PUBLICATION GUIDELINES:

We ask contributors to submit two (2) typed copies, following the format (on such issues as references and notes) of articles in this issue of TRANSFORMATION. Whilst the journal will cater for work at any level of abstraction, or detail, a number of criteria will guide the editors in selection of material for inclusion. Articles should aim for academic rigour but also clarify the political implications of the issues discussed. We are concerned not to compete with other South African journals that may cover related ground but in different ways - this will govern our selection principles. All articles will be assessed anonymously by the referees. Contributions should preferably not exceed the following lengths:

Analytical articles: 8 000 words

Debates, comment and review articles: 3 000 words

Also see inside back cover 'Notes for Contributors'.

The views expressed in TRANSFORMATION do not necessarily reflect those of the editors.

Articles

- Relocating restitution 1
Cherryl Walker, until recently Land Commissioner for KwaZulu-Natal, looks critically at the work of the Commission on Restitution of Land Rights over the last few years.
- Crafting in the context of AIDS and rural poverty: a livelihood strategy with prospects 17
Tessa Marcus highlights the marginalised but important role of women crafters who live in the shadow of AIDS in the KwaZulu-Natal Midlands.
- Culture and nature in the Valley of a Thousand Hills - a tough guide to 'other spaces' 36
This article by Malcolm Draper looks at places, such as Thor Chemicals, The Valley Trust and Camelot, which lie along the route between Cato Ridge and Hillcrest in the Valley of a Thousand Hills, which he maintains yield insight into the problematic relationship between culture and nature in very different ways.

African views of the land: a research agenda 53
Terence Ranger suggests a research agenda for scholars working on African landscape which encourages investigation of African perceptions of landscape, and thereby greater understanding of crucial struggles for resources, memories and rights.

Re-reading the Hluhluwe-Umfolozi game reserve: constructions of a 'natural' space 63
The South African game reserve is frequently promoted as an unproblematically 'natural' and 'timeless' space. Shirley Brooks explores such constructions of the Hluhluwe-Umfolozi reserve and the ends they serve.

Landscape and national memory in Steve Chimombo's Napolo Poems 80
Mufunanji Magalasi shows how Steve Chimombo's Napolo Poems use the mythological landslide snake 'Napolo' to critique Banda's repressive rule in Malawi.
