PUBLICATION GUIDELINES:

We ask contributors to submit two (2) typed copies, following the format (on such issues as references and notes) of articles in this issue of TRANSFORMATION. Whilst the journal will cater for work at any level of abstraction, or detail, a number of criteria will guide the editors in selection of material for inclusion. Articles should aim for academic rigour but also clarify the political implications of the issues discussed. We are concerned not to compete with other South African journals that may cover related ground but in different ways - this will govern our selection principles. All articles will be assessed anonymously by the referees. Contributions should preferably not exceed the following lengths:

Analytical articles: 7 000 words

Debates and review articles: 3 000 words

The views expressed in TRANSFORMATION do not necessarily reflect those of the editors.

CONTENTS

Commentary

- THE RDP WHITE PAPER: RECONSTRUCTION OF A
DEVELOPMENT VISION 1

Unlike the based RDP Document, argue ASGHAR ADELZADEH AND VISHNU PADAYACHEE, the White Paper is a bad augury for the Left. It lacks coherence and vision and gives away far too much to the free marketeers.

- 'POLITICS AND ECONOMICS IN ANC ECONOMIC POLICY':
AN ALTERNATIVE ASSESSMENT 19

For BEN FINE, a key writer on current economic policy issues is Nici Natrass, who seeks to bring ANC politics and business-friendly economics together. Fine argues that Natrass' contributions, if adopted as policy, would hobble the efforts of the ANC, even from the standpoint of genuine social democracy.

Articles

- PARTICIPATORY RESEARCH AND DEMOCRATIC AGRARIAN
TRANSFORMATION: THE CASE OF THE EASTERN TRANSVAAL
CENTRAL LOWVELD 34

Using his own research in this region as a model, RICHARD LEVIN suggests that participatory research yields very different results in the key reform area of land issues than top-down approaches which remain characteristic of policy procedures.
