Council Meets Feb. To Discuss New Coach Temple Game

Scoop Says:

By George Maskin__

Thus Casteel happils went his way regardless of how the Spat-tans fared. Obviously it disturbed him no little when State teams failed to win their share of games, but the record at the close of the season had no bearing on the future of his job. He just was an assistant coach—and for some reason or other, no one pass much attention to the men who fill such positions. And because they don't; it was wasted effort for Casteel to exhibit any mental anguish. (Since he's human, Casteel did worry as we said before)

His promotion to boss of the Arizona grid forces has caused Casteel to stay awake nights of late trying to conceive a method or way of getting off on a "flying start." You see, Casteel and his band of Arizonians must meet the Minnesota Gophers (just a soft couch) in the first second

Our brief chai with Casteel came off at a time when Renjamin, F. Van Alstyne had his basketball team in Madison for a date with the Wisconsin Radgers. Van's a veteran at worrying, and in the face of State's winning and losing record to date this year, it's a wonder Van still has a head of shining blond hair. The Fates who look down on basketball haven't played exactly fair by Van Alstyne and his crew since December 13. They (the Fates) continually have stork their nose title the picture to spoil the show as far as Van Alstyne and the Spartans were concerned. A checkup of the five setbacks State has suffered this season reyeals none have been by iopsided margins. Michigan beat the Spartans by seven points, Indiana stopped State by four. Wisconsin and Loyela each tripped our boys by the and Butler stopped them by one.

Just a couple of shots which refused to drop have made the difference between State boasting one of the best records in the country and the "just average" mark it does at this stage of the season's operations.

In each of the live games the Spartans had plentiful opportunities to each in but some undetermediable force sidetracked the ball as it appeared certain to drop through the much. That's baskethall, however. The same situation, in fact, atives in every sport.
