Million Dollar Auditorium Rapidly Taking Shape

Michigan State college's new auditorium, pictured above, will be completed about February 15, 1940, at a cost of $1,025,000.

The main auditorium will seat 5,500, while the Little Theater in the building annex will accommodate 700, in addition to a modern stage. Also housed in the annex will be offices, classrooms, study rooms, and laboratories of the speech department.

Above the main entrance will be studios of the college radio station, WKAR. Space will be available in the basement for other college activities. Constructed with a level floor, the main auditorium will serve as the setting for many functions, including formal dances, lectures, concerts, conventions, and banquets.

The building is being financed by a PWA grant of $41,000, and a bond issue of $564,000, to be retired over a 20-year period from the income of the building.

Completion of this project will mark one more step in the finishing of a $5,000,000 construction program started on the campus in the winter term of 1939, with the opening of the final building scheduled sometime in the current school year.

Buildings already completed are Abbot hall, men's dormitory; Campbell hall, women's dormitory; Veterinary Science building, Old Memorial hospital, Livestock pavilion, and Music center. Yet to be finished, in addition to the auditorium, is the Fred C. Jenison men's gymnasium and field house.

Their principles include the establishment of comfortable and healthful housing with boarding at minimum cost, democratic control and operation of the house, cooking and housework to be done by members, and a membership open to any man on campus.

Possibilities of publishing a new and different A.W.S. handbook were discussed at the last meeting of the A.W.S. council when handbooks from Oregon State college and the University of Iowa were presented as models of what might be developed here.

The council also expressed a desire to send to the Faculty-Student social committee recommendations and suggestions concerning those organizations which shall be permitted to give money-making parties.

Jean Wilson, chairman of the A.W.S. project for a woman's organization's business office, announced that plans and furnishings of the room have not been decided upon, but that the room will be situated in the administration building across from Dean Elisabeth Conrad's office.

R. J. Baldwin, of the extension department of the college, spoke yesterday at the Mecosta county potato show, held at Barryton. The talk, "The Effect of the European War on Agriculture," was the principal feature of a banquet held last night.

Chairmen of the standing committees will be announced at the dinner.

North hall girls entertained a visiting faculty delegation at dinner last night.

Women visitors included: Dean Elisabeth Conrad; Miss Mable Peterson, women's housing director; Miss Orletta Hansen, dormitory maintenance supervisor, and Miss Betty Hatch, secretary to Dean Conrad.

R. V. Baumann, bureau of agricultural economics, United States department of agriculture, who has been associated with Michigan State college for the past 18 months, will leave November 1 for St. Paul, where he will work in cooperation with the University of Minnesota.

Baumann has recently returned from Washington, D. C., where he submitted his final reports. While here he has been working on progressive trends in dairy production on Michigan farms.

Some regular students have withdrawn from college already, leaving vacancies which were reported by East Lansing homes. The fact that there are fewer short course men students this year than last also is a contributing factor in solving the housing problem. All enrolled men students have been placed at the present time.

Dean Elisabeth Conrad will be among the guests. Mrs. Ray Lamphear, Miss Mabel Petersen, Mrs. Ralph Norman, and Mrs. R. A. Fennell will pour.

Spartan Women's league, a service organization, was organized in 1931 by Miss Mabel Petersen, women's housing director, then a student at Michigan State, and another woman student.

The league was organized because at that time women had little place in campus politics and among leaders, Miss Petersen said. Another purpose was to break down the imaginary barrier that existed between sorority and independent girls. In an effort to continue the latter policy, all committees of the league are now composed equally of sorority and independent women.

Soph-Frosh Fracas Ends In Tie

Sophs Claim Moral Victory in Clash; Hatchet Is Buried

Sophomores claimed a moral victory in their games with the freshmen yesterday, although the record at the end of the fracas showed only a tie. In a hotly contested battle, freshmen, outnumbering their opponents approximately 3 to 1, could win only the pushball contest.

For 45 minutes the classes pushed and shoved the ball back and forth, the frosh finally winning this event by taking the ball across a 100-yard field three times.

A line of sophomores 10 deep successfully defended their class flag in a 6-minute struggle around the greased flagpole in front of Demonstration hall.

The tug of war, with sophomores defending the north bank of the Red Cedar behind the gymnasium, ended in a deadlock, sophomores winning three no-contest pulls, frosh one, and one legal pull apiece.

Burying of the hatchet was formally concluded last night in a program at Demonstration hall.

Al Muehke and Dick Weaver, freshman representatives, assisted Gar Williams, sophomore president, in formally burying the class hatchet, signifying the end of warfare between freshmen and sophomores. A barbecue and dancing followed.

Men Lay Plans For Co-op

With the establishment of a men's cooperative house at the beginning of the winter term as its principal aim, the Men's Cooperative club will meet tonight in the Union annex.

The club, launched last year by the combined efforts of YMCA, I.M.I., Alpha Phi Omega, and the Ag council, is backed by a faculty advisory board.

Their principles include the establishment of comfortable and healthful housing with boarding at minimum cost, democratic control and operation of the house, cooking and housework to be done by members, and a membership open to any man on campus.

Alpha Phi Omega To Install Heads

Dr. E. K. Sales, professor of surgery and medicine, will speak on his experiences as a veterinarian during the last World War at Alpha Phi Omega's installation dinner tonight in the sunset room of the Union.

Following dinner the organization will install new officers elected last Thursday.

Those to be inducted are Robert Krejci, re-elected president; Richard Bates, vice-president; Dick Redfern, recording secretary; Marvin Nesheim, corresponding secretary; Robert McCauley, re-elected alumni secretary; John Peterson, treasurer; Eugene Kelly, re-elected historian; Harold Frankel, sergeant at arms.

North Hall Honors Faculty Women

North hall girls entertained a visiting faculty delegation at dinner last night.

Women visitors included: Dean Elisabeth Conrad; Miss Mable Peterson, women's housing director; Miss Orletta Hansen, dormitory maintenance supervisor, and Miss Betty Hatch, secretary to Dean Conrad.

Baumann to Leave for Work at Minnesota

R. V. Baumann, bureau of agricultural economics, United States department of agriculture, who has been associated with Michigan State college for the past 18 months, will leave November 1 for St. Paul, where he will work in cooperation with the University of Minnesota.

Baumann has recently returned from Washington, D. C., where he submitted his final reports. While here he has been working on progressive trends in dairy production on Michigan farms.

Some regular students have withdrawn from college already, leaving vacancies which were reported by East Lansing homes. The fact that there are fewer short course men students this year than last also is a contributing factor in solving the housing problem. All enrolled men students have been placed at the present time.

Dean Elisabeth Conrad will be among the guests. Mrs. Ray Lamphear, Miss Mabel Petersen, Mrs. Ralph Norman, and Mrs. R. A. Fennell will pour.

Tea For Transfer Women Symbolizes SWL Ideals

All transfer women on campus will be guests of Spartan Women's league Sunday at a tea in the faculty dining room of the Union from 3 to 5 p. m. The announcement was made today by Anna Marie Holmes, president, junior home economics major from Millington.

Dean Elisabeth Conrad will be among the guests. Mrs. Ray Lamphear, Miss Mabel Petersen, Mrs. Ralph Norman, and Mrs. R. A. Fennell will pour.

Spartan Women's league, a service organization, was organized in 1931 by Miss Mabel Petersen, women's housing director, then a student at Michigan State, and another woman student.

The league was organized because at that time women had little place in campus politics and among leaders, Miss Petersen said. Another purpose was to break down the imaginary barrier that existed between sorority and independent girls. In an effort to continue the latter policy, all committees of the league are now composed equally of sorority and independent women.

Purposes of the group here expanded, Miss Holmes said, so that today SWL attempts to develop leadership in women, perform a service to the college, and foster democratic ideals as well as find a common ground in which sorority and independent women may work.

Activities of various kinds are now in operation for present members. Interest groups in art, dramatics, publicity, membership, social service, and other activities, and radio meet regularly to further the league's policy.

This year a weekly broadcast on etiquette is being presented over WKAR under the sponsorship of SWL. As usual the league's dancing classes are meeting, beginning on the day night in the Union annex, and on Thursday night in Agriculture hall. According to Miss Holmes, more women are needed in these classes this year as men outnumber women nearly six to one.

Announcement was made today by Kurt Weaver, president of the Agricultural council, that Dusty Rhodes and his band have been secured to play at the annual Harvest Ball on Friday, Nov. 3, in the Union hall.

Miss Ruth Taylor, home economics senior, who was chosen agricultural queen last spring, will begin over this annual highlight of fall term agricultural activities sponsored by the council of that division. A Halloween motif will be used in the decorations.

Two hundred is the limit set on the sale of tickets, Weaver said.

Novel dances will be the theme of the folk dancing party sponsored by the Student club Friday, Oct. 27, at 8:30 p. m. in the social hall of Peoples church, Gerry Gifford, chairman, announced.

Students and Public Benefit From College Speakers Bureau

"Unaccustomed as I am to public speaking," is not the beginning of the speeches delivered by the members of the M. S. C. Students' Speakers Bureau.

A student organization, it is designed to benefit both the participants and audiences. It has a two-fold purpose: that the college may be of service to the community, and that especially qualified students might have the opportunity of appearing in practical speaking situations outside college walls.

Members of the society, representatives of all groups on campus, joined at the birth of the organization last year. Originally there were sixteen members, but this year membership was increased to thirty-two to meet the increased demand for speakers. Between January first and July first of this year bureau members addressed 153 organizations with an aggregate audience of 15,560 people.

Director of the bureau is Paul D. Bagwell, instructor, department of speech and dramatics. Topics are of a variegated variety such as "Garden Flowers," "War and the Farmer," "The 49th State," "Theatrical Makeup," "Puppetry," "The Stagehand of Radio," "The American Negro," "Propaganda," "The Art of Conversation," reading of all kinds, and numerous

Other arrangements for speakers are made through Bagwell. Speakers are sent without charge except for furnishing necessary transportation. Two weeks' notice is required in order to give the speaker time to prepare his talk.

Speeches are planned to last 30 minutes. If desired, students are able to conduct open forums following their speeches.

New speakers will be added from time to time throughout the year, and a book-review department will be installed. Debate teams are available to discuss current questions. Panels composed of two or more persons are offered. Through the cooperation of the Studio Theater one-act plays may be secured. These plays are selected, edited, directed, and produced by students interested in drama.

Tryouts for entrance into the Student Bureau are held during spring term. Students interested in this line may see Bagwell.

Abbot Hall to Be Host Sunday at Dedication And Open House

Public Invited to Attend Rites

Open house and dedication of Michigan State college's new Abbot hall for men has been announced for Sunday afternoon, October 29.

The dedication ceremony will be from 3 to 3:30 p. m., with open house, to which the public is invited, from 3:30 to 6 p. m. Named in memory of T. C. Abbot, second president of Michigan State college, the new dormitory is the second unit in the men's housing program, which also includes Mason hall, opened last year. Operated together as the Mason-Abbot club, the unit provides modern housing for 900 men students.

Curtailment Cuts Police Ad Course

"Because the state withdrew its support," is the reason given by Dean R. C. Huston yesterday for changing the Police Administration course from five years to one which is now completed in four years.

Dean Huston explained that previous to faculty action on the matter students were required to complete in residence at the college the equivalent of three years. This was followed by an 18-month training period under the immediate direction of the Michigan State police. During this "internship" students were paid approximately $50 for their time.

Under the present plan, necessitated by the state's withdrawal of the $50 salary, students complete the equivalent of three years. This is followed by a 12-month period of training under state police direction. The only change in the curriculum is the dropping of six months from the "internship" period, thus making Police Administration a four-year course.

Dean Huston further explained that sixteen students who, at the time of this faculty action last July, had completed at least 12 months of their training period satisfactorily were graduated on July 28. Eight others were graduated at a later date, making a total of 24. Of this number 20 have been placed.

Home Ec Tea Scheduled

Freshman women in the Home Economics division will be given an opportunity to meet their representatives to the freshman Home Economics board at a tea to be held tomorrow from 4 to 5:30 p. m. in the dining room on the main floor of the Home Economics building.

Also the new adviser of the Home Economics club, Miss Jeanette Lee, Miss Evelyn Mansfield, adviser of the sophomore board, and Mrs. Lou Hayes, adviser of the freshman board, will be introduced to the freshmen.

In the receiving line will be Dean Marie Dye, of the Home Economics division; Miss Lee, Miss Mansfield, Mrs. Hayes, Margretta Pryor, student adviser to the freshman board, and Virginia Stone, student adviser to last year's freshman board.

Representatives to the freshman board this year are: Betty McKay, Betty Funk, Virginia Moore, Margaret Strondborg, Dorothy McKool, Dorothy Kunde, Virginia Pool, Margaret White, Alice Tanner, Kathleen O'Brien, and Lillian Austin.

The affair will be informal and decorations will be carried out on the Halloween theme.

Opening Date Set For Music Hall

November 5 will mark the opening of the new music practice building unless something unexpected develops. Secretary John A. Hannah announced today.

Finishing touches are now being made on the building and equipment will be moved in. Real moving will take place on the week-end of November 3 and 4.

Prof. Lewis Richard, music department head, said that an open house is being planned for a later date when the building is entirely finished.

YM Fosters Social Study Tour

Thirty-three students in the class in urban sociology last Monday made the fourth annual social studies tour of Detroit, which is sponsored by the Michigan State Y.M.C.A.

Object of the trip was to understand effects of industrial, social and racial conditions in large cities on personalities and characters of individuals. The group visited the plant of U. S. Rubber company in Hamtramck, Lucy Thurman Y.W.C.A. and Brewster housing project. The trip was suggested and endorsed by Prof. E. B. Harper, head of the sociology department.

A hard-time party for all Lutheran students will be given by the Lutheran Student club in room 401 Ag hall, Oct. 27, at 8 p. m. Clothes appropriate for the occasion should be worn. Games will be played and refreshments will be served.

Ray Pleiness is chairman of the affair and is being assisted by Elsie Anderson.

Tryouts for entrance into the Student Bureau are held during spring term. Students interested in this line may see Bagwell.

Today's Campus

Hair Raising

And then there is the story of a senior, one Ed Young, who lived up so late studying for a test that he was slightly groggy and the eyeballs next a. m.

Dashing into the bathroom, he used his toupee with hair tonic and dashed off in the rain to class. Physical laws of miscibility can't function and the net result was a fine fluff of feathery foam.

Subsequent investigation revealed that what he so blithely had used for hair dressing was his first cousin. He had grabbed the shampoo!

Singing the Belle

Dr. Walsh, sociology major, had her most embarrassing moment recently, and as a consequence of warning other North students of the dangers of leaning against the door bell when the friends bid them good-bye.

Some people come to the window to find out what the racket is about, she said.

Last Chance

Last medical make-up for those who missed this examination during Freshman Week will be held Thursday, October 26, at the Memorial hospital. Women will be examined at 8:30 p. m. and men will be examined at 10 p. m., according to Dean T. Mitchell, chairman of the Freshman Week committee.

On the Job!

Was it a coincidence? Mere coincidence? Might not another natural catastrophe have been expected? Perhaps not, but it did seem suspicious.

Always the Red Cross lived up its reputation yesterday and found near the scene of the disaster. Or perhaps the slaughter was brought to "the world's best mother." But regardless, you notice that the Red Cross presence and the Frosh-Soph affair were held here on the same day.

Council Considers Stoplights

News of the East Lansing city council considering the improvement in the traffic situation is well received among pedestrians who fear for their lives when they cross several East Lansing streets.

The city council took under consideration several proposals concerning the safety of the pedestrians. In recent years the great growth of the Michigan State student body has increased the dangers of traffic and then too the traffic through East Lansing has grown at an alarming rate.

Last night a car ran the red light and nearly hit a youngster who was crossing at the Abbot Road corner of Grand River. The impression of the witnesses was that the driver never saw the light.

Whether this is so is open to question but many others have complained that the traffic light is badly situated because it is in the center of the intersection and a stranger coming into East Lansing for the first time does not see the light. The fact that it is not suspended or located at the four corners of the intersection as are the majority of other traffic lights makes it increasingly difficult for the motorist.

Another dangerous factor in traffic here is the excessive speed of many motorists coming into East Lansing from the east. Additional lights between Abbot and Haslett streets would slow up the cars as they approach the crowded district of the city.

Action by the city council and strict enforcement by the police department is to be commended and are the only ways that pedestrians can cross streets in safety.

INDUSTRIAL PREPARATION

The semi-dictatorial super government the army has devised to run the country in case of war, still is only a paper plan. Congressional action is necessary to put it into effect.

Meanwhile one key feature of the plan already has been set in motion with full congressional approval. This is the groundwork for mobilizing the nation's industry for war production. Few, except insiders, realize the extent of these preparations.

Today, more than 10,000 plants have secret orders for military products, and another 10,000 are being surveyed for the same purpose. In addition, the War Department has an index of thousands of other factories that could be used in a pinch.

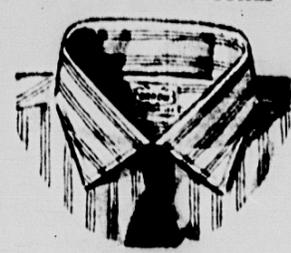

To insure maximum speed and efficiency, the army has decentralized its procurement machine into twelve "concentration centers" in strategic cities—New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Hartford, Conn., Schenectady, N. Y., Cincinnati, Bethlehem, Pa., Atlanta, Birmingham, Chicago, San Francisco, and Seattle. These centers are under the command of picked army officers whose special job is to be acquainted minutely with the "war load" of every factory. To do this they maintain a close check on the inventories, financial status and equipment of each firm.

TEN BILLION DOLLARS

An idea of the scope of military production is given by the fact that some 70,000 separate items are required to put a wartime army in the field. Of these 70,000, about 3,700 items are not normally made by private concerns, while 50 items are totally unavailable. That is, they cannot be profitably produced.

Grace Moore was initiated by the local chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, professional music sorority, following her recital here Tuesday night. Miss Moore, one of the leading sopranos of the Metropolitan Opera company, opened the 1939-1940 Matinee Musical concert series with a program of operatic arias and concert songs.

Included on the program were arias from Massenet's opera "Helene de Saba", Debussy's "Les Elles de Cadix", and Puccini's "Madama Butterfly." These three numbers were the most outstanding numbers of the concert, both in execution and in dramatic expression.

Among other pleasing numbers on the program were Quilter's song "Spring Vozes" dedicated to Miss Moore, and the Spanish songs, "Canto Andaluz" by Joaquin Nin, and "Sepeñita" by De Falla.

Other numbers included a group of French songs, four modern English numbers, and a group of Italian and Spanish compositions. Favorites included Schubert's "Serenade" and "Cari Bini Bin." Miss Moore's singing was handicapped by a cold but her friendly personality made the evening a pleasant one for the audience. Miss Nelson, in addition to accompanying Miss Moore, played a group of three short modern piano solos.

Grade School Jottings

The Patrol club has been organized among the fourth, fifth and sixth grade pupils in the interest of safety. Two squads of boys have charge of the streets and playgrounds, and two squads of girls take care of the inside of the building.

Dick Otto is acting president of the group, assisted by his lieutenants, John Brannaman, John Morris, and Annie Laurie DeVries. The squads number 11 each and are elected along with the officers by their classmates.

A sixth grade club, of which Eloise Mitchell is president, is planning a semester of activities which will vary according to the interests of the pupils.

State Students Fined on Illegal Hunting Charge

Three Michigan State college students pled guilty before Justice of the Peace Whittmore of East Lansing Monday evening to a charge of hunting on college property and were fined a total of $5 each including costs.

Edward McClellan, Ralph Toles and Darwin Carlson were arrested at 5:30 p. m. on college farm 2B in possession of a pheasant which they were alleged to have shot, and were immediately charged with hunting on college property.

The property on which they were hunting is well posted with "no hunting" signs and according to police the illegal hunting appeared to be intentional.

Floriculture Research Has Many Diverse Problems

To the uninitiated the word floriculture may suggest sweet old ladies pottering over potted plants, but such is not the case, according to C. E. Willson, in charge of floriculture research. Scientific study of flower raising is important enough to rate several greenhouses, classrooms, several acres of land, as well as a teaching and extension staff.

Far-reaching experiments in the cross breeding and culture of flowers are carried on by the floriculture department, some projects taking years to complete. Because of lack of sufficient data on cross-breeding, Willson says, these experiments are a continuation of guesswork, luck and patience.

Some of the experiments being carried on at the present time include soilless culture in which plants are grown in gravel, fed by chemical solutions, raised in light of artificial light, and tested for better types, and testing of gas serious detrimental effects on plants. He says it is the department's job to find some way to counteract this.

CARBURETOR KAYWOODIE $4

In this Kaywoodie pipe, called the Carburetor Kaywoodie, a wonderfully sweet-smelling pipe has been prepared by the application of a neat little principle of physics. When you take a puff at one of these Carburetor Kaywoodies, you automatically draw air through a tiny inlet in the bottom of the bowl. That incoming air keeps the smoke cool, sweet and smokeless. You know how bitterly you puff on a pipe that has a hot bowl. The more air comes in, that's why it's called a Carburetor Kaywoodie. Unbeaten Teams Clash In Bloomington Meet

Soph-Fresh Brawl Halts IML Play

Because of the annual Battle of the Underclassmen the games scheduled in the Independent Touch football league were postponed Wednesday night.

In the Tuesday night contests, there was one donation as the Mustangs outfit didn't appear, forfeiting the contest to the Vets.

The Wolverines handed a defeat to a gentle Wildcat team as Tripp and Wensch both engaged passes to score 12 points and a conversion. Deatoun again squeezed through for a victory at the expense of the Mary Mayo team with a single safety. The winners scored the safety in the third quarter of play.

The postponed games on Wednesday will be played at the end of the season.

Spartans Out To Break Old Jinx

Frey Will Make First Start Saturday

By JOE NEMER

Spartan cross countrymen meet their traditional jinx team Friday morning when they face Indiana university's perennial powerhouse at Bloomington. Of 21 dual meets the Spartans have engaged in since Lauren P. Brown became coach only Indiana has succeeded in defeating the Spartans, and they have turned the trick three times.

Michigan State likewise has been the stumbling block for many a great Indiana team. Way back in 1934, the year of the inaugural of the present series, the rising Spartans shattered a long line of crimson winners. The Hoosiers then began another streak which was not snapped until last year when State turned the trick by the narrowest of margins, 27-26.

DOMINATE LOOP

In the meantime the two schools were dominating their respective leagues. State was the ruler of IC 4A in team and individual championships, and Indiana had a monopoly on Big Ten crowns and also extended their power to rule the National A.A.U. barrier field. Although State will be out to even up the five meet series, it has yet to turn out a tape breaker. For three years Don Lash, the great national champion and the Sullivan award winner, paced the teams to victory. Then came another Olympian Tommy Deckard, and their colored strider, Jimmy Smith.

Last year Mel Truff took over the helm. All of these stars have passed out of the picture, but Coach Billy Hayes annually turns out a great star. Edna Hodges, Vernon Bostwick, and Wayne Tulliver are the veterans on this year's team, but sophomores Kane and Daniels have been in the limelight so far.

HOUST HOPES

Spartan hopes for a win received a boost with the return of Dick Frey to the team to round out a veteran aggregation. Roy Felt, George Keller, and Bill Mansfield were instrumental in last year's upset, while Ed Mill, Al Mangos and Warren Anderson have had one season behind them. Wilson Seales, who is knocking on the threshold of a varsity berth will also make the trip.

Page Wins Two-Mile Run In Handicap

Freshman Jerry Page won the two-mile run of the 15th annual track and field handicaps yesterday afternoon by mudding his way through with a corrected time of 10:20 with a 5 second handicap.

Ralph Monroe, novice cross country champ, started from scratch and broke the tape with 10:24, but the revised standings put him in third place.

Running with 5 second handicaps were Bill Scott, Ed Leonard, and Don Merrit, who finished second, fourth and fifth in that order.

Beta Kappa Seeks Frat Victory

Determined to get back into the win column, Beta Kappa will meet with Kappa Sigma at 7 o'clock in the first Interfraternity touch football league game on tonight's card. The Delta went down before Phi Kappa, 6 to 0, in last week's play.

Other Interfraternity battles tonight will match Sigma Nu and Phi Chi Alpha at 8 o'clock, while Alpha Epsilon Pi will meet Theta Chi at 9 o'clock.

Tuesday's action saw Phi Delta and S. A. E. earn clean out victories in games which were real thrillers from beginning to end.

The Phi Delta aggregation turned back Eta Upsilon, 7 to 0, on a first quarter touchdown. Already about 2-0 in the matter of first downs the Phi Delta rendered the clincher on a scoring pass from Fred Baker to Dick Woodfield in the fourth period.

S. A. E. CHALLENGED UP ITS STANDING

S. A. E. challenged up its standing in the third stanza. That one touchdown proved a bad break for the Delta Nix team which as the game ended with that cross on the long end of a 3-1 first down and S. A. E.'s winning margin, however, was 7 to 0.

The final game on Tuesday's date saw Hepesian and Lambda Chi deadlock at 6-6 in regulation time but the Lambda's collected a technical win via their 1-0 first down mark. Hepesian counted its score in the first quarter when Bob Dodge ran 55 yards for a touchdown, while Lambda Chi's counter came in the third period when Dick Reeves snatched an enemy pass to score.

Sophs Carry Burdens Against Titans

While Illinois Wesleyan is not regarded as a major opponent, Michigan State's grid squad is not taking anything for granted as it prepares to tackle the Titans from Bloomington, Ill., next Saturday.

Although hindered by bad weather, the Spartans have been drilling daily against Illinois Wesleyan formations. State's poor pass defense, which has resulted in three defeats this year, has been given a thorough going over by the coaching staff.

Assistant line coach Gordon Drake, however, returned early this week from scouting Illinois Wesleyan's 16-7 victory over Pennsylvania Naval Reserve with a report indicating that the Titans have something on the ball this year.

Coach Charles Bachman has indicated that he will give some of his tactical sophomores a chance to show their ability against the Titans. He will probably start a team composed largely of first year men, drawing from the ranks of Juniors and seniors as the need for their services arises.

Makes Comeback

Jack Amos, Junior fullback, is slated to see action Saturday against Illinois Wesleyan after a fine showing in practice sessions this week.

Jack Amos, whose stock as a fullback has been rising rapidly, is a likely starter in the State backfield, however. Bachman's line smashing play has regained a position on the varsity squad for the Grand Rapids junior after several weeks with the "B" team.

A review of the injury list reveals that a large number of the regulars will avail themselves of the opportunity for a rest by watching the contest from the sidelines. Doubtful players in action include Ed Able, Paul Giffeth, Eddie Pearce, Roman Korman, Ralph Bennett, Eddie Korman, Harry Pound, and Fred Blackburn. Poger and Blackman are out indefinitely with broken jaws.

Al Smolen and Harold Miller, a pair of "B" team guards, have been moved up to the "A" team to fill the gaps brought about by the sudden epidemic of casualties which have plagued this department.

Hutt, Mack to Meet In Golf Finals

Lon Hutt and George Mack, two freshman golfers, will vie for the college open golf championship Sunday at the Walnut Hill Country club course.

Both Hutt and Mack smothered through their second and third round matches with identical victories. Hutt defeated Busch 3-2 in the second round and Zimmerman in the semi final 3-2.

Mack defeated Hishop in the second round and Foston in the other semi final by the identical score, three up and two to play.

Frosh Tackle Bearcats

By HAI NICHAM

Activity in the freshman football camp was momentarily slowed up yesterday afternoon as the men of 41 were given the day off for the purpose of building up their prestige somewhere other than on the gridiron.

The annual Frosh Soph field day was the cause of the momentary letdown as several of the yearlings exchanged their football tops for an old pair of pants and a broken down pair of shoes.

However, Coach John Kobs and his yearling coaching staff expressed the hope that this one-day layoff would help the boys relax and thus in turn cure some of the more prominent faults of the offensive play shown in last Friday's opener against Michigan Normal.

Continuing a rivalry which began in 1910, the Spartan yearlings will be attempting to achieve their fifth victory in seven starts against the Bearcat aggregation, having won four, lost one, and battled to a scoreless tie in six encounters during their 29 years of football rivalry.
