.

Snyder's Corners Whip Bakersboro

Snyder's Corners, Independent football champs, advanced to the final-playoff in basketball by defeating Bakersboro last Tuesday night 10 to 5. In the other half of the semi-finals the Hometowners were scheduled to play Bealtown but due to unknown reasons forfeited their game.

Snyder's Corners looked impressive in their win over Bakersboro. Harold Papzer of the winners was high-point man with six points. This game was featured with its rough play. No one played it that way deliberately but spills and bumpings were many. Both teams had a better defense than offense. George Cook's alert defense for the winners assisted in holding the losers. Russell Olin played an outstanding game for Bakersboro.

Next Tuesday night Snyder's Corners will tangle with Bealtown in the Independent finals. Bealtown is the favorite to walk off with the championship due to their balanced squad and expert ball handling.

Fresh Scribes Note

All freshmen who desire to write sports for the Michigan State News are asked to report Monday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock in the News office in the basement of the Union annex. There are several openings available. Freshmen who wish to write during the spring term must report at the meeting.

suffered a shoulder injury in the Northwestern meet and as a result was forced out for the year.

Last Saturday the Spartans were defeated by the Dearborn Athletic club for the second time this season. Four of the bouts went overtime, but State could win only two of the overtime bouts. State lost the first four matches of the meet but came back to take the 145, 155 and 165 matches. The loss in the heavyweight division cost the Spartans the meet.

Wrestlers to Meet U. of M.

Cliff Keen, University of Michigan wrestling coach, brings his squad undefeated in Big Ten competition to the Spartans' gymnasium tonight for matches with the State grapplers. The first bout is scheduled for 7:30. This is State's last meet for the year.

This is Michigan's second meet in a week. Last Monday the Wolverines scraped out a victory against University of Indiana 13½ to 12½. The win over Indiana was the first that Michigan has scored against the Hoosiers since '29.

The State matmen enter the meet facing undoubtedly the best wrestling team that Michigan has produced, as good if not better than the team of 1929 which was regarded as tops. On the other hand the squad of Coach Fendley Collins can show only one victory so far this season but nearly all of the Spartan matches have been close.

No doubt the loss of several wrestlers at various times due to injuries, cost the team points. Cliff Froelicher, promising sophomore,

Carole Lombard says: "Advised by my singing coach, I changed to Luckies"

"In my new picture 'Swing High, Swing Low' I sing a song for the first time since I have been on the screen. To do this, I spent months taking singing lessons. And with this added strain, my throat was not in good shape. My singing coach suggested that when choosing cigarettes, I select a light smoke. And so I changed to Luckies. Since then I've found that a light smoke and my throat get along together just fine."

Carole Lombard

CURRENTLY STARRING IN PARAMOUNT PICTURES' "SWING HIGH, SWING LOW"

THE FINEST TOBACCOS—"THE CREAM OF THE CROP"

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Miss Lombard verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.
